Chapter 77 - Interrogation Done

Meanwhile, the team sent by Bald Man has returned. The team went inside the TTC building and entered the interrogation room. Currently, the robber was tied up with a special metallic chain.

He was placed in a special torture chamber. If the robber failed to answer anything. The robber will be subjected to extreme torture. The team leader of the auction authority was a lean man.

He went forwards and noticed the robber. He seems still in an unconscious state. But, the leader was ordered by a bald man to wake him up.

At first, he operated on the monitor screen. The monitor screen is attached to the torture chamber..

Soon, a purple gas was seen filling the torture chamber. At first, the robber didn't have any reaction. But, later his skin started changing color, it becomes red. Soon, a bubble starts to appear on top of the skin like boiling water.

It happens all over the place on top of his skin. The robber couldn't take it anymore. He started to scream. His painful shriek thundered the torture chamber.

But, it was pin-drop silent outside. Seeing, the robber started to scream. The team leader turned off the purple gas. He didn't want him to fall unconscious again. Then he turned on the small monitor screen fitted inside the torture chamber.

"See, it would be better. If you tell everything. Otherwise, you would be subjected to the same torture." The team leader said with a wide grin. Don't know whether it's because of torture or the cunning look of the team leader.

The robber started to divulge everything. How he was approached by Will Roach and his friends. Later, He explained the robbery plan set by Will Roach. He was even forced to divulge their meeting location.

This was done privately. No one is near the team leader.

After recording the information. The team leader left the interrogation room. He is on his way to the top floor. After arriving at the top floor. He met with the bald man.

There were still people here. They didn't leave the building. Unless they sort out the problem and provide a solution. The cunning team leader then stood behind the Bald Man.

"See, I have told you. My men will bring out answers from his mouth" The Bald Man said with a smile. Hearing that all the people in their rooms. Stopped their work and looked at the bald man.

The brute man team leader, he is standing behind TTC Authorities. He had a displeasing look on his face.

One of the TTC authorities said, "Do you think it will do any good? To use of banned items inside the torture chamber." They came to know that, purple gas is used to interrogate the robber.

It's a banned item. The TTC will have to face another headache if the public came to know about this.

"I don't care, it's your shit to handle." The Bald Man said with a smile. Seeing him smile. All the TTC members had confused looks on their faces. "I heard that there is something called elite circle TTC members," The Bald Man said with a smile.

Bad premonition rouse in the heart of TTC Authorities. One of the TTC members asked, "Sir Mathew, What do you know? I think you should share the Intel. That, your men got from the interrogation room."

The Bald Man's name is Mathew Notts. People call him Sir Mathew. From the beginning, he had some inclination. That, it's an inside job.

Now, with evidence in his hands. It convinced his earlier assumption. "I think it's better, TTC hasn't been involved in this investigation anymore." Sir Mathew Notts said with a threatening tone.

He then left the building with his cunning team leader. The TTC Authorities didn't know what to do. For the time being, they don't have any choice except listen to them.

The Brute Man team leader asked, "Lot of people have been waiting outside, should we allow them?" The TTC members now had no reason to deny entry to the building. The interrogation was done. So, they gave permission.

Meanwhile, Zack has been waiting outside of the building.

I was waiting outside. Soon. We received a green signal from the management. Then, along with others, I entered the building.

I directly went towards the receptionist. "Ms. Could you find the patient's name, Max Stewart? He came with me to the auction earlier. And he didn't exit the building" I explained my situation to the receptionist.

Luckily, there were enough people here to handle the situation.

She is just one of the receptionists. Soon, she operated on her AI Monitor screen. It took some time, but she couldn't find out the name of Max Stewart in the registry.

There were no patients in the name of Max currently admitted. She told that to me. I was entirely confused. He was not at the Ieki Restaurant. Not at the medical ward.

I'm not satisfied with her answer. I told her to check the security footage. She seems to understand my trouble. I told her the timing of the auction. She checked that footage, she is able to find out our footage.

Now, she is checking all the exit footages when the auction was over. I've carefully recorded that video through my sci-fi watch.

In normal times, you can't think of such a move inside the TTC Building.

But, now is not a normal time. Time passes, she checked all the footage. There is no sighting of Max Stewart. "Is someone deleted the video?" I asked her in confusion.

She is too confused. There is evidence of a person entering the building, but not leaving. If that, the case, then Max is inside the building. Such thoughts ran through my mind. It's too much to handle.

If he is inside the building, why he is not picking up the call. This is something I can't handle. I need to inform my uncle.

Soon, Zack called his Uncle and informed everything.

Uncle James told Zack that, He will come to the TTC building along with Sir. Arthur Emerson. He instructed Zack to wait there.

Until they arrive. I became relaxed hearing that. If both of them come together, I'm sure they will do something about it.
