

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7666

At the boarding gate for the flight to Aurous Hill, charlie Wade hugged Claire and watched her walk in, looking back every few steps.

At this moment, charlie Wade was not sad, but only felt emotional.

I feel that this is a true relationship between husband and wife. After going through that step, everything has changed drastically. Claire is no longer the calm woman who always remains reserved. She has become a cute woman who is dependent on others and even shows strong reluctance to leave after a short separation, and even wants to cry.

However, he didn't know yet that everything he thought he had was actually a hidden secret.

The moment Claire turned around and walked into the boarding bridge, she couldn't help but burst into tears.

But she didn't dare to wipe it off, because she was afraid that charlie Wade would see it from behind and guess that something was wrong with her.

When she turned the corner and entered the downhill section of the jet bridge, with the cabin door just within reach, she could no longer control her emotions. She walked like a zombie, crying bitterly.

The cabin crew chief and two flight attendants were at the cabin door welcoming the business class passengers who were boarding first. They already had the information of every business class passenger. This narrow-body aircraft had only eight seats in the business class, and five of them were sold this time. Two of them were women, one was Claire, and the other was a six-year-old girl.

Therefore, the flight attendants used the process of elimination to know that the female passenger who was walking towards them with tears all over her face should be Claire.

So, the flight attendant quickly came over and asked her with concern: "Ms. willson, what's wrong? Are you feeling unwell? Do you want us to contact the airport?"

Claire wiped away her tears in panic and shook her head repeatedly: "No, thank you."

The flight attendant guided her to her seat without saying anything. Then he asked, "Ms. willson, would you like something to drink? We have tea, coffee, and juice."

Claire shook his head: "No need for anything, thank you."

The purser nodded and said, "Then feel free to call me if you need anything."

Claire sat in his seat, trying to adjust his mood, then picked up his phone and contacted Stephen Thompson, telling him: "I'm already on the plane back to Aurous Hill. Can you arrange for me to go with my parents?"

Stephen Thompson replied, “No problem, Mrs. Wade. We have two plans. After you land in Aurous Hill, our people will take you home. Then you and your family can pack up. If nothing else goes wrong, we will set off tonight.”

charlie Wade, Don Albert and Isaac Cameron’s plane will take off in two and a half hours. Once it is confirmed that charlie Wade has boarded the plane successfully, he will not be able to leave the plane for the next ten hours. If Claire’s family is arranged to leave in the evening, the plan can proceed very smoothly.

Claire had already made up his mind, so he replied immediately: “Okay, I’ll go back and tell my parents that I’m taking them abroad tonight.”

“Okay, Mrs. Wade, our people will be waiting for you at the airport. You will see them when you arrive.”

At this time, charlie Wade left Terminal T2 and went straight to Terminal T3.

Flights to Melbourne will depart from Terminal 3.

After Claire’s plane took off, Isaac Cameron hurried to the airport.

Seeing charlie Wade, he asked the doubts in his heart: “Master, how did you find out about Butler Tang? Didn’t he disappear?”

charlie Wade said: “My wife’s friend is in Australia. She just forwarded the news that a Chinese person was attacked there. I didn’t expect it to be Butler Tang.”

Isaac Cameron was confused. “Butler Tang went to Australia. This is unbelievable. He suddenly left without saying goodbye and disappeared. Why did he suddenly go to Australia?”

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7667

charlie Wade said: “He seems to have just immigrated to Australia. I’m not sure about his specific situation. I have to go over and take a look.”

Isaac Cameron frowned and said, “Master, I always feel that this matter is a bit too coincidental. Could it be a trick?”

charlie Wade said: “I also felt something was wrong at first, but I believe in Butler Tang. He would never stand against me. Otherwise, he would have had plenty of opportunities to do so before. There is no need to wait until now.”

“That’s true.” Isaac Cameron nodded in agreement and said, “I just received a call from the staff in Australia. They said they’ve found out the hospital where Butler Tang is. I asked them to find a way to get in, but they only saw Butler Tang lying in the ICU. They don’t know the specific condition. These staff members are all from our Buckingham Palace Hotel in Melbourne. They haven’t received any special training, so their professional skills are a bit poor. I'll ask them to find another opportunity."

charlie Wade was a little worried when he heard that Stephen Thompson was still in the ICU. He said, "Don't let them try again. Stephen Thompson must have had his reasons for leaving without saying goodbye. He must not want me to know about the trouble he's in this time. If you alert him, he might disappear again."

"Okay." Isaac Cameron nodded and said, "I'll ask them to prepare a car and take us to the hospital as soon as we get off the plane."

Not long after, Don Albert, who flew over from Aurous Hill, also arrived.

Like charlie Wade, he rushed straight to Terminal T3 to meet charlie Wade after getting off the plane.

As soon as they met, he asked anxiously, "Master Wade, what happened to Butler Tang when he was beaten?"

charlie Wade said with a cold face: "They are just some local Australian teenagers, similar to the thugs here ten or twenty years ago, but these teenagers only target foreigners, and they are all Asian. The worst thing is that these guys rely on their underage status to be very ruthless and often beat people up seriously. It seems that they even beat a Chinese student seriously some time ago."

"F*ck you little bastards!" Don Albert gritted his teeth and cursed, "Don't let me catch you, or I'll destroy them one by one!"

charlie Wade said calmly: "Don't worry, no one who takes action can escape!"

At 4:45 in the afternoon, Claire's plane landed at Aurous Hill Airport fifteen minutes ahead of schedule.

She sent a WeChat message to charlie Wade, telling him that she had arrived at the airport and asked him not to worry.

Before charlie Wade started boarding the plane, he immediately replied and asked her: "Wife, who will pick you up at the airport?"

Claire said: "My dad must be at the Calligraphy and Painting Association at this time, so I won't bother him. I can just take a taxi when I go out."

charlie Wade instructed her: "Tell me when you get in the car, and remember to tell me when you get home."

Claire replied: "Okay, don't worry, I'm already old enough, I can take care of myself in just a few minutes' drive."

While replying to Charlie Wade's message, she had already walked out of the plane, through the baggage area and to the exit.

I wanted to go and get a taxi directly, but suddenly I remembered that Stephen Thompson said someone would come to pick me up, so I subconsciously looked around.

There were many men and women waiting to pick up people at the exit, but no one seemed to be holding up their name tags.

Just as she was about to leave, she suddenly heard a familiar voice calling her: "Boss Willson! Here!"

Claire looked in the direction of the voice, and when she saw the person calling her, she was stunned for a moment.

"Sun...Sun Mengmeng?! Why...why are you here?!"

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7668

Sun Simi is Claire's most capable person since the establishment of the company.

Seeing Sun Simi here, the simple Claire didn't think much about it.

She thought that this might just be a coincidence.

Unexpectedly, Sun Simi came up to her and said respectfully, "Boss Willson, I'm waiting for you here on orders from Butler Thompson. I'll take you back to Tomson Yipin later. We'll leave tonight, and I'll accompany you and your parents."

Claire looked at her in horror. She had a lot of questions in her mind, but for a moment she didn't know where to start.

Sun Simi reached out to take her suitcase and backpack, and said with some shame: "I'm sorry, Mr. Willson, due to special reasons, I haven't been able to tell you my identity. I am Butler's subordinate, and I am here to protect your safety."

Claire came back to his senses, suddenly gave a wry smile, and said awkwardly, "I think you're here to spy on me, right? You came here shortly after my studio was established. Many people resigned due to the pressure, but you never complained or felt tired. I thought I'd finally found a right-hand man, but I didn't expect there was something else going on..."

Sun Simi was frank and said with a smile, "Boss Willson, I was the one who concealed the truth first. I understand your prejudice against me. I can't excuse my concealment and deception. I can only tell you that although I am not a soldier, I have undergone the most rigorous military education and management since childhood. So, like a soldier, I regard obeying orders as my bounden duty. You ordered me to stay by your side, and I must do so."

Claire asked her: "If you were ordered to kill me, you would do it without hesitation, right?"

Sun Simi did not answer her aggressive question, but replied frankly: "If the order requires me to die for you, I will not hesitate!"

Claire didn't expect that Sun Simi would give him such an answer.

At this moment, the unhappiness and feeling of being deceived in her heart disappeared instantly.

She understood and comprehended Sun Simi. Sun Simi had her own position and stance. She was fulfilling her duties. For her, there was naturally no right or wrong.

Her answer was also very clever. If she was ordered to die for herself, she would do so without hesitation. The subtext was that if she was really ordered to kill herself, she would do the same. Killing people and dying for others, as long as it was an order, there was no difference to her.

So, she couldn't help but sigh: "You are only in your twenties, how can you be so loyal to them? You are so young, shouldn't you find your own meaning in life?"

Sun Simi smiled and said calmly, "Boss Wilson, they gave me the life I needed. If it weren't for them, my mother and I would have died long ago. They provided me with a military education since I was young, not so that I could repay them in the future, but so that I could kill my enemies. I did it, and they didn't restrict my freedom. I chose to stay and work for them, not only because they have been so kind to me, but also because they are truly good people."

Claire nodded in confusion and sighed softly, "Alright, if you accompany us, we'll have someone we know to look after us. Where did you park your car? Let's go."

Sun Simi smiled and said, "Boss Wilson, to be honest, I'm leaving China with you this time. Once we get there, my real colleagues and I will take care of you and your family's daily life. We may have to live together for a long time in the future."

Claire was delighted when he heard this, but soon calmed down again and said softly, "Did they ask you to stay and monitor us? Are they afraid that I can't control myself and contact Charlie Wade?"

Sun Simi said, "Boss Wilson, to be honest, given the crisis the Young Master is facing, he might not be safe even if you completely leave him. In times of emergency, there's actually no difference between surveillance and protection."

"I understand." Claire nodded slightly.

Then, Sun Simi took her to the parking lot, where a black business car was already parked.

Sun Simi put the luggage in the trunk, opened the side sliding door and let Claire get in first, and then she sat in the driver's seat.

Starting the car, Sun Simi said to Claire, "Mr. Willson, we're tentatively planning to leave at nine o'clock this evening. You and your family don't need to bring too much stuff, just carry-on luggage. If there's anything you need to bring, just take a photo and send it to me. I'll arrange for someone to come over tonight to pack and load the car. The stuff might arrive a day later than yours."

Claire was surprised at the other party's professionalism, but after thinking about it carefully, he felt relieved.

So she asked, "Are we leaving the country by water?"

"Yes." Sun Simi said, "The freighter is docked at Daocheng Port. After we arrive in the early morning, we will board the ship directly."

Claire said anxiously, "If we take a cargo ship, how should I communicate with my parents? I haven't told them yet. I plan to tell them after I get back that I'm taking them out for a few days."

Sun Simi smiled and said, "Don't worry. Our business car has a liftable partition in the middle. After you let your parents get in the car at night, you can sit in the passenger seat and let your parents sit in the back cabin. When the partition rises, a colorless, odorless, and harmless anesthetic gas will be released into the back cabin. This gas will put them to sleep for a long time. Then we will drive directly into the freighter, which has well-equipped rooms. When they wake up, we will have already entered the high seas. You can then tell them everything. I believe they will understand."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7669

Claire was surprised and said, "Is this... so simple and crude?"

"Right." Sun Simi said, "This is the best way. Otherwise, if they realize something is wrong halfway, or notice something unusual when they board the ship, it will be very difficult for you to explain. If they contact the young master secretly, the whole plan will probably be ruined."

"I understand." Although Claire is simple, he still has a sense of the overall situation.

Extraordinary situations require extraordinary measures. Given my parents' personalities, if they notice that something is wrong, they will definitely have their own thoughts.

His father couldn't bear to part with the foundation he had laid in the Calligraphy and Painting Association and the vanity of driving Cullinan in and out every day. His mother couldn't bear to part with the luxury house in Tangchen Yipin, and even more so, she couldn't bear to part with a rich son-in-law like Charlie Wade.

For Charlie Wade's sake, they must not be allowed to cause any trouble at all. The best way is what Sun Simi said, which is to let them fall asleep in the car and sleep all the way to the high seas.

Neither of his parents' cell phones had satellite communication capabilities, so once they were on the high seas, it would be impossible for them to contact Charlie Wade secretly even if they wanted to.

As soon as she thought of this, she said to Sun Simi, "Are you sure the anesthesia won't harm their bodies?"

“certainly!”

Sun Simi said calmly, “There’s no harm. It will just allow them to experience an unprecedented deep sleep. And don’t worry, we have a 15-person medical care team on board right now. They’re carrying the most advanced medical equipment and will be traveling with us. From now on, this team will serve you and your family exclusively.”

Claire subconsciously said: “This is too much trouble. There is no need to go through so much trouble. Just give us an environment where we can live normally.”

Sun Simi said seriously, “Mr. Willson, or should I call you Mrs. Wade? You are the Young Master’s wife. We took you and your family away without telling the Young Master. This is already a great betrayal. If we don’t take good care of you and your family, how will we face the Young Master in the future? Besides, it’s not that we will never allow you to see the Young Master. Once the Young Master completes his revenge plan, everything will be confessed to him, and there will be no restrictions on your contact or meeting with him. If we fail to take care of you and your family during this period, the Young Master will definitely blame us.”

At this point, Sun Simi added, “We’ve already arranged everything for you and your family over there. We have servants, gardeners, bodyguards, doctors, car drivers, yacht drivers, helicopter pilots, and even golf, tennis, diving, and yoga instructors. They’re all full-time, and we’ve trained them over the years. You and your family don’t have to worry about food, clothing, housing, transportation, entertainment, or health once you get there.”

Claire blurted out: “This...this is such a waste of money! All the money spent is Charlie Wade’s. I...I really can’t bear it...”

Sun Simi smiled and said, “Don’t worry, Madam. This amount of money is just a drop in the bucket for the young master. Let’s put it this way, the money the young master earns in a day is enough for you and your family to live at the highest standard for a lifetime.”

Claire was shocked when she heard this.

But Sun Simi was not joking.

She was even a little conservative.

Charlie Wade’s ability to make money cannot be measured by conventional business thinking.

She deliberately said to Claire frankly, “Madam, in fact, the young master is not only the heir of the Wade family, nor is he just the grandson of the An family. He is the biggest boss of such a large shipping company as Yisu Shipping. I don’t know if you know that when shipping was most profitable, a container ship could earn hundreds of millions of dollars in freight per trip, and Yisu Shipping has over a hundred ships of various types docked.”

Claire asked in shock, “A ship, a single trip costs hundreds of millions of dollars? This... is too much!”

Sun Simi smiled and said, “It may sound exaggerated, but you might not know that shipping costs skyrocketed recently. The cost of shipping a container from East Asia to the United States has soared to $20,000. And the largest container ship under Yisu Shipping is fully loaded with 24,000 containers. In other words, this container ship's freight revenue from a single trip from China to the United States exceeds 400 million US dollars. And that's in US dollars. Even if you run a money printing machine until it smokes, it can't print money that fast."

Sun Simi didn't say anything else.

She knew that even so, the profitability of Yisu Shipping was not even as good as Charlie Wade's Rejuvenation Pill auction.

The total living expenses of Claire's family of three in Tahiti would not exceed 50 million US dollars a year at most, so this is truly a drop in the bucket.

The reason why she told Claire about the Yisu Shipping was actually because she hoped that Claire would give up the idea of meeting Charlie Wade again. All of Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom)'s subordinates knew that Lydia (Ava) (Charlie's mom) hoped that Claire could live a life of ease and comfort in Tahiti and never go back to meet Charlie Wade again.

Claire's expression was a little melancholy at this time. She became increasingly aware that the gap between herself and Charlie Wade was unimaginably large.

After a moment of silence, she said, "Just follow your plan."

The Amazing son in law Chapter 7670

On the way back, Sun Simi was deliberately controlling the speed of the car.

She didn't dare to send Claire home too quickly, for she was worried that if she went back too early, Charlie Wade in Eastcliff would not have boarded the plane yet. If one of Jacob and Elaine was stupid enough to send Charlie Wade a message asking, all her efforts would probably be ruined.

So, she thought, as long as Claire stayed with her before the plane took off and had no contact with the outside world, all risks would naturally be eliminated.

Moreover, in order to avoid any accidents this time, they even used their connections to remove and repair the WiFi module of the plane that Charlie Wade was riding in advance.

Nowadays, many transoceanic flights provide free or paid Internet services. Generally speaking, first-class cabins have free Internet access. If the WiFi on this plane is not turned off, Charlie Wade may receive messages during the entire flight.

After the WiFi function is turned off, all passengers on the plane will temporarily lose contact with the outside world ten minutes after takeoff, and will not be restored until it is about to land.

5:30 pm.

The plane Charlie Wade was on took off on time.

Ten minutes later, the plane climbed to an altitude of 3,500 meters, and the mobile phone had completely lost all signal.

The hairpin on Sun Simi's head vibrated slightly three times. This was the communication method they agreed upon internally. Three vibrations meant that Charlie Wade was now in a state of disconnection.

So she quickened her pace and sent Claire to Tomson Yipin's home.

Jacob had already arrived home and was watching TV in the living room with Elaine.

Seeing Claire walk in alone, they both looked over immediately. Jacob said with a smile, "Oh, my daughter is back! Did you have a good time in Eastcliff this time?"

Claire smiled slightly: "Very good."

Elaine looked left and right but could not see Charlie Wade's shadow behind her. She asked her in surprise, "Girl, isn't Charlie Wade back?"

"No." Claire adjusted his hair unnaturally and said, "Charlie Wade went to Australia. Mr. Albert asked him for help, saying that a friend needed him to help look at Feng Shui, so I came back on my own."

When Jacob heard Mr. Albert, he quickly asked him, "Is it Mr. Albert?"

"Yes." Claire nodded.

Jacob said with a smile: "Oh, Master don Albert and Charlie Wade have a really good relationship. Some customers are always thinking about him. Not bad."

In Jacob's opinion, whether he can become the executive vice president of the Calligraphy and Painting Association again in the future depends on whether Master don Albert is willing to help him.

I had done something scandalous before and was demoted in the Calligraphy and Painting Association. However, everyone knows the unspoken rules in the circle. If you are demoted when the storm is at its peak, you will soon find an opportunity to be promoted again after the storm passes. It depends on whether the higher-ups are willing to give you this opportunity.

Jacob knew that he had no foundation, but as long as Master don Albert helped, there would definitely be no problem.

Therefore, as long as Charlie Wade and don Albert maintain a close cooperative relationship, he feels that there is still a chance for his own business.

Claire could probably tell from her father's expression what he was thinking about, but she also knew very well that her parents were about to leave Jinling and might never come back. The calligraphy and painting association was all just a passing cloud.

Then she said to them, “By the way, Mom and Dad, our company hasn’t been very busy lately, and we haven’t had much to do since the Lunar New Year. A friend of mine just happened to recommend a cruise trip from the island city all the way to Tahiti. He said the facilities are very good and it’s also very fun. Let’s go tonight!”

“Tonight?” Jacob said in surprise, “So hasty?”

Elaine asked curiously, “Tahiti? Is it the Tahiti that is rich in pearls?”

Claire nodded and said to Elaine, “Yes, Mom, it’s that Tahiti. It is said to be better than the Maldives, but it’s not as hyped as the Maldives.”

After that, he said to Jacob, “Dad, the cruise ship will leave the port tomorrow morning. We are far away. If we want to catch up, we have to set off now. Their company has already provided a business car, and it is waiting at the door. You go back to the room and pack your things, and we will set off directly.”

Elaine asked with concern: “My daughter, it must cost a lot of money to take a cruise to such a far place, right?”

Claire knew that her mother loved to take advantage of others, so she agreed with her and said, “It’s said to be a super luxurious first-class cabin. A ticket costs over 200,000 yuan, and all meals and drinks are free.”

Elaine immediately became energetic and said excitedly: “Go! We must go!”

Jacob was a little embarrassed and said, “Oh, this is too hasty. We still have a lot of things in the association to hand over. It’s a bit inappropriate to leave just like that!”

Elaine blurted out: “What’s inappropriate? You don’t have anything serious to do there. It’s just a bunch of old men and women doing nonsense all day long. Besides, President Pei has such a good relationship with you. If there is anything, just let him help you arrange it. It will definitely not be a problem for him.”

Jacob smacked his lips and asked, “Then let’s go on a cruise. It will take at least a month to go back and forth, right? Do you want to say hello to Charlie Wade?”

Claire lied, “This project is managed by Charlie Wade’s friend. They gave us this opportunity for free because of Charlie Wade’s face. Charlie Wade’s trip to Australia will take a long time, and he was afraid that we would be bored at home, so he arranged for us to go on a trip.”

“Is that so?” Jacob nodded slightly and said, “Then I’ll say hello to President Pei and ask him to help arrange the work.”
