Chapter 401

As soon as Brad said this, the atmosphere between the four fell into an awkward moment of silence.

Brad smiled, but his eyes were full of profound meaning when he looked at Jasper as if he was waiting to see how he would respond.

Zachary had no expression on his face and was looking at Brad with a slightly pissed look in his eyes. However, he had always respected Jasper's image.

It seemed that as soon as Jasper spoke, Zachary would be able to say something to counterattack Brad.

After all, regarding how hedonistic Henry was, it was also passed down from Zachary.

Although the current patriarch of the Laws had, on the surface, withdrawn himself from this for many years, it could be said that the Law got rich because of the old master. Zachary was the second generation of the Laws in the true sense.

If this Mr. Law became ruthless, his methods would be countless times superior to Henry's.

Brad looked at Zachary seriously. After a long while, he smiled. "Okay, very well."

“No matter if you think it’s good or bad, this is how it is. The reason is very simple, you and I were once young and vigorous before, and we also caused a lot of trouble. Back then, we asked our parents to solve those issues for us. Now that we’re parents, we naturally have to take care of our younger generation. We can’t keep letting our younger generation get bullied, at least.”

Zachary looked at Brad directly, chuckled, and said coldly, “Turner, don’t you think so?”

Brad took a deep look at Brad and Jasper before suddenly saying insipidly, “Erik, say goodbye to Uncle Law. We’ll be leaving now.”

After Erik heard that, he immediately said goodbye to Zachary respectfully.

“If you have something to do, go ahead. It’s late and my old man is still waiting to say a few words to Jasper,” Zachary said dully.

Brad snorted before turning around to leave with Erik.

and said magnanimously, “Don’t worry. Just attack Erik back if he dares to try and do something to you. If Brad has the nerve to go into court and deal with you personally, I’ll go head-on with him.

Jasper’s words intrigued Old Master Law.

Although the two were decades apart and their position and status were also greatly different, the things Jasper had done so far proved that what he wanted to do next was not going to be easy for him.

“What is it that’s able to make you so serious? I’m interested,” Old Master Law said warmly.

When Old Master Law said these words, he actually believed that Jasper had probably encountered a difficult opponent and needed to use the power of the Laws to solve the issue.

The old master did not think there was anything wrong with this.

In his opinion, the better a person was, the more enemies they would have. If there were no enemies, it was either that person was invincible, or the person was simply a pile of mud and nobody had any interest in dealing with them.

Old Master Law himself only got to where he was now through dealing with one enemy after another.

He had also lost before. He lost to a trader behind the scenes during the fight between Harbor Stocks and the Western capitalists.

The opponent's advantage was too great and they got a decisive opportunity. If it had been someone else, they might only get a crushing defeat.

However, in Jasper's view, all of those were not reasons for denying failure.

If you lost, you lost. It was fine to admit it.

On the contrary, this would only arouse his fighting spirit.

Old Master Law looked at Jasper deeply and said, "Jasper, don't be too demanding of yourself."

Jasper shook his head and smiled. "No, Old Master, I'm not being demanding with myself. I know very well that there are people better than me out there. It's not shameful to lose once or twice.

"However, I need to get back this reputation whether it's because of my position as a person of Somer descent or my personal point of view."

"Pretty ambitious." Old Master Law smiled and praised.

Jasper chuckled and said, "Being the richest man in Terra is just a mid-term goal. I have a bigger vision. It's just that those things seem to make me look like I'm biting off more than I can chew now."

Old Master Law did not think so. He said in a warm voice, "A person should always have a short, medium, and long-term plan for his life and career whether they're working or have a business in order to make money.

"A life without a plan will have no goals, and it's also the easiest way to get lost and lose your heart. Only by knowing what you want all the time, you can concentrate more on achieving it."

As he said that, Old Master Law looked at Jasper with encouragement and said, "Can you talk to me about your long-term goals?"

“Actually, I’ve asked Zachary to know more about your industry. I found that what you’ve done the most up to this point is investing in the industry. Also, you’re operating in the financial market and you’re not involved in any substantial industries?”

“This kind of approach is somewhat similar to some angel investment funds in the west.”

The old master was the old master indeed. His vision and manner of operating from a strategically advantageous position were really not comparable to that of the general public.

Brad slammed his teacup heavily and spat out that one word in a deep voice.

Ever since coming back from the banquet, Brad’s complexion had not looked good. The servants in the house dared not come close and only stayed away from him.

Erik stood at one side without saying a word.

Actually, he dared not say a word.

He saw with his own eyes how Jasper had echoed with the Laws to savagely mock his father.

At this time, Erik wanted so badly to hide so that his father would not take his anger out on him.

However, it was destined that he would be unable to escape.

“You’re a bit older than Jasper but why are you like a piece of trash when you stand next to him?” The more Brad thought about it, the angrier he became. He pointed at Erik and berated him.

With just a few words, Brad explained clearly the current treacherous situation of Swallow Capital.

No matter which country you were in, the Olympics was a big event.

What was more, it was being held in a country that was in urgent need of improving its international status.

In order to show the greatness of their great country and let people all over the world see their achievements, the Olympics would be the best opportunity to showcase this.

Therefore, this matter became the current major domestic event under global attention.

It was because of this that all aspects of the Olympic Games, from the venue construction to the theme design, would be treated with special care.

At this critical moment, Jasper was able to pull strings and make connections. Then, with the Laws mediating from within, he was able to introduce the top rich families of Harbor City to put in their funds.

This was a great thing since the big shots wanted the Mainland and Harbor City to merge more deeply.

As such, local citizens like the Turners were panicking.

Whether it was the four rich families of Harbor City or other local factions of Swallow City, they all suddenly became enthusiastic about Jasper.

For the next two days, Jasper rushed between various social occasions, most of which he would come back smelling like alcohol.

However, no matter what the occasion, Jasper always kept himself sober and did not get himself drunk.

Otherwise, he would make a laughing stock of himself.

In addition to socializing, Jasper put most of his energy and time on Wendy and Anna.

It was like these two women were magical. It was as if they had discussed with each other to take turns appearing next to Jasper.

As long as Jasper had one of them by his side, the other would never show up.

This situation only ended when Wendy was called back to the province by Dawson.

Chapter 409

After Jasper hung up, Anna saw him slightly knitting his brows together as if he was thinking about some important things.

As such, Anna was sensible and did not speak as to not disturb his thoughts.

She just gently massaged Jasper’s temples while letting him feel as relaxed as he could.

“What do you think about the other three from the four rich families?”

Jasper suddenly opened his eyes and asked Anna.

Anna knitted her black eyebrows together. After a little thought, she said, “To be honest, the relationship between the four families is very complicated. Most of the time, they’re competitors. After all, Harbor City has limited space and there will be overlaps when it comes to their businesses.

“Among the four rich families, the Boyles are steadily deteriorating and their situation is very bad. As such, they’re also eager to find new investment opportunities. But they’re still making some profits because of the rebound in global trade in the shipbuilding industry this year.

As such, Jasper did not doubt Anna when she said that Old Master Law had snatched someone from the altar before.

"Um... I don't think it's too much to fight to the death for that matter," Jasper commented.

"At that time, my grandfather was only a commoner, but Wallace was a son of a rich family. Besides, Grandma and Grandpa really loved each other!" Anna could not help but side with her grandpa. "To me, Grandpa is the real man."

"But I saw Wallace smiling while chatting with the old master?" Jasper asked.

Anna replied, "That's nothing. Wallace personally came to deliver his gifts at Grandpa and Grandma's wedding."

"Heh." Jasper narrowed his eyes and smiled. "Wallace is such a character."

Anna's words raised Jasper's vigilance against Wallace to the highest level in his heart.
