

Chapter 0009

Dylan's roar came from outside the door, "Mom, why are you still letting this ungrateful bitch live in the Morris family?"

"Do you think I want it?" Susan was also angry.

She wished she would strangle Renea to death!

Kailey, who was watching everything from the distance, smirked coldly.

Just make a scene!

The bigger the better!

This was far enough from what she wanted.

Kailey wanted everyone to know that even after living in a privileged environment for eighteen years, a fake heiress would always be fake and could never be compared to her as a true heiress.

"Renea!" Kailey comes to Renea's room with an exquisite gift box in her hand.

Looking at the box in Kailey's hand, Renea's lips curled up into a mocking smile. After all, she knew why she was here...

Renea looked up at her from head to toe and asked, "Why are you here?"

"Renea, this is for you." Kailey said as she stuffed the gift box into Renea's hands.

Renea looked at the gift box and slowly opened it. It was the diamond bracelet that Dylan had given Kailey.

"What do you mean by this?" Renea smiled as she held up the gift box.

"Renea, I know you are upset because Dylan forgot to get you a gift. That's why you said those things on purpose. I can tell you care about this family. Otherwise, you wouldn't have kept staying with the Morris family."

Humph!

Renea sneered in her heart. In her previous life, it was indeed the case, however, in this life... She was only here to make their life hell.

However, on the surface, Renea still had a sweet smile on her face.

Seeing this, Kailey continued to say sincerely, "Renea, don't be angry. If you like it, I will give this bracelet to you."

"You are quite magnanimous," Renea smiled.

"Do you know how much this bracelet worth it?"

Kailey asked Renea with oblivion.

Renea picked up the bracelet and continued to observe it. Then, she said slowly, "This a limited-edition product of J&Q. The market price is around five million dollars."

Kailey was shocked because this price was beyond what she had expected.

Seeing her expression, Renea asked with a smile, "Are you sure you want to give it to me?"

Looking at the valuable bracelet, Kailey's heart bleeds. She forced a smile through her reluctance and said, "As long as you like it, I will give it to you."

"Thanks!" Renea took the bracelet and closed the door.

Renea looked at the diamond bracelet in her hand and what happened in her past life came to her mind like someone had played some short kind of video. Renea held the box tightly and her eyes filled with anger...

With the true heiress returning home, the Morris family held a grand introduction banquet and invited media reporters.

Susan wished the entire world could know of Kailey's existence.

In addition, Dylan's influence in the entertainment industry made the event even more popular on the internet.

Everyone was very concerned about the real and fake heiresses.

The Morris family's residence was bustling with guests.

Kailey walked down the stairs gracefully. She was wearing a sea-green gown with her hair tied up in a loose bun. As she walked down, she attracted the attention of all those present.

The crowd began to buzz with conversations.

"Is she the true heiress of the Morris family? She is so beautiful."

"Indeed, she suppress that adopted daughter by a mile. The imposter is as thin as a stick and her complexion is sickly. If you didn't know any better, you would mistake her for a maid of the Morris family! She lacks any hint of elegance and nobility."

"Elegance is innate, you can't fake it. This kind of aura can't be cultivated."

"Hey, I don't see the adoptive daughter anywhere."

"How dare she show her face today? I bet she is already hiding in shame."

Amidst the fervent discussion, Renea also dressed in a sea green dress with long flowing hair, made her way down the stairs, taking her time. Her outfit bore a resemblance to Kailey's.

A wicked smile briefly crossed Kailey's face.

She deliberately gave Renea the same dress. She wanted everyone to realize that Renea was no match for her.

However, everyone was left dumbfounded.

"Is that the adopted daughter, Renea Morris?"
