

THE BREAKING POINT OF LOVE

Chapter 832

Trevor hummed a response.

After Teagan finished her comment, she fell silent for a while before changing the subject.

After dinner, Tucker sat down beside Trevor. He already knew what had happened at Philip's banquet that night.

Although he'd always heard that Trevor had someone he liked outside the family, it wasn't until that banquet that he learned the person was CC, the race car driver he had always idolized.

It was only then that he understood why Trevor had refused to get him a signed photo of Wynn to put up in his room.

Seeing him sit down beside him, Trevor glanced at him. "What is it?"

Tucker hesitated for a moment before saying, "Trevor, I think Celeste is really great."

He had indeed been a fan of CC before. But after learning that CC and her mother's family were the very people who had hurt Celeste and the Rodriguez family, he couldn't bring himself to like her anymore.

Besides, even if none of that had happened, between Celeste and Wynn, he still preferred Celeste.

So, on the very night he saw the news online, he deleted all of Wynn's contact information and threw away the signed photo.

Trevor glanced at him. "Really?"

"Yeah. I think you and Celeste are the ones who really belong together."

Trevor smiled but said nothing.

Tucker knew that Trevor didn't particularly like other people asking about his private affairs. Since he wasn't responding, Tucker didn't say anything more.

Just as Tucker was about to leave, Trevor suddenly asked, "School's about to start?"

"Ah, yeah."

"Your college entrance exam results were pretty good. Is there anything you want as a gift?"

"No, that's okay..."

"I heard you got your driver's license? How about I get you a car? The one you posted on your social media recently-pick whichever model you want."

Tucker's eyes immediately lit up. He couldn't bring himself to refuse anymore He jumped to his feet and ran upstairs. I'll go get my phone and send you the pictures right now! Thanks, Trevor!"

The brothers rarely talked to each other, so when Queenie saw how couldn't help asking as she watched him disappear upstairs.

excited Tucker suddenly met

"What happened? Why is your brother suddenly so happy?"

"Nothing."

That night, Trevor and Jordyn stayed overnight at the manor. They left together after breakfast the next morning.

Once the car had driven away from the manor, Trevor glanced at Jordyn, who was sitting beside him and pointedly ignoring him.

"School starts in just a few days. If you don't bring up the opening ceremony now and wait another couple of days, your mom might not have time anymore."

Jordyn pursed her little lips. After a long moment, she finally couldn't resist looking at him.

"Mom... Is she going to get really busy?"

"She always has been."

Jordyn fell silent.

Trevor drove her home.

After she got out of the car, he watched her walk away. "I'm going to be home late tonight. Get some rest early."

Jordyn pretended not to hear him and went straight upstairs.

Trevor didn't mind. He told the driver to leave, and the car soon drove out of the compound.

Upstairs, Jordyn picked up her phone and found Celeste's number. She hesitated for a long time before finally giving Celeste a call.

Celeste was just getting ready to head out as well. When she saw the caller ID, she answered. "Jo?"

Hearing her mother pick up, Jordyn said, "Mom, I start school on the first. Do you have time to come to my opening ceremony?"
