Chapter 1421: Frustrated Seniors

Virtual Training Lab

I looked at Ronnie Seth. He was finally convinced to attack me. Others were clearing out the desks and the floors.

It didn't take long for the place to be cleared. We faced each other again.

Ronnie Seth was ready to attack. Old man Daniel and the others retreated.

Boom!

Ronnie Seth circulated the black lightning force through his body. In the blink of an eye, black lightning force appeared in his right hand.

Thunder!

With the appearance of the black lightning force, a crackling, thundering sound erupted. Old man Daniel and the staff moved backward. Everyone felt the pressure from the black lightning.

The staff had seen the power of the black lightning before, but they were witnessing the power of the black lightning force from right here.

Old man Daniel's eyes flashed with surprise. He, too, felt the pressure from the black lightning force.

"This kid's black lightning force is powerful," Old man Daniel thought.

He knew Ronnie Seth had accepted an Ancient Inheritance as well. But Zack Lockwood's lightning power had defeated Ronnie Seth's black lightning before.

This time, he thought Ronnie Seth's black lightning power was stronger than before. He waited to see what Zack Lockwood would do.

On the other hand, my gaze fell on the black lightning. I found the power of the black lightning was indeed stronger.

In response, I circulated a small amount of dark purple lightning force. In the blink of an eye, my right palm was covered in dark purple lightning force.

With its appearance, everyone felt dread.

Ronnie Seth was stunned. Looking at the dark purple lightning, which was almost black, he felt invisible pressure gripping his heart. A sense of uneasiness was felt by everyone.

Old man Daniel's forehead was covered in fine beads of sweat. His gaze locked onto the dark purple lightning covering Zack Lockwood's right palm.

"It appears the dark purple lightning is even more terrifying than the black lightning," he thought.

He knew that Zack Lockwood had accepted an ancient inheritance as well. Then why was there such a difference?

The staff behind him were even more shocked. Actually, there was no need for the battle. From the appearance of the two types of lightning power, it was confirmed that Zack Lockwood was the winner.

Ronnie Seth hesitated. His will started to waver. He felt a strong sense of crisis. The next second, he withdrew the black lightning and returned to his previous self.

"Phew!" He heaved a sigh of relief.

"Brother, there is no need to fight. You are a lot stronger than before. I need to do a lot to catch up to you," Ronnie Seth admitted, acknowledging Zack Lockwood's strength.

Hearing that, Old man Daniel and the staff were convinced. They didn't look down upon Ronnie Seth for not fighting.

On the other hand, I withdrew my dark purple lightning as well. To be honest, I was interested in the black lightning as well.

If not for the purple lightning seed, I doubt my lightning would still be stronger—though it wouldn't be less than the black lightning. Each had a different attribute.

"Okay, you will soon catch up to me," I said to Ronnie.

Time passed.

We sat down and began chatting. Old man Daniel started sharing interesting news—the events that occurred here during my absence.

...

Meanwhile, something else was going on outside. The news of Zack Lockwood's return had spread wide.

Now, someone was spreading news that Zack Lockwood was challenging the Silver Mark Warriors from other factions.

The news was widely circulated by the warriors from the Thunderflame Faction, so the warriors from other factions took it seriously.

But they didn't know Zack Lockwood had neither denied nor accepted it.

The ongoing news made other top factions frustrated because their elite warriors were not here.

They were at the frontline fighting in warrior camps. Those who remained were young or injured.

Most of them here were average warriors. They couldn't win against a normal genius, let alone confront Zack Lockwood.

So, the other factions thought the Thunderflame Faction people were making use of the opportunity while their prominent warriors were away.

The news was heard by the faction leaders and the main elders as well. They gritted their teeth in anger.

The only faction leaders who were not mad were Faction Leader Clifford and Faction Leader Francesca.

Faction Leader Francesca had already issued a warning to her faction warriors. Many disliked the orders at first, but now when they heard the rumors, they understood their faction leader had foresight.

Their best warriors were not here; they didn't want to go out and make fools of themselves. Once their best warriors returned, then they could defeat Zack Lockwood.

On the other hand, the Elemental Faction leaders felt a headache. They thought the Thunderflame Faction was retaliating for the earlier troubles they faced because of the "foreign creature side" order.

Till today, no one had forgotten that order. There was a strong lightning warrior from their university who had caused trouble for the foreign creatures.

Many believed that it was Zack Lockwood. But they knew he was a Silver Mark Warrior; at most, he would be invincible within the same rank.

They didn't think Zack Lockwood could overwhelm Gold Mark Warriors, so the faction leaders didn't completely believe Zack Lockwood was the masked man.

Time passed.

That night, I left the Virtual Training Lab after having dinner there. It didn't take me long to arrive at the Thunderflame Faction.

I entered the territory and started walking toward my residence. When I reached it, I saw people standing in front.

Gasp!

An exclamation occurred.

"He is here!"

"Wasn't he going to challenge the faction warriors?"

I heard the words behind me. I ignored them, went to the gate, and opened it.

Creak!

After getting inside, I closed the gate and went to the door. The warriors behind me continued to watch.

Then I opened the main door and went inside. I closed the door and went to the sofa to lie down.

From beginning to end, I didn't speak a word to those warriors. I was sure the news about me was circulating online. I hadn't forgotten the commotion happening during the daytime.

Chapter 1422: An unexpected scheme!

Dark Variant Faction

Night

Three Silver Mark Warriors were brought before Faction Leader Vince.

Vince looked at them, a strange glint flashing in his eyes. "You guys are the oldest warriors in the Silver Rank. Your potential was long ago exhausted."

"There is no point in staying in the faction and continuing to waste resources here. It's time for the three of you to leave and settle down in Star City," he said in a serious tone.

Hearing this, their faces changed drastically.

"Faction Leader, our three families are allies of the Dark Variant Faction," one of them said.

"Hmph!" Vince let out a cold snort. "That's why you guys were able to stay here so long. I don't like to waste resources on trash."

Their faces turned ugly. They didn't know what to say, and they looked at each other in silence. Their potential was exhausted, that was the truth.

The atmosphere was quiet. Strangely, they realized the Faction Leader hadn't asked them to leave right away.

One of them asked, "Faction Leader, is there something you want us to do?"

Hearing that, the other two turned towards their leader.

"Hmm. There is something on my mind. If you guys complete this task, you won't have a problem living in Star City. I'll recommend people to give you tasks from time to time," Vince said.

The expressions of the three warriors brightened all of a sudden. "Leader, what is it?" one asked.

"I want you guys to challenge Zack Lockwood from the Thunderflame Faction. He is a Silver Mark Warrior as well. I'm interested in his current combat strength."

"You guys don't have to defeat him; as long as you are able to force him to use his trump card, that will be enough," Vince told them.

The three of them immediately agreed. However, Vince knew their power was only average; Zack Lockwood could easily defeat them.

"At your current strength, you are no match for Zack Lockwood. Take this pill and consume it tomorrow before fighting him." After saying that, Vince gave them each a black pill.

The three accepted the pills without question. Vince then dismissed them.

They knew the pills had something to do with their lack of strength; they had heard of Zack Lockwood's reputation, so they didn't ask and silently left.

...

The Following Day

I got out of bed and started my morning routine. I knew I was going to enter the warrior camp today.

It didn't take long for me to finish. Then, I sat on the sofa and picked up my device to browse the news.

When the feed appeared, my gaze fell on articles that had my name in the headlines. I raised my eyebrows in surprise.

"Someone challenged me," I thought.

The articles said that warriors from the Dark Variant Faction wanted to fight me. The other factions were silent on the matter.

I knew most of the elite warriors were at the front; otherwise, the elemental factions themselves would have sent their warriors first. I smelled a strong conspiracy.

I had been here for just one day, yet people were already acting against me. I shook my head before continuing to read.

It took an hour before I realized what was going on. The foreign creatures had released news about a "masked man." Many thought the masked man was from the Thunderflame Faction.

I understood now why Thunderflame warriors were being targeted.

They wanted me to fight against all the other faction warriors as well.

"Hmph. If I do, I will be easily exposed. As long as I don't show my full strength, no one will doubt me," I muttered to myself. I put away the device and went to the bath.

Meanwhile, the three warriors from the Dark Variant Faction had blocked the entrance of the Thunderflame Faction.

"We are here to challenge Zack Lockwood!"

"Where is he?"

"Tell him to come outside!"

The three warriors started shouting. Passing warriors stopped in their tracks to watch the drama. The Thunderflame Faction warriors were taken aback and went inside to report to the higher-ups.

The three challengers didn't hide their identities; they were wearing the uniform of the Dark Variant Faction. News quickly spread across the campus. People couldn't believe it was happening.

The faction leaders and main elders of other factions were surprised. They didn't expect the Dark Variant Faction to make such a move.

The Faction Leader of the Thunderflame Faction, Clifford, was furious. He hadn't even met Zack Lockwood yet, and so much had already happened.

The Dark Variant Faction was making open threats. He didn't know what was wrong with Vince. Clifford thought that Dean Jerome would definitely take his anger out on Vince for this.

The Main Elders were shocked as well. They didn't know where the Dark Variant Faction got the audacity.

Austin and Ann were extremely angry, waiting for Clifford's orders, but they knew Dean Jerome wouldn't allow any infighting.

Just as the news reached a fever pitch, a statement was released from the Dark Variant Faction.

It claimed the three Silver Mark Warriors had exhausted their potential and were leaving the faction to settle in Star City. Their final wish, however, was to fight Zack Lockwood.

The news was another shocker. People were dumbfounded. No one expected them to play it this way. Everyone wanted to challenge Zack Lockwood, but they hadn't found a good excuse.

With their elite warriors at the front, the remaining warriors couldn't win against him. The Dark Variant Faction's method had caught everyone off guard.

...

Dean's Office

Jerome saw the statement. He knew all about Faction Leader Vince's little schemes.

To be honest, he was impressed with the method, but he had no intention of stopping them. He knew Zack Lockwood had grown stronger in the past three months.

Whatever tricks they were hiding, he believed Zack Lockwood could handle them. So he is not going to stop them. He then sent a message to the Faction Leader Clifford.

He wanted Zack Lockwood to appear outside and face the challenge.

Chapter 1423: Part 1: Senior Challenge!

From MC Perspective

I was in my residence when I received a sudden, direct call from Faction Leader Clifford. I was taken aback. He wouldn't call me unless it was something important.

I answered the call and listened to what he had to say. My expression turned cold.

"Leader, I will take care of this matter." After saying that, I ended the call.

I put away the device, my gaze deepening. I had read the article earlier; I knew warriors were going to challenge me, but I didn't expect them to be blocking the entrance right now.

Even Dean Jerome had been alerted, and he had ordered Faction Leader Clifford to force me out.

I shook my head to collect my thoughts, then walked up to the entrance. I opened the door and stepped out.

I immediately went to the main gate. As I opened it and stepped through, I saw members standing not far away.

They were waiting for Zack Lockwood.

I nodded to them before heading toward the outer gate. On the way, I came across many warriors standing on both sides of the streets.

"Hey, he's here!"

"Zack Lockwood is going to face them."

"I don't know whether he's going to defeat them or not."

"Let's follow him."

"Those three warriors from the Dark Variant Faction need to be taught a lesson."

The warriors voiced their opinions as I got closer to the exit. Those behind me gathered in large numbers, ready to watch the battle.

I walked out of the entrance.

Gasp!

A huge exclamation occurred the next second.

Warriors from other factions were waiting outside, with the three warriors from the Dark Variant Faction standing in the middle.

Behind me, the Thunderflame Faction warriors appeared to support me.

The situation had become tense. The warriors stared at each other; a fight could break out at any time.

Gasp!

Another loud exclamation followed. The warriors from the Elemental Factions were looking at me for the first time in a long while. Among them, Ronnie Seth was present as well.

He looked at me with worry. He had seen my dark purple lightning force and believed I could handle the senior warriors from the faction.

At the same time, my gaze swept across the place. I felt several auras hidden in the sky they could be the Main Elders. High in the air, the Elders from different factions were watching the show.

The Elders from the Dark Variant Faction looked down with a cold glint in their eyes. Many of them were seeing me for the first time in ages.

Fortunately, they couldn't take action here.

The Main Elders of the Thunderflame Faction stood in mid-air as well, facing off against the Dark Variant and Elemental Faction Elders. Austin and Ann were among them.

Austin observed the others; if they tried anything, he would definitely act. He had already informed Faction Leader Clifford of this and was even ready to accept Dean Jerome's punishment.

On the other hand, the Main Elders from the two Bloodline Factions had come to watch from the sidelines.

They weren't going to support the Elemental Factions, nor were they going to stand against the Thunderflame Faction.

These people didn't know that someone else was monitoring their actions: the Purple Mark Guard.

Dean Jerome had approved the challenge, but the threat of someone doing something shady remained.

I shifted my attention to the three middle-aged seniors. They were strong Silver Mark Warriors, but I was stronger. I didn't know where their confidence came from.

I took a step forward and approached them. The crowd had left the open land clear for the fight.

"Zack Lockwood is here!"

"Let's see if he can maintain his winning streak."

"Those three seniors are not ordinary, either."

The warriors continued to speculate.

"So, you are Zack Lockwood," one of the three middle-aged men said.

Everyone's gaze turned toward me. I nodded before stepping onto the field and appearing before them.

"I heard the three of you wanted to challenge me. So, what are you planning?" I asked.

The three men looked at each other. They had already consumed Dark Pills before coming here, which was why their auras seemed so strong. To everyone else, they looked like peak Silver Mark Warriors.

"Take my fist attacks first!" one of them shouted, stepping forward.

I nodded. I didn't use my perception ability; I intended to face them using only my natural reactions.

Swoosh!

The man rushed toward me. His fists carried a fiery dark flame, the Dark Variant of the fire element.

Gasp!

The warriors from the Blazing Fire Faction reacted strongly. They knew Dark Variant warriors were naturally stronger than normal Fire Elemental warriors.

In the field, I side stepped to avoid the attack easily. Instead of retreating, I swept my left leg across. The kick was casual, yet it contained enormous power.

Boom!

The next second, the man felt a massive impact. Like a cannonball, his body rocketed backward before hitting the ground.

Boom!

He landed with a heavy thud, the impact creating a deep pit. The shockwave spread across the area.

This all happened within seconds. The warriors stood there, dumbfounded. They couldn't believe their eyes.

The other two middle-aged men were terrified. What had they just seen? It was a casual kick from Zack Lockwood, yet it had sent their friend flying like a fly.

"What?" One of the main elders uttered in shock. He was from the Dark Variant Faction.

The other main elders were watching the fight as well. They were shocked to see the results.

A Silver Mark Warrior was defeated like that.

"Zack Lockwood was stronger than before."

It was the thought on everyone's mind. The faces of the main elders were serious. They felt Zack Lockwood was stronger in the same rank again.

If he wanted to fight against other Silver Mark Warriors, no one could defeat him.

The main elders from the bloodline factions were surprised as well.

They had thought their bloodline warriors could pose a challenge to Zack Lockwood. But they were now wrong in the end.

Chapter 1424: Part 2: Senior Challenge!

Star University

Knowing that the middle-aged man won't be able to get up, I shifted my gaze towards the other two men.

The other two men looked at me. Their expressions changed drastically. But they had already consumed the dark pill before coming here.

They had promised the Faction Leader, Vince. They couldn't backtrack now.

The second middle-aged man stepped forward. He didn't want Zack Lockwood to gain any more momentum.

Swoosh!

He brought the saber forward. A black-colored liquid covered the blade in the blink of an eye.

Gasp!

The visual caused the warriors to gasp because they had identified the black liquid.

"Corrosive water!"

"It's another common water variant, but it's powerful."

The warriors commented from outside. I heard their words as well.

Swoosh!

The next second, the middle-aged man came charging towards me. His blade was aimed at me.

A quick gleam appeared in my eyes.

In the blink of an eye, he reached me. He then brought down his saber diagonally. I saw the blade coated with the black corrosive water.

If the blade were to land on me, it would definitely hurt my skin. I didn't want to take any chances.

My senses were heightened. Just before the blade could land on me, my body shifted sideways.

The middle-aged man was stunned. He didn't expect Zack Lockwood to dodge the attack at the last second.

Thunder!

I covered my palm with dark purple lightning force. It was a small amount. It covered my palm silently.

Swoosh!

When the blade cut across the empty air, I shifted my body and moved towards him to attack.

The middle-aged man wanted to retreat, but my actions were faster.

Boom!

The punch squarely landed on the chest. The next second, an earth-shattering noise sounded. The senior's body was blasted away.

The middle-aged man's face was filled with terror. His heart faced death at that moment. His body then crashed into the ground with heavy force.

Pfff!

The dark purple lightning force had torn apart his chest; the residual power was impacting his internal organs.

The middle-aged man was terrified. He lost consciousness the next second.

Gulp!

Some of the warriors standing outside gulped down their saliva in fear. They saw the second warrior knocked down in an instant.

It happened quickly. The faces of the Dark Variant Faction warriors changed drastically. They didn't expect the second opponent to be defeated this quickly.

The Main Elders in the sky were embarrassed. They were the Main Elders of the Dark Variant Faction. They saw other Main Elders looking towards them.

The Thunderflame Faction Main Elders were looking at them with triumphant smiles. The challenge was already won.

Zack Lockwood had won against two people. It didn't matter whether the last man won or lost.

The faces of warriors from other factions became calm as well. They were used to Zack Lockwood's abnormal strength by now.

Among the crowd, Ronnie Seth was there as well. He saw the dark purple lightning force released by Zack Lockwood.

Though it was a small amount of force, it knocked down the Silver Mark Warrior. He was completely convinced that the dark purple lightning force used by Zack Lockwood was powerful.

It was more powerful than his Black Lightning Power.

In the open field, the third senior had lost his courage to fight. Two of his friends were knocked down. Their bodies had injuries.

The third middle-aged man didn't want to fight. His eyes were filled with fear. In the end, he gave up.

He said, "I accept defeat."

Gasp!

A loud exclamation occurred this time. But no one was surprised or raised complaints. They understood that it was impossible to defeat Zack Lockwood.

Everyone was convinced that Zack Lockwood was the strongest in his rank because Zack Lockwood didn't use his attack or defense techniques.

He simply used elemental manipulation to defeat the opponent. Even their elite warriors would face difficulties defeating Zack Lockwood.

The Main Elders of the Dark Variant Faction looked towards the third Silver Mark Warrior with anger. They didn't expect the last warrior to accept defeat.

Hmph!

The Main Elders gave a snort before leaving the place. One by one, the Main Elders of the Dark Variant Faction left.

The Main Elders of the Bloodline Factions had witnessed the defeat as well. They looked towards Zack Lockwood in a new light.

They even found out that Zack Lockwood was too strong to defeat. The Silver Mark Warriors from the Bloodline Faction were at the front line as well.

There was no one strong enough from the Bloodline Faction present here to challenge Zack Lockwood.

Their Faction Leaders had ordered them not to challenge Zack Lockwood, so they left the place. In the blink of an eye, all the Main Elders were gone.

The warriors from the Dark Variant Faction took the injured warriors to the clinic. The third senior went with them.

On the other hand, I found everyone's intense gaze on me. I knew the Main Elders were looking at me as well.

My gaze swept across the warriors down below. I didn't say anything. I turned around and entered the faction territory. Then I made my way towards the residence.

Austin and the others looked at each other with a smile. Then they left the place as well. The worst thing didn't happen.

Zack Lockwood defeated them without using elemental techniques. It showed Zack Lockwood was truly strong. Hereafter, no one would use their little schemes against Zack Lockwood.

...

Dark Variant Faction

Faction Leader Vince got the news. He was extremely angry. Not only were the senior Silver Mark Warriors defeated, but they were defeated in a single move.

The last one admitted defeat out of fear. Their Dark Variant Faction lost face in front of others. Three of them were already expelled.

He couldn't do anything to him. He thought about the mission recommendations; he was not going to help them.

But he was shocked by Zack Lockwood's strength. He, too, had watched the duel in secret. The strength shown by Zack Lockwood showed that he could fight across ranks.

He thought the average Gold Mark Warriors were no match for Zack Lockwood. It was the assessment of other Faction Leaders as well. Everyone had watched the duel in secret.

Chapter 1425: New warrior camp no 5

Room

After returning to the room, I rested because I will be leaving for the warrior camp in the evening. I doubt anyone will disturb me in the meantime.

One hour later,

I opened my eyes. Then I used my device to check the online news. I quickly saw the online posts about myself.

It was about the fight that happened earlier. Seeing that I was not surprised. I continued to read the online articles.

...

Dean's Office

Jerome smiled after seeing the results. Zack Lockwood had done better than he expected; he defeated his opponents in a single move.

Jerome is a Red Mark Warrior. How could he not see that something was wrong with those three senior students? He had read their backgrounds and knew they had long since exhausted their potential.

There was no hope for them to break through to the Gold Mark level. He realized that Faction Leader Vince must have done something to them.

But he didn't expose them. He had wanted to witness Zack Lockwood's strength, and now that he had, it was time to assign a warrior camp to him. He picked up a camp list and began to go through it.

Since the genius warriors are fighting in elite camps, he decided to assign Zack Lockwood to one of them. Because Zack is going to fight under his real identity, Jerome thinks it is best for the other warriors to keep an eye on him.

Time Passed

That evening, I left the room. I was ready to go, but I found Master Austin and Ann in my front yard.

"Master Austin! Master Ann!" I called out to them.

Hearing my voice, both of them turned around.

Austin said, "I knew you would leave without meeting us, so we came here to see you off."

"Zack, now that everyone knows of your return, enemies will attack from all sides. If you find yourself in danger, you can return," Ann said in a serious tone.

"I'm sure the supervisors of the camps are from Star University. Dean Jerome won't assign you to the camps of other forces," Austin added.

"I will take care of myself," I told them. I understood their concerns, but I was prepared for the adversity.

We spoke for a few minutes. Nearby, the Purple Mark Guard had already arrived. He was standing mid-air with another old man: Faction Leader Clifford.

"They tried to stop the kid, but they failed. I'm sure they won't give up," Clifford said, his voice filled with concern.

"Dean Jerome has his eyes on the kid, and so do the hostile forces. But they won't be able to touch him. They have already lost so much by paying too much attention to him," the Purple Mark Guard remarked.

Clifford nodded. He had heard about those terrible losses as well. The warrior camps were clearly divided now, and the elite camps were causing huge damage to the city.

It didn't take long for Austin and Ann to leave. The next second, the duo in the air appeared in front of Zack Lockwood.

"Kid, it's time to leave," the Purple Mark Guard said.

Seeing them, I was stunned. I didn't expect them to appear so suddenly. It meant they had been here the whole time, waiting for both masters to leave.

"I'm ready," I replied.

"Zack Lockwood, you are progressing beyond my expectations. Today, you did well by defeating the senior students of the Dark Variant Faction," Clifford said with a smile.

Hearing that, I didn't know whether to laugh or cry, mostly because I had been forced into that fight.

"I was just following orders," I said.

"Good. If you face any crisis, you can always come back just like your masters said earlier," Clifford noted.

I nodded to him.

"Time to go," the Purple Mark Guard said.

He nodded to Faction Leader Clifford before grabbing my shoulder. The next thing I knew, I was in mid-air. The Purple Mark Guard was taking me to a secret spot where I could teleport to the warrior camp.

Swoosh!

The Purple Mark Guard was cautious. Even though this was their territory, he had to be wary of hidden attacks.

Soon, they left the range of Star City and entered the vast barren lands. It didn't take long for them to land behind a small overhanging cliff.

There was a teleportation platform hidden there. No one would have thought such a platform would be located in such a random spot.

Thud!

I felt my feet hit the ground. The Purple Mark Guard landed and spread his mental power to scan the area. Finding no threats in the air or on the land, he turned toward Zack Lockwood.

"You can enter the teleportation platform. It will lead you to Warrior Camp No. 5. It is a camp for Silver Mark and Gold Mark Warriors."

"The Supervisor, Kenny, is a Purple Mark Warrior. He isn't from one of the top ten factions; he's from a medium-sized one," the Purple Mark Guard explained.

I was surprised. I didn't expect someone from a medium-sized faction to rise to the rank of a Purple Mark Warrior. I nodded to the guard. He brought out a key and activated the platform.

The teleportation platform glowed with a blue light. I stepped inside and, a second later, I vanished.

The Purple Mark Guard heaved a sigh of relief. He hoped Zack Lockwood would survive the warrior camp.

Swoosh!

I felt myself descending. When my feet touched the ground, I raised my head to look at the scene in front of me. I was inside a building, standing on a teleportation platform. I stepped off and walked toward the exit.

Outside, my gaze fell on a middle-aged man who was releasing the aura of a Gold Mark Warrior. I assumed he must be an assistant. The black-haired man stepped forward.

"Are you Zack Lockwood?" he asked.

"Yes, it's me," I replied.

"I am Munro, Supervisor Kenny's assistant. He asked me to bring you to the office," Munro said.

"Okay," I replied.

Chapter 1426: Dangerous camp!

Warrior Camp No. 5

We started walking towards the office. On the way, my eyes observed the surroundings.

There were no stone houses or brick buildings; instead, there were makeshift tents here.

A quick gleam appeared in my eyes. The whole land was a place filled with rich vegetation. I could feel the rich energy in the environment.

The energy was dense and pure. It was better than the environment on the campus. It was an ideal place to heal and recover from battle.

No wonder this place was selected as a warrior camp.

I didn't know where they were located right now.

By then, we had arrived in front of a large camp made of wood. Munro led me inside. There was a person with a lean physique sitting behind a desk.

He is the Supervisor here. His name is Kenny. He is a middle-aged man with curly black hair that reaches down to his shoulders.

His skin tone is fair with black eyes. He raised his head and looked into the kid.

His gaze fell on Zack Lockwood. He had already received a report from Dean Jerome. He knew what to do.

"You are Zack Lockwood, right?" he said.

"Yes, it's me," I replied.

"Good. You are assigned here. Warrior Camp 5 is one of the dangerous camps. There are 100 Gold Mark Warriors and 200 Silver Mark Warriors here."

"We don't have reserve warriors. After a warrior's demise, we ask for the next batch to come. You are now the 200th warrior," Kenny said in a calm tone.

My eyes flickered with understanding.

"I understand," I replied.

"You don't have to hide your strength. Dean Jerome wants you to do well here so that other warriors can be stimulated," Kenny said.

He then asked Munro to take Zack Lockwood to the makeshift camp. We walked out of the wooden building.

My heart was stirred. The population of the camp was lower than I had expected, but all of them were strong warriors from different universities.

Last time, I faced people from the Giant Tower and the Blood Moon University. I didn't know which other universities had sent their warriors here.

Munro didn't speak much. Soon, we arrived in front of the new makeshift camp. There was a sign for "200th" outside.

"The rules are the same as previous camps. If you hear the alarm, then you should follow the crowd to enter the teleportation platform."

"Once the battle is over, you can leave," Munro said.

He then thought of something before adding, "No matter what, internal fighting is banned here. If you find yourself in such situations, try to avoid the conflict."

Munro then gave me the key. The makeshift camp had a metal door for protection and privacy. I accepted the key and thanked him for his advice.

Munro then left the place. Once he was gone, I used the key to open the door. I went inside and shut the door immediately.

"Phew!"

I heaved a sigh of relief. Since I had come here, I needed to make better use of the opportunities. My mental power immediately scanned the place.

There were no hidden dangers here. The place was compact. The living room was small, with a basic wooden table and chair.

There was a single sofa to lie down on. There were windows on both sides, but they were closed right now.

My gaze fell on three rooms. The first was the bedroom, the second was the bathroom, and the third could be the practice room.

It was my guess. I decided to go and check. I entered the first room. My gaze fell on the space.

A basic single bed with a table and chair nearby, it was basic furnishings. Then I walked out and went to check the third room.

The third room was different from the others. It was not just a room, but a chamber. I had thought it was a practice room.

But the essence chamber was even better. I could practice all of my methods here. I could advance my progress further to the Gold Mark Level.

After taking one more round of the place, I sat down on the sofa in the living room. I had successfully arrived. It would only be a matter of time before everyone learned about me.

My runes are close to reaching the level of Gold Mark Rank. I should use the opportunity in the camp to become a Gold Mark Warrior.

Meanwhile, the warriors were in their own makeshift camps. Some of them were using the chambers to increase their strength. Others were simply resting in their rooms to recover from their injuries.

Supervisor Kenny and Munro were in their office rooms. The next battle could occur at any time, so Kenny was careful.

He was checking the stocks. The warriors here were all talented, so the stocks contained many healing treasures. It didn't take long for him to confirm the high number of healing treasures.

After doing that, he thought of the upcoming battle. Since Zack Lockwood was going to make an appearance, the warriors from other universities were going to learn the news as well.

Dean Jerome had given him other instructions. He wanted to find the spies planted by enemies. He was sure that someone would target Zack Lockwood.

His eyebrows furrowed. He didn't know who would make the move. Among the universities here, the warriors of Dark Shadow University and Silver Academy were hostile toward Star University.

Especially the warriors of Dark Shadow University, they were the most hostile.

He decided to pay close attention to the warriors of Dark Shadow University.

That evening, Assistant Munro's activities were suspicious. He walked along the stone path for patrol.

He was observing the makeshift camps along the way. It didn't take long for him to reach the last camp, makeshift camp No. 200.

Munro's expression changed all of a sudden. His eyes flashed with killing intent. He quickly concealed it.

His face returned to normal. He then made a decision to follow the orders of his higher-ups. Munro was one of those planted spies.

He was a Gold Mark Warrior. He had not received orders in years, yet the appearance of Zack Lockwood had changed everything.

Now that he had received the order to eliminate Zack Lockwood, he decided to perform a sneak attack to kill him.

Chapter 1427: Killing Munro

Warrior Camp 5

Munro decided to act. If he delayed any further, the battle alarm could occur at any moment. He took a deep breath before walking up to the tent.

Inside the room, I heard a knock at the door. Hearing that, I raised my eyebrows in surprise. I didn't know who was knocking. I got out of bed and went toward the door.

Creak!

I opened the door and saw a familiar personality again. Assistant Munro had arrived.

"Senior," I greeted him.

Munro was wearing a smile. "I have come here to talk to you. Won't you let me inside?" Munro said.

Hearing that, I was stunned. I looked at him and invited him in. I turned around and led him toward the living room.

Munro looked at Zack Lockwood's back. Subconsciously, he revealed a small glimmer of killing intent, but then it disappeared.

Boom!

The next second, Munro launched a sneak attack, his right fist covered in the golden element. The golden fist was about to puncture Zack Lockwood's back.

At the same time, a sense of crisis covered my heart. My heightened senses kicked in; I felt danger coming from behind.

My perception activated within a second, and I caught a glimpse of the golden fist reaching for my back.

I immediately reacted and tried to dodge. My body shifted, but the golden fist grazed my side.

Boom!

The golden fist struck. I felt a tearing pain in my back. I lost my balance and stumbled forward.

Munro's expression changed drastically. He didn't expect Zack Lockwood to dodge at the last moment. He didn't retract his golden fist; instead, he continued to drive it forward.

On the other hand, my perception caught the attack again. This time, I reacted faster. I stood up and faced the attack.

Swoosh!

I circulated the dull golden sealing force, covering my right hand.

Swoosh!

The golden fist was about to hit my chest. I sidestepped just in time, causing the attack to miss. The golden fist went past my face. At the same time, I slammed my own fist right into Munro's chest.

Boom!

Under Munro's shocked gaze, my fist struck him. The next second, a deafening noise sounded.

The sealing force took effect. Munro's whole physique was completely sealed; he couldn't move his body, not even his eyebrows.

He was shocked to the core. Munro didn't know what was happening. His gaze fell on Zack Lockwood, and his heart filled with terror.

I circulated the dark purple lightning force. The sealing force was gone, and my right hand was now covered in lightning.

Boom!

I appeared in front of Munro and started punching his body one after another.

Munro couldn't even let out a scream. His body was torn through by the rampaging dark purple lightning force, and his internal organs were suffering massive damage.

Munro couldn't believe a Silver Mark Warrior was doing this to him. He tried to do something, but his body was sealed in place.

Boom!

The deafening noise would definitely alert others, so I continued to hammer his body with repeated blows. Munro looked bloodied. His Gold Mark Body couldn't withstand my blows; his broken bones and flesh were visible.

Boom!

The barrage of punches left Munro half-unconscious. If it were any other Gold Mark Warrior, they would have died by now, but Munro was holding on. It showed he was no ordinary warrior.

I could have used another inheritance force to finish him off, but the traces would be found by others. It was best to finish him with the lightning attacks.

Outside

A crowd had gathered. They heard the noise from tent no. 200, but they didn't know what was going on. They didn't dare use their mental power, as it was against the rules and they could face punishment.

Earlier, they had heard the sound of elements. It appeared someone was practicing.

While there were training chambers available, they didn't know why someone would be practicing in a living room. If not for that doubt, they would have already entered. They gathered purely out of curiosity.

Swoosh!

Supervisor Kenny arrived on the spot. Such a commotion did not go unnoticed. What's more, he knew the tent belonged to Zack Lockwood.

"Quiet!"

Upon seeing him, everyone became quiet. Kenny's gaze fell on the warriors, his eyes flashing with displeasure.

"What are you guys doing here? The battle sound could occur at any time. Go back to your tents and be ready," Kenny told them.

The warriors were taken aback. They couldn't disobey the words of the Supervisor, so they retreated to their rooms. In the blink of an eye, the area was vacated.

Inside the tent, the sealing force effect was over. The lifeless body of Munro dropped to the ground. The overbearing dark purple lightning force had shattered his heart and internal organs.

Munro lost vitality quickly. Only after confirming his death did I draw the lightning force back into my dantian.

Charred smoke rose from the dead body. I didn't know what to do next. I hadn't expected Assistant Munro to try to kill me.

I had even let down my guard against him. If not for my super senses and perception, I would have received a fatal injury.

A helpless smile appeared on my face. I knew there would be attacks, especially as I was using my real face and identity. The hostile forces couldn't sit still. I just hadn't expected Munro to be the one to try it.

Knock!

I heard a knock on the door. My expression changed drastically.

"Who is it?" I thought.

I had no intention of hiding the killing; I should inform Supervisor Kenny. I just hoped he was not the same kind of person as Munro.

I collected my thoughts and went to the door. If it was a warrior from nearby, I would simply tell them I was practicing inside.

Creak!

I opened the door and was stunned. The person standing outside was none other than Supervisor Kenny. I greeted him and let him in.

Supervisor Kenny's perception immediately caught the charred body inside. His expression changed drastically.

Swoosh!

He appeared in front of the corpse the next second. Seeing that, I shut the door and followed him back inside.

Chapter 1428: Battlefield (Camp 5)

Tent 200

Supervisor Kenny saw the corpse. He recognized it immediately; it belonged to Assistant Munro. He didn't jump to conclusions.

I appeared in front of him. Kenny looked at the corpse and turned to me.

"What happened?" he asked.

Hearing that, I sighed in relief. Supervisor Kenny hadn't made a premature judgment.

Then, I started explaining things to him. At first, Kenny was calm, but when he learned Munro had tried to kill Zack Lockwood, he was shocked to the core.

To be honest, he had guessed it somewhat, but it was still shocking to know that Zack Lockwood was able to kill a Gold Mark Warrior.

He knew Zack Lockwood had the capability to fight across ranks, but it carried a different meaning when someone achieved a cross-kill against a Genius Gold Mark Warrior.

A few minutes later,

I finished explaining everything. Kenny digested the information. He needed to report to Dean Jerome first.

Swoosh!

He collected the corpse before turning toward Zack Lockwood.

"Dean Jerome told me there are planted spies here, but I didn't expect Munro to be one," Kenny said with a sigh.

"It's good that you had the strength to protect yourself. Forget about this matter. If anyone tries to harm you again, handle it just like you did today," he added.

I nodded to him. Then, he left my tent silently. I heaved another sigh of relief.

I had thought it would be a much bigger issue, but fortunately, Dean Jerome and Supervisor Kenny had already expected something like this to happen.

I collected my thoughts and sat down on the sofa. I spent a few minutes there before entering the essence chamber.

I had lost quite a bit of sealing force earlier, and it was time to replenish it. Inside the chamber, I turned on the switch, and energy started filling the room.

When the mist-like energy appeared, I started comprehending the sealing method. The sealing rune in my mind began throbbing as I immersed myself in the practice.

Time passed.

The sealing force in me started to recover. Seeing that, I continued the process.

Midnight.

I walked out of the chamber after ending the practice. Next, I went to the bathroom to take a shower.

I spent 20 minutes there, then walked out and changed into comfortable clothes. Only then did I feel at ease. Instead of going to the bedroom, I lay down on the sofa.

Next morning,

Buzz!

The battlefield alarm sounded, awakening everyone.

Hearing that, I opened my eyes and got out of bed. I quickly changed into my uniform, opened the door, and walked out.

My gaze fell on the warriors flying through the sky toward a specific location. I knew they were going to the teleportation platform.

Swoosh!

I didn't waste time and joined them, following from behind. There were more than a hundred warriors in front of me.

In the blink of an eye, there were a hundred warriors behind me as well. It didn't take long for me to attract unwanted attention. Their gazes were filled with killing intent.

"Hey, Zack Lockwood is ahead!"

"I didn't expect him to actually come here!"

"It's going to be interesting!"

"The elite disciples of the main elders and faction leaders are here as well."

"It will be interesting to see them clash."

The warriors spoke to each other without lowering their voices, so I heard everything. I sneered inwardly. To be honest, I was looking forward to meeting the elite disciples as well.

It had been some time since I joined Star University, and I had only met the disciples of Master Austin and Master Ann, who are my senior brothers and sisters.

I hadn't had the opportunity to see the others yet. This camp experience was going to be interesting.

Soon, we arrived in front of the teleportation platform. The warriors landed on the ground one by one.

The Gold Mark Warriors didn't wait for anyone; they rushed onto the platform. Ten people disappeared, then the next ten entered.

Swoosh!

They disappeared from the platform. I stood closer to the entrance, feeling the piercing gazes of the Silver Mark Warriors.

Surprisingly, the Gold Mark Warriors didn't look at me. I wondered which among them were the planted spies.

Assistant Munro had revealed his true self the moment he saw me.

I thought other spies would take action right here, but I was wrong. Soon, it was the turn of the Silver Mark Warriors. They entered the teleportation platform in groups.

Not long after, the warriors who were observing me entered the platform. When my turn came, I was among the last group.

Swoosh!

I stepped inside. The teleportation activated the next second, and we disappeared.

It didn't take long for my feet to touch solid ground. There were five Silver Mark Warriors beside me.

The platform was protected by a layer, similar to the previous Warrior Camp 8. I took a step and started walking forward.

At the same time, I activated my perception. I found these people strangely calm. None of them talked to me; more importantly, they didn't even speak to each other, which was even more suspicious.

I wanted to see what they were up to. A second later, my perception caught them glancing at one another. A quick gleam appeared in my eyes.

I darted from the spot, and in the blink of an eye, I passed through the protective layer and onto the battlefield.

The five Silver Mark Warriors were taken aback. Then, they started rushing toward the battlefield at the same time. They were planted spies, specifically, spies for the foreign creatures.

The foreign side had long suspected that Zack Lockwood could be the Masked Warrior, but they didn't have confirmed evidence.

Consequently, they had started targeting all suspicious warriors. The spies hadn't expected Zack Lockwood to come to this camp.

It was the perfect opportunity for them; once they eliminated him, they would receive massive rewards. The eyes of all five flashed with greed.

On the other hand, I saw a vast, charred black land in front of me. Thick smoke was rising everywhere.

Chapter 1429: One vs Five

Battlefield 5

The charred black land was filled with a terrible smell. I wondered how anyone could battle here. It was a terrible place.

Swoosh!

Just as I was wondering, the warriors behind me entered the battlefield.

I turned towards them. There was a gap of a few meters between us. I wondered whether they would attack me or not.

The five Silver Mark Warriors exchanged looks. The next second, they moved from their spots and surrounded Zack Lockwood.

Seeing their actions, I brought out the white staff. I covered it in dark purple lightning force.

Boom!

The five warriors were all male Silver Mark Warriors. A middle-aged, burly warrior took a step forward and charged to attack.

His body was releasing metallic force. It was sharp. Even small contact could leave many cuts on a body.

Swoosh!

The other four warriors used their force and began releasing their attacks.

My eyesight and perception were sharp. I caught everyone's details. My mind was filled with information in a matter of seconds.

When the middle-aged man's attack was about to reach me, my white bone staff moved. It came into contact with his fists.

Boom!

An earth-shattering noise sounded.

The white bone staff, covered in dark purple lightning force, shattered the metallic elemental force easily.

The staff kept moving forward before striking the body of the middle-aged man. His chest was hurt.

Boom!

The middle-aged man felt the impact force before stumbling backward.

At the same time, my perception caught an attack from behind. I immediately launched a reverse attack.

The white bone staff struck the Fire Elemental Warrior. The dark purple lightning force easily extinguished the flames and landed a blow on him.

His ribs were hurt. He flew backward before crashing into the ground.

At the same time, I shifted my body in a flash to avoid attacks from the three other warriors.

Boom!

Several water arrows from the sharp-nosed warrior pierced the ground one after another. They landed vertically.

If those water arrows were to hit an average Silver Mark Warrior, they would have left the body riddled with holes.

Boom!

Suddenly, I felt a tremor beneath the ground. I moved away.

Sharp earth spikes protruded from the ground. One after another, they tried to impale me. I continued to move my body.

"Aahhh!"

The last warrior appeared behind me. I didn't know when he had appeared. His body had undergone a small transformation.

Seeing that, I realized he was a bloodline warrior. Before his attack could reach me, I blocked it with my staff.

Boom!

A deafening noise occurred. The shock force spread across the area. The bloodline warrior stepped backward.

Taking the opportunity, I moved back to create a large gap between us.

This all happened within a minute. My senses were heightened. My perception covered all five of them.

They were all looking at me. I gripped the white bone staff tightly and circulated the purple lightning force.

The middle-aged man who had attacked me with the metallic element was injured. If I landed a few more blows, he would be severely wounded.

The Fire Elemental Warrior looked weak as well. My lightning attack had struck his body earlier. I needed to get rid of these two first.

Swoosh!

The five warriors started charging again. They intended to surround me and launch a coordinated attack. But I wouldn't give them a chance.

"Phantom Movement!"

Both of my legs were covered in purple lightning bolts. In a flash, I moved from the spot. I darted toward the metallic element warrior.

The middle-aged man was stunned. He brought up a sharp weapon to defend himself, but his movements appeared slow in my eyes.

The other warriors charged at the same time to attack, but I reached the middle-aged man faster.

The middle-aged man raised a sharp object to strike me. Before his attack could touch my body...

Swoosh!

I struck the enemy using a staff. The staff blurred before slamming into the enemy's ribs. The lightning force crushed them.

Boom!

A deafening sound occurred. Using the opportunity, I made another strike toward his head.

Puchak!

The head was struck. Blood gushed forth like torrential rain. He fainted on the ground.

Swoosh!

The next second, I sidestepped to avoid attacks from the other four warriors. The purple lightning bolts covering my feet made my movements faster.

My target was the Fire Elemental Warrior. He was panicking. If I had used even a little bit of shock integration force or other powers, the middle-aged man would have died already.

But I didn't want to expose my cards. I was fighting using my real identity. I was sure Supervisor Kenny and the foreign creature Supervisor were watching my fight.

None of their attacks reached me. In a short burst, I reached the Fire Elemental Warrior. He tried to cause harm again using flame balls.

Boom!

But I easily evaded them. The flame balls missed me and landed on the ground with a heavy noise.

The shock force from the impact spread across the area. The other warriors were dumbfounded. They knew Zack Lockwood was a Silver Mark Warrior, but he had only recently advanced.

On the other hand, they were elite warriors. They should have been able to kill him easily. But they found Zack Lockwood's strength was similar to theirs.

Specifically, they felt his movement speed was far better than theirs.

The Fire Elemental Warrior was horrified. Each of his attacks had missed.

Even when he made an accurate attack that should have been impossible to avoid at close quarters, Zack Lockwood's body shifted within a second to evade it.

He was dumbfounded. He started to realize he was outclassed. He was no match for Zack Lockwood.

But the realization came too late. The white bone staff swept toward his leg. He wasn't able to avoid the sudden attack.

Boom!

He fell to the ground. The lightning power began to damage his legs.

"Aaahhh!"

He let out a terrible scream. He felt his legs becoming paralyzed.

Apart from the inhuman pain, he couldn't make a single movement. All of this happened within a minute.

The remaining three warriors stood rooted to the ground, feeling struck dumb.

Chapter 1430: Slaying the five warriors

Battlefield 5

I looked at the three warriors. They were looking at me as well. A fighting intent rose in my heart. To think they dared to team up to eliminate me.

"He is abnormal!"

"Don't give him a chance!"

"Supervisor Kenny might be watching the duel."

The three warriors spoke one after another. The next second, they acted. They started their attacks.

Swoosh!

Water arrows were released again. A huge boulder was shot at Zack Lockwood. The bloodline warrior's presence disappeared from his original spot.

He was good at close quarters, so he had to get closer to Zack Lockwood.

On the other hand, my perception was active. I evaded the water arrows easily, and the huge boulder was just as easy to avoid.

Swoosh!

I moved backward to avoid the attack. Then my eyes caught the appearance of the bloodline warrior.

I sneered inwardly. The bloodline warrior seemed to be a battle maniac. A good idea came to my mind.

Boom!

I continued to avoid the attacks one after another. The two other warriors were really helping the bloodline warrior attack me.

A hint of disdain appeared in my eyes. The middle-aged man appeared in front of me. His body became bulkier because of the bloodline power.

"You are dead," the middle-aged man uttered.

Both of his hands transformed into claws.

Seeing that, the remaining two warriors showed bright smiles on their faces. Bloodline warriors were considered invincible in the same rank.

They couldn't wait to see Zack Lockwood shredded by those claws. They had already started imagining it.

"Lightning Wheel!"

I released a lightning attack. A powerful lightning wheel appeared around me. The wheel was beaming with tremendous lightning force.

Boom!

The middle-aged man slammed his claws against the lightning wheel. The lightning wheel exploded. The overbearing power blasted the bloodline warrior away.

"Aaaahhhh!"

With a blood-curdling scream, his body crashed into the ground with a heavy thud. This happened within seconds.

The dark purple lightning force crushed his arms. His body was being charred by the purple lightning force.

The expressions of the remaining two warriors changed drastically. They looked at each other, their eyes filled with dread.

They had underestimated Zack Lockwood. If he could defeat the bloodline warrior, it meant he could defeat them as well.

Already, three warriors were lying on the ground. Their life or death was unknown.

"We can't escape!"

"We will be killed by foreign creatures or Supervisor Kenny," an earth elemental warrior said.

He seemed to have accepted his fate. The water elemental warrior was still unwilling. The two warriors looked at each other and made a decision.

Boom!

The next second, they darted towards Zack Lockwood. They knew it was dangerous to face Zack Lockwood at close quarters, so they intended to maintain a gap.

On the other hand, I saw through both of their thoughts. I decided to end this duel faster. I had to fight against the foreign creatures as well.

I didn't have time to waste.

"Lightning Phantom!"

My feet were covered in purple lightning bolts. In a flash, my body disappeared from the spot. Both warriors were stunned.

Then, they released their attacks.

Boom!

A huge earth elemental boulder and a water bubble shot towards Zack Lockwood.

Swoosh!

When the attacks were about to touch my body, I shifted. I disappeared from the spot. At the same time, I circulated the purple lightning force.

"Condensed Lightning Finger!"

A more powerful purple lightning force formed at the tip of my forefinger. The two attacks went past me and struck the ground.

Boom!

A deafening noise occurred. A powerful shock force spread across the area.

The remaining two warriors were stunned. Before they could realize what was happening, I released the finger attack at them.

Boom!

A lightning finger beam released from my forefinger. The beam's power traveled in a straight line.

The earth element warrior was stunned. He saw the attack aimed at him, and a thought of fleeing appeared in his heart.

Swoosh!

But it was too late. The purple beam reached him. It pierced his forehead before coming out from the back.

Pfff!

Blood gushed forth like torrential rain.

The earth element warrior died unwillingly. The water element warrior was scared; he turned around and started fleeing.

Seeing that, I chased after him. I closed the gap in a couple of seconds. Then, I shot another purple beam attack towards the fleeing warrior.

Swoosh!

The purple beam traveled in a straight line in a flash. It struck the back of the water element warrior's head.

Pfff!

His skull cracked. Blood emerged again. The water element warrior's eyes lost their vitality, and he dropped dead on the ground.

I appeared before the corpse and confirmed the death.

"Phew!"

I heaved a sigh of relief. The five warriors earlier had caught me off guard. Fortunately, I dealt with them in time. Next, I have to face the foreign creatures.

But my gaze fell on their storage rings. It had been a long time since I plundered anyone. Since they had desired to kill me, I was going to take their storage rings.

I took their storage rings and collected them into mine. Then, I looked ahead and walked forward.

As I walked, my perception covered the area. I held my white bone staff. My eyesight was sharper, but I didn't see any foreign creatures nearby.

...

Office Room

Supervisor Kenny broke his desk. He was furious. He couldn't believe there were so many planted spies living under his nose.

After Munro, five warriors had tried to kill Zack Lockwood. Fortunately, Zack Lockwood was alert. He wasn't caught off guard by their sudden attack.

Kenny heaved a sigh of relief. If something had happened to Zack Lockwood, he wouldn't have forgiven himself.

He didn't know how many others were planted spies. This duel was not only seen by him; he was sure the foreign creature supervisor must have watched the duel as well.

A hint of seriousness appeared in his eyes.

He was sure the foreign creature side wouldn't stay silent. Since they had seen Zack Lockwood's abilities, they would inform others.

The next battle was going to be dangerous. Before that, he hoped to eliminate the remaining planted spies. He collected his thoughts and phoned Dean Jerome. He was going to tell him everything.
