Chapter 7936

Why had his powerful flying sword lost all connection with him? Where did that abnormal, violent impact come from?

At that moment, he instinctively wanted to go forward to see what was happening, but as soon as he took a step, a very ominous premonition arose in his heart, so he immediately stopped and cautiously observed the cloud of smoke.

charlie wade, who had already prepared himself to be beaten back to his original form, was completely stunned at the scene of the incident. He clearly felt that just as countless flying swords were about to pierce his skull, he was suddenly shattered into dust by an inexplicable and enormous force. Wu Bolin (Bick)'s flying sword, which had driven him to the brink of despair, was also completely destroyed in the blink of an eye. The billowing dust was partly ice shards from the violent impact, shattered from the surrounding ice sheet, and partly the true form of Wu Bolin (Bick)'s flying sword, as well as the clone formed from spiritual energy when he used the "Ten Thousand Swords Return to One" technique.

Wu Bolin (Bick) was unaware that his flying sword, seemingly lost, had actually shattered into dust. As the Antarctic winds swept through and the dust gradually dissipated, he witnessed a scene he would never forget.

charlie wade, whose cultivation was far inferior to his own, still stood there, the incredibly violent impact having failed to kill him.

His own flying sword, however, had vanished without a trace in the collision!

charlie wade, however, was in dire straits. His clothes were torn to shreds by the sword blade, and his skin bore at least several hundred wounds, all bleeding. The blood congealed on his clothes and was then frozen solid by the minus sixty-degree Celsius temperature—a truly pitiful sight.

Wu Bolin (Bick) stared at charlie wade in shock, roaring, "Boy, where's my flying sword?!"

charlie wade looked up at him, then at himself, his shock no less than Wu Bolin (Bick)'s. However, he wasn't panicked, because he knew that whatever had just happened was in his favor. He had already prepared for being teleported or even losing control, and now that things had taken a turn for the better, what was there to be afraid of?

So he looked at Wu Bolin (Bick) and coldly said, "Your flying sword has shattered into dust. Didn't you feel it?"

Wu Bolin (Bick)'s expression instantly turned to horror!

Although everything that had just happened felt like it had vanished into thin air in an instant, he still couldn't believe it.

Even Wu Feiyan didn't have such ability to completely neutralize the attack unleashed by his burning meridians and even destroy his flying sword. Moreover, this was a mere twenty-something-year-old young man before him.

He stared intently at charlie wade, coldly rebuking, "Boy, what kind of sorcery did you use? How could you so easily take away my flying sword!"

charlie wade was already exhausted, but he still stood there stubbornly, coldly saying, "I told you I'd already vanished into thin air, but you wouldn't believe me. Do you have any other tricks up your sleeve? Show them to me, otherwise, it'll be my turn to bully you."

Wu Bolin (Bick)'s heart skipped a beat, sensing that charlie wade wasn't joking, yet he still couldn't understand how such a powerful flying sword could... How could it shatter for no reason? To hide his unease, he scoffed, "Boy, you're at your last gasp. I could beat you to death with my bare hands!"

charlie wade nodded, smiling, and said, "Look at me now, I am indeed at my last gasp."

With that, he pulled two large Qi-Nourishing Pills from his inner pocket, swallowed them without hesitation, and then coldly asked Wu Bolin (Bick), "What do you think now?"

Wu Bolin (Bick) was dumbfounded, his heart sinking instantly.

He knew charlie wade must have good stuff, but he never expected this guy to be so extravagant—consuming two such top-tier pills at once!

At that moment, he suddenly had a premonition that the heavens were against him!

Although Charlie Wade's pills were almost gone, he felt his confidence was greatly boosted at this moment. Although he didn't know what had helped him block Wu Bolin (Bick)'s flying sword, Wu Bolin (Bick)'s seemingly inevitable move, "Ten Thousand Swords Return to One," hadn't actually caused him any real harm. Not only that, Wu Bolin (Bick)'s flying sword was also completely shattered, turning into dust. Wu Bolin (Bick) already had very little spiritual energy left, and he had been relying on burning his meridians to frantically deplete his own cultivation to fight against Charlie Wade. Now that he had lost his flying sword, the situation had suddenly reached a turning point. With Charlie Wade's timely replenishment of two pills, he is now far superior to his opponent in both physical condition and magical artifacts. Wu Bolin (Bick), on the other hand, suffered a terrible fate. He originally thought that the Ten Thousand Swords Return to One would kill Charlie Wade in one blow, but he did not expect the situation to change so quickly. Sometimes a war or a battle ends because the superior side fails to eliminate the enemy before the turning point arrives. Once the turning point arrives, the outcome is already predetermined, just like the Japanese Navy during the Battle of Midway. Charlie Wade was initially at a disadvantage against Wu Bolin (Bick), his only advantage being his abundant spiritual energy. But now things were different. Wu Bolin (Bick)'s cultivation was burning rapidly. Although he was still ahead of Charlie Wade, his spiritual energy was already depleted, and he was relying entirely on burning his cultivation to hold on. If his flying sword hadn't been destroyed, he would have gritted his teeth and insisted on using another round of Ten Thousand Swords Return to Origin. As long as Charlie Wade didn't have that miraculous protective power, he could have defeated Charlie Wade. But now that the flying sword is gone, he is like a tiger without teeth and claws, with only a huge body, completely losing the ability to attack. Charlie Wade's greatest skill was striking while the iron was hot. He had prepared himself for certain defeat, but now that things had taken an unexpected turn and a turning point had arrived, he couldn't possibly miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. So, without any hesitation, he immediately pointed the Thunder Token at Wu Bolin (Bick) and roared, "Old dog, prepare to die!"

After saying that, he unleashed three thunderbolts in quick succession. Crack! Crack! Crack! Three bolts of lightning, each as thick as a bowl, slanted down towards Wu Bolin (Bick) in an equilateral triangle formation. Wu Bolin (Bick) was terrified. These three bolts of lightning were extremely cunning, almost completely blocking his escape route. In the blink of an eye, he would likely be struck no matter which way he ran. But if he didn't run, being struck by all three bolts at once would surely mean certain death! Wu Bolin (Bick) panicked and immediately chose a direction, rushing forward to his left. However, Charlie Wade's thunder came extremely fast. Although he had tried his best to escape and dodge, he was still struck by one of the thunderbolts. He felt a sharp pain all over his body in an instant. The pain and numbness brought by the electric shock coexisted, and even his bones felt much softer. His bones were sore, painful and swollen. His clothes had almost completely turned to ash, and his skin was scabbed over like burnt sweet potatoes. The excruciating pain made him tremble uncontrollably, and his movements were much slower than before. He looked up at Charlie Wade in despair, but Charlie Wade's eyes were fixed on him like radar, a cruel smile playing on his lips. Wu Bolin (Bick) knew that he was at his limit, and every second from now on, his condition would only get worse. Charlie Wade's spiritual energy reserves were still high, and he could launch multiple rounds of lightning attacks on him at any time. Apart from finding it increasingly difficult to dodge, he had no chance of turning the tide. He panicked and began to beg Charlie Wade for mercy: "Young brother, please spare me this time for the sake of my more than 100 years of hard cultivation. I am willing to follow you and be your slave, as long as you spare my dog's life!" Charlie Wade said coldly, "You've lived for over 100 years, are you still so naive?"

Do you think I would let you off the hook after how ruthless you were to me just now?" Wu Bolin (Bick)'s eyes reddened, tears welling up, and he sighed with sorrow, "Although I've lived for over 100 years, I've only truly lived in the secular world for about 20 years. The rest of the time has been spent in seclusion for spiritual cultivation. How could I possibly have time to understand or engage with this world... especially this modern, technologically advanced society, where everything is revolutionary and refreshing..." Charlie Wade sneered: "Choosing to cultivate and go into seclusion for a hundred years is your own problem, it has nothing to do with me. You can continue to regret it when you get to the King of Hell!”

Wu Bolin (Bick) was terrified and cried out, “Young brother, you have always been Sara’s enemy. Don’t you want to know the secrets of the Po Qing Society? As long as you swear to your Dao Heart to spare my life, I will tell you everything I know about Sara and the Po Qing Society to my Dao Heart Master, including the location of the Po Qing Society’s headquarters!”

Making a vow to one’s Dao heart is the highest level of vow for a cultivator. Once a vow is made to one’s Dao heart, one cannot subjectively break the vow, because if one’s Dao heart is damaged, future cultivation will be greatly affected, and one may even stagnate due to instability of the Dao heart.

charlie Wade laughed and said, “Your offer doesn’t appeal to me at all.” Wu Bolin (Bick) was stunned, and asked in confusion, “Don’t you want to know Sara’s secret?”

charlie Wade shook his head indifferently: “I don’t want to.”

Wu Bolin (Bick) looked completely bewildered and stammered, “You... this... why? You’ve repeatedly and secretly opposed her; you must have a deep-seated grudge against her. Don’t you want to know more about her secrets?”

charlie Wade smiled calmly and said, “I can’t even beat you, how could I possibly beat Sara? So what does it mean to me if I know where Sara is? It’s like saying you’re going to tell Persia the position of the President of the United States. What does that mean to Persia?”

Wu Bolin (Bick) asked in confusion, “What do you mean?! What does Persia have to do with America?”

charlie Wade asked him, “Don’t you usually watch the news?”

Wu Bolin (Bick) sensed charlie Wade’s disdainful gaze and blurted out, “I’ve devoted myself to cultivation for over a hundred years; how could I possibly have the time to read the news...”

After saying that, Wu Bolin (Bick) quickly pleaded again, “Young brother, even if you are no match for Sara, it doesn’t matter. Spare my life, and from today onwards I will follow you wholeheartedly and do anything for you. Just think of it as getting a dog. It’s never a loss!”

charlie Wade smiled and said, “And then what? If you have ulterior motives towards me, you can kill me at any time after you recover. If you have no ulterior motives towards me, your presence by my side will definitely attract the attention of the Po Qing Society, which will also lead to my exposure of my whereabouts. No matter how I look at it, keeping you around will only bring me harm and no benefit!”

At this point, a sharp glint flashed in charlie Wade’s eyes. Without pausing, he immediately unleashed three more Thunderclap Commands at Wu Bolin (Bick)!

Wu Bolin (Bick) glared at charlie Wade with bloodshot eyes, struggling to dodge while shouting fiercely, “Boy, why can’t we turn our swords against each other... Ah!”

Before Wu Bolin (Bick) could finish speaking, he suddenly let out a scream as a bolt of lightning struck his right shoulder, turning his entire right arm into a completely blackened charcoal!

At this moment, he no longer had enough spiritual energy to protect his body. Even the spiritual energy generated by burning his veins was not enough to withstand the Thunderclap Token supported by Charlie Wade's catalysis of the Mother of Pu-erh Tea. This heavenly thunder was the death knell for him!
