Chapter 26 - Casual Talk

After two hours of solo training, I exited the chamber. It's already late in the evening. I need to reach the railway station in time. It's good that courses are only for 6 hours daily. It did not interfere with travelling time. Zack sighed in relief. He got fresh up in the washroom as he was covered in sweat. Then he packed up his things and left for his train.

Sometimes later.

Marcus Moore was smiling with an evil grin. In name of sparring, he was attacking Maria Frazier's beautiful body. In the training room while sparring he never looked at her eye. He always has his sight below her neck. Deliberately making uncomfortable for her.

Marcus Moore said to himself. This is what happens if you think highly of yourself. Wouldn't be better if you had accepted my greeting for the first time. I won't be ruthless. He. He..what a beautiful body. As he was lavishly enjoying his view of Maria Frazier body. Her clothes were completely drenched due to sweats.

Maria Frazier frowned seeing Marcus Moore's evil grin. She thought. Sure this evil pig deliberately making it difficult for me. He must have impure thoughts as she pissed off in her heart. This pig doesn't know what he is dealing with. If not for concealing my element I wouldn't be in such a sorry state. it's a test for me. otherwise, I would pulverize this guy with my water element.

She had enough. She told Marcus Moore. "It's time the class is over. It's getting late for home". Then she exited with her friends for the washroom. Those girls practised separately. Seeing Maria coming they stopped their practice and joined her to leave.

Marcus Moore stood there silently but he is happy in his heart but disappointed in the fact he was unable to watch her drenched body for too long. Maria Frazier dressing looks conservative covering all her assets. Only by drenched in sweat, Marcus Moore was able to see her toned body. But this was realised by Maria. Marcus Moore was last to exit the facility after fresh up.

All of this event happening was noticed by

Ms Adeline key. She observed everything from start to beginning. This batch got low members yet there is no unity between them on the first day itself. Marcus Moore is a troublemaker. He did not know what he is dealing with. Maria Frazier background can easily evaporate the Moore Merchant family. But looking at her behaviour. She did not want her background to be known to others.

Looks like all the rich generation warrior family sent their young generation to trials. The trial is to show them their worth without using background. It's largely common among them. I need to take care of her. To avoid mishaps dealing with Marcus Moore. The same can be said for the twins and Candace Wilkerson belong to a rich generation family.

The only odd kid here is Zack Lockwood, he is adopted by James Lockwood. The well known Knight Ranked warrior. Friend of Arthur Emerson.

Zack's future path is set. he is going to join ARMY. No wonder he quickly sent him here for training. He wants Zack base to be perfect. But looking at his training in the solo chamber. Ms Adeline was confused he was done extremely well in the solo training but he looked drained at the end of training in the practice room. But quickly she got over it. This is their first day. I will know about their strength in the coming days. Ms Adeline said to herself.

Maria Frazier travelling to her home with her friends. One of her friends Joann Allen said. "Maria tomorrow do not train with Marcus Moore. He doesn't look good". "Yeah. His face looks creepy". Leona Allen added. Hearing that Maria tilted her head her expression was dark.

" Do not worry about this pig. I do not want to expose my strength. But I'll show a little bit of strength in the coming days of training. That pig is the best option to test my strength without using elemental energy". She said sternly.

Soon Maria averted her gaze to Candace Wilkerson. She said. "Candace Why are you being silent? What happened?". Candace responded saying. "I was thinking about another guy". " Who? That useless kid who gasped for breath after training?". Leona Allen interjected. She had a bad impression of Zack. "He went for solo training to avoid embarrassment". said Joann Allen. "Yes, Candace, He is a weak guy".said Maria finally.

"I don't think so guys my intuition tells me something else. You guys ever noticed his expression. He looked like he doesn't care. More importantly, he was not at all fazed by Marcus Moore. That Zack was minding his business". Said Candace. She had good intuition from her childhood. Which helped her so many times. So she won't judge the book by its cover.

Hearing What her close friend said. Maria realised she noted carefully. Soon Leona said. "Ok, Candace we will know in future. Whether he is good or bad. It's just the first day of training so chill. Now the most important thing is, I'm very hungry let's go to a restaurant". Said Leona. All of them laughed jointly hearing what Leona said she is a foodie.

"Okay, let's go". Candace said. All of them went to a restaurant before going home.

Meanwhile,

Zack was travelling by train. Immersed in his thoughts. He was thinking about his training stances today. There were three attack stances they were common stances for all swords. They are named

1. Nimble Slice

2. Vital Slice

3. Infinity slice.

Three stances were mainly emphasised by Ms Key. Nimble slice attack used to effortlessly breach enemies attack and left sword mark on the opponent's body. The Vital Slice attack is used to attack the opponent's vital parts making his movements hindered. The infinity slice attack is aimed at the opponent's heart.

it's a one time attack. You have to attack without your opponent knowing.. By the time he noticed something he will be dead due to a ruptured heart.
