The Amazing son in law Chapter 8054

Having understood the changes in charlie wade, Yun Rugo and Song Ruyu's mindset immediately shifted.

They realized that from the moment they chose to betray the Po Qing Society, they were already deeply bound to charlie wade. Their fates were intertwined.

Although they weren't certain if charlie wade could truly defeat the Po Qing Society and Sara, they were certain that his character and integrity would allow him to do his utmost to help them escape the torment of the poison. Moreover, once charlie wade resolved the Po Qing Society's troubles, he would definitely set them free.

Of course, even if charlie wade set them free, they might not truly want to leave him.

But the most important thing was that they would no longer be forced into anything, and their comings and goings would be entirely their own decisions.

Therefore, Yun Rugo looked at charlie wade with a firm yet tender gaze and earnestly said, "Mr. wade, if Rugo is fortunate enough to live a few more years, I wish to stay by your side for life, awaiting your command!" Yun Rugo knew very well that even if everything settled down and charlie wade ultimately defeated the Po Qing Society, as a lone cultivator, she would still be unable to escape loneliness.

Cultivating alone is not just about having no one to guide you; most importantly, it's about having no one to accompany you.

She didn't dare to hope that she could one day become charlie wade's woman, but she was still willing to follow him for life. If charlie wade were to establish his own sect in the future, she would even be willing to become his disciple or his right-hand woman.

In that case, a hundred years of cultivation wouldn't be so tedious, and charlie wade would definitely help her increase her cultivation speed exponentially. Song Ruyu had also come to her senses at this moment.

Although she and Yun Ruguo hadn't discussed this matter, she felt the same way as Yun Ruguo.

So, without hesitation, she said, "Mr. wade, I, like Sister Ruguo, am willing to serve you for life!"

charlie wade smiled and nodded.

He understood the two women's thoughts. Everyone knows it's good to have a big tree to lean on. Although he wasn't a towering tree, he was still much taller than them. They were willing to rely on his shade, so he naturally had no objection.

So, charlie wade smiled and said to the two women, "I understand your intentions. If everything ends smoothly in the future, I hope to unite with you two, and with more cultivators, to improve our cultivation together."

charlie wade knew very well that although cultivators seemed much stronger than ordinary people now, the world was still ultimately the world of ordinary people. In this outside world, cultivators were relatively different and weaker.

These people would constantly push the boundaries of ordinary society in their struggle for resources.

Therefore, after the destruction of the Qing Dynasty, cultivators in various places would need to band together for mutual support; otherwise, anyone left behind would likely become a target for other cultivators or groups.

After all, cultivators saw no laws or constraints; what they truly cared about was cultivation, and everything else was insignificant.

At this moment, the three women in the research station all felt a different kind of anticipation for the future.

Lin Wan'er (Alani), who had been traveling for a long time, gently touched her lower abdomen and said to charlie wade with a little embarrassment, "Young master, I am a little hungry. Would you like to prepare some food so that we can all eat together?"

charlie wade, Yun Rugo, and Song Ruyu had all stopped eating and no longer needed to consume food.
