Chapter 83 - Part 2: Blood Element's Invisible Aura

"Ha... Ha... Ha..." I laughed in my heart. Seeing their reaction. It is gratifying to see self-entitled people have a taste of their own medicine.

They look like they have eaten a shit. I didn't stay in this spot further. I walked away from them. This time they didn't even stop me.

Steven Conway himself moved aside to give me space. My lips curved a little seeing that. This trio didn't leave spots. After Zack left only silence remained in the place.

The Trio looked at each other.. Deep down, they knew the answer. Zack Lockwood is a Strong Warrior. He is stronger than all.

But, they didn't want to voice out. Steven Conway had only thought in his mind. "Peak Warrior" He misunderstood that Zack is the Peak Trainee Apprentice.

That's why he didn't even flinch. Two of the girls also had the same thought they looked at Steven Conway for an answer.

Steven Conway looked at their eyes and nodded at them. Earlier, they decided to confront Zack. But, now they got a huge revelation.

They didn't see the invisible aura released by Zack. They thought He didn't even counteract and stood there.

They concluded that only warriors with level differences can do that. The Classes were over. The Trio left the place after some time.

Meanwhile, Zack boarded the train to his home.

Earlier, today I cursed at my bad luck. The time I had spent time in the library went for nothing. Then the Desert Simulation Chamber.

The V.R is not suitable for me. I'm not mentally weak. So, I don't have to prepare mentally to face a harsh scenario.

Ever since, my first assignment. I took environment as one of the advantages for monsters. It can be detrimental to us.

As long as you have the necessary knowledge forehand. You can avoid a mental breakdown.

Coming back to Desert Simulation.

At first, I thought it's going to be a waste of time in the library. But, in Underground Desert Simulation Room. I discovered my new ability.

My lips curved a little having some breakthrough in Blood Element Mystery.

When I was halfway through, facing the hot blown wind. Which causes sandstorms to appear.

The sands have been already hot due to the rising temperature. On top of it, it was getting blown by the hot wind. Creating sandstorm scenarios. It was quite hard to move from Point A to Point B.

Thanks to the suit, it safeguards us from any possible injuries. That's where I started to notice the miracle of Blood Element.

At first, Blood Ring Rune in my conscious started to flicker. I failed to notice in the first time. But, as time went on. I felt something happening inside my body.

Then, I used my perception to see the wonder. The Red lines in my bones started to release something. I can feel it, but I couldn't perceive it.

Then I used full perception and started to focus on it. Then I'm able to notice some layer starts to cover my inner organs.

It is like a colorless wave, washed over my entire inner system. It baffled me completely. I didn't want to stop it.

I saw the colorless wave cover the internal system. Then it started to cover the external system.

From top to bottom starting from head, nose, skin, abdomen then legs. The colorless wave covered both internal and external systems.

When the small sandstorm hit me. The colorless wave acted like a shield. It protected me from the sand particles.

The sand particles couldn't able to pass through the aura. Then I walked through the storm. It stayed not more than thirty seconds. Precisely, Half-minute.

Then, I named it Invisible Aura. Because it's hard for me to notice it with my full perception. Then I knew it's invisible to others' eyes.

I carefully observed every scenario. At first, it didn't appear as I willed it. It only appeared when something from external attacked my system.

It doesn't matter internal or external. Both with a sandstorm and the trio's aura. The invisible aura appeared like some sort of defense mechanism.

It is acting passively. I have yet to figure out, how to make it appear actively.

This new discovery, certainly adds up my arsenal. It's my first blood ability. I slightly guessed the working of Red lines in my skeleton.

It has something to do with the invisible aura. I have yet to uncover its abilities. I need to consume more blood for that.

Though I named it as invisible aura. It certainly differs from my Blood Elemental Aura and Lightning Elemental Aura.

Both of them were my natural signatures. It acts as a natural identification number.

I don't know what use is for it, other than intimidating as the Trio did it.

Sometime later, I reached home.

Meanwhile,

"He is Peak Warrior. Isn't he?" Ina Walker finally opened her mouth. The trio left the building. Now, they are having a small conversation. They are shocked by the earlier revelation.

"SIGH" left the mouth of Steven Conway. He looked at the Sky "Ten and a half years old Peak Warrior" and uttered slowly.

His mumbling was heard by both girls. "Now, it's impossible to get an answer from Zack" Andrea Kramer commented.

"Forget about Zack, as he told. We have to ask Max's Parents" Steven Conway replied. Only, the fool would ask him after knowing his strength. He laughed in his heart in thought of that.

Ina Walker asked, "Steve, Do you think others know about Zack's Strength?"

Hearing that, Steven Conway shook his head. "I don't know about others. But, I believe Management knows. Now, I understand why they put juniors in our class" Steven Conway commented.

Listening to Steven, Andrea Kramer and Ina walker smiled mirthlessly. If Steven was right, then Candace Wilkerson and Maria Frazier would be like Zack.

They decided to train harder from here on.

Meanwhile, Zack is in his practice room.

This backyard space is quite good for Sword Training. Currently, a violet color light illuminating the training room.

It's none other than Zack's lightning energy. The Black Sword is currently being charged with violet lightning energy.

I'm holding this Sword in a vertical position. A continuous stream of lightning energy. It's getting transmitted from my palms to the Black Sword. The Black Sword is lightened up with violet lightning energy.
