

THE BREAKING POINT OF LOVE

Chapter 836

Celeste hummed in acknowledgement.

Matthias understood as well. The reason Celeste wasn't taking the initiative to bring up the divorce at a time like this was actually out of consideration for Martha and Betty.

With that in mind, Matthias changed the subject and suddenly smiled. "I made some inquiries. Not only is Velotra determined to fight the Locket family all the way to the end, but I just heard that they've sued InnovaTech as well."

Celeste was stunned. "They succeeded?"

Matthias nodded. "Yeah. I just heard that InnovaTech's shares have already been frozen."

Celeste wasn't particularly surprised that InnovaTech had been dragged into the mess as well.

After all, given what she knew about the Lockets and Shaws' way of doing things, once they realized that InnovaTech and Locket Tech had promising futures, it was only natural that other people would want to get a piece of the action too.

Under normal circumstances, Matthias and Celeste should have been happy to see both Locket Tech and InnovaTech run into trouble. But...

Even combined, Locket Tech and InnovaTech weren't worth all that much to Trevor. So, even if both companies collapsed, it would only take Trevor a matter of minutes to help the Locket family and Wynn make a comeback.

Thus, while this could technically be considered good news, Matthias hadn't immediately shared it with Celeste when he'd first heard.

Wynn had just left Jordyn's school and stepped into InnovaTech's building when Harvey called her.

"Wynn, word has already gotten out that InnovaTech's shares have been frozen." Wynn's expression changed drastically.

Before she could respond, Albert and people from InnovaTech's finance department came over to find her after having heard that she'd returned to the company.

"Ms. Locket, we just heard some news about the company and wanted to come verify it with you."

Wynn was about to answer when her secretary came over as well. "Ms. Locket; there's a rumour going around that our company's shares have been frozen. Several investors have already cuffed, saying they want to discuss withdrawing their investments with you..."

Once they realised something had happened to the company, the other employees began looking over as well.

Wynn's expression darkened. "Come into my office."

Once they entered Wynn's office, before Albert could even say anything, another investor called, asking to speak with Wynn personally about withdrawing their investment.

Wynn had no choice but to ask the others to leave before answering the call. "Mr. Stoker..."

The man on the other end, Harlan Stoker, cut her off immediately, though his tone remained relatively polite "Ms Locket heard Innovatech's shares have already been frozen for several days Has Mr. Fleming not done anything to help you?"

As an investor in InnovaTech, they had also been closely monitoring the situation with Locket Tech, waiting to see whether Trevor would step in.

Naturally, they also knew that under the circumstances, it wouldn't be easy for Trevor to intervene rashly. And the same was true for InnovaTech.

If Trevor and Wynn's relationship was strong enough, he might choose to give up on helping InnovaTech and Locket Tech for the time being. Later, he could help them make a comeback once the heat died down.

But that would be an entirely different situation.

Besides, no one knew what the future held for Wynn and Trevor's relationship.

All they knew was that if Trevor chose to abandon InnovaTech and Locket Tech this time in order to protect the Fleming family, then for the sake of their own interests, they had no choice but to withdraw their investments. Corftent

The investor's intention to pull out was clear.

Even though Wynn wanted to persuade him to stay, with not even the slightest indication from Trevor, she had no way of holding him back.

After saying what he needed to say, Harlan quickly hung up.

Just then, Wynn's secretary came back into the office. "Ms. Locket, CodeFlux just called as well. They're also asking to withdraw their investment."
