Chapter 102 - Soil Richness?

"Way to go, both of you." The twins were lauded by Mr. James. The twins merely nodded in agreement. The twins were incredibly attentive. As stated in their description, and their coordination and strategies were flawless. Adding twins to the team is a wise decision.

He was pondering it at the time. Someone has done commentary, but he hasn't done anything. Yes, he was considering Mr. Paul. He leaned in close to him. Mr. Paul wore a melancholy expression on his face. Mr. James furrowed his brows in response.

"This individual is a shambles. He didn't care to support them from behind because it was simply a Class 2 Monster." In his head, Mr. James is analyzing his move. Mr. Craig Dawson, on the other hand, approached the twins and patted their shoulders one by one.

Ms. Emma, too, took a step forward and complimented their assault time.

Mr. James thought, "Mr. Paul is behaving oddly." Following the sighting of the Worm Monster. Mr. Paul's mental state was a complete disaster. "We've just started down this path. And there's already a Level 2 Monster in the area." Mr. Paul pondered in his head.

He then turned to face his twin. When He saw them, He walked over to them and congratulated them.

"Okay, I believe we've had enough of the break. Let's continue our journey." Mr. James gave his squad instructions.

They all nodded when they heard that. Mr. James then summoned Mr. Dawson for further conversation. They've arrived at their destination. He spoke with Mr. Dawson. And requested that they begin their investigation immediately now.

Mr. Dawson was unconcerned about it. As a result, he agreed.

Mr. James then directed his staff to begin their search of the trail. They were also instructed to bring Energy Monitoring Equipment with them. They each brought out their gear in response. This is a commonly used piece of equipment. It is used to calculate the value of the Energy Signature in the vicinity of the site.

People can determine the Monster's Level by using that value.

The team set out on their journey soon after. They take a step forward. Ms. Emma traveled with mapping equipment in order to map the area. It will be beneficial to update the database's old data.

Everyone is completing their task a few minutes later. As Mr. James previously stated. The team split up and began marking the area. So far, they haven't discovered anything. Because it is a border zone, Mr. James expected that result.

"Emma, Measure the soil richness value?" Mr. James informed Emma.

He's curious about the reason for the advent of that level 2 Monster. Is it due to the soil's nutrients? or Is it something else entirely? They've slain a level 2 monster in this area. If the data indicates that there are no nutrients in the soil. Then, for level 2 to be roaming around in the border area, it's strange.

Monsters of the Worm Class are sedentary creatures. They stayed underground all day. Unless, of course, someone infiltrates their territory. They don't make an appearance.

Ms. Emma wasted no time after hearing that. She got down to business. She is an expert at what she does. She took the appropriate soil samples with care. And it was placed into the measuring apparatus.

The results were displayed a few minutes later. Seeing that, there is worth. Ms. Emma is taken aback. Because the soil is particularly nutrient-dense. The most crucial thing is that it is more valuable than her previous research site. She and Mr. Paul worked overtime there. She smiles wryly as she thinks about it.

Taking the thoughts out of her head. She got up and walked over. Mr. Dawson and Mr. James. Both of them are having a talk.

Ms. Emma finished her duty, as you can see. Mr. James came to a halt. And then there was the data. His eyes have a gleam of surprise in them. Mr. James reasoned in his mind, "The value of this barren land on the outside is a lot more."

He leaned in close to her.

He noticed a skeptic's expression on her face. He didn't, however, ask her. He deduced that she must be thinking the same things he was. In the meantime, Mr. Dawson examined the data.

He turned to Mr. James after witnessing this and asked, "What do you think of this?"

Mr. James sighed and sighed again. He didn't want to blatantly indicate anything. As a result, he responded, "We will make a lot more progress in our investigation than I anticipated."

Mr. Dawson understood what he meant after hearing that. This place has great richness. And it's dense. Then, when they go closer to the center, it will only get Stronger. In his mind's eye, he saw recalled the report of a level 4 monster. "Then it's a distinct possibility." He pondered in his head.

Meanwhile, the twins are looking into other areas. They're looking for Monster's trail. Mr. Paul, on the other hand, appears to be performing honest job. But it's nothing more than a facade he's putting up.

Since the appearance of the level 2 Monster. He came to a halt in his pondering. He couldn't take any more of those tense thoughts. So he's just looking for a way to pass the time. Until they have completed their tasks.

The investigation began a few minutes later. The event was postponed. Due to a lack of natural light during the day. It's almost time for dinner. The group then takes a step forward to find a safe place to pitch up camp. As time passed, they were able to locate some free space. They then started erecting their own tents.

They made the decision to retire early. As a result, they will be able to continue their adventure a bit earlier the next day. They also installed a number of sensors throughout the area. Equipment that is especially specialised for measuring any subsurface motions. They don't want to be confronted with another Worm Monster scenario.

Following the tent's setup. Everyone retired to their beds. But, every now and then. Mr. James and Mr. Dawson took turns looking at the information. After that, the data should be good.. They then retire to their beds.
