

BloodLine 118

Chapter 118 - Soil Anomaly?

Mr. Alvin exited the Administration's office to welcome them. Brianna Dorsey is the female lead, and Austin Waller is the male lead. Both of them arrived with their squads in the Administration office.

The research team was taken aback when they saw it. Mr. Alvin was not arrogant in any way. Instead, He was aware of these individuals. With a warm smile on his face, he instantly put on a show.

"Welcome to the Black Forest, Sir Austin, and Madam Brianna." Mr. Alvin greeted both of them. He then escorted these individuals to his office. Both Mr. Austin and Ms. Brianna exchanged glances. When they arrived at Mr. Alvin's cabin. They all sat in their assigned seats.

Ms. Brianna has a cheeky smile on her face as she sees Mr. Alvin. Mr. Alvin was the subject of her observation. "From your report," I must say. That surprised me; The Black Forest soil has a lot of spiritual energy. Even Level 4 Monster is having break through." Mr. Alvin did not object when he heard her statements.

"That's why we need experts like you to solve this riddle," he said. It wasn't always like this. When it came to spiritual (or world) energy. We only found out recently. Because of the presence of a Level 4 Monster."

Mr. Austin, but, quietly listens to their arguments. After a few exchanges of words. Mr. Austin expressed his opinion in a fairly impersonal tone. "I think we should start our work immediately, Ms. Brianna."

Mr. Alvin was taken aback. But he was able to maintain his composure. Hearing her name, Ms. Brianna assumed he was uninterested in this discussion. So she just nodded.

Both of them were eager to get started on the project. Mr. Alvin handed them the report from Mr. James as well as a few other earlier reports. They look over a quick overview of the report together. Mr. Austin's brows wrinkled as he read the report. Ms. Brianna, too, had a dissatisfied expression on her face.

"The report is all about the rescue mission," Mr. Austin explained. This soil anomaly isn't even the subject of a theory." "I heard you acquired some skilled warriors," he said, looking at Mr. Alvin. They didn't locate anything, though." His tone was obnoxious.

Internally, Mr. Alvin cursed him. But he said, "As you can see, dealing with Level 4 Monster is more vital than dealing with soil oddity." The Warriors of Eagle City were dispatched to deal with it." With a smile on his face, Mr. Alvin said. When they heard Eagle City, The team leaders exchanged glances and didn't say anything else.

"Then we take our departure," Mr. Austin said as he stood up from his seat. Mr. Alvin nodded and said, "If you need anything, feel free to ask me." He wasn't looking for anything more. He's relieved that neither of them pursued the topic any further.

After a few days, The Eagle team departed from the Black Forest. They eliminated every level 3 Peak Monster they could find. But, they were unable to locate any level 4 monsters.

Mr. Alvin received Ms. Norma's report before she left. He also gave her and her team a prize. Mr. Alvin is relieved that the situation in the Black Forest has calmed down. Mr. James left this zone the same day he delivered Mr. Alvin the report.

...

Mr. Arthur's cabin, a few days before.

"No, why are they fighting now?" Ms. Adeline Key screamed angrily. Mr. Arthur Emerson was astonished when she lost her cool for a bit. "Calm down, Ms. Key," he said. It's not too late. In the meantime, we can do something about it." Mr. Arthur Emerson persuaded her to change her mind. Mr. Arthur Emerson's words were heard. She took a deep breath and calmed down.

Mr. Arthur Emerson sighed deeply. It's all about Zack in this matter. Zack was before accepted as our candidate by management. In preparation for the forthcoming Crimson Hall event. But, recent events surrounding Max's absence have made quite a stir. And there were many who were unhappy with Zack's appointment. They used this chance to fling mud at each other.

He was well aware that Zack had nothing to do with it. People, but, use it as an excuse. So that they might take advantage of his opportunity. He was well aware that this would have an impact on the Hansen Trade Centre's ambitions.

They devote a significant amount of resources to Zack in particular. But, he was unable to persuade several members of the management team. They now want to give one of their members the opportunity.

Observing the deterioration of the situation. He was the one who came up with the test concept. These old coots from the management, however, never consented to his requirements. Rather, they come up with their own solution. This is a disadvantage for Zack.

Ms. Adeline is enraged because of this.

"What happened to these people?" Mr. Adeline replied she is annoyed. "Few of them cared about the Crimson Hall contest earlier. Especially when it comes to Crimson Hall," she concluded.

At that time, They were genuinely terrified. Nobody wants their Seed candidate to compete in that tournament." This time, she is completely perplexed by the new circumstances. For an explanation, she looked to Mr. Arthur Emerson.

Mr. Arthur knew he had to say something. Mr. Arthur smiled and remarked, "Right, like sending lambs to the slaughterhouse." "However, there has recently been new information circulating. Between the higher-ups of many organizations," he added. Ms. Adeline Key's ears perked up when she heard that.

Observing Ms. Adeline's responses. "Rewards for this tournament are actually a treasure," Mr. Arthur added with a smile. Ms. Adeline was taken aback for a time. She let out a gasp. She was shocked and covered her mouth.

She wondered aloud, "When did this organization become capable of giving treasures?" This is difficult to believe. Affinity stones and a few million credit points. Are usually used as the prize for this competition.

However, after hearing Mr. Arthur, her life has been turned upside down. "Is this true?" she inquired. With a sardonic smirk on his face, Mr. Arthur nodded. Even he couldn't believe it at first. "We don't even get to enjoy the treasure." Even so, it's difficult to come by." Ms.. Adeline expressed her sadness.