

BloodLine 137

Chapter 137 - Meeting Mr. Jonathan

Earlier, Mr. James sent a message to Sir Lowell McClain. He was taken aback after reading the message. He hadn't expected Zack to suggest a life-or-death confrontation. He also notices Hansen Training Centre's approach.

His forces were stationed in a number of cities. Crimson Hall informed him about intelligence leaks. It was found that their objective was to cause havoc. This is harming Zack now. He also considers Zack's opponents' descriptions. With the exception of Elder's grandson. It is pointless to pay attention to others. Even if his grandson takes part and perishes.

He'll keep an eye on Elder Jensen to make sure he doesn't get involved in any shady dealings. As a result, he told James that he would take care of the situation. James is only required to report in the event of an emergency.

Sir. Lowell McClain also makes the decision to contact Zack. He had intended to wait until Zack joined the academy to meet him. Now, he thinks it's a good idea to approach him sooner. Within half a year of awakening, he can kill a peak level warrior. As a result, he is really upbeat about it.

...

Zack, on the other hand, arrives at his residence.

It took me twenty rounds to figure out how to do it. Practicing with a war dummy is surely not easy. I sighed when I realised this.

'Hmmm... If I maintain doing this practise as a routine,' I think. "I'm sure I'll do better, even if I don't use perception," I thought to myself.

While pondering it. I walked into my room. I went to the bathroom to take a short shower. I put forth a lot of effort into my workout today. I'm getting a squirt of cold water waste on my face. I'm feeling revitalised. I changed into my casual clothes a few minutes later.

I was looking through the alliance network at the time. My wrist watch vibrates in response to a new notification. I had a brief look around.

My eyes were wide open when I looked at it. I couldn't keep my excitement in check. Sir Lowell McClain, my teacher, has sent me a note. I take a deep breath and read the message. Following the message's reading, I was taken aback.

He asked whether I needed any assistance in that message. I have his men's contact information. There's also his own emergency contact information.

I definitely felt a weight being lifted from my shoulder. With it, I'll be able to deal with the looted object. It's possible that I'll trade it for something more valuable. I stored his men's contact information. Jonathan is his name. I went on to do other things after saving it. I'm waiting for dinner to start.

In the dining room.

Zack notifies to his Uncle. Mr. James nodded when he heard it. And he was told of Daniel's family's involvement with a nefarious organisation. He also informed him that he is free to use the stolen stuff. Zack responds by revealing his strategy. He wishes to speak with Mr. Jonathan. Mr. James did not raise any objections to this. When he hear the name Jonathan, Mr. James become excited.

On that day a person came to the residence to deliver the cultivation techniques, he remembered. Realizing that possibility, he took a deep breath. However, he immediately recovers. He didn't want to lose his cool in front of Zack, so he kept his cool. Jonathan is at the very least an Elite Warrior.

Without a doubt, he is stronger and at a greater level than him. Mr. James is well aware of this and intends to achieve breakthrough sooner rather than later. After dinner is finished. They went to their respective rooms.

The following day,

Zack went about his business as usual. Rather of going to the library. He made it a point to practise with a dummy throughout the day. It makes him feel like he's fighting with actual top-tier fighters. At the end of the day, time passed. Mr. Jonathan was approached by Zack.

Mr. Jonathan was the same person who pretended to be a beggar. He is one of the men under Sir Lowell McClain's command. Following a phone call from Zack. He stopped by the Red Stone city station.

It is an ideal location for him to visit Zack. Zack arrives at the spot after agreeing with him. Zack was completely unaware of his appearance. As soon as he arrived at the location. He sat and waited for him. Mr. Jonathan enters a few minutes later and instantly notices Zack.

Except for some minor issues, he spent the majority of the day watching Zack. He spent the rest of his time protecting him. Sir. Lowell McClain informed me about the life or death duel. He chooses to keep a closer eye on him. That explains why he is late after Zack.

When he first saw Zack, he was ecstatic. He takes a step in front of him.

Mr. Jonathan smiled and said, "Hi, my name is Jonathan." I was taken aback when I heard that. This individual appears to be a teenager. "So, He looks young," I mumbled under my breath. I shook my head, thinking it was impossible.

He didn't notice any energy floating as he got closer to him. My intuition, on the other hand, tells me otherwise. It reminds me of the endless ocean. Observing him and anticipating my response. "Hello, Mr. Jonathan," I said. "It's good to meet you." With a steady voice, I said. "Sir. Lowell McClain already briefed me about your problem," he replied. So, how can I be of use to you?" He responded.

When I heard it, I gave him a kind nod. I took a quick glance around me. I don't want anyone listening in on me. Observing Zack's delicate movements. Mr. Jonathan cracks a grin. He made use of an object known as the inform bracelet. It creates an impenetrable barrier around them.

"Amazing..." In my mind, I made a remark. These are the kinds of artefacts I'd like to have. "After defeating my first opponent in that life-or-death combat," I remarked eagerly. I took his possessions. Where I discover a number of stolen stuff. "Some of them were quite pricey."

Then I went over the names of the various objects. Daniel's lower-end storage ring was handed up to him. Where I kept the fire affinity stones and the pendant object that accompanied them. When he got it from Zack. Mr. Jonathan's curiosity was peaked.

He infiltrated the storage ring with his consciousness. He couldn't remember where he seen that pendant. He didn't even look at the stones with fire affinity. However, when noticing the faded symbol on the pendant, he changed his mind. He's taken aback. He'll go back and get the information on it once he's found it. He had every intention of telling Zack.

If the true owner of the pendant is still hunting for it, that would be an issue. As a result, he turns to Zack and asks, "What do you want?" Do you want me to assist you in converting them to credit points?" Converting stolen stuff to credit points would be a pain, Mr. Jonathan.

He knew Zack was Master's disciple, and Master had also instructed him to assist Zack. He makes the decision to do it.

Hearing him, I knew I had to be ready. As a result, I didn't hesitate to respond to him. "If it's feasible, I'd like lightning affinity stones or anything else related to lightning," I explained. I'm on the edge of making a breakthrough. So I'm in desperate need of lightning energy. As a result, if I have a breakthrough, my chances of winning improve."

Mr. Jonathan's eyes brightened as he heard that. He is aware of Zack's predicament. He does, however, appear to be aware of the outpost. The world's energy supply is extremely limited in this sector. Even for a genius, it's a challenge. A breakthrough would be tough to achieve.

On the contrary. He was present at the time. He accompanied him After his elemental awakening, He seen Zack's advancement with his own eyes at the Mountain Liz. "When it comes to lightning affinity stones," he explained. In outpost 1012, it's hard to find. Rather, I can search for herbal treasure and other objects related to lightning." He doesn't want to give Zack any false optimism.

In his Master's place, he can find lightning affinity stones. However, the journey would take at least a week. There will be no one to protect Zack till then. He didn't want to put it in jeopardy, so he set out to find some lightning treasures.

There are only a few places where you can see powerful lightning. As a result, he decides to pay a visit. On the other hand, Hearing Mr. Jonathan's simple response. I furrowed my brow. "Even for the men of my teacher." It's difficult to get your hands on a lightning stone," I sighed deeply.

At the very least, he spoke to me. I sincerely hope he is successful in obtaining the lightning treasure. "As long as it has anything to do with lightning," I said to him. When it comes to pendant artefacts, I'm comfortable with that. I didn't make any separate demands. It's useless to me. As a result, it's preferable to deliver it to him with that. We said our goodbyes.. I then boarded my train to return home.