

BIGSHOT MR. FU S WIFE IS SWEET AND WILD

Chapter 1

What the H*ll

Qin Jianxi still didn't understand the situation in front of her. She was a little dazed. However, the slap that was aimed at her made her eyes turn sharp.

It had always been her style to strike first and gain the upper hand. She immediately dodged to the side, and then quickly and fiercely slapped him back.

“Pa!”

The sound was loud and clear.

Everyone was stunned, and the air suddenly became silent.

Huang Mengyu was the first to regain her senses. She looked at the clear handprint on Han Xu's face and couldn't believe that it was Qin Jianxi who had hit him.

She shifted her gaze to Qin Jianxi. “Jianxi, you... How could you hit Big Brother Han?”

Qin Jianxi felt very dizzy. The people and scene in front of her made her brain feel like it was going to explode. Then, all her memories came flooding in.

It was only a minute or two, but she felt like she had experienced another person's life.

She swept her gaze across the group of people in front of her, and her face suddenly turned ugly. F*ck, she had transmigrated, and she had transmigrated into a novel she had just read a few days ago.

The body she was inhabiting was a doormat and the kind that dedicated her life to others. She was the supporting female character who had suffered. Her engagement was broken off by the male lead, she was used by the female lead, and the supporting male character took revenge on her.

She would give up her life for her family, and she would be moved to wherever she was needed.

She was really a case of a doormat until she had nothing left and then died a miserable death.

Now that she had become this super supporting female lead, her mental state had f*cking collapsed.

At this time, Han Xu also came back to his senses. He realized that Qin Jianxi had hit him and immediately went crazy. He glared at Qin Jianxi with anger.

“Qin Jianxi, you dare to hit me?”

When Qin Jianxi heard the angry voice, she was very unhappy. She had been living a good life, but she was dragged into this book and she even got into the body of a super doormat.

With this bad temper, she wanted to destroy the world, but this man still aggravated her.

She beckoned with her finger and said, “Come here for a moment.”

Han Xu had never seen her like this before, and her face looked so enchanting and charming... It was seductive. He was dazed for a moment before he realized something and his face turned nasty. “You’re shameless...”

“Right, I’m shameless. I’ll give you my shameless face now.” Qin Jianxi immediately slapped him and blew on her palm. She moved her fingers and then raised her head to look at him. “I’m giving you both sides of my face now. Keep it well. You’re welcome.”

She turned around and left. She wanted to find a quiet place to think about it ...No, it should be to comfort her damned heart.

As everyone watched her leave in a carefree manner, all of them suddenly felt a sense of confusion.

This, this, this... Was she still the same person who didn't even dare to speak loudly to Han Xu? Was she possessed?

Han Xu was slapped again without warning, and he was about to go crazy.

After beating him up, she still wanted to swagger away? Dream on.

"Qin Jianxi, stop right there..." He took large strides and quickly chased after her.

Huang Mengyu also quickly came back to her senses and jogged after him. However, a very uneasy feeling rose in her heart. Qin Jianxi actually dared to hit Han Xu. She was either crazy or... Anyway, things were out of control.

The others looked at each other. They didn't know whether to stand in place or chase after them. However, it was a worthwhile trip today. They had witnessed such a juicy scene.

Who said that the Qin family's eldest young miss was young master Han's lackey? Was there a fierce dog that beat its master?
