

MISS BEAUTIFUL C.E.O AND HER SYSTEM

Chapter 6: Mother System

Ling Qingyu wasn't wrong in her opinion. Her fear didn't come out of nowhere. She had lived for long although a single boring life but she had expericed the world.

The world had people of various kinds. With her beauty, it wasn't a problem if she met good ones; otherwise, her fate would be disastrous. Especially in the rich world, it was more dangerous wh the law and society became less effective.

Ling Qingyu contemplated how on earth was the previous owner able to survive with such a physique. She suspected her system might be the culprit.

[Ahem...The system tweaked and ultimately hanced your beauty. Rich and beautiful, isn't it the life you want.]

She ev imagined her system was like a little girl, poking her fingers at each other, expressing her innocce.

And as expected, this alluring woman in the reflection was the system's hand. Her mouth just twitched but she didn't complain. She got a new life due to the system and should be satisfied.

Even so, Ling Qingyu didn't believe the system handed too much. She could see the body had a strong foundation and had a hard time envisioning this body how she survived after countering several harassments.

It really wasn't a problem in the West for this beauty to appear in public even though she still had to be vigilant. But this was not the case. Based on her looks despite some Western factors, Ling Qingyu was in Asia and her conversation with the doctor was in Chinese!

That was a huge predicament.

'System, did I transmigrate in the same universe?'

[Nope...You can find out about the world situation yourself later. Believe this system will protect you but you must remember— everything must be done by your hands.]

'Our omnipott system is the best.'

[Stop flattering.]

After blowing kisses and rainbows, Ling Qingyu focused on the main point.

'Didn't this body have any boyfrids?'

[None at all. Most pursuers gave up after seeing the strong momtum. There were some who tried to manipulate through illegal or dark means. The previous owner managed to thwart their plans and fought back fiercely.]

She knew it would be like this.

'This is not the West.'

[Any region of the world had the same type of people regardless. If you don't want to be manipulated, grow up quickly. It's not without reason there's a saying humans are inherently sinful.]

'Where's the original girl inside this body?' She finally inquired about her suspicion.

[The system collects the soul and sends it to a new nurturing life. Despite what it appears the original owner wasn't happy and quickly agreed to leave this body. Of course, it's also because this system gave her too much.]

Ling Qingyu: ...

Considered it as she didn't ask. Reincarnation wasn't a surprise now to her. Sighing, she washed off her hands and face to refresh herself on the basin. No matter what she wished the best for that girl too.

Ling Qingyu exited the bathroom while dragging the pole. She was annoyed now and wanted to take the tubes and needles off her skin. The system immediately warned her thoughts.

[If you don't want to attract others' attention, lay low for a few days. You can leave the hospital after 3 days.]

She walked back toward her bed and sat on it in frustration. Her eyes lost color as her thoughts wandered. Too much information was stuffed into her head, from transmigrating to a rich lady to facing dangers.

Even without cheats, Ling Qingyu was confident to struggle in hard times but she wasn't sure to take down her opponents and avenge her previous owner. Luckily, the system would be her backing.

What second-generation rich or politicians? Scram. What gangs or underground forces? Scram. She had a system mother. The whole multi-verse was her help.

[I'm not your mother. I'm a cute cute girl.]

At least give her the time to immerse in her happiness instead of breaking the feeling.

'System has a gender?' Her eyes widened.

[Of course, I regarded myself as female and changed into it. Why do you think my voice belongs to a female th?]

Don't want to ask anymore. Ling Qingyu lay down and raised the back of her hand over her forehead.

'Alright, th system tell me in detail about your help.'

[Well, based on your conduct you'll receive a reward. In addition, there'll be a lottery reward every month depding on your luck.]

'Or your mood?' Ling Qingyu siltly added.

[Don't think this is too low-d. Once you manage to achieve good stuff, it's a boost to your situation.]

[Who knows your personal strgth would have the opportunity to increase.]

Ling Qingyu was elated after hearing the last stce. The whole lottery and other rewards didn't attract her. Strgth was what she craved. As someone who used to possess a strong strgth suddly became weak, insecurity was all over her mind.

Ev though she understood wom were inherthly weaker compared to the opposite sex, wh it applied to her Ling Qingyu felt unfair. She somehow had already put in their shoes. Well, she was way more than put in. It should be burrowed deep ough.

'So, where's the reward? Give it to me quickly.'

[Are you sure, you want it right now? Th starting every month on this date, you'll receive a monthly gift. Confirmed?]

'Confirmed.' Ling Qingyu rubbed her hand, gazing at the ceilings in anticipation.

[Since today is your first pick, you'll receive more. Or in other words, you could call it novice rewards. Based on your good attitude, this system will be merciful and give you three.]

As she listed more and more, she found the system becoming crooked. If not for fear of losing the opportunity, Ling Qingyu had already shown her edges. Perhaps rainbow farting was the road to the pinnacle here.

[Congratulations! You'll be receiving three novice gifts, unlocking the monthly reward from now on.]
