Chapter 1 - 37

I can't believe it's been six months since we started college. Things have been going so well too. It's much different than high school that's for sure.

For starters, I have way more friends than I have ever had before. Lila and I get together once a week with a few of our friends from high school. The ones we met in the program I started. We call it our 'Speak The Truth' club.

At first it was only the few of us, but over time it grew. Almost like a whole new program, but for college. Honestly, I think it makes a lot of the freshmen feel safer. You always hear horror stories of frat parties, or predators in college. I'm glad that we can give everyone a safe space to speak their truth.

Lila and I have been talking about putting up posters around the school to invite anyone who wants to come. A few of the other girls that we already knew agreed to help. Since we are all in college, we do get pretty busy. So, we are coming up with plans for us to rotate leadership.

College is a lot different than high school in the way that I do not get bullied in the slightest here. I'm not sure why I was expecting to be either. It's not like anyone here really knows me, and that was the problem in high school. Vanessa and James had put a target on my back, and that was what started the bullying in the first place. Now that I am somewhere completely different, surrounded by people who don't know me, no one cares. Literally no one. You know how adults are always saying that high school isn't a big deal, and how it won't matter once you're done?

Yeah, they were right. Everyone here are more concerned with other things. Mostly with school, obviously. College is a place to take knowledge seriously. At least, for most people.

You have the frat boys that mostly care about partying too. Although, I don't get involved with that mess. I try to stay away.

Like Leo would ever let me go to a frat party, even if I wanted to. And I do not want to. Partying was never my thing. It was different with my boyfriends, but I'm not really into the frat parties they throw here.

One of the girls that comes to Speak The Truth Club told us that one of the senior frat boys invited her to a party last year. It ended up being one of those, who can bring the ugliest girl to the party, parties. How absolutely disgusting that someone can do that.

I remember being so angry when I went home that day. I begged Leo to find out who the guy is so that we could beat him up. All my boyfriends did was laugh at me, and distract me. The distraction was nice though.

Living with my boyfriends has been heaven. Every morning I wake up with all of them. Leo, Oliver, and I walk to school together. We always stop for coffee too.

Oliver and I have a similar schedule, so we are able to eat lunch together every day. Usually Leo is too busy rushing around to join us, but Oli and I pick him up from his building every afternoon. Then we walk home together.

Although, Leo has been having to stay later, and later lately. I know that more is expected from him considering who his father is. Adam also got Leo a TA position with one of his professors. Which takes up a lot of his time. Over the last three weeks Leo has come home after 8 p.m.

Oli's classes have been going great though. Along with my own. I even see that Oli has made friends of his own. Other little computer geeks. None as cute as my schoogems though.

Atlas has been doing great as well. His culinary schooling is going wonderfully. Atlas even makes us all lunches every day, and dinner of course. Usually we are just on our own for breakfast. Except on the weekends.

I can tell that Atlas loves everything about the culinary arts. He comes home so excited every time that he accomplishes something. If he ever fails, he only comes home to practice until he gets it right. I am so proud of him, and so happy that he found something he loves to do.

Milo has been struggling the most out of all of us though. His school is on the opposite side of town from us. At first I thought Milo was just a little upset that he couldn't see us all day. I think that is still partly it, but... I think he is mostly struggling with all the classes.

It seems that schooling to become a doctor is a lot more than Milo anticipated it to be. He is swamped most of the time. Milo also doesn't make it home until late. Not as late as Leo, but usually after 6 p.m. Then Milo works on his homework for hours. Honestly, I'm so proud of him for working so hard. Milo isn't stupid, but he was never one for school work. I see how hard he is working to do well. He even helps out at the hospital his mom works at on the weekends.

I'm proud of all of them, but.. I'm also sad. I feel like we never spend time together anymore. Not all of us anyways. We are all just so busy. I knew that this would happen once we started college. It was most of the reason that we all wanted to move in together. I guess I just thought we would still be spending time together.

"Mil, what are you thinking so hard about?"

I looked up from my notebook to see Lila smiling at me. Right now we are sitting in our only class together. It's our Bio class, my favorite. I look forward to this class every day.

"Nothing." I mumbled as Lila sat down next to me.

"Thinking about the guys again?" Lila asked.

I turned my head to give her a small smile.

"You know me so well." I said.

Before Lila could say anything else, the professor called me.

"Ameilia, could you come here for a second please." Professor Homak asked.

I nodded as I stood up.

Professor Homak is my all time favorite teacher ever. She is a hard ass that takes no shit, smart as all hell, and strict. Although, the professor loves me. I think it's because I take the most interest in this class.

I walked up to Professor Homak, and gave her a smile. There is a boy my age standing next to her that I've never seen before. He's tall, about Leo's height, with dark brown eyes, and dark brown curly hair. The boy gave me a wide smile showing his dimples. I gave him a small smile in return.

"Ameilia, this is my nephew Tristan. He just transferred here. I was wondering if you wouldn't mind tutoring him until he can get caught up. I can't speak for your other subjects, but you are my best student." Professor Homak said.

Tutor this guy? I don't think I have the time.. Or that my boyfriends would like that very much.

"Uhm, I'm honestly not sure if I have a lot of free time.." I said softly.

Professor Homak stared me right in my eyes. Damn, she is intimidating.. Another thing I admire about her.

"If you two can find the time I would appreciate it. These are the kinds of attributes I look for in a TA." The professor said.

My eyes went wide.

"Wait, really?" I asked.

Professor Homak nodded.

"I like you Ameilia, and my TA will be graduating this year. Make a good impression this year, and you could be my youngest TA yet." She said.

My jaw hung open as I thought about what to say. ~~search the website to access~~ chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Uhm, okay, sure. Maybe we can figure something out." I said.

"Good. Tristan, sit with her today, watch how she takes note." Professor Homak said.

I returned to my seat with Tristan in tow. I introduced him to Lila after we sat down. Then I pulled out my past notes to give to Tristan.

"I really appreciate you doing this for me." Tristan whispered to me.

"No problem." I said with a smile.

Tristan looked me up and down, then leaned in closer to me.

"I'm so happy that my tutor is so cute." He said teasingly.

Oh no.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 2

"So, we should probably talk about what works best for you, yeah?" Tristan asked.

Class just ended. Lila and I are packing up to head out. This is our last class for the day.

"Well, I do have plans right no-"

My sentence was interrupted by the vibrating in my pocket. I pulled my phone out to see who's calling me. It's Oli.

"Hey baby." I answered happily.

"Hey angel. Would you be upset if I went out with the guys from the robotics club? They want to show me what they're working on." Oli asked. My face fell.

"Oh, yeah no problem Oli. Leo and I can walk home together." I said.

"Uh.. About that..." Oli trailed off.

Oh no.

"Leo's professor has him doing some things. He sent us all a text saying he would be home late again." Oli told me.

"Oh.." Was all I said.

I hadn't checked my phone because of class. Although, I should have guessed it. This seems to be the new norm for Leo.

"Okay, well I hope you have fun." I said cheerfully.

I don't need any of them worrying about me. As much as I love being around them all, they deserve to have their own lives. Oli has been so happy lately with his new group of friends. I don't want to get in the way of that. "Okay angel. I'll see you later tonight. I love you." Oli said.

"I love you too." I replied.

Then Oli hung up. I held in the sigh I wanted to let out, as I looked up at Tristan. He gave me a wide smile letting his dimples poke out.

"Looks like I have some time right now." I said.

"Great! Should we go back to my dorm room?" Tristan asked.

I narrowed my eyes at him.

"How about the library." I stated.

"Awh, worth a shot." Tristan said.

I turned to face Lila. She has a brow raised at me. Maybe I should invite her. That way Tristan and I aren't alone.

I'm not worried that anything will happen, but I doubt that any of my boyfriends would be happy to see me alone with another boy.

"Lila, you should come with us." I said.

"Kay." She replied.

"Dope. Two hot chicks tutoring me." Tristan said with a wink.

Lila and I exchanged a look while Tristan stood up.

"Listen Tristan-" I started, but was interrupted.

"I

I gotta stop by my dorm room real quick. Can I meet you guys at the library?" Tristan asked.

"Uh, yeah I guess." I said.

"Sweet. See you lovely ladies in a bit." He said before jogging out of the room.

Lila and I shared another look, and then stood up from our table. We walked out of the classroom. The two of us had only made it a few feet before Lila started talking. "He winked at us." She stated.

"Yup." I replied.

"He called us hot chicks." Lila said.

"Mhmm." I hummed out.

"He's flirting with us Mil." She said. Search The Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I guess so." I replied.

Lila whipped her head to me as we continued to walk through campus.

"You guess so? That's all you have to say?" She asked incredulously.

I rolled my eyes at her.

"What do you want me to say Lila?" I asked her.

"Uh, tell him to fuck off. You have four boyfriends that will all kill him if he doesn't keep his eyes to himself." She said.

"And what about you?" I asked her.

"Oh, I will definitely be telling him about Caleb. And to stop flirting with me." She said.

I sighed. "I will do the same, I promise." I told her.

"Why are we tutoring him again? Is that what Professor Homak wanted to talk to you about?" Lila asked.

I nodded.

"Yeah, she said he's her nephew. At first I told her I didn't have the time, but then she pretty much told me that if I can manage this with everything else, I could be her new TA next year." I told Lila. My best friend gasped. Lila stopped to grab my arm. Then she started jumping up and down.

"Oh my god! Millie! That's great news! You know what they say about Professor Homak, and how much of a hard ass she is. They say that she never pays the freshmen attention." Lila said.

I gave her a wide smile.

"I know." I said excitedly. "She said I would be her youngest TA ever."

"That's so exciting!" Lila said equally as giddy.

"Yeah I know." I said as we started walking again. "I just have to be good at managing my time."

"That shouldn't be too hard for ya right?" Lila asked.

"Not with how busy the guys seem to be." I said sadly.

"Awh, still bad?" Lila asked.

I shook my head.

"I won't say bad, because it's wonderful that they are all finding their way, but... Leo and Milo are always coming home so late, just to do homework. Atlas is constantly cooking, and when he isn't, he's working out. And Oli found new friends." I whined out. God, I sound so awful.

"I'm really happy for all of them. I really am. I just miss them. I feel like I see them all separately more than all of us together. And on top of that, I feel like I only see them in the mornings when we are all leaving. I get dropped off at class, then don't see them until late hours." I ranted.

I ran a hand down my face as I groaned.

"I probably sound so awful to you." I said.

"No, not at all." Lila replied. "Caleb and I have our own struggles too. I wish that he could be here. I miss him. I know how you feel a little." She said.

"Oh Lila, I am so sorry. I wasn't even thinking about what you must be going through being so far from Caleb." I said.

"No don't be." Lila said with a wave of her hand. "I just wanted you to know that you aren't alone. Things will smooth out. It might take a few years, but eventually we'll all be out of school right?" She said hopeful.

Yeah, years from now. Although, I don't think that I should say that. Lila is trying to look at the brighter side of things. I should do that too.

"You're right." I said confidently.

"Of course I am." Lila stated.

I rolled my eyes at her again as I giggled.

Lila and I chatted about happier things as we made our way to the library. We picked a random table, and sat down. The two of us started to pull our homework out. I have a huge paper in creative writing class due on Monday, and it is Friday. "Hey ladies, hope you didn't have to wait too long."

Lila and I looked up at the same time to see Tristan sit down. Tristan set down three bottles of iced coffee, and pulled out his chair. He sat down, and pushed the coffees towards us.

"Wasn't sure what you guys like, but I know I need coffee. You two pick first." He said.

Lila happily snatched the caramel one. I reluctantly grabbed the mocha one. Tristan smiled as he took the last one.

"So, where should we get started?" He asked.

"How about with some clarification." Lila said.

Tristan raised a brow at her.

"I have a boyfriend. So cut the flirty shit." Lila stated.

Tristan's eyebrows shot up for a moment. Then his face fell into a smirk. Lila frowned at him.

"Got it." Tristan said. "Guess just flirting with Ameilia then." He said.

My eyes went wide.

"Uh no. I am taken as well." I said.

Tristan kept his smirk.

"That's too bad." He said.

I shrugged at him.

"Anyways, let's go over what subjects you need to catch up on most."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 3

"Okay, so you need catching up in bio, english, and your basic math class. I can help with all of those." I said.

Tristan and I have been going over what he struggles with the most. It's clear that he wasn't the strongest student to begin with. Which is totally fine. I did this kind of stuff in high school all the time. With Leo. Leo..

Man, I really miss them. I should have said no to all of this, and just went home. Even if I couldn't see Oli or Leo, at least I could have seen Atlas. Although, it doesn't seem that any of them really notice that we don't spend much time together anymore.

I know that Oli called me. Leo texted letting us know he's busy too. Milo and Atlas should be home by now though. I never told anyone where I was going, and no one has called or texted me since class ended.

Do they not notice my absence? That can't be right, right? Maybe I'm just over thinking all of this. Lila might have told them where I'm at, or they might have just assumed I was doing something important. Which I am.. I guess.

Tutoring Tristan is going to open a really big door for me. Being Professor Homak's youngest TA would be.. Amazing. And look good on applications in the future.

"Okay, so where should we start?" Tristan asked knocking me from my thoughts.

"Do you have any assignments or tests coming up in your other classes?" I asked.

"Nope. Just the bio test on Monday." He answered.

"Okay, let's start with bio then. We can study for the test. You can keep my notes until you are done copying them." I told him.

"You don't need them to study over the weekend?" He asked.

I shook my head.

"Nah, I'm pretty confident that I'll ace it." I told him.

"Wow, smart and pretty. What a package." Tristan said.

I looked up to give Tristan a bored look.

"I told you to cut it out. I'm happily taken." I reminded him.

Tristan threw his hands up in surrender as he holds a wide smile on his face.

"Hey now, I was just saying. Your boyfriend must be a lucky guy." He said. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I rolled my eyes as I rummaged through my bag.

"Boyfriends." I corrected.

"Huh?" Tristan asked.

Lila snorted beside me. I turned my head to frown at her. She has been silent this entire time, up until now. Not sure what's so funny to her. One of those boyfriends is her twin.

"Here are some blank flash cards. I know that it helps me to have them, but it also helps to make them. It helps the information settle in." I told Tristan.

Yes, I am ignoring his questioning gaze. I'm not ashamed to have four boyfriends. Not anymore. That doesn't mean that Tristan needs to know my business.

Part of me is still kind of freaked out to tell a lot of people. Especially in college. I'm just scared that I will find another James here. Another guy that tries to force himself on me because I give it up to four other guys at once.

Lila and I have been taking that self defense class we talked about last year. I'm confident that I can protect myself in most situations, but still. My past trauma from James is something I still deal with. That's why I carry around pepper spray, and one of those shank looking things on my keys.

"Wait, all of your notes?" Tristan asked incredulously.

"Mhmm." I hummed with a nod.

"But.. you have like five pages of notes." Tristan whined.

I rolled my eyes as I looked up at him.

"Yeah, I know. It's all important." I said.

I turned my attention back to my paper. All I have to do is finishing writing it, then I have to type it, then submit it. All by midnight Sunday. I got this.

After a few minutes the three of us fell into a comfortable silence. Tristan actually worked on the flash cards. I'm a bit surprised. Based off of what I've seen so far, he strikes me as more of a playful type. One that doesn't take school seriously. It's nice to know that he does.

My paper is also coming along. Although, I keep checking my phone. Still no messages from anyone. It's now well past 6 p.m. Milo should be home. I wonder if he even notices that I'm not there.

All of the sudden a phone started to ring. I nearly jumped out of my skin, and scrambled for my phone. Maybe Milo did notice that I'm not home.

I pulled my phone out, but it's blank. I frowned at the screen. Then I heard Lila's voice.

"Hey baby." She whispered. "I'm in the library."

Pause.

"Wait, really?" Lila asked excitedly.

Many people around us shushed her, but Lila doesn't care at all.

"Okay, I'll be right there." Lila said before ending her call.

Tristan and I both looked at Lila as she scrambled to shove all of her belongings in her bag.

"Caleb is in my dorm room waiting for me. He wanted to surprise me." Lila told us.

I smiled brightly at her.

"Oh how exciting!" I said. "Do you want me to walk you to your room?" I asked.

"Nope. I do not want you there when you see me tackle your brother, and start ripping his clothes off." Lila replied.

I scrunched up my face in disgust.

"Gee thanks for that." I grumbled.

"Tomorrow we will come over for dinner so you can see him." She offered.

"Sounds good. Have fun." I said as Lila hurried out of the library.

I giggled as I watched her go. I'm so happy that Lila and Caleb have been making things work. Caleb got his license a couple months ago. He even got a part time job to be able to come see Lila on the weekends. It doesn't happen every weekend, but I am glad they make time for each other.

"Well, now that she's gone..." Tristan trailed off.

Tristan stood up, and walked around the table. He took over Lila's seat, and scooted closer to me. I'm having deja vu, but not in a good way.

I remember when me and the guys would sit in the library in high school. All of the things we did to each other there. I miss them so much. How long has it even been since we've all had sex together?

"Did you have to scoot closer?" I asked slightly annoyed.

"Yes, only because I want you to test me on these now." Tristan said as he handed me the cards.

I gave him a skeptical look. He seems to be serious. Maybe I misjudged Tristan. Perhaps he does care that I am already taken.

"Okay, but just one round. I do have a paper to write." I said.

Tristan and I went a whole round of the flash cards. There are probably 100 of them. Tristan only got about half right, if that.

"Okay, one more time." He said.

"I have a paper to write." I argued.

"Please, just once more." Tristan begged.

"Okay fine."

"Quick question though." Tristan said.

"Hmm?" I hummed out as I shuffled the cards.

"What's your favorite color?" He asked.

I paused as I looked up at Tristan. He has his elbow on the table, with his chin resting on his hand. I raised a brow at him. "Yellow." I answered.

"Makes sense." Tristan said.

I furrowed my brow.

"How?" I asked.

Tristan shrugged.

"It's a bright color, and you have a bright aura about you." He stated simply.

I blushed.

Tristan can see my light too?

"Uhm, okay." I mumbled.

"So, what's your favorite food?" Tristan asked.

"I love all food." I replied.

"A girl with an appetite. I like it." He said.

I rolled my eyes at him.

"Ya know, there's this place downtown that serves the best Mexican food." Tristan said.

"Cool." I replied.

Tristan chuckled. The sound is so deep. Almost as deep as Leo's.

When was the last time I heard Leo's chuckle?

"You really love that boyfriend of yours don't ya?" He asked.

"Of course I do." I said.

"Hmm. Too bad."

I looked up into Tristan's deep brown eyes. His smile captured me. Tristan really is a handsome guy. If I wasn't already taken, I'd probably be into his attention.

If.

"For you maybe." I replied.

"Well, if you guys ever break up, hopefully I'll be the first to know." He said.

Tristan lifted a hand up to my face. I didn't flinch, or move at all. I held my breath to see what he'd do next. Then Tristan tucked some of my hair behind my ear. "You really are a beautiful girl." He said.

I blushed despite myself.

"She is, isn't she? Too fucking bad she's taken."

Uht oh.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 4

"She is, isn't she? Too fg bad she's taken."

Oh no. This is not good. Why did he have to come right at this moment?

Tristan and I both looked up to see an absolutely fuming Leo. His dark green eyes are glaring daggers at Tristan. Leo has on his normal dark jeans, and black V-neck shirt. His hair has grown a little more, and I love the way it curls. Leo even still has his lip ring in. Goddamn he is so sexy. Even fuming right now. All I can think about is how I'll be punished later.

"Leo." I breathed out.

My voice sounds relieved, and I honestly feel that way. Like just having him close is easing all of the worry I've been feeling. Even if Leo is super pissed off right now.

"Ahh, you must be the boyfriend." Tristan said.

Leo raised a brow at him.

"The?" He asked.

Then Tristan stood up to hold his hand out to Leo.

"I'm Tristan. Ameilia is being forced to tutor me." He said with a bright smile.

Leo took Tristan's hand, and shook.

"You don't need to touch her for her to tutor you. Put your hands on my girl again, and we'll have problems." Leo stated dangerously.

I rolled my eyes.

"Leo stop." I whisper yelled at him.

"No, it's not a problem Ameilia. If I saw a guy touching my girl, I'd have an issue with it too." Tristan said.

"Yet, you did it anyways." Leo said.

Tristan chuckled. "Didn't think you were around to see." He said.

Oh no.

"What the hell is that supposed to mean?" Leo asked.

Tristan only shrugged at him.

"Come on Millie, we can walk home together." Leo stated.

I looked at the clock on the wall to see that it's only 7:15 p.m.

"You don't have more work to do? I can always wait for you if you do." I told him.

Leo shook his head, still glaring at Tristan.

"No, I'm ready to go home now." He said.

"Okay." I replied.

I packed up my stuff, and Leo took my bag.

"Thanks for the coffee, Monday I should have a better schedule of when we can get together. See ya." I said to Tristan.

Leo grabbed my hand, and practically drug me out of the library. Then he drug me out of the building altogether. Once we were outside, Leo still didn't stop. I'm struggling to keep up with him. "Leo slow down." I grumbled.

Leo stopped completely. He turned to face me as he let go of my hand. Then I looked up to see that Leo is still fuming. Great.

"What the hell was that back there?" He gritted out.

I frowned. "I was tutoring him. He's Professor Homak's nephew, and guess what. She said that-"

"I don't fucking mean that Millie." Leo interrupted me to say. "Why the fk was he so close to you? Or touching you at all?" He asked.

I rolled my eyes.

"It was nothing Leo. He's a little bit flirty, but I told him that I'm taken." I said.

"He's flirty? And you still thought it was okay to be alone with him? Did you learn nothing from James?" Leo seethed.

I took a step back from him. Leo's words were like a slap in my face. I can't believe he said that to me. Knowing how much what James did still affects me.

"Lila was with us until about 20 minutes before you came, but by all means, continue you on with how much of an idiot I am." I stated angrily.

"Millie, that's not-"

"Leo!" Someone called out interrupting him.

We both looked up to see a girl running towards us. She has long bleach blonde hair up in a high ponytail. The girl is curvey in the best way. As she got closer, I can make out bright blue eyes, and that she is tall. Taller than me, and all legs. The girl stopped beside Leo. She put her hand on his shoulder, and turned her body to him. The girl is practically standing between us, completely ignoring me.

"We didn't finish all of the work the professor gave us. I thought you were just going to get us coffee." She said.

Wait, what? Leo never said that he was working with anyone other than the professor. He's been working all these late nights with this girl?

"I was on my way to get it when I found my girlfriend." Leo stated.

"Girlfriend? Oh. I didn't know you were taken." She said.

My eyes went wide. My heart panged, and my gut twisted. I feel like I'm going to be sick.

Leo didn't tell her about me? He's been working late every single night for almost a month straight. With another girl that I don't know. And he never even mentioned me?

"Pretty sure I've told you about her before Teresa." Leo said sounding bored.

Teresa giggled.

"Nooo, I'm pretty sure I would remember if you were taken." She said. "Anyways, we have work to finish."

"Right, let me just walk Millie to the bus stop, and I'll come back." Leo told Teresa.

For the first time the girl acknowledged me. She turned, and put her hand over her mouth. Then she gave me the fakest smile I've ever seen. This girl would give Milinda and Vanessa a run for their money with this fake sweet shit. "Oh wow, I didn't even see you there. You just blend right in with your surroundings don't ya?" Teresa giggled. S~earch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

What the hell is that supposed to mean.

"Well, hurry back Leo." She said.

Teresa patted Leo's shoulder, and skipped away. She turned her head back to smirk at me. What the hell?

"Come on Millie." Leo ordered.

Leo reached for my hand, but I pulled it back before he could grab me. He turned another angry expression to me, and I returned it this time. I reached to Leo's other hand, and snatched my bag.

"I will walk myself home." I stated as I tried to keep my voice from shaking.

"No, I will be making sure you at least get to the bus stop safely." Leo argued.

"For what?" I snapped. "You don't care if I make it home safe any other day."

"Millie, don't be like that." Leo said annoyed.

I shook my head.

"Whatever Leo. Just go back to your 'important work'. I'll be fine on my own. Just like I am every single day without you. While you stay here, with another girl." I stated.

I know I sound like a brat. I know that I sound jealous. I know that we have went through the jealousy time an time again.

This is different though. Leo never told me that he was spending his evenings with another girl. He didn't even tell her about me, or our others probably. Leo has been spending more time with her than us. Teresa clearly has a thing for him, and he didn't even mention us to her at all. "You're sounding jealous Millie." Leo said bored.

And his tone. Annoyed, bored. Why is he being so cold to me? Leo has always been stern with me, bossy even, but never brushed me off before.

"I am jealous!" I shouted at him.

Tears are filling my eyes.

"I just found you in the library with another guy. You let him put his hands all over you. You don't get the right to be upset with me Ameilia." Leo seethed.

I just stared up at him with my mouth open. Is he accusing me of something? And how do I not have the right to be angry with him regardless?

I shook my head as I slung my bag over my shoulder. I'm desperately trying to hold back my tears. I can't believe this is happening.

"I'm walking you to the bus stop." Leo stated.

I glared at him through the teary eyes.

"Only if you come home with me right now." I said.

"No Millie, I have work to finish." He said.

"Then stay here." I said sternly.

"Excuse me? You giving orders now?" Leo asked angrily.

This is all going so badly..

I looked up at Leo as the tears began to fall. He doesn't even look like he cares in the slightest. My chest feels so tight.

"If you're just going to leave me for another girl anyways, then just stay here. I don't need you any other day, and I sure as hell don't need you now. So, you can either come with me, home, or you can stay." I stated.

Leo's deep green eyes bore into me. He just stared at me for a moment. Maybe he's trying to think of what to say to Teresa about leaving early.

"I have work to do Millie." Leo stated stoically.

My heart dropped. I stared into Leo's eyes as my bottom lip trembled. Leo reached out for me, but I turned away.

"I told Tristan about you at least." I said.

With that, I marched towards the bus stop as tears rolled down my cheeks.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 5

I marched my way to the bus stop as silent tears fell from my eyes. When I had made it a few feet away, I looked behind me. Leo is no longer standing there. Which just made my heart hurt worse.

I can't believe that Leo really didn't come after me. Especially after that Teresa girl. What a fg ae. Maybe he just needed to go tell his professor he has to leave.

I made it to the bus stop, and waited extra long. I let two buses stop, and go before I finally got on one. I just wanted to see if Leo was going to run after me, but... Guess that Teresa girl means more to him than I do.

Maybe I'm just being selfish. This is Leo's future. He has extra pressure on him because of who his father is. I'm sure it's been difficult for him. Maybe I should try to get us all together tomorrow. We can go on a real date. Maybe to a movie, or a walk in the park.

Although, I'm not sure right now. I can't believe that Leo didn't tell that girl he's in a relationship. That's the biggest problem to me. I told Tristan.

That girl acted like I wasn't even there, and Leo wasn't jumping to introduce me either. Leo only mentioned who I was after I had been standing there. Teresa made it clear that she had no idea he was taken.

Has she been flitting with Leo during all the time they spend together? Are there others there with them too? That would make me feel slightly better.

Ugh, what does it even matter? Leo didn't tell her about me. He didn't come home with me tonight. Leo didn't even come after me when I stormed off crying.

Maybe life is taking us all in separate directions now. I knew the chances of this happening were high. I mean, five of us in a relationship? Please.

I knew all of this was way too good to be true. Everyone is too busy to spend time together now. They all seem so happy with their lives right now too. How can I even be upset with them?

Does that make me a bad girlfriend? To be so upset that they found their paths in life? What should I even do?

Mom told me that communication is key, but I can barely ever get a chance to talk to them. Maybe I should try harder. That's what I'll do. I'll make an opportunity, and talk to them.

My phone started to ring pulling me out of my thoughts. Maybe it's Leo. I looked at the screen to see it's Oli. Well, at least it's one of them.

"Hey Oli." I answered.

I hope my voice doesn't give away that I've been crying.

"Hey baby." Oli said.

There is a lot of noise going on in the background.

"Oli, where are you?" I asked.

"The guys invited me back to their house. It's just the guys that live here, and me. I started drinking though, so I think I'm going to stay the night here." He said. "What?" I asked.

Oli isn't coming home at all?

"I'll be home bright and early baby, you won't even notice I was gone." He said.

"But.."

"Oli, come on. We're gonna play a drinking game." I heard a guy say in the background.

"Sorry baby, I'll see you tomorrow." Oli said.

"Wait, Oli I wanted to-"

"Love you angel." He said.

Then he ended the call.

I stared at my phone as more tears filled my eyes. Oliver hasn't spent one night away from me since we all moved in together. None of us have spent a night apart.

A numbness washed over me as the bus came to my stop. I walked off of the bus, and started down the street. Everything feels numb.

All of this is falling apart. None of us really talk anymore. Leo and I are fighting. Oli is spending nights away from us. I don't want to lose them. I... can't. I love them too much.

I can't give up. It's just a bad day. Just a small fight with Leo. Just one night without Oli. It's not the end of the world. Maybe I can talk to Milo and Atlas tonight. Then they can help me talk with Oli and Leo.

I made my way up to my apartment. Once I made it inside I was greeted with the smell of something sweet baking. I made my way to the kitchen to see Atlas pulling a pie out of the oven.

"Hey teddy bear." I greeted.

"Hey babygirl." Atlas said without looking at me.

"D-did you have a good day today?" I asked.

"Yeah. A bit stressful, but it was alright." He said.

Did he not even notice that I'm getting home so late?

"Uhm, is Milo here?" I asked. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Yeah, he's back in his office doing some homework." Atlas told me.

"Okay." I said.

I watched Atlas run around the kitchen as I twiddled my fingers. Atlas still hasn't looked at me. He's covered in flour, making him look even cuter than usual.

Atlas looks exactly the same. Styled dark brown hair, those bright blue eyes, and built like a damn professional sports player. He still gives me those lopsided smiles, but lately I see them less and less often. "Uh, would you maybe want to watch a movie? I was going to go ask Milo too." I said.

"Yeah babygirl that sounds good." He said.

I beamed.

"Great, let me go get Milo." I said.

I shuffled down the hall until I got to the room where Milo set up an office. I walked in to see him sitting at a desk with a few different books out. Milo has a pen in his mouth as he focus's on his work.

Milo cut his hair off a couple of months ago. It's starting to grow out again though. He's also skipped a few days of shaving, giving him some thick stubble. Milo looks less playful these days. I miss that side of him. "Hey baby." I said as I walked through the room.

Milo's deep blue eyes flickered up to me for a moment.

"Hey cupcake, how was your day?" He asked.

My heart fluttered.

"It was alright. I started to tutor this new freshmen. He's Professor Homak's nephew." I told Milo.

"Hmmm." He replied.

"His name is Tristan. He's kind of flirty. Leo found us in the library." I said.

"That's cool." Milo replied.

I frowned.

"Yeah, Leo was pretty mad when he found us fg on the desk in the library." I said.

"That's great baby." Milo mumbled.

I just stared at Milo. He isn't listening at all. I just told him that I was found fucking someone else, and he doesn't care at all. It was a lie, but still.

I sighed.

"Milo, why don't you take a break. Come watch a movie with Atlas and me." I suggested.

Milo didn't reply.

"Milo?" I asked.

Milo sighed. He set his pen down, and looked up at me. There is annoyance in his expression.

"I'm sorry Millie. I just had a ton of homework, and two tests on Monday. I need some time alone to study." He said.

I tried to swallow the hurt.

"Maybe I can help you." I offered with a smile.

Milo shook his head as he turned back to his work.

"You would only be a distraction, and I need to focus right now." He said dismissively.

"Oh, uh, okay. L-let me know if you change your mind. G-good luck." I said awkwardly.

"Thanks baby." Milo muttered.

I quietly left the room. Shutting the door behind me, I leaned against it. Tears filled my eyes once more. This is turning into a disaster. At least I have one of them still though. Atlas will help me feel better. I swallowed down my tears, and made my way back to the kitchen.

"Looks like it's just you and I teddy bear." I said.

"Right now?" Atlas asked.

I looked up to see him on the phone.

"Oh, uh, ye-yeah. I'll be right there." He said.

Atlas shoved his phone in his pocket, and excitedly grabbed me by the shoulders.

"That was my teacher. He said that one of his cooks got sick, and they have some important customers coming to his restaurant tonight. He wants me to come help out." Atlas told me.

I beamed at him.

"That's great Atlas!" I said.

"I know! I have to go right now though. I will text you when I leave the restaurant though." He said, and then kissed the top of my head.

Atlas gathered up all of the things he'll need, and walked to the door.

"Good luck. Let me know how it goes. You got this baby." I said confidently.

Atlas pressed a kiss to my lips as we stand in the doorway.

"Thanks babygirl. Enjoy the pie I made. See you later." Atlas said.

Then he shut the door.

"I love you.."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 6

After Atlas left, I went back to our bedroom. I paused at the room that Milo is in for a moment. I thought about storming in. Telling him that I need some sort of attention from at least one of them, but...

I just can't bring myself to do it. I can't bring myself to be that selfish. Not after all they have done for me. I just need to suck up this lonely feeling for now. I can always talk to them tomorrow. It's just one night. I went to our bedroom, and took a shower. I took my sweet time, soaking in the hot water. When I got out, I dressed in one of Atlas's T-shirts.

I lay on the bed for a few minutes feeling bored out of my mind. I haven't been alone in months. I like not being along. With that thought, I decided to check on Milo again.

"Hey Milo, you hungry?" I asked once I entered the room.

"No thanks." Milo replied.

"Awh, come on. Your brain needs food. You'll burn out if you don't take a break anyways." I tried.

Milo sighed exasperated.

"Millie, I already told you that I need to finish this. I just have too much to do right now." He said sounding annoyed.

My face fell as my heart sunk. Milo is never annoyed with me. Hell, I could probably count on one hand the amount of times I've heard Milo annoyed. He's usually so carefree. "Sorry for bothering you.." I said sadly.

"It's fine, just give me some space." Milo replied without looking at me.

I gave him one nod, not that he can see it. Then I walked out of the room, closing the door behind me. I went back to our bedroom, and sat on our bed.

Tears streamed down my face. I can't believe that Milo practically agreed to me bothering him. Am I really just a bother to all of them? Should I be giving them all space? Maybe I've been too clingy?

It seemed that way with Leo earlier too. Maybe I'm expecting too much from them. I should give them all some space. Maybe then they'll miss me too.

I crawled under the covers as I flipped through snapchat on my phone. Oli has a few pictures up of his night. He looks like he's having fun.

I decided to open our group text.

Me: Hey guys, I hope you are having a good night.

I waited for ten minutes. No reply. I sighed as I went back to flipping through my socials. About 20 minutes later Oli posted on his story again. I still haven't gotten a text back from any of them. That kind of hurts..

When 9 p.m. rolled around, I started to get excited. Leo should be home any minute. Even if he is still mad at me, at least I'll have him here. Maybe he can punish me as soon as he gets back.

Geez, how long has it been since I fucked any of them? We've all been so busy lately. Milo and Leo don't get done with their work until really late. They're so tired after that I try not to press it. Oliver and Atlas still make sure to give me attention though. Maybe I should wait in something a bit sexier. That might put Leo in a better mood. I got up from our bed to slip into a black silk nightie. Then I crawled back into bed without the covers though.

A half an hour later, and Leo still hasn't come home. He's never been home this late. Maybe I should call him.

I pulled my phone out to make the call.

"Leo's phone." A female voice answered.

Is this Teresa? Why does she have Leo's phone? Where is Leo?

"Uh, where the hell is Leo?" I asked rather snarkily.

"Oh, uh, he's a bit busy right now. Can I take a message?" She asked.

"No, you can give my boyfriend his phone back." I stated.

Who the hell does this chick think she is?

"Sorry, can't. As I said, he's busy." She replied cheerfully.

"Doing what?" I asked incredulously.

"Teresa! Why do you have my phone?" I heard Leo ask in the background.

Leo sounds mad. Good, he fg should be. Maybe he should stop leaving his phone laying around.

"Oh sorry Leo, I just saw the call, and picked it up for you." She said.

"I told you to stop snooping through my things." Leo told her.

Just how many of his things has she snooped through?

"Awh, I'm sorry Leo. I know I've been a bad girl." Teresa said seductively.

What the hell is going on right now?

"Whatever." Was all Leo said.

My chest feels tight. That's all he's going to say to her? She's so clearly flirting with him, and it seems like she knows what he likes. But.. that wouldn't be possible.. right?

I don't understand what's happening anymore. I thought they were all just busy. Was I wrong? Are we all drifting away? Am I being cheated on?

Leo spends more time with some bimbo that clearly has the hots for him, then he does with any of us. Atlas is so wrapped up in his culinary abilities that I'm practically invisible to him. Oliver has made so many new friends it's almost like he forgot all about me too. Even Milo is so focused on his school work that I'm nothing but a nuisance to him now.

"Hello? Millie are you there?" Leo's voice rang through to my ear knocking me from my thoughts.

I opened my mouth, but no words came out.

What am I supposed to say? Do I throw a fit, and put Leo in a position where he feels he has to chose between me or his education? Do I act like everything is okay? I don't know what to do anymore. "Millie?"

When's the last time I even heard them call me by my nicknames? Other than Atlas and Oliver. Milo barely speaks to me at all. Leo calls me by my name more than anything lately. "Princess?" Leo sounds so much softer now.

I sniffled at his word. I didn't even realize I was crying before. Oh god, I am such a fg mess.

"Awh you call her princess too?" I heard Teresa ask.

"Too?" I squeaked out.

"Teresa, get the fuck out of here." Leo growled out.

He.. calls her princess too..?

"Baby are you still there? I can hear you crying." Leo said.

"Awh, poor princess." Teresa giggled in the background.

"Teresa!" Leo gritted out much angrier.

"Fine fine, I'll drop it." She replied.

Leo sighed through the line.

"Baby, what's the matter? Is this because I didn't follow you? I'm sorry, but I have other things to do. You know how important all of this is." He said.

This is really happening. We are all pulling away from each other. Everyone except me. I'm being left behind.

"You're really going to throw a fit over this princess?" Leo asked annoyed.

I moved the phone away from my mouth as I sniffled again. I cleared my throat, and wiped my eyes. Then I took a deep breath.

"S-sorry. E-e-everything i-is good. I-I-I didn't m-mean to bother you." I said with a forced laugh. "I-I-I was j-just wondering if y-you were gonna be home soon. A-Atlas m-made this p-pie, an-and-"

"Leo come on, you promised to have a drink with us tonight." Teresa interrupted me from the background.

"I'll be right there." I heard Leo say.

He will?

"Listen Millie, I don't want any of Atlas's pie. Eat it all baby. I'll see you in a few hours." Leo told me.

"You.. You're going to go out? With Teresa?" I asked trying to sound normal.

"Just for one drink baby." Leo said.

"O-o-okay. Th-that acutally w-works s-s-so m-much better for me." I said,

"Millie-" Leo tried, but I just can't take it.

"E-enjoy y-your n-n-night Leo." I said.

God, all of this stuttering.. I probably sound like the worlds biggest idiot. Part of me hopes that Leo doesn't pick up on it, but let's face it. It's Leo.

"I will baby. See you later." Leo said, and then ended the call.

"I.. love you.." I whispered to no one at all.

I lay down, and pulled the covers over me. I buried my face into a pillow as sobs took over my body. They're all finding themselves, and leaving me behind.

I sobbed for literal hours. At one point I tried to call Oli. He didn't answer, but he did keep posting on his snap chat. At 1 a.m. I tried to call Atlas. He didn't answer either, or text me back. After that I took Milo a fresh cup of coffee. He barely acknowledged my existence. Around 2 a.m. I lay back in bed. I snuggled into the blankets as more tears fell from my eyes. Everything is wrong right now. My heart hurts. I feel so... insignificant.

Is this the end of their love for me?

Those thoughts circled my head as I lay there. Tears continued to stream down my face silently. Eventually, sleep took me.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 7

Leo's P.O.V.

Things have been stressful over the last month. Thanks to my dad, I am part of a personal program run by my professor. It's essentially the same thing as what you see in legally blonde. Do not ask me how I know that movie.

Anyways, a select few of us from class are in charge of helping out with a case. Unfortunatley, it's a long case, with a lot of information to go through. I've been spending every day with the group going over the case.

There are 12 of us in the group. I don't remember everyone's names though. Only three of them really stick out to me. Debbie, who is an extremely intimidating woman. She's only a junior here, and I admire her greatly. Debbie is ridiculously smart, and very out spoken.

Then there is Devon. He reminds me a lot of Milo in that carefree way. Devon is also extremely smart. He's observant, and seems to pick up on things that other's overlook. I'm sure that's what got him noticed by Professor Knight. Lastly, is Eli. Eli is the quiet type like me. He's brooding, and intimidating. Although, he's not as much of a grip as me. Eli is, of course, extremely smart as well. SEar*ch the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

If you ask me, they are the top three in this group. The others are smart, but don't apply themselves enough. I think they will be great lawyers, but they have nothing on the four of us.

Then you have Teresa. I only know her name because she's practically been glued to me since my first day. I don't know how many times I've told her that I'm taken. I even told her that I have a girlfriend, and three boyfriends. Stupid girl doesn't care at all. Devon has tried to pull her off of me several times. It worked for a while. I even thought maybe they would start dating. But no. They just f*d, and now Teresa is right back to being glued to me. Debbie has openly shown her disgust to Teresa over the way she acts around me. She tells Teresa all the time to respect my relationship. Which is why I got so pissed off when Teresa showed up while I was with Millie. Teresa just had to say some dumb shit about not knowing I have a girlfriend in front of Millie. I could see the doubt in my princess's eyes. The way that Millie walked away from me though..

I can't get that look on her face out of my mind. Millie hasn't looked that sad in so long. I know that I've not been around a lot lately, but Millie knows the pressure I have on me. I figured I would make it up to her later.

Then she called, and that stupid bimbo answered my phone. I told Teresa several times to stop going through my stuff. I've already caught her deleting texts from Millie before I see them.

I think that might be why Teresa said all of that shit about being a bad girl, and being called princess. Stupid bitch was trying to role Millie up. I don't know why else she would say those things. Which is why I didn't tell Millie about her in the first place. You think I would have learned my lesson after Holly, but I guess not. Now Millie has doubts in her head. I could tell by the stuttering in her voice on the phone. I need to have this one drink, and get back to her. I will spend the rest of the weekend making it up to her.

"Oh, finally done with your call I see." Teresa said from behind me.

I turned to glare at her.

"If you do not respect the fact that I am in a relationship, I will report you to Professor Knight. I'm not going to play your little games, and I have told you more than once to back the fuck off." I stated.

Teresa gave me a fake pout. I don't intimidate her in the slightest. It's annoying. This is all some big game to her. "Awh, don't be like that Leo." She said.

I pushed past her to join the others. They have all been begging me to go out with them for weeks. I always deny them because the weekends are the only times I get with Millie. I feel terrible that I haven't had much time for her lately, but my excuses ran out. I promised earlier this week that I would have a drink with them tonight. I just.. forgot to tell Millie.

That's fine though. She has our others. Oliver didn't walk her home, but he should be there now. Same with Milo, and Atlas. Millie said Atlas baked a pie, I bet she's loving that.

"Bout time you made it." Debbie said once I entered the bar.

"Here, have beer." Devon said as he slid a beer my way.

This is the only way I can drink considering I'm not 21. Not that the bars around here seem to care all that much. Guess that makes a bit of sense, being so close to a college. "Glad you could finally come out." Devon said as he threw his arm around me.

"I'm only staying for one drink." I said.

"Awwhh come on." Devon whined.

"He has to get back to his boyfriends, and his smoking hot girlfriend." Eli teased.

I narrowed my eyes at him.

"How do you know what my girlfriend looks like?" I asked him.

Eli smirked at me. "Saw you talking to her earlier." He said.

"Oh, you mean when he was dragging her around campus?" Devon teased.

"Or when Teresa made a complete fool out of herself trying to interrupt them?" Debbie added.

Did everyone see that?

We all looked down to see Teresa flirting with some random guy in the bar. All of us turned back to each other, and busted out in laughter. I really like these few. It's kind of nice having more friends.

"Last call!" The bartender called out.

"Last call? Shit. I gotta go." I said as I rushed to the door.

"Wait Leo, let me go home with you." Teresa said.

I turned to give her wide eyes.

"Shut up Teresa." I slurred.

Shit, I had way too much to drink.

"Come on, you're too drunk to walk alone." She said.

"I'll walk him home." Eli said coming up beside us.

"I can handle it." Teresa argued.

Eli shook his head.

"Face it Teresa, Leo is taken. Not for you. Give it up. You're looking desperate." He said.

With that, Eli grabbed my arm, and drug me out of the bar. We walked all the way back to my apartment. Which took us a bit of time. Time enough for me to sober up.

"Millie is going to kill me." I mumbled as we reached my complex.

Eli chuckled. "Better make it up to her. A smoking hot girl like that will get snatched up quick." He said.

I glared at him.

"She is mine." I stated.

"Chill killer. I was just saying." He said.

"Yeah, well.. I do need to make more time for her." I said.

"Maybe you should bring her around some. Ya know, show her off to all of us. Make her feel good, make Teresa back off a bit." Eli suggested.

"That's.. not a bad idea." I said.

Eli gave me a nod.

"Well, goodnight." He replied.

I made my way up to my apartment. Flicking the lights on I see that a few pairs of shoes are missing from our entry way. I walked through the apartment to find Atlas's pie sitting on the top of the stove, untouched. Millie didn't eat it?

Making my way down the hall, I found Milo asleep at his desk. His hand clutching an empty cup. I pulled a blanket over Milo for now. I'll come back for him in just a moment. After I check on Millie.

I made it to our bedroom to find Millie alone in bed. Why is she alone? Where the hell are our others?

Millie is clutching her phone. There are tear stains down her cheeks. I knew she had been crying. I should have came straight home, or asked her to come out with us. I'm such a fucking idiot.

I grabbed Millie's phone out of her hand, and started to go through it. Seems that she was on snapchat. I can see that both Oli, and Atlas have posted on their stories, but I have no idea where they are. When I went to the text's I see that no one replied to Millie either.

That means.. Our girl cried herself to sleep. All alone. Probably thinking none of us love her anymore.

Where the hell are Atlas and Oli? They should be here with our girl. We all should have been here. Milo included.

I sighed as I brushed some of Millie's hair from her face.

"I'm gonna make it up to you baby. I promise."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 8

I woke up the next morning feeling groggy. I don't want to move. I don't think anyone came to bed with me last night.

At least, I thought that, until an arm slung around my waist. I was pulled back against a hard chest. My heart fluttered as my eyes opened slowly. I rolled over in the arm that is around me. To come face to face with Leo. Leo has his deep green eyes wide open. A small smile touched his lips. I smiled back at him. He came back. Apparently, he is the only one though, since our bed is empty.

"Good morning princess." Leo said with his gruff morning voice.

"Good morning." I said softly.

Leo brushed some hair out of my face. I tried to keep my smile, but I'm having a hard time. No one else came to bed with us. Milo probably stayed in his office all night. Oli stayed out. I don't even know what happened to Atlas. "What's wrong princess?" Leo asked.

I shook my head as I plastered on a fake smile. S~earch the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Nothing. I'm glad you made it home safely. I-I-I hope you had fun." I said.

I want to mean that. I really do, but... I don't mean it at all. I want Leo to tell me it was the worst night of his life. To tell me that he wishes he would have just came home. To me.

"It was alright. I'm sorry I stayed out much later than I thought. I'd been putting it off for a while, so the other's got excited that I finally made it out." Leo told me.

"Yeah, I bet Teresa was thrilled." I grumbled.

"I couldn't give a shit less how Teresa feels." Leo told me.

I wish I believed him.

All I can do is shrug in response.

"Don't believe me huh?" Leo called me out.

"It's not like you told her you had a girlfriend or anything. Or told me that you've been staying late with her every single day for the last month." I said.

Leo pulled me even closer to him, and kissed the tip of my nose.

"I did tell her. In fact, I told her about all of you. Teresa, and the rest of the 11 people in this program." He said.

My eyes went wide.

"There are 12 of you?" I asked.

I didn't know that.

Leo sighed. "I know that I didn't tell you. I was just trying to balance everything, but I should have still told you. I'm sorry I made you think you weren't important to me princess." He said. I looked up into Leo's green eyes.

"Do you really mean that?" I asked softly.

"Yes baby I do. And I swear that I really told her about you." Leo said.

Tears filled my eyes as my bottom lip trembled.

"So.. You haven't been forgetting about me?" I asked lamely.

Leo cupped my cheek as his eyes bore into mine.

"Of course I didn't princess. I could never forget about you Millie. I'm far too in love with you." He said.

Then Leo rested his head against mine.

"I know that we have all been busy lately. I promise you that we are all still madly in love with you." He said.

I sniffled. "Yeah well, you maybe." I muttered.

Leo pulled away to look into my eyes.

"Where was everyone else last night?" He asked me.

"I guess Milo never made it to bed. He was in his office when I went to bed. Oli called to tell me he was drinking with his robotics friends. Atlas's teacher called him with an emergency to help, but.. He never came home, or answered my calls. All of you ignored me all night." I said sadly. "We didn't ignore you baby." Leo argued.

I scoffed. "You let another girl answer your phone, and then didn't come home until after 2 a.m. Oli ignored my texts, but posted all over his snapchat. I have no idea what even happened to Atlas, and I have been coming up with awful sencerios all night. And Milo told me that he needs space, and to stop bothering him. He barely even looked at me when I tried to talk to him." I said.

By the end of my rant, I'm in tears again. God, this is annoying. I hate feeling this way.

"I'm sorry baby. We are all going to make it up to you I promise. Atlas did come home by the way, but it was very late. He's making breakfast right now. Milo also came to bed with us, but had to be up early to go help at the hospital. Oli should be home soon." Leo told me.

I sniffled. "Okay."

"Baby I hate seeing you so sad." Leo said.

"I'm sorry." I replied.

Leo gripped my chin, and pulled my face to his. He licked a few tears away just before they fell down my face. My body shivered.

"I didn't say any of this yesterday, because I didn't need Teresa knowing our dynamics, but.." Leo said as he started kissing down my cheeks. "You are getting punished for your attitude yesterday. Especcially for letting that guy touch you." He growled out. I completely forgot all about Tristan.

"L-Leo, it wasn't a big deal." I tried to tell him.

"Hmmm, you say that, but I still didn't like it." He said.

Leo rolled us over so that I'm on my back with him hovering above me. He pinned my hands above my head, as he kissed down my neck. Then Leo bit down on my sensitive spot hard.

"Leo." I breathed out.

"I see that you put my favorite nightie on too. Wish you would of sent me pictures last night." He whispered against my skin.

I scoffed. "Why? So Teresa could have seen them?" I asked snidely.

Leo chuckled against my skin, sending vibrations through my body.

"That is exactly why." He said. "Maybe she finally would have taken a damn hint."

I smiled at that.

"R-really?" I asked.

Leo leaned up to look into my eyes.

"Yes. The girl is crazy." He told me.

I frowned up at him.

"Maybe I should have a talk with her." I said.

Leo gave me a wide smile as he bent his head back down. His hands moved the nightie up, and over my head. Then his lips went right back to moving down my body.

"Maybe you should come around more." Leo said, and then wrapped his lips around one of my nipples.

I moaned as I tangled my fingers in his curly black hair.

"I-I c-can.. if th-that's... wh-what you w-want." I breathed out through moans.

Leo flicked his tongue over my nipple as he twisted the other between his fingers. My eyes rolled back. When was the last time Leo touched me like this?

"I want you to come around more yes, and my friends want to meet you." He said between kisses.

Leo is working his way down my body. The anticipation alone is enough to make me cum. I missed this so much.

"Enough of that. Right now, I want to see how wet you are." He said.

I smiled as Leo made his way between my legs. He spread me open even wider to get a better look. I watched his face as he stared down at my pussy. The way Leo looks at me is like I'm the best sight he's ever seen. "Fucking beautiful." Leo muttered.

I nearly melted at his words.

"So wet already. You're literally dripping baby. Good thing I'm thirsty." He said.

Before anything else could be said, Leo shoved his face into my py. The moment his tongue touched my ct I came. Hard. Embarrassingly hard.

"Oh fuck Leo!" I moaned out as my orgasm hit me.

Leo leaned up to raise a brow at me.

"Been that long, huh baby?" He asked.

I nodded as I whimpered.

"Well, I'm feeling impatient too. So, your punishment is to not cum until I say so. Got it?" Leo asked.

I nodded enthusiastically.

"Got it." I said.

"What is your safe word?" Leo asked as he started kissing back up my body.

"Peaches." I breathed out.

"Good girl." He praised.

Leo made his way to my lips. I greedily kissed him back, and even shoved my tongue into his mouth. I missed kissing him so much.

I felt Leo line himself up at my entrance, then he plunged himself deep inside of me. I gripped onto him as he started to thrust in and out of me. Holy shit, he's going so fast, so hard. "L-Leo.." I moaned out.

"Remember, no cumming." He reminded me.

Leo pulled out of me completely. He flipped me onto my stomach, and pulled my a*s into the air. Then he rammed himself back inside of me.

My eyes rolled back as Leo continued to fk me. I even pushed my ass up more. Leo gripped onto my hips as he continued to thrust.

"I'm gonna cum baby, but you are not allowed to." He said.

I only moaned.

"Tell me you love me baby. That you want me too." Leo demanded.

"I love you Leo. Please don't stop. I want you so bad. I want you to cum inside of me Leo. Please." I moaned out.

I felt Leo's grip on me tighten. He twitched slightly, and his movements slowed. I felt his cum start to drip out of me. I only wiggled my ass more in response. "Please don't stop." I begged.

"Oh, I don't plan to baby." Leo said as he started to move his hips again.

Our bedroom door opened suddenly, not that that stopped Leo. I looked over to see Atlas walk into the room. His presence only seemed to make Leo go rougher. "Atlas, Millie has been feeling lonely lately thanks to us. Come. Join us. Help me fk all the doubts from her pretty little head."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 9

Atlas dropped the kitchen towel that he was holding. His eyes are glued to Leo and I. Atlas's eyes are just roaming across our entire bodies. Leo hasn't let up in the slightest either. My teddy bear is looking mighty fine this morning as well. He's only in his boxers. Giving me a full view of his amazing abs, and that defined V. Just looking at him while Leo fs me has me.. "Ahh! L-Leo!" I moaned.

My o*m is too close. Leo isn't stopping like he usually does either. Maybe he plans to let me c*m.

"Remember what I said princess. No cumming until I say so. Unless you want to be punished more." Leo said to me.

That deep sexy voice.. While pounding into me like this.. And Atlas watching us.. It's too much.

"Leo!" I yelled out as I came.

I couldn't stop myself. I tried so hard, but.. Leo's ck is too good. He didn't even stop fg me as I came.

Once my orgasm had rolled through me, Leo gripped the back of my hair, and pulled my back to his front. He kept his ck inside of me, and even kept moving. Then Leo turned me to Atlas. "Wanna help me punish her?" Leo asked him.

Atlas nodded, and walked over to us. His eyes are glued to my body, just spiking more heat throughout me. Atlas leaned down to kiss me, and I was ready to meet him halfway. "Stop." Leo ordered.

Atlas froze. I whined. We were so close.

"Don't kiss her. Part of the punishment. Play with her nippels." Leo ordered.

Then he brought his lips to my ear.

"After I cum again, I'm getting a ruler." He said.

A goofy smile spready across my face at his words.

"Fuck, you're dripping down my balls." Leo said.

"Atlas can clean them." I offered.

Atlas smiled at me as he reached up to pinch my nipples. I moaned as my body jerked. Atlas is staring at me with longing.

"Why is she getting punished again?" Atlas asked.

Leo paused behind me.

"You didn't tell our others?" He asked me.

I wiggled my ass against Leo, but he refused to move.

"No." I huffed. "Everyone was too busy, or telling me to leave them alone. I told Milo, but he didn't care." I stated.

"Tell us what?" Atlas asked.

Leo pulled himself almost all the way out of me. Then he rammed himself back inside of me hard. Harder than I think I've ever been f*d. I moaned loudly, but Leo stopped with just one thrust.

"So, you didn't tell Atlas how I found you in the library yesterday? Hmm? With another guy? One that was touching you?" Leo asked.

With every question he gave me another hard, deep thrust. I'm so close to my edge again. Atlas never stopped twisting my nipples either. Until Leo spoke those last words.

I looked up into Atlas's eyes. Leo is now fucking me at a fast pace, but as shallow as he can go. Atlas is giving me a sad look though. One that has my heart clenching.

"You were with another guy? That's why you came home so late yesterday?" Atlas asked.

"You.. noticed that?" I asked.

Atlas gave me a confused look.

"That you came home hours later than normal, and all by yourself? Yeah babygirl, I noticed. I only didn't say anything because Oli called me telling me that you sounded kind of off. I was going to talk to you about during our movie, but then.." He trailed off. Oli noticed too?

"I.. Tristan wasn't... I told him that I was taken." I struggled to get out.

Leo is being damn relentless. How is he even fucking me like this while having a serious conversation like this? And how am I staying so wet through all of this?

"Don't fucking say his name. Espeically right now." Leo scolded me.

Leo grabbed a handful of my hair at the back of my head, and pulled hard. He held my head to the side, and brought his lips to my neck. Then Leo bit down on me hard. I moaned out at the pleasure that followed as Leo sucked on me. "You were home late because you were with another guy?" Atlas asked.

"I.. was just.. tutoring him.." I tried to defend myself.

Oh god. This is too much. Leo is sucking, biting, and fucking me like he hasn't seen me in months. All while Atlas gives me that sad look. It's intense. The sex feels amazing, but I don't like that look in Atlas's bright blue eyes. "L-let me.. explain." I begged.

Leo thrust into me one more time, much harder than any other time. I moaned loudly as I felt him twitch inside of me. Then Leo stilled. A second later he pulled out of me. I can feel his c*m drip down my thighs.

I was turned in Leo's arms to face him. Then he lightly pushed me back until I fell on the bed. He and Atlas stood above me.

"You have one minute to explain, but don't think that it is going to stop your punishment. I don't care if you told him you were taken or not, you still let him put his hands on you." Leo said.

I scoffed. "Then you should get punished too. For letting Teresa touch you, and for letting her completely ignore me!" I shouted.

Leo bent down to grip my chin. He pulled my face close to his. I narrowed my eyes at him.

"Who's Teresa?" Atlas asked.

"At least I wasn't trying to keep Tristan a secret for weeks. Or at all." I said.

Leo's grip on me softened. He sighed as he let me go completely. Then he sat on the bed next to me, and gestured for Atlas to sit on my other side.

"I did tell her about you Millie. About all of you. I told all 11 people I stay with every day after school. Teresa just doesn't care either way. Unfortunately, there is nothing I can do about that." Leo told me.

I do not like the sound of that at all, but Leo is right, what is he supposed to do about that?

"I find that ignoring her works better than constantly yelling at her. She is annoying, and I can't stand her. I've caught her going through my phone several times. Everyone that is in my group knows how I feel about her. It's clear to them all, and Teresa just thinks it's a game. I promise that I will never let her, or anyone else come between us Millie." Leo said.

I gave him a pout.

"I wish you would have told us this sooner." I said.

"I won't make that mistake again, and we are all going out with them next Friday. All of you can meet my new friends." He said.

I smiled.

"That would make me feel a lot better." I said.

"Good. Now, who the fuck is Tristan, and why the fk are you tutoring him?" Leo asked angrily.

I rolled my eyes.

"That's more punishments princess." Leo said.

My whole body heated.

"He just transferred in. He's Professor Homak's nephew. She told me that if I could manage my time, and tutor him, that she would be looking at me to take over as her TA next year." I told them. Leo's eyes went slightly wide.

"Lila was with us most of the time we were there. Tristan and I were only alone for like a half an hour, and we were in the library. I shouldn't have let him touch me though, and I will be telling him to keep his distance." I rushed out. Leo's expression hasn't changed.

"I.. can tell him I can't do it if you want.." I said softly.

I really don't want to though. Not because I want to spend time with Tristan, because let's face it, the dude spells trouble. I just really want that TA position. It could open so many doors for me.

"Professor Homak offered you a TA position?" Leo asked.

"Well, not exactly. She told me that her current one is graduating this year, and that I'm a promising student. She said that if I could manage this on top of my school work that I could be her taking over next year." I said. "She's bribing you?" Atlas asked.

I turned to shrug at him.

"Kind of, I guess." I said.

"I've heard a lot about Professor Homak." Leo said. "Wouldn't you be her youngest TA ever?" He asked.

I turned to him, and nodded enthusiastically.

"Yeah. I.. really want that, but if it makes you guys uncomfortable, I won't do it. I already have self defense classes twice a week with Lila. And our meetings with the other girls from high school. It's a lot on my plate." I rushed out. Leo shook his head at me.

"You are not quitting. You are going to keep tutoring him." He said.

A wide smile spread across my face.

"Really?" I asked.

Leo nodded.

"This is a wonderful opportunity baby. I might have been jealous when I saw you two, but I trust you." He said as he wiped some hair out of my face. "We want you to get that TA position, but there will be rules." He said. "Okay." I replied instantly. Search the FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Then I threw myself into Leo's body. I pressed my lips to his hard. Then I started kissing down his neck.

"Don't get ahead of yourself princess. You're still getting punished."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 10

I pulled back to look Leo in his eyes.

"Okay." I breathed out.

"Atlas, how are you feeling about all of this?" Leo asked him.

"Confused." He answered. "How exactly was he touching you?" He asked.

I moved from Leo's lap, to crawl right into Atlas's. I gave him my best innocent face, and jutted out my bottom lip. Then I pushed my bare chest right into Atlas's.

"Don't be mad Atlas. He just tucked some of my hair behind my ear." I said.

"And called her beautiful." Leo added.

Atlas looks pissed. Not in a scary way like Leo. This is more like.. he isn't sure what to do. Atlas is probably angry, and jealous, and not sure what to do with those emotions. Ya know, since it's not really a big deal. Leo is just crazy. "Do you want to spank me Atlas?" I asked him.

"No, I think Atlas would rather fuck you until you're screaming his name." Leo teased.

I looke at Atlas for an answer.

"You're going to ride me while Leo breaks that ruler on your a*s. You're going to moan our names the entire time. And you're going to tell me how much you love me the entire time too." He said.

I beamed at him.

"Sounds like you need to get naked teddy bear." I said.

A small lopsided grin started to make it's way to Atlas's lips.

"Millie, get off of him so that he can." Leo teased.

I slid off of Atlas. Leo rummaged around in some of our drawers. I kept my eyes on Atlas as he stripped out of his boxers, and sat back on the bed. I crawled right back on top of him, wrapping my arms around his neck.

I pressed my lips to Atlas's, and he slipped his tongue into my mouth. I lifted my hips, and felt Atlas's hard ck. A shutter ran through my body. I want him inside of me so bad, but I'm not sure if I should wait-

My thoughts were interrupted by another set of hands on my hips. I pulled away from Atlas's lips just in time to be slammed down on his ck. My eyes rolled back, and my head lolled forward. "Does it feel good princess?" Leo whispered in my ear.

"Yes." I moaned out.

Leo kept his hands on my lips, and started to move me on Atlas slowly. I leaned my head back on Leo's shoulder, while I looked into Atlas's eyes. Atlas moved his eyes from mine, to roam down my body. "Atlas.." I moaned out.

Those light blue eyes snapped to my light green ones.

"I love you." I told him.

A shutter ran through Atlas, ending in me. Leo started to move me faster as he chuckled in my ear. Atlas's eyes rolled back as Leo grew even faster.

"Ahh.. Leo.." I moaned.

"Remember what I said princess. No cumming until I say. You already did once, and now are getting more spankings for it. Do it again.. and I will edge you for hours with no release." Leo threatened. Just his threat alone has me fighting down an orgasm. Leo is bouncing me on top of Atlas now. Atlas has a tight grip on my thighs.

"I.. I'm.. trying.." I said panting.

"Don't you want to be a good girl baby? You want to please Atlas right?" Leo cooed in my ear.

"Ah.. I.." I moaned out.

Oh no. There is no way I can hold back my own orgasm. Usually, Leo would just stop once he felt me getting close. He never made me stop myself before. "Hold out just a little longer baby. Let Atlas fill you up." Leo said lowly.

Fuck! I'm trying to hold out. My o*m is so close though. I need to do something.

"Atlas baby, I love you so much. I'm all yours. I want you to c*m inside of me baby. Fill me up, and keep fg me the way only you can. Ah! Atlas.." I moaned out. Shit, maybe that wasn't the best idea. It only made me more horny. Oh god, I'm gonna..

"Fuck Millie." Atlas groaned out.

Leo finally slowed the pace. Atlas's body jerked under me. Then Leo stopped me completely as Atlas pants.

I did it.

"You did it princess, good job. Too bad it is not saving you from your other punishments." Leo said with that low voice.

A shiver ran through my body.

"That was amazing baby. Saying all of that to me." Atlas said as he cupped my cheek.

I leaned into his touch.

"You know that I'm yours right? That I love you four, and only you four. I would never do anything to hurt you." I said.

Atlas nodded.

"Yeah baby, I know. And I'm sorry about last night, and lately in general. We should go back to spending Sunday's together." He offered.

"That sounds great. Hopefully Milo will think so too." I said.

"Well, this is sweet, but.." Leo said breaking our conversation. "Lay down Atlas, it's time to spank our girl." He ordered.

Atlas wrapped his arms around me, and fell back on the bed with a wide smile on his face. He pulled me down with him. I'm still inside of Atlas, but with my ass in the air now. "10 for your attitude yesterday. 10 for yelling at me. 10 for storming off. And 20 for me finding you with another guy." Leo stated. That's..

"60? You're going to give me 60?" I asked.

"Oh, that's right. I forgot you need some for cumming earlier without permission." Leo said.

My eyes went wide. Just how many spankings am I getting? 70? More?

"60 is a pretty big number though, isn't it?" Leo asked.

I nodded in response. Then Leo pulled me up by my hair. Goddamn, the spot that he grabs me in just feels so.. fg good.

"I'll just make you wear these instead. Since I know how much you dislike them." Leo said teasingly.

These?

Before I could ask, or even look, Leo placed one clamp around my n*e. I yelped in surprise, and then Leo clamped my other one as well. Then he pushed me back on top of Atlas.

Nipple clamps are not my favorite thing. They are little painful in a pinchy way. I can deal with it, but it is definitely a punishment for me.

Atlas wrapped his arms around me again, and held me tight to his chest. Making the clamps move my nipples. I moaned, and pouted as I looked up at Atlas. He only smirked at me in response. "Remember to count baby." Leo said.

The moment the words left his mouth, I felt the first sting.

"One."

Smack! "Two."

Fuck, I'm already ready to burst. I am not going to last through 60 of these. Not right now. I'm going to end up cumming.

Smack!

"15.." I breathed out.

I'm already a panting mess. A quarter the way through, and I'm struggling to hold back. My orgasm is right there.. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Everytime that Leo spans me, it makes me move with Atlas still inside of me. It feels so damn good that I'm even starting to feel good from the nipple clamps. My head is resting on top of Atlas's bare chest. I'm drooling all over him, in more ways than one. Smack!

"23!" I yelled out.

Oh god! One more smack, and it might be over for me. What will Leo do if I cum now?

Smack!

"24! Ah! No! W-wait L-Leo.. I.. I c-can't.." I struggled to get out through my panting.

"We aren't even halfway through yet. Ususally you can handle much more than this princess." Leo commented.

He stopped spanking me, but is running the ruler across my ass still.

"I-1-1-1." I stuttered out.

Smack!

"Ah!" I moaned out as my hips rolled. "T-t-twenty... five.." I breathed out.

My hips rolled again. All on their own. It.. feels.. too good.

I have to hold back. I have to. I won't survive if Leo never lets me get off. I can do this.

Smack!

"F-f-f-forty." I stuttered out.

Holding back my orgasm is so hard that I'm not even sure if I'm here anymore. My body feels light. My brain feels foggy. Everything feels amazing. Every smack from the ruler. Every nerve ending that is touching Atlas. All of it.

I'm so wet that I am almost positive our bed is soaked around Atlas. You can hear the squishy sounds everytime that Leo spansks me, and makes me jolt. It's kind of hot honestly.

"Maybe we should give her a break?" Atlas asked.

Noooo.. I can do it.

"What do you say princess? You wanna use that safeword?" Leo asked teasingly.

I opened my mouth, but no words came out. I tried again, but again I couldn't force anything out. I don't want to talk, I just want to feel.

"Tell ya what princess.. You tell me that you're still doing okay, and I'll let you cum all you want for these last twenty spankings. We can even keep going after if you want. But you gotta say something to let me know you're okay." Leo cooed. I... get to c*m?

I opened my mouth, but again no words came out.

"Just say one word baby." Leo whispered in my ear.

I opened my mouth again. This time, the door to our bedroom opened. In walked one of my four favorite people.

"Oliver."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 11

Oliver's P.O.V.

"Hey Oli, wanna come up, and see what we've been working on?" JJ asked.

I looked up from my book to see two of my new friends staring back at me. JJ and Ben. We have gotten really close since school started. They are in a robotics club together, and even have a frat house of their own.

We met on our first day here. Apparently, the two of them and our other friend Caine, were here over the summer. They are three of the smartest people in this entire school. And some of the most fun people I have ever met. I learn a lot from them, and I'm happy we met.

"Sure." I said.

I closed my book, and walked with them outside. I was just in the library trying to catch up on some homework. If I get it all done early, then that means more Millie time for the weekend. And there is nothing I love more than my Millie time. "Hold on, I gotta call my girl." I told the guys.

I pulled out my phone, and saw that Leo had sent our group a message about staying at school late. Again. This seems to be an every week day thing for him. Then he spends the whole weekend catching up on homework.

When school first started, we all used to spend every Sunday together. Milo managed to get out of hospital duties, and the rest of us would just make things work. That hasn't happened in a while though. Milo has been spending most of his Saturday's and Sunday's at the hospital. Leo has been too busy catching up on assignments those days too.

I hope that Millie doesn't feel any way about it at least. I'm sure that she still knows how much we love her. Maybe I can talk to Leo this weekend about making some time for her though.

Millie sounded a bit disappointed that I told her I was going to hang with my guys. I'll just have to make it up to her later. Maybe some morning head. Or, I can take her out this weekend. Atlas could join us, maybe I can get the others to as well. "Alright guys, I'm ready." I told them.

JJ slung his arm around my shoulder as we started walking.

"Yo, you gotta introduce us to your girl." He said.

"Yeah, we wanna meet the girl that keeps you from joining our frat." Ben said with a laugh.

I laughed back at them.

JJ and Ben are completely opposite from each other. Ben is an African American man with neat faded hair, and deep black eyes. He's 19, and is the most polite, well mannered person you will meet. Even his clothes are ironed properly, and always matching perfectly. JJ on the other hand.. He is always looking like a hobo. You would never be able to tell by looking at him, but JJ is extremely smart. He is a white man, with hazel eyes like me, and adorable dimples.

Apparently, JJ is from the south side of Detroit. JJ had told me that he had an older brother who died when he was very young. I guess he was in a gang. JJ's older brother always made him promise to do good in school, and make something of himself. I'm extremely proud that he is.

"Maybe sometime soon you guys can. You'll love Millie, and our partners." I told them.

I have been very honest with my relationship with my new friends. I mean, after they asked me about my relationship status, I wasn't going to lie. I'm not ashamed of who I am, or what my love looks like. And my friends didn't care either.

Although, JJ had tons of questions. He's very open, and blunt in that way. Ben blushed as I answered every question. I think he might be gay, but still in the closet. Caine was the one to shut JJ down after his questions started getting a little too personal. "That sounds dope. Maybe we can all go out for a beer tomorrow?" JJ asked.

I shrugged.

"I'll ask, but why are you so pressed about meeting my girlfriend, but not my boyfriends? Huh JJ? Does my relationship make you feel weird?" I teased.

JJ shook his head.

"Nah, I think it's kinda cool honestly. I just wanna see how hot Millie is." He teased.

"Ha ha, you are so funny." I said making him laugh. "No seriously though, don't flirt with my girl." I told him.

The three of us made small talk as we made our way to the science building. Once we were there, we went to the labs in the basement. This is where all the students work on their projects. Mostly things like robots that do all sorts of things. "Caine, look who we brought backkkk." JJ drawled out.

Caine turned to look at me. He gave me a wide smile that I returned. Caine is the most serious out of the three. He still likes to have fun, but school comes first. Caine is a Koren man with short black hair, and even blacker eyes. He is the smartest person I know, and the kindest.

The three of them took turns showing me what they are all working on. Then Caine showed me something that he apparently made while he was bored last night. He placed it in my hand, and I inspected it. "Whoa.. is this a sea turtle?" I asked.

"Yup, I made it out of some scrap material I had laying around. Well, I didn't make it. I had my new robotic arm make it. As a test." Caine told me.

I looked up at him with wide eyes.

"You just had your fancy robot make this for a test?" I asked incredulously.

"Yep." Caine said without looking at me.

"Let me have it." I said.

Caine chuckled.

"Why?" He asked.

"Because my girlfriend is going to be a marine biologist, and she loves sea turtles." I said.

Caine sat back in his chair, and gave me mischievous smile.

"Okay Oli, you can have it. If you come over to party with us tonight."

"I can't believe you guys made me drink that much last night." I grumbled.

I took Caine up on his offer. I figured that it wouldn't be too big of a deal. I never stay a whole night away from my lovers though. I miss them.

"Just eat this, it'll help ya feel better." JJ told me as he slid a plate my way.

Last night was fun, don't get me wrong, but I could never do this often. Getting drunk is one thing, but being away from my partners.. Nope, I can't do it. I'm just itching to get back to them.

I shoved the food in my mouth as fast as I could. Then Caine drove me home. Caine chatted with me the whole time, but I couldn't focus that much.

I think Millie might be mad at me. I saw her texts from last night this morning. I think I was just too drunk to notice last night, but I kept posting on my socials. She probably thinks I was ignoring her.

Shit. This might be a mess. I'm going to have to do a lot of making up to my angel.

"Thanks for the ride." I called to Caine.

Then I rushed to our apartment. When I got inside, I can smell breakfast coming from the kitchen, but no Atlas. I don't see Leo or Millie either. Milo is probably at the hospital.

I walked through the apartment to our bedroom door. I just put my hand on the doorknob when I heard Leo's teasing voice, followed by a shit ton of panting. Are they fg?

I opened the door, and my eyes instantly connected with my favorite light green ones. A wide goofy smile spread across Millie's face. Right now she is on top of Atlas, with her ass in the air, and Leo hovering over her from behind. From here I can see Atlas inside of her, and that they are absolutely dripping with Millie's juices.

"Oliver." Millie breathed out sounding relieved.

Leo smiled wickedly.

"That's a good girl." He said. "You promise you're still good baby? You can tell me if you're not." Leo cooed.

"I-I'm fine. I promise." Millie responded.

Millie moaned as Leo stood back up. I can see that he has a ruler in his hand. A slow smile spread across my face. So, she's being punished huh?

"Now, you can cum all you want, but don't forget to count." Leo told our girl. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I leaned against the doorway as I watched Leo smack Millie's ass with the ruler. She jolted forward, and then screamed out all of our names. At least I think that's what she's saying. There are so many 'Ah's' inbetween syllables, and it's all jumbled together. Still, seeing Millie cum that hard is really fucking hot. She even kept her eyes on me the entire time. Leo kept smacking her ass, but Millie is too far gone to keep counting. Her orgasm isn't dying down in the slightest.

Fuck, my girl is the hottest sight to ever be seen. My dick is hard as a fucking rock now. All I want is to get inside that tight ass of hers.

Eventually, Leo broke the ruler on Millie's ass. Which made her jolt more. Her orgasm is still going, and Leo took complete advantage of that. He dropped the broken pieces, grabbed Millie's hips, and then shoved himself in her ass.

Leo went relentless in fucking her after that. I watched them all for a few moments before I could no longer take it. I stripped out of my shirt as I walked over to them. Millie and Atlas are both looking at me.

I unzipped my jeans, and pulled my dick out.

"I don't care which one of you it is, but.. You did this to me. Now I need someone to take care of it."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 12

Oli didn't have to tell me twice. I eagerly opened my mouth for him. Oliver didn't hesitate in the slightest to shove his entire ck into my mouth.

I moaned, and drool spilled from the corners of my mouth.

"No fair, I wanted to drool all over him." Atlas teased.

Oliver shimmied all the way out of his jeans while keeping himself in my mouth.

"Don't worry baby, you can suck on my balls." He told Atlas.

"And rub that spot you like." Atlas added.

This is what I needed from them. Well, this and maybe some more attention. This is still perfect. Especially after how I was feeling yesterday. The only thing missing is Milo.

I wish he were here too..

"Oh fuck." Oli breathed out when Atlas started to lick his balls.

After Leo let me cum, I never stopped. Even now I can feel my pussy spasming around Atlas. My orgasm grew even more intense after Leo shoved himself in my ass. I didn't even know that orgasms could be like this.

This is a bit more than any other that I've had. Probably from not getting any for a while, and then being edged in a different way. Plus all of our feelings mixed in with this.

"I'm so happy I came home to this." Oli said excitedly. "I thought you were mad at me angel." He said.

Wait.. I was mad at him.

"Don't you dare stop sucking on him." Leo warned. "Think of this as further punishment. You can be mad at him later." He said.

"What are you even being punished for angel? Did you talk back to our boo bear?" Oliver teased. Search The \(F\)indNOVEL.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I looked up into Oliver's hazel eyes as he fucks my face. Is Leo going to make us have another serious conversation while fg? I'm not sure I can do it this time.

"Fuck, I'm gonna cum." Oli said as his eyes rolled back.

"Me too." Leo said.

Atlas held up a thumb's up as if to say him too.

"Let's all cum together." Leo ordered as his thrusts grew faster.

Oliver gripped a handful of my hair as his thrusts grew faster too. Then I tasted it. Oliver's cock twitched in my mouth as he spilled his seed in the back of my throat. Atlas moaned loudly at the same exact time. And Leo jolted, before pausing himself. Oliver pulled himself out of my mouth. Leo pulled himself out of my ass, and rolled onto the bed. I stayed completely still. I don't think I can move.

"That was amazing." Atlas said.

I smiled. It was amazing. I just wish that Milo could have been here too.

Leo wrapped his arms around me, and pulled me off of Atlas. I rolled over, and into Leo's chest. Then sadness started to settle in.

That was the most all of us have done together in weeks. Milo wasn't even here for all of it. This made me feel better for now, but.. Should I be scared still? I mean.. is this going to work for all of us if Milo ignores us? That's our thing.. all of us being in a relationship together..

"What's wrong princess?" Leo whispered into my hair.

"N-nothing." I said as I sat up.

Funny how I suddenly don't feel as weak.

"I think I'm going to take a shower." I said as I rushed to the bathroom.

I leaned against the door after I closed it. Tears stung my eyes. I'm such a mess. How can I even get upset about them all having their own lives? Isn't this what happens when anyone goes to college?

I need to suck up my own feelings, and just be in the moment. For now.. maybe I should focus on soaking in as much of them as I can. Before they all go their own ways.

I guess this relationship was really just a high school fling. I really thought that it would last too. That we would all be together forever. I shouldn't have jumped too far ahead.

Numbly I turned on the shower, and got in. I let the steaming hot water cascade down my body. I need to focus on being happy for now. I don't want any of them to feel bad for how things have been going. Even if they decide to drift away from me. That's life after all right? It happens to everyone. I just.. They mean so much to me. All four of them. They've been here for me since the day they met me. No matter how much I pushed them away.

They fought for me through the Holly bullshit. They fought beside me through the James bullshit. I owe them so much. The least I can do is try to put my worries aside while I'm with them.

While I'm not though.. I'll just let it all out. Like right now. My chest feels so heavy that I think my heart might explode. There is a knot in my gut that makes me want to throw up. I've never felt this.. devastated before. Suddenly arms circled around me making me jump a foot in the air.

"It's just me angel." Oli said.

I should have known that. I always recognize Oli's touch. I didn't even hear the door to the bathroom open.

"S-sorry." I mumbled.

Oliver kissed my cheek as he kept me in his arms.

"Why don't you tell me what's wrong." He suggested.

I plastered a fake smile on my face, but didn't turn around.

"I don't know what you mean schnoogems. I'm fine." I lied.

Oli rested his head on my shoulder.

"Then why are you crying?" He called me out.

I opened my mouth, completely intent to lie again, but Oli stopped me before I could.

"If you try to lie to me again, I'll tell Leo." He threatened.

I sighed.

"Is this because of that Tristan guy?" Oliver asked with slight annoyance.

I rolled my eyes as I turned in his arms.

"Leo told you about that huh?" I asked lamely.

Oliver nodded.

"Did he tell you the whole truth, or did he just tell you I let some other guy touch me?" I asked annoyed.

Oliver chuckled.

"They both told me the whole truth. Don't worry. And congratulations on possibly being Professor Homak's new TA. I can't wait to brag more to my new friends about my smart hot girlfriend. Well, more than I already do." He teased. I smiled at his words.

"I'm so proud of you Millie." He told me.

I looked up into Oliver's eyes. See, how am I supposed to be upset with them about their own lives? Especially when they're so happy for me.

I can't lose them. I just can't. I can't imagine life without them at this point. I.. don't want to either. I don't ever want to be without any of them. They made me take this chance on them. They can't leave me now. I won't let them. "Whoa, whoa, whoa, why are you crying baby?" Oli asked as he started wiping my tears away.

"Y-y-you ar-aren't a-allowed t-t-t-t-o le-leave m-me." I stammered out.

"What?" Oliver asked.

I wrapped my arms around him as anxiety started to take over.

"You aren't allowed. None of you. I.. can't. I just can't let you leave me. I-I don't care how long I have to wait for things to go back to normal, but.. you can't leave me. You all made me take this chance on you. Now you have to stay, you have to see this through with me." I rambled.

By the end of my rant.. I'm sobbing. Oliver can't keep up with my tears, and it's a muteless point since we are in the shower anyways. So, Oliver grabbed my face with both of his hands, and began placing kisses all over my face.

"Baby calm down. Is this why you're so upset? I knew I should have just came home last night." Oli said.

I shook my head.

"N-no. I don't want you to not do things because of me. I just.. wish one of you would have been here when I went to sleep." I admitted.

"No one was here when you went to sleep last night?" Oli asked.

I shook my head.

"Milo was, but.." My bottom lip trembled. "He told me he needed space, so I left him alone. I didn't even think anyone came to bed with me at all until I woke up." I told him.

"Baby, if I would have known that everyone was going to be gone, I would have came home immediately-"

I shook my head stopping him.

"That isn't fair to you. I'm a grown adult." I said. "It's not.. It's not that I need all of your time, I just.. miss you all. We never spend time together anymore. Leo and Milo are way too busy with school. Atlas is getting all these amazing opportunities with his teacher. And you've made so many new friends. I'm so happy for all of you, but.. I don't want to drift apart." I admitted.

Oliver placed a small kiss to my lips.

"We are not drifting apart baby. I promise that I won't let that happen. I have made some new friends, and they really want to meet you all. I know that we've all been a bit busy, but that doesn't mean we love you any less, or want to be with you less. I do agree that we need to make more time again though. Let's all do something today." He suggested.

"Caleb, and Lila want to come over for dinner." I told him.

"Before that then. Maybe we can get Milo to come home early too." He offered.

I gave him a small smile.

"Okay, yeah. I really would like that." I said.

"Good." Oliver said, and then kissed my nose. "We are also telling the others how you feel by the way. So that we're all on the same page." He said. "Okay." I replied.

"Oh, and I got this for you. It's just metal so it's totally okay to be in the shower." He said.

Oliver bent down to grab something off of the side of the tub. He handed it to me, and I gasped. It's a little metal sea turtle the size of my hand.

"This is so pretty." I told him.

Oliver smiled.

"This is the real reason why I didn't come home last night. Caine made it, and I asked if I could have it for you. He told me I could only have it if I promised to hang with them for the night." He told me.

I looked up into his bright hazel eyes. Wow, I really jumped to conclusions. I feel like an idiot. Oliver only spent a night away from me to get this for me.

"That's really sweet baby, thank you." I told him.

"Anything for my angel." He replied. "Let's get you washed though. I know you're starving."

"I can't believe you've been feeling this way, and didn't say anything to us." Oli scolded me as he washes my body.

"I can't believe that you aren't trying to fk me right now." I huffed out.

Oli chuckled.

"I'm just trying to clean you. Although, I do think that these need some extra attention." He said.

Oliver circled my nipples softly. My body reacted instantly. I pushed my chest out to him as my nipples hardened. Oli took the opportunity to grab the both of them, and pull. "Ahh!" My moan echoed off of the shower walls.

"Hmmm, that's my favorite sound in the world. Well, aside from when you say any of our names." Oli teased me.

Oliver kept twisting, pinching, and pulling on my nipples. Heat has risen in every part of my body. I want him so badly already, I feel like I could c*m just from my nipples. "Oli.." I whined out.

"Hmmm, see. I love that sound." He said lowly.

"Oli.. I.. need more.." I whined.

"But I'm still cleaning you." He argued.

I shook my head.

"Nooo, you're teasing me." I argued back.

Oliver chuckled.

"You need to be washed here as well." He said as he moved one of his hands to my py.

Oliver started to move his fingers between my folds making my eyes roll back.

"You're so wet baby." He said excitedly.

"O-Oli.." I moaned.

"Wait, I need to get a better angle." He said as he turned me around.

I gasped in surprise, and then Oliver pushed my head down so that I'm bent over. Oli spread my ass cheeks, and moved his hands all over me. One is rubbing between my pussy, to my ass. While the other is holding one of my ass cheeks apart. I put my hands on the wall in front of me. Then I felt Oli's cock rub against my ct, right through my py lips. Our bodies shuttered at the same time.

"I-I thought you... were washing... me." I moaned out.

"I am. You need to be cleaned on the inside as well." Oli teased.

Before I could respond, Oliver slowly pushed himself inside of me. I moaned loudly when he made it all the way in me. Oliver didn't move for a moment, so I wiggled my a*s against him.

"H-hang on angel.. If I move right away I'm going to cum." He told me.

"So?" I asked. "Cum inside of me, and then fk me some more." I told him.

Oliver shuttered again. He pulled out of slowly. Until just the tip of his ck is left inside of me. My moans are bouncing off the walls.

"Holy shit, you're squeezing the fuck out of my tip." Oliver breathed out.

"Oli.." I begged.

Then he shoved himself back inside of me. I felt Oliver twitch, and his body jolted. Oli remained still for a moment. I wiggled my a*s for him.

"Well, you got your wish angel. I fucking came inside of you." He said.

"Hmmm, do it again." I teased.

Oliver chuckled, sending vibrations through my body.

"One more time for each of us. Then we have to get out. We all need to have a conversation over breakfast." He told me.

"Okay." I replied.

Oliver gripped onto my hips, while I kept my hands on the wall. He started thrusting in and out of me at a fast pace. Almost as fast as Leo was just fucking me.

"It's been too long since we've all been together. Let's make that happen tonight." Oliver said.

"O-o-okay.." I moaned out.

That excites me though. Maybe if Milo joins us, I will not only feel better, but he might too. He's over working himself. Being with us would be just the stress reliever he needs. "Just imagine how much fun all of us are going to have. I bet you miss Milo's tongue ring huh?" Oliver asked.

He's teasing me. Talking to me like that while he fucks me. I can feel another orgasm build up in me.

"Oli.. I.. I'm close.." I moaned.

"Good, so am I. Being inside your pussy is always the best." He replied.

Oliver thrust into me harder, and faster. I jolted forward as my moans grew. Oliver squeezed my hips tighter. One more thrust, and I am being tipped over the edge.

"Ah! Oliver!" My voice echoed off the shower walls as I came.

Oliver thrust into me a few more times before I felt his body jolt, and twitch. He stilled behind me. Both of us are panting.

Then Oliver pulled out of me. I stood up straight, and turned around to face him. I threw my arms around Oli, and he chuckled at me. Search The FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Okay, now let's really clean you."

"Here ya go babygirl." Atlas said to me.

Oli washed me, for real this time. Then he dressed me in one of Atlas's shirts, and a pair of my panties. Oliver practically shoved me down the hallway until we came to the kitchen table. I had just sat down when Atlas slid a plate in front of me. I beamed at him. "Thank you teddy bear." I said.

Everyone was silent as I started eating. I looked up to find the three of them staring at me. Atlas looks worried. Oliver looks like he's waiting for me to say something. And Leo.. Well, Leo is expressionless like usual.

"How did last night go Atlas?" I asked.

Oliver raised a brow at me, but I ignored him.

"It was honestly amazing, and hectic. I ended up staying to help close the restaurant, which is why I got home so late. I'm sorry babygirl. I didn't mean to leave you all night. I should have stayed to find out what was wrong. It's just that I got that call, and my teacher was so panicked-"

"Stop Atlas." I interrupted his rant. "It's okay. I don't want you to miss out on opportunities just because of me." I told him. "But.. I tried to call you.. You weren't answering my texts.." I said softly.

Atlas looks pained.

"I'm sorry baby. I didn't have time to look at my phone until after we closed. By then it was after 2 in the morning. I thought you'd be asleep." He told me.

"I guess that makes sense. I'm sorry for over reacting about it." I said to him.

Atlas gave me my favorite lopsided smile.

"You didn't over react at all baby." He said.

I looked up at Oliver.

"You didn't answer my texts either, but you were posting all over snapchat." I said.

"I knew you were going to be mad about that." He muttered under his breath.

I just stared at him, waiting for an actual answer.

"I really don't know what to say angel. I didn't mean to ignore you. I was just.. really drunk honestly. I didn't see your messages until this morning. I think that I might have thought you were okay, because I assumed that someone would have been here with you. I'm so sorry." Oliver told me.

"It's okay Oli. Just.. make sure you text me if you're going to be gone all night. I missed you." I said softly.

Oliver chuckled as he took a seat next to me. He slung his arm around my shoulders, and kissed my cheek. I smiled widely at the attention.

"Believe me baby, it will not be happening again. They drink way too much for me for starters. And I can't stand not sleeping with you at night." He told me.

"Then why did you do it?" Leo asked.

Oliver sighed.

"It was a deal I made with Caine. He made this really dope sea turtle out of metal. Just for fun. I told him I wanted it for Millie. He said I could have it if I hung out with them." He said.

"And I do love it." I told Oli.

"You could have at least walked Millie home yesterday." Leo complained.

My eyes snapped up to him.

"Don't talk to him like that." I said sternly.

Leo raised a brow at me.

"You could have walked me home too. At least Oli didn't watch me walk away crying, and then still left. And you were leaving to go hang out with Teresa." I said snidely.

"I told you that-" Leo started, but I interrupted him.

"Yeah, you told me the truth. Today. Not yesterday when she interrupted our conversation. Or when you let me walk away after I practically begged you to come home with me. Not even when you called to tell me you were going out for drinks. After the stupid girl answered your phone." I said angrily.

"Who's Teresa?" Oliver asked.

"And what was up with her calling herself naughty, and saying you call me princess too?" I asked.

All eyes snapped to Leo.

"Uh, what?" Oliver asked.

Leo sighed, and ran a hand through his curly black hair.

"Teresa is part of the program I'm in. There are 12 of us in total. The girl is a complete lunatic. She has a thing for me. I've told her multiple times about all of you. Teresa doesn't care." He said. "Why didn't you tell us about her?" Atlas asked.

"Because I was handling it." Leo said. "I'm going to report her to the professor on Monday. He can handle it from there." He told us.

I scoffed. That's right. He better report her a*s. Stupid girl.

"As for her saying the other stuff.. I think she went through my phone more times than I know. That's the only thing I can come up with. I've never said more words to her than I've had to." He said. Then Leo's eyes connected with mine.

"You are the only girl that I call naughty, and princess. You are the only girl that I punish Millie. I swear." He said.

I know that Leo is telling me the truth. I can't explain how I know, but I do. Maybe because that Teresa girl came off so strong. Like she was trying to hard to rile me up.

"You should have told us about her sooner." I said.

"I know baby, I'm sorry." He said.

A small smile fell on my lips.

"It's alright. I forgive all of you, but.. I think that we should do more things together. I want to meet your friends, but can we go back to having Sunday's together? Even if it's just all of us hanging out doing homework?" I asked. "Of course we can baby. I'm going to call Milo now, and make him come home." Leo said.

"You don't have to.." I said softly.

All eyes snapped to me.

"Why not?" Leo asked.

I shrugged as I looked down at my plate.

"He told me that he needs space, and to stop bothering him. I don't want to make things worse." I said trying to keep the sadness out of my voice.

"I'll be right back." Leo said.

My eyes snapped up just as he walked down the hall. I wanted to go after him, but Oliver put his hand on my thigh. I looked at Oliver and Atlas. "What do you want to do today angel?"

Milo's P.O.V.

I shouldn't of said that shit to Millie last night. It's all I've been thinking about all day. I've been trying to keep my focus, but.. The guilt has been consuming me.

I just wanted to finish my work. Millie doesn't understand at all how distracting she is for me. Too much time alone, and.. All I think about is ripping her clothes off.

I barely ever get to touch her these days. I know that it's mostly my fault though. Still, I have to stay focused on my education.

When school first started, I thought I was balancing everything out well. Sure, I could have studied more, but I was doing fine. My grades were good, I got all the time with Millie I could ask for. Things were going well.

Then I started to fall behind. I forgot to turn in a paper for one of my classes that was worth a big chunk of my grade. I failed a test from another class. I had to ask two of my professors if I could do some kind of extra credit. To which both told me no.

The news got back to my mother. Being the nosey woman she is.. She speaks with my professors here and there. Mostly so that she knows what to do with me at the hospital on the weekends. Mom wants to stay on track to what I am learning. Something about it helping more.

Mom was furious when she found out I was slacking. I didn't mean to slack.. It just kind of happened. That didn't stop the almost hour long lecture I got from her though.

I wanted to talk to the others about it, but.. They were all doing so well. Millie never has a problem with anything. She's the smartest person in the world. Same with Oliver. I'm pretty sure neither of them even have to study.

Leo has his little program, and Atlas was always so excited about his schooling. I just couldn't bring myself to admit my failures.

So, I threw myself into my school work. I made sure that I never missed another assignment, and I passed every test. As more time went on, my schooling got more intense. It's a lot to keep up with.

When Millie tried to talk to me last night, I knew she was right. I need to take breaks. I keep falling asleep in my office, instead of in my bed. I'm surviving on nothing but coffee, and pure will. I can't remember the last time I joined my partners for a meal. I miss them all. I even miss Atlas kissing me. It's been so long since I've just relaxed with them.

Though I doubt that Millie wants to hang out with me now. After I pretty much told her to fuck off last night. I still can't believe I did that. I can't believe that Leo didn't bust in to yell at me either. Millie must not have told him about it. Which makes me feel even worse for some reason.

"Milo, please go check on the patient in room 307." Mom told me.

I gave her a nod, and headed towards the room. I'm not allowed to do much, since I'm pretty much just a volunteer. Although, I am allowed to check in on patients to see how they are doing. I can't check their charts, or vitals, but if something looks wrong I can tell Mom.

This patient has been having dizzy spells. Mom has had me check in on him on and off all day. I think the old man just feels comfortable with me.

Next month I take some exams for a few of my classes though. After I pass them I will be able to do more here, and it'll get me pushed ahead in my other classes. Perks of having a doctor as a mom.

For some reason, in my head, I thought that as long as I could make it to that I would be at the same level as my partners. That after I passed those exams, this depression and anxiety would start to dissipate some. I would finally be worthy of them. That might have been true until last night. God, I am such an idiot. I really couldn't have taken one night off to spend with Millie?

I left the patient's room to search for Mom. I need her to give me more to do. So that I can get my mind off of everything.

My phone started to buzz in my pocket. It was doing that the entire time I was with this last patient. Who the hell is blowing my phone up like this?

I ducked into a store room, and pulled my phone out. Shit, it's Leo. Part of me feels like I shouldn't answer it. I don't have time for punishments though. "What?" I answered.

"What the hell is your problem?" Leo gritted out.

"I'm busy Leo. You've been blowing my phone up while I'm with patients." I bit back.

Leo scoffed.

"We both know that you could have stepped away to answer your phone." He said.

I sighed as I pinched the bridge of my nose.

"What is it Leo? I need to get back to work." I asked.

"Did you tell Millie that you needed space last night, and to leave you alone?" He asked outright.

I sighed again.

"I didn't mean it as bad as it sounds. I was trying to study." I defended myself.

Though, it sounds more like an excuse.

"Are you crazy? Have you lost your damn mind Milo?" Leo asked.

I huffed through the line.

"Do you even know how Millie was feeling last night? That she was all alone because of us? That she cried herself to sleep because we all left her?" He asked. What?

"What are you talking about? You woke me up, and dragged me to bed with.. just the two of you.." I said as I realized it.

When Leo had woken me up I was so sleepy that he had to half carry me. I crawled right into bed, in my clothes, and snuggled up to Millie. I felt Leo get in behind me, but now that I think about it.. "Where the hell were Atlas and Oli?" I asked.

Leo sighed heavily.

"Look, Millie and I got in a really big fight before she went home. I found her in the library with another guy-"

"Another guy?" I asked interrupting him.

"It's a long story Milo. She's just tutoring him, but the fucker has a thing for her. Then she found out about Teresa-" "Who the hell is Teresa?" I asked.

"I told you about her. Remember? You called my phone one night, and she answered?" He asked.

"You didn't tell our other partners about her?" I asked incredulously.

"Yeah Milo, I know. I fucked up." Leo gritted out. "Anyways, before I could explain anything, Millie stormed off. Oli stayed the night with some of his friends-"

"Oli didn't come home at all?" I interrupted.

Leo sighed heavily again. He's probably so annoyed with my constant interrupting. I feel so left out of the loop.

"No he did not. One of his friends made this sea turtle thing that he wanted to get for Millie. The deal was that he drink with them. He came home first thing this morning, and made it up to our girl." Leo told me. "Good." I breathed out. "Wait, what about Atlas? He was home when I got home yesterday." I asked.

"Atlas got a call from his teacher. Apparently, he was asked to help out at his teacher's restauraunt. There was some kind of emergency. He left in a rush, and didn't make it home until almost 3 in the morning." He told me. Shit.. So when Millie came back to see me again.. It was because I was the only one home.. And I told her..

"Shit." I muttered. "Where were you at all night? You said she cried herself to sleep." I asked. Search the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Leo sighed yet again.

"I went out for drinks with the people from my program. I only planned to stay for one drink, but time got away from me. I came home to find her alone in our bed. We all figured out the rest this morning." He told me.

I blew out a breath as everything Leo told me sunk in. My poor cupcake. We told her to take this chance with us. To move in with us. That we would make things work. Yet, I've been ignoring all of them.

"I told her that I was going to get you to come home early so that we could all do something before Lila and Caleb come over for dinner." He told me. "Leo, I-"

"Do you want to know what she said in response?" He interrupted to ask.

I sighed.

"What?" I asked.

I'm sure that she got excited over that. It's been so long since the five of us have done anything together. I don't want to disappoint her, but-

"She told me not to." Leo stated.

Wait, what?

"She told me not to bother you because of what you said to her last night. Millie told me that she didn't want to make things worse between the two of you." He told me.

I couldn't even respond.

"Oh, and that was after she sobbed to Oliver in the shower about how we are all drifting apart, and she's scared to lose us." Leo added.

"Fuck.." I muttered.

"Yeah, fuck." Leo agreed. "I won't force you to come home, because Millie asked me not to Milo, but.. You should make the decision for yourself. I know you're busy, we all are, but we need to make time for each other if we want this to work. Millie doesn't deserve to feel the way she does. We should be able to balance our new lives without making our girlfriend feel like we don't want her anymore. Think about that for a bit Milo." He said.

Then Leo hung up. Leaving me completely stunned. I fucked up worse than I thought. I need to fix this. Leo is right. I need to find a better balance.

I rushed out of the storage room, and nearly knocked my mom over.

"Jesus Milo." Mom said. "Why were you in the-"

"Mom." I interrupted. "I need to go for the day."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 15

After I ate breakfast, Atlas did up the dishes, while Oliver gave me a foot rub. Leo is still back in our bedroom, probably calling Milo to yell at him. I, however, am totally enjoying my foot rub.

A minute later, Leo came down the hall. I smiled at him, and he returned it. Then he set his phone down on the table next to me, and bent down to give me a kiss.

"So, what do you want to do today princess?" Leo asked me.

I shrugged.

"I have a paper to finish, and an assignment for-" I started, but Leo interrupted me.

"Nope, you can do it tomorrow, or later tonight. What do you want to do? Anything you want." He told me.

I put my finger to my chin as I thought about it. There isn't much I want to do really. Not without Milo anyways.

"Well, there's this new art exhibit place that opened up a few streets down. I hear that they have a taste of all different kinds of arts. I was going to see if you guys wanted to check it out this weekend, but then... Everything happened." I told them. "Let's check it out then." Leo said with a smile.

"Yeah, that sounds pretty cool angel." Oliver agreed.

"Maybe when we get home, you and I can make a cheesecake for tonight." Atlas added.

I smiled at that.

"That all sounds really great, but.." I trailed off. "Maybe tomorrow, or a different day." I said. "Why not today?" Leo asked. Search the Find_Novel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I averted my eyes from him. I don't want to go without Milo, but I don't want to tell Leo that. Milo is busy, and I understand that trying to be a doctor is a lot of work. I don't want Leo to reprimand Milo just because of how hard he's working. "You don't want to go without Milo." Leo stated.

My light green eyes met his dark ones. I gave him a pout hoping that it would ease some of Leo's anger. Not that it has ever worked before.

"We should go without him." Leo said surprising me.

"What? No." I said.

"Why not? He isn't here." Leo said.

I crossed my arms as I frowned at him.

"Because he's working hard to become a doctor. It's not like he's purposely staying away from us." I argued.

Leo let out a hollow laugh.

"He told you he needed space, and to leave you alone last night, and you're still going to defend him?" He asked incredulously.

"He was just under a lot of pressure.." I said softly.

Leo shook his head.

"Don't make excuses for him princess. He didn't need to say that to you." He said.

I know that Leo is right, but..

"You also didn't need to keep Teresa a secret from me. Oliver also didn't have to stay away from me all night for a sea turtle. And Atals didn't have to leave as soon as I got home." I said.

Leo just stared at me.

"Look, I'm not saying that Milo didn't hurt my feelings. You all did. But I also understand that we all have a lot going on. I want us all to spend more time together. I'm so happy that I get to spend my whole day with the three of you at least. But I don't want to go out on a date when one of us is missing." I explained.

Leo gave me an understanding look.

"Fine. What else do you want to do then?" He asked.

"We can tie you to the bed." Oliver suggested.

I gaved him a bored look before giggling at him.

"I can teach you how to make homemade bread." Atlas suggested.

I giggled at them.

"How about a movie?"

The four of us have been cuddled up on the couch enjoying one of my most favorite movies. X-Men. We decided to start with the very first one that came out, and go in order from when they were released. I've honestly been having a blast. I let out a yawn as the first movie finished.

"How about some lunch babygirl?" Atlas asked.

I smiled.

"That sounds gre-"

Our front door opened startling me. Milo rushed into the apartment looking like he ran all the way here from the bus stop. His eyes scanned the room until they landed on me.

I'm sandwiched between Atlas and Oliver on the couch. Milo marched straight up to me. He held his hand out to me. I placed my hand in his. Then he pulled me to my feet. "You're home ear-"

I was interrupted by Milo smashing his lips to mine hard. My eyes went wide, but quickly fluttered shut. Milo slipped his tongue in my mouth, and I moaned into his. My arms wrapped around his neck, and Milo's wrapped around my waist. All too soon, Milo pulled away from me.

"I'm sorry. So so so so so sorry cupcake. I can never apologize enough for how I've been acting." He rushed out.

"It's okay Milo. I know you've been-"

Milo shook his head interrupting me.

"No. It's not okay at all. Especially what I said to you last night. I.. I didn't mean it baby. I don't need space, or want you to leave me alone. Ever." He said.

"Then.. why did you say that?" I asked.

Milo sighed. He pushed me to sit back on the couch. This time in Leo's lap. Then Milo sat on our coffee table across from the four of us.

"I know that I've been being crazy lately. All I do is focus on school." He told us.

"It's okay Milo." I said. "I'm sure that trying to be a doctor is hard. You've been doing so good though. We're so proud of you baby." I told him.

Milo gave me a sad look that I don't understand.

"I wasn't." He said.

I gave him a confused look.

"You weren't?" Leo asked sounding just as confused as I feel.

Milo shook his head.

"Weren't what?" Atlas asked.

"Doing good." Milo answered.

My eyes went wide.

"You weren't doing good?" I asked.

I'm still a little confused.

Milo sighed.

"I thought that I had a good balance at the beginning of the school year. Things were going alright, but.. I forgot to turn in a paper that was a big chunk of my grade. Then I failed a test. My mom found out, and lectured me about how I need to be doing better.." He told us.

Milo shook his head, and looked down at his feet.

"I was falling behind before I knew it." He said sounding ashamed.

I reached out to grab one of Milo's hands. I waited until he looked up at me before I spoke. Those deep blue eyes finally connected with my light greens.

"Why didn't you tell us?" I asked.

"Yeah, we could have helped." Oliver added.

"I.. was too ashamed." Milo said. "You all are doing so well. Millie and Oliver are stupid smart. Like, do you two even study for tests? An-and Leo is busy with his own shit. Being super fg smart too. Atlas is excelling in culinary!" Milo rambled.

I looked to Oliver. We shared a look before bursting out in laughter. Oh, Milo is too cute.

"What's so funny?" Milo grumbled.

I wiped a tear from my eye as I looked back at Milo.

"Oliver and I study together all the time Milo." I told him.

"Yeah, Millie is the best study buddy when it comes to preparing for tests." Oliver said.

"And Oli is very good at proof reading my papers before I send them in." I added.

"Lila also helps us out with a few things." Oliver added.

"If you weren't so stuck in your own world, you would know that the three of them meet every Wednesday and Thursday to study." Atlas said.

"You do?" Leo asked.

I crossed my arms as I leaned back against him.

"You and Milo have been too stuck in your school work. I get that it's a lot for the both of you, but.. I think we need to figure something out." I said.

I nodded.

"Well, that yes. I think we should definitely make time for each other." I said. "But I mean that maybe we should study together more. You and Leo spend all weekend long catching up on your assignments, or studying. What if we did that together?" I asked.

"Yeah, maybe it would help you more than locking yourself in your office." Oliver added.

"I think that sounds great." Leo said.

"I can make you guys snacks all day. That would be my homework." Atlas added making me giggle.

All of us looked to Milo.

"You... would do that? You aren't.. mad at me?" He asked.

"Oh, she's mad." Leo said.

I turned to give him an annoyed look, before turning back to Milo.

"I was very upset yes. You shouldn't have ignored me the way you did, and then said what you said." I told him. "But.. that doesn't mean I want to stay mad at you. I love you. I don't like to fight. I wish that you would have told me sooner. We could have avoided all of this." I said.

"I know baby, I'm sorry." Milo said sadly.

"It's alright Milo. Now we have a plan. Things will be different now. In a better way." I said.

Milo beamed at me, and I returned it.

"Well, now that that's settled." Leo said. "How about that art exhibit?"

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 16

The rest of our weekend went great. We all got dressed up, and went the art exhibit. I had a lot of fun. I think all of us did. There was something interesting for each of there.

Then we all went out for lunch. Where our server hit on Atlas, and I got a bit upset. I swear, it's like I can't take them anywhere. Someone is always giving my men googley eyes.

After that, we went home. Atlas and I cooked a fancy dinner for Lila and Caleb. That they teased us over as soon as they sat down. We spent the rest of the night just having fun with each other.

When Lila and Caleb left... I practically jumped all of my boyfriends. I started with Milo since he wasn't there to join us this morning. It was... much needed. I came the moment that tongue ring flicked over my ct.

I woke up the next morning with all of them in bed. Well, Milo was actually kissing me good bye, but at least I got to see him before he left. We still planned to spend the day together, but Milo does have to volunteer at the hospital still. He just decided to cut his time there in half. Which his mother agreed to.

Then we spent the rest of the day finishing our homework. I helped Milo study for his tests as Oli read over my creative writing paper. Leo was pretty silent the whole time, but just having him around was enough for me. And Atlas made us snacks the whole day. It was a comfortable feeling. All of us being together doing something as mundane as school work. It kind of reminds me of when we would spend our last hour together in high school. Although, we aren't in a library with other people around. And no one was trying to fk me the whole time.

Not going to lie, kind of miss that part.

Regardless, it was a good weekend. We all managed to finally communicate our feelings, and figure something out that made us all happy. I even figured out a schedule for the days that I can tutor Tristan. Although, I do need to have a conversation with him about personal space.

The events of the weekend have me feeling very refreshed today. Oliver and Leo walked me to class like usual. Now I am on my way to meet Oli for lunch.

I walked to our normal spot. Which is under a tree outside. Figures I would take claim over another tree for lunch. I sat down, and pulled out the lunch that Atlas made me.

"Oh no!" Someone exclaimed.

I had full intentions to ignore the exclamation. Until a guy threw himself on the ground next to me. My eyes snapped to him. I have no idea who he is, but he has hazel eyes, and a wide smile spread across his face showing dimples.

I frowned as I looked him up and down.

"A hot girl eating all alone. No way can I let this happen." He said.

My frown turned to a scowl.

"Sorry, I'm taken." I said as I turned away from him.

The guy chuckled at me.

"I don't see anyone here." He said.

"He's on his way." I replied.

"Oh, is he now?" The guy asked.

I rolled my eyes. Maybe if I ignore him he'll go away. Oli will be here soon anyways.

"JJ leave her alone." Came another voice.

I looked up to see an African American guy standing a few feet in front of me. He sat down, and gave me a shy smile. His black eyes sparkled slightly as he looked at me.

"Uh.." I said.

"I can't leave her alone. Look at her." The guy, JJ, said.

The other guy rolled his eyes at his friend.

"She's taken. Give it up." He said.

"Yeah, you know that she's Oli's. And Leo's. And Milo's. And... Shit what is the last one's name?"

"Atlas." I answered. "How can you forget about-"

I stopped abruptly when I realized that I did not recognize the voice of the person who even said all of that. I looked up to see a third guy. This one is Asian. He has short black hair, and deep black eyes. He sat down next to me, and gave me a warm smile. I looked at all of them.

"Do I know any of you?" I asked them.

"Nope, but we know about you, Millie." JJ said.

I looked at him skeptically.

"Kay, well, I'm gonna go." I said as I started to put my lunch away. "Please stop stalking me." I said.

Just before I was about to stand up, the Asian guy put his hand on my arm. He started laughing, making me pause. Are these guys dangerous?

"We're friends of Oli's." He told me still laughing.

My eyebrows shot up.

"Oh." I said lamely. "Uh, sorry. I didn't.. know."

"Yeah, no shit." JJ said earning a glare from all of us.

"Maybe if you would have introduced yourself, instead of hitting on her right away.." The shy one scolded him.

Then he looked at me with a polite smile.

"I'm Ben, this idiot is JJ." He told me.

"And I am Caine." The nice one said.

Did Oli ever tell me their names? Is this a set up of some sort? Where the hell is Oli?

"Uh, it's nice to meet all of you. Do you know where Oli is?" I asked.

"He told us to meet him here." Ben said.

"He should be here any minute." Caine said.

"I can keep ya company." JJ said, and then slung his arm around my shoulders.

I grabbed JJ's hand, and threw his arm back at him.

"Don't touch me. You know one of my boyfriends, don't be a jerk." I said to him.

JJ chuckled as he looked at his friends.

"She passed." He announced.

I narrowed my eyes at JJ.

"Passed?" I asked.

"Yeah, my little loyalty test." He replied.

"Oh, well, if you ever test me again, I will stab you, and then pepper spray you. Keep your hands to yourself." I replied sweetly.

"Noted." JJ said as he threw his hands up in surrender.

"So Millie, did you like the sea turtle I gave to Oli?" Caine asked.

I nodded to him. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Yes, very much. Thank you. It's so cool. How did you do it?" I asked.

"I had one of my robots do it." He told me proudly.

"Really? That sounds so cool. Can it do a lot of things?" I asked.

Caine nodded excitedly.

"Yeah, it can-"

"Sorry I'm late." Oli said interrupting Caine.

Oli sat down between me and JJ. Thankfully. He gave me a quick kiss before pulling out his own lunch.

Atlas is so cute with the way that he leaves little sticky notes in our lunches. Mine said 'Remember your light babygirl' with a few hearts. Oli's says 'Smile extra bright today lover' also with hearts. Atlas is seriously so sweet. I wonder what Leo's and Milo's say. They better be thankful for Atlas.

"How's it going? I see you've met my friends." Oli said.

"Yeah, I like them. Well, except JJ." I told him.

Ben and Caine sputtered out laughter. I think JJ even laughed too. Oliver turned to scowl at him.

"Did you hit on her? I told you to stay away from her." He said.

JJ rolled his eyes.

"I just wanted to make sure she was loyal, that's all." He said casually.

Oli narrowed his eyes at his friend.

"She is loyal. I didn't need your help to know that." He stated.

I smiled at that. Oliver has the utmost confidence in our relationship. It makes me feel good that we all have so much trust in each other.

"Yeah JJ, so remember what I said." I told him.

Oli whipped his head to me.

"What did you say?" He asked.

Caine laughed loudly.

"Just that if he touched her again, she would stab him before pepper spraying him." He told Oli.

A bright smile spread across Oliver's face. It lit up my whole world. His hazel eyes got brighter, and I swear I fell in love all over.

"You said that angel?" He asked me.

I nodded in response. The two of us stared at each other for a few moments. I love him so much I feel like I could explode from it.

"Phew! Is it getting hot out here?" JJ asked interrupting our moment.

Oliver turned to give him a bored look.

"You two are cute." JJ replied.

Oliver rolled his eyes at his friend.

"So, what were you guys talking about before I showed up?" Oli asked.

"I was just about to tell Millie all about my newest, and best project." Caine said.

We spent the next almost hour chatting. Caine went on and on about his robot arm. He really loves what he does. It's nice that he's so passionate.

I found that I like JJ a little more after getting to know him a bit. He didn't hit on me anymore, but he is definitely a big goof ball. Oli had JJ tell me all about how he's actually very smart. JJ's only a sophomore here, but he is one of the smartest kids in the school. Even has a complete free ride here thanks to all of his scholarships.

Ben is much more shy than I thought at first. He doesn't talk much, but when he does, he is always polite. I don't think I've ever met another man around my own age with such good manners before. I also did not miss the looks that he was constantly sending Oli's way.

I wonder if Benny boy here has a bit of a crush. Maybe I should talk to Oli about it. Oli did have his own struggles with his sexual orientation. Although, I don't like the way he's looking at my man. Maybe I should just let Ben figure things out on his own, and not medal.

Whatever.

All I know is, if things are meant to work out, they will.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 17

Atlas's P.O.V.

Last weekend really took it out of me. Mentally. I'm mentally exhausted.

First, I get this amazing opportunity to work in the restaurant that my teacher owns. It was an amazing night too. The restaurant was busy as hell. Orders were being called out. Everyone was moving fast around each other. There were shouts from all around. And I've never felt so in the zone.

The kitchen is where I belong. That's for sure. I wasn't sure what exactly I wanted to do after school, but now.. Now I think I want to own my own restaurant.

My teacher, Mr. Parks, told me that he would help me get some business classes going soon too. He said it was something I could easily take online at home. Mr. Parks also told me that I could go to him anytime for advice. He really believes that I have potential. I wish I would have told my partners about it though. It's just that I got home so late. Millie was asleep. Leo was fg furious with me. I felt terrible for leaving Millie alone all night. I just thought that since Milo was here things would be fine. But I guess we all kind of felt that someone would be here for her.

Then when I saw Millie in the morning, she was taking Leo's cock. How the fk was I supposed to focus on a real conversation, with them right in front of me like that? All I could think about was enjoying the moment with them. Until Leo actually had us have a serious conversation. While he was balls deep in our girl. Only.. his words really hurt me.

Millie was letting another guy touch her? How? In what way?

Leo really could have started with the fact that this guy only tucked her hair behind her ear. From the way Leo was acting, this guy probably was putting moves on our girl. He needs to get over his jealousy. Millie would never cheat on us. Hasn't our girl more than proved that with the way she is with all of us?

I let Leo continue with his little punishment anyways. Not that I could stop him. Only Millie could with her safe word.

I think that Millie secretly needed it deep down. She was left alone all night because of us. Not to mention the fight she and Leo got into. Still, punishments are Leo's love language. It didn't matter why he was punishing Millie, just that he was.

If Millie wasn't into it, she would have used her safe word. I know that for certain. Our girl wanted all of it. It was only better when I joined, and even more so when Oli came in the room. All we were missing was Milo.

Who ended up bursting into our apartment a while later. He admitted to us why he was distancing himself. I was more than proud of Milo for admitting his faults, and his fuck ups. Milo was never the type to actually talk about his feelings. I had only ever seen him really get into his own head one other time.

When Millie broke up with us over the Holly shit. Milo was the saddest I had ever seen him. Even then he didn't actually talk to us about it. He talked to Millie though.

That's the magic that Millie has inside her. The light that we all see. She has a way with all of us that we just can't explain. Our perfect puzzle piece. Completing our.. more than normal relationship.

I'm happy that Millie came up with an idea for all of us to fix things though. It seems to be going well too. Milo picked up days during the week to work at the hospital so that he could have Saturday evenings, and all of Sundays off. He works on his homework in the living room with the rest of them too.

Leo has been managing to wrap things up earlier in his program as well. I'm pretty sure that he told his professor about that Teresa girl, and that it has been making things easier for everyone in that program... But that is not confirmed yet. I think he's waiting for it to be official before he tells us all.

As for Millie tutoring that Tristan guy.. Well, I may or may not make sure that I am there. Tristan meets Millie in the library almost everyday after classes end. Sometimes Oli is there with them. Lila is always there with them. Still, I took it upon myself to be there as well.

Tristan actually isn't that bad of a guy. Sometimes I catch him peeking at Millie, or winking at her and Lila. I always catch him though, and it seems that he is slowly losing interest. Good. Thought I was going to have best the shit out of him. Glad he's smarter than he looks.

Today is Friday though. Milo is at the hospital late tonight. Leo is working late with his program. And Oli went to hang out with his new friends. That we have all met now by the way.

Caine is great. JJ is obnoxious. And I am pretty sure that Ben likes Oli. Which makes me want to punch him in the face, but it's fine.

So, that leaves just Millie and I. I spoke with Mr. Parks earlier today. The night that I helped him out at his restaurant I told him about my relationship. He's a bit older than me so I think he thought the dynamic was kind of weird. Regardless of how he felt personally, he didn't judge me on it. So, I asked him if I could bring Millie by tonight, and cook with her.

Mr. Parks agreed. Although, I thought he would be here too. I brought Millie here without telling her exactly where we were going. When we entered the building, I walked back to my normal classroom.

There are 20 long counters in the room. Each with their own stove and ovens. Cupboards filled with pots and pans as well. There is a huge walk in refrigerator, and freezer in the back of the room too. When I had walked in though, no one was here. There is a note sitting on top of my normal station. I recognized Mr. Parks handwriting immediately.

Atlas,

I thought perhaps you could be the teacher tonight. Have fun. Clean up after yourself. And tell your partners I said hello.

~ TJ Parks

I smiled at the note, and then turned to Millie.

"Looks like it's just you and I babygirl."

"Like this?" Millie asked me as she rolled out the dough.

"No, no. Let me show you." I told her.

I stepped behind Millie, and grabbed her hands in mine. She's got her hands wrapped around the rolling pin. My babygirl was going way too fast.

I dipped my lips next to her ear.

"Like this. Nice and slow." I said.

A shiver ran through Millie's body. I've been teasing her the entire time we've been here. Honestly, she could have kept rolling out the dough the way she was. It wouldn't have mattered. I just want to keep touching her. "Okay, let's put it in the pie pan, put our filling in, and then you can decorate the top." I told her.

I watched Millie as she took her time decorating the top of our blueberry pie with raw dough. She hummed to herself the entire time. I watched her, completely captivated. I've never seen someone so beautiful in my entire life. "Okay, how's it look?" Millie asked me.

"It looks amazing baby." I said as I grabbed it, and slipped it in the oven.

"You didn't even look at it." Millie pouted.

I shut the oven as I chuckled at her. Then I took a step forward to pin her to the counter. My hands fell to her hips. I've never been so happy to see her in a dress before. Especially the same pink one I've stripped from her body so many times. Millie's hands fell to my chest instantly. She's so much more comfortable with us now. I remember when she was trying so hard to push us all away. Man am I glad those days are over.

I lifted Millie up, and set her on the counter top. She let out a small squeal as she clung to my shirt. I just pushed my face into the crook of her neck. My lips fell to her skin in a soft kiss. "Atlas, what are you doing?" Millie asked.

She's already breathless.

I placed another kiss, to her most sensitive spot.

"I want a snack while we wait for our pie." I told her.

"S-sn-snack?" She stuttered out.

I moved my hands up her thighs, under her dress. Millie shivered under my touch, igniting me in ways only Millie can. I moved my lips down, as I moved my hands up.

I fell to my knees in front of her. I'm the perfect height to stare right at her soaked white panties. Millie tried to close her legs, but I held them open.

"No, I said I want a snack." I told her.

"A-Atlas.. I.. I don't think we should do this here." She said.

My eyes flickered up to her light green ones.

"But you look so ready. Your pussy is practically begging me to slurp it up." I said.

Then I pressed a kiss to the side of her knee. Millie's eyes fluttered, and I smirked. I started kissing up her thigh. Millie's hand pushed through my hair. "A-are you su-sure Atlas?" Millie asked. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I wrapped my hands around her thighs, and pulled her ass to the edge of the counter.

"Oh, I'm more than sure." I said.

Millie's py is right in front of my face. My tongue darted out to lick her over her wet panties. Millie moaned, and then slapped her hand over her mouth. "Make sure to be quiet babygirl. Someone might hear you." I teased.

No one would hear her. We are completely alone in this building. I know that, but Millie doesn't.

"Don't worry baby, I'll make this quick. I have to anyways, our pie will be done soon." I said.

Millie only gave me a muffled moan in return. I chuckled at her, making her shiver once more. Then I licked her again. My tongue pressed to her covered ct.

I bet I can get her to cum with her underwear on. Now I'm determined. I licked, and even sucked all of Millie that I can. She's completely soaked through her panties.

Millie's moans are starting to fill the room. She still has a hand slapped over her mouth, but it's doing little to help. Her other hand is still in my hair, holding my head to her.

I nibbled on Millie's clit, and that was her undoing. Her other hand flew to my head as she called out my name. I licked, and slurped up all of the juices that spilled out of her. Then I kissed back up Millie's body until my lips met hers. A ringing in the background had me pulling away from her. Both of us are panting.

"Pie's done."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 18

Leo's P.O.V.

"Ahem."

All of us looked up to see Professor Knight. Eli and I shared a confused look. Professor Knight never comes by this late. He usually lets his TA handle this program. Why's he here now?

I hope it has something to do with Teresa. After the events of last weekend, I told Professor Knight about Teresa the following Monday. I let him know that she is not taking this program seriously at all. It's been distracting for all of us here. Not only that, but she has been invading my privacy on an almost stalker level.

I had told Professor Knight that I wasn't trying to make trouble, but that something needed to be done about Teresa. Eli went with me to back me up. I didn't ask him too, but apparently he had his own things he wanted to add in. Like how Teresa broke into his apartment after that night at the bar, looking for me. Why she thought I was there, I have no idea.

Bitch is fucking crazy.

Apparently, we were not the first to bring something like this to the Professor's attention. Everyone had a complaint about Teresa. I guess this wasn't the first time that she had acted this crazy. "Professor Knight, how are ya?" Devon asked him.

"Fine Devon, thank you." Professor Knight replied before clearing his throat. "As I'm sure you have all noticed that Teresa was not here today. It has been brought to my attention that she had been invading the privacy of a few of you. There was an investigation opened on her by the school." He told us.

Probably due to breaking into Eli's apartment. This school takes that kind of thing very seriously. Whether if be a male or female breaking in. Too many horror stories going on out there now a days. I'm happy this school takes it as seriously as they do though. "Anyways, she will not be back to the program, or regular class. I will not be adding a 12th member at this point. It's too late in the case. I expect all of you to finish up, work together so that we can win this case. When we restart the program I will be replacing Teresa. Possibly more of you if we don't win this case." He threatened.

Professor Knight narrowed his eyes at all of us before sighing.

"That is all. Why don't you all get going for the night. Enjoy the rest of your weekend. See ya Monday." He said, and then walked out of the room.

Debbie, Eli, and Devon all turned to me.

"What?" I asked.

"What did she do?" Debbie asked.

I shrugged.

"She broke into my apartment looking for Leo last weekend." Eli said amused.

I rolled my eyes at him.

"This is great!" Debbie exclaimed. "Not only do we not have to deal with her anymore, but now you can tell your partners!" She said.

I nodded to her as I started to pack up everything. Speaking of my partners.. I can't wait to get back to them. Atlas and Millie should be home soon. Oli is probably already home. Hopefully Milo will be home soon too. "We still all getting drinks tomorrow night?" Devon asked.

"Yup, we'll be there." I said, and then narrowed my eyes at him. "If you hit on my girlfriend I will punch you in the dk."

With that, I walked out.

Millie's P.O.V.

I leaned back against our couch, and stretched my hands above my head. I felt my bones crack slightly. Leaving a smug smile on my face. "Tired angel?" Oliver asked me.

We've been sitting around our coffee table for a few hours now. And by we, I mean all of us. Oliver, me, Leo, and Milo. While Atlas dotes on us all.

It's the first Saturday of our new plan to make things work for all of us. We've all been pretty silent while we work on our personal assignments. Atlas has had some music playing in the kitchen, but it hasn't been distracting for anyone. "Yeah, but I'm finally done with this paper. Will you proof read it when you get a minute?" I asked as I handed Oli my rough draft.

"I can right now. I've been done with my stuff for a while." He replied.

I stared at him wide eyed. Milo's head snapped up to give him the same look I am. Of course Leo looks completely unbothered.

"You finished that fast?" Milo asked.

Oli nodded as he skimmed over my paper.

"You had so much though.." Milo said sounding defeated.

Oli chuckled.

"Most of what I had was just homework. Simple assignments. You guys all have tests, and big papers due. I didn't have anything that major this week." He replied.

I gave him a bored look. Milo still doesn't seem convinced that Oli isn't a super scientist or something. Leo, however, just threw his own papers at Oliver.

"Good, you can go over my papers too." He said.

"Orrrrr, you all can take a break." Atlas said as he set down a tray of sandwiches in front of us.

"Homemade bread." I practically whined out.

I snatched up a sandwich, and happily began eating. Oli reached for a sandwich too, but without taking his eyes off of my paper. Neither Milo or Leo reached for them though. I frowned.

"Hey." I said getting their attention. "We agreed not to push ourselves. Take a break to eat with Atlas and I. And be present for it." I ordered.

Oli put down my paper, and turned to me. Giving me his full attention. Milo threw down his pen, and blew out a breath before taking a sandwich of his own. Leo... did nothing. "Leo." I scolded.

"Just let me finish this... sentence... and... done." He said.

Leo threw his pen down before grabbing a sandwich. I smiled brightly at all of them. Then I leaned my head on Atlas's knee.

This is perfect.

"How is your guys' work coming along?" I asked them.

"Well, I have a test on Monday that I'm terrified of. Almost done with this paper though, and I finished the rest of my assignments." Milo said.

"So, this is working out for you then? You don't feel too tired?" I asked.

Milo smirked at me. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I'm doing great cupcake, thank you for pulling me out of my slump." He said.

I gave him a smile, before turning to Leo.

"What about you?" I asked.

"Yeah, you doing good? Or is Teresa still up your ass?" Milo asked annoyed.

I huffed, completely agreeing with his annoyance.

"Actually, I wanted to talk to all of you about her." Leo said.

All of us turned our attention to Leo. Oh, he better not be telling us that she pulled some other shit. I swear I will kill that girl. She's a totally looney, who's after my man- "Teresa has been kicked out of school." Leo said interrupting my thoughts.

All of us stared at him stunned.

"Uh, what?" Oli was the first to recover.

Leo nodded. "On Monday I told Professor Knight about her invading my privacy. She also distracts a lot of other people in the group, and doesn't take the program seriously. My friend Eli went with me. Apparently, Teresa had broken into his apartment last week looking for me." My eye brows shot up. I knew that chick was nuts. I didn't think she was that nuts though.

"So, the school opened up an investigation. I have no idea what happened after that, other than she is no longer at school." Leo finished.

All of us just continued to stare at him. We wanted Teresa away from Leo, all of us. But.. I don't think that we were expecting her to get kicked out of school.

"Well.." Milo said breaking our silence. "Fuck Teresa!" He exclaimed before taking a bite of his sandwich.

"Yeah Fk Teresa." Oli agreed.

"Yeah, fuck her." I agreed.

All of us burst into laughter.

This is what I really needed from them. What they needed from each other, and myself. All of us just being together.

Once again, I feel like this will work. We talked about how we were feeling, and now we are taking action. All of us have compromised, and found out what works best for each other.

I met Oli's friends, and they were great. They even get together with Oli and I to study sometimes. Although, they bring a whole new meaning to smart. Especially Caine. Dude is like insanely genius.

Atlas took me to his school yesterday for a little date between the two of us. I think it was his way of getting me out of the apartment when our partners weren't here. Atlas might have been afraid of me feeling some way again. I didn't blame him, and I was extremely grateful for him to take me to a place so special. Even if I didn't get to meet his teacher.

Milo has changed his schedule at the hospital. He now works there, Wednesday-Friday nights, and every other Saturday. I was a little worried at first about his sleeping. How was he going to handle being up so late, and having school the next day? It's only been this week, but Milo seems to be handling it well. I can feel him come home around midnight every night. He snuggles up to me, and falls asleep almost instantly. It's very nice.

Leo has tried his best to come home earlier every night. Although, it hasn't been much earlier. Maybe a half an hour, but.. He has been being more present when he is here. Leo also invited us to meet his friends tonight too. We are all going to some bar that apparently we can all drink at.

I'm excited to meet them. Oli's friends were great. Leo is great so I know that the people he keeps around him are great. I'm excited to have more friends too.

I still tutor Tristan. I know that it annoys my boyfriends to no end, so.. I compromised without telling them really. I told Tristan that we will never be tutoring alone, and that he better keep his distance. I also came completely clean about my relationship to him. I believe I ended it with:

"So, if you wanna keep pushing your luck.. Just know that I have four boyfriends. Two have already beat people up over me."

I think that Tristan thought that I was joking at first. So, I made sure that Oli was there the next time we met up. When he couldn't be there, I made Lila come. Just to ease everyone's minds.

Then, Atlas took it upon himself to start coming to the school library. Every single day. I don't think that it's a not trusting me issue, but a 'I need to show this fucker that I'm not letting him touch my girl' thing. Whatever the reason.. I don't care. I love having Atlas there with me every day.

All of us finally found balance. We're happy once again. Just another bump in the road that we all made it through. And we always will. We just have to keep trying, for each other.

I never thought it was possible, to fall more in love with them.

- Two Years Later ~

"Alright guys, don't forget that your papers are due on Monday, and we have a test!" I shouted as everyone started leaving class.

Not that any of them really listen to me. Some did bring me their papers early though. Dropping them off on Professor Homak's desk in front of me. I rolled my eyes at them after they just tossed the papers to me. Geez, you'd think that these overachievers would have some manners in the least.

"It doesn't get better."

I turned my head to see Professor Homak fiddling with the projector, preparing for her next class.

"Huh?" I asked.

Professor Homak stood, and turned to me. She gave me a knowing smile as she walked over to her desk. I handed her the papers, which she stuffed in her bag.

"I can hear you huffing under your breath. You're annoyed at the mannerless college students." She teased, and then gave me a pointed look. "It doesn't change."

I smiled at her as I rolled my eyes

"Would it kill them to hand me the assignments, instead of throwing them at me?" I asked

Professor Homak snorted

"You know that they are just jealous Millie. I doubt that they will change. A lot of those overachievers wanted this TA spot too." She told me.

I know that Professor Homak is right. There were a lot of her students that wanted this position. I was just bribed to get it. I don't regret it at all.

Tristan has turned into a promising student. Dude got himself a girlfriend too. Which made things way easier. The girl, Anne, comes to study with us a lot. Shes a sweet little book worm. Totally not what I thought Tristan would be into. But hey, it works for them. It also made my boyfriends much happier. Which is great because Atlas no longer has the time to sneak over her to sit with us after classes. Not that it has stopped Oli.

"See ya later Professor." I called as I walked out.

"Bye Millie. See you Monday." She called back.

I walked down the hall feeling sluggish. I've been so tired lately. I thought I was just really stressed out, but I don't know. We are only about a month in to the new school year.

Well, almost two. It's late October now.

Maybe being a TA, along with all my other classes is starting to take it's toll on me. Which doesn't make that much sense. I don't remember being this beat last year.

I sighed as I made my way out of the building. Oli is waiting for me on the stairs with JJ, Ben, and another guy I don't know. The moment Oliver's eyes connected with mine, a bright smile spread across his handsome face. "Hey angel." Oli said once I made it to him

He wrapped his arms around me. Pulling me to him. And pressed his lips to mine. I melted into Oli as I kissed him back. I love his lips so much. So juicy.

"Okay, okay. We get it. Ya'll are happily in love." JJ groaned behind us.

Oli and I pulled apart to turn to look at JJ. We both raised a brow at him. JJ is usually all about the affection my boyfriend's and I show in our relationship. Usually he's making kissing noises behind us. Or teasing us in some way. "Having a bad day JJ?" I asked.

JJ rolled his hazel eyes.

"I guess." He said.

Oli snorted.

"He has this huge crush on Cece. Asked her out this morning, and was shot down." He told me.

I turned to face Oli

"Cece, like. from my get togethers Cece?" I asked

Oli nodded

"Don't rub it in." JJ said

My head snapped to him, then back to Oli. I want to ask if JJ is aware that Cece is a s* assault victim, but.. if he doesn't I don't want to be the one to out her buisness.

Oli shook his head as if to tell me that JJ doesn't know. I gave Oli a nod, and then turned back to JJ. He actually looks very sad.

"I can talk to her if you wa""

"No way." JJ said cutting me off. "I don't want to have other people convince her to let me take her out. I'll do it myself." He said determined. Ben snorted at that.

"Just. be gentle. Cece is.. not like other girls JJ." I told him.

"I know. That's why I like her so much." He said.

"I didn't even know that you knew each other." I said as we started walking down the street.

"We have a few classes together. She's really smart." He replied.

I smiled as I watched JJ's face. I think it's so sweet that a goofball like JJ likes smart girls. It's like a damn theme around here these days

My eyes Nickered to the member of our group that I don't know. He's a Hispanic man, about our age. He has shaggy dark brown hair, and deep brown eyes. He's about Ben's height, and is staying really close to Ben too. Could he be. Ben's boy friend?

"Uh, hi there. I don't think we've met. I'm Millie." I introduced myself as we continued to walk.

The man turned to give me a bright warm smile. Yup. I like him. If he isn't Ben's boyfriend now, he will be soon.

"I'm Tony. Nice to meet you Millie." He replied.

I smiled back at him.

"So, you new?" I asked.

Ben hasn't exactly come out yet. Honestly, I'm not 100% sure that he's gay, but I am almost positive. I think that he confided in Oli at one point. Not that Oli would ever tell us something like that when the person isn't even out yet. However, I did catch Atlas and Oli arguing in private one day. Seems that Atlas is very jealous of Ben. Leaving me to wonder what exactly it was that Ben told Oli.

I don't think Ben would ever make a move on my boyfriend.

He's way too sweet for that. Ben respects that Oli is in a relationship. Maybe he asked to be a part of our dynamic or something?

Whatever it was it's in the past now. Happened last year. Nothing to dwell on anymore. Ben is still our friend.

Tony's eyes Nickered to Ben. So mine did too. Ben stopped, squared his shoulders, and took a deep breath, making all of us pause a few steps ahead of him.

"I'm gay, and Tony is my boyfriend!" He declared.

My eyebrows shot up. Oli is desperately trying to hold in his laughter. JJ looks stunned to the bone. Like he never even guessed his best friend likes men. Tony is also trying to hide in his laughter..

Poor Ben looks so flustered though. He has his chin jutting out, but I can detect the blush tinting his dark skin. I put my hand over my mouth to hide my own laughter.

Tony grabbed Ben's hand in his, and brought it to his lips.

Ben's entire body slumped as he stared lovingly at his partner. They are so cute together.

"I'm so happy for you guys." I said.

"Yeah same." Oli agreed.

Ben gave us a sheepish look.

"Guess I didn't have to shout it like that." He mumbled.

"No, no. I think it was great." I said.

Ben gave me a bored look.

"No really" Tony said as he kissed Ben's knuckles again. "It means a lot to me. More than you know" He said happily

"Awh. Oli, look. They are so adorable." I whispered loudly

Ben turned another bored look to me. Oli and I busted out in laughter. Although, JJ has yet to say anything.

"Everyone is fuckin' fallin' in love except me." JJ finally groaned.

I gave him an incredulous look.

"Oh my god JJ. Your best friend just came out to you, and all you can think about is yourself." I said.

With that, I turned to start walking again. Oli and I are headed home. The guys frat house is close to the bus station though, so usually they walk us there. It's very sweet. I see why they became friends with Oli so fast. They are all great people who've I've grown to care a lot about. JJ scoffed as he caught up to me.

"I am not thinking about myself Amelia. I'm thinking about Cece! And her long brown hair. And those bright blue eyes.

And that beautiful smile." He said dreamily.

Okay, dude has it bad. I am definitely talking to Cece. No way that I can just mind my business, and stay out of his. Not happening.

"Does it not make you happy to know that Ben felt comfortable enough to tell us about his sexuality?" I asked JJ

"Tell us?" JJ asked. "Dude screamed it to the whole campus."

I rolled my eyes. Oli smacked JJ on the back of the head.

Ben and Tony snickered at that. SEAR*ch the FindNøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Don't be a douche." Oli stated simply.

JJ rolled his eyes, but stayed quiet. For a total of one minute. I don't even think that we made it more than five steps before JJ opened his mouth again.

"So, who's the top, and who's the bottom?"

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 20

I was the first to wake up in the morning. It's a Saturday that Milo is home, so all of us are in bed. I rolled onto my side, and snuggled up to Milo. I'm so unbelievably fg horny that I think I might explode. How can I be this horny when I just woke up? I didn't even have a wet dream. My core is throbbing. Should I wake them up? I should just wake them up.

But.. This is one of the only days that they get to sleep in. The clock next to our bed says it's only 8 a.m. Maybe I should let them sleep longer. Oliver slung his arm over my middle in his sleep. I unintentionally wiggled my a*s back against him. Oli groaned in his sleep.

I wish that I would have went to bed naked last night. Then Oli's hands would be skimming my bare stomach. My nipples would be right- Shit, I'm working myself up.

Suddenly, Oli's hand twitched up. The action made Atlas's shirt that I'm wearing ride up. Now my a*s and py are exposed.

I wiggled against Oliver a little more. I just want him to wake up, and actually touch me. It doesn't seem to be working, but.. I managed to wiggle my shirt up even more.

Oliver rolled onto his other side, leaving me. I pouted quietly. I was so close to getting him to wake up too. Now he's all snuggled with Atlas.

That also means that I'm free to strip right out of this shirt though.

I sat up carefully, and stripped the shirt over my head. I tossed it to the side of the room before snuggling back under the covers. I pushed myself into Milo.

My intention was just to get some skin to skin contact. But then my hard nipples scraped against Milo's arm. An unintentional moan tumbled from my lips.

My eyes went wide. What the hell is wrong with me? I know that I'm horny, but I really just moaned from rubbing myself up against Milo. He's asleep for fuck's sake.

I pulled away from Milo slightly. I need to get a hold of myself. I can wait for them to wake up. Then I can pounce on them.

Oliver threw his arm over me again. My body instantly melted into him. He's so warm.. Search The FindNovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Oli's fingers grazed over my stomach, working their way up. His fingers skimmed my hard nipples making me push myself fully into his hand. Then he started massaging my breast. Oh god, he better not still be asleep.

Atlas's loud snore had me going rigid. He scared the absolute fk out of me. Oliver turned over to wrap his arms around Atlas. I could have thrown a tantrum right then and there.

I was so close to getting Oli to wake up on his own. Just him playing with me like that has me almost in tears. Why am I so pent up like this? Didn't I just get f*d last night? Always visit for more novels and updates

I looked up at Milo's sleeping face. He was the only one not here last night because he was at the hospital. Milo has been keeping up to the schedule we made a couple years ago. It works out well for him.

The same has been going for all of us. We still spend the weekends together. Still study, and work on homework on Saturdays. The only difference, is Atlas.

Atlas finished culinary school. He even got his business license. Over the last year he has been working in his teacher's, Mr. Parks, restaurant. Atlas said he wants more experience before opening up his own place. Although, I did hear Mr. Parks tell Atlas that a new space is available to rent close by. He said it would be perfect for a restaurant. I just hope Atlas takes the chance. He would be so good-

My thoughts were interrupted by Milo rolling over to face me. He slung his arm around my waist, and pulled me flush against him. Milo even pushed one of his legs between mine. I can feel his thigh rub against my throbbing core.

I chewed on my bottom lip to not moan. Then Milo started to wiggle around in his sleep. Oh fk. I am not about to c*m all over Milo's leg. I have to do something.

I pressed my lips to Milo's bare chest. His body instantly relaxed making me feel happy. Even in his sleep I can make him feel calm.

I kissed all over Milo's bare chest. I even started licking, and sucking on him. I'm getting way more into this than I should be.

Milo groaned softly. I looked at his face just as his eyes fluttered open. Relief flooded my system. Finally, I can beg to be f*d.

"Good morning cupcake." Milo whispered to me.

I grabbed Milo's hand, and dragged it up my body slowly. Making myself moan when he skimmed my n*e. Then I nibbled on the tips of his fingers. "Daddy please.. I need you to help me." I begged softly.

Milo's dick sprung to attention immediately. He moved his leg from mine, and pushed his hips forward. Letting me feel just how hard my statement made him.

I moaned softly as I took in his pointer and middle fingers into my mouth. Milo's eyes glazed over as he watched me. I sucked on his fingers as drool pooled out of the corners of my mouth. "You miss me that much cupcake?" He asked.

"Mhmm." I moaned around his fingers.

I let Milo's fingers go with a pop. I shoved on his chest making him turn on his back. Milo shimmed out of his basketball shorts. Then I crawled right on top of him.

"I can't wait anymore Milo." I whined.

"Don't baby. Let me take care of you." He replied.

Milo gripped my hips, and slammed me down on top of him. I moaned so loud that I'm pretty sure I woke up our others. Not that that stopped Milo.

"Did daddy's little cum slut just cum? Already?" Milo teased. "I just put it in you."

"M-Milo.." I moaned.

Holy shit. My orgasm is not dying down. In fact, I think it's building up. How is that possible?

I've had plenty of orgasms that lasted.. well forever. None of them were like this. They didn't get more intense the longer I got f*d.

"Wow, what a beautiful sight to wake up to." Oli said.

I looked at him as Milo bounced me on his dick.

"Y-y-you.. s-started it.." I moaned out.

Oli's eyebrows shot up.

"Me?" He asked.

"Y-yeah. Y-you.. were.. touching me.. It was.. too much.." I moaned out. "Oh god, Milo!"

My front fell onto Milo. I pressed my lips to his in a desperate kiss. Holy fuck this feels amazing.

"Stay bent over like that angel." Oliver ordered.

I felt Oli's hands skim across my ass. Excitement jolted through me making me moan louder. It even made my o*m more intense.

Oliver moved his hand to my ass hole. He pushed a lubed finger inside of me making me scream out in pleasure. This is amazing. When did he even get the lube? "If this was my fault, then I guess I should help take care of it." Oli said.

"You want that baby? You want Oli and me to fill you up with our c*m?" Milo asked.

"P-p-please.." I begged.

Oli pushed the head of his cock to my back entrance. More excitement flowed through me. Then he pushed himself inside of me.

We moaned together. My body melted against Milo as Oli started to thrust in and out of me. My orgasm is still going, still building. I'm seeing stars.

"That looks so fun." Leo said.

"Hmmm." I moaned out as I smiled.

"Oli, grab her hands, and pull her arms back." Leo orderd.

Oli grabbed both of my wrists, and pulled my arms back. My body lifted slightly. The new angle has a slight change, but oh fuck does it feel fucking great.

Milo folded his hands behind his head. He's looking up at me with a wide smile spread across his face. His dark blue eyes sparkling with excitement.

"Atlas, play with her nipples." Leo ordered.

Atlas reached over, and pinched both of my nipples. I screamed out in pleasure. All of this.. it's so.. it's too..

My entire body started to shake uncontrollably. I think that my orgasm finally reached it's peak. There is no more building. Only electricity rushing through my body. Pure, amazing, electricity. "Are you okay Millie?" Oli asked as he slowed.

"D-d-d-dooonn't-t-t s-s-s-stooopp-p-p." I stuttered out.

Drool fell from my bottom lip onto Milo's chest.

"Oh fuck, I think I'm gonna cum." Milo said.

"Let's cum together." Oli said.

I hope he doesn't mean me too. I don't think I can cum more than I am right now. I can't even see straight.

Oli thrust into me again. Harder this time. His grip on me tightened.

"Now Milo." Oli said.

One more thrust, and Oli twitched behind me. I felt Milo jolt slightly under me. Then Oli let go of my wrists. I fell onto Milo's chest in a heap.

Leo moved some hair from my face. His deep green eyes are full of worry. I'm panting like I just ran a marathon.

"Are you okay princess?" Leo asked.

I opened my mouth, but no words came out. My eyes rolled back, and fluttered shut. I think I want to go back to sleep.

Suddenly I was lifted up. Oliver had pulled out of me already, but I was lifted off of Milo. Only to be set in Leo's lap.

Oh man, I don't think I can go another round right now.

"It's fine if you want to sleep baby, but I want you to drink this first." Leo said.

My eyes opened just enough to see Leo push a water bottle to my lips. He tipped it back, and I drank greedily. Water even poured down the side of my face, down my chest. After I drank the entire bottle, Leo cradled me in his arms.

"Go ahead, and go back to sleep princess. I got you."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 21

I woke up again, still in my bed. My groggy eyes opened to see Milo sitting up on one side of me. Schoolwork in his lap. A pen between his teeth.

Leo is on my other side, sitting up as well. He has a paper in his hand, and a pen tucked behind his ear. Leo looks focused. Must be proof reading one of his own papers for once.

I groaned as I rolled over to wrap my arms around Leo's legs. I put my head on his lap, and sighed. Both of them are still shirtless and just in basketball shorts. I can feel Leo's heat roll off of him in waves. It's so warm, so cuddly. "Good morning princess." Leo said as he sat his paper down on the bedside table.

I can feel Milo shift behind me. A second later his arms wrapped around me. Milo's arms engulfed me as he squeezed me to his chest. He kissed my cheek before snuggling his face in my hair.

"How are you feeling?" Leo asked me.

I smiled up at him.

"I feel fine." I told him.

Leo inspected me like he doesn't believe me. I frowned up at him. He looks worried. I don't understand why though.

"You had us worried cupcake." Milo told me.

I turned my head to look at him.

"Why?" I asked confused.

Leo put two fingers under my chin, and guided my eyes back to his. My god, he is so beautiful. Those deep green eyes. That square jaw. Even his brooding vibe. I love him so much.

"Millie, you had a very intense orgasm, and then passed out. Do you not remember that?" Leo asked.

I furrowed my brow.

"I remember, I just don't understand why it made you guys so worried." I said.

Leo frowned at me.

"Because you can usually go for multiple rounds no matter how intense your os are." He told me.

I sat up, and waved my hand in the air.

"I was just tired. It was early, and you guys had me up late last night." I argued.

"Us?"

I whipped my head to the doorway to see Atlas walking in with a huge lopsided grin on his face. I smiled back at him. Atlas plopped down on the bed, and crawled to settle inbetween my legs with his head on my lap. "Yeah you." I said with a giggle.

Atlas chuckled.

"I am pretty sure that you were the one begging for more babygirl. You were all like 'oh teddy bear more! Oh Oli faster! Oh Leo harder!'" He teased.

I giggled at his mocking.

"I miss everything." Milo grumbled.

I turned to give Milo a quick kiss.

"That's why I jumped you this morning. Because we missed you too. A lot." I told him.

Milo gave me a small smile.

"I missed you too baby. All of you." He said, and then looked at Atlas. "Even you." He teased.

Atlas sat up on his knees. He moved to Milo, and grabbed him by the head. Then Atlas started to place kisses all over Milo's face. Milo wiggled, and fought against it while laughing.

"Alright alright! Atlas stop." Milo said still laughing.

Atlas released him before sitting back against me. His back is to my side with his legs over Milo. I wrapped an arm around Atlas, and kissed his head.

"Where is Oli?" I asked.

"Right here angel."

I looked up to see Oli walk into our room next. He gave me a bright smile as he crawled on the bed to give us all a kiss. Even Leo and Milo.

Leo and Milo have gotten more used to kissing Atlas and Oli. They don't make out or anything. Just quick little kisses. It's nice to see that it's all normal for us now. We all deserve to feel loved and wanted.

Oli settled himself on our bed. He's between my legs with his back to my front. Atlas leaned his head on me. Milo moved closer to join our little cuddle puddle. Then I looked at Leo.

Leo is still staring at me like he's waiting for me to cry out in pain or something. I raised a brow at him, but he still didn't move. Then I settled for a pout. My pouting has never worked on Leo before, but that never stops me from trying. Leo rolled his eyes at me before moving in closer to us. He kissed the top of my head, and wrapped an arm around my shoulders. I smiled.

This is perfect. I love this. All of us being together like this. Two years ago when we were going through our rough patch, I thought it would be like that forever. I thought we were all going to drift apart. I'm so glad that we made things work. Mom was right. Communication is key. We all will remember that now. All of us communicate everything.

Not that anything special has happened over the last two years. The biggest thing has to be Atlas graduating culinary school. Atlas told us that he wants to own a restaurant. He also let us know how much work that would entail.

All of us were happy for him. Still are. Atlas might have some late nights being a business owner, but we will make it work. Just like we always do.

Other than that, things have been quiet. I still get together with my girls of the SA program. Although, I only do that once a week now. I'm just too busy with being a TA. Professor Homak keeps me pretty busy. She does like to handle a lot of grading on her own though, so it's not that bad.

I still meet up with Lila, Tristan, Anne, and Oli every day after school for studying. Sometimes Oli goes to see his friends instead. Sometimes those goons come to hang out with us in the library. I don't think they ever study. They're fucking unbelievably smart. We've also met Leo's friends. I love Debbie. She is a really smart woman who doesn't take shit from anyone. That girl is going to make a great lawyer.

Devon is such a playboy. His joking demeanour reminds me a lot of Milo. Only Milo is cuter, and way less annoying. I'm kind of shocked that Leo is friends with someone as high strung as Devon, but he's a good dude.

Eli is a lot like Leo. Like.. a lot. Only, Eli seems a bit more chill. They both have that whole brooding, grumpy vibe, but Eli actually cracks a smile here and there. He even makes jokes. Leo only does that kind of thing with us in private. My boo bear is not a people person.

It seems that their program has been doing well too. No one has heard from Teresa since she was kicked out. Not that we know of anyways. They won the case too!

We found out that as this program goes it gets smaller. It starts for all the freshmen. Professor Knight picks out 12 students to work on a low ranking case. The next year he cuts the students down to eight. Their junior year, this year for us, he cuts it down to six. Next year there will only be four of them.

Personally, I think it'll be Leo and his friends. Maybe not Devon, but the others for sure. From what I have seen, and heard, Leo, Debbie, and Eli are the ones that take this the most serious. The other students are preoccupied with youth. Parties, relationships, friends. That kind of thing.

Milo's schooling has been the same. He and Leo will be going to school longer than the rest of us. I'm very proud of all of the work they do. Milo's grade point average has also skyrocketed since we got him out of his own head. Turns out that studying with us has been an immense help for him.

My smile widened as I looked at them all. We're really doing it. All of us are really making this work while we also follow our dreams. We're building a real life together.

Everyone was so against us in the beginning. Hell, I was against us at first. Look at us now.. We've been together for three-ish years. We have our ups and downs like any normal couple, but we work things out.

Some of our parents, a.k.a my dad, don't agree or understand our relationship still. That's still okay though. I think that Dad's starting to warm up to it. Especially since we've been doing well in school, and overall maintaining life. Dad can't complain too much because of that.

"So, what do you want to do today baby?" Milo asked. "I still got some homework to do, but maybe it can wait until later." He said with a dazzling smile.

I smiled back at him.

"Can we just stay like this for a little longer? Watch a movie?" I asked.

Milo smiled back at me.

"Okay, but you need to put clothes on." He said. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I'll get some food." Atlas said.

"I'll get drinks." Oli added.

"Anything else you want princess?" Leo asked.

I shook my head as I looked at him.

"No, this is perfect."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 22

Leo's P.O.V.

Millie has been acting strange lately. I'm not sure the others have noticed yet. I mean, her passing out on us after only one round kind of freaked us all out. I'm still not sure the others have really noticed though.

I started noticing a change in my girl about two weeks ago. Millie has been very tired lately. After going to sleep at 8 p.m. one night, she slept through her alarm the next morning. It's a good thing that she has us here. Oli and I had to wake her up. Millie has also not been eating as much as normal. I've noticed her look at things with disgust, and simply tell us she isn't hungry. None of us have pressed it much. I still have noticed it though.

Since when does Millie turn down food?

At first I had thought that Millie's fatigue was due to her not eating enough. That can't be it though. While Millie pushes a way a lot of food.. There will be random times during the day that she binge eats. Usually when she's at home with us. And I know that she at least eats a little bit during her lunch.

I chalked it up to her being stressed. Millie has new classes, harder classes this year. She's still a TA for one of the hardest professors here. Millie still goes to her SA program, she still tutors that shit head, still makes time for all of us. I'm sure that all of that is taking it's toll on her.

Our girl's lust hasn't died down at all though. That's another thing all in it's own. It's almost like Millie is insatiable. She's constantly horny. No matter how much we give her. Sure, Millie gets tired, but she's right back to wanting us a half hour later. Millie's lust isn't just that either. It's like a deep need takes over in her. Like if she isn't satisfied immediately, it's overwhelming for her.

At first, I thought that she was just being greedy like normal. I thought maybe she was feeling extra sensitive that day. I was having fun teasing, and torturing her. Millie was so much more eager to let me do what I wanted with her. It was fun.

Only, it wasn't just one time like I thought. It's been a constant lately. The simplest touch sets her off. Just like Saturday morning.

I knew that Millie was awake. I could see her squirm around as Oliver flopped from her to Atlas over and over. I also saw her sit up, and strip out of her clothes.

I wanted to see what Millie would do next. I would have given her that release she wanted so badly, but.. I knew that Millie wanted Milo. He didn't get to join us the night before. So, I let them have their moment.

Millie's orgasm was intense. More than any other I've ever seen her have, and I would know. Millie's entire body shook. Her eyes rolled back. It looked hot as hell don't get me wrong. I wanted her next. I had full intentions of making her ride me as soon as she came down from that high.

Then she fucking passed out. I had ordered Oliver to go get a bottle of water. I just needed Millie to drink it, and then she could go to sleep. I was worried that maybe she wasn't hydrated enough. That her o*m had taken too much out of her, along with being dehydrated. That was all I could think of that she would be so worn out after only one round.

The girl has made our partners use their safe words more than I have.

Now, I'm not so sure that was the reason though.

Millie woke up three hours after that. She looked completely healthy, and totally unbothered. Our girl didn't even understand why we were so worried. She just looked happy to be surrounded by all of us. Something is definitely wrong.

Is Millie sick? Maybe she has some kind of bug? Mono maybe?

Fuck, I hope that isn't it. I need my girl healthy. Always. I don't ever want Millie to even get a cold. I'll just have to keep my eye on her more. Maybe I should stop at the store before I head home, and get her some Zinc. "Earth to Leo!"

A hand waved in front of my face. I shook my head to clear my thoughts. Then I looked up at a frowning Debbie.

"Sorry, what?" I asked.

Debbie rolled her eyes, and crossed her arms. She looked be up and down before narrowing her eyes. I matched her look.

"What?" I bit out.

"Don't get an attitude with me Leo. Where the hell is your head at? We've been talking to you for like 20 minutes, and you've just been staring into space." She complained.

Shit. I have? This Millie stuff has me compeltely stuck in my head. I'm just worried about her.

"Sorry." I mumbled.

"Are you okay Leo?" Eli asked.

"Yeah." I replied flatly.

"No really." Devon added sounding serious.

I looked up at their faces. Worry is written all over them. Shit, I was that out of it?

"Are you really okay? Is there anything you wanna talk about?" Devon asked.

"Uhm.." I mumbled.

I'm really not used to having friends outside of my partners. I know that it's been a few years now, but it's still strange to me. I'm still learning how to talk about things with my partners, let alone my friends. "You can talk to us about anything on your mind ya know." Debbie added as she took a seat next to me.

The four of us are still working on the case we've been assgined. The rest of our group has left already. My friends had nothing better to do tonight, and Millie is with Oli at the restaurant that Atlas works at. So, I figured it wouldn't hurt to stay for a bit. I thought about what Debbie said for a moment. I've been getting better about talking about things thanks to Millie. I still don't always like talking about shit, but.. Maybe I should.

I sighed as I ran a hand through my hair.

"I've just been worried about Millie." I admitted.

All eyes snapped to me.

"Millie? Is she okay?" Eli asked.

"I swear if you have another blonde bimbo following you around, and didn't tell her.." Debbie trailed off threateningly.

"Yeah, I'll help Debbie hide your body." Devon added.

I gave them all a bored look.

Millie has wiggled her way into the hearts of all of our new friends. I'm not surprised at all. All our girl needed was to get out of that horrible high school. For the world to get to know her. I knew that other people would be drawn to that light inside of her. Our girl has a way with people. It's her kindness. Millie is the most caring, and thoughtful person that I know. She really listens to everyone, and cares deeply about the good ones.

Like my friends. And they love her in return. I have no doubts that all three of my friends would take Millie's side in any fight we have. Even if she's in the wrong.

Which, Millie apparently never is.

"I didn't do anything, relax." I said with an eye roll. "Millie is fine. I think. She's just been acting weird lately." I told them.

"Weird how?" Devon asked.

I shrugged. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"She's way more tired than usual. Not eating as much as she used to. That kind of thing." I said.

I purposely left out the sex stuff. They don't need to know everything. Espeically Devon.

"I think she might be sick, or getting sick. I don't know." I said.

"Sounds like stress to me." Debbie said.

"Yeah, doesn't she, like, do a lot?" Devon asked.

I nodded.

"Yeah, I guess. Nothing that she hasn't been doing for the last two years though. That's why I'm a little worried." I told them.

"Nothing has changed for you guys has it?" Debbie asked.

I shook my head at her.

"No new jobs, new tasks, new big assignments for her?" Eli asked.

I shook my head again.

"Nothing. The last major thing that happened was Atlas graduating, and Millie getting that TA position. It's been a while since then though. Over a year." I said.

"Maybe she's homesick." Devon offered.

I never thought about that. I mean, school just started. We're only a few months into the school year now. Thanksgiving break is right around the corner though. We already planned to go home for that. Maybe I should go see Caleb, and see if we can get the families together.

Caleb started here this year. He and Lila have gotten an apartment of their own now. I'm really happy that they were able to work things out. I know that they had problems of their own. They made it work for two years though. Now Caleb is here, playing football for the school, and annoying Millie to no end.

I know that having Caleb here is like a little slice of home for Millie. Still, I'm sure she misses her parents. I know that we all miss ours sometimes. Maybe that's all it really is.

"Yeah, you guys are probably right. I'll just have to make Thanksgiving special for her."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 23

"Are you guys ready for Thanksgiving break?" Lila asked the group.

We all just sat down in our normal booth. Our SA group just ended. So, the normal five of us that hang out after came to our normal hang out.

It's a cafe type place. There is a lounge area, some tables and booths, and a stage. This place holds comdey nights, poetry nights, pretty much any night you can think. It's a nice hang out close to the college. Erika blew out a breath making her black bangs fly up.

"I'm ready to have a break from school that's for sure." She said.

"Pft, at least you get a break. I have three papers to write over the break." April complained.

I chuckled at them.

"What about you Mil?" Lila asked.

"Oh, I am completely ready. I cannot wait to see my mom.

I'm really happy that we are all doing Thanksgiving together too." I said.

A couple weeks ago Leo told me that he asked our parents if we could all do Thanksgiving dinner together. He said that it will be held at his house. Apparently Atlas is going to be in charge of cooking everything

I was really happy to hear that we would all be together. I know that Leo did that for me too. I really didn't want to have to spend the holiday away from my others. Again.

"Me 100. I get my best friend, and my boyfriend all on my favorite holiday." Lila said as she slung her arm around my shoulders.

I laughed at her.

"You say that like you don't live with your boyfriend." Erika grumbled.

Poor Erika is jealous. She wants a relationship of her own.

Something real. Which is hard to find in college as a SA survivor. Still, I have faith. Erika will find her other half one day.

"Hey, we spend like, the entire day apart, Do you even know how crazy college football is? They work Caleb way too much." Lila complained.

"Oh please. Your man is built like a damn brick. Don't act like you don't like it." April said.

I snorted at that. April has no idea. Caleb already had some muscle due to all the sports he played in high school. He's only been doing college football for a few months, and boy oh boy did he grow. Caleb is almost bigger than Atlas now. Lila sighed dreamily.

"He does have an ah-mazing body." She said

"Gross." I said

"Hey, don't yuck her yum." April scolded me.

I have her a disgusted look.

"I will yuck her yum all I want when her yum is my little brother." I said. "Oh god, that sounded so wrong coming out of my mouth." I groaned.

"Did you have to call him your little brother?" Lila complained.

"I mean, he is."

"I said lamely.

"Oh, he might be your younger brother, but I've seen that guy. Ain't nothing little about him." April said.

Lila and Erika laughed at that. I groaned as I zoned them out. I do not need to hear them gush over my little brother.

Although, I'm really happy that Caleb is here. I know that he and Lila had a lot of ups and downs. Actually, they broke up for a while. A whole year. Lila was the saddest I had ever seen her. Caleb wasn't doing well either.

They actually got back together over the summer, but if I'm going to be honest... I don't think they ever really broke up. I think they told themselves that, and everyone else. But I saw Caleb's car parked in the visitors lot quite a bit. There were also weekends that Lila would just disappear. Those two weren't fooling anyone.

I'm not sure what happened over the summer that got them back to a good place, but I'm happy it happened. I haven't seen Lila this happy in a long time. Caleb is adjusting well to college life too. I'm so happy that they finally found a happy flow in their relationship.

"Cece." I called her name.

Cece's blue eyes snapped to me at the sound of her name.

She's sitting across from me, next to April. The girl has been pretty silent all night. Cece is normally a quiet girl, but not with us. Something is definitely off, and I hope it has everything to do with JJ.

After I found out that JJ liked her.. Well, I talked to her a lot about it. Cece wasn't convinced to give him a shot still though. Knowing JJ though, I'm sure he never stopped trying. Dude has it bad. "You okay?" I asked Cece.

Cece looked at all of us before settling her eyes on me.

Tears filled her eyes making mine go wide. Oh no, that can't be good.

"What's wrong Ce?" April asked concerned.

"I." Cece trailed off as tears started to fall down her face.

Cece threw her face in her hands as she started sobbing.

The rest of us shared a confused look before we all started reaching out for Cece. April wrapped her arm around our friend, and pulled her into a hug.

"Did that guy that's always flirting with you do something?"

Erika asked

"Oh no, what did JJ do now?" I asked

I'm going to kill that fucker.

Cece shook her head as she pulled herself from April's hold. She wiped her eyes, and sniffled. Cece looked down at the table as she spoke.

"!..." I stuttered.

"Is this JJ's fault Cece?" I asked her.

Cece's eyes met mine as she nodded.

"What did he do? I'll kill him right now. We can go straight to his frat house this moment if you want." I offered.

"Let's TP their house!" Erika said.

"And pour honey all over their porch!" Lila added.

I snapped my head to give her a wide eyed look. Lila only shrugged at me. Just what the hell is wrong with my best friend?

"He.. he." Cece struggled to get out. "I think he got my pregnant!" She finally shouted.

All of us stared at her with our jaws on the floor.

"He just. He's literally the sweetest guy I've ever met. No matter what I did he kept flirting with me. I liked it so much.

No one had ever given me attention like that before, but.. I just thought I wasn't ready. That I couldn't do it. Then he found me in the library one day, and we got to talking, and I actually like him so much more than I thought I would. So I started finding excuses to see him more. And then we got all caught up in the rain a couple weeks ago, and one thing lead to another, and it just. happened! It just happened! Oh my god. I've ruined my life. I-1-"

Cece rushed everything out, barely taking a breath. Now she's starting to hyperventilate as she tries to push more words out. I had no idea that things had progressed between the two of them that much.

JJ was really out here not leaving this girl alone. I knew that Cece would like him if she just gave him a chance. I also knew that Cece wasn't likely to give JJ a chance just because of what happened to her.

Cece was one of the SA victims that blamed herself. It happened when she was only 14. At a party. Like so many other stories I've heard before. Only.. Cece was gang raped by five different boys on the schools basketball team. It took her a really long time to work through it.

Honestly, I don't think Cece really started to work through it until she met us almost two years ago. She was so pale, and hollow when I first saw her. Thankfully, we were able to get her some therapy.

After a few months I could see her start to get better. They were small changes at first, but they were still something.

As more months passed, I could tell that Cece was finally finding herself again. She would laugh, make jokes, hang out with us Cece still doesn't like going anywhere alone, but neither do I. I wonder if that will ever change for us.

Cece has made so much progress just since I've met her. I didn't know if she was ready to date anyone just yet, but I did hope if she was, she would chose JJ. Despite JJ's constant goofing off, and him always acting like a complete idiot.. He is very nice.

I never considered JJ a sweet guy until I found out about his crush on Cece. The way he looks at her alone is.. Well, it's honestly adorable. I think he might be in love with her.

I knew that he would be a good guy for her. You might not see it just by looking, but.. JJ is patient, kind, caring. He would have taken things slow with Cece. Really cherished her the way she deserves.

I didn't expect Cece to tell JJ about her s*l assault. I hoped that she would confide in him, and it would get their relationship going though. However, I did not expect this at all. Posted by .

At first none of us could respond. We all stared at Cece with our jaws on the floor. She's still hyperventilating too.

Finally, April snapped out of it. She wrapped her arms around Cece again. This time Cece leaned right into our friend.

"There, there Cece. It's alright." April said.

Cece just sobbed onto April's shoulder.

"Have you taken a pregnancy test yet?" Lila asked.

Cece pulled herself off of April to address us all.

"N-no. I've been way too scared, but. My period is a week late." She sobbed.

"Would it make you feel better if we all took a test with you?" Erika asked.

The rest of us whipped our heads to Erika.

"What?" She asked. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Really?" I asked her. "All of us?"

Erika shrugged.

"I just thought that it would make her feel better." She said.

We turned back to Cece.

"Would that make you feel better Cece?" April asked.

"Honestly. yeah." She said.

All of us shared a look before I reluctantly sighed.

"Looks like we're all taking a test."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 24

"Are we really doing this?" Lila whispered to me.

"Of course we are." I whispered back.

I can't believe we were actually doing this. All of us. Taking a test. A pregnancy test.

Why did I let myself be talked into this?

I looked over at Cece as she inspects the array of tests in front of us. She looks so stressed out. If it were me in her shoes.. I would want this too.

That's why I let them talk me into this.

Besides, what are the chances the rest of us are pregnant? I mean, I don't know about the other girls, but I shouldn't be.

Right? Yeah, no way. I mean, I just had my period-

Wait.. when was the last time I had my period? Did I have one last month? I had to of right? Why can't I remember?

I'm sure I'm just being paranoid. Besides, even if I did miss a period, it doesn't mean I'm pregnant. I'm under a lot of stress with juggling life these days. Professor Homak keeps me busy, not to mention my SA program, or all of my boyfriends. Yeah, I'm sure I'm okay.

"Should we do this one?" Cece asked as she grabbed one.

I grabbed it from her hand, and started to read it.

"Ugh! Just pick one will you?" April groaned.

Cece snapped her head to our friend.

"I want to get one I can trust." She said

"Just get a couple for yourself. If one is a dud, then it should be fine." April said.

"Are you sure?" Cece asked uncertain.

April grabbed probably ten tests, and then looked at Cece.

"Yes, I am sure. Now let's go." She said.

After we all paid for our tests, we all piled into April's car.

We decided to go to Lila's apartment. Caleb apparently won't be home for a while, so it gives us all enough time, and space to deal with whatever Cece's outcome is. Plus, it's very close to my apartment so I won't have too long of a walk home.

The four of us shuffled into Lila's apartment. We took turns in the bathroom to take our tests. All of us took two, except Cece who took three. While we waited for them to sit, we all sat in Lila's living room. In a circle on the floor.

"So, have you said anything to JJ yet?" I asked Cece.

Cece shook her head

*No. I have been avoiding him as much as possible since that day." She said

"Cece!" Erika scolded her. "Why would you do that?" She asked.

"I don't know okay!" Cece said as she glared at Erika.

I rubbed Cece's shoulder hoping to calm her some.

"I just. JJ is the first guy since." She trailed off.

All of us waited patiently as Cece sniffled, and took a deep breath.

"He's the first. Period. I was so young when I was raped.

They stole my virginity. I was so terrified of everything, and everyone after that. I never.. I never dated. I never went out. I didn't even talk to anyone, or have friends. Until you guys." She explained.

"And we all love you very much." Lila chimed in.

Cece gave us a small smile making the rest of us beam at her in return.

"I didn't expect to ever give anyone a chance. I never thought I would be ready. I still don't think I am, but."

Cece looked down as her small smile grew.

"JJ just makes me feel.. so.." She trailed off trying to search for the right word.

"Safe. Loved. Cared for." I offered up

Lila snorted as Erika gave me a bored look

"Yes actually" Cece said. "I wouldn't even give him the time of day, but he never stopped trying. He never saw the broken, quiet, shy, nerdy girl that everyone else sees. JJ saw something different in me. Something worth trying to.. date I guess? And I went, and f*d it all up." She said.

A few stray tears fell from Cece's eyes. April reached out to wipe the tears away for her. Cece sniffled as she thanked our friend

"What do you mean you went, and f*d it all up?" Erika asked.

Cece's face turned so red, so fast that we all almost laughed out loud at her.

"Uhm. well." She said awkwardly.

"Okay, tell us everything." I said.

Cece smiled at my enthusiasm.

"Well, I was supposed to walk with Erika to this store in town she wanted to go to. We were supposed to meet at the bus stop that day, but somebody ditched me." She said as she glared at Erika.

"Oh, you're welcome." Erika replied with a smile. Search the (F)indNOVEL.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Anyways," Cece said as she rolled her eyes. "He found me there waiting. Honestly, I was really looking forward to going. I didn't want to go alone though, so I was going to just go back to the dorms. JJ was insistant that we could go together. With the way things had been going between us. I was totally all for it." She said with a sigh.

"Dreamy." April commented.

"So, we took a bus to town. JJ stayed close to me the entire time. He took me to a few different places that I didn't even know existed. We got food, talked. Hours had passed by, and I didn't even know it." Cece said.

"It's nice when you have so much fun you forget about time." Lila said.

Cece shook her head.

"It wasn't just that. Like Millie said, JJ just.. makes me feel safe. So safe that.. for the first time since.. that night I.. relaxed. I wasn't looking over my shoulder. I wasn't tensing up my entire body. I wasn't reaching for my pepper spray anytime another male walked past me. I just.. relaxed." She said.

We all shared a smile. I know what Cece means by that. I only hope that the rest of the SA victims find that. I want them all to feel safe all the time no matter what. I don't think a guy can solve all of your problems. But it's nice to be able to fall in love again after going through something like that. To know that you can find that kind of happiness still.

"We decided to walk back to the school. Honestly, I just wanted to spend more time with him" Cece said, and then her eyes snapped to me. "Did you know that JJ is smart?" She asked me

Lila let out a loud snort as I started laughing.

"Wait. really?" Erika asked skeptically.

Cece nodded her head.

"JJ is wicked smart." I said. "He's here on a full scholarship, and is like top five of the whole school."

"Damn." April mumbled.

Cece blushed.

"You'd never guess." I told them.

"Anyways, what happened next?" Erika asked Cece.

"Well, we were almost back when it started raining. JJ grabbed me, and ducked under some buildings. We were laughing, and I realized that I hadn't laughed like that in.. so long. The moment was just right.. So, he asked if I wouldn't mind coming back to his frat house. Explained to me that it's not a normal frat because they're all science geeks.

That was how I found out about how smart he is." She told us.

"And..?" April asked.

"And I agreed obviously. We went to his room, where I practically jumped him. I've never been. horny before. Not like that. I wanted him so badly. JJ was so patient. He was gentle, and moved slow. It was perfect." Cece said dreamily And then her face fell.

"And now I might be pregnant. The first time I actually like a guy, and want to have s*x, and I get pregnant." She said. "Weren't you avoiding him before you thought you were pregnant?" April asked.

Cece nodded.

"I stayed the night with him that night. Woke up before he did, and left. I've been avoiding him ever since."

Cece brought her knees to her chest, and wrapped her arms around herself.

"He tries so hard too. I feel so bad. I just." She trailed off.

"You just what honey?" April asked softly.

"I don't want to tell him about my past. I don't want him to look at me differently. JJ wants to date me. To take me out.

To have an acutal relationship. How can I do that without telling him something like this? I'm still a little jumpy. I'm going to cling to JJ anytime we do anything. He's going to wonder what my deal is eventually." Cece rushed out. I placed my hand on top of hers.

"You do not have to tell him if you aren't ready Cece. You can always tell him that you went through some stuff that you don't want to talk about. JJ will accept that. I know it because he's completely obsessed with you." I told her. Cece gave me a small smile.

"Really?" She asked.

I nodded, and opened my mouth. Before I could say anything the timer went off. Lila turned off her timer before looking at the rest of us.

"Ready?" She asked Cece.

Cece nodded as she wiped her tears. The four of us stood to our feet. We made our way to the bathroom, and each grabbed our own tests. Then we all faced each other. "Ready?" April asked us.

"Ready." Cece said while the rest of us nodded.

We all looked down at our tests at the same time.

"It's negative! Oh my god! All of them are negative! I'm not pregnant! Thank god!" Cece said making the others laugh.

Only.. I can't take my eyes off of my own test.

"Everything okay Millie?" Lila asked.

What. The. Actual. fk.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 25

This can't be right. No way. It's not. There's no way this is possible.

"Millie?" Lila said my name again.

I grabbed the other test I took frantically. It's the same. This test reads the same. Both of them are the same.

I stared at the two little pink lines on each of my tests stunned.

I'm.. pregnant.

What is happening right now?

I know that the guys and I aren't safe, but.. I take my birth control. This has never happened to us before. I'm on the pill. I take it ever single evening with dinner at hom- Oh my god.

Sometime early last month we all went to eat at the restaurant that Atlas works at. I forgot to take my pill. I took it as soon as we got home though. I thought that it would be fine. These two little pink lines beg to differ. It is most definitely not fine. Not at fg all.

"Millie? You alright girl?" April asked.

I can't move. Can't speak. All I can do is stare at these two pink lines. This can't be happening to me.

Suddenly, both tests were taken from my hands. I looked up with my hands still in the air. Lila had snatched the tests from me. Her and April are looking over them now. Lila's eyes went wide. Her and April looked up at me at the same time. Lila's mouth opened, but then closed.

"What do they say?" Cece asked as she snatched one.

"Yeah, are they positive?" Erika asked jokingly.

I still cant move.

"Oh my god." Cece muttered.

"Millie. you're." Lila trailed off.

It's like she can't form the words either.

"How did this happen?" Lila asked.

"She has four boyfriends." April stated.

"Yeah, but. I thought you were being safe." Lila said to me.

I can't even answer her. No we have no been being safe. We have been being stupid!

I've been begging them to c*m in me for the last three years. Four different guys. All filling me up on a daily basis.

I just thought. that it would be okay.

I'm so stupid.

'Are you going to say anything?" Lila practically shouted at Uh huh." Was all I managed

Lila gave me a bored look

"Are you trying to be funny? Or is this like that time that you announced to my dad that you were fg his son along with three other guys?" Lila asked.

Erika sputtered out laughter.

"You did that?" April asked amused.

Lila and I ignored them.

"Well?" She asked me.

Tears filled my eyes as she stared at me expectantly.

I can't say anything. My brain is moving a mile a minute. I don't know what to say, what to think, what to feel.

How could I let his happen? What am I supposed to say to the others? How are they going to feel? What's going to happen with our schooling? Am I going to have to give up on my dreams before they've even started? What about Atlas who is trying to buy a buisness? Or Milo who is trying to become a doctor? Or Oli? Or Leo? What does this mean for us? How are we going to manage this?

I all makes so much sense too. My fatigue Getting nauseous at the sight of food sometimes. My mood swings. How horny I've been "Millie. do you want us to take you home?" April asked.

Home?

Just then, my phone started to ring. When I didn't make a move to grab it, Lila reached her hand into my pocket. She pulled my phone out, looked at the screen, then looked at me.

"It's Leo." She told me.

I just stared at her.

"m gonna pick it up." She said.

I said nothing.

Lila bit her lip, and gave me a worried look. I watched as she tapped on my phone. Then Lila looked at me.

"Hey Leo." She said.

"Lila? Where is Millie? Why are you answering her phone?"

He asked.

A sob tore from my throat at the sound of Leo's voice.

What if he hates me after this? Leo didn't really even want kids. What if this is too much, too soon for him?

"Was that Millie? What the hell is going on?" Leo asked.

Lila gave me a pained look I still can't speak, but at least no sobs are coming from me. I'm just silently crying, waiting to see what Lila says next

"Uhm, yeah that was Millie. Uh, are, uh, all of you home?" Lila asked

"Why is Millie crying? Is she okay?" Leo asked.

"Sh-she's not hurt... if that's what you mean." Lila muttered.

"Tell me what the fk is going on right now Lila, or I'm coming over there." Leo said threateningly.

"Eep." Erika squeaked. "Your brother is kind of scary." She whispered.

"He's just worried about his baby momma." April whispered back.

My eyes went wide as my breathing became harsher.

Baby momma.

What if that's all I end up being?

I know that we all talked about what would happen if I ever got pregnant, but.. That was years ago. Before we started college. Before Atlas figured out what he wanted to do with his life. Before we all started building a real adult life together. What if this isn't what they want anymore? I have options right? Adoption? Abortion..?

I don't think I could do that. Either of those, I personally don't think I'm strong enough to go through that.

Am I strong enough to raise a baby on my own?

Will I have to give up school? Could I really do this? Have a baby, and go to school?

I would need a lot of help... Four baby daddy's kind of help... Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Maybe we could do this..

If I'm right on when I conceived, I should be due at the end of the school year. Oli and I would have one more year of school left. Maybe Atlas wouldn't mind holding off on owning a restaurant until after then.

We could probably even afford daycare at that point. Plus, Lila and Caleb are out here too. Not to mention all of our parents would probably help.

Our parents..

Oh my god, my dad is going to kill me.

And now I'm right back to hyperventilating. My mind is running a mile a minute. There are so many things to think about.

How am I even going to tell my partners about this?

"Millie calm down." Lila whisper yelled at me.

I can't though.

"Why are you telling her to calm down? What's going on?"

Tell me now Lila." Leo asked for the millionth time

Lila sighed

"Leo, I am bringing her home. Make sure you're all there waiting." Lila said

Before Leo could respond, Lila ended the call. All four girls looked at me. Cece wrapped her arms around my side, and rested her head on my shoulder. That only made me cry harder.

The rest of my friends joined in on our hug. All of them wrapping their arms around me, and letting me sob. My whole body is shaking with how bad I'm crying. "Wh-wh-what a-a-am I- g-g-g-gonna d-d-d-d-do?" | stuttered out through my sobs.

I'm not sure why I think my friends hold the answer. I just need someone to tell me what to do next. I need someone to tell me that everything is going to be okay. Because right now.. I don't feel like it is.

I have no idea how my partners are going to react to this news. I have no idea how to make college work with a newborn. Hell, I don't even know how to take care of a newborn.

Our parents are going to kill us. What if they all blame me for ruining their son's lives? What if I become the reason that they don't reach their dreams?

This is just all too much. This can't be happening. I'm not ready for this.

Lila pulled back to look me in the eyes.

"You are going to square your shoulders, and hold your head high. Like you have before. Like you do all the time." She told me sternly. "Then you are going to march into your apartment, sit your partners down, and tell them the truth. You will all figure things out from there Millie. You can do this." She said confidently.

April pulled back next.

"Yeah, you aren't alone in this. You have four baby daddies." She said.

Then Erika pulled back.

"Yeah, and us. We will always be here to help in any way we can." She added.

Cece was the last to pull back, and look me in the eyes.

"You have a lot of support, don't worry Millie." She said.

"Everything is going to be fine Millie." Lila said. "I promise."

I looked at all of my friends as my tears continued to fall.

"O-okay." | blubbered. "But can I cry a little bit more before we go?"

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 26

Atlas's P.O.V.

Things have been going well over the last couple years. I was so happy to be done with school, and get a real job.

Mr. Parks said that I should work on gaining experience before trying to open a restaurant.

Boy am I glad he had me do that.

The restaurant life is intense. I love it, don't get me wrong.

I'm just not sure if owning a restaurant is what I want now.

I love cooking. It's most definitely my passion. I'm just not sure that the hussle and bussle of every day restaurant life is for me. It's definitely not what I'm used to, and its ridiculously hard to get a set schedule. I don't like that at all.

So, I had a conversation with Mr. Parks about how I was feeling. I have a buisness license. I'm a culinary graduate.

That apparently leaves me with more options than I originally thought.

I've been doing research about catering buisnesses. I could that. Catering for parties, or baking wedding cakes. I could do that kind of thing. All I would need is to buy a big kitchen.

Or, I could be a private chef. Work for all sorts of rich families. I would be using their kitchens. It would be a more lowkey vibe for me. Although, I would most likely be working more evenings into nights. That was the only issue.

Apparently, private chefs are where the big bucks are. At least, that's what Mr. Parks says. I just have to talk to my partners about it first.

After what happened a few years ago, I'm kind of nervous to bring it up. Being a private chef, I could essentially make my own hours. Only, when I do work, it could be the first half the day, the last half, or really late at night. Depending on what I'm hired for. What if that doesn't work for Millie? I don't want her to be upset about me not being able to be home with them all the time.

Although, after I'm established, I could make the hours that I want. I can get to a point where I can deny customers.

Hell, I could become a critic, or guest star on a TV show. I could be the next Gordon Ramsey.

It'll be a lot of work, but.. I could do it. I bet I could even get in contact with some of my dad's rich clients. I know a few that would be more than willing to take a shot on me. Then they can tell their friends about me.

I just.. have to make sure it's going to work for my partners too. I know we are young, and that this is the rest of my life, but.. I want Millie, and Oli, and Leo, and Milo. For the rest of my life. I'd give up a lot for them. Even this.

I wouldn't have to give up cooking either. I would just have to tweak what to do. Compromise. We are all about compromise in my relationship.

"Atlas!"

My head snapped up at the sound of my name. I'm finishing up some dishes at the restaurant before I leave.

Helping things run a bit smoother.

"Yeah Mr. Parks?" I called back

Mr. Parks shook his head at me.

"I told you to call me TJ." He said.

"Sorry, it's a hard habit to break." I replied.

Mr. Parks shook his head again, but I can see the small smile on his lips.

"Your shift is over Atlas. You've been clocked out for 45 minutes." He said.

"I know, but I wanted to help out before I left." I said.

"Nope. Leave. Go home. You helped enough." He said.

With that Mr. Parks turned, and walked away.

I dried my hands, and rushed out the door. I'd be lying if I said I'm not excited to go home to my girl. Everyone should be there by now too.

I made it home in record time. I plastered a huge smile on my face, and opened the front door.

"Honeys I'm home." I called out.

When Millie didn't come rushing to me, I frowned. What the hell kind of welcome home is this? Usually someone is here to greet me. Where is everyone at?

I set my stuff down by the door, and found the guys in the living room. They all look like they're deep in thought. Leo looks pissed. Oli looks like hes going to be sick. And Milo looks worried.

I don't see Millie anywhere either.

"Hey, what's up? Where's Millie?" I asked.

"She'll be here any minute." Oli said.

"She better be here any fg minute, or I am going to go find her." Leo said angrily.

I raised a brow at them. Not that anyone noticed. They all seem to be in their own heads.

"Did something happen?" I asked.

Milo sighed.

"Leo called Millie to find out when she was coming home.

Lila answered her phone. Leo could hear Millie crying in the background, but no one would tell him what was going on.

Lila just said that they were coming back right away." He told me.

Uhm, what?

"And that was 30 fg minutes ago. They should be here by now." Leo gritted out.

"She's okay. It's gonna be alright." Oli said. "I mean... she isn't going to like.. dump us or anything. Right?" He asked.

When Leo and Milo didn't answer, I huffed at them.

"Of course that isn't what it is. Millie would nev-"

I was interrupted by the front door opening. All of us rushed to see five girls standing in our hall. One of them Millie. "What the fk Millie!" Leo shouted.

Millie has clearly been crying. She still has tears running down her face. Although, she doesn't look hurt or anything. Leo still shouldn't have yelled at her though.

One of the girls shrunk back at Leo's tone. The girls all shared a look. What the hell is going on?

"Uh, here. I brought her back." Lila said, and then shoved Millie into our apartment. "See ya Mil." She said.

Millie whipped around, and grabbed onto Lila's arm.

"You aren't going to stay?" She asked sounding scared.

Lila started to shake her head back and fourth.

"No way. Look, I love you girl. We support you. Call us if you need to, but.. I am not going to stay here when you tell them that you're."

Lila stopped abruptly. Her eyes Nickered to us for a moment. Then she cleared her throat, and pulled her arm from Millie

"I think this is a conversation you all need to have together.

I will come back if you need me to." She said

Before Millie could say anything else, Lila closed the door on her. Search The Findnovel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Angel?" Oli asked softly.

Millie turned around slowly. She fiddled with her hands as she stared at all of us. I'm starting to freak out now.

"What is going on Millie?" Leo asked still angry.

"Please don't be mad at me. I can't handle it right now." She said softly as tears filled her eyes.

I took a step towards her.

"Then tell us what's wrong babygirl. You're freaking us out."

I said.

Millie opened her mouth, and then shut it again.

"You aren't breaking up with us are you?" Oli asked, all of his emotion showing in his words.

"No, god no." Millie said shaking her head. "It's nothing like that. Well, I hope not." She said softly.

"Then what is it?" Leo asked

"You're not trying to add to our group are you?" Milo asked.

Even I turned to give Milo an incredulous look. Millie can barely stand it when other girls look at us. And after what happened with James, she's apprehensive towards all other males. There is no way that's what's going on here. "No. Ew. Geez, four of you is enough." Millie said sounding annoyed. "Well. I guess maybe you could say I'm adding to our group." She muttered.

My head whipped back to her.

"Well not like how you think!" Millie rushed out. "I shouldn't have said it like that." She said as she shook her head. "I don't even know if you'll want to be a group after this." She muttered.

"Cut the st Millie. Tell us what the fk is going on." Leo demanded.

Millie stomped her foot as a frown fell on her beautiful face.

"Stop yelling at me! Didn't I just tell you that I can't handle it right now!" She shouted as tears started to fall down her cheeks. "I'm stressed out, and scared enough without you demanding things, and yelling at me!" She rambled. Leo closed the distance between them. He grabbed her hands in his, and took a deep breath. Yeah, dude better relax his st before Millie becomes our new Dom.

"I'm sorry princess. You just have us all worried." Leo said much softer. "Please tell us what's wrong."

Millie's face softened, but her tears didn't stop. She looked away from Leo as she pulled her hands from his. Millie walked over to our kitchen table. She pulled something out of her back pocket, and set it down on the table. "Please don't be mad at me." She said.

Leo walked to the table with a frown on his face. He looked down at whatever Millie had set down. Leo's eyes went wide as he picked up one of the items.

I think I know what that is. Is that a-

Leo's head snapped to Millie. He grabbed the other test off of the table, and inspected both of them. Milo huffed before walking up to Leo, and snatching one of the tests out of his hand.

Oli and I are frozen in our spots.

Milo's head turned to Millie.

"You're pregnant?"

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 27

"You're pregnant?" Milo asked me.

All I can do is fiddle with my hands. I just want to disappear. To run back to my bedroom, and hide under the covers. I don't want to deal with this.

I have no idea how my boyfriends are feeling either. Leo is staring at the test in his hand, like if he stares at it long enough, it'll change. Milo is waiting for me to answer his question, even though the answer is right in front of his face. Atlas and Oli are just staring at me, like the news of Milos question hasn't set in their brains yet.

"I.. I.. I'm sorry." I whispered.

I'm not sure why I feel the need to apologize. Afterall, this was a group effort. Still though.. I feel like I ruined all of their lives. If I would have just remembered to take my birth control on time, then we wouldn't be going through this right now. "Sorry?" Atlas asked.

Before I could answer him, Leo turned his eyes to me. There is nothing but anger in his deep greens. I knew that this wouldn't go well. That Leo wouldn't take it well, but.. I didn't think he would be angry with me. "How did this happen?" He asked angrily.

My bottom lip trembled.

"!." I trailed off.

I don't know if I can speak right now. Not with that look in Leo's eyes. I knew that this would be a big diaster. They re all going to leave me.

"What kind of stupid a*s question is that?" Milo bit out.

"Never thought we would have to have the birds and the bees conversation with our Dom." Atlas added.

"Especially now." Oli chimed in.

Okay, wait. This conversation seems to be going in a direction that I was not expecting. Milo didn't sound too happy, but Oli and Atlas are making light of this situation.

Leo didn't take his eyes off of me. The longer he looks at me with that angry look, the more sick I feel. Actually, I feel.. extremely sick..

"Millie are you okay?" I heard Oli ask, but he sounds kind of far away

My breathing is starting to come out harsher. Oh no. Am I hyperventilating again?

"I just. I. I didn't mean to.. I forgot.. I. I.."

I can't form a full fg sentence.

"Cupcake, you need to calm down. You're having a panic attack." Milo said softly.

"I. I.. I. I. can't.. I."

Tears streamed down my face as I stare back at Leo. I can vaguely feel arms wrap around me from behind. My vision blurred, and another figure moved in front of me.

Hands cupped my cheeks. I can tell, even through my blurred vision that it's Milo. He rubbed the pads of his thumbs across my cheeks lovingly.

"Baby, I know you are freaking out, but you need to calm down. You're breathing is erratic, and it's not good for the baby. You have to try to calm down-"

"Not good for the baby!" Leo shouted interrupting him. "Do you hear yourself right now Milo?" He asked incredulously.

Milo let go of my face to turn and face Leo. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Yeah Leo, I do. Millie is pregnant. We're having a baby. I know you're freaking out right now too, but chill." He bit out.

"Chill? Chill!" Leo asked incredulously. "This could ruin our entire lives Milo. We're still in school. We have a lot more to go 100! What the hell are we supposed to do now?!" Leo shouted

"You can start with caring about how Millie feels!" Milo shouted back. "Look at her Leo! You are not the only one freaking out right now!"

I started to back up as my crying became worse. I feel like I can't breathe at all. I backed into the man behind me. A small sob fell from my lips as I try to breath normally.

Milo and Leo stopped yelling at each other at the sound of my sob. They both turned to me, and I shrunk back more. I turned around to find I'm in Oli's arms. I buried my face in his chest as I continued to cry "I'm sorry. I'm so so so sorry. I.. I didn't mean for.. I trailed off unable to finish a sentence.

"Shh, shh. It's alright angel. You have nothing to be sorry for." Oli whispered.

Oli wrapped his arms around me. One rubbing my head soothingly, while the other rubbed my back. I nearly melted into Oli.

What if this is the last time I get this with him? What if he's just doing this to calm me down before telling me this isn't what they want?

I squeezed onto Oli tighter.

"Please don't leave me." I whispered

I was met with silence. Which only made me feel more validated in thinking they don't want this. I mean, who does at our age?

Leo is right. We're still in school. He and Milo have so much more to go. Atlas is trying to open up a buisness.

This could ruin everything. Just like Leo said. And it's all my fault.

"Do you hear that Leo? You fg asshole." Oli said.

Leo said nothing.

Arms wrapped around me from behind. A kiss was placed to the top of my head. Then the lips stayed there.

"We are not leaving you babygirl." Atlas said softly. "This is a blessing. Don't you see that?" He asked.

Atlas thinks.. this is a blessing? Really? He's.. happy?

"A blessing?" Leo asked with a scoff. "This is a damn nightmare."

My heart shattered. I squeezed Oli tighter as another sob broke free. Atlas hugged me tighter.

"Leo!" Oli scolded.

"What? Do you all really expect me to just think this is some joyous thing? Do you not understand how hard having kids is? How difficult this is going to be for all of us? How many sacrifices we're going to have to make?" Leo asked I can't take it anymore. I can't listen to him be so upset with me. My heart just can't do it.

I pulled away from Oli, and Atlas to turn to Leo. Tears are still streaming down my face. Leo still looks pissed off.

"Then don't." I stated

Leo raised an angry brow at me.

"Don't?" He asked.

"Yeah. Don't." I said.

Leo shook his head as he gave a hollow laugh.

"I don't think you're understanding Millie. I can't just-" He started, but I interrupted him.

"No!" I shouted. "If you don't want this, then don't! I can do it! On my own if you don't want to be here! You don't have to do anything. Ever! You don't have to worry about anything that'll happen! I'll do it all! I don't need you!"

By the end of my rant, I'm a sobbing, yelling mess. My tears are coming so hard that I can barely see. I'm still breathing harsh, but not as bad. And my fk head is spinning.

Everything I said was a lie. I can't do this. Not alone. Not without them. I need them. All of them.

"Y-y-you told me th-that i-it would be okay if." I whispered.

"That was when I thought it would happen after we graduated college." Leo replied.

I just stared at Leo through blurred vision.

"It was just all what I wanted to hear, wasn't it?" I asked.

"What?" Leo asked back.

"That night that we spent on the phone talking about having a family. You promising me that we would get through everything together, even a baby. Marry me. It was all just what I wanted to hear. Just to make sure I stayed with you all." I said shaking my head. "Millie-" Leo tried, but I don't want to hear it.

"You never wanted kids. You never planned to actually marry me. Did you even think that this relationship would last this long?" I accused.

"Now you're just being ridiculous Millie." Leo said.

"Am I?" I asked.

I looked around at all of their blurry faces. I backed away from them until my back hit our hallway wall. Has all of this been a lie this whole time? Have they just been filling my hopes because they love me? With no real intention of making those hopes come true? "What the fk is wrong with you Leo?" Milo bit out.

"Yeah, why are you acting like this?" Atlas asked.

"Because I'm the only one not coddling our girl over this?"

Im freaking out! This is a big fg deal!" Leo replied.

I had to drown out their arguing. I just can't listen to Leo go on and on about how much I fd up. I can barely even breath right now. I'm feeling..

"Millie?" Oli said my name softly.

I tried to look at him, but black dots spotted my vision.

"Cupcake? Are you alright?" I heard Milo ask.

Why does he sound so far away? Like he's in a tunnel or something? Wasn't he just a few feet away from me?

I tried to look at any of them, but then the room starting to spin. I can vaguely hear more voices, but they sound so far away. I swayed on my feet slightly as I tried to open my mouth to speak. And then everything went black.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 28

Milos P.O. V.

When Leo had called Millie to see when she would be home, he put the phone on speaker. We all heard Lila awkwardly talking while Millie sobbed in the background. All of us were put on edge.

Leo is convinced that something happened to Millie.

Something like what happened with James. Leo might not ever talk about it, but he still worries. He hates letting Millie go anywhere alone still, and it's been years now.

I also thought something might have happened to her.

Though, I had a more level head about it. If it was something that bad, then Lila would have told Leo. Lila sounded so awkward on the phone, like she wasn't sure what to say or do. That let me know that Millie couldn't of been hurt. Lila would have rushed Millie to a hospital, and called Leo on the way if it were serious. She would have told us what happened. So, something did happen, but nothing life threatening.

Which did not help ease my worry at all. It could be anything at this point. Maybe Millie lost that TA position?

Or maybe she failed a class?

I doubt it's either of those though.

Oliver however. His brain went straight to Millie wanting to leave us. He went on and on about how that could be the only answer to what's going on.

As silly as Oli sounded.. I started to think the same. What if that is it? What are we going to do?

Millie is not leaving us that's for sure. That girl is ours. She can't leave.

Whatever it is, we can get through it.

I was not expecting Millie to be pregnant. We were all still freaking out internally when Lila shoved her into our apartment. Millie clearly didn't want her to leave. Thankfully, it wasn't a break up. Though, I'm not sure a pregnancy is much better. At least Millie isn't leaving us.

We're gaining more Millie if you think about it in a positive way.

My eyes scanned over the two little pink lines on the tests.

She took two. Both are positive. Both of them.

I'm going to be a dad.

We're going to be dads.

Millie is going to be a mom.

We're. having a baby.

The longer I looked at the test, the more thoughts swarmed my head. My initial reaction is shock. Why did Millie even think she needed to take a test? Without us at that? Did she realize something was off, and not tell us until she was sure? Then I went right into doctor mode. Millie needs to go see a OB as soon as possible. That way we can figure out how far along she is, make sure the baby is healthy right now.

Along with Millie too. She might have to give up that TA position to cut back on some stress.

Which lead me to my next thoughts. School.

gt. How are we going to work all of this out? Leo and I still have a few years left. Oli and Millie still have one. Atlas is graduated, but he wants to buy a business. Maybe we can afford daycare. Oli's mom is a stay at home mom, she might be willing to help as well. Which lead me to more thoughts.

fk. How the hell are we supposed to tell our parents about this? Millie's dad is going to flip. Hell, Leo's dad is going to flip. They're going to flip st together.

Unfortunately, before I could ask any questions, Leo lost his fg st. Dude wouldn't stop shouting at Millie. I know that Leo isn't angry at her, just at the situation. I'm not even sure he's actually angry, he's just.. Freaking out.

I don't blame Leo. This is a lot for all of us to take in.

Especially Millie. This is all her decision. She might not even want this baby. Millie might think this is the best thing to ever happen. Either way, she is the one that has to go through the most, and Leo's yelling is not helping. Leo threw Millie into a panic attack. Which caused me to yell at him, and make the entire situation worse. When we finally got Millie to calm down a bit.. Leo started back up again.

Millie finally yelled back at Leo. Telling him that she doesn't need him, and I'm pretty sure her words applied to all of us.

My heart is breaking.

I know our girl enough to know that Millie is thinking we'll all leave her. That's exactly where her brain always goes.

Like we could ever give her up so easily.

When Millie started to have another panic attack, I yelled at Leo again.

Then we all noticed Millie start to act strange. Her eyes are dilating, her breathing is all off, and she's swaying on her feet. Its clear that Millie can't really hear any of us.

I was just about to ask Atlas to pick her up, when she passed out. Thankfully, Atlas was quick to catch her before she hit the ground. He held her in his arms as he sits on the floor. I got down to inspect her. "What happened?" Oli asked concerned

"She fainted." I said.

"Should we take her to the hosptial?" Atlas asked.

I shook my head.

"No, lher pulse is normal. Let's get her to bed, Ill listen to her heart beat. When she wakes up we'll make her drink a bunch of water. The stress was probably just too much for her body to handle." I said. Atlas stood up with Millie in his arms. He and Oli took her back to our room. I turned around to glare at Leo.

"You better hope your attitude didn't cause Millie to lose our child Leo." I said sternly.

Leo shook his head. Like my words are the most unbelievable thing he's heard today. Which just angered me more.

"What the fk is your problem Leo?" I asked.

"My problem? Do you even have to ask that?" Leo responded.

"I get that you're pissed. You're freaking out. This is a lot. I understand it. You aren't the only one that just got told we have a baby on the way!" I said starting to shout.

Leo glared at me.

"Sorry that I'm not handling it as easy as the rest of you."

He stated

I scoffed.

"The rest of us? You mean like our pregnant girlfriend that just fainted because you and I can't stop yelling at each other? That sure seems like we're handling it much better." I said sarcastically

Leo opened his mouth, but I cut him off before he could even start.

"Did it ever occur to you that all of us are freaking out too?"

That maybe we just wanted to get Millie to stop having a fg panic attack before we said anything? That maybe we all should have a conversation before freaking out?" I asked.

Leo remained silent. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"We don't know what she wants right now Leo. We have no idea if Millie wants this baby, or what she's going to do. But we told her we are in this together. No matter what. We told her that if she ever got pregnant that we would all make it work. I know this wasn't the right time, but... It took all of us to get her pregnant, not just Millie. She is clearly upset, and going through her own set of emotions." I said.

"And I'm just supposed to what?" He asked.

I scoffed at him again.

"Be there for her you it! Put your own feelings aside, and be there for her. You love her. She's carrying our child right now Leo. Think. positive.". I offered "Positive?" Leo asked

I shrugged

"Yeah. Like. how about the fact that she can't ever get rid of us now?" I offered

Leo gave me an incredulous look.

"You want me to set all of my feelings aside, and focus on the fact that we baby trapped our girlfriend?" He asked like it's the dumbest thing he's ever heard

I shrugged again.

"It's better than yelling at her until she passes out." I said.

Leo sighed, and ran a hand through his hair.

"This is just a lot Milo. We already have a weird relationship. How are we supposed to raise a kid without confusing it? I'm not dad material right now. How are we going to even make all of this work with school, and everything else?" He asked. I walked up to Leo, and slapped my hand on his shoulder.

"I don't know man. We just.. do what we've always done.

We figure it out. Together." I said.

Leo didn't say anything as he hung his head.

"Now, you are going to have some apologizing to do. Let's go wait for our girl to wake up." I offered

Leo nodded his head as he let me lead him down the hall.

As soon as we got to our room, Leo sat on our bed next to Millie. He pulled her into his lap, and started to run his fingers through her hair.

Now we just have to wait for Millie to wake up.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 29

My eyes fluttered open as I woke up. I groaned as I put my hand to my head. There is a pounding going on inside my skull.

"If you sit up, I have something you can take for your headache." Milo said softly.

My eyes popped fully open. I looked around to see Milo, Oli, and Atlas. They all look worried. I don't see Leo though. Did he leave? "What happened?" I asked.

"You fainted from the stress. And from Leo yelling at you."

Milo told me.

"Oh. Yeah." I said lamely.

That makes sense. Leo was yelling at me. Stupid jerkface.

I tried to sit up, and that's when I felt a body behind me. I turned my head to see Leo. I was laying between his legs.

How did I not notice before?

My light green eyes connected with Leo's dark green ones.

Tears filled my eyes as I stared at him. Is he going to yell at me again?

Leo gave me a pained look as he reached up to wipe the first tear to fall.

"Are you still mad at me?" I asked in a whisper.

Leo shook his head as he sat up straighter. He grabbed my face with both of his hands, and pulled me closer. Leo wiped all of my tears as they fell from my eyes. "No baby, I wasn't. I didn't mean to." Leo trailed off like he can't find the right words.

I sniffled as I waited for him to say something more.

Leo sighed.

"I wasn't.. mad at you Millie. I was just. not handling the news well." He said.

"Yeah no shit." I mumbled.

"It's a big pill to swallow baby." Leo said. "I am very sorry though."

"I know. Believe me." I said. "But you don't have to worry about it." Search the FindNøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I turned around to face the others.

"None of you have to if you don't want to. I.. H can handle it on my own. I.. understand if you guys don't want to-"

"I'm going to stop you right there." Milo said interrupting me.

My eyes snapped up to his.

"We are in this together. Your little tantrum was all false.

We never just told you things you wanted to hear Millie. Leo was just. shocked. We figure this out together." He said

"R. Really?" I asked surprised.

"Of course babygirl." Atlas said. "I for one, am extremely excited."

My eyes went wide.

"You are?" I asked.

Atlas moved closer to me. He reached his hand under my shirt to rest on my stomach. A huge lopsided smile spread across his face.

"You're carrying my child. Of course I am." He said. "I know that things are going to be difficult, but we can do it."

I didn't know what to say.

"First, we need to make sure this is what she wants." Milo said to the others before turning his head to me. "What do you want to do baby?" He asked.

"I.. Uhm.. D-do you n-not want it?" I asked them.

"That isn't up to us." Milo said.

"But your opinions are important." I argued.

Milo sighed.

"Well, I can't say that I'm jumping for joy yet. This is a lot to take in. A lot to discuss. But. my mind instantly went to figuring things out. I'm scared, but. I want this, as long as you do." He told me He does?

"I'm in the same boat as Atlas." Oli pipped up. "We can make things work. I see this as a blessing. You have a little person inside of you babe. A little piece of all of us." He said as he placed his hand over Atlas's. Milo's eyes flickered to Leo. I don't even want to look at his face. I'm too scared to.

Leo wrapped his arms around me. He placed his hands on my stomach over Oli's and Atlas's. Then he kissed my cheek.

"I can't tell you that I'm ready, or that I'm going to be the most patient father. But. if this is what you want, then this is what we're doing." He said.

I turned my head to look at his face.

"Really?" I asked.

Leo nodded.

"I thought that kids would come later. After we were married. After school, and secure jobs, but.. This isn't so bad." He said.

I narrowed my eyes at him.

"You went from yelling at me to this?" I asked skeptically.

Leo rolled his eyes at me.

"I just said sorry." He said

"Yeah, cause sorry is totally going to cut it." I replied.

"What do you want from me princees?" Leo asked.

"I want to punish you." I said with a wicked smile.

Leo just blinked at me.

"Uh, I don't-" He tried, but Oli cut him off.

"Yes angel, you can." Oli said while staring at Leo.

"Fine." Leo gritted out.

I smiled happily.

"Anyways, we had a long talk while you were asleep." Milo told me.

"You did?" I asked.

Atlas nodded.

"Yeah, so, this was kinda perfect. Considering." He said. "Considering?" I asked.

Atlas nodded again.

"I wanted to talk to you all about something today." He said.

"I've been putting a lot of thought into owning a restaurant.

I don't think it's for me. I love cooking, and being in the kitchen is fun, but.. It's not something I think I can do every day. So, I've been talking with Mr. Parks about other options. I think that I want to be a personal chef. Do fancy dinner parties type thing, possibly buy a kitchen to do catering." He told me

"That means I can make my own schedule after a while, but. at first I'm probably going to be working a lot of evenings.. Which means that I can be home during the day while you guys are at school." Atlas said

"I don't do any after school activities, so I can rush right home. Atlas can go to work while I stay with our kid." Oli added.

"I'll have to stop volunteering at the hospital. Oli and I can take turns doing homework, and whatever else." Milo said.

"I can help with getting up at night. Starting next year my classes will start in the late morning, so Atlas and I can take turns during the night." Leo added.

"But, you might have to give up a few things in your life cupcake." Milo said sternly. "Your stress levels need to be very low. That might be giving up your TA position, or your SA group." He said.

"But."

"No buts." Leo interrupted. "Your health, and the health of our baby comes first. We can only take so much stress from you princess." He said.

I looked at all of their faces.

"You. really talked about this a lot huh?" I asked

Milo nodded as Oli and Atlas beamed at me.

"So. you. aren't mad at me?" I asked

"Mad?" Atlas asked. "I'm fg stoked! I'm going to be a dad! We're going to have a mini Millie running around here I can't wait to hear those sweet baby giggles. I hope he or she looks just like you." He said excitedly. I couldn't help but laugh at Atlas's excitement.

"Baby, how could we be mad at you?" Oli asked. "It took all of us to do this." He said.

I chewed on my bottom lip for a moment.

"Well, it is kind of my fault. I took my birth control late that day we ate at Atlas's restaurant." I told them.

"We also c*m in you daily. All four of us. I'm surprised this didn't happen sooner." Milo said.

"Yeah, but-"

"No buts." Leo interrupted again. "It doesn't matter how it happened now Millie. Just that it did, and where to go from here. So, what is it you want?" He asked. I looked at all of them as I leaned back against Leo.

"I.. didn't really have much time to process it before I told you all, but.. I want to keep it. I don't think I could have an abortion, or do adoption.. I. want to keep it." I said.

Atlas and Oli beamed. Milo gave a small, relieved smile. am too scared to look at Leo still.

"Good." Atlas said happily-

"What made you even want to take a test in the first place?"

Leo asked me.

My eyes went wide as I looked at Oli. I sat up, and latched onto his arm. With my own results I completely forgot what lead me to taking that test in the first place. "Cece!" I said.

"Cece?" Oli asked.

I nodded.

"I completely forgot because my own results were positive.

We all took tests with Cece because she thought she was pregnant!" I told him. "And guess who she thought knocked her up?"

Oli smirked at me.

"No way." He said.

I nodded.

"Oh yeah. JJ. Apparently that little st wormed his way into her heart, and her pants." I said.

"Why did you all take them?" Milo asked.

I shrugged.

"Cece was flipping out. So April asked her if she wanted all of us to take one with her." I said.

Leo shook his head.

"I wonder how long it would have taken us to figure it out if it weren't for Cece and JJ." I mumbled.

"When do you think it happened again?" Milo asked.

"When we went to eat together. Early last month. So, I don't know. I could be about four weeks along." I said.

"Hmm." Milo hummed. "I'm surprised you weren't showing more signs."

"Oh, she was showing signs. I just thought she was stressed out, or homesick." Leo mumbled.

I giggled at him.

"Well, we need to get you to a doctor ASAP." Milo said.

I nodded.

"Yeah.. I guess we do."

~ About Two Months Later

"I don't want to do this." I stated.

"Baby, we have to." Milo said.

I shook my head.

"Nope. I sure don't." I said.

I turned on my heel, ready to book it out of there. Only to smack right into Leo. Leo grabbed my arms, turned me around, and whispered in my ear.

"You already got out of it at Thanksgiving, and Christmas.

No more waiting princess." He said.

"They're going to figure it out sooner or later babygirl." Atlas added.

"Especially with how big you're already getting." Oli added.

gave him a bored look.

"Really." I said flatly.

Oli isn't lying though. When we had went to the doctor we found out that I was bit further along than we thought. I'm now through my first trimester. A whole four months along. My belly is already getting bigger.

"Maybe we can wait until tomorrow." I tried

Leo shook his head, and started to push me towards the door.

"We're telling them now." He said

Before I could argue further, Milo opened the door to the family beach house, and walked in.

"We're here!" He called out.

We came back home to celebrate the new year. Lila and Caleb obviously know about my pregnancy, but.. None of our parents do.

I've been doing everything I can to put it off. I just know that most of them are going to freak out. I'm terrified of how my dad is going to act.

We walked to the dinning area to find everyone sitting around the table. Mom and Ally are in the kitchen. Atlas was quick to join them.

All of our parents got up to hug us. Lila and Caleb were already here. After we all said our hello's, everyone took their seats. Everyone except for me.

"Let me take your coat angel." Oli told me as he started to slide it off of my shoulders.

I gulped.

"You're doing this on purpose." I whisper yelled

Oli chuckled

"Relax will ya. All of this worrying isn't good for the baby." He whispered back.

My entire face heated up as I looked around to make sure no one heard him. I let Oli take my coat before I approached the table awkwardly. Caleb raised an amused brow at me. "Dang Mil, that freshmen 15 hit ya kinda late didn't it."

Caleb teased.

I narrowed my eyes at him.

"Why don't you just shut the hell up." I growled out.

Then my face heated more. st. I didn't need to snap like that at him. My mood swings are insane.

I know that the guys and I all consider this baby all of ours.

We decided not to do a DNA test because of that. But I swear this child is Leo's. That has to be why I'm such a grumpy bh all the time.

"Millie, he was just teasing." Mom defended Caleb.

"Just teasing my ass." I muttered.

"Your hips are getting wider too." Caleb commented.

I rolled my eyes as I sat down across from him.

"Are you trying to piss me off? I will stab you." I said.

Caleb only chuckled at me

"Okay, enough of that." Sarah said as she sat down a glass of champagne in front of me.

Oh no.

"A toast! To another year of family and friendship." She said.

Sarah held her glass up for everyone to clink theirs together. I reached up with the others awkwardly. I can feel several eyes on me as I pull my glass back. Obviously I didn't take a drink. I just hoped that it would go unnoticed. Maybe I can get away with not telling them again.

"Millie, you're supposed to drink after doing a cheers." Caleb chimed.

I narrowed my eyes at him.

'I hate you.' I mouthed to him

Caleb only shrugged in return.

"You not drinking Millie?" Atlas's mom Jen asked.

"Uh." I mumbled.

"You feeling okay honey?" Mom asked me.

"Well-"

"She looks healthy to me, glowing in fact." Milo's mom Darla said

My face heated again.

"Oh, she's glowing alright." Atlas said with a sly smile.

Oh no.

"Millie." Dad said.

I refused to look at him.

"Why aren't you drinking?" He asked sternly.

The air in the room shifted. Tension settled. I gulped.

"H c-can't." I said softly, and then cleared my throat.

"Uht oh." Darla muttered.

"Why not Amelia?" Dad asked angrily.

I looked up to see my dad staring at me with anger in his eyes.

"I." I trailed off.

st, I don't think I can do this.

Milo cleared his throat getting everyone's attention, but my

"We have an announcement to make." Milo said.

"Do you now?" His mom replied.

"Yes." He said

"This is your part angel." Oli whispered to me.

I looked at all of their faces, before clearing my throat again.

"I'm pregnant." I stated

Silence.

You could hear a pin drop.

"I knew it!" Daral practically shouted dads.

I just kept staring at Dad, who's face is growing redder by the second.

"Uhm." Ally said, and then cleared her throat. "Uh, who's.. is it? Do you.. How do you." She asked awkwardly.

Oli put his hand on top of his mothers.

"It's ours. All of ours. We won't be doing a DNA test, we will be raising it as if it's completely ours." He told her. "Beause it is." Leo added.

More silence.

"Uhm. congratulations." Atlas's dad Henry said uncomfortably.

"Congratulations?!" Dad finally said, shouting.

Here we go.

"How could you even say that!? They're too young for children. They haven't finished school yet!" Dad shouted, and then turned to me.

Oh no.

"You have a whole nother year of college left Millie! Not to mention finding a job right after is going to be hard enough. What are all of you going to do? How could you be so stupid?!" He shouted.

Tears instantly sprouted in my eyes. My bottom lip trembled as my tears began to fall. I pushed my seat out, stood up, and then ran down the hall to the bathroom before anyone could stop me.

I locked the door before sitting on the toilet to sob my heart out.

It was only a second later that I heard a knock at the door. I ignored it. It's probably Leo, he can just give me a damn minute. This is all his fault anyways. Stupid asshat knocked me up, and now I'm an emotional wreck.

I blame all of them any time that I get emotional like this.

Like last week when April brought over her new puppy. I sobbed for two straight hours over how cute he was. It's been absolutely ridiculous.

"Amelia, open the door. Your mother and I need to talk with you." Came Dad's voice.

I wiped my eyes, and walked to the door. I sniffled before opening it. I can't even look my parents in the eyes.

"Come on." Mom said.

Mom grabbed my hand, and took me to a bedroom next door. She sat me down on the bed. Dad sat on one side of me, and Mom the other. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I'm sorry that I called you stupid Amelia, but.. I'm just angry. What are all of you going to do?" Dad asked.

At least he sounds much softer now.

I blew out a shaky breath.

"We already talked about that Dad. Atlas isn't in school. He is going to watch the baby during the day while we are at school. He will work evenings and nights. Oli and I will be home after that. Milo is going to stop volunteering at the hospital after the baby is born. By then Leo won't be in his program anymore, but will be working on cases solo. Which means he can bring his work home." I said.

"What about your TA position?" Mom asked.

"I'm still doing it. I've already talked with Professor Homak.

She is going to work with me on things. And I moved my tutoring group to our apartment. There will be enough of us, and enough space for us to still help each other out." I told them.

"You all.. seemed to have it figured out." Dad muttered grumpily.

I shook my head as I rested my hand on my small bump over my baggy shirt.

"No. We have a plan. One that we hope will work out. I'm due at the beginning of June. So, we will at least not have to worry about taking some time off from school. But.. I'm still scared. I know this is going to be hard." I told them.

I blew out another breath as I started to rub my belly

"Thankfully, I have four boyfriends. That means that I have tons of help. Not to mention Caleb and Lila are so close.

That makes me feel less panicked." I admitted.

Mom rested her hand over mine. I looked up at her to see her eyes go wide. Then she snaked her hand under my shirt to rest on my bare belly.

"You're due in June?" She asked.

I nodded.

"You waited four months to tell us?" Mom asked sounding a bit angry.

I gave her a sheepish look.

"Sorry, I was.. too scared to tell you." I mumbled.

Mom gave me a nod in understanding.

"Are you sure that you aren't further than that though?"

Mom asked. "You just seem kind of big is all."

I shrugged.

"That's what my doctor said." I told her.

"When is your next appointment? Can I go with you?" Mom rushed out.

I gave her a small laugh.

"Yeah, I'd really like that. It's next week. Doc has been gone over the holidays so I'm due for an ultrasound, and a few tests." I told her. Mom smiled at me.

"I'm going to be a grandma." She said excitedly as tears misted her eyes.

Great, now I'm going to cry too.

Dad rested his hand over Mom's under my shirt. I turned to see a small smile on his lips. He's warming up to this.

"And I'm going to be a grandpa."

Okay, now I'm definitely crying again.

Oliver's P.O.V.

"David." Millie's mom Betty turned to glare at her husband.

"How could you say that to her?"

David shook his head.

"I didn't mean to say that last part, I just-" He tried, but Betty cut him off.

"You just nothing!" She seethed. "Now come on, we need to have a private talk with our daughter."

The two of them got up. I can see in Leo's eyes that he wants to go too. His need to protect Millie has intensified since we all decided to keep this baby. Thankfully, he didn't go with them though.

"So." Darla said breaking our awkward silence. "Who needs a drink?" She asked as she walked to the kitchen.

"How could you all let this happen?" Sarah asked angrily.

"We didn't let it happen." Milo said.

"Yeah, it just did." Atlas added.

"It doesn't matter anyways." Leo said. "It's happening."

Thank god he started to come around.

When Millie slapped those two tests down on our kitchen table, I knew what they were. I didn't need to see them for confirmation either. It was pretty clear based off of her attitude that day that they were positive.

I had never felt so happy in my entire life. We definitely hadn't been being too safe. I never really thought about actually having a kid before though. It was something that I knew I would man up, and deal with if it ever happened, but..

When we went to Millie's first ultrasound appointment, it was a done deal for me. I already wanted our baby. A life that we all created together, but seeing that little bean on the black and white screen.. It was hands down one the happiest moments of listening to that little fast heart beat was a cherry on top too. Our perfect little family. I have family. A kid. I'm having a kid.

I'm going to be a dad.

This relationship is turning out to be something that I would have never guessed. It seems like just yesterday that we were figuring out what we wanted. That it wasn't so long ago that we were trying to convince Millie just to take a chance on us. Now we're going to have a baby.

Adam sighed as he ran a hand through his hair.

"What does this mean for your future then? How are you going to make this work? You and Milo have years left of school." He said.

"Yeah, but I don't." Atlas chimed in. "I'm going to work quit my job once the baby is born. Then I'm going to work evenings and nights as a personal chef." He said.

Jen scoffed.

'Personal chef? You make it sound easy. Like you can just snap your fingers, and gain a clientele.' She said.

"Atlas has already been gathering a clientele." I piped up.

"His boss has sent a few families his way. Not to mention all the connections he has due to his parents." I offered.

"I've already been cooking for a few of them. Trying to pull in some extra money before the kid gets here." Atlas said.

Jen just stared at him for a moment.

"Well, I guess you have that figured out. What about the rest of you? What about Millie?" She asked.

Darla came back in with a fifth of brown liquor in her hand.

She sat down, pouring some for all of the parents. Leo frowned at her when she didn't offer any for us. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Milo, you won't be able to volunteer at the hospital once this baby is born. Who is Millie's OB? Switch her over to my department. I'll be delivering my grandbaby. I heard that Allas has a plan. I assume that you all do as well?" Darla said. Darla has always been our biggest supporter. Through our relationship. Our sexuality. The Holly crap. The James crap.

Living together. And now this.

"I did plan to stop volunteering. Millie is due in the beginning of June. She's been seeing Dr. Solma in-" Milo started to explain, but Darla interrupted him.

"In the building across from the hospital?" She asked.

Milo nodded.

"No, that won't do. When is your next appointment?" She asked.

"Well, Dr. Solma hasn't been doing much for her. We found out right before the holidays. She pretty much deemed Millie not high risk, and went on vacation. She's only had one ultrasound. Her next appointment is next week." Milo said irritated. I know that Milo has been dying to tell his mom. He almost told her behind Millie's back. Milo knew that Millie's OB wasn't taking her very seriously. Millie is past her third trimester. She should be getting more tests done. Milo has been furious about it. "Well, her appointment will be with me now." Darla stated.

Milo nodded with a smile on his face.

"Thanks Mom." He said.

"So, what are your plans then?" Sarah asked.

my life.

"Atlas will be home with the kid all day. When Oli and Millie are done with classes they'll come home. Milo and I will be taking turns getting up at nights. After next year my program will end. I can start bringing cases home instead of staying at the school." Leo said. "What about the tutoring thing you do, or Millie's TA position?" My mom asked.

"We talked to our study group about it. We started doing it at our apartment now. Millie's friends from her SA group are going to come those days too. That way there will be a lot of people there. We can take turns studying." I said.

"It's not like you or Millie need to study a lot." Milo muttered.

"What about money? We promised to help out while you were in school, but." Derek said.

I sighed.

This was our biggest problem.

Atlas cleared his throat.

"We have a plan for that." He said.

"You do?" Henry asked him.

"Well, it's more of a proposal." I said.

My dad raised a brow at me

"A proposal?" He asked.

I nodded, but Leo was the one to speak.

"We would like to keep the deal we have with you already." Leo said. "You pay for our apartment, food, and allowance like you have been. We all finish school."

"All of the work I do will pay for the baby." Atlas said. "When Oli and Millie graduate, they can get jobs, and you won't have to worry about it anymore." He said. "You want us to keep paying for your lifestyle?" Adam asked incredulously.

"Why not? You have been." Leo said.

"And we've been doing great." Milo added. "I know that this is unexpected. We should have been more careful, but.."

This is how things are now. Whether you guys like it or not.

We all came up with a plan. If you guys don't want to help us anymore... Then we will figure it out." He said confidently.

Darla waved her hand in the air dismissively.

"Oh relax. We will help in any way that we can." She said.

See what I mean? Biggest supporter.

"I'm home all day alone doing nothing now Oli." Mom told me. "I can come, and babysit whenever you like. So don't worry about daycare ever." She said. I smiled at her.

"Thanks Mom."

"Well, I for one am excited to be a grandpa." Henry said happily.

Jen rolled her eyes.

"Of course you are. You only begged me for five more children." She said.

"I still can't wrap my head around this, but.. I can't wait to hear those baby giggles." Sarah said.

"And the little baby smell." Mom gushed.

"I wonder what the baby will look like." Darla said.

"I guess it wouldn't be so bad to add onto the family." Dad said.

Derek just shook his head.

"You all better stay in school. You better have good grades.

And you better get jobs the day you graduate." Adam said.

"Got it." Milo said.

Adam sighed as he leaned back in his seat.

"I'm going to be a grandpa." He breathed out.

"And I'm going to be an uncle!" Caleb said excitedly.

I almost forgot they were here.

"I can't wait to be an auntie." Lila giggled.

Adam narrowed his eyes at his daughter.

"You aren't pregnant, are you?" He asked.

Lila shook her head as she laughed

"No daddy, I am not." She said

"Should we start taking bets on if it's going to be a boy or a girl? I can do the testing when I see Millie next week." Darla offered.

"Oh, we're definitely having a girl." Milo said with an eye roll.

"Why do you say that?" Mom asked.

"We are not having a girl. It's a boy. Has to be a boy." Leo said.

Milo smirked.

"That's why." He said.

I chuckled.

"I also think it's a girl." I said.

"Girl." Atlas agreed.

"I think it's gonna be a boy." Caleb added.

"Girl." Lila said.

"Boy." Adam.

"Boy." Henry.

"I don't really care either way." Derek

"Girl." Dad.

"Boy." Darla.

"Boy." Sarah.

"Girl." Mom.

We all looked to Jen for her guess.

"I don't know. Boy I guess." She said.

Just then Millie and her parents walked back into the room.

Betty and David took their seats. Millie stopped in front of Leo, who pulled her into his lap. She looks way better with that beautiful smile across her face.

"What are we talking about?" Millie asked.

Darla poured Betty and David a drink while she answered.

"Just betting on if it's a boy or girl."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 32

Well, telling our parents didn't go as bad as I thought it would. They were all pretty mad, but I think the fact that we all had a plan helped. I have no idea how I would do this without any of them anyways. Especially with our parents paying for our apartment. It's been a week since then though. All of our moms started a group chat. They insisted on it to keep tabs on me. This way I can show them all everything together. It's kind of cute honestly.

I've been feeling much better since telling my parents as well. Like a weight has been lifted off of my shoulders. I'm so much less stressed now.

And hungry. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Baby, can we stop to eat before we get there?" I asked Leo.

We are on our way to my ultrasound appointment. Mom is meeting us there. Milo is already there. Atlas had to work though, and Oli decided to stay home to start baby proofing our apartment. Something about it being too many people in one small room, and how he feels bad that Atlas would have to be the only one to miss it.

I thought that was fine. It's just some testing, and an ultrasound. Honestly, Mom could have been the only one with me, and it would have been fine. They were all there when I got my first one. The baby is just going to be bigger now. I'll have pictures to show them though.

"Milo and Darla are waiting for us princess." Leo said.

We're already running late because I had to pee right as we were walking out the door, and I've been pretty sluggish.

"Pleeassseee." I begged. "I think they'll understand that I needed food. Come on boo bear, think about your unborn child. He is hungry." I said really pushing the he.

Leo wants this baby to be a boy so bad. I think he's terrified to be a father of a girl. I'm not sure why, it's not like he's a bad guy. Still, it always gets him.

A small smile fell on Leo's lips pulling up that lip ring.

"Okay fine."

"You two were supposed to be here 20 minutes ago." Milo scolded us as he helped me out of the car.

"Will you relax. I'm not so big that I can't get out of the damn car Milo." I said grumpily.

"I thought food was supposed to put you in a better mood."

Leo muttered.

"It would have. If they wouldn't have put onions on my burger." I stated brattily.

"Since when don't you like onions?" Milo asked.

"Since she took a bite of her burger, and tasted them." Leo said annoyed

I whipped my head to him as he came around the car.

"Stop being mean to me!" I practically yelled.

Leos eyes went wide.

"When the hell was I mean to you?" He asked.

"You're being mean right now!" I yelled.

"How!?" Leo yelled back.

"You're yelling at me!" I replied shouting.

"You started yelling first!" Leo said incredulously.

"I'm pregnant!" I countered.

Leo just stared at me like I've grown a second head. I crossed my arms over my belly bump, and stuck my nose in the air. People had started noticing our little yelling match. Leo sighed.

"Ya know what, you're right baby. I'm sorry. I should have told them no onions even though you used to like them. I'm sorry for yelling at you." He said. you should be." I stated.

"As

I grabbed Milo's hand, and started to drag him towards the entrance. My other hand feels too empty though. So I stopped abruptly. The moment Leo caught up, I grabbed his hand too. "I cannot wait for your mood swings to go away." Leo muttered.

"Keep up with comments like that boo bear, and they never will." I said.

Milo laughed.

"Cut Leo some slack cupcake. He's doing the best he can.

Just like you are." He said.

"And you are doing an amazing job taking care of our baby." Leo said, and then kissed the top of my head.

I sighed.

"I'm sorry Leo. I'll"

"No need to apologize princess. I understand." He said.

"Just wait until she gives birth. Then we'll have two princess's to take care of." Milo teased.

Leo paled.

"It'll be okay Leo." I said.

"It will be. How bad could one more princess be?" He asked more to himself. "We are waiting at least four more years for another one though." He said.

Milo and I paused together. We stared at Leo for a moment.

Did he really..

"What?" Leo asked

"You want more?" Milo asked

Leo blushed slightly as he shrugged.

"I don't know. Let's get through one first." He said.

Milo rushed us to the area of the hospital we were supposed to be at 30 minutes ago. Mom and Darla are there waiting. Darla stood up, crossed her arms, and started tapping her foot. "You're late." She said.

"Sorry. I wanted to stop for food. And then Leo started yelling at me in the parking lot." I said.

Darla and Mom's eyes snapped to Leo. Who looked at me like he can't believe I just threw him under the bus. All while Milo just snickered beside me.

"Whatever, let's just start with your tests." Darla said.

Milo and Darla lead us down a hall to an empty room. I can't help but check Milo out in his scrubs. He even has on a lab coat. My god, he looks so sexy. I wonder if I could get him to give me head with all of that on later. We can play doctor and nurse, or should I be saying nurses.

I bet Leo could get behind that. He can be a doctor too. We all know how much he loves being in charge. Man, I can't wait to leave. I might jump Leo as soon as we get in the car.

"I know what you're thinking princess. Leo whispered in my ear.

My face heated. No he doesn't. He can't.

"What makes you think I would let you c*m so easily after throwing me under the bus like that?" He asked teasingly.

My head snapped to his. He wouldn't do that. He can't. Leo can try to use the whole edging thing against me all he wants. Ever since getting pregnant, all it takes is one slight touch, and I'm cumming.

I opened my mouth to say just that, but before I could we were walking into an empty examination room.

"Have a seat Millie, I need to draw some of your blood.

Milo, why don't you do it. You passed your phlebotomy certification already. Think of this as practice." Darla said.

I shrugged my jacket off, and handed it to Leo. Along with my purse. Leo rolled his eyes as he sat in one of the chairs in the room. I hopped up on the bed, and waited for Milo to come back.

Darla asked me several questions. All while Mom help my hand. She kept giving me little squeezes here, and there. I smiled at her everytime she did it.

Mom is just nervous for me. Hell, I'm nervous for me. It's okay though. I have a huge support system. Even one of the grandmothers is going to deliver this kid

"Have you guys talked about who's going to be in the delivery room?" Darla asked.

I frowned at her.

"What do you mean?" I asked.

I assumed we would all be there. Is that not what's going to happen?

"Millie, you can only have two people in the delivery room.

Thankfully, because Milo should be ahead in his schooling, and we can both sign off on him being there, he can assist me. Meaning he can be there, and two others." Darla told me. Two? That means that one of them won't be with me? How are we supposed to figure that out? I can't chose between them.

"Leo and I have already discussed it." Mom said.

I whipped my head to her.

"What?" I asked.

"We knew that you wouldn't be able to make that choice cupcake." Milo said. "So, we all got together, and discussed it. Then Leo talked about it with your mom."

I looked at Leo.

"You did?" I asked. Leo nodded

"Your mother and Oliver will be in the room." He told me.

"Not you?" I asked skeptical.

Milo chuckled at me.

"Leo doesn't think that he will be able to handle seeing you go through that without shouting at everyone, and making things worse." Milo told me.

"That makes sense." I said.

Milo laughed while Leo rolled his eyes.

"Well, I'm glad you'll be in there with me Mom." I said. "Why did you guys chose Oli though?" I asked.

"Because Atlas could barely stand to see you throw up. No way can he handle seeing you giving birth." Milo said.

"Which he agreed."

"Oliver is the most suited to handle this situation. He's calm, and you enjoy his touch. He will be the most helpful." Leo told me.

I guess they have a point.

"Okay, lay back and lift your shirt." Darla instructed me.

I did as she said, and Darla was quick to squeeze the gel on my belly. Mom squeezed my hand as she stared at the monitor. Leo and Milo hovered next to me as they stared at the screen too.

I'm too busy staring at my mom and my lovers to even look at the screen. I can hear the baby's heart beat in the room. I just love watching their faces as they peek at our little bean.

Then Mom furrowed her brow. I followed her sight to the screen. I had to squint. Is that.

"Well, I guess we know why you're so much bigger than you should be."

About Five Months Later ~

"Leo, you really don't need to do this." I said as Leo helped me undress.

"You want to take a bath baby. Let me help you." He replied.

I rolled my eyes.

The school year ended a little over a week ago. Ever since, my boyfriends haven't been letting me lift a finger. It's a bit ridiculous.

I know that I'm as big as a damn whale now, but I'm not helpless. Although, Darla did tell me to rest as much as possible for the last two months. Which has been a lot harder than I thought it would be. Leo pulled off my leggings. Then he stood to his feet. I smiled up at him as he gripped the ends of my shirt.

I opened my mouth to tell Leo that I love him, when the weirdest sensation hit me. Then a sharp cramping started in my belly. I gripped Leo's shirt as I waited for the pain to pass, but it's taking forever. "Millie, did you just pee?" Leo asked.

Oh no.

"My water just broke" I said.

"What?!" Leo shouted

I glared up at Leo.

"I didn't pee you ;t. My water just br-Ahh!" I screamed out as another contraction hit me. "Leo, it's time."

Leo nodded his head frantically.

"Atlas! Oli! It's happening!" Leo shouted as he hurriedly started to put my pants back on.

Both Atlas and Oli barged into the bathroom.

"It's happening?" Atlas asked. "Like right now?"

"Yes right now." I gritted out through the pain.

"Atlas, go get the car. Oli, grab our bag, and call Milo." Leo ordered.

Both jumped to do as Leo said.

After my pants were pulled up, Leo grabbed my face.

"Breathe baby. Remember. In and out. Hee Hee Hoo. Hee Hee Hoo." Leo told me.

I nodded my head as I started to breathe with Leo.

Leo dragged me from the bathroom. He grabbed a bag from Oli, and then they helped me down the stairs of our apartment complex. After one floor, Leo picked me up bridal style, and carried me the rest of the way. If this was any other situation I would have rolled my eyes.

Atlas was waiting out front in our car. Oli threw our bags in the back before sliding in the back seat. Leo slid in the back seat with me still in his arms.

"How far apart are your contractions angel?" Oli asked me.

I groaned as another one hit me.

"I. don't know." I said panting.

"About five minutes apart." Leo said.

"Milo said that's soon." Oli said.

"We're going to make it to the hospital right?" I asked panicked.

"Don't worry babygirl, we'll make it."

Atlas was right. We rushed to the hospital, getting there in record time. Milo was at the entrance waiting for me. Atlas kissed all over my face before I had to leave him Atlas parked the car while the other three rushed me through the hospital in a wheel chair.

"My mom, where is my mom?" I asked.

"I called her before I called Milo. She should be here any minute.* Oli told me.

"I don't know if I can do this without her." I said as I started to cry-

"Relax baby. She is going to make it. Just remember to breathe." Leo told me.

All I could do was nod.

I was rushed to a room where I was stripped down. I was hooked up to a few different machines. All while groaning in pain. My contractions are getting worse. Darla came in to check on me shortly after that.

"Well, you're almost ready to push Millie. It's too late to give you an epidural." She told me.

Milo breathed out in relief. We wanted to do this with no drugs if possible. I'm glad about that, but..

"Where is my mom?" I asked through the pain.

"I'm here! I'm here!" Came my mom's voice as she rushed into the room.

Mom rushed right over to my bed, pushing Leo out of the way. She grabbed my hands, and pushed some hair out of my face. I smiled as slight relief washed over me. "Thank god." I muttered.

Another contraction had me squeezing Mom's hand. "Yeah thank god, because it's time." Darla announced.

"Push Millie, push!" Darla shouted for the hundredth time.

Holy fg s1! I've never experienced pain like this before! It's so bad that I barely know what's going on around me. SEAR*ch the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Milo is standing behind his mom between my legs. My vision is too blurry to tell what's going on in his head. Mom is on my right while I squeeze the life out of her hand. She's been couching me through all of this while also trying to get a peek. Then there's Oli. My guys really did decide right chosing him. He's been whispering sweet nothings into my ear while I scream out in pain. Oli rubs my hair out of my face, and wipes the sweat from my forehead. He is reminding me to breath too. Oli has really been my rock.

"Okay, I see the head. One more push Millie." Darla said.

"You can do this baby." Oli said, and then kissed my head.

I pushed again.

A moment later, we heard it.

The sound of our baby crying filled the room. I watched as Darla handed my new born to Milo. He looked up at me with a huge smile on his face.

"It's a boy." He said as tears fell down his cheeks.

Milo and another nurse went to the sink to wash our baby boy off.

"Alright baby, one more." Oli whispered in my ear.

"Push for me one more time Millie." Daral said

I pushed with all of my might, screaming out as I did so.

Once again, a moment later, our baby's cries filled the room.

That's right, we had twins. That was what Darla found out all those months ago. Leo's face was priceless. I can't wait to see his face again he finally lays eyes on our beautiful children.

This time, Oli moved from my head to cut the umbilical cord. Oli helped to wrap our baby up, while this one waited to be cleaned off. Tears are coming down Oli's cheeks as he looks up at me.

"It's a girl." He told me. "We have a baby boy, and a baby girl."

"Let Milo clean this little one up. You go get the other fathers." Darla instructed Oli.

Milo walked up to me, with our baby boy. He placed him on my chest before taking our daughter. I looked down at the little bundle of joy.

Our son has a head full of hair. It's so thick and beautiful.

His little eyes opened to stare back at me. He has the cutest button nose, and I swear that's Oli's chin.

A minute later, my daughter was placed on the other side of my chest.

I looked down to see she also has a head full of dark hair.

Her little eyes opened, and started to look around. Not that she can really see anything. Just like her brother, she has a perfect little nose.

A small sob tore from me as Milo rested his head beside me.

"They're perfect." He whispered to me.

"More than perfect." I said.

I looked up just in time to see the rest of the fathers come into the room. Atlas and Oli were quick to come over to my bed. They both stared down at our children. Both of them crying. I looked at Leo to see him hovering a few feet away.

"Would you like to come hold your son? Your daughter perhaps?" I asked with a smile.

Leo slowly made his way to our bed. Milo carefully lifted our daughter, and handed her to Leo. I knew that I would love the look on Leo's face when he first laid eyes on his children.

Pure happiness shone on Leo's face. A smile wider than I've ever seen him make spread across his lips. He stared down at our daughter in wonderment

"She looks like you." He said as he looked up at me.

I gave a weak chuckle.

"They look like aliens right now." I said.

Everyone laughed.

"Cute aliens. Cutest aliens I've ever seen." Atlas cooed to our son.

"Why don't you guys go with the nurses. They are going to make sure that the babies are healthy. Millie needs to get cleaned up, and a little rest." Darla suggested.

Atlas, and Oli started to make their way to the door. Leo looks hesitant though. His eyes are flickering between me and Darla.

"I'll be fine Leo. Milo is going to stay. Right?" I asked Milo.

Milo smiled at me.

"I'll stay with her the entire time Leo." He said.

Reluctantly Leo followed the others out. I smiled as my body relaxed. I'm still in so much pain, but it's a lot better now.

I still can't believe this just happened. I just gave birth. To two babies. Two perfect babies. The relationship I never thought would work out, is turning out to be something more beautiful than we ever thought it would. And this is our life now. Together we can make it through anything. I can't wait to start the rest of my life.

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 34

~ About One Year Later ~

"Atlas! Are you getting Beau ready?" I shouted.

Just then, Atlas rounded the corner with little Beau in his arms. Our son has on the cute blue overalls that I picked out for him. They'll match his sisters pink ones. Bonnie and Beau.

We went back and fourth on names for my entire pregnancy. I wanted our kids to have cute matching twin names. Like Lila and Leo. Of course, Leo was against that. Obviously I got my way in the end.

As we all know, we decided not to dwell on who the 'real' father is. It doesn't matter. Not in our relationship. They are all Dad to our twins.

And the twins make it impossible to tell by looking at them that they are twins though.

Beau has curly dirty blonde hair. He has light green eyes that match mine. Beau still has Oli's chin, but I swear he has Milos nose.

Both of them have Milo's nose, and it is the only trait that they share.

Bonnie has perfectly straight thick black hair. Her chin is just like mine. Bonnie even has a set of adorable dimples.

She has light blue eyes, and scowl that would stop a grown man in his tracks.

Wonder who she gets that from.

So, it seems that Beau has Oli's hair. Both have Milo's nose.

Beau has my eyes, and Bonnie my chin. Bonnie has Leo's hair, and Atlas's eyes. It's strange how they ended up being a mix of all of us.

Of course, everyone else has their own opinions.

The five of us agree that they all look like us. Though, they all make jokes about how Bonnie has to be Leos. That's because our girl is a grumpy little thing. They all joke that Beau is Oli's because of that curly hair. But they're both a bit of us all.

My parents think that Beau looks just like me, and Bonnie looks just like Leo. Caleb and Lila even agreed. I think Caleb just agreed with whatever Lila said honestly.

Darla thinks that Beau looks just like Oli, but that Bonnie looks like a mix of Leo and Milo. I thought that was kind of funny. Derek, had no opinion. He's a great grandfather, but he's as quiet as always.

I wonder if that's why he's Bonnie's favorite grandpa.

Ally thinks that Beau is a perfect mix of Oli and I. Search the FindNøvel.net website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Apparently, Bonnie is the perfect mix of Leo and Atlas.

Which I thought was hilarious. Marcus didn't agree though.

He agreed with us. In fact, I'm pretty sure he thinks it's the weirdest thing ever that our twins look like all four of us.

Henry. does not give two shits about how either of our kids look. As long as he can play the fun grandpa that fills them up with sugar, he could care less. When we asked him what he thought, he said 'I don't care at all. All that matters is how cute they are!'

Jen disagreed with her husband. Of course. She thinks that Bonnie looks like Atlas, and Beau looks like me. Like her husband though, she doesn't care at all as long as she gets to love them.

It was hard at first for all of our parents to wrap their heads around the fact that we didn't want to know which one the bio dad is. Well, except Darla of course. Eventually the rest came around though.

The longer I was pregnant the more excited everyone got.

No matter how strange our relationship is our parents slowly started to accept it more and more. We certainly don't care, so our parents shouldn't either.

This last year of school proved to be a bit harder than we thought. While we had heaps of help, things didn't always go as planned. There were times that Bonnie ripped up our school work, or Beau spilled things on our books. All of us took turns having sleepless nights. It was a lot harder than we thought.

I wasn't able to keep my TA position halfway through my pregnancy. Because I was having twins, I really had to cut back on things. I was really close to being put on bed rest for a minute there.

The others in my SA group still came over though. Even after the twins were born. Oli's friends even started coming over to hang out at our apartment. Caine brought all kinds of gifts for the twins. Gifts that they won't be old enough to play with until they are at least 8.

Caine has no clue about anything when it comes to kids.

Atlas has built up quite the clientele as well. At first it was only a few people who hired him. They loved his food so much that they recommended him to anyone. Now Atlas has such a big clientele that he's been able to make his own hours. He even started to take over bills at the apartment to prove to our parents that we are taking things very seriously.

I've never been so proud of him.

Other than that, things pretty much went how we wanted it to. Having kids is a lot harder than we thought, no matter how much we prepared, or how much help we had. Plus, having two at once.. I'm just happy I have four fathers to help me out.

We went through colds, flus, colic, papers due, projects, graduation, everything that we thought we were ready for, but were not. And I wouldn't have traded it for anything in the world. I love my little family. One full year in, and I think we've been doing great. "Bonnie is ready too." Leo said as he popped up behind

Atlas carrying our daughter.

I looked between my two children. Beau has his fingers in his mouth, chewing on them. Bonnie has her little stuffed bunny that Derek gave her. She takes that thing everywhere. Bonnie also has a scowl on her face as usual. "Okay, put them down so I can get some pictures." I said.

Atlas put Beau down in front of the wall I set up to take pictures. Leo tried to put Bonnie down, but she refused. As usual. She never wants to detach from Leo.

"Bonnie, Mommy wants to get some pictures of you and your brother." Leo told her.

Bonnie humphed at her dad making me giggle.

"Be good for Mommy today, and I'll read you three stories before bed tonight." Leo said.

A wide smile broke out on Bonnie's face. She let go of her dad, and waddled to her brother. They just learned how to walk, and it has been so cute to watch them waddle everywhere.

Bonnie grabbed hold of her brother's hand, and turned to face me. The scowl is right back on her face. I shook my head before snapping a few pictures.

"Okay, now bribe her to smile." I told Leo.

Leo gave me a bored look making me laugh.

"What?" I asked.

"Don't say I bribed my daughter." He said.

"But you did." Atlas chimed in.

Leo rolled his eyes as he walked up to our daughter.

"Bonnie, you said you'd be good. That means smiling all day." Leo told her.

"Dada." Was all Bonnie said in return.

Although, she did smile. Making Leo smile wide. Making Atlas and I smile too.

"Okay, a few more pictures, and then we gotta go. Your other daddy's are waiting at the restaurant for us."

"Finally you're here!" Milo said as he met us outside of the restaurant.

Today is the twins first birthday. Because we have such a big family, we knew we were going to need a big space. It was proving to be difficult, until TJ offered to close half of his restaruant for us. Free of charge at that.

TJ Parks is by far the nicest man I have ever met. He even gave us a discount for catering to our twins party. Now seeing the restaurant...

"TJ did all of this?" I asked Atlas.

This place is completely decorated. Streamers, balloons, other party things hanging from the ceiling. There's a huge birthday banner with the twin's names on it. Pink and Blue table clothes on the tables. Prince an princess center pieces are in the middle of the tables. It's so cute.

I didn't know about all of this. I wasn't even thinking we would decorate like this. I just thought we would have a few balloons, and maybe a banner. This. is so amazing.

"He went all out, I know." Atlas said. "I told him he didn't have to."

I set Beau down, and he immediately ran to his grandpa Henry. I turned to see Bonnie clinging to Leo while glaring at everyone else. This girl.. Leo was so scared to have a daughter, now look at him. He doesn't want to part from her either. "There's my favorite little goblin."

Bonnie turned her head at the sound of TJ's voice. She gasped as a smile spread across her face. Bonnie put her arms out, and nearly jumped out of Leo's arms to get to TJ.

TJ happily took Bonnie, and started to bounce her up and down. The only other person that Bonnie likes, is TJ. I think that's why he went all out for their party. Bonnie is a hard kid to get to like you, but once she does.. It's over, there is no saying no to her. "You guys are late." Mom said to me.

rolled my eyes as I hugged her.

"Bonnie had to be difficult." I said.

Mom laughed as she pulled back from me.

"You were the same with your dad as a baby. Never wanted to part from him." She told me.

I rolled my eyes.

"One of them could at least be attached to me." I grumbled.

"Beau just wants anyone who will give him a snack, and Bonnie hates everyone except Leo, Derek, and TJ." I whined.

Mom patted my shoulder as she laughed.

"It'll get better honey." She told me.

Adam stood up then.

"Now that you're here, who wants cake and ice cream?"

A couple of hours later, and we have completely trashed TJ's restaurant. The twins have successfully convinced all of their grandfathers to open their gifts. All while the grandmother's hovered over them giggling. While the five of us sat back, and had a drink. I sighed. Man, I needed this. It's only been a couple weeks since we graduated, and I still feel like I never relaxed.

"Should we get going?" Oli asked me.

I shook my head, and then leaned into him.

"No, they're having way too much fun." I said.

Leo kissed the top of my head, and sat down next to me.

"Are we all ready to go tomorrow?" I asked.

Tomorrow we are leaving to spend a few weeks at the lake house. We decided to spend the next month there before Oli and I start our new jobs. We aren't sure how often we will be able to go there once we start working.

I have been dying to take the twins there. It's a little slice of heaven on earth to me. I know that they are just going to have a blast there.

"About that." Leo said.

I sat up straight.

"Oh no.. That doesn't sound good." I said.

"Relax cupcake, it's a good 'about that." Milo said.

I gave him a confused look.

"Huh?" I asked.

"Well" Leo said getting my attention again. "We actually have everything packed in the car right now." He said.

"Oh?" I asked still confused

"Let's go up tonight." Milo whispered in my ear.

My eyebrows shot up

"You want to drive all the way there tonight? With the twins? This late?" I asked.

It has to be at least 9 something right now. It takes a couple of hours to get to the lake house. I mean, I guess the twins would probably fall asleep on our way.

Leo shook his head at me.

"Our parents have offered to bring them up tomorrow. So that we could have some time alone." He said.

Alone? Gosh, we haven't had much time alone since the twins were born. Actually.

"They've never stayed away from us for a full night." I said softly.

"They will be fine angel." Oli told me.

"Yeah babygirl. By the time we get up there, they'll be asleep. By the time we wake up, they'll be there." Atlas added.

I chewed on my bottom lip, and Leo grabbed my hand.

"We haven't been away from them for a full night, I know.

We deserve one night baby. It's only one night. They will be perfectly fine." He said.

I looked between all of them, then at our twins playing with their grandparents. "Okay. Let's do it."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 35

Milo's P.O. V.

I can't believe Millie really agreed to come up to the lake house a night early. Without our kids. I really didn't think she would go for it.

It's not like Millie doesn't trust our parents, she's just worried. I completely understand. Which is why I demanded texts and pictures of my kids until they fall asleep. Thankfully, Mom was understanding, as usual.

Millie is not the only one feeling anxious about being away from our twins. I think we all feel it a little. I just think that we all also understand that we deserve a night away from everything.

It's been so long since we've all had time like this. With all of us shuffling our lives around the twins, it makes being alone harder. Of course that didn't stop us from making time to be freaky, but it's been a while since we've been able to take our time. Millie slid into the backseat of Atlas's car. We kept Atlas's car, and Leos motorcycle, but traded in mine, and Oli's for a mini van. We also got Millie her license.

I had given the keys to our mini van to Sarah. They will be driving it up tomorrow morning. Tonight is all about Mommy and her Daddies.

"Are you guys sure this is really okay?" Millie asked after Leo started driving down the road. "What if they get sick?"

Or can't sleep without us? What about reading Bonnie those books?" Millie shot out question after question.

"I never said when I would do it, but you're right. I'll have to make it up to her tomorrow night." Leo said.

"This is fine baby. It's perfectly normal for you to feel weird your first night away." I told her.

Millie turned her head to me.

"Do you feel weird too?" She asked.

I gave her a small smile.

"Yes I do. I told my mom to text me every hour, and send pictures." I told her.

Millie smiled back at me as her shoulders slumped slightly.

"That makes me feel a bit better. I mean, they have a lot of care tonight. Your mom is a doctor, what's safer than that?"

I should really just relax." She said more to herself.

"That's right babygirl. Relax." Atlas said as he slung his arm around Millie.

Leo is driving. Oli is in the passenger seat. Atlas and I in the back with Millie between us. I'm having deja vu.

I smirked, and dipped my lips to Millie's ear.

"I can't imagine that these clothes are very comfortable though." I told her before pressing a kiss to her neck

Millie shivered, but looked up at me with a frown.

"I'm wearing jeans, and a blouse." She stated.

I looked up at Atlas to see him smirking. We shared a knowing look before Atlas grabbed Millie's shoulders. I grabbed her legs, and we spun her around. Just like she was that night when we first made this trip. Millie gasped, but didn't object. I looked up at Leo. He gave me a single nod, and I turned back to Millie.

"What are you two doing?" Millie asked.

"Well, jeans are not comfortable cupcake. Let me help you out of them." I said.

I moved my hands up Millie's legs slowly while keeping my eyes locked on hers.

"Let me help take this uncomfortable looking shirt off too."

Atlas said.

Atlas moved his hands down Millie slowly. Oli is now turned in his seat enjoying the show. Millie has a beautiful smile across her perfect lips.

I undid the button and zipper of Millie's jeans. Then I slid them down her body slowly. I pulled them off of her completely, and tossed them to the floor. Then Atlas pulled off her shirt, and cami. Leaving Millie in only her red lacey bra, and matching panties. My eyes roamed across her entire body.

"Did you already know about this angel?" Oli asked.

Millie looked over to him, and shook her head.

"You have on matching underwear." Leo stated.

Millie frowned, but her face turned a light shade of pink.

Even after all these years together, and two kids she still blushes for us. I hope she does that forever.

"Were you planning something yourself tonight princess?"

Leo asked her teasingly.

"Maybe I did." Millie mumbled.

"Did your plans include all of us?" Oli asked.

"Don't they always?" She asked back.

I chuckled as I lifted Millie's right leg to my shoulder. I kissed her inner ankle while I held her other leg open.

Atlas's hands snaked their way behind Millie's back to undo her bra.

"Stop." Leo ordered making us freeze. "Her underwear stays on until we get there." He ordered.

"Huh?" I asked.

Leo's eyes flickered to me in the rearview mirror.

"I never said she couldn't cum." Was all he said.

I smirked as I looked back to Millie. Her face is flushed now, and her breathing changed. Atlas pulled her bra down, making her boobs bounce out.

Ever since getting pregnant Millie's body has changed. It's even more beautiful now. I don't even mean the fact that her boobs are bigger, or her a*s is wider. Every stretch mark, and dip are all signs that she carried our children. Millie is a woman now. An unbelievably sexy woman.

I would be lying if I said I didn't want to have more babies with her. Having the twins was hard, but we made it work. I want more. More mini Millie's running around. More scowling Leo's. More blonde curly boys. More of all of us.

I kissed my way down Millie's leg while Atlas played with her n*s. When I got to her inner thighs, I spread her out even more. Ever since having the twins I worship Millie's p*ixy. Ive become a man obsessed. I'm so happy that shes mine.

I pushed my face into Millie's clothed pity, and inhaled deeply. We moaned together. My tongue darted out to taste the dampness on her panties. God, I wish I had that vibrating tongue ring right now. "Wait, I brought this." Oli said.

I moved my face from Millie's py to see him holding out the very thing I was wishing for. I grabbed the small bag that the vibrating ring is in from Oli, and gave him a smile.

Oli is always thinking ahead. It's no wonder why he got a job so quickly.

Atlas reached one of his hands down between Millie's thighs. He pushed his fingers under her panties, and she moaned loudly. Then he started to move his fingers fast.

Millie and Atlas's face are both flushed now. Although, Millie's is much redder. She's moaning louder now. fk, I'm so hard.

I moved my face back between Millie's legs. Atlas moved his hand, and I pressed my vibrating tongue to Millie's ct.

She bucked under me. I had to hold her hips down to keep her still.

"M-Milo.. Ah! Ohh. D-daddy." Millie moaned out.

I used my fingers to move Millie's panties out of the way.

The moment my tongue landed on her ct, she came.

Screaming out for me as I slurped up all of her juices.

I wanted to keep going. Even after she came down from her high. I don't want to stop tasting her at all.

"That's enough Milo." Leo said.

I pulled my face away enough to look at him.

"It's been a while since we've given Millie more than a handful of os. I have plans for later. Let Millie rest for now' He told me.

I looked back at Millie's face. She has a goofy grin on her adorable face. Atlas has already pulled her bra back up.

Millie yawned, and I smiled at her.

"Alright. Take a nap cupcake."

C

"Hmm? What's going on?" Millie asked as Leo set her on the bed.

"We just got here. I carried you up stairs." He told her as he hovered above her.

Millie hummed as she wrapped her arms around Leo. Leo leaned down to press his lips to hers. I stripped my shirt off immediately. "Someone's eager." Atlas teased.

Oli is already sucking all over Atlas's bare chest. Working his way down to his jeans. I rolled my eyes at them.

"Not all of us have another to help take care of us while we watch Millie get pleased." I complained.

Atlas chuckled at me.

"That's your own fault." He said. "I could always help you get ready for her." He offered.

"Uh no, I'm busy with you right now." Oli said

Atlas chuckled again as he gripped onto Oli's head.

"Sorry baby. You go ahead, and do whatever you want to me." He said.

"Milo."

My head snapped to Millie at the sound of my name. She's sitting on top of Leo now, both of them completely naked.

Damn, he did that fast. Millie beckoned me over with her fingers.

"I want both of you to fk me while Oli sucks off Atlas."

She told me.

I smiled as I walked over to the bed.

"Why do you still have clothes on?" Millie asked with a frown.

"S-sorry cupcake." I stuttered.

fk, when Millie looks at me like that. I just.. Man, I'm so in love with her.

"Strip Milo." Leo ordered. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I immediately did what I was told. Undoing my jeans, and pushing them down along with my boxers. My ck sprung free making Millie giggle.

I crawled onto the bed behind Millie. My arms circled around her, and my lips fell onto her bare shoulder. Millie moaned as she rocked her hips. Leo isn't side of her though. Maybe I should help with that. I sucked, and nibbled on Millie's neck as I lifted her hips.

Then I slowly let her down right on Leo's ck. Millie moaned, and I started to rock her hips for her.

"M-Milo." Millie complained

"Get her ready Milo. I'll take it from here." Leo said as he handed me a bottle of lube.

Leo pulled Millie down on top of him. She started moving while moaning against Leo. Leo spread her a*s cheeks for me, and I squirted some lube on my hand.

I found Millie's back hole quickly. I slowly pushed a finger inside making Millie moan louder. fk, I love those moans of hers.

I pumped my finger in her before adding two more. I couldn't help myself. The gasping moan that Millie makes when I stretch her out is so sexy. The way that she melts against me as she gets used to it is even better. I think I might be drooling.

"M-Milo.. stop te-teasing me already." Millie whined out through her moans.

"Our girl is impatient for you Milo. Put it in her." Leo ordered.

"O-okay." I breathed out.

I removed my fingers, and squirted some lube on my ck.

Then I lined myself up at Millie's back hole. I pushed myself inside of her slowly. Once I was all the way in I moaned loudly.

A shiver ran through my body.

"Fk baby." I whispered.

I pulled myself out slowly, and pushed myself back in hard.

Millie moaned as she melted on Leo. Leo's eyes connected with mine as I kept up my slow pace.

"Go faster Milo. We have one night before we get our kids back. Let's see how many times Millie can c*m." He ordered.

With that order, I went faster and harder. I thrust in and out of Millie while I held her hips. She's a moaning mess with her head laying on Leo's chest. Millie is watching Oli and Atlas, moaning all of our names.

I'm pretty sure our girl came once, and hasn't stopped. I fg love it when that happens. I bet it feels fg amazing for her. Plus, she gets so wet, and her py spasms like crazy. Not that her ass isn't great too. fk I'm drooling again.

"fk, I'm going to cum." I said.

"Millie has a few times already." Leo told me.

She has? Not just the long one? fk, I'll take it anyways

"Milo, make it quick. I'm going to c*m too." Leo ordered.

"c*m in me." Millie said.

I almost fg stopped.

"Millie, that's how we go."

"Please. I don't care if I get pregnant again. I wouldn't mind having another baby. I just.. want you all to fill me. Please Leo." Millie begged.

Leo's eyes flickered to me.

"I'm fine with getting her pregnant again." I said happily.

"Yeah same." Atlas said. "Oli would say the same, but his mouth is a bit busy right now."

Leo gripped Millie's face, and kissed her lips.

"Faster Milo, our girl has demanded we fill her up tonight."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 36

~ Three Years Later ~

"Mommy Mommy! Bonnie stole my crayon." Beau saddled on his sister.

"Well, I guess it's a good thing that we are about to put our swimsuits on, and go outside." I told him.

It's been three years. The twins just turned four. All they do is fight these days. Bonnie is constantly doing whatever she wants with no regard for her twin. Gee, wonder who she gets that from. Beau has been a bit of a tattle tail though. Bonnie does the smallest things, and he is running to tell on her to someone. We've learned to pick our battles with them at this point. The twins have really grown too. Beau still has his dirty blonde curly hair. His green eyes match mine to a T. He's a bit taller than his sister though.

Not that they look alike anyways.

Bonnie's hair just seemed to get thicker as she grew. After she cut it herself a year ago, I make sure it's always up.

Unless one of us are around her all day long. Bonnie's attitude hasn't changed at all either. She still scowls at everyone but her dads.

They are starting preschool when the school year starts back up. I'm so excited for them, and also sad. My babies are growing up.

Atlas, Oli, and I have all been working the same jobs. Atlas has been offered so many opportunities lately as well. This was also the last year of school for both Leo and Milo.

Leo will start at his fathers firm in a few weeks. Milo will be starting at the hospital the same week. They decided to take some time off to help us settle into our new place. Since the rest of us could only get so much time off of work.

We bought a house recently. The paperwork is still being handled, but we have already started to move. We were only able to do that, because it was the beach house that we bought. Our parents had decided to sell it now that we were all grown. I couldn't stand to see it go. Not with all of the memories I have with the guys there. With our whole family. So, we all had a long talk about it. We needed more space anyways.

However, before we make the official move, we decided to go on vacation. So, now we are all at the lake house. Our parents couldn't make it this time, but Lila and Caleb did. Along with their daughter. Who is now two.

"Mommy, will you swim with me?" Beau asked.

I chuckled as I finished pulling up his trunks.

"I sure will, but we need to get your sisters ready." I told him.

"Already done Momma."

I turned to see Milo standing in the doorway. Bonnie is standing next to him holding his hand, with her suit on. Our two year old daughter in his arms.

I smiled.

The last time we were in this lake house, I'm pretty sure I got pregnant again. I know that we all talked about how we didn't care, but I didn't think it would actually happen. I should have known better. Little Daisy is the quiet one of our kids. She was an almost perfect baby. Daisy barely ever cried. I call her a watcher.

Because she's always watching everyone while keeping quiet.

I have no idea if she gets that from Leo or Oliver honestly.

Although, Daisy is a spitting image of Milo. Once again, we didn't do a DNA test. With Daisy though, it wouldn't have mattered.

Daisy has light brown curly hair, like wavy curly. She has dark blue eyes that sparkle just like Mild's. Although, I think she has Atlas's nose, and lips. Not that anyone else agrees with me.

Milo and Daisy are attached at the hip. While Beau clings to me, and Bonnie clings to Leo, Daisy clings to Milo. They are so much alike too it's weird

Both of them love the water. Milo sometimes brings out his surfboard just to put the kids on. I think that its only a matter of time before Daisy is asking for her dad to teach her how to surf though. They both look at the water with the same sense of peace.

It makes me happy that we decided to buy the beach house. Now they can play in the water whenever they'd like.

My phone started to ring knocking me from my thoughts.

"Uh, I'll be right out. I have to change still." I told him.

"Alright, come on Beau. Let's give Momma a minute." Milo said.

Just as Milo left, Lila walked in shutting the door behind her. I held up my finger as I answered my phone.

"Hey Darla, did you send it?" I asked.

"Yes, you can see each of them clearly." She said.

"Great." I said. "I'm going to tell them today."

"You haven't told them yet?" Lila asked.

"Okay, call me as soon as you guys get back. We need to keep an eye on you with this one." Darla told me. "Got it." I said before hanging up.

"I was told to bring you this." Lila said handing me a fresh donut. "You really haven't told them yet?" She asked.

I just took a bite of the donut when a wave of nausea hit me. I shoved the donut at Lila, and ran for the bathroom. I barely made it to the toilet before I started throwing up. Lila was quick to help me pull my hair out of my face.

When I was finally done, I washed my face, and brushed my teeth. Man, this pregnancy is kicking my ass. This is the worst pregnancy yet. I can't keep anything down, and I'm so tired all the time.

"I can't believe they haven't noticed yet." Lila muttered.

"I can't either." I said. "Did you tell Caleb yet?" I asked her.

Lila is also pregnant again. She's a bit further along than me. Lila had no idea she was pregnant at first. While I'm miserable, she is having a breezy first couple of months.

"I was going to tell him tonight as well. Raya has a little shirt that she's going to wear. I can't wait to see his face." She said excitedly.

Raya, Caleb's perfect mini me. Kid looks just like him. Thick curly brown hair, deep brown eyes. She's really adorable.

I smiled at Lila.

"Well, I suppose we should change before our kids start to worry."

"Princess."

I looked up at Leo.

"We want to visit our spot. All of us." He told me as he reached his hand out for me.

I grabbed it, and Leo lifted me to my feet, with Beau in my arms.

"Should we put their life jackets on?" I asked.

Leo shook his head.

'Milo will drive slow. We'll hold onto them." He said.

I smiled.

"Okay." I said.

This is perfect. I can tell them while we're out there. Show them the picture, and pray that Leo doesn't freak out too bad.

All of us made our way to the boat. Daisy sat in Milo's lap helping him steer the boat. Milo even told her exactly how to start up, and drive the boat. Bonnie settled in Leo's arms, her head on his chest. Beau snuggled between Atlas and I smiled as I hugged my son closer. When we reached our secret spot, Milo and Daisy honked the horn of the boat. The birds went flying around us the way they always do. I never get tired of seeing this. Neither do our children.

"Mommy look!" Beau said.

"Daddy! That one is so pretty!" Bonnie said.

"Dad! Birdies!" Daisy said as she clapped.

I giggled at all of them.

Leo cleared his throat before standing up. Atlas stood up as well, and Leo set Bonnie next to her twin. Oli was next to stand. Then Milo, who brought Daisy over to join us.

I raised a brow at them once Daisy was settled next to her brother and sister.

"What's going on? You guys look like you're about to serenade us." I teased.

"What's serenade mean?" Beau asked.

"It means to sing to someone." Oli told him.

"Oh, Mommy serenades us a lot." Beau said.

Their dads chuckled.

"That she does." Milo said.

"Mommy's voice is so pretty." Beau said.

"Awh, thank you baby." I told him.

"Way better than Daddy Atlas." Bonnie chimed in nearly making me choke.

"Alright, alright." Leo said with a laugh.

Then his deep green eyes connected with mine

"I made you a promise a long time ago about this spot." He told me.

I gave him a confused look.

"As you know, we are going to be together forever." Oli stated.

I sputtered out some laughter.

"Was it the three kids we had?" I teased.

Milo chuckled as he shook his head.

"Ameilia, you know that we are deeply in love with you." He said.

Ameilia huh?

"We have been since we first laid eyes on you." Atlas told me.

"We all felt it the moment you entered our lives. That we were belonged together." Leo told me.

"Our missing piece." Oli added.

My confusion grew.

"What's going on exactly?" I asked

Leo moved to get down on one knee. He grabbed my hands in his. My eyes went wide.

"As I said, I made a promise to you a while ago. That this would be the place that we would propose to you." He said.

Tears filled my eyes as my jaw hung open.

"We would all be on our knees right now if the boat was bigger." Atlas told me.

"We also already asked the permission of your parents."

Milo told me.

"And the permission of our children." Oli told me. "Bonnie was against it at first." He added with a laugh.

I rolled my eyes. Of course she was.

"Not anymore Mommy. Daddies said that this would make you so happy that you'd smile real big." Bonnie said.

I looked over to her. There is so much worry in her light blue eyes. Way too much for a four year old.

"You've been very sad lately Mommy." She said.

My eyes went wide.

"I haven't been sad." I argued.

Leo squeezed my hands pulling my attention back to his.

"We know that things are. stressful right now. You just got promoted at work, we just bought a house, Milo and I are about to start working. But. Ameilia. would you make us the happiest men in the world, and marry us?" He asked. Tears started to fall down my eyes.

"We love you babygirl." Atlas said

"More than anything." Milo added

"We want to spend the rest of our lives together." Oli said.

I looked up at them as tears streamed down my cheeks.

"Of course I'll marry you all." I said.

Each of them smiled widely back at me. Leo stood to his feet, and turned to Oli. Who pulled something out of his pocket.

A ring. A beautiful one. It's unique too. It's a decent size, not too big or too small. The circle stone in the middle of it is a deep purple color. With smaller colored gems around it.

"This belonged to Oli's great grandmother. It wasn't originally an engagement ring, but we thought it would be perfect for you." Leo said as he slid it on my finger.

Tears are still streaming down my face as I looked at the ring. All of my children peering at it to get a good look. I giggled at them.

I opened my mouth to say something, when another wave of nausea hit me. I quickly spun around, and threw up over the side of the boat. Someone grabbed my hair from my face as I emptied my stomach.

Oh god, these kids are going to be the death of me.

"Mommy." Daisy said sounding scared.

"Mommy you okay?" Beau asked.

I slowly turned back around.

"Mommy's fine babies." I told my worried children.

"Gee, didn't expect that reaction." Atlas said with an awkward laugh.

"Are you sure you're alright Millie?" Leo asked.

I nodded.

"I'm fine. Sorry. I ruined such a beautiful moment." I said with a forced laugh.

I looked up at all their worried faces.

"Uhm, I have some news for you all as well." I said.

"Your pregnant?" Leo asked outright. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"Again?" Atlas said excitedly.

I smiled as I rubbed my belly.

"Yeah. I'm about 16 weeks." I told them.

I pulled out my phone, and pulled up the pictures Darla sent me. I turned my phone to the others. Leo grabbed it from me as they all stared at the screen.

"This is baby A." I said

Then I swiped to the next picture

"This is baby B." I said

I watched as they all smiled. Well, Leo looks a bit worried. I just hope this next part won't make him flip out too much.

I swiped the screen again.

"And this is baby C." I said.

Leo's eyes snapped to mine.

"Baby C?" He asked.

I nodded.

"Triplets.." Oli muttered.

I nodded again.

Leo looks like he's going to be sick. Milo and Atlas have huge smiles on their faces though. Oli is staring at the picture with tears in his "We're... having three more." Leo said.

eyes.

"I'm gonna be a brother!" Beau shouted making all of us laugh.

"You're already a brother buddy." Atlas told him.

"I'm gonna be a brother again." Beau stated happily.

I stared at Leo waiting for him to say something. He opened his mouth, and closed it again. Then he looked at our kids before looking at me again "We are not doing matching names this time."

Betrayed By Everyone Loved by Four Bonus Chapter 37

~ Four Years Later ~

"Mom!"

looked at the door to see Beau barreling in with his two brothers in tow. Beau and Bonnie are now eight years old.

Daisy is six. And our triplets are almost four.

Penelope, Parker, and Peyton.

Clearly I got my way with the matching names again. We named Penelope after Atlass grandmother, who died three months before I gave birth. Parker was named after TJ. We thought it would be cute since he's such a big part of our family now. We went with Parker since Atlas is still calling TJ Mr. Parks.

All of us went back and fourth on the name Peyton for a while. Leo thought that it was too girlie for a boy. I told him that was just silly. It went perfectly with our other names, and it's adorable. After I got the others on board, Leo slowly agreed to it.

"Mom, don't Peyton and Parker look so cute?" Beau gushed.

I giggled as I looked at my boys.

All three are in little suits. Peyton and Parker are to be my ring bearers. Beau is the best man.

Peyton and Parker look exactly alike. They both have dark brown hair, only Peyton's is curly, and Parker's is straighter Both of them have light blue eyes just like their eldest sister. I think they have Oli's nose, chin, and lips though. The two of them gave me wide lopsides smiles. Gee, wonder who they get their genetics from. Finally Atlas got his own little daddy's boys. Peyton and Parker are usually glued to Atlas. The three of them are always getting into trouble. It's like Atlas is a whole kid himself.

"They look very cute." I said to Beau. "You all do."

"Thanks Mom!" Beau said excitedly.

I've never seen a young boy so excited to be dressed up before. Especially when his two hellion brothers are next to him pulling at their clothes. Both of them with matching frowns.

"Momma, these are itchy." Parker complained.

"But you two look so cute." Beau whined.

Peyton glared at his brother.

"We're itchy." He compained.

Beau rolled his eyes.

"Just think of all the girls that will flirt with you." He said.

My eyes went wide as the women in the room started laughing.

"Beau honey, you're all a bit young to be thinking that." I said with a laugh.

"Not me." Beau argued

Oh my god. I blame Atlas for this. The kid is eight for crying out loud.

I swear that all of these kids have a piece of each of us in them. Bonnie looks mostly like Leo, but as she grew she looks a bit like all of us. She still acts just like Leo though.

Beau looks like me and Oli, but acts just like Atlas. Daisy is completely Milo through and through. The kid is ridiculously calm.

Now my triplets. Peyton and Parker have Leo's attitude, but Olis brains. Which is what makes them my trouble makers.

They re only four, and already they have caused the most trouble. Penelope is a lot like me though. She's extremely shy, very smart, and timid until you piss her off.

"Okay boys, time to go." Darla ushered her grandson's out.

"Your mom needs to finish getting ready." Sarah said.

"Mom, can I go see Daddy?"

I turned my head to look at Bonnie. Shes wearing a beautiful light purple dress. Bonnie is supposed to be my made of honor, although, I think she would have preferred to be the best man. Kid is still stuck up her dads a*s.

"Yeah honey, go ahead." I told her.

Before Bonnie could go though, I reached out and grabbed her arm.

"You look so beautiful Bonnie. You're the spitting image of your daddies." I told her with a smile.

Bonnie gave me a small smile. The only kind of smile she has. Leo junior.

"Thanks Mom." She mumbled before rushing off.

I smiled as I watched her go.

"Can I go too Momma?" Daisy asked appearing in front of me.

I sighed. Do none of my kids want to be with me?

Daisy is also in the wedding. She has a matching dress to her older sister. They are to walk down the aisle together.

I tucked some of Daisy's light brown hair behind her ear.

She smiled back at me making those dark blue eyes sparkle. I nodded to her.

"You look so beautiful too Daisy. You look just like Daddy Milo." I told her.

"Thanks Momma." Daisy said with a smile.

"You can go ahead too." I told her.

Daisy's smile widened before she took off in search for her dads. I blew out a breath as I looked to Penelope who is sitting on a sofa in the room. She has her face buried in a coloring book.

Penelope looks a lot like Beau, and nothing like Peyton and Parker. She has thick wavy blonde hair, a little lighter than Beau's, closer in color to Oli. Her eyes are a bright hazel.

Penelope looks exactly like Oli.

The only thing she has from me is my personality.

Although, she has Leo's lips, and chin. Penelope also has Atlas's lopsided smile though. The only trait she shares with her triplet brothers.

Penelope looked up at me. She pushed her glasses up, and gave me a bright smile. Her little dimples poking out.

"You aren't going to leave me too are you?" I asked her.

Penelope shook her head.

"No Mommy." She said.

I smiled. At least one of them wants to be with me. Never would I have thought I'd get jealous over my own kids.

I opened my arms to Penelope. She hopped off the sofa, and ran over to me. I picked her up, and put her in my lap. I looked at the two of us in the mirror.

Penelope has on a light purple dress that's a bit more frilly than her sisters. She's my flower girl. Her purple glasses match her dress. I squeezed her closer, and kissed her cheek making her giggle.

"You look so beautiful baby." I told her.

"Do I look like you Mommy?" She asked.

I shrugged.

"A bit. I think you look more like Daddy Oli though." I told her. "Which is great, because that means you are even prettier than me." I said.

Penelope gasped.

"No way. Mommy is the prettiest." She said.

I squeezed her even closer as tears stung my eyes.

"I love you so much." I told her.

"I love you too Mommy." Penelope replied.

"Okay, that's enough." Lila declared. "You're going to ruin Mommy's makeup." She said.

Lila took Penelope off my lap. To which my mom yelled at her, and snatched my daughter back. Lila frowned at my mom.

"You are eight months pregnant with twins Lila. You can't be lifting a three year old." Mom said.

I snorted as Lila huffed.

"I hate being treated like this." She complained

"You have less than two months left." Darla told her.

Lila rolled her eyes before turning them to me.

"How did you do it with the triplets?" She asked. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I spent half of my pregnancy on bed rest." I said.

"Exactly." Lila said.

I giggled at her.

"It was hard, but.. It was worth it Lila. You're almost there, don't worry." I told her.

"You aren't even on bed rest." Darla told her. "I only told you to take it easy, or you will be." She said

Lila pouted as she plopped into a chair behind me.

"Okay, lets get Mommy into her dress." Mom said to Penelope.

A few minutes later, and I'm staring at myself in the huge mirror. I had taken my mothers wedding dress, and asked Ally to change it for me. She remodelled the whole thing.

It's a princess dress, which I thought would be fitting, considering I'm Leos princess. It's sleeveless now, with a see through middle. Gems, and beads are all over the boob part. My veil was made by Ally too. It's so sparkley and long.

Penelope came to stand next to me in the mirror.

"You look so pretty Mommy." She told me.

I smiled.

"Thank you baby."

I watched from around the corner as our children made their way down the makeshift aisle. I'm so happy we did this outdoors. I couldn't imagine trying to fit all of these people in a church.

We decided to go big. Mostly because Atlas and Milo wanted something bigger. So we compromised. Penelope shyly walked down the aisle throwing flower petals. She looks kind of scared, which is making me want to run out after her. Thankfully, Oli was quick to rush down the aisle to his daughter, and they walked the rest of the way to the alter together.

Phew. What a good dad. I love them all so much.

Beau sauntered down the aisle like he owns the place. I'm pretty sure that he even winked at a few girls. Is this how Atlas was when he was a kid? I can't even with this eight year old.

Next are my little trouble makers. Peyton and Parker both held the pillow with all of our rings on it. I half expected them to fight over holding it, but they didn't. However, they did rush down the aisle much faster than they were supposed to.

I chuckled along with the crowd at my boys.

I watched as Bonnie and Daisy grabbed each other's hands. They made their way down the aisle next. Both of them have their heads held high. My strong confident girls.

"Alright, you ready?"

I turned to my dad just as the music started to play

"Ready." I said.

Dad stared at me as tears filled his eyes.

"Oh Dad. Don't start. If you cry, I'm gonna cry." I said.

Dad shook his head.

"Sorry." He mumbled. "You just look so beautiful." He said.

"Thank you Dad." I said. "Come on, everyone is waiting." Dad said as he held his arm out. "Unless you want to run, it's not too late. I'll help you escape." He offered.

Escape. Really?

The two of them gave me wide lopsides smiles. Gee, wonder who they get their genetics from. Finally Atlas got his own little daddy's boys. Peyton and Parker are usually glued to Atlas. The three of them are always getting into trouble. It's like Atlas is a whole kid himself.

"They look very cute." I said to Beau. "You all do."

"Thanks Mom!" Beau said excitedly.

I've never seen a young boy so excited to be dressed up before. Especially when his two hellion brothers are next to him pulling at their clothes. Both of them with matching frowns.

"Momma, these are itchy." Parker complained.

"But you two look so cute." Beau whined.

Peyton glared at his brother.

"We're itchy." He complained.

Beau rolled his eyes.

"Just think of all the girls that will flirt with you." He said.

My eyes went wide as the women in the room started laughing.

"Beau honey, you're all a bit young to be thinking that." I said with a laugh.

"Not me." Beau argued

Oh my god. I blame Atlas for this. The kid is eight for crying out loud.

I swear that all of these kids have a piece of each of us in them. Bonnie looks mostly like Leo, but as she grew she looks a bit like all of us. She still acts just like Leo though.

Beau looks like me and Oli, but acts just like Atlas. Daisy is completely Milo through and through. The kid is ridiculously calm.

Now my triplets. Peyton and Parker have Leo's attitude, but Ollie's brains. Which is what makes them my trouble makers.

They're only four, and already they have caused the most trouble. Penelope is a lot like me though. She's extremely shy, very smart, and timid until you piss her off.

"Okay boys, time to go." Darla ushered her grandson's out.

"Your mom needs to finish getting ready." Sarah said.
