

The Amazing son in law Chapter 8050

For a cultivator like Charlie wade, a hundred years is not a long time. The same applies to Lin Wan'er (Alani). For the first four centuries, she was displaced and forced to flee around the world. But in the fifth century, it seems we need to live a different way. She had a vague feeling that God also felt that she had suffered too much in the first four hundred years, so in the last hundred years, He wanted to make it up to her, which is why He let her meet Charlie wade. She has lived from the Ming Dynasty to the present day. Although she is well-read and has even experienced the vicissitudes of life, deep down she is still the little girl living under the etiquette of the Ming Dynasty. Although she was a young girl, in those days she was already of marriageable age. She fell in love with Charlie wade, and Charlie wade finally confessed his feelings to her, which instantly made her want to spend her life with him. Her slender fingers gripped Charlie wade's hand tightly, and she said softly yet firmly, "I am grateful that you do not despise me, young master. I do not ask for any title or status. For the rest of my life, I only wish to stay by your side. No matter what happens, I will stand with you through thick and thin. Whether you are a concubine or a maid, I will have no complaints!" Lin Wan'er (Alani), who was four hundred years old, had long seen through everything. She didn't need Charlie wade to give her any title; all she wanted was genuine companionship. After all, she had lived alone for nearly four hundred years, and nothing was more precious than the company of her beloved. How could Charlie wade not understand Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s feelings? If he hadn't come into contact with cultivation and hadn't had the "Nine Profound Heaven Scripture," he would most likely have been bound by long-standing conventions and conventions of the secular world. But just now, at that moment, he suddenly understood. When you can instantly travel to any corner of the world using a teleportation array, and when you realize that someone once could easily travel between stars, what do those conventions in life matter? He was even thinking about one thing. If I had a lifespan of several hundred years, how would I live? Like Lin Wan'er (Alani), should one avoid the world and live alone? However, while it was possible in Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s time, in the 21st century, information transmission between worlds has long reached the speed of light. One second you are photographed hiding in a village in Argentina, and the next second, people in China, tens of thousands of kilometers away, can see the same photo. To live in anonymity for four or five hundred years in such a high-tech information society is simply a fantasy. If one could enable those around them to live for more than two hundred years, it would be even more difficult to remain anonymous. The best way would be to leave that secular society once everything had settled down. He even thought that decades later, he would settle down in an underground city in Antarctica, and when he got tired of it, he would disguise himself and travel around the world to relax and see the world as it was. Perhaps one day, when his cultivation level improved to a certain point, he would be able to find the teleportation arrays left by those sages and leave this planet. He even thought that after everything settled down, he would spend the next hundred years finding the recipe for the Hundred Turns and Thousand Returns Pill and successfully refining it, so that Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s lifespan could be extended by another five hundred years. As for Xiao Churan, Cai Cai Zi, and the other women around her, if they wished, she could grant them hundreds of years of immortality. If they did not wish to endure the torment of immortality, she would not force them. However, she would do her best to ensure that their lives were free from any illness or suffering, and that even if they wanted to leave in the future, they could do so with dignity. Charlie wade didn't know how long he could live, but from this moment on, he hoped to live a more open-minded life, no longer looking at the ground beneath his feet, but looking up at the sky above. The ground was only so big, but the sky was an infinite and vast universe. Holding Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s hand, Charlie wade felt a sense of peace he had never felt before. Since there were no traffic rules to follow on the vast Antarctic ice sheet, he held Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s hand the whole time until the vehicle returned to the Nordic research station. At the Nordic research station, Yun Rugo and Song Ruyu were in seclusion a moment ago, but after sensing Charlie wade and Lin Wan'er (Alani)'s return, they both woke up from their meditation.
