Chapter 162 - End: Lucius Jensen's Fury

Arthur Emerson, according to Lucius Jensen, must have done something to cause his son's death. It would be impossible to turn a blind eye to the situation otherwise. He couldn't control his rage any longer as he looked into Arthur's eyes. "Arthur, I didn't expect you to be so composed in the aftermath of my son's death." In a solemn tone, he said.

He responded, "I requested Elder Jensen not to allow Philip to participate in the life or death duel. But, he didn't listen to me." Then, Mr. Arthur Emerson did not argue against him.

"So you're saying you're not to blame for my son's death? It happened because of my father." He uttered while gritting his teeth.

Mr. Arthur Emerson did not respond. He was well aware that any wrong word could cause this manic to act erratically on campus. He does not want to suffer any setbacks. Otherwise, answering Elder Thornton's questions would be too embarrassing.

"Get to the point," Mr. Arthur Emerson advised. "Why are you here?"

"Harumph," Lucius harrumphed as he listened to what he was saying. "This jerk obviously knew why I'm here. But he refuses to explain why they did not support my son. There will be no life-or-death fight. If it weren't for their terrible internal politics." Lucius thought to himself.

"I came here for My son's corpse," he said abruptly to Arthur. I'm hoping at the very least you'll be able to do that?"

Mr. Arthur Emerson is at a loss for words in response to his question. He was well aware that Zack had no intention of returning the corpse. His expression has become more complicated. He refused to name Zack.

As a result, he replied, "If you came here for Philip's corpse. Then you'll have to come back empty-handed. In a life-or-death duel, the victor takes everything belonging to the loser, including his corpse." Mr. Arthur responded calmly.

However, his words appear mocking to Lucius. Hearing that, he released his aura, which weighed heavily on Arthur. The silver aura pressed down on Mr. Arthur like giant metal. Mr. Arthur's pupils constrict as he detects the aura. He immediately released his aura in response to the attack. His aura was red in colour.

As both the silver and red auras collide. As a result, there was a lot of pressure inside the cabin. The ferocity of clashes continues to rise. All of the documents and other items were thrown into the air at the same time. On both sides of the wall, a massive crack appeared. Because neither of them wanted to back down.

"Boom," the crashing sound reverberated throughout the area. Because the front door of the cabin couldn't withstand the pressure. It immediately broke down.

The collision triggered the building's safety alarm. All of the teachers, mentors, and students fled their classrooms. Fortunately, the students' classes were on different floors.

Many of the students fled the building as the commotion erupted. Their mentors in class guided them. Few teachers proceed to the point of collision.

Mr. Arthur anticipated what would occur outside. He turned on the emergency siren right away. While Lucius did not obstruct him, he, too, did not want unneeded casualties. Otherwise, the city lord will implicate their family.

Once upon a time, the red siren rang throughout the building. Everyone realises what is going on. They were all familiar with the drill, and the siren now rang incessantly. Indicating that an emergency situation exists.

People began to leave the building.

Fortunately, there is no stampede scenario. To begin with, the student count is low. Aside from a few people, many others were successfully evacuated.

Ms. Adeline Key, on the other hand, works in a different staff cabin. As she heard, there was an emergency siren. She rose from her seat and sent an evacuation message to her students. On top of that, she wants to know where her students were. She took a step outside her cabin. She discovered no evidence of an earthquake. "What exactly is going on?" She mumbled under her breath.

Exactly where she was perplexed. "Boom," a derogatory sound reverberated throughout the area. Hearing that sound made her body tremble. She dashes towards the source of the problem.

On the other hand, after indicating an emergency. Mr. Arthur waited for the siren to stop. When the number of people falls below a certain threshold, the artificial intelligence system will turn it off automatically.

However, on the other hand. Lucius did not pause after the emergency siren sounded. He gets up from his seat and walks away. He appears above Mr. Arthur in an instant. Lucius raised his feet to stomp them on his chest.

Unfortunately for him, Arthur was already aware that it was only a matter of time before arguments devolved into conflict.

Arthur didn't give Lucius a chance. He easily avoided it. Then he twists his fist and strikes him on his abdomen. Arthur's fist technique is a hand-to-hand combat technique. His fist skill is already at the Expert level.

Lucius' expression darkens as he realises what is going on. He was aware of Arthur's fist level. He tries to block it with his palm instead of evading it. Both fists and palms made contact.

Lucius' face froze in disbelief. His palm couldn't hold back the overwhelming power, so he flung back from Collision and smashed against the wall.

The impact caused the wall to collapse. The cabin has been completely destroyed. Mr. Arthur creases his brow. He wishes to eliminate Lucius. Both of the mindful are not utilising their elemental power. As a result, they employed their physical prowess. The fight is still going on in the hallway.

Many of the staff members who came here to investigate the situation were alarmed to see Lucius Jensen. Some of the older members of the staff saw him with Elder Jensen. As a result, they warn new employees not to meddle in this situation. They have been tasked with verifying the student evacuation procedure. Only the old and senior staff remained to observe the current situation.

"The son of elder Jensen is clearly lawless, according to rumours," one of the senior staff members said. As he observed both of them fighting neck and neck with each other.

"Snorted," one of the female staff members right away. "His son Philip was killed in a duel." Perhaps he came here to seek justice." She muttered something.

"How naive are you, Laura?" Nobody takes part in the life-or-death duel unless they give their full consent. "How does the Jensen family treat you? Looks like you have been doing well." Other members of staff couldn't help but speak up.

Staffs are having disagreements like this.

(Zack's Perspective)

"This metal dummy is pretty much useless when competing against speed," I muttered something under my breath.

I couldn't help but be disappointed when I saw the metallic dummy. The metallic dummy is powerful in terms of both strength and defence. It's more like a moving boulder. I can put my sword and physical attack to the test with it. But when it comes to speed, I'm helpless.

I can't help but recall the bounty hunter who used the wind element against me. He travels at a much faster pace than I do. Forget about the difference in levels. He can catch up to me even if he only uses the wind element. Just as I was thinking about it.

I heard an emergency siren. When I heard that, I paused my practise and exited the training chamber.

I called Mr. Arthur right away. But he isn't answering his phone. I received a message from Ms. Key all of a sudden. She is inquiring as to my whereabouts. Following the reading of the message I called her right away.

Ms. Adeline key had arrived at the confirmation area by this time. It is taking place on the fourth floor. She soon discovered other members of the staff watching the fight.

She couldn't help but be concerned about Arthur. "Where has Elder Thornton gone?" She thought to herself. Arthur may appear to be pressing against Lucius. But she knew what would happen if they fought with Elemental attacks. It's difficult to predict the outcome of the battle.

She receives a phone call from Zack. Seeing that she answered the phone. "Where are you, Zack?" she inquired.

Hearing this, I responded, "I just got out of the training chamber." What's the matter, Mentor? "Where have you gone?"

When she saw Lucius, she decided not to tell him. "All you have to do is stay inside the training chamber." "Do not come out unless I summon you." She forewarned him.

Hearing that, I was rendered speechless. Hearing her tense tone. I couldn't help but tense up.

This gave me a bad feeling. "Should I go or should I not? I mumble something under my breath. I was startled to hear a continuous explosion. "This is not a natural disaster."

Someone is fighting somewhere out there.

"Who could it be?" My heart skips a beat when I have a bad premonition?

I mustered the courage to go on to lookout. I was on the fourth floor in minutes. This structure was built with a unique material. They are not easily brought down.. I noticed a few pieces of debris along the way.
