

THE BREAKING POINT OF LOVE

Chapter 668

After saying that, Jordyn noticed that the other lanterns were also cute and beautiful. Carrying her rabbit lantern, she began picking through the other lanterns again.

Celeste didn't say anything.

She accompanied Jordyn while she browsed the lanterns for a while. When she noticed a restroom not far away, she said to Trevor, "Keep an eye on Jo. I'm going to the restroom."

"Okay," Trevor replied.

After Celeste walked away, Trevor looked at Jordyn, who was dazzled by all the lantern choices. He patted her head and said, "Since you like them all so much, why don't you ask Shanice what she thinks?"

Jordyn's eyes lit up. Only then did she remember that she had almost forgotten to video call Shanice.

With Trevor's reminder, she immediately took out her phone and made a video call. Over the past year, Shanice had mostly been living with her grandparents.

She and Jordyn contacted each other occasionally, but they still had a very good relationship.

Shanice's grandparents were very happy that she had a close friend of her own, so every time Jordyn contacted her, they were delighted.

This time was no exception.

When Shanice's grandmother saw that it was Jordyn calling, she quickly handed the phone to Shanice.

Shanice was very happy to see Jordyn contacting her. "Jo, Happy New Year!"

"Happy New Year!" Jordyn held up the little lantern in her hand for her to see.

"Look -what's this?"

"Wow, a rabbit lantern! And there are so many other lanterns too! They're so pretty!"

Seeing all the lanterns behind Jordyn and noticing the lively crowd around her, Shanice's beautiful eyes were filled with envy.

"Jo, did you go out to play?"

"Yep. I'm out with my mom and dad."

As she said that, she moved the phone slightly toward Trevor. Trevor bent down and greeted Shanice.

"Happy New Year, Shanice."

"Happy New Year, Mr. Fleming!"

Jordyn had originally wanted to let Celeste say hello as well, but since Celeste wasn't there, she said, "My mom went to the restroom. When she comes back

let you say hello to her."

"Okay!"

After chatting for a while longer, one of Shanice's elders came to find her, so they quickly ended the call.

After hanging up, Jordyn continued wandering around nearby. By the time Celeste returned a short while later she suddenly remembered that she hadn't introduced Celeste to Shanice.

But very soon, something else caught her attention, and she tugged at Celeste's hand.

"Mom, let's go over there."

"Okay," Celeste said.

Jordyn pulled Celeste along in front while Trevor followed behind.

The three of them strolled outside for almost three hours.

Although Jordyn had plenty of energy, she was still a child after all. By a little past ten at night, she was already getting tired and sleepy.

Seeing that she was worn out, Trevor picked her up.

"If you're tired, let's go back. We can come again next time if you still want."

Nestled in his arms, Jordyn yawned and nodded. "Okay."

Tonight, Celeste and Trevor had mainly come out to accompany Jordyn. They didn't necessarily need to stay out until midnight like everyone else to celebrate the New Year.

Since Jordyn was tired, Celeste also hoped she could go back and rest early.

But before she could say anything, Jordyn tugged at her sleeve from Trevor's arms and looked at her.

"Mom, you're free tonight to come home with us, right?"

After saying that, she yawned again and rubbed her tired eyes.

"Even if you have to cook for Grandma tomorrow, you can go back to Granny's house after you wake up in the morning, right?"

Chapter 669

That was indeed the case.

It was just that...

Celeste lifted her eyes and was about to say something, but when she met Jordyn's hopeful gaze, she found herself unable to say anything at all.

At that moment, Trevor spoke. "Since you have time, come back with us for a while."

"...Alright."

Celeste got into the car with them.

On the way back, Jordyn was very excited. But in the end, she couldn't resist her sleepiness and dozed off just as they were about to arrive home.

The car stopped in the courtyard.

Trevor carried Jordyn out of the car. Celeste remained seated inside for two seconds, watching his figure, before finally getting out as well.

When the housekeeper heard they had returned, he hurried outside to greet them. But when he saw Celeste, surprise flickered in his eyes, followed quickly by delight.

"Mrs. Fleming, you're back."

Celeste paused slightly but did not respond to the form of address. Instead, she said politely, "Sorry for the trouble."

Hearing this, the housekeeper's smile faltered for a moment, and he looked toward Trevor.

While Celeste was exchanging greetings with the housekeeper, Trevor had been standing there holding Jordyn, waiting for her.

"Do you want to go upstairs and rest first?" he asked.

Celeste nodded and followed him upstairs.

Although she didn't look around deliberately, the moment she entered the house, she noticed that everything was exactly the same as when she had left. Nothing seemed to have changed.

Trevor carried Jordyn straight to her room, and Celeste followed him in.

After taking off Jordyn's coat and shoes and tucking her under the blanket, Trevor turned to Celeste, who was standing nearby.

"Sleeping with Jo tonight?"

Celeste nodded silently.

Trevor nodded. "Alright. If you need anything, let me know."

"Okay."

Trevor didn't say anything more and turned to leave Jordyn's room.

There were pajamas in Jordyn's room, so Celeste took a set and went into the bathroom.

After she finished showering and her hair she came out of the her bathroom just in time to see Hannah carrying several items into the room.

Seeing Celeste looking over, Hannah smiled and said, "Mr. Fleming asked me to bring over some of the things you usually use. Your clothes and skincare products are placed here, Mrs. Fleming, if you need anything else, just let me know anytime." Content

"I understand. It's late. Go and rest early."

Hannah left.

Celeste sat down at the dressing table. When she began using the skincare products Hannah had just brought, she noticed that although they were the brand she usually used, they were all brand new and unopened. swnovels

Celeste paused for a moment.

She had just finished her skincare when her phone suddenly chimed several times in a row.

Picking it up, she realized it was already past midnight.

Matthias, Beck, Caleb, Kieran, Theodore, Harold, and others had all sent her New Year greetings.

Seeing the messages, Celeste picked up her phone and replied to them one by one. The moment Beck saw her reply, he immediately sent another message.

"I heard from Trevor that you went out with him and Jo tonight. How was it? Did you have fun?"

Celeste replied, "It was quite fun."

After seeing her response, Caleb, Kieran, Theodore, and the others also sent more messages.

She also sent New Year greetings to Zachary and Lottie.

For the next half hour or so, Celeste stayed busy replying to messages on her phone.

When the conversations had finally died down, another message suddenly came in.

But this time, it was from Trevor in the room next door.

"Happy New Year. Go to bed early. Good night."

Chapter 670

Celeste paused for a moment before replying, "Happy New Year."

She was about to turn off her phone and go to sleep when Matthias sent her another message, asking if she wanted to go with him the next morning to visit Zachary and his wife.

Celeste replied, "Okay."

Only then did she put down her phone and go to sleep.

The villa area was relatively quiet during the New Year period. Without the usual noise of fireworks, Celeste slept soundly until morning.

When she woke up, Jordyn was already awake.

"Mom, Happy New Year!"

Celeste smiled and handed her the gift box she had prepared before leaving the house the day before.

"Happy New Year."

Jordyn was delighted to receive the gift box from Celeste.

After washing up, they went downstairs and discovered that Trevor was already awake and was on the phone.

Seeing them come down, he turned his head toward them and said to the person on the other end of the call, "Alright, Grandma. We'll head back shortly."

After hanging up, he handed the gift box he had prepared to Jordyn.

"Happy New Year."

Jordyn happily accepted it.

"Happy New Year! Thank you, Dad!"

Then she added to Trevor, "Mom gave me a gift box too!"

Trevor smiled and looked toward Celeste.

"Did she?"

After saying that, his gaze lingered on her as he added, "Grandma asked us to go back to the manor."

It was still early. If they headed over to the manor now for breakfast, Celeste would still have time to return to the Rodriguez family afterward.

But Celeste said, "Please help me tell Grandma that I won't be going over."

Hearing that, Trevor didn't try to persuade her.

"Alright."

Jordyn understood that Celeste planned to return to the Rodriguez family home and couldn't help saying, "Mom, I'll go with you."

Trevor ruffled the top of Jordyn's hair.

"Dad already promised your Nana that we'd go back. If you want to visit your Granny, you can go after breakfast."

"...Okay then."

Trevor's gaze fell on Celeste again.

"Leaving now?"

Celeste nodded.

Without another word, Trevor instructed the housekeeper to prepare a car to take her back.

After Celeste got into the car, it soon drove out of Trevor's villa compound.

When Celeste returned to the Rodriguez family home, the family members didn't ask many questions when they saw that she had come back alone.

They had already prepared the ingredients in advance.

After finishing breakfast, Celeste joined Ivan and the others in preparing the meal.

More than two hours later, they finally finished cooking.

After the cooking was done, Celeste received a call from Jordyn, saying that she would come over to the Rodriguez family home a little later.

Recently, Isabelle's condition had been relatively stable. She hadn't had any episodes lately, and she even looked a little healthier than she had at the same time last year.

Seeing that she seemed more energetic than before made Celeste and Betty feel genuinely happy for her.

But when they thought about how she had to spend her days either in the nursing home or the hospital, they still couldn't help feeling sad.

The Rodriguez family chatted with the nursing home director for a while longer. After watching Isabelle finish the food they had prepared, they finally left the facility.

After leaving the nursing home, Celeste greeted the other members of the Rodriguez family and then headed straight to Zachary's house.

Zachary and his wife rarely had time to stay home for the New Year.

By the time she arrived, the entrance to Zachary's villa was already filled with parked cars.

After parking her car, Celeste carried the gifts and entered the house.

The people in the living room all turned to look when they heard the movement.

Before Celeste could clearly see who was inside, Nadine walked toward her with a smile.

"Cece, you're here."
