

The Breaking Point of Love

Chapter 861

On the evening after the Harvest Moon Festival holiday ended, Celeste and Matthias were invited to attend a banquet.

In the car, Matthias said, "Trevor will probably be there tonight too."

"Mm, I know," Celeste replied.

"This is the first time you'll be attending the same event as him since Professor Lancaster's banquet. Things might get a little lively tonight."

Celeste hummed another response.

Some people would still be curious at most about what was going on between her and Trevor. They might give her a few extra glances, but she wouldn't let it bother her.

When they arrived at the banquet hall, they had barely exchanged a few words with the host when Philip arrived as well. Neither Celeste nor Matthias had expected him to be there.

Since the incident that night, they hadn't found an opportunity to properly apologise to Philip. Now that he was here, they chatted briefly with a few people nearby before making their way over to him.

"Professor Lancaster."

Seeing them, Philip nodded. "You're here too?"

Celeste said first, "Yes. I'm sorry about what happened that night. I'd originally wanted to invite you to dinner to offer a proper apology, but your assistant told me you were away on a business trip, so we never managed to arrange a time..."

Philip waved a hand dismissively. "It's fine. It's all in the past."

He pursed his lips before adding, "Besides, someone has already come to offer me a formal apology over the matter. You two don't need to dwell on it anymore."

As he spoke, Philip glanced towards the banquet hall entrance, his expression displeased.

The moment Celeste and Matthias heard that someone had already formally apologised to him, they guessed it must have been Trevor.

Seeing Philip's expression, they followed his gaze and sure enough, Trevor was standing at the entrance.

He had arrived with Beck and Miles.

The moment the three men appeared, they immediately attracted the attention of those around them.

"Whenever Mr. Fleming attended events like this before, he'd almost always bring Ms. Locket along. Today, it's just the three of them. Is he still keeping his distance from her?"

"With the Locket family's businesses and InnovaTech in trouble, and Trevor still refusing to help them, maybe they've already broken up."

"It's also possible the Locket family simply wasn't invited. Without Mr. Fleming, they wouldn't have been important enough to receive an invitation in the first place, net

But

look Mr. Fleming is still herewith Mr. Harper and Mr. Quinton, while Ms. Rodriguez is here with Mr. Yoder. Does that mean the marriage between Mr. Fleming and Ms. Rodriguez really is beyond saving?"

"Of course, it is! Have you forgotten how ugly things have become?"

Trevor, Beck and Miles had also spotted Celeste, Matthias and Philip. They headed toward Philip as well after greeting the host.

Seeing that they were approaching to greet him, Matthias took the initiative to say, "Professor Lancaster, we'll let you get on with things for now. We can talk again later."

Philip glanced at Celeste before letting out a sigh and nodding. "Alright. We'll talk later."

Celeste and Matthias then turned and left.

When Trevor saw them leave as soon as he, Beck, and Miles approached, his expression remained unchanged. Miles rubbed his nose awkwardly, while Beck couldn't help glancing in the direction Celeste had gone

Seeing Celeste and Matthias leave just as Trevor and his companions arrived only reinforced everyone's belief that the relationship between Trevor and Celeste had truly deteriorated beyond repair

"They really are acting like they never want to have anything to do with each other again."

"Yeah."
