

Chapter 0010

"Didn't they say Rene is much skinnier and had a sallow complexion? Are you sure she is Renea?"

"Based on her looks and temperament, she is not inferior to Kailey. Are you sure you didn't get it wrong?"

The situation resembled a slap in the face of those who had just criticized Renea.

Kailey's expression immediately changed, as she was also shocked by how stunning Renea was.

When the two stood together, the difference was very evident.

"Renea, what's wrong with you?" Susan stepped forward and rebuked in a low voice.

"Don't you know that today is the introduction banquet for Kailey. Why are you dressing similarly to her?"

Susan's moderate voice happened to reach the ears of the people around her.

They all thought Renea was jealous of Kailey and was trying to copy her look.

"Mom, please don't be like this. Renea and I dressed similarly only shows out tacit connection and deep bond," Kailey said with a sweet smile. Then she reached out to hold Renea's arm.

They appeared to have a deep sisterly bond.

This gesture won a lot of favor.

"Kailey, where is the bracelet I gave you? Why didn't you wear it?" Dylan asked.

The smile on Kailey's face disappeared. She lowered her head and replied softly, "Dylan, I am sorry. I lost the bracelet you gave me."

"What? You lost the bracelet?" Then Dylan looked at Renea and said, "You haven't left the house for the past two days. How could you lose your bracelet?"

"I still had it last night, but..." Kailey said as she looked at Renea while being hesitant to speak.

Once again, Dylan shifted his gaze toward Renea and said, "You have taken the bracelet, haven't you?"

His tone was affirmative.

"Dylan there must be a misunderstanding. Renea only wanted to take a look at the bracelet you gave me. I am sure she wouldn't take it."

Kailey appeared to be like she was explaining to Renea, but in reality, she was telling everyone that Renea had contact with the missing bracelet.

Dylan angrily retorted, "If it's not her, who else could it be? She has always liked talking things without permission. How many times have we tried to educate her?"

Dylan and Kailey spoke coordinately. The great understanding, they showed was not something that could be cultivated in two days.

This level of understanding could only be cultivated through several years of companionship.

"Hand over the bracelet!" Susan stepped forward and commanded directly. She was convinced that Renea had taken the watch.

The adoptive daughter committed to stealing was a breaking news story. The attending media immediately started live streaming the scene online.

Leon was the only one who hadn't expressed his stance yet.

Leon had seen through the charade. At first, he was very dissatisfied, thinking that it would damage the reputation of the Morris family. However, he realized that he could take advantage of this opportunity to use Renea's alleged misconduct as a pretext like a win-win situation for him.

"Renea, hand it over. If you really like it, you can ask Dylan to buy you another one."

With Leon's words, the accusations against Renea had been substantiated.

All the time when they were talking, Renea just stood there with a cold smile on her face.

After Leon finished speaking, Renea took out her phone and pressed the play button.

"Renea don't be upset. If you like it. I will give this bracelet to you."

Kailey's voice rang out from the phone.

Based on the recording, it was Kailey who gifted the watch to Renea.

The crowd burst into an uproar.

Kailey's expression darkened.

Then, Renea put away her phone and smiled, "Kailey, was that why you gifted me the bracelet? I was even planning to record a gratitude message for you. Fortunately, I recorded out conversation, or else it would have been difficult to explain myself."

"Kailey you said you were giving it to me. Why are you accusing me of stealing now?" Renea approached Kailey her eyes turned as cold as ice.

Renea's imposing aura intimidated Kailey, making her take a step back.

"Thank goodness. I didn't accept the bracelet. Otherwise, I would never have been able to clear my name today."
