The Breaking Point of Love

By the next morning, Wynn still hadn't received a single response from Trevor.

During breakfast, when Erin saw Wynn carrying her handbag and seemingly getting ready to go out, she asked, "Wynn, where are you going?"

Everyone looked over.

"To the company."

"Oh. That's good."

As the current CEO of InnovaTech, there was nothing wrong with Wynn paying more attention to the company. It was just that they hoped Wynn would go find Trevor.

After all, even though InnovaTech was certainly worth quite a bit of money, it was nothing compared to Trevor.

But they also knew that Wynn must have had her reasons for not looking for Trevor immediately. They didn't want to pressure her too much.

"Ms. Wynn, you have more than a dozen packages that have been sitting unopened for several days. If you don't open them soon, you might miss the return period..."

"I know. I'll open them when I get back." Wynn's voice was calm.

After breakfast, Wynn sat down and began opening her packages with a blank expression.

She'd bought quite a lot of things, but she couldn't remember what she'd been feeling when she'd placed the orders anymore. She had almost completely forgotten what she'd bought, too.

However, after opening a few packages, she suddenly came across one containing documents. The moment she saw it, she stiffened, and her heart sank.

After hesitating for a moment, she opened it and glanced at the contents. She was completely stunned.

Noticing that something was off with her expression, Lilian looked over. "Wynn? What's wrong?"

Wynn didn't say anything. She simply handed her the documents.

Linda was the first to look over. The moment she saw what was written on them, her face changed. "A-A court ruling?"

Harvey immediately realized what had happened. He came over and took a look.

Sure enough, it was a court ruling freezing InnovaTech's equity.

When Wynn's personal accounts had been frozen earlier, he'd actually wondered whether InnovaTech might be affected as well.

After all, he'd transferred money

Innova Tech's account before, and Wynn had also frequently transferred money to Locket Tech's Technology Division.

Linda didn't really understand what this meant.

But before she could say anything, Wynn said flatly, "I'm going to the company."

No one said a word. They silently watched as she picked up her bag and walked out.

Not long afterward, Wynn arrived at the company. Since Philip's banquet, she'd already come to the company a few times.

Like everyone else, the people at InnovaTech had learned about what had happened between Wynn, Celeste, and Trevor after the banquet.

They had been utterly shocked.

Before this, they had constantly told Celeste that Trevor and Wynn were deeply in love and had a great relationship, Wynn herself had also made no shortage of displays in front of Celeste about how strong her relationship with Trevor was. Content

At that time, they genuinely hadn't thought much of it. They hadn't been able to see the undercurrents between the three of them at all.

Now that Wynn was back at the company, most of the employees were still polite and respectful toward her on the surface.

When Albert saw her, he briefed her on some of the company's affairs.

He repeatedly emphasized that there were still a lot of matters that needed to be dealt with urgently before finally saying, "Ms. Lockenet these matters are all pretty urgent. We need to deal with them as soon as possible, otherwise..." .net

Wynn understood what he was getting at. It wasn't that she didn't want to deal with the problems.

The company's accounts barely had any money left in them to begin with. She simply couldn't come up with that much money right now. Besides...
