

Black Plain 1291

Chapter 1291 Moment Of Hesitation

After a while, Minos returned alone to his grandfather's estate, where he met his wives and returned to Ruth's parents' home alongside them.

As for Talia, she rested for a while in that cave and returned home alone, satisfied that she had fulfilled several of her fantasies with Minos in one afternoon.

Her mood had improved, and an unusual urge to sleep had arisen for her, leading her to seek her bed soon after arriving at that place.

Luckily for Talia, she had her residence. So she would not have to worry about her family noticing how different her behavior was after getting to know her brother-in-law deeply...

...

A few hours later, Minos was already with his wives at Vince and Elise's home when someone sent by Ivory knocked on the door of that residence looking for him.

As he went to answer such a person, Minos did not take long to hear the purpose of the servant there, who was ready to arrange a dinner between him and his mistress.

"Does she want me to go to dinner with her tonight?" Minos asked the person, seeing him nod in the affirmative. "Let's leave it until tomorrow. I've already spent the day busy with other things, and I'll be training and taking care of other matters. Tell her that."

Ivory's servant felt strange to see this person refusing that woman's initial proposal. Still, he quickly agreed to pass those words on to her. "Goodbye." He said before leaving for his leader's estate.

Minos returned to his wives on that property, ready to train with them and get ready for a bit of group fun at night.

This evening Ruth's parents had a commitment away. So, they would have this house to themselves...

Since they could not go to the Spatial Kingdom from this place so as not to draw unnecessary attention, they could only have fun and train there.

That way, there was no way Minos could have accepted Ivory's invitation for tonight, and she could only wait for him for the next day.

...

The next day Minos continued with his business affairs in this sect in the morning, and in the afternoon, he and his wives followed a servant of Ivory to her residence.

Ivory seemed to want to meet only with Minos, but his wives had decided to go to this meeting anyway, and he had not tried to stop them.

For him, it was much easier to deal with the senseless people of this sect by being at his wives' side.

So, in the blink of an eye, they arrived at that blonde woman's residence, where apart from the servants and bodyguards, only she was there now. magic

"Minos..." Ivory said as she came across Ruth, Gloria, and Abby, "Welcome to my home..." She hides her surprise, quickly smiling at them and showing them the place with hand gestures.

They quickly looked around her residence and arrived at the dining room, where several dishes were already waiting for them.

"So, Ivory, what do you intend to do to help us? And what will we have to give in return for it?" Minos remembered that she had said she could help him regarding business deals with the Black Plain.

She finished serving her guests and smiled at him, noting that he would not roll over to start talking business. "Well, with my support, it will be easy for you to have some elders able to take on..."

Minos realized where she was going, but before he could even say anything, Abby stopped Ivory from continuing. "My husband was talking about the business you can offer us for the benefit of the Black Plains, not the power struggle of this sect."

"Hmm, I already told that fool. If one day I want the leadership of this place, I won't need to follow your traditions." He said while tasting the wine served by Ivory.

She closed her mouth upon hearing such words, making a bitter expression but soon returning to normal. "Well, I heard you are trying to get deals with spiritual professionals from the sect. Is that true?"

"Yes," Ruth stated.

"Then I can expedite the approval of part of those deals and still facilitate new business in the future." She smiled as she saw Gloria eating and the other people there looking at her.

"Oh? That's a good thing..." Minos said. "But what about what that would cost me?"

She then took the opportunity to talk about what she wanted. "When you are to become the sect master, you will appoint me to a prestigious position with decision-making powers."

Before they could speak anything against this, she opened her hands in a gesture for them to wait. "Of course, what I ask is not in return for just this initial help from me. You will have the Moss family's support in the future in your rule as sect leader and to help your territory in the northern region."

Hearing this, Minos' women, even Gloria, who was actively eating, looked at him to find out what he thought of this.

Minos was silent for a moment, noticing that this woman would find a way to bring the subject of the passing of command of this sect into their conversation.

"Ivory, I haven't decided if I will follow through with this. How can I agree to a deal that depends on a position I may not have in the future?" He asked her.

"What? Haven't you made up your mind yet? Then what were you doing at the sect command yesterday afternoon?" She asked in doubt.

This woman and others in this sect knew that Oswald had taken Minos to meet the high-level elders. Not only did their relatives belong to that council, but they also had 'eyes' spread throughout this headquarters.

So as much as she had not heard such a thing from the high-level elders of her family, this woman knew that Minos had visited that place with Oswald.

But what other reason would there be for the sect master to take his grandson to those people if Minos was not ready to declare himself Oswald's successor?

That's why she was surprised and curious after Minos' previous speech.

He then said. "These people wanted my answer, but I didn't give them one. So we just talked about some matters before I left that place."

Ivory was silent as she listened to him, surprised that he had not given the high-level elders an answer but also unsure what to do now that she knew this.

"What did they say to you? Did they accept that?" She asked.

Minos then said, not caring to hide the truth. "They will continue with their plans without me. If I decide to take over this sect... Cough! Cough! If I take an interest in this sect master position, I will have to use my means to overtake whoever it is."

"So that's how it is..." She commented, feeling strange about Minos' methods, not understanding what was in this person's mind.

And precisely because he was unpredictable to her, she could not help but hesitate on what to do now!

...

Chapter 1292 Conversations With Ivory

'What do I do? Suppose I do business with him, and he will not be the sect master in the future. In that case, I won't gain anything!' She pondered as everyone at her dining table tasted the dishes she had ordered.

'But if he changes his mind in favor of the sect and I have refused to do business with him now, I will lose the opportunity. Then, he will not let me sit at the same table as him in the future...' She clenched her fists as she hid them under the table to avoid appearing nervous to her guests.

'Sigh... I have no alternatives here. By helping him now, I at least won't lose anything and will gain the possibility to get closer to him in case he decides to run for the position of sect leader!' She made up her mind after a while.

"All right, I can help you regarding those deals just for the promise that if you decide to become the sect master, you will follow through with that initial demand of mine." She said after much thought.

Hearing this, Minos thought she was pleasing, enjoying seeing how decisive this woman was in making a friendship with him so quickly, even without guarantees.

"I'm glad to hear that, but tell me something. Weren't you Maisie's adversary? Why do you want to help her son?" He asked as he finished cutting a piece of meat on his plate.

Hearing this, as Minos savored that protein, Ivory answered him. "In this world, there is no ultimate rivalry. As long as interests converge, anything is possible."

"But weren't you the most opposite in terms of opinions toward my master when you two were competing?" Ruth asked, considering some stories she had heard recently.

From what she had heard from Maisie, Ivory had a mindset about 90% different compared to Minos' mother. So this woman trying to support him was a little strange to Ruth.

Ivory then smiled. "Minos seems to be quite different from Maisie too. So what's wrong with me trying to ally myself with him?"

Ruth and the other wives of Minos understood her point. They even thought it immoral of this person to use a son's problems with his mother to benefit herself.

But Minos saw no problem with that. "Hmm, no problem here. You have a good motivation..."

After talking about it, they did not take long to discuss the specifics of a possible arrangement between them. But since this kind of conversation could not be solved in a single conversation, they scheduled a few more meetings for the next few days.

Then, at the end of that meal, the group left that residence, going on to their affairs locally.

...

Four days later...

Minos had not tried to visit the array masters store these past few days, having focused on his conversations with Ivory and training with his wives.

He had enjoyed himself once again with Talia during this period, having also been forced by Ivy to have dinner with his mother for two nights without other people present besides herself and the two.

But Ivy was playing a dangerous game with Minos, giving more and more liberties to this young man she had once taken into her arms and played with.

She could see him as a child at first, but he was slowly beginning to play with her in a way that children did not...

Anyway, for him, his routine was smooth in this sect, quite different from Lance's, who was getting tense every day because of the meetings of King Stuart and Ivory.

Lance already knew that the woman he loved would probably make contact with Minos and negotiate something with this young man. But still, he did not like a womanizer like King Stuart next to his goddess, and he was suspicious of things that might happen.

At first, Minos had gone accompanied by his wives to the meetings with Ivory. But now, for two days in a row, he had met that blonde alone, always at her house, where no one could pass on information about what happened between them to the rest of the world.

Because of this, Lance was nervous, even considering that he had complete confidence in the judgment of his goddess.

'She would never choose him...' He thought every time he caught himself thinking about it.

Another thing he constantly thought about was scheduling another occasion with Ivory for him to remind her of how inferior Minos was compared to him.

But while Lance was despairing because of his unrequited love, one of Minos' deals had been accepted!

Because of this, he had already received copies of the Silver-grade techniques he had done business with and paid for the orders for the Black-grade techniques for blacksmiths.

As for the other deals Minos had already made, he was waiting to sign an agreement with Ivory to receive confirmation about those proposals.

Thus, he would still have to stay in that sect for some time before returning his way to the northern region.

In the meantime, he and his wives made their way to the main array masters store within the headquarters of this sect!

...

"So you are here to do original technique business, huh?" An official welcomed Minos' group while smiling at them. "I'm sorry, but there is no one here capable of meeting your requirement at the moment ..."

"If it is in your best interest, come back here later, and maybe we will have a chance to do business."

Minos looked at his wives, and they at him, noting that this person was refusing them by giving this excuse.

They already knew that they would have more difficulty trying to do business with people funded by the Terry family, who had an opposition against Minos. But these people, not even wanting to hear what he had to offer, seemed a bit much.

But while Minos was thinking of something to try to get that person to stop making excuses, a blond man they had met earlier appeared.

"Well, if it isn't King Stuart and his wives..." Lance said in a teasing tone, smiling as if he had been waiting a long time for this moment.

Minos and his wives looked at him and quickly understood that all this exaggeration had a finger of this person.

Gloria then continued with her hands on her belly and said. "You are very stingy. With that personality, you will never become a real leader... No wonder you were the third choice in the last contest for the sect's successor position."

After these words, even Lance's minions felt a little embarrassed by Gloria's words that targeted the reputation of this blond person.

Lance then clenched his fists and looked at that pregnant woman dressed in the clothes of the Spiritual Church, but before he could say anything, he heard Minos' voice. "Are you going to get in the middle of Black Plain affairs over something so small?"

"Humph!"

"Who cares about the Black Plain?" Lance replied with an arrogant attitude.

"Very well, don't regret it later..." Minos said and then took one of Gloria's hands and one of Ruth's, directing his wives out of there, paying no further attention to Lance.

Chapter 1293 Merciless Revenge 1

Two days later...

It was late afternoon in the region that Clouds City was in. Along with the sunset, many disciples were heading back to their respective residences or preparing to go out and enjoy the local night.

But while the sect was animated with these people coming and going between the headquarters and the city, Minos was at this very moment at Ivory's house.

Abby, Ruth, and Gloria were not there, as all three were at this moment with Patience, Angelica, and Maisie at the Oswald estate.

As for Ivory, this beautiful blonde woman from the Moss family did not have any of her friends around and was alone with Minos at this instant.

But the two were not negotiating or talking in a living room, as one would expect from people like them. No, after days of talking about agreements, they had finished signing their Soul Contracts just the day before, making official the topics they had discussed earlier.

Anyway, they had met once again today and were now in a part of that residence that was somewhat messy.

Women's and men's clothing lay all over the floor in a disorderly fashion so that anyone who saw it would immediately identify how they had ended up there.

At the same time, there was a certain warmth inside the room and a characteristic smell that most men and women in this world would easily recognize.

As for the two of them, they were lying on the large bed in Ivory's room, totally naked, hugging each other, their bodies still sweaty from the activity they had just finished.

"Hah... Hah..." Ivory took a hasty breath, feeling the heat and satisfaction as the wind coming in through one of the windows calmed the flames in her body.

At the same time, Minos had a mysterious smile on his face that only he knew the real reason for.

"Minos, what did you think?" She asked after recovering some energy and looking at this man's face.

"It was great. You are a great lover..." He said as he looked at Ivory and remembered their actions over the past two days.

After finalizing the previous agreement, Minos convinced this woman to celebrate such a thing with a dance. After that, the pre-existing sexual tension between the two helped things develop, eventually leading them to bed.

Then Minos returned to this place earlier today to repeat the experience, the two once again having enjoyed for hours this time.

Because of all this, they were both naked in that room, sweaty, smelling each other while still sharing warmth.

Ivory smiled. "I'm glad you liked it... I didn't think we would end up in my bed, to be honest. I never thought I would sleep with Maisie's son."

Minos heard this and paid attention to Ivory's lips, doubly pleased.

First, because he had gone to bed with an opponent of his mother, so he could not help but wonder what Maisie's reaction would be if she knew. But second, the main reason he went through with it was to affect Lance, who he already knew was in love with Ivory.

After days of negotiating with this woman, Minos had naturally done more than talk about important matters. From time to time, they talked about their lives, among these points, the rivalry she had with Maisie and Lance and this person's feelings towards her.

That way, after Lance stood in his way, Minos quickly got his revenge by having sex with this remarkable woman.

But, of course, he had not only gotten revenge. He had had fun with Ivory, who was no saint, by the way.

From what Minos had seen, this woman had a vast sexual experience that, although not comparable to his, was enough to put her in a high position in terms of sexuality.

Ivory was on the same level as his wives regarding sexual experience!

She had not had the same number of partners as those three, only Minos, but their hours of fun were similar.

And having found that out, Minos could not help but laugh at Lance, feeling how foolish and naive that guy was for even abstaining sexually because of his love for Ivory...

'What an idiot...' He smiled. 'While you're thinking about her, she was probably in bed with a dozen men for hours and hours, not even remembering you existed...'

"Who knew, right? I hadn't imagined it either... But it's for the best, isn't it? It would be a shame to waste your presence at dinners and lunches all the time." He said, attacking Lance's figure once again.

Ivory was not dumb, so she immediately understood that Minos was talking about Lance since she had told him she had a friendly relationship with this person. "Don't talk like that. I like to do things like that too."

"I know, hehe." He laughed. 'It's just that some people will, at most go to dinner with you, even after trying hard for years. But, on the other hand, I brought you to bed without having to do anything of the sort after a few days...'

While Minos had his thoughts, Ivory had hers.

'I feel sorry for Lance... He keeps stalking me, knowing I'm not attracted to him, and he still maintains his chastity for me, even when...!' She took her eyes off Minos and watched the window of that room.

Ivory had been a virgin when Lance had started pursuing her. But in those last 30 years, she had met several men, among them an uncle of that young man, who had taken her virginity.

She had not had a long relationship with that man. Still, even so, Lance had almost caught them in the act on more than one occasion during dinners between their families.

Thinking about that and how her respect for Lance had diminished with each occasion, including this one with Minos, Ivory felt sorry for him.

'Sigh!'

'Sometimes I feel like telling him everything to see his reaction...!' She looked at Minos while she made comparisons. 'This person does what he wants, has many options, and doesn't need the approval of others. Uh, Lance should learn from him...'

As Ivory thought about this, she felt one of his hands groping her breasts and let out a slight moan.

"Ahhh~ What do you want? Don't you know I have something to do now?"magic

He smiled devilishly as one of his hands began playing with her little flower. "Why don't we give your friend a show?"

Her eyes widened in surprise as her heart beat faster at this idea. "Are you out of your mind? Lance would freak out if he saw me with you!"

"Is that so?" He asked as he played with her body, making her moan more and more. "Are you sure, Ivory? That fool will keep chasing you forever if you don't do anything. So why not settle this now? Think about it. We'd be helping him! That way, he can get on with his own life!"

"Then how about this? Send a message to one of his servants 2 minutes before your appointment with him, telling him you'll have to miss it." Minos laughed. "He'll probably already be next door when that happens, and he'll get the message too late..."

Chapter 1294 Merciless Revenge 2 (18+)

In her moment of vulnerability, given what Minos was doing to her, Ivory agreed to King Stuart's evil plan as she 'opened up' to him.

With that, Minos fell open-mouthed on her flower, kissing that beautiful part of her body as she picked up a communication array to do what he suggested.

If all went well and Lance did not cross the line, this would lead to nothing. He would get the message and return to his own home, escaping finding her in that situation with Minos.

Then as she received the attention of the brown-haired man, she closed her eyes and felt an intense arousal that she had never felt.

'What is it? Why does it feel so good?' She asked herself without understanding the relevance of this diabolical plan to the fun she was having right now.

In the midst of this, she came without any difficulty, having had such an intense orgasm that she spent almost 20 seconds feeling involuntary contractions all over her little body.

Gulp!

But Minos did not stop his attacks, trying to intensify his movements so that she could not help but moan madly.

"Ahhhhhhh~"

"Minos, slow down, or I~"

"Ahhhhhhhhh~" A colorless squirt broke from her little flower as Minos slipped one of his fingers into her and sucked her as if he were starving.

But then he said. "Send the message~ So we won't be late~"magic

"Oh? Fine~" She tried to control herself, but he did not stop his electric movements for a second.

A second later...

"Miss Ivory? Is that you?" A voice came from the communication crystal in this Spiritual Saint's hands. At the same time, she had her eyes closed, her arms crossed over her forehead, and her mouth open.

She tried hard not to moan and said. "Please... Tell Lance that... That I won't be able to... I won't be able to meet him~"

"Mmmmm~" She came again, barely able to hide what was happening.

"Uh? Miss? Is something wrong?" The servant noticed Ivory's odd way of speaking but did not suspect the obvious.

"I'm fine, gulp! I'm just tired. I was training and missed my schedule... Tell Lance I won't be able to see him today. Bye."

Soon after she released that item, she looked at Minos with desire in her eyes. "You did it, so now bear the consequences." She pushed him onto the bed and jumped on top of him, not waiting to put that burning rod inside him.

"Ahhh~"

...

As the two continued their fun, Lance was already standing in the doorway of Ivory's house, adjusting his suit while he had a naive smile on his face.

As he looked at the second-floor window on the left side of the house, he saw that the lamp was on, which indicated Ivory was probably getting ready to go out with him.

While waiting for the right moment to knock on her door, he saw the silhouette of a person appear on the wall next to that side of the house. That was as if someone was blocking the passage of light from inside her room.

'Is she there?' He wondered as his communication array rang.

He kept looking in that direction and answered the call. "What do you want, Leon? Didn't I say I would be busy for the rest of the night?"

"Young master, I am sorry to disturb you. But Miss Ivory has just sent me a message saying that she will not be able to meet with you. She seems to have just finished training and is exhausted..." He was explaining when Lance's eyes sharpened.

In that instant, he saw a second silhouette on that wall, indicating at least two people inside Ivory's room. 'Who is she with? Could it be one of her friends?'

But the silhouettes changed position, previously in a position as if they were standing in front of each other, now as if one was climbing up and down on something in front of the other person.

Seeing this, Lance found it strange. He did not understand what was happening in that place. Still, Ivory did not exhibit the behavior of a tired person.

She should be one of these two silhouettes, so why was she exercising with someone else? And who was the other silhouette that seemed so close to her?

'What are they doing?' He wondered as he walked through the yard of Ivory's estate.

"Young master?" The person on the other end of the communicator asked. Yet, Lance ignored him before turning off such a thing to kill his curiosity.

Those silhouettes had caught his attention, and now he wanted to find out what Ivory was doing to cancel a dinner with him. Moreover, he wanted to understand who was with her, who had even made her give up on going out with him.

'I hope one of those women isn't getting in my way for silly reasons...!' He thought as he climbed onto the side roof in front of that window.

As he did so, he slowly walked towards that room, his curiosity growing, as he started to hear strange noises...

Ivory lived alone, and houses in this sect had good acoustic insulation. So, hardly a single woman like her would use arrays to prevent sounds from escaping her room.

Since she was also not the type to make much noise, she had never needed anything of the sort, not having used it on this occasion with Minos.

Unfortunately for Lance, as much as he had not heard anything at other times when he came to this place during Ivory's furs, today he heard some things!

"Mmmmm~"

"Mmmmmm~"

Pah! Pah!

Sounds of moaning and flesh slapping, very low-pitched, reached his ears, making the hairs on his arms shiver.

'What's going on here?' He asked himself as he narrowed his eyes and swallowed his saliva.

He could no longer hold back his curiosity and looked into that room from one side of the window, immediately freezing as he did so.

When he laid his eyes on what was happening there, Lance saw the goddess of his heart naked and sweaty, going up and down on Minos' lap. At the same time, King Stuart's rod was inside her wet cavern as his hands held this woman's hot buttocks to help her in her movements.

Ivory's hands were on Minos' shoulders. At the same time, she had her eyes closed, kissing this man eagerly and feeling her little sister squeezing his little brother constantly.

Seeing this, Lance turned pale in the blink of an eye as his eyes and mouth opened, with him freezing in that position due to the panic in his heart.

But the situation worsened as he felt his heart being crushed into endless pieces. At that moment, Ivory stopped kissing Minos and stood with her head pointed upwards, moaning loudly.

"Ahhhhhhh~ Fuck me~"

"Make me cum again, Minos~ Ahhhhhh~"

He heard such a thing as he saw the moment they stopped moving, and Ivory's second hole began to blink like an eye where a speck fell into it.

"Ahhh~ Coming~"

...

Chapter 1295 Confusion And Heartbreak

When he saw Ivory and Minos' situation inside that room, Lance began to feel his face heating up again, with the rage in his heart beginning to get out of control.

At first, he had been extremely shocked and disappointed to see the goddess in his heart like that. Even more so considering that it was with someone like Minos, not someone better than him. Because of this, he had been frozen in panic, watching them reach another orgasm.

But watching Ivory cum, Lance took control over his body, overcoming the initial fright as his heart began to beat faster and hatred flooded his mind.

He had never thought his goddess would do things like that behind his back while he was faithful to her. And now, seeing her in that state with Minos, he felt extremely betrayed.

However, his negative feelings were much more focused on Minos' figure than Ivory's!

'I knew it! I knew that damn thing would try to corrupt my Ivory!' He pressed his teeth against each other so hard that blood began to trickle down his gums.

At the same time, he had his fists clenched, feeling his murderous intent bubbling up in a desire to cleanse 'his' girl's honor with that bastard's blood.

'He did it to provoke me! He's trying to use Ivory against me!' He began to grow angrier as he noticed Minos' actions, as he saw the two smiling at each other just before they kissed once more in front of him.

But after a few seconds, Ivory finally got off Minos, letting his rod dangle in the air as a clear liquid dripped down her legs.

Upon seeing such a thing, Lance could no longer contain himself and exploded in rage, striking out in the direction of that room.

"Ahhh, die, you bastard!" He attacked in the direction of that window, intending to finish Minos off in one blow.

But Minos had already sensed Lance's presence and was fully prepared for such an attack.

So before Lance even broke the window of that room, Minos caught Ivory in his arms and took a few steps back.

Ivory sensed this and was surprised not long before she saw the furious expression on Lance's face.

"Lance!" She shouted in shock.

Ivory knew what Minos intended, but she did not expect him to succeed. In the past, she had even fucked Lance's friends in this house while he waited for her for arrangements. But still, this young man had never noticed anything...

On the other hand, due to the fun, she was having with Minos, this beautiful woman had completely forgotten about this person!

Then, seeing him appearing in the middle of her room, Ivory was surprised. At the same time, little by little, she realized the situation and felt terrible.

Ivory did not owe him anything. They did not have a commitment, and she had never deceived him about her intentions or lack of them. But still, she felt bad, considering all the things she had already heard from him over the past decades.

"Ivory..." He heard her call him and watched her sweaty face as she used her arms to hide her body.

Meanwhile, Minos was holding her tiny waist, smiling as he stood behind Ivory, smelling the sweet scent of her hair.

"Lance, go away! I told you not to come!" She yelled at him, showing no problem with being touched by Minos, but annoyed at the look on the newcomer's face.

"Ivory..." He looked at her and then at Minos, feeling wronged. "Why? Why did you do this with him? Why did you give yourself up so easily to him when I've been trying for decades?" His urge to hit King Stuart diminished in front of his doubts that only this woman could take away.

Ivory clenched her fists and said. "I've told you a thousand times! Why don't you listen to me and get on with your life? I don't want to date you!"

"I don't believe it! If you don't want me, then why him? This bastard is nothing!" He angrily shouted, trying to offend Minos, but only succeeded in increasing the smile on that young man's lips.

Ivory answered him. "You are a fool, Lance. You don't have to think Minos is better than you, and he doesn't have to be for me to be with him. I'm only attracted to him, not to you. Is that so hard for you to understand?"

Minos noticed Lance's momentary silence and said. "Although I am better... In every way, I would say."

"Asshole!"

"You have corrupted her! You have defiled sweet Ivory! She'd never say those things to me until you came along, you damn thing!" Lance was shaking with rage again, preparing to strike at any moment.magic

Minos maliciously laughed and slid his hands down Ivory's body, with one of them quickly reaching this woman's right breast. Meanwhile, his mouth was next to her left ear as he stuck out his tongue and licked her neck.

Ivory did not want Minos to do this but eventually gave in to his will, given the weakness in her body.

"If you stay here, you will see much more of this corruption..." Minos whispered as Lance's eyes turned so red and wide they looked ready to jump out of his face.

"I'm going to kill you!" He shouted as he ran toward Minos and Ivory, not caring about anything else.

Now, that was a matter of honor for him, clearing Ivory's name with this person's blood and helping his heart by crushing Minos.

Minos saw this and threw Ivory to the bed before activating his techniques and stopping Lance's blow with both hands.

Pow!

Lance's right fist hit Minos' right palm, while his left was behind his right, providing support.

After the impact, Minos slid three meters backward but felt no problem other than a slight discomfort in his hands.

"Looks like you recently advanced, huh? Your body is not as strong as Ivory's..." Minos said with a smile on his face. "You have no idea what she can do in bed because of that."

But Lance barely heard Minos' comment, as he was shocked by this fellow's resistance to receiving a blow as decisive as the one he had just given.

As for Ivory, she, too, was impressed.

She had been a little afraid when Minos had thrown her on the bed, fearful that Lance would hurt him. But seeing King Stuart in action, this blonde woman smiled and thought of something.

'The sect master would not remove his daughter from the position of sect heir if Minos were not more impressive than Maisie!' She pondered, satisfied that she had made a more capable ally than she had previously judged.

But while she was thinking about this, Lance decided to use all his weapons and prepared to activate his most violent combat technique, the soul technique, the Avatar!

Ivory realized this and acted because she did not want her home destroyed.

"Stop what you are thinking of doing, or I will deal with you myself, Lance!" She shouted.

Chapter 1296 Repeat That If You Have The Courage

Hearing the angry voice of that woman who had already put on her underwear in a fraction of a second, Lance looked at her as he felt the veins in his forehead twitch.

Ivory was a level stronger than him. So she could defeat him with some ease. After all, they came from similar backgrounds, with techniques of the same quality. Therefore, the advantage was in her favor.

"Ivory, what's your problem? Can't you see this person trying to play us against each other? He is a sex demon who used you! He has no feelings for you, as I do!" Lance shouted in irritation, feeling terrible.

To him, this situation was similar to a husband coming home and finding out that his wife was cheating and him still being thrown out by her as if he was the wrong one!

Minos remained silent, watching the discussion in front of him.

Ivory then said, also irritated. "Lance, stop being an idiot. I had sex with Minos because I wanted to. We don't have to have feelings for each other for this to be good and legitimate."

"But... But you gave yourself up to a man who doesn't love you!" He shouted, not understanding this woman's mindset.

"I've been with others besides Minos. Don't talk as if I gave my life to him in one afternoon. We were just having fun until you came to get in our way..." She said this with cruelty, making him feel tight in his chest.

Gulp!

"Others?" He repeated that word as he felt his world collapsing.

Lance thought Minos had ensnared Ivory and stolen her innocence. But who knew? In truth, that had not existed for ages...

Meanwhile, Minos had put on some of his clothes and sat in an armchair to watch these two argue.

Ivory saw how Minos looked in her direction and almost forgot that she was angry enough to smile at him. 'Damn it! Look what you've caused me...!' She closed her eyes, but even with that problem, she did not feel angry with Minos.

She felt irritated that Lance was getting in the way of their moment. However, what irritated her the most was that he thought she could not choose anyone just because she did not follow the same lifestyle parameters as him.

But as for Minos, who caused all this trouble, she still viewed him positively, both for his good characteristics that could help her and also for how interesting he was.

Lance did not understand women and thought someone would like him if he was kind and helpful. But few are the people looking for servants to relate to. At the same time, sometimes, this thing called attraction could go against the rational.

It might seem more interesting for a person to be with someone who loves and respects them. That really would be a more rational and intelligent decision. But usually, people sought to be close to those who made them feel something different, butterflies in their stomachs, a thrill.

Sometimes this emotion came with negative points. In this case, Ivory found Minos interesting and had gone to bed with him, and even now, her desire to be with him had not diminished. But King Stuart was troublesome and had caused all this.

Lance, on the other hand, was great for her. Still, she felt nothing positive for him, only feelings of pity, sometimes anger and contempt that he did not understand the basics.

Relationships were about compatibility. She was attracted to Minos and was willing to forgive his problems. However, she was not attracted to Lance and was annoyed that he tried to defend her from her own desires.

She then taught him while this young man was on his knees on the ground, devastated. "Lance, find someone like you and stop loving those who don't love you. If you insist on coming after me, you will be a frustrated wretch."

He turned his face toward her, his tears flowing but with anger in his expression.

"It doesn't matter what you say. I know Minos planned all this!" He shouted at King Stuart. "That was because of the array masters business, wasn't it? You bastard! You got into Ivory's mind just for that?"

Minos continued smiling. "What if I have? What are you going to do?"

"Bastard! You have no scruples! You did all this just because of something so small!" He shouted, feeling his heart destroyed by the previous action of these two. He then turned to Ivory. "You see? He manipulated you! Say you're not like that, Ivory! Say it!"

She looked at Minos, saw him blinking in her direction, and closed her eyes. "Sigh! I could have canceled our meeting by sending a message to you instead of your servant. Do you know why I did that? So you would find out everything and stop stalking me, Lance!"

"Then stop blaming Minos. If he got into bed with me to piss you off, that doesn't change the fact that I did everything I did of my own free will! Wake up to reality!"

"NOOOO!" He shouted as he slammed his hands on the ground. "I'm going to kill you, bastard!"

"I'm going to fuck everything you love and destroy you as you did me!" He made his oath while the neighbors in the area were all standing in their houses, paying attention in their direction.

They were talking so loud that their voices reached dozens of people in the vicinity of Ivory's house.

Even her friends were sitting on the porch of one of their houses, sipping tea as they listened to the whole thing with their mouths open.

"Ivory had sex with Minos, and they made Lance watch?" One of them asked another.

"Unbelievable!"

"I wonder how he did that? I can't believe Ivory allowed it."

"What? What are you talking about? I was talking about Lance watching them..."

"Me too!"

At the same time, Ivy, who lived in that small village of high-level disciples, was also listening to everything, open-mouthed at the plots that Minos was involved in this sect.

'I can't believe he did something like that...' She had a smile on her face, imagining the young man she had held in her arms had grown to the point of doing such a thing. 'He forced Lance to watch him fuck Ivory?'

Ivy was Maisie's best friend, the rival of those two. So she naturally knew quite a bit about Ivory and Lance.

Thinking about it, she could not help but be interested in this whole story.

But before the dozens of people listening silently to the mess caused by Lance, Minos was annoyed by the threat made by that person.

Minos had his limits, and his family was totally outside what he accepted was tolerable for someone to use when threatening him. So, upon hearing Lance's previous words, he looked at that person and said. "Repeat that if you have the courage."

Lance maniacally laughed and said. "I'm going to fuck everyone..."

As he went on speaking and Ivory looked in Minos' direction, not understanding this young man's change of mood, King Stuart made a move!

Chapter 1297 Shocking Fight

As Lance laughed like a madman, Minos activated his 7th technique and the Infinite Dream, merging the two to attack this target.

Minos placed his hands in front of his face, parallel to each other, as they squeezed the air as if he were squeezing an invisible rubber ball. At the same time, his eyes glowed in rainbow colors, preparing to shoot powerful energy rays.

Infinite Dream: Shaking Reality!

Rays of energy shot from Minos' eyes, hitting the invisible sphere being compressed by his hands. That then created what appeared to be a small universe full of shining stars.

Chaotic Gravity: Shaking Reality!

When the fusion of Minos' techniques showed its effects, Lance stopped laughing insanely to look at his enemy with a strange look.

He felt a chill and tried to stand up to act against Minos.

Unfortunately for him, Minos had fused his techniques so fast that this blond barely had time to circulate his energy into his techniques.

When Lance realized the troublesome situation he was about to encounter, he felt as if his soul had left his body. At the same time, his body began to shake uncontrollably.

His mind was 'pushed' out of his body, and the surroundings swayed as if light and gravity had stopped functioning normally.

At this moment, he felt in terribly bad shape, unable to understand what was happening.

'What is it?' He panicked, noticing how powerless he was to move or react against Minos' attack.

Meanwhile, Ivory had watched every movement of the two in the last few seconds. So she saw the incredible energy that had shot out of Minos' eyes after he placed his hands in front of his face.

She did not quite understand what happened at first, but she realized that this was not a good thing to feel since even she felt frightened.

But before she could unravel the mysteries of what Minos had done, this young man ran into Lance just before hitting such a person with a kick toward his opponent's head.

Minos had used a lot of his energy. Still, because of his latest advancement, he could control himself better during and after his fusions. Thus, he still had enough to use his techniques and fight his opponent!

As Lance fell to Minos' blow that he had not prepared for, he lost all control over himself. He was already in an illusion where his soul seemed to be outside his body while he felt the terror of a shaking world!

Such an illusion was terrible. One who came under its effects would feel as if they had the greatest headache and lack of sense of balance, seeing a world where even the light trembled.

Feeling this, Lance could not stay conscious of what was happening in the real world and soon took the first blow from Minos.

Pow!

Minos' left foot slammed against Lance's nose, causing the blond's body to fly out of that room through the same window he had entered earlier.

Minos saw this and did not forgive his opponent. Since this person dared to make threats against his family, he would beat such an individual so that Lance would never forget it!

Ivory saw this and was incredulous. She did not believe how Minos had taken down an opponent eight levels above him and now come out to beat such a person who happened to be defenseless. magic

'What is going on here? How can this be?' She wondered as she put on a few more pieces of clothing and went out to watch the 'fight' between Minos and Lance.

At the same time, the neighbors listening to their argument suddenly stopped enjoying the commotion. They decided to move as they heard and felt the beginning of Minos' one-sided battle.

"What happened? What was that attack?" One of Ivory's friends asked her companion, as the two were already running to the front of that blonde woman's house.

Ivy was also moving, worried about what would happen to Minos in this situation. 'He did something terrible to Lance... That blonde idiot will probably try to hurt him!' She imagined as she ran over there too.

Even some of the sect guards in this area were heading to Ivory's residence, concerned about someone breaking the rules of that organization.

Everyone had heard the discussions of those three. Considering who Lance was, it was very likely that a fight would happen. Since it was not every day that someone at level 70 moved, even those not interested in such matters wanted to see the battle that seemed to have already begun.

Pow!

Pow!

Minos began to beat the body of Lance as this man lay on the ground unconscious, already with several purple marks on his face and blood running down his clothes.

Seeing this, Ivory felt she should stop him. "Minos, that's good enough. You don't need to..."

"No. Stay where you are." Minos said. "I'll stop when I think it's necessary." He delivered another kick to Lance's stomach, causing that body to spit out a mouthful of blood as it flew back a few meters.

Meanwhile, Lance's face was terrible, expressing his sheer terror. Not because of Minos' physical blows, which would hurt later, but because of the bothersome feeling of the illusion he had fallen into.

Unlike Gavin, the young man with the Eyes of Destruction that Minos had defeated using such a fusion, Lance did not have a powerful lineage related to mental power. Thus, he was many times more vulnerable to such a fusion than that red-haired man that King Stuart had left in his territories!

Because of this, not only was it more difficult for Lance to escape this illusion, but it was also more unbearable to endure it!

"Oh, mine!" One of the first women to arrive there to follow the fight shouted in surprise as she saw a level 70 Spiritual Saint being beaten by someone at level 62.

Along with her, several other people arrived at the sides of Ivory's residence and the nearest neighbors of that house, immediately seeing Minos beating Lance.

The fight happened in the property's small garden, where Minos kicked Lance in the stomach and sometimes punched him in the face.

Seeing this, Ivory's two best friends were open-mouthed, while Ivy stopped in shock to see her friend's son beating up that person.

"What?" She wondered aloud, along with the more than a dozen people watching this most unbelievable situation of their lives.

"Hey! Stop what you are doing!" One of the first guards to arrive there shouted in fright, seeing the situation in which his group would have to save that Spiritual Saint's life!

"Damn it. I said stop! Aren't you listening to me?" He shouted as he saw that Minos had started to hit Lance even harder.

Chapter 1298 Confusion in the Sect

When the guards tried to stop Minos from beating Lance, this man with brown hair used his techniques to continue his goal.

He started absorbing the energies of those people while strengthening his body with the Indestructible Body, using his fists and feet to hit Lance and push the opponents away.

Since the first guards to arrive there were only high-level Spiritual Emperors, they suffered as they tried to stop Minos as he threw them away from there.

"This is getting out of hand..." Ivy muttered in a low voice, feeling that she and the other people watching should do something about the problem.

But no one seemed in the mood to act, only to watch the situation develop further.

Ivory realized the same as Ivy and felt that she should be the one to act since all this had started on her account.

This woman then stepped forward, drawing the attention of her friends and Maisie's friend.

"Minos, let's stop here, OK? That's enough. I think Lance has learned his lesson." Ivory said as she tried to approach him calmly.

At the same time, Ivy approached this young man from behind him as Ivory's friends prepared to rescue Lance.

Minos observed the surroundings and saw the crowd there as he felt his hands heavy from the constant punches to the body of a Spiritual Saint, dirty with the enemy's blood.

He was not out of his mind. He just wanted to hit Lance as hard as possible so that this person would learn who he was dealing with.

The next time he dared to have impure thoughts towards the Stuart family, he could expect far worse punishment!

Minos then felt Ivory trying to press him with her aura, and he tried to deflect. But as he did so, that blonde's two friends acted to save Lance, while Ivy hugged him from behind to stop him from continuing.

Minos felt something huge and soft supporting his back while delicate hands that could only be from a woman held his forearms. At the same time, Ivy's melodious voice reached his ears. "Come on, Minos, you're not going to hurt this young lady, right?"

Minos could easily break free from Ivy's arms, but after hearing this woman's voice and smelling her sweet smell, he calmed down and did not act against her.

Meanwhile, some intermediate-level Spiritual Saints appeared in that place after hearing the request for help from the guards in that area.

"What's going on here?" One of them asked with an ugly expression, looking first at Ivy hugging Minos from behind this man's back. He then looked over to where Ivory's friends were standing with Lance's unconscious and bruised body.

The people in the surrounding area saw the three elders who arrived there, but they did not say a single word, not so as not to harm Minos, but because they did not know how to explain it all.

Everything that had happened seemed so ridiculous that they could only look at the surroundings and feel fortunate that they had seen and heard all this situation.

But since there was one of the Terry family members among the three newcomers, that person soon began to ask slightly stricter questions.

"Is that Lance? How did this happen? Who did this?" Such a person gave Ivory's friends an ugly look.

The people there looked at Minos, and this man said. "I taught that bastard a lesson. He thought he could talk all he wanted and learned his lesson."

"What?" That level 75 man looked at Minos in disbelief but also irritated by the audacity of this person to say such words.

Even if it was obviously a lie, someone like him had to control his words, at least! Did he not know that they could arrest him for that?

The other two newcomers looked strangely at Minos. Still, since the people in the area were not laughing or expressing that this was a lie, they did not doubt anything.

One of them then asked while Ivy was still hugging Minos. "Why did you do that?"

Not everyone in this sect knew what Minos was like personally. So, associating his image with his story could be tricky for these people, even more so considering that he was half-naked.

"He threatened my family, and I attacked him," Minos said as he felt Ivy's hands massaging his abdomen.

On the surface, it looked like this woman was trying to calm him down, but she enjoyed the situation quite a bit. 'Oh, what fault do I have if he needs this older sister to get him out of trouble, Maisie? I can only do my best, even if he is your son!' She bit her lips behind Minos.

"Did he threaten your family?" Lance's relative said, feeling that this was ridiculous.

At the same time, he knelt beside Lance and realized that this young man's situation was not good. The life of the blond was not at risk, but he was in a deep coma after suffering so much in this place.

"Bastard! Arrest him! He tried to kill our young master!" This person shouted as he realized he could not wake Lance.

The other two looked at each other, shocked that someone at level 62 had so overwhelmingly defeated someone at level 70. But they had to do their duty, so they soon approached Minos.

"Boy, you shouldn't have done that! Now you will be arrested to pay for your crimes!" One of them said as the other prepared the handcuffs to put on Minos.

Minos saw that and said. "Forget it. I'm not going to be arrested. If you want some explanation, seek out the old sect master."

"Uh?"

Ivory then stepped forward. "Seniors, that's Minos Stuart. He's the grandson of the sect master, Oswald."

"Minos?" The Terry family member became even more severe, sensing that this situation had been purposeful.

"The grandson of the sect master?" The two men looked at each other, feeling that everything had become more complicated.

They would have to arrest people violating the sect rules in typical situations. But if Minos were the grandson of the sect master, then they would have to consider that perhaps his words were sincere!

"Tsk!"

"Minos! Are you using your advantage to hurt the sect disciples?" The man with Lance in his arms shouted. "I will not allow it! Regardless of your origin, you cannot oppress our disciples!"

But as this person spoke, trying to justify an action against Minos, people in the area began to comment.

"Minos is speaking the truth."

"Yes, Lance was angry because he saw Minos with Ivory and attacked of his own volition." magic

"King Stuart had the right to attack back. That's called self-defense!"

"Tsk! He felt like a cuckold and tried to act... Too bad he was weaker than his opponent, hahaha."

Laughter began to spread through the area as the people there recalled the previous discussion in which Lance showed several people his emotional weaknesses.

And with that, the two guards put their doubts aside and stopped their colleague from acting against Minos, ending the situation before it all got worse for them.

Chapter 1299 Pathetic

After the guards left that area with Lance's unconscious body, the crowd began to disperse as Ivory and her friends approached Minos and Ivy.

"Why did you do all this? Lance will use this to get in your way!" Ivory commented as she approached Minos without looking at his muscles, something only her friends were watching.

"He got what he deserved." Minos coldly said. "Just because I was kind to him earlier, he thought I was someone who would accept being threatened... So, I showed him his place."

Ivory's friends found Minos' words cool, and their impressions of him improved considerably.

Women were strange beings who were naturally more attracted to men who attracted those they trusted. In the case at hand, since Ivory had given herself to Minos, these two friends of hers already thought that King Stuart must have more quality than rumors give him credit for.

After all, who was more trustworthy? Their friend who they trusted and had similar preferences, or a strange and amorphous collective who might be being manipulated by his enemies?

Obviously, it was their friend's opinion!

Since Ivory had slept with Minos, these two put their wrong impressions of him aside and began to view him favorably while admiring his half-naked body.

'He's not so bad...' One of them thought as she bit her lips.

Meanwhile, Ivy had stopped hugging Minos' young body but was still by his side, waiting for an opportunity...

Ivory ignored how her friends looked at Minos and sighed. "And what are you going to do now? The Terry family will cause trouble for you because of this."

"For me? And for you?" Minos laughed.

Ivory's friends immediately realized the problem, and one explained it to Minos. "Lance may be more hard-headed than you think."

The other nodded and said. "He has possibly never seen Ivory with others the way he has seen you today. But it's not like there's no indication that she had her adventures in the past few decades."

"Hmmm, someone definitely must have told him things." Ivy nodded in agreement, considering everyone in this sect knew Lance was passionate about Ivory.

In this case, there were certainly subordinates of his who kept an eye on Ivory and passed on information or rumors to him.

Whether he believed them or not was another question...

In any case, since Ivory's friends knew Lance had nearly seen her getting involved with others in the past, they did not doubt that he would not give up 'just' because of what happened today.

"Are you serious? Are there such pathetic people in the world?" Minos asked with a surprised expression on his face.

It was one thing to ignorantly fall in love with someone who had several other partners or even is betrayed without knowing it. But it was quite another to go through such situations, be aware of everything, and still accept it!

The women around Minos laughed when they heard his question since most men in this world were like that. Many did not assume themselves as such and would refute such an idea. But they were the same ones who would say they would 'die for a night with a goddess' or who would 'save' the beautiful prostitute, regardless of her past.

Comments like these were typical signs of those who would rather share a beautiful woman or feign ignorance not to lose their 'goddess.'

These women at Minos' side knew this. They daily had to deal with dozens of men who would love to be at their side. Some even proposed marriage agreements where they would remain free to do as they wished...

But Minos did not understand any of that since his mindset was different.

"It's possible he will not give much relevance to my words. I've been clear with him other times, but it didn't work out... But anyway, maybe the fact that he has seen us helps a little, but I'm not sure." Ivory said to him with a self-deprecating smile.

She wanted to get rid of Lance more than anyone. For her, this chase was a nuisance, and when talking about it, she could not help but laugh at her own 'misfortune.'

Minos heard that and closed his eyes, smiling at the thought that Ivory would not have any significant problems even after that. 'What a strange guy...'

"Anyway, I've said it before. The support of these elders is not relevant to me even if I were vying for the position of sect master. And since I'm not, there won't be any problems that affect me. At most, I will be bothered by these people."

Ivy looked at him with interest as she heard this, seeing that Minos was not speaking out of trust in others or because he wanted to appear more than he was. On the contrary, she felt he was sincere, speaking casually about something that was no big deal to him.

Because of this, she could not help but feel curious about him, even more so because he beat up a Spiritual Saint being only at level 62.

"Minos, you're all dirty with blood. Why don't you come with me so I can help you?" She took one of his arms and smiled at this young man.

Before one of those women could get a chance to say anything, she asked Ivory. "You are done here, right? I don't think there is any climate for you to continue your activities..."

"Tsk!" Ivory felt the words of that friend of Maisie's, which were meant to attack her somehow.

Ivy looked Minos in the eye and joked. "Let's go to my house. There I'll be able to take care of you as I did in the past, hehe."

"Hmm, okay," Minos said, quickly following Ivy's lead to her house.

Meanwhile, Ivory's group stayed behind in that garden where Lance had been beaten.

"How was it? What's he like?" One of them asked.

...

Sometime later, Minos was in a bathtub in the yard of Ivy's house while this green-haired woman massaged his shoulders, sitting behind this young man.

Minos could feel Ivy's hard nipples on his back as no clothes separated their bodies.

But still, so far, they had done nothing inappropriate, with this woman only caring for the young man she had once carried in her arms.

As for Minos, he was resting on Ivy's boobs, which were truly comfortable and pleasant to lean on.

"Did you know, Minos? Around the time you were born, there was a certain day that I spent a night caring for you. That day, I bathed you almost the same way we are here today..." She said in a melodious tone.

"Are you kidding?" He looked back, finding this conversation somewhat odd.

"Not exactly like that, you dummy." She laughed. "I meant we were both naked. You peed my clothes, and while I was cleaning you, I took the opportunity to clean myself too."

"Oh?"

"After that, you tried to suckle me, but unfortunately, I could not feed you at the time..."

Minos understood what she was getting at and could not help but internally laugh. 'What a naughty woman! She wants to use this story to get closer to me?'

"But then? What happened?" He asked.

She licked her lips and said. "You were disappointed to suck me off and not get your little milk. Since that time, I have had your upset expression in my mind... Will I ever be able to forget it?"

"Maybe if you would show me a nicer expression, I can get over it..."

Chapter 1300 Rumors Of Ruining Reputation

"Maybe like this?" Minos asked Ivy as he turned to face her.

He quickly took this woman on his lap and used one of his hands to take her left breast, which was too big to fit in one hand, and direct that nipple into his mouth.

Ivy did not stop any of this, enjoying Minos' decisive move in doing what she wanted.

She just looked at him with her eyes shining and lips moist, wanting to do several things with this young man.

But when Minos started sucking her nipple, everything in her mind went aside as she felt an electrifying sensation going through her body.

"Mmmm~" She moaned softly with her mouth closed, as she had her neck tilted back, letting Minos 'feast' on those big twins.

"Mmmm~ Those are the biggest I've ever seen~" Minos said to her as he felt the pleasant sensation of sucking on one of her nipples.

"Ahhhhh~" She opened her mouth when she heard that and let out a slightly louder moan, feeling excellent hearing and feeling him.

Ivy liked to be complimented even more so when the compliments focused on her boobs, her great pride as a woman.

And seeing the 'hungry' look on Minos' face, quite different from the disappointment of years ago, she smiled at him, pleased with the changing times.

'Before, I couldn't feed you, but now I can give you something different, baby...' With her strange fetish, she perversely thought as she felt goosebumps run through her body and a good sensation in her nether parts.

'There are certain things a mother can't teach her child. So, naturally, her best friend has to take on that responsibility!'

'Don't worry, Maisie. I'll teach him everything!'

...

As Ivy went on with her adventures with her friend's son, the people who saw Lance's beating earlier had already spread the news.

Since gossip was common even among cultivators, the little more than a dozen people near Ivory's house managed to get the word out about it to hundreds of people in just a few hours!

While it was still dinner time in this region of Clouds City, many elders and high-level disciples had already heard about Lance's humiliating situation.

Not only had he been humiliated by Minos by catching Ivory and the King of the Black Plain having sex. But he had also been rejected by her and beaten by King Stuart.

Considering also how some of his words had become distorted by being spread, Lance's reputation was soon trashed!

...

In an area of high-level disciples of that sect...

"Did you hear? That Lance, the 'future' sect master, was beaten by the grandson of the current sect master."

"Tsk!"

"You're too late, my friend! Actually, Lance didn't just get beaten up by Minos. He was beaten so badly that he supposedly lost the ability to speak!"

"What? Are you telling the truth?"

"Of course! They say that Lance had to be carried urgently to the medical center after Minos beat him..."
A young man said this proudly, with his chest puffed out, confident in his words.

"But it was truly pathetic... I heard King Stuart's wives had to beg him not to kill Lance..."

...

Meanwhile, in another part of the Gray Clouds Sect's headquarters...

"... After forcing Lance to watch him deflower Miss Ivory, Minos told him to give up his position as future sect master. Then, King Stuart beat him until he lost consciousness."

"What? Did he do that?" A low-level elder asked his colleague.

"Yes, Minos said that if he didn't obey him, it would be much worse next time. Then, even the women in his family would be at risk of being seduced..."

...

"... After seeing his beloved being dominated by his rival, Lance cried gallons of blood and even fainted, giving his opponent a chance to pretend to beat him." A young disciple commented to his dorm mates on the story he had just heard.

"Did that happen? Minos didn't beat the crap out of him?"

"He did, but only after Lance had missed the reason for his love disappointment!"

"How pathetic... How can anyone be so fragile?"

"Tsk!"

"And to think that this guy wants to become the sect master... The sect master has to be tough, capable of putting fear in opponents." A muscular young man said.

"It's really a shame... No wonder he lost to two women in the last power struggle." Someone with more extreme thinking said.

"I don't think..."

Soon they began to discuss the rumors circulating the sect, which would happen at many points in this headquarters, quickly reaching into the tens of thousands of people.

Unfortunately for the Terry family, by the time these rumors reached them, it was too late for them to do damage control!

...

"What?"

Pow!

The patriarch of this family destroyed his desk right after hearing the rumors already circulating from one side of the sect to the other.

He had just found out about Lance's situation 2 hours ago and had gone to his family's medical center to see the young man's situation.

Lance was not that bad. He had only suffered injuries that would take a few days to heal, while the mind blow would leave him sleeping for a week. But he would eventually recover without permanent damage, which was good enough for patriarch Terry not to worry more than he should.

But just as he was getting ready to visit the sect master and demand explanations from Minos, rumors degrading Lance's reputation reached his ears!

Such things not only told the truth and some stupid exaggerations, as was to be expected. The rumors circulating this organization also questioned Lance's abilities as a man, a cultivator, and a potential sect leader.

Various comments regarding his physical weakness, mental inability to handle a love problem, lack of control over his emotions, and poor judgment were already circulating through this organization.

Many made it sound like Lance was the most pathetic Spiritual Saint in the world. A virgin who could not deal with women, and to make matters worse, a fool capable of pursuing a woman who emanated waves of contempt for him.

Because of all this, the patriarch Terry could not help but be incensed by Minos' low blow.

In just one night, the little bastard from the Black Plain had destroyed Lance's reputation that he had taken decades to build!

"Wretched Stuart!" He shouted angrily, making the entire building he was trembling.

"Send people after this delinquent immediately!" He shouted to his subordinates. "I want this brat to answer for his crimes! Let's take him to the sect master, no matter where he is now!"magic

"Yes, patriarch!" The men shouted before leaving from there to go after Minos.

...

Meanwhile, Minos was still with Ivy, 'learning' every teaching she had to give him while listening to the melodious, devilish sounds she made.

"Do you like that?" She asked as she did something unique to him.

"Yes~"

"Hehe, hold me tight. It'll get better... Mmmmm~" She said, smiling, as she lowered part of her body.