Chapter 126 - Ridicule

On the way, Maria Frazier notices something. His schedule was known by everyone in her class. Zack is at the moment in the library. She exhaled a sigh of relief. "I'll be able to meet him at afternoon training." She made a mental remark.

Zack left the library dejected a few hours later.

"It's probably best if I didn't come here in the first place. There are only a few books in the library. The majority of the information was restricted." "I told myself."

I couldn't help myself but, consider one person. Ms. Tracy is the first person who springs to mind. She has a great deal of knowledge. She shared some of her experiences with me. Those were nowhere to be found in our library.

A sigh escaped my lips. "Perhaps I should wait a few months before looking for answers," I thought to myself. I consoled myself by saying, "One step at a time." My first goal was to improve my physical appearance. Following a breakthrough, my constitution seems to have improved. From the Basic domain level to the Near Level 1 domain level.

I'm thinking about it.

To get to 15, there's still a long way to go. I shook my head, believing that these dismal ideas would be pushed to the back of my mind. When compared to ordinary warriors, I may appear to be a genius. I was under the age of 12 when I reached Peak and Mid-level.

Before officially attending the Academy, achieving a Double Breakthrough. It's incredibel. But, When it comes to the inheritance test, though.

This progression continues to be slow in my opinion. Nobody hands over resources to me on a silver platter. I'll have to put in a lot of effort to achieve it. It's the one positive aspect about which I'm pleased. The blood element contributes to the growth of the body.

However, I need to work on unlocking the 7th region of my brain. So far, I've only used two mental treasures. My perceptual talent skyrocketed as a result of it.

But I'm not sure when I'll obtain something like it again. I decided to seek Mr. Arthur Emersion for permission to complete the task outside of the city. I soon found myself in the discussion hall while thinking about it. It's a pleasant surprise for all of them to be here. I gave them a small scowl as I looked at them. But I quickly became expressionless.

I took a step into the room. Ms. Adeline Key had already sensed my presence. She was well aware of life-or-death battles. As a result, she didn't ask many questions. She motions for me to walk into the hall.

When I walked into the hall, I was met with multiple stares. I looked to my right and saw a familiar face, but there was no Candace. But Maria Frazier.

Our gazes collided. She felt compelled to say something. But there was one sharp look from my left. I shifted my sight to the left. "Steven," I grumbled. I was taken aback when I saw him with two senior sisters. I'm not sure if he saw the notification about the life-or-death fight.

"Senior Brother, you challenged me yesterday," I said with a smile. "Did you forget?" I inquire. hearing my question. They were all taken aback. Steven Conway, in particular, was taken aback.

He came to the meeting room to see Zack's worried expression. However, there is a contrast. He seems unmoved and unconcerned. "Did he back out?" He pondered in his head.

"Zack, Junior Brother, Have you resigned from your position?" With a kind smile, he inquired. Ms. Adeline, however, is an exception. That is the question that everyone wants to know the answer to. They were unable to obtain a response from Ms. Adeline Key. They were looking for answers from Zack.

I'm staring at his bashful grin. I could see he was lying. I'm not sure why he's accompanied by senior sisters all day. In response to his inquiry "No, why would I do something like that?" I simply said. But in my thinking, I cursed at him, "I'm the one who suggested it, you d*ck head." I couldn't say it out loud, though. As a result, I smiled a little.

Zack's resolution is at the top of the list. Everyone was taken aback. However, "Ha... Ha... Ha..." Steven Conway erupted in laughter. This set off a chain reaction. Andrea Kramer and Ina Walker couldn't stop laughing. They began to chuckle as well.

Maria Frazier had a helpless grin on her face. Ms. Adeline Key, she reasoned, must have persuaded him. On the contrary, nothing of the sort occurred. Ms. Key was the only one she glanced at.

In the rooms, there was laughter. Several back lines emerged on Ms. Adeline Key's forehead. Zack's martial prowess was well-known to her. He simply harassed that Barry kid the last time. That's why she didn't try harder to persuade Zack. She does, however, have some reservations.

Steven, on the other hand, couldn't believe what he'd just heard. His eyes welled up with tears as he laughed. He looked Ms. Key in the eyes and said, "Mentor, something is amiss with his head. "Please double-check it," he replied, smiling. Misty eyes were also seen in the two girls next to him. Unlike Steven, they are now able to contain their laughter. They couldn't help but believe Zack is simply stupid.

When I looked at his laughter, I couldn't help but frown. This idiot had no idea what was going on. As a result, I didn't want to waste my time explaining things to him. "They'll find out eventually. "Just wait till the weekend," I told myself. I sat in an empty seat close. Without paying attention to the clown's face.

Maria Frazier appears to be disturbed, according to my observations. Seeing that made me grin inside. "At the very least, there are some sane people in my class," I thought to myself.

"I'm here to give some lectures, so don't disturb my class." Ms. Adeline key stated, pressing him gently with her feeble aura. Steven returned to reality after sensing this.. And he stopped laughing, but his heart was still amused. Seeing his younger brother who is na?ve
