

THE BREAKING POINT OF LOVE

Chapter 601

After fishing for more than half an hour, Jordyn lost interest and was instead completely captivated by the colorful coral reefs.

When she learned they weren't allowed to collect any, she was disappointed for quite a while.

One of the amusement parks on the island was decorated in a strong punk style, which Jordyn loved.

After diving and having dinner, Celeste and Trevor accompanied Jordyn to the amusement park.

After playing a few rides, perhaps because Celeste had been staying with her the whole time, Jordyn tugged at her hand and said, "Mom, do you want to ride the Ferris wheel? Let's ride the Ferris wheel, okay?"

Celeste actually did want to, as once they went up, they could overlook the entire island.

Hearing Jordyn say this, she nodded.

Jordyn then asked, "Dad, are you coming too?"

Trevor glanced at Celeste, then looked toward the Ferris wheel. "Sure."

The lighting and decorations here were all filled with a punk vibe.

As the Ferris wheel slowly rose, the scenery spread out in full view. Jordyn's eyes widened in surprise and excitement as she happily walked around, constantly looking outside.

By contrast, Trevor and Celeste were much quieter.

They also took in the night view of the island, but after a few glances, both withdrew their gaze.

Celeste felt that although most of the lights on the island were on and it looked beautiful, there were hardly any people. The vast amusement park felt like an empty city-too desolate.

After her excitement faded, Jordyn seemed to realize this too. Her smile dimmed slightly as she said, "It would be better if there were more people. With so few people, it feels kind of boring."

Trevor smiled, picked up Jordyn as she leaned into his arms, and said, "After a while, there'll be lots of tourists coming here for vacation. When that happens, it'll be lively. We can come back then."

Only then did Jordyn cheer up. "Okay!"

As she spoke, she stayed in Trevor's arms and reached out for Celeste to hold her. "Mom, you have to come together with us then."

Hearing this, Celeste lowered her eyes and said, "If I have time, I'll come with you."

That's what she said, but she knew that once this island opened to the public, the three of them would never come here together again.

To keep things between her and him from becoming known, Trevor would only agree to let her accompany Jordyn here while the island was still Closed to outsiders. fo

As she was thinking this, she lifted her head and met Trevor's gaze.

She paused. Before she could react, Trevor smiled slightly and suddenly asked her, "What do you think of this place?"

They had spent the entire day

what

accompanying Jordyn. In reality, even when the two of them were facing each other aside from what was necessary, they barely spoke.

She didn't initiate conversation, and although Trevor's attitude toward her seemed gentle, he rarely spoke either.

Celeste didn't know why he was asking. She turned her face away and answered honestly, "It's pretty good. It'll be a great vacation destination."

Hearing this, Trevor said, "If you like it, once it opens, bring more friends over." Celeste didn't respond.

At that moment, the Ferris wheel came to a stop.

Celeste came back to herself. With Jordyn in her arms, she couldn't get up, so Trevor stepped over and took Jordyn from her.

By then, sleepiness had already crept into Jordyn's eyes, but she still remembered how much she'd been looking forward to staying in the underwater villa that night.

She yawned repeatedly yet refused to sleep, stubbornly holding on until they reached the underwater villa before finally giving in.

However, once the family of three arrived at the underwater villa, Jordyn became so excited that she was wide awake instead.

After taking a shower, she lay excitedly on the bed, watching the schools of fish swimming above her head.

Perhaps because he felt it wouldn't be appropriate for them to sleep together, Trevor had the staff arrange a luxury family room. There were two beds placed side by side in the room.

That meant that although she and Trevor were staying in the same room tonight, they would be sleeping in separate beds.

After her shower, Celeste changed into the pajamas she'd brought with her and sat down by the bed where Jordyn was lying.

At that moment, Trevor also came out after showering in the other bathroom. He sat down on the other bed.

Seeing how delighted Jordyn looked, he asked, "You like it that much?"

Jordyn replied enthusiastically, "I do!"

As she spoke, she rolled over to Celeste's side. "Mom, I want to sleep with you."

Celeste replied, "Okay."

In the end, Jordyn really was sleepy. After happily clinging to Celeste for a while, she turned her head and fell asleep.

Celeste tucked the blanket around her. At that moment, Trevor looked over from the other bed and said, "Good night."

Celeste paused for a moment before replying, "Good night."

After that, she lay down beside the bed. Not long after, Trevor turned off the lights, and the room fell into silence.

...

The next day, when Celeste woke up, she was the only one left in the room. It took her a while to fully wake up.

After washing up, she left the underwater villa, and just as she stepped outside, she happened to run into Trevor, who had already taken Jordyn out to play and brought her back.

Trevor looked at her, smiled slightly, and greeted her first. "Morning."

Celeste replied, "...Morning."

Jordyn ran toward her happily with a small bucket in her hand. "Mom! Dad took me to comb the beach early this morning. We caught so much seafood!"

"Really?" Celeste said, rubbing Jordyn's little face.

Feeling that the wind was a bit strong today, she added, "Wasn't it cold going out so early?"

"It was cold when we went out, but it's not cold now."

Celeste was about to say something else when Trevor suddenly asked her, "Have you had breakfast?"

Celeste shook her head.

Trevor took out his phone. "What do you want to eat? I'll have someone send it over."

"It's fine. I'll contact someone myself."

Trevor was just about to make the call. Hearing that, he didn't insist. "Alright."

While Celeste was eating breakfas

Trevor was some distance accompanying Jordyn as they organized her, spoils from the past. two days.

Celeste was watching them when her phone suddenly rang.

It was Matthias.

"What are you doing? Free for lunch?"

Celeste answered honestly, "I'm on vacation. Maybe next time."

"Vacation?"

Hearing that she wasn't free, Matthias didn't mind. But hearing that she was out for fun, he became interested Where did you go? With your family? Was it fun?"

"A private island," Celeste said.

After taking a bite of seafood porridge, she added, "With Jordyn and... Trevor. As for whether it's fun... It's just so-so."

Hearing that, Matthias raised an eyebrow. "You actually went out with them? Left early in the morning?"

Celeste continued, "We came yesterday morning."

Matthias caught on. "So, you took the kid and stayed out overnight together?"

Celeste replied calmly with a soft hum.

Matthias imagined the scene of her and Trevor taking care of a child together, then asked, "How did it feel?"

Celeste said evenly, "It's just the two of us taking the kid out for some fun together. We're minding our own business not crossing each other's lines.

There's nothing much to feel."

She felt that Trevor probably thought the same way.

As parents, they were simply coming together to take care of their child.

Chapter 603

As there weren't many people around, Jordyn felt that she hadn't had enough fun and decided to save some activities for when the island officially opened to the public.

So, that afternoon, around 4:00 pm, they left the island.

By the time they got back to shore, it was already dark.

Trevor turned his head and asked, "What do you want to eat later?"

Jordyn immediately raised her hand. "Anything is fine!"

Then she asked Celeste right away, "Mom, what about you? What do you want to eat?"

Celeste wanted to say that she wouldn't be joining them for dinner, but seeing how happy Jordyn was, she ultimately didn't say it. "Anything is fine for me too."

Hearing that, Trevor said, "Then I'll pick the place?"

Jordyn nodded enthusiastically. "Okay!"

More than an hour later, they arrived at a private dining restaurant.

The restaurant was elegantly decorated, and countless luxury cars were parked at the entrance.

After entering the private room and sitting down to order, Celeste realized that this was an authentic Youtopian-style cuisine restaurant.

Celeste was born in Youtopia. Although she was used to eating all kinds of cuisines, her family's meals had always leaned toward Youtopian-style food.

Trevor handed her the menu. "These are their signature dishes. Want to try them? See if they're authentic?"

Wynn was also from Youtopia.

Unlike Celeste, Wynn had grown up there, so her taste leaned even more heavily toward Youtopian-style cuisine.

Not to mention that both the Lockets and the Shaws were now in Baumond...

Celeste lowered her gaze and looked at the menu he handed her. After a two-second pause, she accepted it and said in a flat tone, "Thank you."

She actually didn't have much of an appetite anymore. So, she casually ordered a few dishes.

After the food was served, Celeste tasted a few bites and found the flavors genuinely good. Still, she didn't eat much.

Jordyn, on the other hand, ate happily. Seeing that Celeste had eaten so little, she asked, "Mom, you don't like it?"

Celeste shook her head. "No, I'm just not very hungry."

Trevor paused, seeming to understand the reason, and didn't say anything.

After more than half an hour, once they finished eating, they prepared to leave. Jordyn was actually very reluctant to part with Celeste.

As they walked out of the private room, she hugged Celeste's leg and said in a muffled voice, "Mom, when will you come back to live at home? You've been staying at Granny's for so long. Are you still not done with work? Can't you work if you live at home?"

Celeste didn't know how to answer for a moment and could only look at Trevor.

Trevor bent down and picked Jordyn up. "It's more convenient for your mom to stay at Granny's place, When she's really finished with her work, she'll come back to live at home."

Jordyn frowned slightly, then said, "Okay."

After that, she reached her arms toward Celeste. "I want Mom to hold me."

Celeste then took her from Trevor's arms.

However, her handbag slipped down from her arm.

Trevor reached out to catch it. "I'll hold it for you."

"No need. It won't fall," Celeste said.

Helping her carry her bag was too intimate. Given their current relationship, it wasn't appropriate.

Hearing that, Trevor didn't insist.

When the elevator arrived, he went in together with her.

As a result, neither of them noticed that just before they entered the elnet elevator a group of pe had also been walking toward kit Conti

When they saw them, they all stopped in their tracks.

Linda clenched her teeth. "It's... It's them. Why is Trev with them again?"

Wynn said nothing.

Ruby forced a smile and said awkwardly, "Celeste is also from Youtopia."
The implication was clear. Trevor had deliberately brought Celeste here to please her.

Chapter 604

This was something Ruby didn't even need to spell out. Wynn and Lilian both understood it.

Linda, however, only realized what Ruby meant several seconds after she spoke.

For a moment, she became even angrier. "T-That's impossible. It has to be just a coincidence."

Ruby didn't speak again right away, but she glanced in Wynn's direction.

Previously, they had all believed that Trevor had deep feelings for Wynn. As long as she contacted him more, she would definitely be able to reconcile with him.

But according to what Ruby knew, Wynn had already taken the initiative to contact Trevor over the past two days, yet Trevor had said he was busy and couldn't get away...

He was too busy to see Wynn, but could make time to have dinner with Celeste...

That being the case, who mattered more to Trevor now, Celeste or Wynn, seemed painfully obvious.

Linda was angry and unwilling to believe it, but she had also thought of this. The more she thought about it, the more unwilling she was to accept it.

She said urgently, "Trev wasn't eating alone with that bitch. How do you know it wasn't Jordyn who wanted to eat together, and he couldn't refuse her, so he had to eat with Celeste? After all, we all know how much Trev dotes on Jordyn."

That was indeed a possibility.

But what they feared was the opposite that Trevor had used Jordyn as an excuse in order to see Celeste.

Lilian and Wynn still didn't say anything.

Lilian's gaze was deep and unreadable, as if she were thinking about something.

...

The next day, Celeste returned to work as usual.

That evening, she attended a banquet with Matthias.

After entering the banquet hall and chatting briefly with the host, they spotted Wynn and the others.

However, Trevor was nowhere to be seen.

Celeste expressionlessly looked away.

Matthias also noticed them and curled his lips. "What bad luck."

They were there that day to discuss a collaboration.

Matthias still had other matters to handle, and this project had always been handled mainly by Celeste.

Seeing her constantly talking business

thoughtfully

People, Matthias

brought her drinkset handed her tissues to pe her mouth.

Wynn, Linda, and the others had noticed Celeste and Matthias the moment they entered the banquet.

Seeing how attentive, considerate, and gentle Matthias was toward Celeste Linda and Ruby both looked displeased. Content bordet

Ruby said sourly, "They look like they're getting along quite well."

"I really don't know what's so good about her."

Seeing Matthias treating Celeste so well, and thinking about how Trevor also seemed to have developed feelings for Celeste again Linda spoke with both jealousy and resentment.

"She may be good-looking, but isn't Wynn prettier than her? More outstanding than her?"

Ruby also felt that her niece was more outstanding.

Wynn listened to their conversation without saying anything.

Lilian didn't speak either.

Just then, Beck arrived.

Ruby and Wynn noticed him immediately.

Because Beck had rejected Linda before, Ruby now felt awkward whenever she saw him.

Linda dared not look directly at Beck. When she saw him, her eyes immediately reddened.

Yet when he appeared, it was impossible not to keep looking at him.

Lilian, on the other hand, remained calm. When she saw Beck, she greeted him gently, as usual. "Beck."

Beck didn't expect them to be there.

He slowed his steps slightly and greeted her, "Mrs. Locket."

After that, he nodded to Wynn. Then, after glancing at Linda and Ruby, he walked toward Celeste.

Chapter 605

Beck was, of course, there that night for Celeste.

When he saw her, his gaze fell on her face, and he said gently, "Long time no see."

They had actually met just last month at a government-hosted conference for corporate representatives. Celeste didn't think it had been that long.

But since he put it that way, she smiled and replied, "Long time no see."

She and Trevor were not officially divorced yet. Seeing that the look on Celeste's face toward him was one that was more than just a business partner, yet not quite that of a friend, Beck lowered his eyes and smiled.

He only talked to her about work matters, and in order not to disturb her too much, he didn't say a single unnecessary word.

Celeste was quite busy. After chatting with Beck for a while, she left with Matthias to speak with other people.

Beck watched her back, his gaze lingering for a long time before he finally looked away.

Celeste remained focused on work and barely paid any attention to Wynn and her companions.

But Wynn and her group had most of their attention fixed on her.

Matthias was currently a highly sought-after, eligible bachelor. There were countless women at the event who wanted to get close to him, but he basically gave none of them the chance, staying almost inseparably by Celeste's side.

Seeing this, Linda and Ruby felt sour inside, yet they had to admit that Matthias truly cared a great deal about Celeste.

Lilian's hand gripping her wine glass tightened slightly, imperceptibly.

When the banquet was about to end, as Celeste and Matthias were leaving, her gaze brushed past Wynn and her group before she indifferently looked away, not sparing them another glance.

But in Linda's eyes, that look was full of contempt and smugness.

Linda was furious. "What does she have to be smug about? Let's see how long she can stay smug!"

Matthias was utterly devoted to her, and Trevor's attention was now also on her. Watching them grow anxious and unsettled because Trevor's heart seemed to be shifting toward Celeste-

How could Celeste not feel smug?

If Wynn failed to win Trevor's heart back, Celeste would only become even more smug.

When they left the banquet, Linda and the rest all looked unhappy.

After returning home, seeing their expressions, Patricia sensed something was wrong. After

vel

happened her

ing whatttle.

heart sank little by little.

Ever since Trevor got together with Wynn, hey had effortlessly obtained things they had spent half a lifetime scheming for and still failed to get.

If Trevor were really taken back by Celeste-

Patricia pressed her lips tightly together.

Previously like Ruby and the others, she had believed Trevor's feelings for Wynn were deep, thinking that as long as Wynn took the initiative a Tittle, there would be no room left för Celeste.

She didn't expect-

Patricia looked at Wynn. "Wynn, when it comes to Trevor... You need to put more effort into it."

She believed that Trevor still had deep feelings for her.

But she also knew that Wynn had been contacting Trevor recently, yet Trevor had kept refusing to see her, citing work.

Continuing to be this passive was extremely unfavorable for them.

How could Wynn not know this?

She clenched her hands tightly.

In fact, she was even more anxious than they were.

The next morning, Wynn appeared at Fleming Group.

At that moment, Trevor was in his office reviewing documents. When he saw her, he paused slightly. "Why are you here?"

Wynn smiled faintly. "It's been a while since I've seen you. I just wanted to come and see you."

After speaking, she glanced at the documents in his hands and asked, "Are you very busy?"

Trevor closed the file and said, "Yes, I have a meeting soon."

Wynn smiled and said, "It's fine. I'll wait for you."