

BloodLine 1251

Chapter 1251: Part 2: Fighting against Issac (Inner Hall)

From MC's Perspective:

Fighting platform,

While we were waiting for the referee, he came at the last moment. Upon seeing him, the crowd started cheering out loud. The noise was louder compared to before.

A smile appeared on my face. I wondered why he was late. Then the old man activated the barrier. The barrier started to cover the fighting platform.

Issac became serious. He had come prepared. He knew what needed to be done.

Meanwhile,

The Faction Leaders and the Main Elders were gathered in their respective viewing blocks. They were eager to watch the duel as well.

Faction Leader Elmer was silent. This duel was the last duel for the Blazing Fire Faction. The previous two warriors had failed to defeat Zack Lockwood.

Now it was going to be the third chance. But Elmer was not confident, because Zack had never used his inheritance force from the beginning.

Yet he had defeated the previous top two warriors.

The other Faction Leaders had the same thoughts in their minds. Only the Dew Water Faction Leader, Monica, was thinking otherwise.

Virtual training lab:

There was another small group of people watching the duel from the lab, including Ronnie Seth and others. Most of them were supporters of Zack Lockwood.

Old man Daniel and his staff were watching the duel to collect data, so they could help Zack Lockwood later.

Fighting platform:

When the barrier finished covering the fighting platform, the old man referee gave the signal to start the fight.

Boom!

An explosion occurred beneath the feet of Issac. The propulsion pushed him forward. In a shot, he came toward me.

I activated the perception ability at that moment. His movements became slow. Right afterward, I circulated the blood force.

In a flash, my right arm was filled with the beaming force. My eyes turned serious, as I knew what the opponent could do.

Looking at his movements, I understood he didn't want to miss a chance.

Swoosh!

Issac punched forward while charging at me. Seeing that, I moved my right arm in response toward him.

His punch was simple, without any flames. My eyes flashed with surprise.

Both of our punches came into contact with each other.

Boooooooooom!

At the point of contact, a small spark appeared. Issac, who was carrying a neutral face, smiled all of a sudden.

A powerful deafening explosion occurred. The blood force took most of the impact, yet I felt a powerful heat combined with the impact force.

Swoosh!

The impact force pushed me backward. In a flash, my body was a couple of feet away from him. A terrific heat was hurting my arm.

When my gaze fell on the right hand, I was stunned. The blood force was completely gone. Instead, my right hand was hurt. It had burn mark injuries.

Gasp!

The crowd exclaimed in surprise, because they were stunned as well. They thought it was a normal test of strength between the two.

But they didn't expect Issac to use an element at the last moment. Unlike other warriors, Issac was different. His element exploded upon contact.

Not only that, the explosion spread terrifying heat and impact force, which caused further damage.

So the Blazing Fire Faction warriors looked fine, but the rest of the warriors were clueless. Only those who belonged to similar batches of Issac knew what was going on here.

On the fighting platform, Issac was grinning ear to ear. His method had worked. He had injured Zack. If he continued to do this, he would win the duel for sure.

Boooooom!

Something burst beneath his feet. The next second, the impact force pushed him toward the opponent. His speed was faster than before.

At the same time, I became alert. Once again, I circulated the blood force. The blood force immediately went to the right arm, palm, and fingers.

The pain receded the next moment. Then I could feel immense strength covering the hand. My perception was working fine.

Swoosh!

Issac once again used the element under his feet to propel himself forward. This method was faster than any other movement technique.

Once again, he moved closer toward the opponent.

At the same time, I made a decision. I knew about his element before. Since his attack could hurt me, there was no point in confronting it directly.

In a flash, he came before me with the same intent to punch. Instead of responding with a punch, I waited for the right opportunity.

Issac's eyes flashed with doubt. He still continued to punch forward. The punch was just a few meters away from my face.

Swoosh!

I moved to the left, avoiding the punch. At the same time, I aimed my right fist at his stomach. In a flash, he missed the target, but my punch landed on his stomach.

Boom!

The blood force struck hard. It immediately impacted his body. Issac's eyes turned red in pain. The impact force didn't send him backward.

Instead, his internal organs took a jolt. He felt as if they were tearing apart.

Swoosh!

Issac tried to withstand his pain. Seeing that he was stunned, I rushed forward to strike. In a flash, I appeared before him.

Then I used a similar strike again.

Issac felt a sense of crisis. He knew if he didn't move away from this spot, he would face the same attack again.

Issac's face grew serious. The next second, he used his element. A bright red spark appeared beneath his feet.

The next second, an explosion occurred. Issac was immediately pushed backward by the impact force.

Swoosh!

Yet he was grazed by Zack's fist, which landed a blow to his stomach.

Boom!

The blood force shook his internal organs again.

Pfff!

He spewed a few drops of blood on the ground. In a flash, he retreated to his previous position.

On the other hand, my eyes flashed with regret. My right fist had not fully connected. Otherwise, the blow would have injured him further.

Gasp!

A loud exclamation came from the crowd. In a flash, they saw Issac being hurt now. This duel was going to be interesting.

Chapter 1252: Part 3: Fighting against Issac (Inner Hall)

From MC's Perspective:

Issac got hurt. He clutched his stomach in pain. He couldn't believe a simple brute punch attack was able to damage his internal organs. He had spewed blood as well.

On the other hand, I'm watching the scene from the other end. My right hand was still hurting from the burn marks.

Yet I was able to hit him without making direct contact with his fist.

Hereafter, I had to be careful with each and every step. I don't know what other tricks he has.

Above the Fighting Platform:

Dean Jerome saw that both Zack and Issac were injured. Unlike the previous two, Issac could hurt Zack Lockwood more.

If Zack was not careful, he might be seriously injured. But he was not surprised by Issac's injury either. He knew Zack was using blood force to hurt his opponent.

The blood force is a violent element. It's normal for Issac to spit blood after getting hurt. But he didn't think Issac would be defeated like this.

The Purple Mark Guard was silently watching the duel. He hadn't made any comments so far. He was clear that Zack wasn't going to use his inheritance force unless he was forced to.

Right now, Issac had a chance. He was able to hurt Zack. If he could do it continuously, then Zack might use his inheritance force out of anger.

Viewing Block 1:

The Faction Leaders inside the block were watching the duel. From the two simple clashes, it was clear to everyone that Issac was different from the others.

He had injured Zack in his first strike. It had taken Ben multiple attacks to injure Zack before. Here, Issac got clear chances.

He could really force Zack to use his inheritance force. Then the fight would be interesting.

Faction Leader Clifford was silent. He and the main elders had given their permission that Zack could use his inheritance force without any hesitation.

He thought it was up to the kid. If he wanted to win, then he could always use the inheritance force to defeat the opponent.

At the same time, Faction Leader Elmer was paying attention as well. He was slightly disappointed because the narrative had changed.

Zack had won the previous two duels without using the inheritance force.

Now, he made everyone think that he could defeat the opponent only if he used the inheritance force right away.

Dew Water Faction Leader Monica was watching the duel with a stern look. She had been stressed out lately.

Earlier, she had thought only other elemental warriors could force Zack Lockwood to use inheritance force.

Now she thought Issac had a better chance. She wanted to see Zack using his water element to defeat the opponent.

Then she and other elemental warriors would join against the Thunderflame Faction Warriors.

The Bloodline Faction Leaders were discussing among themselves. Francesa was listening to the words of Bethany, but Francesa herself was worried about Zack.

Viewing Block 2:

Main Elder Austin and others were watching the duel. After seeing Issac's strength, he thought they were right to give permission to Zack Lockwood.

If Zack was injured, he could still use the inheritance force to turn around the duel. But he didn't know whether his disciple was ready for that.

From yesterday's discussion, it was confirmed that Zack would try his best not to use the inheritance force. He had already started feeling guilty.

He had been looking for purple lightning inheritance everywhere. So far, he had come across other lightning elements.

But not purple lightning. Because he knew Zack had a purple lightning seed with him. It was difficult to use other lightning inheritance. It would be a waste of energy and time.

More importantly, it would be a waste of the purple lightning seed.

Main Elder Ann was watching the duel with a serious expression. Unlike the others, she was not thinking much about the outcome.

She only wanted Zack to be safe without injuries.

The other Main Elders were silently watching without much talk.

Fighting Platform:

Issac brought his weapon outside. To everyone's surprise, it was not an ordinary weapon. It was a long metal chain.

Upon seeing that, everyone was taken aback. They had never seen anyone using this weapon before.

But they didn't know that the weapon was chosen by Issac himself. His element needed a point of contact to work. Otherwise, it would be considered harmless.

He had personally customized this weapon for his own use.

On the other hand, I raised my eyebrows. I was expecting him to bring out the weapon, but not the customized chain.

This information was not mentioned anywhere online. Under his gaze, he saw Issac grinning from ear to ear once again.

Boom!

Issac then swung his chain. With a booming sound of wind, he covered the chain with his element. In a flash, the chain was covered with flames.

The temperature inside the platform shot up in an instant.

Seeing that, my expression turned serious. I had avoided making direct contact so far. But I thought this one would be difficult.

My perception was still active. Even with perception, it was hard to predict the chain swing.

Boooooom!

All of a sudden, Issac used his element beneath his feet. An explosion occurred. The propulsion pushed him forward.

Swoosh!

In a flash, his body charged toward the opponent. I was watching from the other end. My gaze never left the chain.

Even if I managed to avoid a direct confrontation, the chances of being hurt by the chain were still high.

Just as I was thinking over this, Issac swung his blade at me all of a sudden. He didn't wait for anything.

Boooooom!

The metal chain moved in the air with a booming sound while fire sparks splattered on the ground.

These fire sparks caused small noises everywhere. It was clear that this flame element was exploding upon contact.

Swoosh!

At the same time, I started moving away from the spot using perception. But the tail end of the chain was still coming at me.

Suddenly, I sidestepped to avoid the trajectory of the metal chain. But Issac made a slight movement with his hand.

The whole metal chain rebounded. The tail end, which was going in another direction, suddenly turned toward me.

Chapter 1253: Part 4: Fighting against Issac (Inner Hall)

From MC's Perspective:

Swoosh!

The rebounded chain shot towards me. Before I could move away from the spot, the chain reached me. I used my right hand to block at the last moment.

The flame chain struck my hand. The point of contact was successfully established for his element.

Boom!

An explosion occurred the next moment. The sudden explosion pushed my body back with a huge impact force.

My body almost reached the edge of the platform before I stabilized myself. This all happened within seconds.

Smoke had covered the fighting platform. No one could see clearly. At the same time, I felt severe pain coming from my right hand.

My right hand was already hurt to begin with. When I turned my gaze towards my right hand, I saw the burn marks were severe.

My right hand was almost cooked. The skin was charred. A burnt smell was coming from the flesh. Blood was dripping.

It was not a scene to look at. I didn't have time to use the blood force. Otherwise, I would have reduced the impact.

I immediately started to circulate the healing force to stop the bleeding.

“Ha...He...Ha...”

Issac let out a laugh as the smoke slowly receded. He saw everything. His flame metal chain had made successful contact.

Zack had no answer for that. He had simply tried to block it. But the explosion had further injured his right hand.

He saw that Zack was at the edge of the platform, checking his right hand. He was not in a condition to use his right hand anymore.

If he had forced his right hand, then it would have further worsened the condition.

Issac's eyes turned cold. He was going to use this opportunity to defeat the opponent.

Boom!

Fire sparks appeared beneath his feet. The explosion pushed his body forward like a projectile.

In a flash, he reached Zack. Once again, he swung his metal chain, covered with flame.

Zack was trapped. It wouldn't have been easy to leave the edge of the platform without getting hit.

On the other hand, I saw that the opponent had come. I was using perception to guess the trajectory of the metal chain.

But I found it hard. It was the first time I had come across such a difficult challenge. That too, in the middle of a duel.

If I had known, I would have trained using the metal chain earlier. Before I could think further, I saw that the metal chain was coming at me.

Swoosh!

I immediately started sidestepping sideways to avoid the contact. At the same time, I expected the rebound of the metal chain.

Issac grinned. Just as the chain missed the target, he swung the flame metal chain.

Boom!

The metal chain rebounded. It once again moved towards the target.

On the other hand, I started circulating the blood force. The blood force reached both arms in a flash.

Puchak!

When it reached my right hand, I immediately felt the terrifying pain. The wounds started to reopen. It immediately caused bleeding.

The blood force was violent energy. I had almost forgotten about it. It was not the time to think over this. When the flame chain reached my face,

I moved my left hand to block it. The left hand was covered with blood force.

The flame metal chain came in contact with the left hand.

Boooooom!

The point of contact was established. A deafening explosion occurred.

The blood force withstood most of the impact. Yet the impact pushed my body with force again.

The smoke immediately covered the fighting platform.

After retreating several steps, I looked at my left hand again. My left hand was reddened. It was the result of burn marks. But it was not severe.

The blood force had taken most of the impact. Then I looked at my right hand. It was covered in blood.

The closed wounds had opened because of the blood force. Looking at my right hand, I felt bad. I couldn't use my right hand in the duel anymore.

Then I started using the healing force to close the wounds again.

Gasp!

At the same time, the crowd were on their feet, starting to cheer out loud. For the first time, they saw Zack Lockwood being severely injured.

No one had done this before. So far, Zack Lockwood had always been dominating the duels, whether it was the outer hall or inner hall.

For the first time, someone had injured him this badly. That too, from the Blazing Fire Faction.

Where the previous two Blazing Fire Faction warriors had failed, the last warrior, Issac, was able to turn the events around.

The Blazing Fire Faction warriors were celebrating the most. They could see bright chances ahead for Issac.

If Issac continued with the attack, then he could really defeat Zack Lockwood.

Whereas the faces of the Thunderflame Faction members were down. They couldn't bear to watch the embarrassing condition of Zack.

Zack, who had always been dominating, was suffering right then.

The members didn't know what to say. As usual, they started hearing slander from other faction warriors.

If Zack didn't do anything soon, then the outcome would be grim for him.

—

Above the fighting platform:

"Why wasn't he using the inheritance force?" The Purple Mark Guard finally broke his silence.

Because he couldn't bear to watch the miserable condition of that kid.

"The kid's right hand was injured. Soon, his left hand would be injured if he continued to block the attack," the Purple Mark Guard added.

After saying that, he shot a sidelong glance at Dean Jerome.

Dean Jerome had been silent for some time. He hadn't made any comments so far. He continued to watch the duel.

—

Viewing Block 1:

The Faction Leaders were all taken aback by such a turnaround. They knew Issac was strong. His flame element was different from others.

Yet they didn't expect him to injure Zack in the initial stages of the duel. The Elemental Factions' Faction Leaders were celebrating.

Except Elmer, the Faction Leader of the Blazing Fire Faction.

Right then, Elmer was not looking at Issac. Instead, he was observing Zack Lockwood more.

He was confused why the kid was not using the inheritance force even at this stage.

It was the right time to use the inheritance force. Otherwise, he could lose the duel.

On the other hand, Faction Leader Clifford was quiet.

He was not listening to the surrounding noise. Instead, he was looking at the fighting platform in worry.

He recalled Zack Lockwood's reaction yesterday.

"This kid was not interested in winning the duel at all," he thought.

Chapter 1254: Part 1: Misery

From MC's Perspective:

Fighting Platform,

Issac swung his metal chain again. He saw that Zack's left hand was not hurt. He wanted to inflict a similar injury as the right hand.

Swoosh!

The metal chain was covered with blazing flames.

On the other hand, I found myself in a difficult spot. I realized that it was hard to avoid the rebound chain if it came at me.

Once again, I used my body to move sideways. I avoided the direct clash easily. But he swung the metal chain at me.

The rebounded chain quickly reached my face. I used my left hand to block it with blood force.

Boom!

A deafening noise occurred the next moment. The flames exploded again, forcing me backward.

My left hand had blood-red marks again. Like hot red metal, my left hand had turned red now because of the burn injuries.

Swoosh!

Seeing that, I started moving my body to widen the gap.

Issac had gone mad. The successive strikes made him crazy. He completely wanted to injure Zack Lockwood right now.

Swoosh!

He once again charged toward Zack while swinging the metal chain.

Meanwhile,

The audience didn't have a chance to react. Everything was happening so fast. Issac was not giving any chance for Zack to breathe.

He wanted to land attacks one after another.

Swoosh!

The metal chain's end was a few inches away from my chest. I moved my body to avoid the contact again.

Issac cleverly swung it to make a rebound. The chain rebounded. Then the metal end struck my back in a shot.

Boom!

An explosion occurred. The blast sent my body forward. In a flash, I landed flat on the ground. At the same time, I was experiencing a severe burning sensation on my back.

If I didn't do anything right now, then Issac would continue with his strikes. I understood that he was not ready to give me any breathing space.

"Ha... ha... ha..."

Seeing that Zack was down and injured, Issac laughed out loud.

He had dreamt about doing this earlier. Now his dream had come true. He was getting revenge for the previous humiliation.

No one would underestimate their Blazing Fire Faction anymore.

—

Above the fighting platform,

The face of Dean Jerome changed. He had no doubt now. He thought that Zack was going to lose the duel.

Because Zack himself didn't want to use the Inheritance force.

Without Inheritance force, he wouldn't be able to defeat Issac.

The Purple Mark Guard saw through this as well. He knew this was all because of Dean Jerome's protection.

For that, Zack was paying the price right now. If Dean had revealed the information, then Star University wouldn't be calm.

Zack Lockwood especially wouldn't have peace. People with dual ancient inheritances were rare. You get to see one once in a couple of hundred years.

Now their battle against the foreign creatures was intense. Zack's information could cause unknown changes on the battlefield.

He was hoping that Dean would compensate that kid.

"Let's go. There is no suspension in the duel. The kid wants to lose," Dean Jerome said.

Hearing that, the Purple Mark Guard was stunned. Then he nodded to him. Both of them then left the duel arena silently.

No one knew about their arrival or departure.

—

Viewing Block 1:

The Faction Leaders were all dumbfounded. They were seeing Zack Lockwood getting brutally beaten up by the opponent.

That flame metal chain was not an ordinary chain. Coupled with the flame element, it could tear away the flesh of any warrior.

Everyone was confused and shocked to see no response from Zack Lockwood.

The Faction Leaders turned toward two people. One was Faction Leader Clifford, and the other was Faction Leader Elmer.

Both of them were silently watching the duel. What's more? Both of them had neutral expressions on their faces.

They were surprised. At this time, the Bloodline Faction Leader Bethany turned toward her friend and asked, "What's wrong with these two?"

"Shouldn't the old man worry about his member getting beaten?"

"Elmer is reacting strangely as well. He should be celebrating right now."

She further made those comments. Her words reached the ears of others as well.

Francesa didn't know what to say. Her eyes gleamed with complicated emotions. She knew if Zack wanted, he could have defeated the opponent in a few moves.

She also knew Zack was the inheritor of not one but two ancient inheritances. No Black Mark Warriors in the whole region could defeat him.

It was because of Dean Jerome that the kid was hiding his true strength. But she couldn't tell these things to others.

Not only her, one more person was frustrated. The person was none other than Dew Water Faction Leader Monica.

She used to be angry earlier. Now, seeing Zack Lockwood in an injured condition, her anger disappeared. She started feeling pity.

She understood why Zack was not using his water variant element. It must be because of her. But she didn't tell anyone about this matter.

She was following the order of Dean Jerome. Dean had promised Zack that he could stay in the Thunderflame Faction.

Despite such a promise from the Dean, the kid was not ready to use the element. She sighed inwardly. Then she turned around and walked out of the room.

Her departure shocked everyone. Then everyone noticed that Zack was injured. Even if he used Inheritance force now, it wouldn't be easy to win the duel with the injuries.

So the outcome of the duel was clear. Issac was the winner.

The Elemental Faction Leaders began to congratulate Faction Leader Elmer before leaving. They couldn't help but shoot a glance at Faction Leader Clifford before leaving.

One after another, the Element Faction Leaders left the room even before the end of the duel.

Only the two Bloodline Faction Leaders, the Dark Variant Faction Leader, the Blazing Fire Faction Leader, and the Thunderflame Faction Leader remained in the room.

No one could read old man Clifford's face. But he was disappointed and angry inside. Because he and the other main elders had already given permission.

Yet the kid was not using his inheritance force. Instead, he was more than ready to lose the duel.

That's why he was disappointed with Zack Lockwood's decision. He was angry at others because they didn't know the truth.

Chapter 1255: Part 2: Misery

From MC's Perspective:

On the fighting platform, my injuries were getting worse. Issac was not giving me a chance to breathe. His flaming metal chain continued to land on me.

Boom!

One after another, explosions caused burnt injuries to appear on my body. I was using the healing force to heal the wounds.

Issac was enjoying the duel. If he had wanted, he could have ended it in a short period. But he was enjoying the fight right now.

—

Viewing Block 2:

The Main Elders were watching the duel. Austin didn't know what to say. He understood that Zack had decided to lose.

He was no longer interested in watching the duel. He wanted to leave. At the same time, the other Main Elders were perplexed.

The Elemental Faction's Main Elders were doubting whether Zack Lockwood had Inheritance or not. If he did have Inheritance, then why was he not using it?

Everyone couldn't help but look towards the Thunderflame Faction's Main Elders.

Main Elder Ann felt everyone's gazes. She sighed inwardly. She thought it would be better if Zack were sent to the warrior camp.

He wouldn't be injured there, like he was deliberately letting himself get injured right now.

Main Elders Leola, Cathy, and Rosie were also present. They looked at each other's faces, not knowing what to say.

Zack was not their disciple. If anyone wanted to remind that kid, it would have to be either Austin or Ann.

But they had already given him permission yesterday, including the Faction Leader Clifford. Yet Zack Lockwood had decided not to use the Inheritance force.

—

The audience was unusually quiet. The duel had been interesting, but now everyone was silent because the fight was starting to turn ugly.

Zack Lockwood was being brutally beaten. Members of the Thunderflame Faction had started leaving. As they did so, they couldn't help but curse Zack Lockwood.

Meanwhile, other faction warriors were slandering Zack Lockwood and mocking the Thunderflame Faction.

For the first time, they had such an opportunity. Zack Lockwood had always been dominant. No one had ever seen him beaten this miserably before.

Now, Issac had broken Zack's title as the dominant warrior. From here on, anyone could challenge and defeat Zack Lockwood.

As time passed, warriors from other factions began leaving the arena. Only the Blazing Fire Faction warriors remained.

This made other elemental faction warriors jealous. They wanted their own faction warriors to defeat Zack Lockwood in the coming days, so they could celebrate as well.

—

On the fighting platform, I was feeling unbearable pain. Issac was not giving me a chance to speak, so I decided to fake unconsciousness.

I collapsed on the ground the next second and closed my eyes. Issac's metal chain still struck my back.

Boom!

The flame exploded upon successful contact. A deafening noise filled the air. My mouth was filled with blood.

The explosion left a terrible injury across my back.

Issac grinned. He hadn't expected Zack to collapse. He thought Zack had fallen unconscious on the ground. But he was not satisfied.

He swung his flaming metal chain at Zack Lockwood.

Gasp!

A loud exclamation came from the crowd. They couldn't believe what Issac was doing. The opponent was clearly unconscious.

At this moment, the duel should have been stopped. The inner hall elders were shocked. Issac's actions might trigger faction fights.

Buzz!

Right then, the barrier began opening. The flaming metal chain, which was about to strike Zack Lockwood, was recalled by Issac at the last moment.

He could see the barrier opening, which meant the duel had ended. Issac's face filled with disappointment.

Swoosh!

When the barrier came down, the old man referee quickly entered. He appeared before Zack and checked him.

He saw Zack Lockwood's torn clothes. Burn injuries covered his body. The smell of burnt flesh and charcoal clung to him.

He thought Zack Lockwood needed treatment immediately. The old man then stood up, went to Issac's side, and declared him the winner.

Cheers!

Loud cheers erupted in the arena, mostly from the Blazing Fire Faction warriors.

At the same time, the medic team rushed in. They placed Zack Lockwood on a stretcher and carried him away from the fighting platform.

Seeing this, everyone understood that the next duel might take time. Zack Lockwood was severely injured. It would take at least a week for him to recover.

Issac then left the platform with a victorious smile. The old man referee exited as well.

Seeing Issac leave, the Blazing Fire Faction warriors in the arena also began leaving.

—

Meanwhile,

The remaining Main Elders in the viewing block began walking out. Main Elder Austin and the others followed.

Everyone was silent. They had much to say, but they weren't going to open their mouths here.

—

On the other hand, the Faction Leader Elmer broke his silence.

He said, "What's going on with this kid? He's not being himself."

He was talking about Zack Lockwood. Old man Clifford heard him but didn't respond. Clifford turned around and walked out.

Seeing this, Elmer was stunned. Now he suspected something was wrong with the Thunderflame Faction as well.

This was noticed by the two Bloodline Faction Leaders and the Dark Variant Faction Leader.

Francesa didn't know what to say. She was worried about Zack. Zack was not only a bloodline warrior but also part of her clan.

She decided to check on him later.

The Dark Variant Faction Leader, Vince, had a smile on his face. Nobody knew why he was smiling. He silently left the room.

Then the two Bloodline Faction Leaders exited as well. Only Elmer was left behind. He should have been happy that Issac won.

But it was clear Issac hadn't won because he dominated his opponent.

It was simply because Zack Lockwood had decided to lose.

Elmer collected his thoughts before leaving the room.

—

On the other hand, the staff were carrying me to the medic room. I abruptly got off the stretcher and stood before them.

The staff were dumbfounded.

Chapter 1256: Emotions!

From MC's Perspective:

Upon seeing me, the staff were shocked. They turned to look at each other's faces.

"What are you doing?" one of the staff asked.

"I'm fine, you guys can go back." After saying that, I turned around and started heading towards the Thunderflame Faction.

The medic staff were dumbfounded. They were looking at Zack, who was leaving. They saw Zack was injured all over his body.

The burnt marks were visible. Yet, he was walking like nothing had happened. They couldn't help but wonder whether he was faking it or not.

"Let's go. They have a healer in their faction," a staff member said.

Hearing that, the rest of them agreed and started going back to the medic room.

On the other hand, I was hurt. I urgently needed to go back to the Thunderflame Faction.

Just as I was walking along the path,

"What is he doing here?"

"We saw him taken to the infirmary."

A group of five Black Mark Warriors saw Zack Lockwood. They were coming back from the duel arena.

They recognized Zack Lockwood and blocked his path.

At the same time, my heart filled with anger.

"Hey. He can walk. Why don't we put him back on the stretcher?" After saying that, a middle-aged man rushed forward to attack.

Hiss!

The middle-aged man's right fist was covered in flames.

On the other hand, my perception was active. For the first time, I circulated the shock force and blood force together.

In a flash, both of them reached my arms. It immediately caused heart-wrenching pain. The closed wounds were opening again.

I ignored it and punched forward.

The middle-aged man was grinning. He was expecting the same outcome as Issac. The other four members were standing cross-armed, watching with fun.

Boom!

My fist came in contact with those flames. The next second, the shock force extinguished the bright red flames right away.

Then it started rampaging through the opponent's right arm with the blood force. In a flash, the middle-aged man's right arm was crushed.

The bone bent at a right angle.

A torrent of blood gushed forth, spraying the ground.

The remaining four warriors were dumbfounded. Their pupils shrank.

At the same time, I rushed forward to attack the four people who were petrified on the ground. They were standing clueless.

Boom!

One after another, I landed blows to their stomachs and chests. The mixed shock and blood force fists shook their internal organs.

Tud!

In a flash, four of them smashed onto the ground one after another. They spewed out blood the next moment. They had been hit very hard.

A terrifying pain assaulted their bodies. They couldn't believe what had just happened.

Swoosh!

I spared a glance at them before continuing with my walk. On the way, I didn't come across any other warriors.

Soon, I reached the Thunderflame Faction. Upon entering inside, I came across members. They were going about their business.

But they paused their movements right after seeing me. Their eyes were filled with shock and disappointment.

They were shocked, knowing that Zack was able to walk in this state. They were disappointed with the duel outcome.

Zack Lockwood had lost the duel.

I felt numerous gazes of people. I quickly increased my pace and got closer towards my residence.

The members had started gossiping. Everyone thought Zack would be in the medic room right now. But he was back like nothing had happened.

Everyone was confused. They started posting this news online and began sharing it with their friends.

On the other hand, I reached the residence. After entering inside, I locked the door. Then I went to the bedroom.

I removed my clothes and began to check the injuries. From top to bottom and on my back, there were severe burnt marks.

My gaze then fell on my arms. Both of my arms were hurt. The skin and flesh were damaged. The bones were hurt as well.

Without waiting further, I began to run the ancient healing technique. The healing element of mine got stimulated.

I could feel the healing force entering the body from the surroundings. Whenever the healing force touched my skin, I felt warmth and the pain receding.

As time passed, the healing force came in contact with every injury. It started to heal them. Because of the ancient healing technique, the physique recovery speed was triggered.

Meanwhile,

The Faction Leaders and the main elders had returned. But they were in their own places. Faction Leader Clifford didn't summon them to the meeting hall.

The Faction Leader himself was feeling upset. There were certain things they couldn't do. He thought if Zack wanted to lose the duel, then no one could change his mind.

Suddenly, his eyes turned serious.

"I think I should not delay in finding out the inheritance for Zack," he thought.

He knew there was a secret land which was going to open soon. It was near the territory of the Giant Tower University.

There used to be powerful lightning warriors in the Giant Tower University. He decided to try his luck in that secret land.

He couldn't enter inside. So he was going to arrange someone. If he wanted, he could have sent Zack, but he doubted the dean would allow it.

Last time, everyone saw Zack Lockwood coming from the sky rift. It was clear to other universities that Zack Lockwood had accepted some kind of inheritance.

If Zack went to the secret land this time, it would definitely piss off other universities. So he was going to hire adventurers to do that.

Inside the Golden Lightning Palace, the Main Elder Austin was sitting alone in his home. His other disciples were out for missions.

So he didn't know how to share his thoughts with others. He couldn't help his last disciple, Zack Lockwood.

"Don't tell me that he is worrying that we won't be able to save him," he thought.

He thought that Zack was worried about going to the Dew Water Faction. According to the rules, if Zack had a water-type inheritance, then he should be in the Dew Water Faction.

Though Dean Jerome's words were the final say, if the Elemental Factions started pushing pressure, then anything could happen.

Chapter 1257: Momentum gone?

Star University:

The news started to spread across the campus. The Inner Hall Warriors had witnessed the outcome. But those who were outside the university didn't know the news at first.

But when everyone started spreading the news, they too learned the result, and they were shocked. They didn't expect Zack to lose the duel.

What's more? They learned that Zack Lockwood didn't use his inheritance force either. He lost the duel without using it.

They were in shock again. Because Zack had won the previous two duels without using the inheritance force. If he had used it today, the outcome could have been different.

But they couldn't say anything. The Blazing Fire Faction Warrior Issac had won the duel. They learned that it would take some time for Zack to recover.

So the next duel wouldn't be happening anytime soon.

Blazing Fire Faction:

The whole faction was experiencing a mood of celebration. The Outer Hall Warriors were especially celebrating the most.

They couldn't defeat Zack when he was a General Rank Warrior. But their seniors had defeated him now.

So they were celebrating as if they themselves had won the duel.

Issac was surrounded by the members. They were cheering him out loud. Issac too was immersed in the joy and celebration.

He forgot about other things.

Meanwhile,

Faction Leader Elmer was in the meeting hall. All the main elders and official elders were here. Everyone was present because of Issac's win.

Everyone was carrying smiles on their faces. Because the duel was one-sided. Issac didn't give any opportunity to the opponent. So he gained a dominant win in the end.

Whereas Zack was taken to the medic room later. They too knew it would take at least a week for Zack to recover.

Issac's fire element had harmed Zack. It wouldn't be easy to recover from such injuries. But here, no one was discussing why Zack didn't use his inheritance force.

A few people had it in their minds. But no one wanted to discuss it now. Because it would ruin their mood.

They too knew if Zack had used his inheritance force, the result could have been different.

Right now, only one person didn't have a smile on his face. The person was none other than Faction Leader Elmer.

He too was thinking about Zack. Unlike others, he thought of himself as a member of Star University first. Zack's potential was the future Red Mark Warrior.

It was a kind of deterrent to other universities. If other forces learned about this, then they would definitely celebrate.

He knew that the Thunderflame Faction was hiding something. He thought they knew why Zack was not using his inheritance force.

He had asked Faction Leader Clifford about this. But Clifford ignored him and left. Elmer knew only the Dean could give him an answer.

But he didn't want to disturb him because of this doubt. He decided to find out about this sooner or later.

Suddenly, someone from outside entered the meeting hall. The person was an Inner Hall Elder. He was one of the healers in the medic building.

Upon seeing him, everyone was taken aback.

"Faction Leader, I want to report something to you," the elder said. He was an old man who appeared to be in his sixties.

Faction Leader Elmer recovered his thoughts and asked, "What is it?"

The main elders and official elders were looking at the old man as well.

The old man said, "Four of your Black Mark Warriors were admitted to the medic room. They are undergoing immediate treatment."

Hearing that, the faces of everyone changed drastically.

Elmer asked, "How did it happen?"

"One of them said it was Zack Lockwood who beat them up," the old man replied.

Gasp!

A loud exclamation occurred.

The elders were looking at each other's faces. They couldn't believe what they were hearing right now.

Faction Leader Elmer was even more shocked. He was speechless. Then he collected his thoughts. He knew that old man was an Inner Hall Elder.

He wouldn't be joking about this. So he must be serious about the matter.

"Elder, what are you saying? Is this true?" Elmer asked.

The old man was not offended. He knew it was hard to believe. Because everyone saw the result of the duel. He too was there as well.

Everyone saw Zack Lockwood being taken to the medic room. To think he did this showed that he was not seriously injured.

He still defeated four Black Mark Warriors. One of them even used Flame Inheritance Force to attack.

The old man then collected his thoughts and started to explain clearly.

A few minutes later,

The old man left the place. He had come here to report. He had done it. Now he was going back to his place.

Faction Leader Elmer and the main elders were dumbfounded. Elmer was clear that something was wrong with Zack Lockwood and the Thunderflame Faction.

Now the old man's words made it clear that Zack Lockwood had lost the duel purposely. So there was no joy from Issac's win on his face.

He was just worried about Star University as a whole.

He then dismissed the meeting. After doing that, he went to his room. The main elders began to leave.

They too knew that Zack Lockwood didn't use his inheritance force. They had been celebrating earlier despite knowing the fact.

Now the old man's words had poured cold water on them. His statement was clear. Zack Lockwood was doing fine. He had let Issac win the duel.

They had started believing it as well. So they had stopped celebrating Issac.

Virtual Training Lab:

Old man Daniel, staff, Ronnie Seth, and a few other warriors were left speechless. The bloodsome scene had left a bad taste in their mouths.

They didn't expect Zack to lose the duel in this manner.

"What's going on with him?" Ronnie Seth asked.

Like others, he was consumed with why Zack didn't use his inheritance force at all.

Meanwhile,

The news about today's outcome had reached the ears of other organisations. They were in shock at first. Later, they all felt relieved.

The image of Zack Lockwood's dominance in their minds had broken. They understood that Zack Lockwood was like any other warrior.

He had his momentum. Now he had suffered defeat. It wouldn't be long before he became a warrior like the others.

Chapter 1258: Clifford's departure!

From MC's Perspective:

The news of Zack Lockwood's actions somehow got leaked from the medic room.

The people who spread it were none other than the medic staff who saw Zack Lockwood leaving earlier.

The news reached the ears of the outer hall and the inner hall warriors. Everyone was undoubtedly shocked to the core. Their first reaction was fake.

But then they verified it soon. Some went to the medic room to see. They saw Ben and Bella but there was no Zack Lockwood admitted into the room.

It only proves that rumours were true. They even went to see the Blazing Fire Faction Warriors. They saw four warriors were admitted. They are undergoing treatment right now.

Upon seeing them, the warriors were shocked. Seeing that more and more people are coming. The medic staff felt it might create a problem.

So they didn't allow them to disturb the patients.

It didn't take long for the Faction Leaders to learn about this development. They all thought yesterday that Zack was bedridden. He might need a week to recover.

If Zack Lockwood was not hurt, then he has lost the duel deliberately. They don't know what to say about this. Many of the warriors and elders refused to believe this stuff.

But the elders themselves have visited the medic room to confirm it. Zack Lockwood was not there. Instead there were new Black Mark Warriors who were admitted from the Blazing Fire Faction.

They were all beaten up by Zack Lockwood yesterday. They too confirmed the truth as well.

—

From MC's Perspective:

Thunderflame Faction

The news reached the ears of the Thunderflame Faction. The Faction Leader Clifford and the main elders were all dumbfounded.

They were about to visit the medic room. But they didn't expect to hear such news at this moment. They were sure that Zack Lockwood was injured.

Yet the news has made them feel worse. Its confirmation that Zack Lockwood had deliberately lost the duel.

Meanwhile,

I'm using the healing force. I didn't know about the things happening outside. Right now, I want relief from the inhuman pain.

Above Zack's residence, there are two figures. One was Dean Jerome and the other one was Purple Mark Guard. They could see through clearly.

"This kid is using healing force to heal himself. I heard Elder Ann's healing technique is part of Ancient Inheritance as well. But it was an incomplete one," Purple Mark Guard said.

"It's true. But the incomplete part is enough for Zack. If he was admitted to the medic room, then he could have been exposed by the healers."

"He made a wise choice to return to his residence," Jerome said with a smile.

Seeing that Purple Mark Guard was dumbfounded.

"Dean, how long he is going to keep it. I was clear that the kid doesn't want to reveal his inheritance power. Including the bloodline power," Purple Mark Guard said.

"It's up to him. Right now, he was able to get a couple of days off because of the injuries. The injuries were real. He needed time to recover," Dean Jerome said.

"Let's go, his faction's people will take care of him," he added.

Both left the place. Right then, Main Elder Ann comes to Zack Lockwood's residence. She started knocking the door directly.

If she had wanted she could have barged into. But she didn't do so.

Swoosh!

Main Elder Austin reached the spot. Upon seeing Main Elder Ann, he sighed. Because he had gone looking for her to treat Zack. But she came here before him.

"What is he doing?" Austin asked.

"He must be healing himself right now," Ann replied.

"Elder, why don't we go and see this kid?" Austin said.

"He can still practise healing techniques. Though the process would be slow. But his control will get better as time passes."

"If I go and heal him, there are chances that he might fight in the duel the very next day. It's better for him to do it himself," Ann replied.

Hearing that Austin was silent. He understood as well. He wants Zack to take a rest for a week.

"Then we should report to the Leader first. Before the next element would jump in for the duel request," Austin said.

Before they could realise a few more silhouettes appeared behind them. They were none other than Faction Leader Clifford and the main elders.

"Where is he?" Clifford asked.

Elder Cathy and Rosie are here as well.

Austin and Ann weren't surprised. Then Ann told her view to others.

Clifford frowned. He is taking Elder Ann's words seriously.

He then said,"As a faction we should support our members. If the kid doesn't want to fight then so be it. We must delay as long as possible."

"Besides, I got work as well. I'm going to leave campus for sometime,"he added.

Hearing that everyone was surprised. They knew it must be important. Otherwise, the leader won't leave the campus for anything.

"Don't worry, leader. We will be here to take care of him," Austin said.

"Good, one more thing. If you have body or bone strengthening pills, then give it to him. This kid is going to rely on brute force hereafter."

"It's u fortunate but he won't listen," After saying Faction Leader Clifford left the place.

The remaining main elders were on the spot, looking at each other's faces. They don't know what's going to happen next.

Without the faction leader, it would be hard.

Main Elder Leola said,"Why don't we send him to one of our secret lands. He will be safe there."

Hearing that others felt it was a good idea.

“I think there is no need for that. His injuries were real. He needs time to. I don’t think other faction leaders would force him to appear,” Elder Ann said.

“Why don’t we wait and see. Let him recover from the serious injuries first,” Cathy said at this time.

Hearing that everyone agreed. Then they left the place one after another.

Meanwhile,

Clifford left Star University. Before leaving he reported to Dean Jerome about his departure.

Chapter 1259: Waiting!

From MC’s Perspective:

The following day,

I opened my eyes and found out my condition was better than before. I can still move around. But the injuries were not completely healed yet.

I stood up and went to take a bath. The bath lasted for 20 minutes. After coming out, I changed to fresh clothes. Then I went to bed to sleep.

I was awake all night to heal. I decided to take a rest now.

Meanwhile,

The whole campus was in shock because of Zack Lockwood’s duel. They have been discussing it since last night. No one has the real update about Zack’s injuries.

They didn't know Zack Lockwood was truly hurt or not. It would be best if someone updates about it. Many of them were online to see the online posts.

But there were no posts about it. Even the members of the Thunderflame Faction were in shock. After the duel yesterday, they hated Zack for his pathetic performance.

He was beaten brutally by Issac. But the ongoing rumours right now tell them otherwise. They have started to think Zack Lockwood had been faking it. He had purposely lost the duel.

But everyone was confused. Why didn't he use his inheritance force? Some even started to wonder whether he got one?

If not for his previous two wins against the Black Mark Warriors. They would have believed this theory as well.

Right now, everyone wanted to see Zack Lockwood. Inside the Thunderflame Faction, the members walk past his residence.

It was clear to everyone that Zack Lockwood was here not in the medic room. So they wanted to see a glimpse of him.

Meanwhile,

Inside the Golden Lightning Palace, Austin is awake. He woke up early this morning today. He was waiting for Zack to come. He thinks Zack would train inside the essence chamber.

As the time passes, more and more members have come to the Golden Lightning Palace. But there was no sign of Zack Lockwood.

Austin started to think that Zack Lockwood is still taking rest. He takes his device and sends him a text message. If Zack reads it, then he would give a reply.

He thought of something important. He is going to see if there are any bone or body strengthening pills available. He has given similar types of pills to Zack Lockwood before.

—

Virtual training lab:

Old man Daniel and the staff were analyzing the duel clip of yesterday's match. They too heard about the ongoing rumours.

But the injuries suffered by Zack Lockwood was real. It was not fake. But they could confirm that Zack didn't use Inheritance force from beginning to end.

He was seriously worried and concerned now. There is something going on with this kid that he is not willing to share.

But the duel footage has given more data on Issac's duel. While they analyze the duel. Ronnie Seth made an entry to the lab.

Upon seeing him no one was surprised. Ronnie Seth has become a regular visitor to the place. He walked up to Daniel and asked, "I want to fight against the virtual avatar of Issac."

Hearing that everyone was shocked. The staff stopped doing their work. Daniel raised his eyebrows in surprise.

"We don't have real data on him. But we can use the data from the footage to create an avatar. Compared to the original, it might be slightly weaker," Daniel said.

Ronnie Seth said, "It's fine. I want to use black lightning Inheritance force against Issac's avatar."

A look of understanding dawned on everyone's face. From this duel they can collect more data and try to establish whether Issac is strong or not.

Daniel said, "Okay, let's work on that."

The staff started working on creating an avatar.

Ronnie Seth couldn't help but think of Zack. He takes out the digital device to see it. Online there was no news about him.

It shows that he has yet to leave his residence. Otherwise, someone would have posted his pictures online.

Daniel saw through the thoughts of Ronnie Seth.

He said, "Zack has suffered serious injuries. The injuries aren't fake. They are real. He needs time to recover."

"Sigh"

"I couldn't sleep last night. Why didn't he use his inheritance force in the duel? I'm aware that he got Ancient Inheritance from the secret land," Ronnie uttered in confusion.

A hint of doubt flashes in Daniel's eyes.

"There is something going on. Which we don't know about. If the kid doesn't want to use inheritance, then there must be some reason behind it," Daniel replied.

Daniel then said, "But we can try to help him. If he wants to fight using brute force, then we will use our lab to assist him."

"There is no need for him to go to the duel arena without any clue. He still has upcoming fights against other Factions," He added.

His words woke up Ronnie Seth. He too felt this idea was good. He should tell Zack Lockwood. He then takes out the device and sends him a message.

He had sent many messages earlier. But he got no reply. He is hoping that Zack Lockwood will read this one.

—

Bloodline Faction:

Faction Leader Francesca Ball is looking at the online posts as well. But there was no news about Zack Lockwood.

She could call Faction Leader Clifford. But he won't respond. She could only wait for the updates to come.

Right then, the top 3 warriors of the Factions are enjoying this moment. They are making fun of Zack Lockwood. They think that Zack Lockwood is not using his inheritance force.

Because he doesn't have one. They are discussing that they can defeat Zack Lockwood as well. They didn't take the news of four Black Mark Warriors seriously.

They think that Zack Lockwood's supporters are spreading the rumours. Everyone saw Zack Lockwood collapsing on the floor. It was real.

So they believed what everyone witnessed in the duel arena.

Meanwhile,

A similar kind of situation is taking place inside the Monster Bloodline Faction. The top three warriors there discuss that they should be fighting next if Zack Lockwood recovers from the injuries.

Chapter 1260: Visiting the lab!

From MC's Perspective:

Post noon,

I woke up from my sleep. Compared to before, I'm feeling a lot better. Then I sat on the bed and took the digital device to check what's happening outside.

I saw many online posts. All of them were about me. The warriors wanted to know about my recovery. They can't wait to see the next duel.

I sneered inwardly. Clearly, the other elemental factions wanted to know the date of the next duel. Since my injuries were real.

Even their Faction Leaders won't be able to do anything. They have to wait for me to recover first. Then my gaze fell on the inbox. There are several unread messages.

A quick gleam flashes in my eyes. I opened my inbox and saw those messages. They were sent by Masters Austin and Ann, Faction Leader Francesca and Ronnie Seth from the Dark Variant Faction.

I began to read the messages one by one.

A few minutes later,

I got a general understanding of the events occurred since the end of the duel. Everyone knows about my attacks on the four warriors of the Blazing Fire Faction.

So they were discussing it right now. Then I sent a reply back to both the Masters that I'm taking right now and I'll visit them later.

Then I messaged Faction Leader Francesca about my recovery. She was worried a lot. After doing that I thought of Ronnie Seth.

I didn't expect this guy to watch duels from the Virtual Training Lab. Speaking about that lab, I think I should try to use their facility once again.

I don't know whether they have collected data on my opponents. If they had collected data, then it would be useful.

Then I picked the device and called Ronnie Seth. When the call was connected. I asked him about the lab. Ronnie Seth was shocked. He got excited the next moment.

He didn't expect Zack to think about the lab. Robbie Seth said that is going to fight against Issac's avatar.

Hearing that, I became curious. I thought of visiting the lab as well. But if I go right now, then everyone would know about the lab.

Then it won't take long for the crowd to gather in front of the lab. After giving some thought, I messaged Ronnie that I'm coming there.

I got out of bed and began to get ready.

A few minutes later,

I opened the door and walked out. I immediately activated my perception ability. Then I found a few people wandering in front of my residence.

They don't seem to be just walking by. They are keeping an eye on my residence. I waited for them to leave.

Swoosh!

Then I appeared outside and started going towards the exit. On the way, I came across warriors. But I didn't stop to nod at them. .

The warriors who were passing by were confused. Only after taking a few steps did they recognize that it was Zack Lockwood.

"Hey, it's Zack Lockwood?"

"It's him. Did he recover from the injuries?"

The warriors paused their footsteps and spoke to each other. Their eyes filled with a surprise. The next second, they took their digital device to message.

A few minutes later,

I exited the faction and started heading towards the Virtual Training Lab. On the way. I spotted many warriors coming from the opposite direction.

After seeing that I changed my direction and increased my pace towards the Virtual Training Lab. It didn't take long for me to get there.

I reached there. Then I looked around before walking into the place. I remembered the way to the main lab.

Soon, I reached the lab room. Then I opened the door to walk inside.

Gasp!

The staff exclaimed in a surprise. Ronnie Seth had informed them. Everyone was waiting for Zack to arrive.

Upon seeing him right now, they couldn't help but exclaim.

Old man Daniel and Ronnie Seth saw Zack Lockwood. Their eyes flashed with a surprise.

"Zack, it's good to see you here," Ronnie Seth said.

Hearing that I smiled and swept my gaze across everyone. I nodded to the staff before turning towards the old man Daniel.

"Kid, you have come here at the right time," Daniel said.

"Yes, it's important for me to come here. Do you guys have a virtual avatar of my opponents?" I asked.

Hearing that Daniel and Ronnie Seth looked at each other's faces. Their eyes filled with excitement. It was Ronnie Seth's idea to fight against Issac.

But he didn't expect his idea to impress Zack Lockwood as well. The staff became curious and excited as well.

Because it was certain that Zack Lockwood was interested in using their facilities.

"Kid, we have only old data. The top 3 warriors of these factions might have their own trump card. So we don't know their true strength," Daniel said with regret.

Hearing that I was not surprised. I just wanted to know about their fighting style. If I had known about Issac's metal chain attack, I wouldn't have been injured this badly.

"It's okay, I wanted to know about their fighting style," I said to everyone.

Old man Daniel understood. He thinks Zack Lockwood's decision was good. Only by knowing the opponent's fighting style. You can be better prepared.

“Okay, we will do that. Let’s first watch the duel between Ronnie Seth and Issac’s virtual avatar,” Daniel said.

Hearing that my eyes gleamed with a twinkle. I knew Ronnie Seth had black lightning. His natural awakened element was black lightning element as well.

So his attack techniques must be powerful. At the same time, I’m interested in seeing how he responds to the flame metallic chain.

“Ha...Ha.. Ha...”

“I can’t wait to use black lightning against Issac,” Ronnie Seth said with a laugh.

Next, he enters the pod chamber. The top cover closed the cabin. Inside the chamber, Ronnie Seth wears the helmet and starts following the instructions.

Outside,

There is a big screen. Right now, the screen is active. The virtual avatar of Ronnie Seth appears first. He has been visiting here often.

The lab has updated data on him.