Chapter 77: Black Technology

Ling Qingyu shook her head, smiling at Atha's behavior, and almost forgot Atha could see her expression and behavior even if the projection wasn't looking at her.

She could guarantee Atha's vision and existence were everywhere inside the manor but wasn't sure of outside.

She asked for confirmation: "Atha, how large the space you can monitor?"

"This manor and also outside villas. Everything outside of the fence where those trees and bushes prosper, I can't see."

That meant inside Ling Qingyu's belonging of residential area, nothing could be hidden and everything was transformed.

"So, Atha, apart from the power source to absorb sunlight, is there any other transformation?"

"I'm not sure Mom because I couldn't explain everything but as long as I connect to the internet, it would be fine. But according to the data left behind, stated the walls and glass were reinforced and can withstand large caliber bullets and shock-wave damages, including Artillery shells and tanks. I don't know what these meant." Atha's bewildered face lacked confidence.

"What the heck!" Tang Ziyi burst out in exasperation. Atha's words brought shock to the trio. Ling Qingyu's residence had become a fortress.

They had no idea how the reinforced structure stopped artillery and tank shells because the armor system in the current world couldn't.

Atha appeared waiting for them patiently a couple of steps ahead, her head tilted expressing no idea why Mom and her friends were cussing in a good mood.

"Atha, you're my lucky charm." Ling Qingyu smiled at Atha and motioned her to take the lead again.

"I'm glad to make you happy, Mom."

"And the battery power source, if you utilized it at full potential, calculate how long will it last, Atha?" Tang Ziyi asked.

"It'll consume all the power stored in the batteries underground, lasting one day, and will need more days to recharge again," Atha replied with her calculation result.

Not bad, everyone thought as their initial estimation was a week.

However, everyone knew with Atha's black technology, it was a very rare case for such an event to occur. Most likely percent of potential might be the highest if the situation demanded.

Soon, they entered another hall where a container, a size of a truck, lay flat. There were buttons and screens requiring inputs as well as a transport capsule in the middle.

Everyone had a guess—a nano 3D printer and a very big one too.

Its massive scale told others it was more like massive machinery responsible for heavy duty.

Ling Qingyu's trio stood in awe of the printer. Since Ling Qingyu already got the explanation from Miss System, she already knew but she must still listen to Atha in case she missed anything.

Atha explained the same way, relatively similar to things Miss System had told Ling Qingyu. The only exception was the repair of the technologies such as those walls prone to damage outside.

Nanobots would fix everything and add a new layer. There wasn't a need for replacement. It sounded very cool like in sci-fi movies. When Ling Qingyu inquired if Atha was capable, the AI girl denied it, pointing out the reason for her lack of knowledge base.

In addition, Ling Qingyu heard Atha say, there was another autonomous software she couldn't control, responsible for those repairs. It must be another handiwork of Miss System to prevent Ling Qingyu from abusing the world technologies.

"Look there, Mom. The machines which will repair any damages." Atha pointed at something. Ling Qingyu's trio discovered a couple of robotic machines standing idle.

A closed-loop system without any interference from Ling Qingyu's side.

Miss System did everything perfectly. Now the crucial nanotechnologies were far away from her.

"Atha, connect the internet and only study technologies of this planet and its history." Ling Qingyu gave a slight permission.

Atha smiled. "Thank you, Mom. The task is already done. 5 minutes remaining for books and papers that ar't available in electronic format and only in scanned versions." Atha replied with a chick tone.

Tang Ziyi had her mouth wide op, astounded by the incredible speed. Ling Qingyu wt speechless. She just ordered and Atha finished. What's this?

One second. As for five minutes Ling Qingyu could understand. Still, wasn't this too fast? Now Ling Qingyu realized why Tang Ziyi gaped at Atha's specs.

The only one who didn't have too much mtal journey was Xiao Yue, an antique geration. Ignorance is bliss, fully shown in her demeanor.

"What's your technology level now, Atha?" Ling Qingyu inquired.

"Up to the newest level have be studied and archived. The stage is still in theory without experimtal data. I can hack in about minutes to steal those data for our use." Atha spoke, causing Tang Ziyi and Ling Qingyu to have cold sweat on their forehead.

"No, don't hack unless I give permission," Ling Qingyu quickly said. "Atha, you should test out the experimts and store the data. If required, you can tell me, so that I can buy things for you to reverse gineer."

Tang Ziyi beside her had black lines over her forehead and she raised her head, mourning for the world. One was about to hack and steal information and her mother was still proud of reverse-gineering.

As if saying—don't steal using the low-d method, you must steal upfront in a better way.

She had nowhere to complain and nudged her head into Xiao Yue's shoulder, who also hugged her back. Tang Ziyi sniffed the fragrance from Xiao Yue. It was the best medicine to cure her heart attack.

"Yes, mother. I'm just curious for more information." Atha pouted.

"You'll feel better if you achieve something by yourself. Try it if it doesn't work you can tell me anytime." Ling Qingyu comforted her daughter. "Study more. You can roam a in the internet world but don't take everything too seriously. If you ar't clear about something you can report back and ask me, Aunt Tang or Aunt Xiao. Okay?"

Atha became delightful again whenever Ling Qingyu cared for her and nodded. Although Ling Qingyu wanted to lock Atha only in the manor, it was impossible.

Based on a child's mindset, one way or the other, she would take a peek secretly, even if the AI was under strict supervision and wouldn't disobey command.

Could the same properties apply to Atha? Ling Qingyu wasn't willing to risk it.

It was better under Ling Qingyu's monitor to prevent Atha from possessing bad behavior. Currently, Ling Qingyu believed Atha was a good child.

Suddenly, a machinery sound came out from the printer and Ling Qingyu turned her head to see what Atha was doing.

"I'm printing smart glasses for the three of you, Mom." Atha said, noticing the trio's stare. "I can communicate with you through this outside."

The capsule opened and they could see three pairs of glasses. Ling Qingyu, Tang Ziyi and Xiao Yue took each and wore them.

Since their eyes were normal, there wasn't any issue. Listening to Atha's explanation, the glasses could also transform themselves into sunglasses.

Pretty cool though. Honestly.

The glass didn't obstruct the view and its design was suitable for wom.

"You all look stunning." Atha praised. Ling Qingyu had no idea what Atha's beauty bchmarks were. It shouldn't be too bad after connecting to the internet world.

Everybody liked being flattered and Ling Qingyu was no exception.

Her cheap daughter indeed had instinctive charisma.
