

The amazing son in law - The Amazing Son In Law

Chapter 7079

Hearing that Sara was going to cut off Wu Shutong's left hand, Jadiel was only slightly startled, but did not speak to plead for Wu Shutong.

He knew that whether it was to keep others in awe or to make Yingzhu feel more comfortable, she needed someone to take responsibility for it.

When something bad happened and no one came forward to take responsibility, everyone would assume that the problem was with Sara and that it was her self-proclaimed clever trap that went wrong, which led to the other party skipping Nigeria and choosing to attack Morocco.

Therefore, cutting off Wu Shutong's left hand was equivalent to telling everyone that Wu Shutong was not doing a good job in this matter and that he had been punished.

Sara also needed to use this to numb herself and tell herself that everything was not her fault, but Wu Shutong's.

So, he immediately said respectfully: "Don't worry, Lord Ying, I will inform the three elders right away."

As he said that, he remembered something and hurriedly said: "Lord Ying, this person's identity is mysterious and his strength is extraordinary. Even if we send the Nigerian Cavalry Guards, they may not be his opponent. I wonder if we can let the three elders go and find out? If we find him, maybe we can kill him and eliminate the trouble forever!"

Sara shook his head and said: "If he is in Morocco and the three elders can find him, it may not be difficult to kill him, but what if he is no longer in Morocco? What if the three elders can't find him? The most important thing right now is that Nigeria has been exposed, and the three elders. If the elders go to Morocco from there, they will most likely be targeted by the enemy. Once the three elders are exposed, the troubles in the future will only be greater. "

After that, Sara said: "This man is cunning and ruthless. With his strength, even Meng Changsheng (Willie) is not his opponent, let alone Jiangong Bo. But Jiangong Bo was killed by close-in artillery in Cyprus. This shows that this man is strong but not arrogant, and knows how to adapt. He can find the best solution when encountering problems. If he sets an ambush in Morocco, the death of some cavalry guards is not a big deal, but if the three elders suffer losses, it will not be worth the loss. "

Thinking back to the loss of the four earls, Sara is still in pain.

It is not easy to cultivate masters of this level. The successive deaths of three and the disappearance of one have brought her a great psychological shadow.

Letting the three elders go to Morocco, in her opinion, is not cost-effective. Not to mention whether they can find the other party, once the three elders are exposed, they will inevitably fall into a passive position in the future.

What's more, if the other side has an ambush, and the three elders are hit by the close defense artillery, wouldn't it be a heavy loss?

But Jadiel said at this time: "Lord Ying, the other side may have taken advantage of our fear of him, so he knew that we were ambushing in Nigeria thousands of kilometers away, but he still dared to attack us in Morocco. There are many people stationed in Morocco, and it is difficult for him to transport them out in a short time. If the three elders rush over as soon as possible, they may be able to seize the opportunity and achieve success in one battle!"

At this point, Jadiel said: "In addition, that guy must have learned about the big blood exchange from the cavalry guards stationed in Morocco. He must also realize that once the big blood exchange is completed, the possibility of him wanting to rebel against the entire station in the future is very small. In this way, he will not attack any of our stations in the future. If he escapes calmly this time, it will be difficult to catch him in the future!"

Sara fell into deep thought.

People with strong physical strength are often not meticulous.

Sara has been in the world for more than 300 years. Since she stabbed Aasif and left the Ten Thousand Mountains, she has never met an opponent in this world. In terms of strategy, she is indeed not smart enough.

She has been attacked by Charlie Wade in the dark one after another, and she has some stress disorder. She always feels that this guy is elusive and powerful, and his means of killing are endless.

She has killed many people, but she has never thought of using close-in defense guns to kill people, let alone using the rotor of a helicopter to chop off a person's head.

How can this be a trick that a monk would think of? It is simply unethical.

But the opponent just doesn't play by the rules. Yesterday, it was a close-in defense gun, today it was a helicopter, and the day after tomorrow, maybe the Soviet Union's Katyusha will be brought out. Deep in Sara's heart, she is a little afraid of this mysterious man.

But what Jadiel said is not unreasonable.

Although he has lost a city first, it is also an opportunity to turn defeat into victory.

If he seizes the opportunity to pull the opponent out and kill him, he can solve the problem once and for all.

If we miss this opportunity, it may not be so easy to find him again.

After thinking for a while, she said, "If the three elders go together and are more cautious, there will be no danger, but it is useless for them to go there now. Although Morocco is not big, it is a pipe dream for them to search Morocco thoroughly with just the three of them. Let's let the three elders continue to stay in Nigeria. In addition to the Xiaoqi Guards in Nigeria, let Wu Shutong send all the people from the Tiger Guard Camp of the Right Army Governor's Office to Morocco. After these people arrive in Morocco, don't miss any clues. I want to know how the other party went, how they left, and where they went. Once we find the other party and the people stationed in Morocco, notify them immediately. The three elders will go over, and the others will help the three elders to kill all the opponents, as many as they can!"

Jadiel felt that Sara's decision was more reasonable. Although the three elders were very powerful, they had been practicing in seclusion for so many years. They didn't know much about modern society, and they didn't know how to use modern technology to investigate clues. If they were asked to find someone, they might not really have the ability. It would be better to let these well-trained cavalry guards and the stronger members of the Tiger Camp go to investigate. They are not only strong warriors, but also have received systematic military training. They are almost the same as agents. It is most appropriate to let them investigate.

Although the straight-line distance between Nigeria and Morocco is more than 3,000 kilometers, once the enemy is discovered, the plane can arrive within a few hours. In this way, the three elders can be regarded as nuclear weapons for precision strikes. As long as the target is found, it can be launched immediately.

So, he said without hesitation: "It is still the British Lord who has considered it more comprehensively. I will pass the order now."

Jadiel's order was first passed to the three elders.

After all, Wu Shutong had to be punished first, so he asked the three elders to cut off Jadiel's left hand, and then stay in Nigeria on standby. After Wu Shutong's left hand was cut off, he would convey other orders to him.

In order to take care of Wu Shutong, Jadiel also specifically asked the three elders to seal Wu Shutong's meridians and nerves before taking action, and then treat Wu Shutong's wounds after taking action. Although Wu Shutong's left hand could not be saved, at least he would not be in pain.

After receiving the order, the three elders immediately ended their retreat.

Wu Shutong was still anxiously waiting for Jadiel's feedback, wondering how the British Lord would punish him.

Lieutenant General Andre had been called to his side by him. After learning about what happened in Morocco, Andre was also very nervous and waited anxiously with Wu Shutong.

At this time, someone came to report quickly: “Grand Commander, the three elders have come out of retreat and are coming this way!”

Wu Shutong didn't know that the three elders were coming for him, and he said to Andre: “I guess the British leader wants to transfer the three elders back.”

Andre nodded and said: “This time, we didn't wait for the rabbit, so it's normal to transfer the three elders back.”

As he was talking, the three elders pushed the door in.

The leader was Wu Bolin (Bick), one of the three elders, and the strongest among all. As soon as he entered the door, he looked at Wu Shutong and asked helplessly: “I heard that you made a mistake?”

The three elders came to Nigeria, and Wu Shutong, a junior, had been following and serving them. He had become familiar with the three elders. The three elders were quite satisfied with this junior who was good at handling things, so when they received the order to cut off his left hand, they had some sympathy.

Wu Shutong didn't expect that the three elders would ask him about his mistake as soon as they opened their mouths, so he hurriedly said: “Replying to the great elder, the enemy did not come to Nigeria this time, but instead destroyed our other base. To be honest, there is nothing I can do about it...”

Wu Bolin (Bick) nodded, looked at him, then looked at his left hand, and then said: “If I remember correctly, you should not be left-handed, right?”

Wu Shutong subconsciously said: “No, what's wrong, great elder?” Wu Bolin (Bick)

did not speak, but directly grabbed his left wrist and said: “Boy, although I admire you very much, I dare not disobey the orders of the lord. Don't blame me.”

After that, his mind moved, and two streams of spiritual energy instantly separated from his body. One of them was injected into Wu Shutong's left wrist, completely wrapping the wrist, making Wu Shutong lose all perception of his left hand and wrist, while the other stream of spiritual energy turned into an invisible sharp blade, which went straight through Wu Shutong's left wrist at a high speed.

Wu Shutong didn't feel any pain at all. Just as he was wondering, he saw his left hand slip from his wrist, leaving a smooth cut on his wrist.

Because of the protection of the spiritual energy, not even a drop of blood flowed out of the wound.

Wu Shutong was so scared that his face turned pale, and he blurted out: “My... my hand... Great Elder... you... why are you doing this!”

Wu Bolin (Bick) said lightly: “The British Lord has ordered that you, as the commander-in-chief of the friendly army, are not in a good position to lead the army. Today, I cut off your left hand. I hope you can learn from your shame and never make the same mistake again! In addition, I sealed the blood vessels, nerves and meridians in your wrist with spiritual energy. You don’t feel pain, but your left hand can’t be reattached.”

After speaking, he said: “You saved your life, why don’t you thank me quickly!”

At this moment, Wu Shutong felt very aggrieved!

This trap in Nigeria was not his idea or his mission at all. It was the idea of the British Lord. The reason why he participated in it was nothing more than because he chose his own territory as the location of the trap.

The enemy didn’t fall for it, it should be the responsibility of the mastermind behind the scenes, what does it have to do with me? Why did you cut off your left hand? !

Although his wrist didn’t feel any pain, his heart was still like a knife. He was a high and mighty commander, but now he was a disabled person with one hand missing! Wasn’t he just taking the blame for the Lord? It’s fine to take the blame, but he had to thank the Lord for taking the blame, what kind of thing was that? !

However, even though he was unhappy and resentful in his heart, he didn’t dare to show any dissatisfaction at this moment. He knelt on the ground respectfully, saying with great shame: “Your subordinate... Your subordinate thanks the Lord for not killing me!”
