

Bloodline 851

Chapter 851 - Door To Death

"Alright then stay here on your own. Y'all can come with me unless you're deciding to chicken out like her," Litch voiced out before running towards the opening.

Grrrrhhh~

The opening up ahead began to slowly close up. The others who were initially hesitant wasted no time in running forward as they saw the opening closed up.

Whether or not the glory belonged to them, they didn't want to miss such an opportunity.

Only one person stayed behind with her, while the other three followed after Litch.

Bam!

The moment the opening up ahead closed up, both of them turned around and decided to head back.

But suddenly...

Thiiizzhhhh~

A new opening appeared on the east side of this floor.

"Hmm?" Avery looked to the side and already knew this opening probably led to a different space on the forty-second floor.

"Should we check it out Cole?" She asked.

"It's just the two of us, we're not powerful enough," Cole voiced out in response.

"If we can't win, we'll use the emergency token and they'll get us out of here safely. It's better than taking glory that we didn't work for," Avery stated.

Cole gave in and followed her towards this opening. In the next few seconds, they were headed down the stairway towards level forty-two.

As they headed down with caution, they arrived at the 42nd floor of the dungeon.

"Uh?" The instant both of them arrived on this floor, they noticed the scene looked similar to that of the former floor.

There were ashes in different corners and the pungent smell of roasted flesh as well.

"Looks like the group that cleared the previous floor went in through here," Cole voiced out as he spotted the similarities.

"Then where did Litch and the others head to?" Avery's eyes widened as she voiced out.

Both of them turned to face each other with a look of realization.

They quickly turned around and began to head back to the entrance that led to this floor.

Meanwhile, in another space on the 42nd floor...

Bang! Boom! Boom!

Sounds of intense collision and explosion rang out as massive mixedbreeds looking similar to humans with eagle-like faces and shells on their backs surrounded a group of four.

This group of four yelled out as they tried fending off this group of Mixedbreeds with different powerful attacks.

However, no matter how much they tried, they had only slain one of these creatures who had the ability to move the massive truck-sized shells on their backs to any part of their bodies and prevent attacks.

Not only were they extremely sturdy, but they were also powerful and were holding onto some kind of pillars. Each pound from a pillar caused a destructive force that spread across the vicinity and sent some of the cadets flying.

It looked like an impossible battle as over sixteen of these creatures crept in on this group that kept sending out enough firepower to total streets if this was a battle happening in a city.

"If you're out there, help us! Let's work together!" Litch kept screaming out as he sent forth attacks, but there was no response.

"There's nobody here! we have to use our emergency token and get out before we get killed!" One of the group members voiced with an urgent expression as he also did his best to fend off the creatures.

"No! We have to break the record and go beyond the 42nd floor today! They must be around somewhere! Help us!" Litch seemed hell-bent on not leaving, believing the group that had been clearing the previous dungeon floors were around somewhere.

"He has gone mad!"

"Let's leave before he drags us down with him!"

The other group members voiced out as they brought out their emergency tokens and tapped on them.

Zing~ Zing~ Zing~

They began disappearing one after the others.

"Don't leave you traitors! I'll take all the glory for myself then!" He shouted out as he stomped on the ground with anger and charged forward.

In a few moments, despite all his outrage and use of destructive abilities, he was surrounded and trapped in their midst.

"No! Help! Help me! Let's work together! Arrrrrghhhhhh!" He screamed out as these creatures grabbed hold of him from different parts and tore him to pieces before he could use the emergency token.

What was left in this space on the 42nd floor were a puddle of blood and incomplete body parts scattered all across the vicinity.

Meanwhile, Gustav had just arrived on the 46th floor, and he had no idea what had transpired behind him.

It had been over three hours since he began scaling the floors, and now he had arrived at the second to the last floor.

Gustav slowly walked down the stairway as he arrived at this massive space which had whitish-colored walls and what looked like an icy altar up ahead.

A massive spike of ice that extended up to the roof could be seen. Gustav walked forward as he spotted what looked like massive chains wrapped around the spike of ice.

Gustav was still thousands of feet away from this exalted white altar that covered a large space, but he could see the chains clearly wrapped around the massive spike of ice.

[God Eyes Has Been Activated]

His eyes zoomed in on the altar area as he followed the chains that jiggled occasionally.

"Why is it chained up?" Gustav voiced out with a confused tone as he spotted the massive creature the chains were connected to.

The creature behind the ice spike shooting to the ceiling of this space had shackles surrounding its neck, and the chains wrapped around the ice spike were connected to the shackles.

Gustav looked around and could see that this was the only creature present in this space which made him wonder, "Wouldn't this make it easier to pass level 46?"

He had no idea why this was happening, but he resumed walking forward.

Outside the dungeon, a commotion was stirring.

- "What did you say? A group cleared the 42nd floor?"

Chapter 852 - Lord Tabitha

- "What did you say? A group cleared the 42nd floor?"

- "What? Someone was left on the 42nd floor?"

The place erupted with commotion as the cadets at the entry points voiced out.

The group that was initially down there with Litch was filling the MBO officers guarding the entrance on what had happened.

"Inform, the instructors, I'll go down there with Igor; we might still be able to save him," One of the guards said to his colleague before moving into the dungeon.

At the same moment, Avery and Cole arrived on the scene. They also gave the guard their own narration mentioning what had happened and adding that a group had already cleared the 42nd floor and may have cleared the one after already as well.

"Did you say this group already went past level 42?" One of the guards asked with a look of astonishment.

Initially, it was confirmed the group got to this level, but it was unknown whether or not they had scaled the level. However, from Avery and Cole's narrations, it was certain that this group had broken the record.

"We have to inform Commander Cilia urgently," Another guard voiced out.

"They wouldn't get to that level, right?" Another stated with a troubled look.

"That's why we have to inform her before they get there," The other guard responded as they began to split into groups.

Some headed into the dungeon to check on Litch, who didn't return with the others. Some headed in to go after the group that was said to have scaled the 42nd level, and the others headed towards the main hall to find Commander Cilia.

'We should still have time... We should be able to inform Commander Cilia before they get to that level,' These were the thoughts of some of the guards headed toward Commander Cilia's office.

Little did they know that not only were these floors being scaled by a lone individual, but the floors had almost been scaled completely, with this person arriving at the second to the last one.

While all the commotion was ongoing at the surface, Gustav had arrived before the exalted altar. The temperature in this region had dropped drastically, but he wasn't bothered in the slightest.

The ice spike was so long that he was like an ant standing before it. The massive chains were each the size of a human, and it was so long they extended high up. The shackles wrapped around the neck of the creature were also massive, yet, they looked a bit small for the creature.

Looking closer at the creature in captivity, it had a massive horn in the middle of its forehead that was at least thrice the length of an adult. It had a serpent-like body with crocodile-like limbs and greenish scales.

Its horn was glowing brightly like with florescent colored light, and it could be seen that a weird snowy colored haze was spiraling above the massive horn.

Its eyes were closed but its body occasionally bloated and decreased due to its breathing pattern.

This creature was the size of a skyscraper, and Gustav was like an ant before it.

Gustav scanned the features of this creature and determined it was definitely not a level 80 - 89 mixedbreeds like the rest.

It was definitely more powerful than the other Mixedbreeds he had been coming into contact with since he got to the fortieth floor. Gustav scrutinized this creature and could tell it was immensely powerful, and it was sealed internally while also chained up.

He felt such a creature shouldn't be here at all in the first place, but then he looked around and couldn't see any opening to the next floor or anything of the sort.

'What am I supposed to do?' Gustav wondered as he took slow steps forward.

Surely he wasn't supposed to kill this creature because he felt this would be too powerful to handle for even full-fledged MBO officers. This was still a cadet training ground, so obviously, no group would be able to kill this creature.

It wasn't as large as the rocky-like creature he came into contact with within the Shardishi planet, but it wasn't too far off in size.

Shhwiihh~

While taking steps forward, the tail of the creature suddenly moved. It coiled and swerved about the place softly.

In the next moment...

Flicker! Flicker!

The two gigantic eyeballs of the creature opened up, and it stared down at Gustav.

Vhhmmmmm~

A massive pressure suddenly descended upon the place as the creature slowly positioned itself to stand on all fours.

Gustav paused his movement at this point and stared up at the creature.

For some reason, he was unfazed by this pressure and didn't try to keep his distance from the creature or anything despite the fact that it was close enough for it to trample upon Gustav without the shackles interfering.

"HMM WHAT DO WE HAVE HERE? A MIXEDBLOOD AFTER SO MANY YEARS," The voice, surprised by the creature, boomed across the place.

"It speaks?" Gustav voiced out with a surprised tone.

"WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY IT? HAVE SOME RESPECT KID! I'M A HE, CALL ME LORD TABITHA!" The creature voiced out with a tone of disdain in response to Gustav's remark.

"Lord what now?" Gustav voiced out while raising one eyebrow.

"TABITHA!" The creature stated.

"Okay, Tabitha," Gustav responded.

"YOU FORGOT TO ADD THE LORD IN FRONT," The creature said with a solemn tone.

"Oh my bad... Tabitha," Gustav said once more.

"LORD TABITHA! LORD! DON'T FORGET THAT!" The creature yelled out once more.

"Sure Tabitha," Gustav nodded slightly while still looking upwards.

"YOU..." The creature had fumes blowing out of his ears at this point, seeing this puny-looking mixedblood in front of him remain unwilling to obey.

"What exactly are you and why are you chained here?" Gustav asked.

"HOW DID YOU EVEN MANAGE TO GET HERE MIXEDBLOOD? NO ONE WAS SUPPOSED TO EVER REACH THIS LEVEL," Tabitha voiced out while scrutinizing Gustav.

"Interesting... So no one was supposed to get here. Now that someone did manage to get here, what is supposed to happen next? What is your purpose of being placed here?" Gustav asked while squinting his eyes in suspicion.

Chapter 853 - Who Said I Was Gonna Leave?

"What is your purpose of being placed here?" Gustav asked while squinting his eyes in suspicion.

"DEATH!" Tabitha stated.

"Death?" Gustav stated with a confused tone.

"YOU HEARD ME THE FIRST TIME KID! DEATH! NOW THAT YOU HAVE ARRIVED HERE, I CAN'T LET YOU LEAVE THIS PLACE ALIVE!" Tabitha stated as he breathed out, causing the wind to blast out of his nostrils intensely, which caused Gustav's hair to blow backward.

To his surprise, Gustav still stood there with his expression unchanging as he kept staring at Tabitha.

"ARE YOU NOT SCARED? I SAID YOU WILL DIE HERE! WHY DO YOU SHOW NO FEAR?" Tabitha voiced out with a tone of disbelief.

"Stop messing around. You can't harm me... Why are you here? What am I supposed to do to get to the last floor?" Gustav voiced out with a calm look.

"HMPH! ALTHOUGH I CANNOT HARM YOU JUST AS YOU HAVE SAID, NO ONE WAS TRULY SUPPOSED TO REACH THIS LEVEL," Tabitha revealed once more.

"I WAS PLACED HERE AS A SENTENCE FOR A CRIME I COMMITTED LONG AGO. I MAY BE A MIXEDBREED BUT I AM NO UNINTELLIGIBLE ONE LIKE THE OTHERS YOU HAVE COME INTO CONTACT WITH IN THE PAST! THAT IS WHY INSTEAD OF KILLING ME JACK PLACED ME HERE FOR ONE PURPOSE," Tabitha added.

'Jack placed him here?' Gustav thought internally with a look of suspicion. He wondered what the back story behind all this was.

"NOT ONLY AM I IMPRISONED HERE BUT I AM ALSO THE GUARDIAN OF THIS FLOOR AND THE ONE WHO CONTROLS THE SPACE CHANGES IN THE DUNGEON. YOU CANNOT MOVE ON TO THE NEXT FLOOR WITHOUT MY INPUT. ALTHOUGH NO ONE WAS EVER MEANT TO GET TO THIS FLOOR OR THE LAST PROTOCOLS WERE ALREADY PUT IN PLACE TO HANDLE SITUATIONS SUCH AS THIS. WITH THAT BEING SAID, YOU CAN ONLY MOVE TO THE NEXT FLOOR BY PASSING MY TEST," Tabitha stated.

"What test?" Gustav asked.

"YOU HAVE TO ANSWER THREE QUESTIONS CORRECTLY TO MOVE TO THE NEXT FLOOR," Tabitha answered.

"That's it? Just three questions?" Gustav sounded a bit surprised, considering he expected a more complex task.

"YES, JUST THREE QUESTIONS BUT YOU WOULD BE FOOLISH TO UNDERESTIMATE THE DIFFICULTY BECAUSE MY KNOWLEDGE IS VAST," Tabitha voiced out with a slightly scornful look upon seeing Gustav's expression.

"Sure sure, let's get this over with," Gustav said with an unbothered expression.

"HMPH! FIRST QUESTION," Tabitha said while breathing out a gust of wind from his nostrils.

"HOW WAS THE FIRST MIXEDBREED TO EVER EXIST FORMED?" Tabitha asked with a slight grin.

This was a tricky question, considering the Mixedbreeds had existed for thousands of years, and there had been speculations on whether Slarkovs mated with earth animals to form the first Mixedbreed or the energy pollution from the meteors that fell down to earth caused the mutation.

There were also speculations that both these theories were true, but it was unknown which one actually caused the first Mixedbreed to walk the earth.

The knowledge had been lost to time, and now only speculations existed. It would be difficult to give the right answer since one could only make guesses based on these speculations.

Gustav could guess Tabitha knew the right answer because he had been around for a long time. Probably only those who had been around for long knew the right answer.

"Well, mixedbloods existed before Mixedbreeds did so... The first Mixedbreed to ever exist was a mixedblood whose bloodline energy spiralled out of control, turning them into a beast," Gustav voiced out.

Tabitha's eyes widened slightly as he heard that answer.

"HOW DID YOU..."

Judging by his reaction, Gustav could guess that he answered correctly.

"I thought you said this was going to be very difficult," Gustav voiced out with a smug look.

"HMPH! I'M SURE YOU MUST HAVE GUESSED THIS ONE CORRECTLY. THE NEXT QUESTION WON'T BE SO EASY," Tabitha stated with a tone of certainty.

"Sure sure, let's hear it," Gustav responded.

"NEXT QUESTION, HOW MANY OTHER INTELLIGENT MIXEDBREEDS EXIST BESIDES ME?" Tabitha asked with a slight grin.

"Hmm? By intelligent do you mean others that can speak and mimic human behavioral patterns or just having higher intelligence than that of normal Mixedbreeds?" Gustav asked with a serious look.

If it was the latter, Gustav was sure of being able to answer, considering there were not a lot of mixedbreeds who had better intelligence than the average Mixedbreeds.

"THE FORMER," Tabitha answered.

'Well... Shit!' Gustav cursed internally. He had never met another Mixedbreed that could speak; neither had he heard before that there were Mixedbreeds capable of speaking.

He knew there were a few Mixedbreeds who had high intelligence opposite to that of normal beasts, but they did not speak.

They would be able to understand human gestures and words but speaking it was a different thing entirely.

This question was truly a difficult one as Gustav didn't know whether Tabitha was the only Mixedbreed who was capable of this or not.

This made him wonder why such information would be kept hidden from the world since there was no research he hadn't already done on Mixedbreeds already. It was obvious that such a thing was kept under the wraps.

"Hmm... Well there's no rule that states I can seek for answers from another source," Gustav suddenly voiced out.

"INDEED THERE IS NO RULE LIKE THAT BUT YOU CAN'T SEEK FOR ANSWERS BECAUSE THE MOMENT YOU LEAVE THIS PLACE YOU WILL NEVER BE ALLOWED ON THIS FLOOR AGAIN... SO YOU CAN'T LEAVE," Tabitha stated with a light gruff.

"Who said I was going to leave?" A smirk appeared on Gustav's face as he voiced out.

"HUH?" A suspicious feeling arose from within Tabitha as he heard Gustav say this.

He wondered what Gustav meant, but after saying that, Gustav didn't speak for some time. Instead, he closed his eyes.

'What is he up to?' Tabitha wondered.

Within a well-structured office, a group of guards stood in front of a lady clad in high standard MBO uniform.

"Did you say a group already scaled the 42nd floor?" She asked with a look of astonishment.

Chapter 854 - Tsukonomi?

"Yes Commander Cilia. It was reported by a group who is currently missing a member. They never met the group responsible but they spotted the floor cleared," One of the guards voiced out.

"We have to get down there now!" Commander Cilia voiced out with a tone of urgency.

"Understood!" The guards voiced out as they stormed out of the office with Commander Cilia.

'Let's hope they haven't met Tabitha yet or drastic measures will have to be taken,' Commander Cilia said internally.

Although she was worried, she wasn't too bothered because the floors got way more difficult the lower one went.

Just because the so called group managed to scale the 42nd floor, it doesn't mean they would be able to scale the 43rd and 44th floor. Even if they could, Commander Cilia and the guards felt it would take a lot of time and less than thirty minutes had gone by since they received the information.

"Do we have any information on the cadets in this group or any speculations on who they could be?" Commander Cilia asked as they made their way to the dungeon.

The guards responded with a 'no' and mentioned once again that there had been no sightings whatsoever and even the scene left no clues as to what other abilities were used beside flames.

This made Commander Cilia to think deeply as she recalled the strongest flame user among the final years. Unfortunately this person was below the top fifties on the final years ranking so she didn't believe he was capable of accomplishing such.

There was no claim of any other clues besides ashes so everyone believed it had to be flames but then things didn't add up the more Commander Cilia thought of it.

They had no idea Gustav was responsible for all that by himself. The power of Yarki gave him the ability to disintegrate anyone within the range that had already fallen under the domination of it's power.

With the experiment of how power it was that Gustav had carried out, he now knew Kilo ranked Mixedbloods could fall under the effect of his Yarki.

This gave him a sense of invisibility but he knew not to use Yarki casually. Only when he found himself in a precarious situation would he activate it.

Gustav was still interested in testing out Yarki to find out it's current limit of dominance but there was no way for him to do that due to the fact that the strength of the Mixedbreeds in the dungeon was not beyond the Kilo rank.

He wasn't even sure if it peak Kilo ranks could be affected but if he wanted to confirm whether or not they'd be, he would have to try it on one of the instructors. Gustav wasn't interested in revealing that he had such ability so he had discarded such thoughts from his mind.

Using it against Tabitha too was out of the question because not only was Tabitha immensely more powerful than even the Delta rank, he was not meant to battle him to get to the next floor.

In a few more minutes, Commander Cilia and the guards had arrived at the dungeon and were headed towards the bottommost part of it with speed.

"HOW DID YOU GET THE ANSWER?" Tabitha voiced out with a surprised tone.

"I told you I was going to employ the help of another source," Gustav responded with a light snicker.

Tabitha had a look of astonishment wondering how Gustav could employ the help of another source while still in here. Even if he had the ability to communicate with people outside the dungeon or had a communication tool, such devices or abilities would not work here.

What Tabitha didn't know was, the other source Gustav had contacted, lived within him.

The system had made enquiry on this, once more hacking into the database of the MBO to find the answer to this specific question.

The System was not aware of every secret in the universe and on earth, unless it decided to research on a particular subject, it would also remain clueless to some things.

Which was why it was unaware of the existence of intelligent Mixedbreeds on this level.

There happened to be three more Mixedbreeds like Tabitha currently in existence but they were scattered across the world in remote and hidden locations.

Tabitha stared at Gustav once more scrutinizing him. He could sense that this kid was special in some kind of way which had him in deep thought.

'He will die if he gets to the next level and he's not the one... But this kid is special, I should try my best to make sure he fails here so he can head back to the surface. It would be a huge loss on the MBO's part if they lost someone like this,' Tabitha thought with look of generosity.

"Last Question?" Gustav voiced out after noticing Tabitha had been quiet for some time.

"...LAST QUESTION... IF YOU LOSE THIS ONE YOU SHALL BE CASTED OUT AND NEVER HAVE ACCESS TO THIS LEVEL AGAIN," Tabitha stated with a strong tone.

"Yeah wouldn't you like that..." Gustav said with his eyes dropped.

"HMPH! I'M SURE YOU'RE UNAWARE OF THIS ONE... HERE GOES... WHO CREATED THE TSUKONOMI?" Tabitha asked with a smug look.

"Tsukonomi? What's that?" Gustav voiced out with a look of confusion.

"OH I DON'T KNOW... THE QUESTION IS FOR YOU, NOT ME," Tabitha said with a light chuckle.

Minutes went by and Gustav still hadn't responded. Tabitha had a relieved look as felt Gustav would finally lose a question and get sent out.

("...Yeah so it's precisely where we are right now but that's what it's really called... He's trying to confuse you because the name is not known,") The system voiced in Gustav's head.

'Oh I see...' Gustav responded internally.

He seemed to have been chatting with this system all this time.

"The Tsukonomi was created by Mack," Gustav suddenly voiced out.

"...ARE YOU SURE ABOUT THIS ANSWER?" Tabitha asked with an inexplicable look.

Chapter 855 - The Last Floor

"That tone won't fool me Tabitha... I know the Tsukonomi is also the dungeon... Jack and Mack created this whole camp with their Abilities and Mack ability is what could have created this whole dungeon," Gustav explained.

Tabitha had a look of shock on his face again as Gustav explained everything. Calling it the original name, Tsukonomi was how he intended to confuse Gustav but he didn't expect that not only would Gustav figure it out but he would also know the exact person among the duo who created this particular space within the camp.

"...CORRECT," Tabitha voiced out with a tone of defeat.

A smirk appeared on Gustav's face after hearing that.

"YOU HAVE ANSWERED ALL THREE QUESTIONS COMPLETELY SO I HAVE NO CHOICE BUT TO GIVE YOU ACCESS TO THE NEXT FLOOR..." Tabitha voiced out and paused briefly.

Thhiizzzzhhhhhhhhh~

A bright door sized opening suddenly appeared by the side. It glazing with light which made it obvious that it was a spatial gateway that would lead to different place.

"...BUT KID... I ADVICE YOU NOT TO GO INTO THAT LAST FLOOR BECAUSE WHAT IS DOWN THERE WILL END YOU," Tabitha said with a strong tone of warning.

"Hmm? What is down there?" Gustav asked.

"I AM NOT ALLOWED TO SAY BUT ONLY THE RIGHT ONE CAN GO IN AND SURVIVE... ANY OTHER PERSON WILL DIE! YOU'RE A TALENTED KID, DON'T WASTE YOUR LIFE LIKE THIS," Tabitha adviced once more.

"Hmm interesting... Thank you but I'll have to see for myself," Gustav voiced out as he slowly walked towards the spatial door while he squinted his eyes with a serious look.

Tabitha sighed as he watched Gustav walk towards the opening. He already knew Gustav was a hard headed kid since they began speaking so he kind of expected this.

He could only hope Gustav would be okay.

As Gustav arrived at the opening, another opening appeared far behind this large space.

Commander Cilia and the guards were arriving at the same time and spotted Gustav walking into the opening from thousands of feet away.

"Stop him! Tabitha stop him!" She yelled out as she sped forward as quickly as she could.

Tabitha spotted them also at this time but it was all too late. In the next instant Gustav walked into the opening and it disappeared before Commander Cilia could arrive at the altar area.

Bam!

She landed in front of Tabitha and looked up at him.

"Why did you let him go in!?" She voiced out with an immense look of worry.

"HE ANSWERED THE THREE QUESTIONS CORRECTLY," Tabitha answered truthfully.

"What? Show me footages of the last thirty minutes," Commander Cilia commanded with a look of disbelief.

"HMPH! AS YOU WISH," Tabitha sounded disgruntled as he responded.

A small square shaped cloudy screen appeared in front of her which displayed the footage of Gustav's arrival on this floor all by himself.

Commander Cilia's eyes widened as she finally saw his facial and body features properly.

"Gustav..? He cleared all those floors by himself?" She couldn't believe what she was seeing.

Due to this footage it was obvious that Gustav had been the one clearing the floors not the so called unidentified group they initially thought it was.

Commander Cilia was astonished but at the same time even more worried than before after figuring out it was Gustav.

"That is the most talented Cadet in the entire camp and you just sent him off to die," Commander Cilia said with look of disappointment.

"THAT KID? HMM I KNEW HE WAS SPECIAL," Tabitha voiced out with a slightly regretful tone.

"I HAD NO CHOICE, HE ANSWERED ALL THREE QUESTIONS CORRECTLY. HOW WAS I SUPPOSE TO EXPECT THAT THE BEST YOUNGSTER UNDER YOUR TUTELAGE WOULD SUDDENLY APPEAR HERE AND RENDER MY HUNDREDS OF YEARS OF KNOWLEDGE ACQUIRED, USELESS! I TRIED BUT I WASN'T ABLE TO PREVENT HIM FROM HEADING TO THE NEXT LEVEL," Tabitha added.

"Open the gateway to the last level. I'm going in to save him," Commander Cilia commanded.

"I CANNOT DO THAT! YOU VERY WELL KNOW THE RULES," Tabitha replied while shaking his head.

"Try! we can't lose such an important asset to the future of the MBO," Commander Cilia had never looked so frustrated as she voiced out.

"IT IS IMPOSSIBLE UNLESS HE WALKS OUT HIMSELF," Tabitha voiced out once more.

This was something Commander Cilia already knew but the situation was dire. How was she going to explain what happened to the higher ups when Gustav was well known not just to them but to the whole world as well.

"YOU MENTIONED HE IS THE MOST TALENTED... WHO KNOWS, THE KID MIGHT SURPRISE US. WE HAVE NO CHOICE BUT TO BE HOPEFUL," Tabitha stated.

Meanwhile, it was already circulating around camp that a group had managed to break the record and passed the 42nd floor so cadets were gathering at the dungeon from all across camp.

No one wanted to miss out on the revelation of this group.

Gustav found himself underneath a clear looking sky after passing through the gateway. He looked back at the disappearing passageway with a slightly bothered expression.

"Who was that?" He voiced out after the passageway disappeared.

He had felt a presence appear and he also faintly heard a voice while he was walking through the spatial passageway. Gustav decided not to think much of it and looked forward at this space he had appeared in.

"Looks like I'm no longer underground... The last floor exists in a separate dimension?" Gustav was a bit surprised seeing this.

No rocky underground walls or weird structural setting which suited whatever creature he would have to battle. Instead what he could see here was a large and finite space underneath a bright sky.

The first thing that would draw anyone's attention upon getting here, was the glowing multicolored slanted square shaped figure in the distance.

It looked like a glowing slanted square with two more smaller slanted squares of different size within. Vermilion, Lilac and the smallest slanted circle within, Amaranth.

This made it look like one was staring at glowing steps that led deeper into an unknown circle.

'What is that thing?' Gustav thought as he slowly walked forward.

Chapter 856 - Ending The Test

To their amazement, Gustav was almost two times faster than before, which showed immense progress.

Now for the last segment, the five instructors surrounded Gustav from every direction.

"For this part, there's a triangular token on one of us. You have to try and get it by any means possible while we try to stop you. It is unknown who holds the triangular token amongst all five of us but you have to get it in no more than ten minutes," Instructor Kora explained.

Gustav practically had to battle all five of them while still trying to get this so-called triangular token. It was also unknown who was holding this token.

Gustav looked around; the instructors were all peak Kilo ranks except for Officer Mag, a Delta rank Mixedblood already.

This would be tough, considering they weren't going to reduce their strength in the last segment. The only boon Gustav felt he had was his speed. The difference between a Kilo ranked, and an Echo ranked Mixedblood was very high despite being only one rank apart.

Gustav's strength was already more or less that of a kilo ranked already, but these were peak Kilo ranked Mixedbloods.

While Officer Mag was just on another level entirely compared to the others.

But Gustav had been evading Kilo ranked Mixedbloods before becoming an Echo ranked, so he was sure his speed would be a great help.

Gustav felt this wasn't even much of a task considering he had God Eyes, but he didn't want to get too arrogant and look down on the instructors too much because he didn't know what they had up their sleeves.

The timer began, and Gustav instantly activated God Eyes.

From his point of view, the environment turned reddish as he turned to stare at the instructors one after the other.

He could use God Eyes to look through a person now, so he activated that feature, making his sight turn clearer as the instructors turned into florescent lumps of light in his line of sight.

The instructors ran around him, not giving him the chance to properly fixate on a person because they could sense that the red and golden glow in Gustav's eyes was not ordinary.

Gustav's lists of abilities were long and mostly unknown, so they didn't actually know what God Eyes could do, but they had their suspicions.

Unfortunately for them, Gustav's sight speed was faster with God Eyes activated along with his own speed as well.

He followed their movements clearly and locked onto one of them.

Zhooonnn~

His eyes zoomed in on Officer Mag, and he spotted a triangular-shaped device stored in the small pocket on her waist area.

Swooosshh~

Gustav instantly sped towards the left while reaching out.

All the instructors leaped out at this point, charging toward Gustav the moment he arrived before her.

Pah! Pah! Bang!

Sounds of collision rang out as palms collided while Gustav tried to make contact with Officer Mag.

His advances were instantly restricted as one of the instructors also grabbed onto his shoulder and flung him backward.

Gustav repeatedly spun in the air and landed several feet behind. The instructors crowded Officer Mag after realizing that Gustav had already figured out where the device was located.

They weren't using so much force with him, but nevertheless, their strength was not something to scoff at.

Gustav dashed forward once more as the instructors channeled their bloodlines and began to send out attacks.

Swoosh~ Fwwoomm~

Gustav swerved across the place, dodging their attacks as he raced against time.

[Sprint Has Been Activated]

Dashing towards the rear, Instructor Kora appeared at one side, and exchange of fists began.

Instructor Kora sent a chop towards Gustav's wrist, causing one of his attacks to change trajectory, but Gustav made use of that to spin around; he twisted his body and sent a kick towards instructor Kora's jaw.

Although instructor Kora had managed to block it at the last second, Gustav had activated Super Jump, causing the strength in his leg to increase by over thirtyfold.

Bang!

The force sent Instructor Kora flying as he repeatedly spiraled in mid-air. Gustav sped forward once more, dodging several attacks, and managed to arrive where the rest of the instructors stood together around Officer Mag.

[Energy Discharge Has Been Activated]

Boom!

A wave of gravitational energy along with red energy blasted out from Gustav, knocking the instructors flying as they didn't expect this.

The instant they had been separated from Officer Mag, Gustav's arm increased in length as it shot forward.

Fwwhiii~

It arrived in front of Officer Mag, and Gustav tried to grab her by the waist, but suddenly the gravitational force in the environment underwent a great change.

Bang!

The ground underneath Gustav's feet made a loud noise as it vibrated from the sudden impact of the gravitational force, becoming the opposite of what it was initially.

Gustav felt intense pressure descend on him, causing his hand to pause right before Officer Mag. The gravitational pull had suddenly increased by over a thousand times.

Officer Mag slapped Gustav's hand away, but his hand, which was already descending, suddenly moved again as he activated combination.

[Sprint + Dash]

He managed to evade Officer Mag's touch and slapped the bottom of her pocket, causing the triangular device to fly upwards.

At this point, his second arm was already shooting forward to grab it, but the...

Bang!

Gustav's suddenly felt the immense gravitational pressure in the environment increase by multiple folds, causing his legs to buckle a bit.

This resulted in him stopping for a brief moment which gave Officer Mag the opportunity to grab hold of the triangular-shaped silver-colored device.

Gustav was unable to move quickly despite having combination activated with Sprint and Dash. The instructors were creeping up from every direction back, and it seemed like he would be unable to get the device due to the current development.

Gustav looked down and could see the cracks on the grounds of the isshur mountains. It was very hard to cause cracks since the surface was extremely sturdy.

A smirk appeared on Gustav's face as he lifted his right foot, which was transforming into a beastly shape with dark brownish scales, looking extremely muscular.

Chapter 857 - What Are You!?

Gustav could feel himself slowly succumbing and losing against this being as his figure turned more transparent with time.

'In the end everything shall be futile! I will devour you!' The being voiced in his mind as the pull it exuded turned stronger and the weird energy phasing from the slanted multicolored squares increased in intensity.

At this point Gustav was at a loss on what to do and tried reaching out to the system but there was still no response. He guessed that since his existence was being devoured, the system might also be getting devoured as well.

Just how powerful was this being that he was able to render even the system powerless.

'Yarki...' Gustav sent his senses to the deepest parts of himself trying to trigger Yarki as a last resort but it was currently unresponsive.

'What is this that I see within you... You have achieved Cosmic Superiority?' The being sounded extremely astonished as it voiced in Gustav's mind.

It had followed Gustav's senses and felt the Yarki as well as the Cosmic Superior energy hiding within.

'Hahahaha I will devour the existence of a Cosmic Superior Being! Truly interesting! This is very good! This is very good!' The being sounded excited as it exerted more strength in devouring Gustav.

All of a sudden the streams of white gushing out of Gustav's figure turned bright yellow with a mix of red.

"Huh?" The unknown being voiced out it's confusion as it began to feel heated from consuming Gustav.

The stream gushing out of Gustav that had turned bright yellow with a mix of red was now starting to look like the sun.

Fwwhooooommm~

Gustav's entire being turned into the same color, making it look like he was covered by the aura of the sun as a strange and unknown energy phased out of him.

"What is this!?" The voice of the unknown being boomed across the space as it felt it's energy cowering in fear to this unknown energy phasing out of Gustav's being.

The being felt itself been burnt from the inside out the more it devoured Gustav. Now it felt like it was being devoured instead of Gustav.

"What are you!?"

"Arrrrghhhh!?"

"What are you!?"

The being yelled out repeatedly as it felt indescribable heat tearing its energy apart as Gustav's sun like aura spread across the space and pushed its own back completely.

This strange energy phasing out of Gustav had completely taken dominance of this entire space and the stream initially gushing out of Gustav was now being pulled back.

'I feel strange... What is going on?' Gustav wondered subconsciously.

With the being almost devouring him completely earlier, he had gotten to a state where he was no longer conscious but now he was starting to feel like he was recovering.

Not just recovering but something was awakened inside of him.

As the stream was being retracted back into Gustav, the slanted multicolored glowing squares up ahead were beginning to shrink.

Gustav was devouring this being subconsciously.

"Stop! Arrrrghhhh!" It kept yelling out but to no avail.

The squares continued to shrink till even the colors they exuded began to fade.

"...It's you... You're the one aren't you?" The being seemed to have figured out something as it's existence was on the brink of getting snuffed out.

"...The outworldly... It's you..." It's voice began fading as it came to this realization.

It stopped struggling in anyway at this point and let Gustav freely devour it.

As the last vestiges of it's existence was devoured it uttered one last word,

"...Master..."

The squares dissappeared completely after that and the entire space began to fall apart.

Cracks appeared in mid air and the grounds began to split. The dimensional was ripping itself apart after the power that held it together was gone.

At this point Gustav opened his eyes that were radiating with the glow of the sun.

The destruction of the space instantly came to a stop as the sun like aura oozing from his being spread across the place.

"What is this power? I feel like I could destroy a city with a casual flick of my wrist," Gustav muttered softly as he raised his hand and stared at it.

His entire body was still glowing with the sun colored energy, his hand included.

A portal opened up in front of him which led to the previous floor. He slowly walked forward and went through it.

It had been hours since Commander Cilia and the guards arrived at the level 46. They had been waiting all this time with Tabitha while thinking of different ways to get to the last level.

"HE WOULD BE DEAD BY NOW. NO NEED TO BOTHER TRYING TO SEEK FOR A WAY TO INFILTRATE THE LAST FLOOR," Tabitha voiced out.

"It's Gustav, he might have managed to find a way to stay alive," Commander Cilia didn't want to lose hope of Gustav still being alive.

"I KNOW THAT KID IS SPECIAL BUT DON'T FOOL YOURSELF. YOU KNOW NO ONE ELSE IS CAPABLE OF SURVIVING UNLESS THEY ARE AS STRONG AS JACK AND THE OTHERS OR THEY HAVE THE TOKEN YOU POSSESS," Tabitha stated, hitting Commander Cilia with a dose of reality as she recalled just how terrifying the presence within the last floor was.

Commander Cilia looked down with a devastated expression.

"This is all your fault Tabitha you should..." Just as she was speaking, a portal suddenly appeared in front of the altar.

Commander Cilia, Tabitha and the guards all stared in the direction of the portal as they felt an immensely powerful and domineering energy coming from it.

Step! Step! Step!

Gustav casually stepped out of the portal arriving with a sun like glowing figure.

Vrrrhooommmm~

The domineering energy spread across the place, causing every single one of them to feel their knees weaken.

Even Tabitha felt pressure from this energy oozing forth from Gustav.

"Gustav?"

"KID?"

Commander Cilia and Tabitha voiced out at the same time with surprised expressions.

The instant Gustav walked a few steps forward, his body began to dim.

The glow receded along with the domineering energy and Gustav returned to his normal look.

'Huh? It's gone,' He said internally as he could no longer sense the power from a moment ago.

Chapter 858 - Scaling Floors With Speed

Since different Mixedbreeds had different abilities, some were more dangerous than others despite levels forty to forty-seven having around level eight Mixedbreeds.

Even when the cadets went in parties, it was extremely difficult to go below level forty.

Gustav had decided he would completely visit every nook and cranny of the dungeon and reach the lowest level... Level 47.

'Looks like I will finally be able to use my Yarki at full strength,' Gustav thought with an expression of interest.

He had never really gotten the chance to use it at its full potential, and this might be the chance for him to do so.

He had refrained from using it against the instructors because he still wanted it to remain hidden that he had such a power. He didn't know if anyone might recognize it.

Although there were cams even in the dungeons, most times, there were disruptions in the feeds due to outbursts of energy both from cadets and Mixedbreeds, so it was hard to tell.

This way, Gustav wasn't worried about being spotted, and he planned on reducing the range of his Yarki as he very well knew it could cover a much larger area now.

The next day arrived, and Gustav visited the dungeon early the next morning when the morning drills began.

Some final-year cadets were also moving into the dungeon, and some of them spotted him at the entry point.

"Gustav, I'm Killjay; how about we form a party together?" A noticeably pale-skinned 5'11 cadet moved toward Gustav while voicing out.

"No need," Gustav waved him off and continued to head in.

Unsurprisingly, other cadets who were also trying to form parties requested to be in a group with Gustav, but he also turned them down.

Gustav sped into the dungeon on his own, trying to avoid any future requests before they were issued.

Swoosshhh~

The dungeon was like a labyrinth the further down a person headed. It was possible to get lost here with the intricacy of the structures with multiple passageways and spaces that occasionally shifted to take a different form.

At unexpected periods, passageways would close, and new ones would be open. A group could be trapped with a mixedbreed until they killed it; there would be no opening to leave.

The only way to get out if one found themselves in danger they couldn't overcome was by using the emergency token the cadets were equipped with.

The moment the token was used, the cadet would be teleported out of the dungeon to prevent death.

Gustav sped to the lower floors of the dungeon, passing one level after the other.

He wanted to get through most of the floors quickly so he could arrive at the thirty-ninth floor where he stopped earlier, but at times he would find himself trapped in a shapeshifting space with a creature.

Just like the other, he would have to battle them for passageways to the next level to be unveiled.

In a span of thirty minutes, Gustav had already scaled through thirty levels and was already heading for the next.

This was the fastest that had been recorded, considering the fact that some cadets would spend over a day within the dungeon trying to scale through twenty levels.

Gustav kept bulldozing through these levels as quickly as he could. Considering he had already scaled them before, they were relatively easier this time.

After another thirty minutes, he arrived at the thirty-ninth level.

At this level, three gigantic ape-like mixedbreeds who could turn their arms into powerful axes could be seen charging toward Gustav with ill intent.

They were all above level seventy-five, which was equivalent to several times the strength level of peak Echo ranks mixedbloods.

The first one arrived before Gustav and hacked down with extreme force. Gustav glided towards the side and kicked the axe like the arm of the ten-foot-tall creature to the side.

He dove his fist into the belly area of the creature sending it blasting backward just as another one was slashing towards Gustav's head from the left.

[Atomic Blade Has Been Activated]

The four-foot-long milky-colored blade appeared in his left hand, which he swung upwards to meet with the axe-like arm descending.

Swhhiiii~

The atomic blade cut right through the arm, cleaving it in half as black blood was sent spilling in every direction.

Scrrrrrrhhhhh~

As the creature growled in pain, Gustav was already swinging his right fist towards the creature's chest, but then the third one had already arrived behind Gustav and was swinging towards his back.

[Sprint Has Been Activated]

The creature behind only saw Gustav make a single step and appear behind his comrade.

Gustav pushed the creature whose hand he had just cleared off forward, causing the one who was initially behind to end up decapitating his fellow mixedbreed by mistake.

The immense strength in each slash was so powerful that the residue energy slammed into the wall by the side and created a long gash that spread across it.

The blood of his fellow mixedbreed gushed out like a fountain pouring on its face as the decapitated body fell like a sack of beans.

Taking use of the opportunity where the creature was blinded by the blood of its own comrade, Gustav dashed forward and stabbed the Atomic blade into its chest.

"Ghhrrrahhhhh!" The creature growled in pain as its eyes reddened, and it tried to use its last breath to hold Gustav in place as the third creature appeared behind Gustav, hacking down with an arm covered in blazing blue flames.

Gustav found the grip of this ape-like mixedbreed to be very strong, but unfortunately for it, Gustav was way stronger.

Spinning around while this creature was still holding onto him, the one that appeared behind Gustav ended up splitting his comrade in half, all the way from the top to bottom, as he hacked down.

Its eyes widened as he stared at the human figure in front of it that had managed to lead the fight into such a cunning situation.

Chapter 859 - Confusing Thoughts

"E.E?" Gustav paused his movement as he spotted E.E within the crowd gathered at the front.

"You were in there this whole time?" E.E voiced out as he pushed himself out of the crowd.

It turned out he wasn't alone. Aildris, Falco and Teemee were with him as well.

"You guys... You're here too," Gustav said as he spotted the rest of them.

"Yeah we came here to team up and scale the floors. You weren't in your room when we knocked earlier so we had to come here by ourselves," Aildris explained.

"Oh, I was just leaving... I've been here for over half a day," Gustav responded with as he yawned lightly.

"Oh yeah these guys are saying your group cleared the 42nd floor! Tell us man how far did your group go?" Falco voiced out with an excited expression.

"Group? Nah, I went in by myself," Gustav stated.

"By yourself?" Teemee eyes widened as he voiced out lightly.

His voice wasn't low so the cadets in the vicinity heard this. Their faces were filled with astonishment and disbelief as they began chattering.

- "He scaled the 42nd floor all by himself?"

- "Impossible, he must be lying,"

- "Commander Cilia went in to get him and he's here all by himself so he must have gone in by himself,"

- "Or maybe all his teammates are dead,"

Different opinions and thoughts were being voiced out after the revelation.

"Yeah I was alone all through... I don't understand why commander Cilia came to find me," Gustav said while shrugging his shoulders.

"They said you went beyond the 42nd floor, how far did you go?" E.E asked with a look of excitement.

"The 46th floor and then the 47th floor.. But both are one time entry floors, no one will be able to get beyond the 45th floor anymore," Gustav stated.

"You scaled all the floors?" Aildris asked with a surprised tone.

"Yeah... Wanna go back to rest now, I'm exhausted," Gustav responded while turning around to leave.

"You gotta tell us all about it later man," E.E voiced out and Gustav proceeded to raise a thumb up as he walked away.

At this point the cadets in the vicinity were all astonished. It turned out that not only were there no groups but Gustav had managed to scale all the floors.

Gustav left the dungeon with Commander Cilia who said Jack might be coming over to camp again later to inspect Gustav.

Gustav just shrugged and said he didn't mind so long as they didn't try to do anything stupid like isolate him.

--

Hours later Gustav was sitting on his bed with his right hand held out. He had reminisced about everything that had happened in the last twenty four hours and it still left him astonished.

His senses peered into his hand and he could see a transparent orb like seal in which three overlapping slanted squares with different colors could be seen within.

This was where Cohilia had been sealed within him after he devoured it. However Gustav was unable to talk to Cohilia, sense it's consciousness or use it's ability in anyway.

It was like Cohilia was sealed within him but he had no access to it or he just didn't know how to unseal it.

Gustav had tried various ways to see if he could use Cohilia's powers but it was all to no avail. He could only stare at it within the seal.

Besides this, the power that manifested from Gustav when he was about to be devoured completely was also nowhere to be found.

Gustav suspected it might be from his cosmic superiority but at the same time he wasn't so certain.

Cohilia figured out that he was the outworldly before it was devoured completely so there was a chance that the power did not come from cosmic superiority but rather it came from his existence as the outworldly.

But at the same time this thought confused Gustav as Husaruis mentioned that a force had already tampered with his existence as the outworldly so his outworldly abilities were missing.

Everything just seemed kind of confusing but Gustav was mostly disappointed because it looked like he didn't get anything out of scaling the dungeon completely.

Besides the EXPs that had helped him in reaching level 73.

Also Gustav seemed to have gotten a few rewards from the system that included level increase in some skills. His silent Advancement Skill also evolved to Stealth after it had been at the max level for some time.

This made Gustav understand that system skills were capable of evolving after reaching max level. He thought of Sprint and Dash wondering why they were taking so long to evolve but he hoped they would soon.

"System, what really happened there?" Gustav asked.

("I am also unaware... All I know is the moment Cohilia began using it's power, everything went blank for me. I couldn't talk to you or sense the environment anymore...") The system explained it's experience at the last floor.

"Hmm... Just what type of power does Cohilia use that it has an effect on even you?" Gustav was amazed as he voiced out.

("A type of power that is unfathomable... Jack would have lost to it if he wasn't so powerful,") The system responded.

"It called me master in its last moments... And apparently it has been looking for me," Gustav was not aware of why this was so as he didn't browse through all of Cohilia's memories but he was really conflicted right now since he didn't have access to Cohilia anymore.

("Well I'm sure that's pretty simple Gustav... Have you not figured out by now that there is barely any type of power that is capable of having effect on me...") The system voiced out like it was hinting at something.

"Yeah? I don't remember you mentioning you could be affected by any power... Especially when you have transcended across galaxies..." Gustav said with a thoughtful gaze.

("Exactly but this one had big effect on me... And the only power I know capable of doing that is the power of the outworldly,") The system stated.

Chapter 860 - The Power Is Mine?

"What do you mean?" Gustav asked while squinting his eyes.

("It called you master because it was initially a part of you... Cohilia was using your power,") The system added.

"What? It was using my power? I don't understand how that is even possible, none of all these makes any sense," Gustav said with a slightly confused expression.

("The items scattered across the universe that the time candidate is supposed to help you find are actually items belonging to the Outworldly... A part of his power... Your power... Cohilia is one of the items and it came looking for you by itself,") The system explained.

("I wasn't supposed to reveal this to you but since you already acquired one of them, I guess there is no problem in telling you. Although it was unexpected that one of them was on earth,") The system added.

"So that means the power is mine..? How is it that I can't use it then?" Gustav asked.

("Your body took the necessary steps and sealed it away because you are currently too weak to wield such a power...") The system responded.

Something that could make even the most powerful Mixedblood on earth wary and render the strength of MBO officers that were stronger than Gustav useless, of course it's power was no joke.

Gustav wielding such a god like power would make him almost invisible but it seemed such power was too much for him as he was now.

"Wait... Is this why one of the five years quests is for me to become the most powerful Mixedblood on earth?" Gustav asked.

("I can't tell you the answer to that,") The system responded.

"If the other items just like this one have nearly invisible abilities that could render lots of powerful people useless... I would not be able to wield their power due to weakness and they would end up getting sealed within me just like this one... I have to get stronger to be able to wield them in the future upon acquiring them," Gustav held his chin as he voiced out his theory.

The system kept silent, not revealing to him whether he was correct or not.

However Gustav felt his theory made sense, 'Become the strongest to become even stronger'. Whatever was coming was probably no small thing considering being the strongest on the planet and one of the most powerful in the universe wasn't enough.

"When will I be able to unseal it?" Gustav asked.

("When you're powerful enough?") The system answered.

"How powerful?" Gustav wanted a specific answer.

("When you're powerful enough,") The system answered with the same phrase once more.

Gustav; "..."

"Tch,"

Gustav decided to stop asking and started thinking of how he would exploit the MBO to get anything he wanted for keeping his mouth shut on the Tabitha and Cohilia matter.

He already knew that even if Jack inspected him he wouldn't find the presence of Cohilia within him since it was sealed.

Of course the MBO would still be suspicious of him even after finding out he scaled all these floors all by himself. But there was nothing they could do to him unless they found out he did something wrong.

Even with Miss Aimee being away from earth presently, they were still reluctant about treating Gustav anyhow they willed.

In a flash another day went by and Gustav spent the rest of his time, moving around camp and spending time with E.E, Angy and the others.

Except for channeling his bloodline in the middle of the night, Gustav didn't engage in any form of training.

At this point it had already circulated all across camp that Gustav completed all the levels.

It was a very hot topic and multiple cadets had approached him to ask for insights after saying they got stuck in floors above forty even with their groups.

Gustav mostly avoided all these group of people because there was no way he could tell them, he scaled through because of Cosmic Superiority. If Gustav had tried using just brute strength and his normal abilities, at most he knew within himself he wouldn't be able to get beyond the 43rd floor.

The 43rd to 45th floor had mixedbreeds that rivaled multiple peak Kilo ranked Mixedbloods. Not only was Gustav all by himself, he was still far from being a Kilo ranked Mixedblood, more so a peak ranked one at that.

Cosmic Superiority was just too powerful at this point but Gustav was still unaware of whether it could affect anyone beyond the Kilo rank.

At this point everyone on camp was comparing Gustav to the most powerful Mixedblood who was a final year cadet.

This number one final year cadet had not accomplished such a feat and had only been said to visit the dungeon with groups in the past. Compared to what Gustav recent feat they felt he didn't hold a candle to Gustav.

However, the number one who went by the name Danny had been away from camp for some time, so it was unknown whether he had improved in strength since they hadn't seen him in so long.

This made it hard for a lot of final years to accept that Gustav was stronger. But thinking of it, they were unable to tell if anyone was capable of clearing the dungeon all by themselves without any group.

Gustav was unbothered by all the debates occurring across camp. A lot of cadets were disappointed Danny wasn't around at this time. They were hoping they'd see a duel between him and Gustav.

Such event would not take place because Gustav would be leaving the camp soon.

His next mission briefing was taking place the following day.

"How is it that we still can't get past the 42nd floor? Gus you gotta give your boys some tips," E.E voiced out as he laid on Gustav's couch with a fatigued look.

"Hmm let me see," Gustav said as he held his chin like he was thinking of a good tip.

E.E sat up and Aildris as well as the rest in the room stared at Gustav attentively waiting for what he was going to say.

"...When things get too tough, use your emergency token and escape from there," Gustav said before turning around and heading to the kitchen.
