

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 441 A Siege

Thinking of what had happened yesterday, Lottie felt a little uneasy.

"Honey, do you think Natalia will..."

"No." Ralph smiled and rubbed her head. "You should trust her more."

"It's not that I don't trust her, but I don't trust Lincoln."

"Lincoln is too shrewd. I'm afraid that Natalia will be tricked by him."

Ralph said disapprovingly, "Why are you afraid of? Kayden is there to support you."

"Kayden? But he's so silly!"

He seemed to be very powerful, but in fact, he was silly and confused. Otherwise, he would not have been deceived by Yara for so long.

Ralph shook his head.

"Don't underestimate a man, especially a man who has a lover."

Lottie looked at him suspiciously.

"You should believe that Kayden is determined to protect Natalia. He will never let her be deceived by Lincoln again."

Hearing Ralph's words, Lottie nodded.

"You are always so concerned about other people's business, but you should focus more on me."

As the two of them chatted and waited, they soon arrived at another elevator and followed upstairs.

Kayden and Mrs. Ross were still under observation, so they went to the door of the observation room together.

Zack and Mr. Ross were waiting there. There were bodyguards on the corridor, but Natalia and Lincoln were not there.

Lottie brought the breakfast to Zack and asked him to share it with others.

She took the chance and asked, "Where's Natalia?"

Zack did not look very happy. He said, "Lincoln just came and said that he wanted to talk to her. They went to the corridor."

Lottie and Kayden looked at each other. She was obviously very worried.

"Do you want to go and have a look?"

Before she could finish her words, she heard a noise coming from the corridor, like the sound of something being beaten off.

Lottie no longer hesitated and walked towards the corridor, followed by the others.

There was a loud slap in the face.

Lincoln turned his head away from Natalia's slap.

But he was still saying, "I just want to repay you."

"You want to repay me? Then that's why you installed a surveillance camera on my phone and monitor me like a prisoner?"

"I'm doing this for your safety. You don't even know how dark the entertainment industry is!"

In the past six months, he had secretly solved a lot of trouble for Natalia. Many people who secretly coveted her had also received the punishment they deserved. However, he had never told her about this and had never asked for credit in front of her.

As expected, his protection of Natalia was regarded as Kayden's credit. How could he be convinced?

"I don't need such protection!"

"Natalia..."

"Get away from me!"

Natalia's eyes were red. She shook off Lincoln and tried to pull her hand. Her face was full of disgust.

"As for Rose, you're the one who got her, aren't you? Do you want to sow discord between Kayden and me? Or do you have any deep hatred for my mother?"

Lincoln didn't expect that the reason why Natalia called him to the hospital was that she wanted to have a showdown with him.

His previous joy and excitement were all gone.

Even the food that had been cooked by him in person was thrown to the ground, and she didn't even pay attention to it.

"I came to look for Rose because I wanted to help you and Aunt. I didn't want to alienate anyone, nor did I want to harm her."

"You still don't admit it! Let me ask you, did you ask Rose to post the video online last night?"

"Lincoln, you're so scary. You're not here to repay me, right? What do you want by trying to get close to me through all the methods?"

Lincoln sensed that Natalia had already disliked him.

He didn't quite understand how Natalia had figured everything out in such a short time, but he had never meant to hurt her.

"Since you have already made me guilty in your heart, no matter what I said to you, you would not believe me, would you?"

Natalia looked at him coldly and did not say anything.

"Believe it or not, I have never meant to hurt you."

"I do have another purpose to approach you, but only for you, not for anything else.

"Natalia, I fell in love with you long time ago."

"I met you earlier than Kayden and I loved you more than he did. Kayden was not sincere to you at all. You would not be happy with him!"

Natalia felt a bit surprised. She did not expect Lincoln's sudden confession of love to her.

But she was about to refuse him.

"Thank you for your feelings to me, but I don't like you."

"No matter what happens between Kayden and me, it's only our own business. That is to say, whether I'm happy or not is up to me to decide, not you."

"As for whether he was sincere to me or not, I knew better than you."

"No! Natalia, you don't understand at all!"

After being decisively rejected, Lincoln could no longer maintain his composure. He stepped forward to grab Natalia's arm.

"Kayden doesn't really like you. He just regards you as Yara's substitute!"

Lincoln was too strong and too emotional. Natalia tried her best to break free from his shackles, but she couldn't.

"Let me go!"

"I won't!" An evil thought flashed across Lincoln's mind. He could no longer suppress that anymore.

He had endured for so long just to gain Natalia's trust step by step and make her fall in love with him.

But now that his plan had failed, he might not endure with that!

The man, who had always been gentle and warm, finally tore off the disguise on his face and showed a malicious expression to Natalia.

"I won't let you reunite with Kayden. As long as I can keep you by my side, I can do anything!"

Lincoln took out a syringe from his trouser pocket and was about to stab Natalia's neck.

The door of the corridor was kicked open all of a sudden.

Someone stepped forward and punched Lincoln's face.

Lincoln's eyes were shocked and he immediately turned his head to dodge.

However, the man did not give him any chance to catch his breath. He instantly changed his moves and directly swept his lower side of the body.

Lincoln had no choice but to let go of Natalia and concentrate on dismantling the man's movements.

Natalia was quickly dragged away by someone. Lincoln and the coming people were fighting in the cramped corridor.

It was only then that Lincoln realized that the person who had come to ruin his plans was Ralph Chapman!

Shit! How could he do that again!

Lincoln couldn't suppress his anger when he thought of how his previous plans had been ruined by the man in front of him.

He stared at Ralph who with a sinister look in her eyes. Lincoln took off his suit jacket and threw it aside with a vicious and resentful look.

"You came at the right time. I'll fight with you."

But Ralph sneered, "Who wants to fight with you?"

Lincoln frowned. Just as he was about to speak, he felt a gust of wind behind his head. He moved aside sharply and dodged the whirlwind-like kick.

Seeing that her opponent hadn't been hit on the ground, Lottie couldn't help but let out a sigh of regret.

Then, she quickly retracted her attack and blocked Lincoln with Ralph.

Lincoln quickly understood the current situation. "Two against one?"

Lottie smiled. "Of course not."

"We're clearly besieging you!"

With a wave of her hand, a group of bodyguards rushed in and blocked the entire corridor.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 442 Trust me, I'll Beat You

Seeing the coming bodyguards, Lincoln quickly understood the situation.

He did not want to confront anyone head-on, so he wanted to negotiate with Ralph.

Before Ralph spoke, Lottie wanted to torture Lincoln.

She had been annoyed by Lincoln for a long time. Since Natalia had fallen out with him, she did not have to worry too much. She asked the bodyguards to press Lincoln down on the ground and beat him up.

This was the first time Lincoln had suffered such a big loss since he left the orphanage.

His face was pressed to the ground, and the bodyguard's fists kept hitting him. He felt pain in his body, and at the same time, he felt extremely humiliated by them.

Lincoln secretly swore in his heart that when he left here, he would definitely make Lottie and Ralph pay a terrible price!

He would return the humiliation he had suffered today at all costs !

It wasn't until Lottie had vented enough of her anger that she asked the bodyguards to let go of Lincoln.

At this moment, Lincoln's face was covered in dust, and he looked extremely pathetic. There was no longer that uncomfortable smile on his face, and his gaze at Lottie seemed to have been coated with poison.

However, Lottie wasn't afraid of him at all. She asked the bodyguards to drag him out of the corridor to the empty ward, and then came over to interrogate him in detail.

Lincoln ignored her, his expression was cold and arrogant.

At this point, he still looked down on Lottie. If it weren't for the fact that he hadn't come to prepare in advance today, they wouldn't have been able to touch a piece of his clothes.

Not to mention hurt him.

"Look at you! So stubborn! You just don't want to say anything?"

Lincoln sneered, "You had hurt my body, used the violence and wanted to get the company's secrets out of me. When I get out of here, I'll definitely call the police. All of you have to pay the price for what you've done!"

"We didn't hurt you on purpose, we were just defending, okay?"

"But you, you used illegal means to install cameras on celebrities in order to achieve the purpose of spying, stealing private information, and so on. You're totally a piece of shit, the police should arrest a pervert like you!"

Lincoln's face turned pale with anger.

But soon, he came to his senses. "Do you have any evidence that I'm up to something?"

Lottie looked back at Ralph.

Ralph frowned slightly. It was easy to prove that there were surveillance marks on Natalia's phone, but it would be a little difficult to prove that the monitor was installed by Lincoln.

Last time, when they broke Lincoln's password, they had already alerted the him.

Lincoln probably had already destroyed all the previous evidence, and even Ralph could not provide concrete evidence to prove that all this was under Lincoln's control.

Seeing the expressions on Ralph and Lottie's faces, Lincoln immediately understood that they couldn't provide any evidence to prove that they were up to no good.

In addition, he usually hid his strength very well. Even if he went to the police station, he was not afraid of anything.

Lincoln became more and more confident, and his eyes were full of mockery. "You can't find any evidence? Then you are framing me! You not only hit me, but also slandered me, which has greatly hurt my personality and spirit. I can only ask you to give me compensation!"

"You...

Lottie was so angry that she rolled up her sleeves and planned to fix Lincoln again.

She had never seen such a shameless person before, and she almost swore bad words. Ralph glanced at her before swallowing those dirty words.

Just as Lincoln was feeling proud, Natalia, who had just been dragged away by Zack Ross, appeared.

"What if I say there is evidence in my hand?"

Everyone turned to look at Natalia. Even Lincoln stared at Natalia and gritted his teeth.

"Natalia, why are you..."

However, Natalia did not even look at him. Instead, she took out her phone from her pocket and pressed the play button.

"I was worried that you would misunderstand me, so I went to ask you about it."

"I even recorded your explanations to Kayden. I treat you as a friend and don't want to believe that you will hurt me. I also want to help you persuade Kayden to solve the misunderstanding."

"But I didn't expect that you are the mastermind."

That was why Natalia was so angry and even slapped him in the face.

In the recording, Lincoln personally admitted that he had installed surveillance software on Natalia's phone.

Lincoln's expression was extremely pale. His heart was filled with unwillingness and pain. "Natalia! How could you do this to me?!"

Lincoln looked at Natalia sadly. He had not expected Natalia to set him up.

Natalia avoided his sight. She had nothing to talk to him.

So she sent a recording of her phone to Lottie, and then said to Lottie in an unusually cold voice, "I don't want to see him in the future. Can I leave this matter to you?"

If it were Kayden, she would be worried that he would kill Lincoln.

After all, they were childhood playmates, and Natalia had not received much goodwill during her childhood. Although Lincoln's purpose was not pure, he had helped her before.

She couldn't be completely heartless. It might be the best choice to let Mr. Chapman send Lincoln away directly.

"Don't worry, I promise he won't bother you again." Lottie comforted Natalia with a gesture of "okay".

"Thank you." Natalia looked at Lottie and Ralph with complicated emotions.

Previously, she had even suspected Lottie and Mr. Chapman. But it showed she was wrong. Perhaps she should find an official occasion to apologize to them and express her gratitude at the same time.

"No need to be so polite to me."

Lottie waved at her. "Don't worry about this. Go back and rest."

Natalia nodded. Before leaving, she couldn't help but turn around. When she saw Lincoln's disappointed expression, she sighed and quickly left.

"What are you looking at? Natalia doesn't want to talk to you at all.

Lottie's words poked into the hearts of the people, and Lincoln's eyes grew more and more vicious as he looked at her.

"Why are you so fierce? Trust me, I can beat you up!"

Lottie still wanted to vent her anger, but she was stopped by Ralph.

"Well, you shall not be entangled with him. Let's get down to business."

Lottie was stunned for a moment before she reacted. She turned to look at Ralph and asked, "What's the business?"

Ralph looked at Lottie and slowly sighed.

"Then let me ask him, you go to the next side for leisure."

"Okay, I'll leave it to you."

Lottie gave up her seat to Ralph and went to the side to watch.

Then Ralph approached Lincoln slowly. His sharp gaze locked onto him.

"If we didn't arrive in time, where did you want to go with Natalia?"

Hearing Ralph's words, Lincoln laughed.

"Then you can guess?"

Ralph was not surprised by Lincoln's attitude. So he sized him up and said, "You are stalling time."

"Do you still think anyone else will come to save you?"

As soon as he finished speaking, Sean Holland pushed open the door of the ward and looked for Ralph.

Sean Holland's expression did not look good. He glanced at Lincoln coldly and then leaned into Ralph's ear. He reminded him softly, "Mr. Chapman, Mr. Old Chapman had come."

Ralph frowned. "Did he come alone?"

"No, there are also Ank and Lancy."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 443 What Happened to Me Just Now

The arrival of Mr. Old Chapman surprised everyone.

If it was not necessary, Ralph did not want to alert them. However, since Ank and Lancy had invited them here, they should be sure that Mr. Old Chapman could help them get justice.

"Honey, what shall we do next?"

Lottie looked at Ralph hesitantly.

Ralph's gaze swept over Lincoln. He noticed that a hint of viciousness flashed across Lincoln's expression, so he instantly became vigilant.

Ralph's feeling was right, when the moment the bodyguard pulled Lincoln up from the ground, Lincoln's eyes changed. He raised his left hand high and hit the bodyguard's back neck!

The strength of Lincoln's hand was fast and fierce. It went straight to the second and third backbone of the bodyguard. If it really hit someone, the bodyguard might be knocked out immediately.

Ralph's expression turned cold. He grabbed the bodyguard's collar and pulled him forward. The knife in Lincoln's hand missed and his face turned ferocious.

"Ralph, why are you always against me!"

"You should go to the hell! As long as you die, the Chapman Family will have no one to rely on, and Kayden will not be my match!"

"Let me kill you!"

Lincoln's expression was horrible as if he had gone mad. Lottie immediately realized that something was wrong with his mental state.

Lincoln was a hot-tempered person. Without her usual gentle disguise, he would seek revenge for the smallest grievance than anyone else.

A little kindness could make him remember for a long time, and a little setback could also make him unable to bear it. He blamed all the reasons for failure on others and would never find a reason from himself.

Lottie didn't know if he had developed such a dark character in the orphanage, or it was because of some changes after he had been taken away later.

The only thing she knew was that she couldn't let Lincoln hurt Ralph!

She could not bear the pain of losing Ralph. If anyone dared to hurt him, she would not show any mercy!

Before she could react, Lottie rushed out.

Just as Lincoln pulled out the syringe hidden in his sleeve and was about to pierce into Ralph's arteries, Lottie rushed over and grabbed hold of his hair.

Taking advantage of Lincoln's pain to change direction, Lottie raised her right arm and threw an elbow at Lincoln's head.

Lincoln quickly dodged, but Lottie didn't panic at all. She grabbed Lincoln by the side and punched him while he wasn't paying attention. When Lincoln's attention turned to the side with the force, she grabbed Lincoln's wrist, which was holding the syringe, and pulled it in the opposite direction.

"Ouch!"

Lincoln's scream came from the empty ward.

However, as if didn't hear him at all, Lottie snatched the syringe from him and threw it far away. Then, she turned around and threw it back. The tall guy, Lincoln, was then thrown out like a rag, and his head slammed into the bed, making a loud bang.

Lincoln felt everything go black before his eyes, followed by a warm sensation on his forehead.

He reached out his hand to touch it in disbelief, but he felt something wrong.

It's his blood!

Before Lincoln could utter a single word, he had already fallen to the ground.

Lottie's entire body was still trembling. She didn't even notice the gazes of the others and wanted to rush forward and hit them.

It was at this moment that an arm stretched out from the air and directly grabbed Lottie by the waist and pulled her into his embrace.

"Alright, I'm fine. Lottie, I'm fine now. I'm really fine."

"Don't be afraid. I've always been here."

Ralph had also been greatly shocked just now, but after the initial shock, he quickly discovered that something was wrong with Lottie.

The thing that he had almost been unable to endure last time should have left a huge psychological shadow on Lottie.

Later, as Ralph's condition gradually improved, Lottie's shadow seemed to have disappeared as well. But in fact, it had always been there, but Ralph and Lottie didn't notice it.

Lincoln's desperate attempt to find Ralph had once again provoked Lottie, causing her to enter a state of stress response. In this state, she couldn't listen to anyone else at all. She would only act according to her wishes.

Lincoln wanted to hurt Ralph, so she beat him down first.

Therefore, just now, Lottie didn't hold back at all. Everything had to be done according to her instinct. Her strength had reached a terrifying level.

If Ralph could not stop her, Lincoln would have to die here today!

The other bodyguards in the ward looked at each other and turned to look at the woman in Mr. Chapman's arms.

She was so thin and pale, but her way of action was unimaginable!

The bodyguards began to tremble. At the same time, they sighed in their hearts, "She deserves to be Mr.

Chapman's woman. She is so wild and strong!"

However, Ralph did not have the thoughts of the bodyguards at all. He was so nervous at the moment that he felt distressed and guilty. He wished he could go back to three minutes ago and beat Lincoln's head fiercely.

"Why did this silly guy provoke his sweetie for no reason?"

He was simply courting himself and harming others.

"It's all right, baby. Look at me, I'm Ralph, your husband."

Ralph coaxed Lottie again and again. Finally, under his gentle and close call, Lottie slowly calmed down.

Her body stopped trembling, and her beating heart returned to its normal speed. She leaned into Ralph's arms and blinked, then pushed him away.

"Honey, what happened to me?"

Ralph was about to explain to her when he saw Sean Holland giving him a crazy look.

Ralph realized something and did not say anything in the end. Instead, he took her hand and walked to the side.

"It's okay. Lincoln wanted to attack me, but I dealt with him. You were a little scared just now."

Lottie followed Ralph's line of sight and looked not far away. The bodyguard had already helped Lincoln up from the ground, who had fainted.

She immediately looked at Ralph with admiration. "Honey, you're amazing!"

Ralph: "...

His mouth twitched. He was too ashamed to answer this question.

Seeing that it was almost time, he stopped talking.

"Send Lincoln to Edward Grant's place and give him an examination first. Don't let him die so easily. After that, keep an eye on him. Don't let him escape! We'll interrogate him when we're free."

The bodyguard immediately agreed.

Only then did Ralph walk out of the empty ward holding Lottie's hand.

Sean Holland picked up the syringe from the ground, handed it to the bodyguard, and whispered, "Give this to Doctor Grant and let him test the composition of the drug in the syringe."

The bodyguard carefully wrapped up the things with clean tissue and put them away, they would hand them over to Edward Grant Later.

Speaking of which, if Mr. Chapman hadn't saved him just now, he would have almost fallen into Lincoln's trap.

Lincoln could be considered a dangerous man. He had to be watched closely in the future.

Coming out of the empty ward, Lottie soon arrived at the quarantine ward.

Lottie saw that Mr. Old Chapman was standing at the door of the quarantine ward, constantly looking inside through the small glass window. Ank and Lancy stood beside the baby, their faces full of anxiety and worry.

It was as if they were the parents who cared most about the safety of Kayden.

Really ironic.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 444 Why Don't Make a Family Test?

"Mr. Old Chapman."

Ralph walked forward and greeted Mr. Old Chapman casually.

He had always been a man of few rules. Mr. Old Chapman had long gotten used to it, so he did not pursue the way he addressed him.

On the other hand, Lottie was more polite and respectfully called him "father".

Mr. Old Chapman immediately smiled and replied lovingly, "Well, that's my good girl."

Lottie smiled obediently and looked at Mr. Old Chapman. "Why are you here? Are you here to see Kayden?"

Before Mr. Old Chapman could say anything, Lancy pointed at Ralph's nose and scolded, "You ungrateful man. If you hadn't caused trouble, how could Kayden have agreed to do such an operation!"

"My poor son is still lying in the quarantine ward, we even don't know whether he is alive or dead!"

"If anything happened to him, I wouldn't live anymore! I'll just die here, so that I can go with my son!"

Recently, Lancy's acting skills had been greatly improved, and her ability to make a scene was also growing. She could perform a big show alone.

Mr. Old Chapman glanced at Lancy maliciously and couldn't help but scold her, "All right, be careful. This is a hospital! How dare you make a loud noise!"

Lancy did not expect that Mr. Old Chapman would not sympathize with her even though she was crying like this. Instead, he spoke up for Ralph and his wife.

"Mr. Old Chapman, you can't be stupid! Ralph is not a real member of the Chapman Family at all. He is just an outsider, and we are your family members! You can't be confused by outsiders!"

Mr. Old Chapman was furious because of her quarrel. He had seen this on the Internet, so he came to the hospital to ask about the specific situation. He didn't want to uphold justice for anyone at all. He didn't expect to meet Ank and his wife when he went out.

Without saying a word, the two of them stuck to him and insisted on going to the hospital with him to see their son.

Ralph did not ask anyone to stop Mr. Old Chapman when he appeared at the hospital. Naturally, Ank and his wife followed him in.

She did not expect that they didn't come to see Kayden at all. They probably just wanted to make trouble for Ralph and ask for some benefits.

Mr. Old Chapman was well aware of how greedy his eldest son and eldest daughter-in-law were.

"Who is an outsider? Ralph is not an outsider!" Mr. Old Chapman glared at Lancy.

Lancy pointed out loudly, "He is not a member of the Chapman family at all, and the blood on him is not ours!"

"So what? Although we are not related by blood, I have already announced to the public that Ralph is my adopted son. He has the right to inherit the company like you! If you continue to make trouble like this, I will give all the properties of the Chapman family to him!"

"Dad, how could you do this?"

Ank, who had been silent all the time, finally couldn't help but say something.

Mr. Old Chapman was not polite to her son at all. She widened her eyes and asked, "Why can't I do this?"

"Don't you feel sorry for my mother by doing this? My second brother died at such a young age because of your partiality and negligence. Now I'm the only son left, don't you think it's ridiculous to give my family business to an adopted son instead of me?"

Mr. Old Chapman's hand, which was holding the walking stick, trembled slightly. Obviously, he still remembered his second son's death.

No matter how open-minded he was, Yank's death was still a scar in his heart and could not be easily touched.

Seeing that the old man was panting and his face was slightly pale, Lottie started to panic.

"Don't say much. My father can't stand the stimulation."

"Hey, now you're pretending to be filial? If you're really so filial, you won't hurt his only grandson!" Lancy's voice was sharp and harsh. "It's too hypocritical of you to say that my father can't stand the stimulation now!"

Lottie's face darkened, and looked a little cruel.

The eyes of the bodyguards not far away lit up.

"She's coming.

Is she going to make a move?"

They really wanted to watch Lottie fight again. Perhaps they could learn a lot of practical combat skills.

After all, she was so strong.

For some reason, Lottie felt a burning sensation on her back, as if someone had been staring at her.

But when she turned around, she found nothing.

He had an inexplicable feeling of being watched.

She didn't lose her temper. She ignored the noisy Lancy and turned to look at Ralph.

"Honey, my father is not feeling well. Shall we send him downstairs for an examination?"

Ralph nodded and said, "Alright, Dr. Grant is also there."

Edward was Ralph's private doctor, so he was well aware of his father's physical condition. It would not take him much effort to do an examination.

As he spoke, he wanted to leave with the old man.

Ank finally couldn't hold back and reached out to stop them from leaving.

"Ralph, don't go too far."

Ralph raised his eyebrows in surprise.

"Brother, why do you say that?"

"Why do you still ask me this? Ralph, why are you so hypocritical? If you really want the property of the Chapman family, you can just take it away. But why did you hurt Kayden?"

His righteous words seemed to be defending Kayden.

Hearing this, Ralph could not help but smile.

"What are you laughing at?" Ank's face darkened.

Ralph shook his head and turned to stop Lancy. "By the way, Lancy, I forgot to tell you something."

Lancy was stunned when she heard his sudden address.

"You interacted with a woman named Rose on the Internet yesterday, right? Did she tell you that as long as she's a volunteer, Kayden won't have to suffer this blow?"

Lancy frowned. Actually, Rose had indeed said something like that.

But so what?

"Did she tell you that she lived in Trust Town, and she was 20 years old this year? Her father was a businessman in Rexwell, and his name was Ank?" Ralph's tone was slow and casual.

The amount of information in his words shocked everyone present.

Especially Ank, who had been in an orderly manner, looked panic when Ralph mentioned Rose. And his face was still pale before Ralph pointed it out.

Lancy's first reaction was that Ralph was lying.

But when she turned to look at Ank, she saw the guilty look on his face.

"Ank, is what he said true?"

Lancy rushed over and grabbed Ank's clothes, tearing them apart.

Ank was extremely annoyed. He came here today because he had another plan. However, before he could find him, someone had revealed such a big secret on him. However, Lancy, the shrew, was surprisingly strong. Before he could react, he was dragged by her and asked to insist on giving her an explanation.

Ank kept saying that it was a misunderstanding, but after listening to it, Ralph sneered.

"I remember that Rose left behind a data report when she was carrying out her work. If you want to prove your innocence, why don't you do a DNA test?" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 445 Join Hands with Natalia

Ralph's words silenced Ank.

This time, Lancy could no longer control her temper and turned around to fight with Ank.

"Come on, Ank. I thought you were honest. It turned out that you actually cheated on me."

"Not only did you cheat, but you also have an illegitimate daughter. How dare you?"

"Well, get rid of those two bi*ches and send them out of the country. Otherwise, I won't let you off today!"

Ank's face was scratched several times by Lancy's sharp nails, and several lines of blood appeared in an instant.

"Crazy, you are crazy. I think you should be the one to be sent abroad!"

Ank couldn't stand the crazy Lancy at all. He got so angry all of a sudden, and he didn't care about anything else. The two of them actually fought at the door of the ward, and Lancy continued crying.

Such a big noise would inevitably disturb the patient's rest.

Ralph frowned and asked the bodyguards to throw them out.

Ank was dragged out first, but Lancy refused to leave no matter what. She said that the Chapman family owed her a lot. If he didn't give her an explanation today, she would never leave.

Ralph was slightly impatient. He was still thinking about how he could get rid of her while Lottie suddenly spoke.

"I remember that Rose studied in a movie academy before. She'll be participating in a variety show soon. If she were to make her debut on this show, she'll definitely attract the attention of many people as an illegitimate daughter in the family."

"When she has more and more fans and her foundation is deeper and deeper, it will be too late for you to deal with her then."

Hearing this, Lancy struggled and finally said viciously, "She's just a daughter of a mistress, how dare she expose her identity? Isn't she afraid of being stabbed in the back?"

Lottie smiled. "As the saying goes, disaster can't fall on the children. Rose's mother is a mistress, but does it have to do with her being a celebrity? With such a background, her fans will only sympathize with her and become more loyal to her."

"She first got a wave of Natalia to ride to hype herself, and then she deliberately cooperated with you. Obviously, she had long wanted to take advantage of you. When her identity as an illegitimate daughter was exposed, everyone would think of the interaction between you and her in the comment area. As a result, everyone would only sigh more while she had planned everything from the beginning."

The more she spoke, the more flustered Lancy became. She could not help but ask, "Then what should I do?"

Lottie and Ralph looked at each other and saw a familiar smile in each other's eyes.

"It's simple. As long as you join hands with Natalia to expose Rose's plot, you might be able to have the morality to argue with her."

Lancy frowned. "What? You want me to cooperate with that guy?"

Lottie swept her gaze across Natalia, who was waiting quietly at the door of the ward without making a sound. She suddenly felt a little angry.

"Let me remind you something. When Rose and her natural mother go to the Chapman family, you won't be doted on by your husband, and you'll be separated from your son and daughter-in-law. Without Ralph and Kayden's protection, you'll be worse than an actress."

Lancy's face turned pale.

Lottie's words accurately pierced her sore spot.

Before Natalia could react, Lancy suddenly turned around and ran up to her, reaching out to hold her arm.

"Natalia, it was all my fault in the past. I was short-sighted and cold-hearted. Please forgive me this time. I promise I won't do that to you again. I will support you to be with Kayden and never speak ill of you again. Can you help me put in a good word for Kayden and let him forgive me?"

Natalia was confused.

"Well, you changed your attitude so fast. Did you learn it before?"

Natalia still didn't understand. For a person like Lancy, as long as she was given enough benefits, her dignity and dignity were not important at all.

Seeing that Natalia did not speak, Lancy cried again. Now she was complaining about how difficult it was for her to raise Kayden in the Chapman family, and how much she had paid for him...

Natalia had always been soft-hearted. When she cried like this, she was a little out of sorts for a moment. As a result, she turned her pleading gaze to Lottie.

Lottie shook her head inwardly. In order to deal with someone like Lancy, she still had to be more thick-skinned than her. However, Natalia was still too thin-skinned.

"Lancy, if you continue to cry like this, be careful that Natalia will refuse to cooperate with you."

Lancy immediately stopped crying and asked aggrievedly, "What do you want me to do, so that you can forgive me and help me deal with Rose and her daughter?"

Natalia still didn't quite understand Lottie's plan. She said in a low voice, "I have to discuss this with Kayden."

Although the fact that Rose was Ank's illegitimate daughter had indeed shocked Natalia.

But in the end, Rose was Kayden's half-sister. Before Kayden agreed, she wouldn't easily attack Rose.

Lancy was extremely anxious when she heard that.

"Isn't it too late for you to make a plan after Kayden comes out?"

"Why are you in such a hurry? If everything is fine, he can be transferred to an ordinary ward at night." Lottie said unhappily.

Lancy still didn't know about it. When she came here, she saw Kayden in the quarantine ward. She thought that he was in trouble, so she cooperated with Ank to act rashly, hoping that Mr. Old Chapman would give her more compensation.

Now that she heard that Kayden was fine, she felt relieved.

With his son backing her up, she was more confident.

After all, Rose was just a daughter. No matter how much Ank doted on her, she probably wouldn't give up on Kayden.

Lancy rolled her eyes and had other ideas.

Perhaps she didn't have to get rid of them all. As long as Ank allowed his son to inherit the company and provide corresponding compensation, she might not be unable to tolerate Rose and her daughter.

Ralph could tell from her gaze that she was thinking about something bad. He could not help but look at Mr. Old Chapman.

Ever since the old man learned that Ank had an illegitimate daughter outside, his expression had become very bad.

Ralph and Lottie helped him sit down to the side, and then asked the assistant to pour some warm water. When the old man finished drinking, Lancy had calmed down.

"Boss's wife." Mr. Old Chapman spoke to Lancy.

Lancy had ignored him when she started making a fuss just now. Now that she heard his voice, her eyes lit up.

"Old Master, I've suffered from a hard lot!" Lancy began to pretend to be wronged again.

Lottie watched from the side in amazement. She thought to herself, "If Lancy were to develop into the entertainment industry, she would probably be able to make a name for herself."

Ordinary people couldn't compete with her in acting.

Mr. Old Chapman's face darkened. He knew Lancy's temper well. Other than being selfish and greedy, she was simple-minded and easy to coax.

"I will make the decision for you. As long as you can accept Natalia, and never destroy his and Kayden's happiness, the Chapman family will never treat you unfairly." Mr. Old Chapman coughed and gave the final word.

Natalia looked up at Mr. Old Chapman with tears in her eyes.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 446 Let's Sign An Agreement

Mr. Old Chapman's words were to help Natalia resolve her worries.

Even with Kayden's promise and the support of Ralph and Natalia, Natalia still felt a little uncomfortable that she could not be accepted by Chapmans.

But now, Mr. Old Chapman clearly wanted to support Natalia, which meant that he also recognized Natalia as a member of the Chapman family.

Her eyes were slightly moist. She looked at the old man and said softly, "Thank you."

"What should you call me?" The old man looked at Natalia gently.

"Grandpa, thank you."

"Yes." The old man smiled happily and looked at her. "What's your answer?"

Of course, Lancy would not refuse. She quickly said, "No. From today on, Natalia is my good daughter-in-law!"

She hugged Natalia affectionately, her face full of flattery.

"It's too easy to go back on the verbal promise. Let's sign an agreement." Ralph said.

Lancy was not strong-willed, it was easy for her to be bewitched and used.

She was too good at making a scene and always made everything too messy. Ralph was too lazy to deal with it and simply solved it at once.

"What agreement?" Lancy was a little worried that she would suffer losses.

"The old man is also here today. We can invite him to be a witness."

"As long as you approve that Natalia is Kayden's only wife, and you won't ruin their relationship."

"When Natalia is pregnant, I will transfer all the shares of the Chapman's Group to Kayden. And I will quit the management of the Group myself."

Lancy's heart skipped a beat. Kayden was her son, and he would never ignore her mother.

Even if Ank gave her up completely and went to find them, she did not have to worry about the living conditions in the future.

Ralph had not finished.

"As for the two real estate properties under my name, give them to Natalia as her wedding gifts with Kayden."

"As for my sister-in-law, you..."

Ralph was still thinking about how to send her off while Mr. Old Chapman held his hand.

"As long as you agree to our conditions, after I die, 50% of the Chapman family's property will be left to my great-grandson. The remaining 50% will be compensated to you."

If Ralph's condition was only to tempt Lancy, then Mr. Old Chapman's words made her ecstatic!

Half of the old man's property!

That was so much. It would be enough for many villas by the sea.

Lancy had nothing to worry about now. She immediately said, "Okay! Take out the agreement and I'll sign it now! No matter what conditions you propose, I'll agree!"

She was short of breath. She had never dreamed that such a good luck would fall on her.

Natalia turned around uneasily and looked at Ralph and Mr. Old Chapman.

"That's not a good idea."

Lancy did get a lot of money from the negotiation, but in the final analysis, the most direct beneficiary was her and Kayden.

As long as she and Kayden were fine and gave birth to a child smoothly, they could get half of the wealth accumulated by the Chapman's Group and Mr. Old Chapman.

As for Ank and his mother, they could not get anything.

Not only them, but for Mr. Chapman and Lottie, they did not get any compensation.

"Although we are not related by blood... Kayden and I have always regarded Mr. Chapman and Lottie as family, you cannot divide the Chapman family's properties into only two parts."

Natalia had watched Lottie when she said so, causing the latter to burst into laughter.

"Are you afraid that my husband can't afford to raise me?"

Natalia was embarrassed. How couldn't Mr. Chapman afford to raise a woman since he was so powerful that he could build a business empire by himself?

"That's not what I mean. It's one thing for you to have the ability, but another thing to gain."

If it weren't for Ralph, the Chapman's Group would have long been taken and would not have been as glorious as it was today.

If Kayden was here, I don't believe that he would agree to this arrangement.

Lancy was a little anxious. She was afraid that Ralph would go back on his word, and then her benefits would be reduced.

"Come on, keep it for yourself. Why are you worried about others?"

Natalia frowned. "That's not what I mean..."

Seeing that she was really worried, Lottie spoke slowly.

"It's true that Mr.

Chapman has expanded the Chapman's Group, and it's true that the Chapman family has raised him."

"Our kindness is still there. We didn't want to take the property of the Chapman family, but now we'll leave it all to you and Kayden. It's good to give you more guarantee for your marriage."

"If you really want to regard us as your family, don't refuse anymore."

Natalia only felt guiltier and guiltier when she heard Lottie's words.

She lowered her head and said sadly, "Lottie, I'm sorry."

Lottie raised her eyebrow. "Why are you apologizing again?"

"I trusted you so much that I even suspected you and Mr. Chapman. I'm so bad. I'm really sorry."

Mr. Chapman had always been open and aboveboard. Lottie is her most trusted friend. How could she have that thought at that time?

She didn't expect that she was still thinking about this, so she sighed softly. "It's not your fault."

"Lincoln was the one who misled you. He was too cunning. He knew that you were worried about Aunt's operation at that time, so he deliberately designed to make you suspect us."

Natalia's tears slid down gently, but they were gently wiped away by Lottie.

"Didn't you go to confront Yara in order to help me get the recording? And you also resolutely announced that you would quit the entertainment industry?"

Natalia's tears grew more and more. Lottie could only softly comfort her.

Lancy was afraid that they would go back on their word, so she urged Ralph to get the agreement.

Ralph glanced at her coldly.

"I'll get someone to make the agreement first. You can come back to the hospital tomorrow. When Kayden comes out of the quarantine ward, we can sign together and discuss how to deal with Rose and her daughter."

Lancy didn't stop until one or two days later.

"As for the contents of the agreement, I advise you not to tell others, especially Ank." Ralph reminded him.

Lancy was not stupid. Ank had cheated on her. He had just fought with her, which was equivalent to falling out with her. She was so stupid and told him the contents of the agreement.

"Don't worry, I won't tell anyone. I won't tell anyone!"

Ralph nodded coldly and looked away at the old man. "Shall I take you downstairs for a physical examination?"

Mr. Old Chapman shook his head and refused.

"These are all minor problems. Don't waste time."

"I'm relieved to know that Kayden is fine and that you're here to keep an eye on him."

"You don't have to worry about me. I should go back."

The Old Master was leaving, so was Lancy.

Ralph did not ask her to stay. He personally sent her downstairs and watched as the carriage drove away. Then, he turned to look for Edward.

"How is Lincoln?"

Edward had just finished analyzing the composition of the medicine, and he was very serious at the moment.

"I hit my head and got the stitch. It's cerebral concussion, but it's not serious."

"Then why do you look like that?"

"Lincoln's problem isn't that big. The problem is the medicine in the syringe."

"What do you mean?" Ralph went forward to read the analysis materials.

"It's said that illegal drugs are from Lab K." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 447 Do You Want to Be an Idol?

"Lab K? Does Lincoln have anything to do with Jenna?"

Thinking of Lab K, Ralph looked unhappy.

In that place, he had such a painful experience that he almost lost his life and love.

As long as Lab K and Jenna was mentioned, he would not be in a good mood.

Edward shook his head. "I don't know. But do you know what will happen if this medicine is injected into the body?"

Ralph asked, "Will they lose their memory, or will they be controlled?"

Ralph still remembered the drug effect because Fabian once was injected with it.

"Both." Edward said, "If the dosage is small, it will make people lose their consciousness and gradually forget what happened before."

"What if the dose is high?"

"People will die."

It was Jenna Kennedy who created such evil things.

Ralph felt disgusted.

At that time, Lincoln wanted to inject Natalia with this drug and took her away and then controlled her.

But later he attacked Ralph furtively and wanted to kill him.

Ralph looked at Edward and said, "Lincoln's identity must not be simple. I must miss something significant in my investigation of him."

"I leave him to you. Before I figure out his identity and his final purpose, you must not let him leave."

Edward sighed, "I'm just a doctor."

"I am not your bodyguard, and not responsible for helping you guard people."

Ralph raised his eyebrows and said, "I know you are doing clinical trials recently, so I give a subject to you."

"It's illegal without the agreement of the subject."

"Mr. Yung has always been willing to help others, and he even advised a 20-year-old girl to be a volunteer to donate her kidney. For such a small and not life-threatening experiment, he will agree."

Edward was speechless. Although Lincoln was not a good person, his clinical trials were related to the regrowth of broken limbs.

As a volunteer, Lincoln had to go through the process of breaking his joints and then re-connected them.

The experiment was impossible to succeed once, so he had to endure the pain again and again.

"That's not a good idea."

"He contributes himself to human scientific research. Why is it not good?"

"Well."

"When the experiment is over, I'll give him a big compensation."

"This is not a matter of compensation."

"I will arrange a few people to help you, and make Mr. Yung valuable to the medical community, which is better to let him go out and harm people."

Dr. Grant, this is also your contribution to everyone."

Edward knew that he couldn't refuse it, so he nodded.

"Okay, I accept him reluctantly."

But he smiled happier than anyone else.

Then Ralph asked about Mrs. Ross and Kayden.

"There's nothing wrong with Kayden. He can be sent out of the isolation ward at night. But Mrs. Ross has to stay in the isolation ward for a few more days."

Kidney replacement was not a small operation and should be treated carefully.

Ralph nodded and was about to leave.

When he went halfway, he suddenly remembered something and turned back, "I have something else to ask you."

Ralph and Edward chatted for a long time until Lottie came to find him.

"Well. I go back first."

Ralph got up and left.

Edward looked at Lottie and nodded.

Ralph walked up to Lottie and held her hand, and then they walked out together.

"Honey, what are you talking about? Why does Dr. Grant look at me strangely?"

Ralph stopped and turned to look at her seriously.

"What's wrong?" Lottie asked in confusion.

"Do you feel uncomfortable?"

Lottie shook her head and looked at him in confusion, "I'm fine. Why do you suddenly ask this?"

Ralph felt worried, but he didn't tell her the truth when he thought of Edward's words.

"I'm worried that you are scared by Lincoln today."

"That's it?" Lottie snickered, "Honey, Don't you remember that I fought with others before."

Ralph smiled. He touched her head and said, "I know."

"By the way, how is Lincoln?"

Ralph didn't hide anything from her about Lincoln and told her everything.

When she heard that Lincoln's medicine had something to do with Lab K, her expression instantly turned cold.

As for that place, Lottie also felt very disgusted.

"I want to ask someone to investigate Lincoln." Lottie said.

Ralph was a little surprised, "Who do you want to look for?"

"Richeal Lee."

Ralph nodded. "Well. Your father gives you two good helpers."

"Yes. They're good." Lottie said, "Richeal sends me Rose's one-month schedule this morning, so that I know what she's going to do next."

"What do you want Rose's schedule for?"

Lottie winked and suddenly said, "Honey, I also want to participate in the variety show. Is it ok?"

"You?" Ralph was shocked, "Do you want to be an idol?"

"What do you mean? Do you think I can't do it?"

Lottie was very dissatisfied and pouted, but it made her look even more adorable.

"No, I don't. But isn't your goal to be the best actress? Why do you want to participate in the variety show?"

"If I want to make a comeback, I have to have a good reputation to make audience accept me.

"No matter how good a film is, it is worthless if no audience see it."

Ralph was interested. He looked at Lottie and asked, "So what do you want to do?"

"I'll participate in variety shows to restore my reputation and image first, and then make movies!"

"This is a good plan." Ralph nodded in agreement.

"That variety show has no restrictions on the contestants. Whether you have made a debut or not, whether you are actors or singers, whether you are single or married, as long as you are talented, you can participate!"

The conditions were very wide. The organizer claimed to choose high-quality idols from various industries to form a good-looking and talented star group.

"There are five places for debut. I want to go with Natalia." Lottie told him her plan.

When she said it, her eyes were bright, and the corners of her mouth were slightly raised. She was full of longing.

Ralph could not help but hold her in his arms and kiss her.

Lottie was dumbfounded and asked, "What are you doing?"

"You look beautiful just now."

Lottie's face turned red. She buried her face in Ralph's arms and asked, "Do you agree me to participate in the show?"

"Let me think about it." Ralph lowered his voice and pretended to be hesitant.

He remembered what Edward said to him just now.

"Her situation is complicated."

"In order not to make her illness worse, you'd better let her do what she wants to do and maintain a happy mood."

"When her illness is stable, you can take her to find a psychologist for a good chat."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 448 Be Sent Back to the Ordinary Ward

"Ralph?"

Seeing that Ralph didn't answer, Lottie ask.

Ralph came to his senses and smiled at her. He said, "You can do what you want to do. If you are bullied, come back and find me to support."

Lottie burst out laughing, "I will be useless if I find you to support for such a small matter."

"Well?" Ralph raised his eyebrows and said, "You are so confident! Do you think that you can make your debut in this show?"

"I want to be the best. I will win the first prize in this show!"

Lottie's eyes were firm, and her words were full of confidence. She looked even more charming when she was in high spirits.

She looked like the bright moon in the sky, enlightening everyone's hearts.

Ralph felt oestrogenic. He wouldn't get tired of such a bright and charming Lottie no matter how long he looked at her.

"Okay, I believe you."

Lottie smiled, and her eyes sparkled. She looked extremely beautiful.

She could do what she wanted to do and he would help her deal with obstacles in her way. As long as she could always smile so happily, he was willing to do anything.

After this matter was settled, they returned to the isolation ward together.

It was almost noon, and they ate something. Lottie persuaded Natalia to take Mr. Ross back and have a rest, and then came back to change shifts in the evening.

However, Natalia shook her head, "I don't want to sleep."

Natalia was in a mess at this moment. She couldn't fall asleep at all. She wanted to wait Kayden out of the ward.

"Let her stay here. Zack, you take your father to have a rest first." Ralph said to Zack.

Zack also didn't want to leave, but he was worried about his father's body, so he nodded.

Zack took his father to his mother's former ward to rest. Lottie sat next to Natalia, asking if she wanted to participate in the show with her.

"Rose also participates in this show. When the time comes, we'll expose her true face in front of the cameras. It'll definitely be exciting.

Natalia did not have much interest in this.

She would rather spend more time with Kayden and her mother in the hospital.

"Rose already used your popularity to make herself popular on the Internet for several times. Don't you feel angry?"

Natalia shook her head and said, "I don't care about it. I already quit my work in the entertainment industry. I am no longer famous, and no one is willing to be my fan anymore."

Natalia's condition was obviously abnormal. In the past, she cared much about her reputation.

As a fan of Natalia, Lottie truly saw her as her idol. She could not bear to see her depressed and wanted to continue persuading her, but was stopped by Ralph.

Ralph shook his head at her.

Lottie knew that Ralph wanted her not to force Natalia. When she looked at Natalia's current state, she realized that Natalia wasn't indeed suitable to leave the hospital.

She felt that it was a pity. After all, this show might be a good chance for them to regain their reputation.

Lottie didn't continue to persuade her for the time being, but she still wanted to find another chance to talk with Natalia.

In the afternoon, Ralph went back to the company to deal with things, while Lottie still stayed with Natalia in the hospital.

In the evening, Ralph took his three children to the hospital together to find Lottie.

"Mommy, are you going to participate in the variety show?" Stella was the first to run over and hug Lottie, raising her head and asking.

Lottie turned to look at Ralph.

She nodded with a smile and said, "I do have this plan."

Stella said, "Yeah! That's great! Mommy, come on! When your show is broadcast, I'll cheer for you!"

Fabian was confused, "Mommy, don't you go to shoot a film? why do you participate in the variety show first?"

Stella said, "You are so stupid. Now the variety show is very popular! In the past, the female students in my school used to watch the show every day and vote for their beloved brother!"

Lottie, "?"

Your female classmate is so young, but they already had their idols.

They even knew to vote for their beloved idols!"

Lottie was very helpless, but she didn't explain too much to them. She only said that she would be more easily accepted by the audience after participating in the show.

Stella nodded seriously and said, "In this way, Mommy will have more fans. There will be a new member in our club!"

Hearing this, Fabian said, "I'll mobilize my friends to vote for Mommy!"

Elijah suddenly asked, "Mommy, what's the name of that show?"

"It seems to be called Treasure 101."

"What a lousy name." Fabian complained.

Lottie was also embarrassed, "Because the organizers say that they will dig up talented female candidate in various fields. Then, 101 female contestants will be chose, and compete for the top five prize and finally these five contestants will combine to a team to make a debut."

"Mommy, if you succeed in your debut, do you still need to form a team with others?"

Lottie nodded, "Yes. But it has a time limit. We can only attend the activities together for six months to a year at most, and then the team can be disbanded."

"It will be better if Natalia participates in the show with Mommy."

So that they could take care of each other, and were not afraid of being excluded by other members.

Lottie also thought so, but Natalia didn't want to participate in the show with her and she couldn't force her.

Elijah looked at Ralph seriously and said, "Daddy, do you hear that? You can go to find the organizers to invest before the show starts."

With her mommy's talent, she could definitely win the championship. If Daddy invested now, not only could he support his mommy, but he could also take the opportunity to make a lot of money. It was worth.

Ralph did not expect that Elijah also thought so. He could not help but smile.

"It's ready."

In the afternoon, he went to deal with this matter.

He reached an agreement with the organizers and invested 25 million dollars. The only requirement he made was that they could not fake it, and the ranking must be fair and just.

The director already agreed.

Hearing that, Lottie looked at Ralph in surprise.

"Honey, why do you do that? Don't I tell you that I don't need your help?"

"It's not contradictory. I invest the show just to give you a relatively fair competition environment. I don't help you too much, and you still need to win the game by yourself."

"You're so nice."

Hearing Ralph's words, Lottie was very touched. She couldn't help but walk over and kiss him.

Ralph touched his cheek. He smiled and said, "It's not enough."

"What else can I do?"

Ralph whispered to her, and then her ears turned red.

"Do you forget the bet you made with me before?"

Of course, Lottie remembered that they bet on whether Lincoln did it or not. Finally, Lottie lost.

"I don't forget it. You can do whatever you want after we go back. Is that okay?"

Ralph was about to speak when Edward rushed over with the nurse.

He said with a smile, "Kayden is fine, and he can be sent to the ordinary ward now."

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 449 Do You Still Keep Your Words?

This was a good news.

Not long after, Kayden was transferred to the ordinary VIP ward where his family could visit him.

When Natalia and others walked in, Kayden was awake and answered a few questions from Edward. Except for his pale face, he looked in good spirits.

Natalia's tears fell down as she rushed towards Kayden. However, Edward stopped her.

"Be careful. Don't use too much strength. He is very weak now. His surgically operated wound must not be touched."

Hearing that, Natalia felt sorry.

She was too rash just now.

Kayden tutted and glanced at Edward impatiently.

"She just want to give me a hug. It doesn't matter. I'm not made of paper."

Edward couldn't help rolling his eyes.

Now Kayden knew to protect his wife. He remembered that Kayden used to be so indifferent to Natalia.

Edward's face darkened. He took out the documents and handed it to Ralph.

"The operation is successful. This is the follow-up recovery plan, as well as relevant matters to take note of. The family should take a good look."

He wanted to give it to Natalia, but when he saw her carefully hugging with Kayden, he thought that she was probably not in the mood to care about it now, so he could only give it to Ralph.

Ralph did not refuse. He took the documents and flipped through them.

"Thank you very much. Is there anything else you want?"

Edward said, "You just need to pay off the fee. The experimental subject is enough for the time being."

Hearing this, Lottie was puzzled, "What is experimental subject?"

At this moment, Ralph suddenly remembered that he forgot to tell her about this. He was worried that Lottie would think him too cruel. He said, "It's nothing. It's just some experimental instruments."

He stared at Edward and warned him.

Edward understood and nodded, "That's it."

"There's nothing else, and I leave first. If there is something wrong, you can press the call button."

Ralph nodded. After Edward left, he saw that Lottie was still looking at him and smiled at her.

"Uncle Ralph, and aunt Lottie, thank you so much."

Just as Lottie and Ralph were looking at each other, Kayden said.

If Ralph did not appear in time to control the situation, Kayden would not know what would happen.

He might never show his love to Natalia and miss her forever.

Thinking of this possibility, Kayden felt a dull pain in his heart, which was even more painful than his wound after the operation.

Ralph and Lottie's attention was diverted. Ralph glanced at Kayden and shook his head.

"You don't have to thank me."

"After I recover, I will hold a wedding with Natalia again and invite you to be our witness.

Ralph, "That's not necessary."

Lottie smiled, "Are you really going to hold a wedding? That's good."

As she spoke, she glanced at Ralph but did not say anything else.

Ralph felt that he was hinted by Lottie. He said, "How about we choose a good day, and get married together?"

"No." Lottie quickly refused.

Ralph: "..."

He knew that she also wanted a wedding, but why did she reject it?

Ralph was puzzled. Stella looked at her father speechlessly.

Why was he so stupid?

Every girl wanted a unique wedding. But her Daddy said it so casually to her mommy, so that her mommy refused it without hesitation.

Feeling the atmosphere was not good, Natalia hurried to said.

"You should to thank Mr. Chapman and Lottie. When you were in the quarantine ward, your parents came to the hospital."

Natalia told Kayden what happened today, as well as Rose's true identity.

Kayden's face darkened in an instant.

"In the past, I always felt that I wasn't valued by my father, but now I know the reason. He only cares about his daughter. Judging from Rose's personality, I know that father dotes on her very much."

Everyone was silent.

"When I met Rose at the first time, I didn't like her." Kayden sneered, "It seems that Rose comes here not just for Lincoln. It's very likely that she's targeting me."

Kayden knew it clearly.

Ralph reminded him, "Mr. Chapman and I already make an agreement. We will leave the company and the property to your mother and you. Your father will definitely make trouble to you."

Kayden said, "If he really makes trouble to me, I will not let him go."

Why should he care too much about such a cold and irresponsible father?

"You just finished the operation, so you'd better focus on recovering in the hospital during this period. I'll help you keep an eye on the company first. Tomorrow, your mother will come to the company and sign an agreement, and then we can have a good talk."

"Thank you, uncle Ralph."

Ralph shook his head and said, "If you want to thank me, you should live a good life with Natalia."

"Don't make trouble again. It's the best return for me."

After saying, he turned around and took Lottie's hand.

"Natalia, you stay here and take care of Kayden tonight. I'll arrange someone with Mr. Ross to take care of Mrs. Ross.

After Mrs. Ross leaves the quarantine ward, I'll also arrange someone to accompany her."

Natalia nodded, "Okay, thank you, uncle Ralph."

Knowing that Natalia had a lot to talk with Kayden, Ralph didn't want to disturb them. After saying, he took Lottie and his three babies home.

Until they reached home, Lottie felt that this matter came to an end, so she was in a good mood.

She cooked some delicious food, and ate with Ralph and her three babies happily. After the meal, they went back to their rooms to rest.

After the shower, Ralph came out and hugged Lottie.

"You said that I could do whatever I wanted before. Do you still keep your words?"

Lottie's face immediately turned red and turned to looked at him.

However, Ralph thought that she was seducing him, which made him erotogenic.

He immediately picked her up and placed her on the bed. Then, he pressed her down.

That night, Ralph made love with Lottie crazily for many times.

As a result, Lottie couldn't get up the next day.

So she didn't go to the hospital to see them sign the agreement. When she woke up, it was almost noon, and there was no one at home.

Ralph was at work in the company, and her babies studied in the kindergarten. After finished the meal, she went to the gym.

She had to train herself to be thinner because she was about to be on stage. Otherwise, it would be too embarrassing if Rose was slimmer than her.

After practicing for a while, her cell phone rang. It was Connie.

"Lottie, are you ready to make a comeback? Can I be your agent?" .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 450 It Was Not Safe

Connie came quickly.

When she came, she hugged Lottie and cried.

"Alfred is too rebarbative!"

"He takes away all my actors!"

"He says that only in this way can I have time to accompany him and put all my focus on him."

"Do you think that there's something wrong with his brain? I already break up with him. Why is he still so persistent? He is the best actor in the entertainment industry! Moreover, he is from the Bartons. Many excellent women like him!"

"Why does he insist on pestering me? He even wants to force me to change my job!"

Connie finished complaining and felt thirsty, so Lottie handed her over a big glass of water.

Connie thanked her and then gulped it down.

"What's more, he has rejected a lot of shows recently. He doesn't act or take any commercials. His fans are complaining about him. They guess if he has a girlfriend. Many people say that they want not to be his fans anymore!"

Lottie had been listening to her silently. Finally, she couldn't help but interrupt her.

"Take it easy. Alfred is not your actor. Why do you care so much?"

"No! I am the president of Alfred's fan club! If his fans give him up on a large scale, won't I be very useless?"

"Alfred doesn't work. How can it prove that you are useless?"

"Well, you don't interrupt me! As Alfred's fan, I will never allow such a situation to happen!"

Lottie felt it funny and asked, "So what are you going to do?"

"That's why I'm here for you! I want to be your agent and stay by your side. He can't make trouble to you and Mr. Chapman! When he thinks it clear, he will go back to work obediently."

"Am I smart?"

Seeing Connie's proud expression, Lottie didn't want to hurt her.

She could only say, "You are so smart."

Connie smiled, but she became serious soon.

"By the way, are you ready to shoot a film? Have you received a script yet? I can check it for you first."

Lottie waved her hands and said, "I don't shoot films."

Connie was stunned, "What?"

"I'm going to attend a variety show, Treasure 101. Have you heard of it?"

Connie suddenly widened her eyes.

"Really? Are you going to sing and dance?"

Lottie nodded, "Do you think I can do it?"

"Well. I don't know. I haven't seen you sing and dance before. I only know you are good at acting martial art films."

"Don't look down on me. I once studied acting skills and dance in an acting college."

Although Lottie was admitted to college, she failed to develop in the entertainment industry after graduation because of Luke and other reasons.

Instead, she became a extras and a stunt double.

So what she learned in college was useless.

Connie's eyes lit up when she heard that.

"That's great.! Everyone used to think that you are just an actor, but now you suddenly sing songs and dance. The audience will definitely have a different feeling. At that time, they will have a very deep impression of you!"

"I hear that as long as you are talented, everyone can participate in this show. At that time, you can conquer all audience with your talent and obtain their favor!"

Lottie nodded with a smile.

The more Connie thought about it, the more excited she felt. She immediately started making the following plans for Lottie.

"Have you submitted your registration form to the show organizers? The show is about to start, and the deadline of registration is coming."

Lottie didn't know this and asked, "Do I need to submit my registration form?"

"Yes. You have to submit it in person and there is a assessment on the spot. You can become a contestant after passing the test."

"Well." Lottie thought for a moment and asked, "When is the deadline?"

Connie couldn't remember it clearly.

"Wait for me. I ask it for you."

Connie sent a text message to one of her friends and soon received a reply.

"The deadline is tomorrow afternoon, and there are only three contestants quota left!"

"If you want to attend this show, you have to hurry up to hand in your registration form!"

Hearing that, Lottie felt anxious.

"What's the content of the registration form?"

"I'll download a registration form for you. You fill it up and then let's go to submit it in the afternoon.

"

"Okay."

Connie logged in the official website and downloaded the registration form, and then printed it in Lottie's study room.

Lottie filled the form up.

At the same time, Connie prepared clothes for Lottie. After Lottie changed her clothes and walked out, the door was opened.

Lottie turned her head and saw Ralph walking in. He was stunned when he saw Lottie dressed up and was about to leave.

"What are you doing?"

"Honey, why are you back at this time?"

Lottie ran forward quickly and held Ralph's arm.

"We are going to hand in the registration form."

She showed Ralph the registration form and explained the reason why she was in such a hurry to go out.

Ralph nodded.

"I send you." Ralph said.

Connie quickly waved her hands and said, "No need. I can take Lottie there."

"I'm her agent now. I should take her there."

Ralph looked at Connie and did not object her to be Lottie's agent.

He knew that Connie was Lottie's good friends, and she was a responsible person. It would be good if she was Lottie's agent, because she would take good care of Lottie.

"It's not safe for you two to go there alone.

When the assistants and bodyguards are ready, I won't follow you." Ralph explained.

Lottie and Connie looked at each other, and finally Connie compromised.

"Okay, thank you, Mr. Chapman."

Ralph said, "It's not troublesome for me to send my wife out."

Connie was speechless.

But Mr. Chapman was right. They were couple and it was reasonable for Mr. Chapman to protect his wife.

The three of them tidied up and then went to the shooting site together.

"Honey, why do you come home at this time? Don't you need to go to work?"

On the way to the shooting site, Lottie asked this question again.

Ralph said, "I come back to check whether you eat well at noon or not."

Lottie nodded and replied obediently, "I already ate."

Ralph smiled and touched her head, but there was worry in his eyes.

Just now, he received the news that Lincoln broke free from the tie-down straps when Edward was about to do experiment. Moreover, he stabbed Edward with a scissor and then escaped from the hospital.

Ralph was worried that Lottie would be in danger, so he hurriedly returned home.
