

The Amazing son in law Chapter 8049

If you have the courage to shatter them at that moment, they will never again approach you, and you will never be troubled by them again.

But if you miss that weakest moment, the difficulty of breaking them will only increase exponentially for the rest of your life; the shackles will eventually become a cage, with no chance of escape.

Both of them shared the same feeling at that moment, staring intently at each other on the boundless Antarctic ice sheet.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) didn't blush; beneath her delicate appearance lay immense spiritual strength. She simply looked at Charlie wade with firm, clear, and bright eyes.

Charlie wade returned the gaze with the same unwavering determination.

At that moment, both of them saw the boundless and magnificent Milky Way in each other's eyes. Lost in their gaze, they didn't even notice the snowmobile's steering wheel slightly veer off course.

The enormous snowmobile traced giant circles across the boundless ice sheet.

One circle, two circles, until the onboard map beeped, pulling Charlie wade from his reverie.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) also noticed, a flicker of disappointment crossing her eyes.

It was at this moment that she truly understood the meaning of the phrase "a glance that lasts a lifetime."

If time could have stood still for that instant, she would have felt the entire universe existed for that moment.

But time couldn't simply stop, and she understood that in the vast universe, she was no protagonist, merely an insignificant speck of dust.

Charlie wade, too, felt an overwhelming sense of loss. In the past, he had never taken the initiative with any woman except Xiao Churan, not even with Ito Nanako, who seemed tailor-made for him in every way.

But at this moment, he suddenly made a decision.

A decision he felt he would regret for the rest of his life if he gave up!

He suddenly stopped the snowmobile, which had been circling in place, and looked at Lin Wan'er (Alani) beside him as before, then tightly grasped her hand.

At that moment, Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s heart leaped into her throat.

Four hundred years of relentless striving couldn't compare to the tension she felt in this instant.

She looked at Charlie wade, afraid to even breathe deeply, even afraid that her racing heart would affect what Charlie wade was about to say.

Charlie wade wasn't nervous.

He simply looked earnestly into her eyes, a thousand words welling up in his throat, but in the end, he could only utter a dry, hoarse sentence: "Wan'er, from now on, wherever I go, I hope you'll come with me."

Charlie wade wasn't dull, but he wasn't romantic either.

The only heartfelt confession he could think of was this one sentence.

Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s eyes instantly welled up with tears.

In her life, she had seen too many people, experienced too many things, and witnessed too much so-called deep affection.

But none seemed as sincere as Charlie wade's simple words.

Lin Wan'er (Alani) couldn't stop her tears from flowing. She wiped them away with her other hand while gripping Charlie wade's hand even tighter. With tears streaming down her face, she smiled and choked out, "Young Master, I'm afraid I can live for another hundred years..."

Charlie wade nodded emphatically and said firmly, "Then a hundred years!"
