Chapter 8008

4-6 minutes

Steve led Robert out of the private room, and Rachel immediately greeted Lin Wan'er (Alani) warmly in Chinese, "Anna, when are you coming to Stanford? What are you planning to study? If it's convenient, we can add each other on WeChat. You can contact me if you need anything at Stanford!"

Rachel was a shrewd person who had undergone various trainings, especially in social situations, where she was a true master. Although she didn't know Charlie Wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s backgrounds, she knew that if she could build a good relationship with them, it would definitely benefit her in the future.

The main reason she chose to get close to Lin Wan'er (Alani) was because Charlie Wade's public statement was that Lin Wan'er (Alani) was coming to Stanford to study, and he himself was Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s brother. Rachel had no doubt about this statement. Once Lin Wan'er (Alani) arrived at Stanford, if she could become good friends with her first, she would have a much better chance with the Rothschild family.

Seeing that Rachel was targeting her with her public relations efforts, Lin Wan'er (Alani) smiled slightly and looked at Charlie Wade, saying, "Whether or not she comes to Stanford is up to my brother."

Lin Wan'er (Alani) knew Charlie Wade was going to be direct with Rachel, so she simply steered the conversation towards him.

Rachel, unaware of the situation, quickly and obsequiously said to Charlie Wade, "Mr. Wade, once Anna comes to Stanford, I will do everything I can to help her adapt to the environment here as quickly as possible. You can rest assured."

Charlie Wade looked at Rachel, chuckled softly, but remained silent.

Rachel hadn't expected Charlie Wade to look at her with such amusement, and felt a little uneasy. She thought Charlie Wade had seen through her attempt to get closer to Lin Wan'er (Alani), and that if the other woman didn't think much of her, her overtures would be rather rash.

At this moment, Charlie Wade smiled and said to Rachel, "Miss Getty, although your father's family is somewhat down on its luck now, it can still be ranked in the top twenty in America. The Getty family probably doesn't know that you are a scholar, right?"

To Rachel, Charlie Wade's words were like a thunderclap in her ears, instantly shocking her and leaving her speechless and pale. At this moment, her heart was pounding so hard it felt like it would burst her chest!

She never dreamed that this young Asian man, whom even the Rothschild family heir had to fawn over, would expose her deepest disguise with just a few words!

For her, the identity of a scholar was practically the Achilles' heel of a martial arts master. A scholar's greatest responsibility was never to infiltrate a family, individual, or organization, but to strictly guard their secret. The Qing-Breaking Society could tolerate a scholar's inaction, failing to infiltrate any valuable targets; in that case, at most, their status would be lowered, but they wouldn't be killed.

However, once their identity was exposed, even if they had infiltrated the President of America's inner circle, they would instantly lose all value and become the Qing-Breaking Society's greatest threat.

For the scholar group, any time their identity was exposed, it was like a limb infected with tetanus—inevitably severed to prevent future trouble.

Therefore, when Charlie Wade uttered those two words, she felt as if she and her family were on the brink of death.

She looked at Charlie Wade in utter terror, muttering, "You... what are you saying... I... I don't understand..."

Charlie Wade sneered, "Miss Getty, don't make a futile struggle. I know your identity as a scholar, and I know your mission is to integrate into the Rothschild family. I must say, you are very, very close to success. Once Steve succeeds as the heir of the Rothschild family, Robert's grandfather will immediately become a collateral branch, and Robert will be able to marry you, a girl with 60% white blood. Over the years, I don't think any scholar from the Qing Society has been able to infiltrate a top European and American family like the Rothschilds, has ever done so?”

Even Rachel, who had received various training since childhood, was now trembling like a leaf.

She was, after all, just a twenty-year-old girl.

No matter how much training she underwent, she could only be fearless in the face of death.

But what charlie wade was saying wasn't just about her life or death, but about the lives of her, her mother, her grandmother, and everyone on her lineage.

There was a precedent for this.

The two scholars who had infiltrated the An family had their entire families wiped out by the Po Qing Society after their identities were exposed, not even sparing the children.

If her identity were exposed, three generations of her maternal lineage would also be exterminated by the Po Qing Society!

Rachel's tears instantly welled up, her body trembling uncontrollably. She looked at charlie wade with extreme fear, stammering, “I... what can I do to give you and my family a way out?”

Rachel was undoubtedly intelligent.

Although she was terrified, her mind was still sharp.

Although she couldn't guess charlie wade's identity, she knew that since charlie wade chose to expose her face to face, he must have something to use her for. Otherwise, he could have simply revealed her identity to the public without meeting her. Even if he just posted something online, and even if most onlookers thought he was talking nonsense, the Po Qing Society would still find a post and wipe out her whole family in the shortest amount of time. For the Breaking-Qing Society, they are no longer a feudalistic, retrogressive organization, but a super-multinational corporation that has infiltrated all walks of life, with numerous locations around the world, vast assets, and a large number of members.

The Breaking-Qing Society not only has its own elite assassins, its own elite cavalry, its own Five Military Commands, and various physical industries, but also its own communications satellites and its own cybersecurity team.

Keywords like “Breaking-Qing Society,” “Sara,” “scholar,” “elite assassins,” “elite cavalry,” and “Five Military Commands” are always of utmost concern to the Breaking-Qing Society. Their cybersecurity team possesses the world’s most powerful web crawlers, searching all information on the internet around the world every day, and then searching for these highly sensitive keywords. Once discovered, they must be verified to determine whether the appearance of highly sensitive keywords in the content is a coincidence or a leak.

If a novel mentions Sara, there’s generally no problem. After screening, they’ll create a whitelist of other keywords from the novel along with Sara, such as the novel’s title or the male protagonist. If the web crawler finds “Sara” along with the novel’s title and the male protagonist, it will automatically classify this information as harmless and requiring no further screening.

However, if a piece of content contains multiple highly sensitive keywords, it will trigger a higher-level response. The Po Qing Society’s cyber team will handle it immediately.

For example, if charlie wade posts on any website, or even just replies to a short video with the phrase “Po Qing Society Sara,” the Po Qing Society will immediately find it and locate the person who posted it. They’ll dispatch assassins or elite guards to arrest and interrogate the person offline, then eliminate all related individuals.

However, if the poster has the ability to conceal their identity, the Po Qing Society will be powerless to do anything about it.

However, if charlie wade were to post a message online through a secure channel, explicitly naming Rachel Getty as a member of the Qing Breakers, all the members of Rachel Getty’s family would be silenced within hours.

Rachel was well aware of the Qing Society's comprehensive monitoring of online keywords, and she knew that if charlie wade released the message, her entire family would be wiped out.

Therefore, she immediately realized that charlie wade's meeting with her and his revelation of his true identity only after Steve and Robert left meant he still had value to her.

This was the only good news amidst countless bad news.

It changed her and her family's fate from certain death to possible death.

To put it bluntly, betraying the Qing Society, if well-hidden, wouldn't result in immediate death, or even certain death, but once her identity was exposed, she would die.

Even if she tried to report to the Left Army Commander's Office now, directly telling them that someone had discovered her identity and requesting their help while also expressing her loyalty, the Left Army Commander's Office wouldn't spare her life. They would only kill those who knew the truth and the scholar who had revealed her identity.

Therefore, from this moment on, Rachel Getty had made a decision: whatever charlie wade wanted to do, as long as he could temporarily conceal her identity, she was willing to obey his orders.

Seeing her understanding, charlie wade smiled slightly and said, "It's so much easier to communicate with smart people, Miss Getty. I need you to tell me everything related to the Breaking the Qing Society, including your own family situation and the members of the Breaking the Qing Society you can contact. I need every detail. As long as you cooperate, I won't expose your identity."

Rachel Getty immediately nodded without hesitation and said, "No problem, Mr. wade. Whatever questions you have, I will answer them without reservation!"

charlie wade asked her, "How many scholars your family has at this stage?"

Rachel said, "There are twenty-six in total, but they are not all from the Getty family. Some are my aunt's and uncle's children."

charlie wade then asked, "Where are they located, or which families have they infiltrated?" Rachel thought for a moment and explained, "Most of the younger ones are still studying. Apart from a few college students, only five or six are actually married at this stage. However, most of them are in second-tier American families. There haven't been any successful ones in top-tier families yet."

charlie wade nodded and said, "Then you should be considered a rising star in your family, right?"

Rachel truthfully replied, "Yes, Mr. wade. My mother and her sisters have been trying to infiltrate American high society for a long time, but only my mother has truly succeeded. The Getty family is the highest-ranking family my maternal lineage has infiltrated so far. If I can marry Robert, it will be history for our family and for the entire Po Qing Society. Before that, the strongest family that scholars infiltrated was the An family, a Chinese family in America. However, those scholars were exposed, which also marked the An family's downfall." "The infiltration plan failed."

charlie wade nodded, then asked her, "As far as you know, which family has the strongest scholar infiltrated by the Breaking Qing Society so far?"

Rachel shook her head and said sincerely, "I'm sorry, Mr. wade, I don't know. Each scholar family is independent. The Breaking Qing Society won't let us know about other families. We only receive internal reports after something happens to other families. Like the An family, we never knew that the An family also had scholars, let alone two. When we received the internal report, we were all shocked..."

charlie wade asked her, "What did the internal report say?"

Rachel recalled, "The internal report told us that two scholars who were undercover in the An family had been exposed, and that these two scholar families had been wiped out by the organization. They hoped we would learn from this and never expose our identities..."

charlie wade said in surprise, "They've already been wiped out?"

"Yes." Rachel nodded and said, "The organization never goes easy on people like this. Whoever exposes their identity will have their entire family implicated and killed."

charlie wade smiled and said, "Sara's methods are truly ruthless."

Rachel's eyes widened in shock. She hadn't expected that charlie wade not only knew her identity and the Po Qing Society, but also knew the name of the Lord of the Nation.
