

ANCIENT TEARS BLOODLINE

Chapter 14 - DR MEAROV 2

"Affinity totems were the latest technology of mankind, day to day numerous research is going on this field. Warrior techniques were mostly the same for all kinds of affinity totems they do energy circulation through veins". Dr Mearov carefully explained to Zack.

Wow, Who would have thought that on the path of a warrior is so much is going on! It's a good thing that my 7th brain region is being unlocked. I can visualise everything he explained in my consciousness. In Zack's consciousness, a 3D hologram of human physic is developed.

let's zoom it, human physic is zoomed he can see his bone and veins, and blurry vision of dantian. His dantian is not activated yet, wow it's no less than a movie, my 7th brain region work is no less than A. I Computer, I need to uncover more potential of my brain.

I understood everything he said, I thought I could match everyone in the academy, but my starting point is still insignificant, I'm still being overconfident having basic human physic and par intelligence is not enough to compete with fellow students in the academy.

From what the elder said, the inheritance totem from the ancient warrior technique sounds powerful than A. I advanced a man-made affinity totem.

Zack looked he is immersed in his thoughts for a moment from outside! but in reality, he processed every bit of information quickly, he sighed internally learning the fate of affinity totems but still grateful for the invention without it people would be at the mercy of others.

"So, James, What do you think everything was explained to the junior. Since I promised you I will implant Zack with affinity totem, it's not the latest version. its version was released last year. the latest version was still in the beta phase, it's better to get the last version". Dr Mearov told Mr James.

Mr James looked at Zack, "Zack are you ready let the Doctor test you, Which elemental affinity do you belong to? "

Dr Mearov clicked the tab! Soon a hidden corridor is opened up beside him. he led James and Zack inside the door, they saw state of art facility in there, Energy Chamber, built-in suits, High-end computers connected to the chamber.

Doctor sits in a chair and gave Zack a bottle of energy compressed liquid to drink, the bottle looked green in colour and ordered Zack to go inside the energy chamber! the energy chamber looked square in size with a small door. Numerous fibre wires were connected to the server of the computers.

This energy liquid is something, I cannot switch off the perception ability of mine around me, I'm in a constant state of hype. this feeling is so wonderful! let go inside this chamber, He opened the door and went inside the chamber.

What is this mist around here they looked attracted to me, no they were attracted to liquid that I consumed earlier, with his perception he saw that consumed liquid attracted the mist, the mist easily get inside his body through the pores, and easily get fused with consumed liquid, the consumed liquid then buzz off turned from green liquid colour into with violet sparkling colour! soon they penetrated his body organs everywhere!

Mr James stands beside Dr Mearov, James looked at the Computer screen, Dr Mearov looked at the data on the computer screen, the amount of World energy is consumed inside the chamber is shown graphically and also a Simulation of Zack physic being shown on the screen.

"James the data looks normal, at least Zack passed the first hurdle on the path of the warrior. looking at the data of energy liquid, which attracts the amount of world energy in his body. He sure got an elemental affinity, most of the young ones don't even pass the first hurdle, without having an affinity they have no choice to choose some other career except warriors". Doctor explained.

James looked happy, he thought now Zack will get affinity totem from Dr Mearov. little did they know Zack is not at all interested in affinity totem but he doesn't have choices!

What a pain damn it, why it is turned into the violet thing it is a no more wonderful feeling, the violet liquid is drilling every part of my body and get assimilated it's so painful, Zack yelled backs and forth touching his abdomen by both of his hands.

His favourite red t-shirt is drenched in sweat! Man, this is what old man talked about a dangerous risk with my turned on perception ability combined with pain, it's a deadly combo! glad that it's over the mist starting to get reduced!

After everything was over, Dr Mearov collected the data, he turns off the chamber and called Zack to come out.. Zack came slowly outside the door, he slightly adjusted his black jacket covering his drenched red t-shirt! He looked quite okay despite the pain.
