

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 481 She Still Wanted to Confuse Right and Wrong

With her talent, Sherry was dating eight boys at a time at her best.

And these eight people was not including her junior high school teacher.

Not long after she went to college, she broke up with the teacher and threatened him that if he dared to tell anyone she had been with him, she would expose go to the bad deeds of him to the Education Bureau.

After five years, the teacher had no longer been teaching in the countryside. Instead, he had been transferred to the city through some means. Now he had become a teacher in a noble high school, getting a high annual salary.

Sherry knew that he received bribes from his parents. Not only did he violate the school regulation by teaching outside school students, but he also voluntarily gave away the test questions to the rich students. Therefore, after being threatened by Sherry, he had to gave up on pestering her unwillingly in the end.

After getting rid of the teacher, Sherry became more unscrupulous.

She first seduced the president of the student union, took advantage of the relationship with him to enter the student union, took away the charity bonus from other students, and got a scholarship.

Then she used the networking of the student union to get in touch with many rich young masters. She seduced and asked them for benefits.

Until one day, a young master's family discovered their relationship.

All the rich family had to take a thorough investigation before they accepted a person.

Then, the fact that Sherry had many boyfriends couldn't be hidden anymore.

When the rich young master heard about this from his family, he was almost driven crazy and immediately went to school to question Sherry.

The young master directly slapped Sherry exposed her debauchery in public. Everyone was astonished.

They had never seen such a shameless person like Sherry!

As for the eight victims who had suffered greatly, they joined hands to teach Sherry a lesson.

Thus, Sherry was cast aside by everyone and expelled from the university. She was completely unable to stay in that city.

Even her family who had received the news were afraid that their reputation would be implicated by her, so they directly declared that they were severed from her. Sherry couldn't even return home.

For Sherry, this was a turning point in her life.

Sherry could only leave that city and come to Rexwell alone to earn a living.

She had done a lot of work including the sales of a jewelry store and the clerk of a store. She had also hired by a restaurant to wash the plates.

However, she couldn't even afford some normal cosmetics with such a meager salary, let alone support herself.

In the end, Sherry went to a bar and became a wine seller there.

Although she would occasionally be taken advantage of by men when she sold wine in a bar, her commission was very high. Occasionally, she would meet generous guests, and the tip was enough for her to spend a few months.

Sherry, who had always been indolent, loved this job. Relied on her young and beautiful, she bullied other female colleagues in private and took their customers.

Therefore, Sherry finally offended a female colleague, who was not someone to be trifled with. She immediately sent the photo of Sherry receiving a male guest to the guest's wife.

Thus, his wife came to taught her a lesson.

Sherry was stripped naked and thrown at the entrance of the bar, allowing every guest to admire her body for three days.

Three days later, Sherry couldn't stay in the bar any longer, so she had to come up with other ideas.

At this time, Sherry gave up the idea of seducing all rich men but focused on finding one to be her husband.

She took advantage of her business networking when she was selling wine and succeed in being a waiter in a high-end club. Then, she aimed at Ank in that club.

Now that the story had developed to this point, everything that happened after that was natural.

Sherry drugged Ank's wine and then put the blame on his competitors. She took advantage of his unconscious state to have a relationship with him.

She pretended to be the victim, which made Ank feel very guilty, so he proposed to give her a sum of money as compensation.

Sherry pretended to be insulted and silently left without taking the money.

Three months later, Sherry appeared again. Holding the test report, she told Ank with a terrified expression that she was pregnant.

At that time, Ank was not valued at home, and he was always scolded by his shrewish wife, which made his life extremely miserable.

Ank suddenly felt pride and confident that belonged to a man because of Sherry. He also thought that he could become the ruler of the life of this frail woman.

The two of them were secretly together just like that. Ank said that he would be responsible for Sherry, and he also told her to give birth to the child.

"Then Rose was born in such a situation."

Ralph explained the whole story with a poke face and showed all the evidence he found on the big screen.

Not only did he find Sherry's parents, but he also found her classmates of the primary and middle school, and the college, he even found her teachers and so on...

He asked them to come out one by one and provide some evidences including the notice of withdrawn student from the university, the discussion posts on the university forum, and the witnesses of the victims who had been deceived by her...

Even the guest's wife who took revenge on Sherry, stripped off her clothes and threw her at the entrance of the bar, was found by Ralph, and even came out to testify.

She had already divorced, so this time she did not intend to hide it for her ex-husband. She directly told him about it and even posted it on Facebook to prove the authenticity.

The audience and the netizens who were watching the live broadcast exclaimed that it was an eye-opener.

More and more people were watching the live broadcast, but Ralph's expression was particularly calm.

"After Rose was born, she was hidden. We've been kept in the dark all this while.

Not long ago, Miss Rose suddenly came to the hospital and said that she was a fan of Natalia. She even wanted to donate her kidney to Natalia's mother."

"Before that, Kayden had already made a matching, of course. That's why a news said that Kayden wanted to donate kidney to Natalia's mother but was stopped by my sister-in-law."

Speaking of this, Ralph looked straight at the camera and said coldly, "I think many people here still remember this."

At that time, the reporters had surrounded Natalia at the scene and said a lot of unpleasant words to her. Now that Ralph pointed it out, they could not help feeling a little embarrassed.

"My sister-in-law stopped Kayden because as a mother, she couldn't bear anything to happen to her son. That's easy to understand. However, what puzzled me was that why Rose came out at the exact time and had a matching data which was even more suitable than Kayden's. Furthermore, why she had a great hostility towards Kayden at the beginning. Most importantly, why her surname was Chapman too."

"When we were full of doubts about her, my wife, Lottie, rejected Rose's request to donate kidney. After all, donating kidney isn't a small thing to a girl. And Rose's attitude is so ambiguous. I didn't expect that Rose would send a video to question my wife and cause public opinion to attack us."

"Not only that, but she also wants to reverse the truth and frame us." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 482

Ralph, I Want You Die!

Ralph explained what had happened in the Contest Room this morning, as well as Eve's reply.

He said in a speed which was neither fast nor slow, and very calm, but no one dared to question the authenticity of his words.

In the past, Ralph was well-known, but he kept a low profile and never showed up in public.

Ralph had only revealed his face in front of the public ever since he married Lottie.

The public's impression of Ralph was not only his handsome face, but also his cold personality and his sharp means.

Looking back at how he handled with the recent events, every time he had collected evidence to support his decision, which could be called extreme fair.

Therefore, this time, before Ralph could provide evidence, the netizens and reporters had completely believed his words.

"She is too shameless! Rose's birth mother makes me disgust!"

"Dating with eight boys at a time? It's too shocking!"

"If the mother is so despicable, how could her daughter be a decent people?"

"She even schemed with Eve to frame Lottie and drive her out of the program group. Why did she think so well? I even suspected that her faint and being hospitalized probably was a pretence. She wants to frame Lottie on purpose."

"That's disgusting. No wonder I didn't like Rose from the very beginning. I always feel that she's too hypocritical."

"Even though Rose knows her own background, she still went to the hospital on purpose to say that she wanted to donate kidney to Natalia's mother. It must be a lie that she was a fan of Natalia. She must have wanted Natalia break up with Kayden, and kill Natalia's mother by the way!"

"Fortunately, Lottie is smart and refused to accept her donating kidney. Otherwise, who knows what disgusting things she will do again?"

"I have a friend who is one of Rose's classmates. She told me that Rose is too hypocritical. She always acted like a spoiled child with a male classmate and then asked them to do things for her. It must have been taught by her mother!"

The netizens were filled with righteous indignation as they criticized Rose. There were even quite a few who had guessed the truth and revealed all of Rose's goals.

Rose's reputation plummeted to the lowest point.

Eve, who was watching from the side, widened her eyes and began to tremble.

She knew that when the past of Rose's mother was exposed to the public, not only would Sherry's life, but also Rose's life would be ruined.

With such a mother, who would believe that her daughter would be innocent?

After the shock, she wanted to rush to the stage to stop the press conference, because she knew that Ralph would not let her go. The evidence he showed next must have something to do with her.

Even if she couldn't debut in the entertainment, she didn't want her reputation to be completely ruined!

However, just as she took two steps forward, someone pressed her shoulder and dragged her away from the press conference to stop her from ruining the conference.

At the same time, among the netizens who were watching the live broadcast, there was person involved.

Ank was not only surprised but also angry!

He never dreamed that Sherry would be such a shameless woman! What's more, he didn't expect that Sherry had schemed to have sex with him at that time!

He had originally thought that he would be able to control Sherry's life, and that he would be able to obtain respect and happiness from Sherry and Rose, but it turned out to be a scam now!

He was so angry that he wanted to call Sherry to verify, only to find that the number that he was familiar with couldn't be connected all the time!

"B*tch!"

Ank was so angry that he smashed his phone.

The servants at home were too scared to breathe. Ank wanted to find Sherry and ask her face to face!

He hurried out of the door and drove to Trust Town.

But he didn't expect that because of his bad mood, he didn't notice the red light at the intersection. Before he could vent the rage to Sherry, he was knocked by a small truck coming from the opposite side and sent into the hospital.

As for Rose, who was waiting for good news from Eve at the hospital, she didn't receive a call back for a long time.

Rose suddenly had a bad feeling. It was at this moment that the nurse came to check her.

The nurse who had been full of sympathy and care for her before, for some reason, was particularly cold this time.

When pulling out the needle for her, the nurse tried not to touch her as much as possible, as if she disliked her very much.

Rose frowned slightly and asked the nurse softly, "Madam, have I done anything to make you angry?"

The nurse paused when she put away the bottle and turned to look at her expressionlessly.

"No."

"Then why..."

"The infusion are done. Please have a rest if you have nothing to do. Call me if you need anything."

The nurse didn't want to talk too much with her. After saying these words, she left with her things.

The door was not closed well, and the conversation between the nurse and her colleagues could be heard faintly.

"Did she talk to you?"

"Well, I'm a little cold. She said that I was angry with her and wanted to cry, as if I bullied her. It's disgusting."

"Tsk, it seems that she had learned a lot about pretending to be weak from her mother. She is really scheming!"

"That's right. I sympathized with her so much before, but I didn't expect her and her mother to be so disgusting! Not only did her mother wreck another couple, but they also framed the children of the couple. How shameless!"

The nurses' voices gradually faded away, but Rose's face instantly turned pale.

Her grabbed the sheets hard.

Something really happened...

Her identity should have been exposed, but things were not going as she had imagined.

She had no choice but to ask help from the staff sent by the program group to take care of her, asking him to find out what had happened.

This male staff was part-time assistant in the program group. He had been staying with Rose in the hospital all this while, so he didn't know what had happened. When he heard that Rose was asking him for help, he went out to ask around.

It didn't take long for him. When he came back, he looked at Rose with a complicated gaze.

Rose suppressed the uneasiness in her heart and smiled obsequiously at him. "Sir, what happened? Can you tell me? I... I don't want to be hated by others."

She looked like she was on the verge of tears, and she had a fever now, which made the staff softhearted, after all, he was a man, although he had acquired that Rose might not be as innocent as he had seen.

He simply turned on the TV for her and directly showed her the live video of the press conference.

"It's hard to say. You would better look at it yourself."

Looking at Ralph's handsome face on the screen, Rose hadn't reacted at first.

It wasn't until her mother's dark past had been exposed that she slowly came to her senses.

The face, which had fascinated her before, suddenly became hateful.

When she heard that Ralph had revealed all plans made by her and Eve, Rose finally couldn't bear it any longer. She grabbed the cup of water on the bedside table and threw it at Ralph's face-

"Ralph, I want you die!" ..

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 483 Rose's Missing

Rose, who was in a state of rage, startled the assistant.

He had never seen Rose acting so hysterical before. She had lost control of her emotions like a lunatic.

The assistant was about to speak but stopped on second thought. Just then, the phone in his pocket vibrated.

He sneaked a glance at Rose and quickly walked out to answer the phone.

"Director." "I was just about to call you."

The director was also very upset. The variety show had just begun. It was only a few days ago, and trouble kept coming. Although it kept drawing the attention of the public and led to high viewing rate, the director also felt very annoyed.

He had been in the entertainment for so many years, but he had never seen such a difficult process in shooting a variety show!

"How is Rose?"

"She frightened me. After watching the press conference, she went mad. She even smashed the TV with a glass of water."

It wouldn't be long before the nurse came to Rose for compensation.

Just as he was thinking about it, the nurse appeared. She threw him a glance suspiciously before pushing open the door to Rose's ward.

"Ah, what have you done?"

A scream was heard, and the assistant pressed his forehead in annoyance.

The director was speechless after knowing the situation.

He had thought that Rose was smart and calm before, and had tried to make her a popular competitor for many times. He hadn't expected her to let him down.

Not only did she have such a controversial birth mother, but she was also someone who didn't know the severity of the situation. She was trying to provoke Lottie and Natalia. See? Mr. Chapman had immediately turned her into a stepping stone.

Not only could she not return to the Chapman family in the future, but her acting career would also be ruined.

The director was still reluctant to part with his five million dollars, but he had no other choice.

"Why don't you just come back? You don't have to worry about Rose anymore."

"Ah? That's not good, is it?" The assistant took a look at the ward. Rose had regained her composure. She was lying on the hospital bed, her eyes brimming with tears. Being censured by the nurse, she didn't dare to say a word.

"She looked quite pitiful..."

The assistant thought.

The director said, "You pity her so much.

Why not pay for her hospitalization fee?"

The assistant immediately stopped pitying. "No, Sir, I don't have enough money to raise myself."

"Then what are you talking about? If you take a taxi back now, I can pay for the taxi fee."

"Do you want to tell Rose something?"

"Tell her that she violate the rules of our program. The program group has the right to expel the contestant who was has misbehavior. Tell her to be decent in the future!"

"Got it, director!"

After hanging up the phone, he smoked two cigarettes before turned around to have a talk with Rose. However, when he back, there was no one else in the ward.

"Madam, where's the patient on the bed?"

The nurse was cleaning up the bed. The set that Rose had used had already been thrown into the black trash can next to her. She was currently making the bed with a new one.

The nurse rolled her eyes. "How would I know? She said she was going through the discharge formalities. She's probably gone."

After that, she muttered in a low voice, "Thanks god she had left. Such a lunatic. I don't know where she usually plays. Maybe she had already developed syphilis, who knows?"

Feeling helpless, he apologized to the nurse and turned to leave, but was stopped by the nurse.

"Wait, she was discharged from the hospital. But she hasn't paid for the broken TV. Since you are here to take care of her, you should pay for it!"

The assistant: "..."

The assistant searched the entire hospital but failed to find Rose. In the end, he had to obediently compensate for the TV and asked the hospital to make out a bill. He take it back to the director for expenses claim.

But he was severely criticized by the director.

"Rose has run away, why are you looking for her? Can't you just leave?"

"You even pay the compensate of the TV, it costs several hundred dollars!"

"Damn Rose. She hasn't even earned me a few thousand yuan, but already caused me many troubles. She's really a jinx. It's good for her to leave!"

After finished speaking, he became angrier when he saw that the assistant was still standing there.

"What are you doing here? Get out of here and work!"

"Well, Sir. I just wonder that since Rose has been expelled, what about Eve?"

Speaking of this, the director was annoyed again.

"Expel! Expel them together! I'll issue a statement later!"

Mr. Chapman exposed all the bad things they had done. Now the netizens were excited on the Internet. How dare he not fire these two "the cause of trouble"? Too many enthusiastic netizens had sent comments to him on the Facebook!

Therefore, when Ralph finished the press conference, the notice of expulsion from the program group was immediately issued.

Some reporters said that they saw Eve was directly driven away from the recording site of the show. The Smith family did not dare to send a car to pick her up because they also felt embarrassing.

As for Rose, very few people knew where she had gone. The reporters wanted to find and interview her, but they didn't expect that they couldn't find her at all.

The netizens were overjoyed. After venting their emotions, they forgot Rose and Eve and began to look forward to the official broadcast of the show.

After these two incidents, netizens were looking forward to the variety show!

Lottie and the others had no idea what was going on.

The four of them adapted the song, and then sang it together with musical instruments. The effect was amazing.

"Success!"

"Great!"

"It sounds so good!"

Even Jessica couldn't help but say in English, "I love you!"

Some people express their emotions directly. She held the four of them together!

After being stunned for a while, Lottie and Natalia laughed together and hugged to encourage.

"It's all thanks to Violet this time. If it weren't for her, I wouldn't have known that this song could be adapted so successfully.

"

Lottie said with smile, couldn't help but pat Violet on the shoulder.

This girl was really talented, but she was too indifferent.

Violet smiled a little when she heard that.

Just as she was about to say something, someone knocked on the door of the training room.

Bridge leaned against the door, smiling at the four people in the dance room.

"Thank you for your hard work. Everyone is very excellent. You didn't let me down."

With his amorous eyes, he looked as if he was seducing someone when casting the glance at her.

All of a sudden, Lottie lost her good mood and felt disgusted.

She turned her head and wanted to exchange glances with Natalia. However, she noticed that the smile on Violet's face had disappeared and that she had returned to her defensive state. Her gaze was especially cold.

Lottie subconsciously grabbed her hand, but Violet shrugged her away.

Her actions made everyone fell silent.

The atmosphere suddenly turned cold.

Violet looked at Lottie indifferently. "I'm sorry, just stress reaction."

Was the stress reaction a little too intense?

Lottie thought to herself. Before she could figure it out, she saw Bridge gently clapping his hands.

"Ladies and girls, look at me. With such a handsome man standing in front of you, your attention can still be distracted. I'm so sad." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 484 Then I'll Apologize to You

If Bridge said these words to his fans, he might look very charming.

The kind that can make fans scream and cry.

But when Natalia and Lottie heard this, they only felt that he was too greasy.

Jessica, who was not good at English, didn't immediately understand the meaning of his words. She looked at Bridge in confusion.

As for Violet, she was always poker-faced. No one could understand what she was thinking.

The four of them didn't give a satisfactory answer, which made Bridge a little embarrassed.

After a while, he suddenly smiled meaningfully.

"In addition to checking your works, I am here to send you a message."

"Eve and Rose have withdrawn from the competition."

"No, not withdraw. To be exact, they were scratched from the competition."

After Bridge finished speaking, he stared straight at Lottie, as if he wanted to see through her.

This news was even more attractive than Bridge himself.

Everyone was very surprised, including Lottie.

She had thought that Ralph would take revenge for her, but she hadn't expected her husband to be so strong that he would kick Rose out of the competition so quickly.

She and Natalia looked at each other. Natalia cleared her throat and asked, "Bridge... Mr. Joshua, can you tell us why they were scratched?"

Natalia had always been respected as a teacher.

She was used to call the juniors with their name. When she saw the camera, she remembered that she was no longer the Natalia who could do whatever she wanted in the entertainment.

Bridge glanced at her and smiled.

"Of course, Ms. Ross."

"They were chased away because they did something wrong."

Bridge continued gently, "How dare they offend Lottie?"

After saying that, the atmosphere in the training room seemed to be colder a lot than before.

Violet blinked twice, and said coldly. "What do you mean? Were they scratched just because of the accident in the morning?"

Eve claimed that what happened in the morning was just an accident. Rose had fainted and was sent to the hospital. Violet even felt that Lottie couldn't fight back this time.

She didn't expect the situation to turn around in the end.

"I heard that the Smith family is quite rich. Does they have any objections?"

Countless questions came to Violet's mind, and the look in her eyes became more and more complicated when she looked at Lottie.

She couldn't help but ask, "Is it because they offended Lottie?"

Violet hated rich people who used power to oppress others, and she also respected every contestant who relied on strength to pursue dreams.

Although Eve and Rose weren't very kind, they weren't bad enough to be kicked out of the program group. From her point of view, they were much stronger than many others in the program group.

"Why not ask them to apologize first? Is it fair to them to be driven away directly?"

If Lottie had such great power and could decide whether a contestant could stay, what was the point of the variety show?

Violet was already considering keeping a distance from Lottie in the future.

Natalia looked serious. "The reason why the program group expelled a contestant must be that the contestant made an irreversible mistake and violated the rules made by the program group. It may not necessarily have anything to do with the accident in the morning, and it has nothing to do with Lottie directly."

Natalia understood what Violet meant. She could even predict that when the news spread, there would definitely be many competitors who had the same thoughts as Violet's.

Bridge retorted with a smile, "Ms. Ross, you're wrong."

"It really has something to do with Lottie."

"Not only her, but also you."

Natalia was stunned.

Lottie frowned as she looked at Bridge. "Come to the point. Don't always beat around the bush. It's annoying."

She could tell that Bridge was deliberately saying something that would easily cause misunderstandings. It was as if he was testing the reactions of all of them, or if he was deliberately watching the good fun from the side.

No matter what, he was annoying.

Even the cameraman couldn't help but gasp.

In his memory, no one had ever dared to speak to Bridge like this. If Bridge's fans saw this, they would definitely scold Lottie.

Bridge had been in high spirits first, but when Lottie said those words, his relaxed expression suddenly changed, and his gaze that was staring at her also became sharp.

He really liked a prey who would show off its claws because it was particularly interesting to him.

But the premise was that the little prey's claws would not scratch him.

"I just feel that the atmosphere is too tense, so I want to make a joke with you."

"I'm not... annoying, am I?"

Bridge pretended to be very sad. He believed that if this video was released, Lottie would definitely not be praised.

However, Lottie didn't fall for his trick.

"Is it funny? Mr. Joshua, two contestants were scratched, such a serious thing. Can you make fun of it? You even guided others to blame me for it. This is not something a kind person can do. If you were me, weren't you annoyed?"

Bridge: "..."

He secretly gritted his teeth.

He almost forgot that Lottie had always been so sharp-tongued and forthright. Didn't she also show no mercy when she scolded Yoyo?

At the same time, Bridge felt happy.

The harder it was to conquer, the more satisfying and enjoyable it would be when he completely conquered this prey.

He couldn't wait to see her crying under his body.

It must be cool.

Bridge put away his injured expression and solemnly said to Lottie, "I really don't think that much. Lottie, if I made you unhappy, I apologize to you."

Lottie didn't say a word. She didn't really want to accept such a perfunctory apology.

Bridge let out a long sigh and explained, "The information of Rose's birth mother has been exposed, coupled with the fact that Rose and Eve have colluded with the staff at the beginning of the show to make trouble to some contestants."

Lottie frowned.

If the information of Rose's birth mother was exposed, wouldn't it be made public that she was Ank's illegitimate daughter?

Bridge didn't know what Lottie was thinking. Seeing that everyone was listening carefully, he continued to tell more details.

"Eve deliberately poured the items onto your bed. They've thought of a lot of ways to frame the other competitors. Coupled with Rose's special status, the impact of the incident is too bad. After a discussion, the program group has carefully decided to expel the two of them."

Hearing this, Violet looked more friendly.

It seemed that she had misunderstood Lottie. .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 485 What Kind of Person Do You Take Me For?

Perhaps Bridge had seen through Violet's thoughts, so he added a few more sentences.

"If it weren't for Mr. Chapman's press conference, indicating that Rose was Kayden's half-sister and personally revealed the truth of the past, we wouldn't have thought that Rose would have such a bizarre background."

"Lottie, Ms. Ross, you have been wronged."

Bridge didn't stay in the training room for long. After seeing their adapted songs, he left.

However, what he had just said was like a tossed stone which raised a thousand ripples, causing Jessica and Violet to feel uneasy.

Then, these words somehow spread among the contestants.

On their way back to the dormitory, they could still hear whispers from other contestants from time to time.

"They are contestants of Class A who might be able to make a debut. And she's also Kayden's younger sister. Why is she so reckless as to offend Lottie? Now, she's been kicked out."

"Rose is Kayden's younger sister, so she is the niece of Mr. Chapman. She's going to call Lottie aunt."

"They're all members of the Chapman family. Why are they still hurting each other?"

"You don't understand, do you? A niece isn't important than a wife! As long as you offend Lottie, Ralph will kill you whether you are his family or not."

"Rose has a fever and passed out, so how can the Chapman family still want to hurt her? Mr. Chapman even exposed Rose's identity just to drive her away. This is too..."

"Shh, Lottie is here."

"Stop talking. Do you want to be kicked out?"

"There's no need to be so afraid of Lottie, is there? We haven't done anything wrong. Do they want to forbid us to discuss?"

"Rose and Eve didn't do anything either. It was just because Eve didn't have a good attitude towards Lottie that they had a small conflict with each other. In the end, their reputations were all ruined. If you wanted to make Lottie unhappy, it would be easy for Mr. Chapman to chased you out of the show if Lottie report it to him."

These contestants in the manor had handed over their mobile phones.

They had not seen Ralph's press conference and did not know the truth. They could only get a few vague words from the mentors and staff. The truth that came together from these words gave them imaginary space.

They didn't know that Rose had let Eve reveal her identity first, and she had framed the Chapman family before Ralph came out to fight back. They didn't know what her birth mother had done, so they subconsciously treated her and her mother as victims.

The only result they could see was that Eve and Rose had been expelled by the program group. And It was led by Mr. Chapman personally.

The new star with a bright future ended up being ridiculed, coupled with the end of her career. He didn't give any way out at all. It was really Mr. Chapman's style of doing things.

Similar comments became more and more unbearable after they were spread.

The more enthusiastic the mentors were toward Lottie and Natalia, the colder the contestants looked at them. No one was willing to make friends with them. Sometimes, they would even be ridiculed by the contestants for no reason.

Lottie tried to explain a few times, but no one listened carefully. Their attitude toward them became more and more perfunctory.

Lottie and Natalia could clearly feel that they were being isolated by all the contestants.

Four or five days later, they faced the first big trouble.

After rehearsing together for so long, Violet suddenly didn't want to perform with Lottie and the others before the public performance.

She wanted to switch to the group which Rose was in before.

Even the director group was caught off guard. They stopped recording and asked Violet why she wanted to change her team.

"I can't perform in the same group with Lottie."

"If you want to expel me because of this, you can do whatever you want.

"

Violet's expression was exceptionally cold as she spoke.

The director only felt troubled. It was not easy for him to calm down for a few days, now he was in trouble again.

He had been waiting and watching in front of the camera. They had been fine before, why did Violet suddenly want to leave?

The director looked at Violet seriously and said, "If you don't want to, then you should bring it up when you are divided into groups, not wait until this time to go back on your word. This is very irresponsible!"

Violet seemed to have been persuaded. She rolled her eyes uneasily and finally managed to calm down.

She said coldly, "That's because I didn't know before that Lottie was such a person."

Lottie was also called over by the staff. As soon as she approached, she heard Violet's words. She couldn't help but be puzzled. "What kind of person do You take me for?"

Violet noticed Lottie's gaze and her breathing quickened. Subconsciously, she clenched her fists.

Seeing that Violet didn't speak, Lottie took the initiative to say, "I heard that you wanted to change teams because of me?"

"Do you really hate me so much?"

Violet pursed her lips and looked down at the ground.

Lottie had once asked this question, but her answer had not changed. "I really hate you."

Lottie nodded. "Oh."

Seeing that she didn't seem to be surprised at all, let alone emotional fluctuations, Violet started to get angry for no reason.

"Don't you know yourself well?"

"You are overbearing and arrogant. You are selfish, and never care about other people's feelings."

"What's more, you like to perform.

When you rehearse, you hand over the adapted work to others, but in the end, you take all the credit. You always take the most outstanding part of the work to make others your foil."

Violet didn't say much at first, but now she suddenly spoke endlessly. Her words were full of accusations against Lottie.

Lottie listened quietly, nodding from time to time. When she saw Violet stop, she asked, "Is there anything else?"

Violet was speechless.

"It's really hard for you to say so much." Lottie said, "It took you a lot of time to think about it, didn't it?"

Violet didn't understand why she could be so calm.

She simply turned her face away and said coldly to the director, "The conflict between me and Lottie cannot be settled, so I must change my team."

Violet thought for a moment and added, "And I would take back my adapted song. The version they practiced before can no longer be used!"

The director was very worried about Violet's stubbornness. "Violet, you can't do this."

Violet frowned. "Why can't I? Is it just because she's Lottie that she can take over other people's results and do whatever she wants?"

The director was very angry. "It's not what you said. Don't mess around!"

"The first public performance is coming soon. If you make a fuss about changing teams now, it won't be good for you and Lottie, and it will also affect the final results of the two teams. It's not a small matter!"

Violet said, "It won't be affected if I go to the Fast Song Group. I've practiced with them in private. I can integrate into their group."

As for the performance of the group of Lottie, It had nothing to do with her.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 486

Maybe We Should Start Again

After Violet finished speaking, the director was very angry.

An intern who had not yet made her debut dared to give the director such a big problem. No matter how strong she was in the future, the director would not dare to support her again.

Violet only considered herself, but no other teammates. She was too selfish and irresponsible. If this video was broadcast, there would be a lot of controversy online.

The director persuaded her for a long time, but Violet refused to change her mind.

"Have you thought it over? If you change your team at the last minute regardless of the overall situation, it will definitely bring you trouble in the future."

Violet remained expressionless. "I don't care."

"Aha, you don't care about it? Violet, I hope you will have the capital to be arrogant in the future."

Violet was very unhappy. "I'm all relying on my own strength, unlike some people who rely on their background."

The director's face darkened even more when he heard her blaming Lottie.

This show was said to be absolutely fair, and the director also took Ralph's money and guarantee that there would not be any scandal.

However, it was hard to judge. For example, the director had received five million dollars to guarantee that Eve would be able to make a debut, these were all hidden rules. Whether Violet accepted it or not, she could not say it so bluntly.

Once it was said, it would be said to against the whole industry.

In fact, the director didn't give her any preferential treatment. After Eve and Rose left, everything was fair.

"Do you have any evidence? Violet, what's the benefit for you to slander the contestants and the show?"

Violet's expression changed. She looked at the director coldly. "Because I can't provide evidence, so you can secretly do it and blame all my credit on Lottie?"

"Your credit will not be erased, and we will show the whole process of your creation and adaptation. The program has not been edited yet, why can you be so sure?"

"I..."

During the conversation between the director and Violet, Lottie finally understood.

"All right." She interrupted their conversation.

"She wants to change her team, right? Let her change."

The director was very frustrated. "Lottie, do you know what you're talking about?"

"If she changes her team now, it means that all your previous efforts are in vain."

Whether the song or the dance, they had to be rearranged.

Now, there were less than three days left before the first public performance.

The director said in a serious tone, "What's more, there is a rule in the program group that there must be four people at the least in each team. Violet insists on changing teams.

There would be only three people left in your team."

This was not in line with the program group's rules. On the day of the broadcast, netizens would inevitably discuss it.

The program group couldn't guide public opinion too much. For Lottie and her two teammates, the situation was not very favorable.

The director had been in the entertainment for a long time. He knew that sometimes netizens were particularly unreasonable. They would not care about the truth of the matter. They were only willing to believe what they had seen.

In the face of the director's earnest persuasion, Lottie still nodded calmly.

"She really doesn't want to. We can't force her."

"And she has such a big problem with me. Even if she didn't succeed in changing teams in the end, it's hard to guarantee that she won't deliberately make mistakes on the stage. Her leaving now is a good thing for us."

Lottie noticed that after she finished speaking, Violet's face turned pale.

She couldn't help laughing in her heart.

Violet was the one who had stirred up all the trouble. How could she still act like she had been abandoned?

The director was still a little hesitant. "But..."

"That's it." Lottie said, "Director, we don't have to cut off this part because I have a clear conscience. Even if only three people form our team in the end, we will bear all the consequences.

"

The director couldn't convince them and couldn't help sighing.

"When your team is graded, we may lower the overall score of your team accordingly, so you would have no objection either?"

"It doesn't matter." Lottie said indifferently.

"All right."

The director finally gave up.

Violet got what she wanted and changed to another team, but she didn't look very happy.

After coming out of the director's office, Violet and Lottie walked side by side for a while.

Violet appeared to be preoccupied with many matters, but Lottie was exceptionally calm.

Each team have an independent training room. The one that Violet was about to go to was next to the room where Lottie's team was.

Lottie arrived first.

Seeing that Lottie was about to push open the door and walk in, Violet couldn't help but stop her.

Lottie turned around with a smile on her face.

"What else do you want?"

For some reason, Violet felt anger in her heart.

Why she was still smiling? Was she really a saint?

"You have nothing to say to me?"

Lottie shrugged. "I have nothing to say."

Violet held her breath.

"I don't know who asked you to change your team temporarily and let you do such a harmful thing." Lottie suddenly said with a serious expression, "But there's something I want to advise you."

Violet looked at Lottie in horror with gloomy eyes.

"You are really talented. I hope you won't do anything that will make yourself regret."

After saying this, Lottie smiled again without any anger as she pushed the door open.

"See you, Violet.

"

The door opened and closed again.

Violet stood alone in the empty corridor, but her heart felt as if it had been frozen by something.

She still remembered the first time she had called her "Violet" with a bright smile, which made her heart tremble.

Ever since that time, Lottie had been calling her so intimately.

But now, Lottie had called her-Violet.

Perhaps this was the best end.

People like her didn't deserve any friendship at all.

She had too many heavy burdens, so she shouldn't have been standing with the bright Lottie.

Because the more open-minded Lottie was, the more despicable she looked.

Don't regret it, Violet.

YOU HAVE NO WAY BACK.

Taking a deep breath, Violet finally walked through the training room and forward.

However, during this period of time, she had finally become a little more active. Now, she had returned to the silent and gloomy cold player, as if she had suddenly lost all her spirit.

Hearing the sound of footsteps gradually fading away, Lottie leaned against the door and shook her head helplessly, looking at her two teammates who were looking at her worriedly.

"Sorry, I couldn't bring Violet back."

Natalia frowned. "Is she really going to change her team?"

Lottie nodded. "Not only that, but she also took away the song we have adapted. We might have to start over again."

This time, both Natalia and Jessica felt it was a big problem.

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 487 Let's Not Get involved for the Time being

Jessica called out directly.

"No! This is impossible!"

Natalia was also very angry. "The Public Performance would hold at eight o'clock in the night after tomorrow. And it's eight o'clock in the morning. It means we only have 60 hours left. And in these 60 hours, sometime should be removed in which we eat, sleep, and rest. It's too late..."

"This is an impossible task. Lottie, you shouldn't have agreed so easily."

Time was too limited. It was too difficult for them to complete the adaption and make up a new dance within 60 hours.

Jessica paced back and forth in the practice room anxiously. She was already very nervous, and now she was even more anxious.

"I'm sorry, but I've dragged you down this time. Violet left the team because she has a problem of me."

Lottie looked at Jessica. "If you also want to change teams, I can communicate with the director again, because it's not fair for you."

As for Natalia... Anyway, they were a family. Even if Natalia wanted to change her team, no one would be willing to accept her. It was better to keep her by her side.

Jessica frowned and replied in standard English, "Who do you think I am? Although I am angry, it is not because of you. I have seen how much you have paid for everyone during this period of time."

"I won't betray you." Jessica swore.

She was angry because of Violet's betrayal. She felt that Violet was really strange.

Hearing what Jessica said, Lottie slowly smiled.

Finally, there was a reasonable person who could repay her efforts.

"Lottie, this really won't do. Why don't we persuade Violet again?"

Natalia frowned. The difficulty this time was too great. The main reason was that Violet's adapted version was too successful. If they changed it now, it was not easy for them to innovate.

If it was not adapted well, then it was meaningless. If the adapted version was too good, Violet could say that they had copied it.

In short, no matter how hard they tried, it couldn't turn to a good result.

If the result was not good in the end, they would be eliminated collectively. It might not have any effect on their career in the future, but the netizens would definitely criticize them.

The road that Ralph had painstakingly built for them would also be full of thorns.

Natalia opened the door and wanted to look for Violet.

However, Lottie stopped her.

"It's useless." Lottie said, "Since she chose to offend us and the director at this time, it means that she has made up her mind to do so. It's not like we can change her mind with just a few words."

That was why she didn't even bother to persuade her just now.

Jessica was very disappointed after hearing this. She secretly schemed with Lottie. "Didn't you live in the same dormitory as Violet? Can you secretly beat her up while she's not paying attention?"

Lottie, "..."

Sure, it was in line with Jessica's style.

As expected, she had a clear understanding of love and hatred and was straightforward.

"No." Natalia looked at Jessica seriously and replied in English, "Fighting is forbidden between contestants. If someone breaks this rule, she is very likely to be expelled."

Natalia was not very good at French, but she could basically communicate with Jessica. Thanked for her manager who hired a tutor to teach her before.

Jessica was immediately discouraged.

Lottie found it funny and then clapped her hands.

"Come on, girls."

"Don't worry. Cheer up."

"It's useless to worry. As long as we unite, there's nothing we can't do."

"

Natalia looked sad. "These words can't comfort me."

Jessica was also sad. "Me too!!"

There was nothing Lottie could do but ask the two of them back into their work, first of all, adapted the song before made up the dance. They worked so hard that they just ate a few meals.

The next day, the three of them were very busy.

However, what comfort Lottie was that the other two didn't complain. Although it was really hard to get a little advance, no one wanted to give up.

In the living room of the Chapman's Mansion.

Stella's eyes were filled with tears as she looked at Lottie on the big screen. Because she hadn't eaten much and her physical strength had been consumed too quickly, Lottie's face looked a little pale.

"Daddy, Mommy has worked so hard. Let's think of a way to help them."

Fabian chimed in, "Daddy, can we find someone to help them adapt the song and then send it to Mommy?"

Ralph also felt great pity for Lottie when he saw how tired she was.

But there was nothing he could do. This was the way that Lottie had chosen, and he couldn't stop her.

"No."

The person who spoke was Elijah. He coldly swept his gaze across Fabian.

"This is cheating."

It was shameful to cheat. He believed that Mommy didn't want to win in this way.

Ralph nodded in agreement. "Fabian, this is Mommy's competition. She hopes that it will be carried out fairly."

Fabian got heated. "Mommy wants it to be fair, but what Violet done means that the competition format is already unfair!"

In that case, why couldn't they help?

"If Mommy wins in this way, do you think she'll be happy?"

Elijah said coldly.

"If you trusted Mommy, you shouldn't have said something like that."

Fabian was originally speaking eloquently, but when he heard Elijah's words, he immediately lowered his head.

He was very sad and even secretly reached out to wipe his tears.

It wasn't that he didn't believe in Mommy, he just wanted her to win more easily.

Ralph could not help but sigh. He reached out to hug the three children.

"Well, I know you are all worried about Mommy. If Mommy knows that you are quarreling for her, she will be sad."

Stella looked at Lottie on the screen and couldn't help but cry in Ralph's arms.

"I'm so angry. Why did Violet do that?"

"Daddy, can we teach her a lesson?"

As for this suggestion, it was rare for Elijah not to object.

He also hated Violet's sudden betrayal. She should indeed be punished!

Ralph shook his head and refused.

"Mommy should want to handle this matter by herself. Let's not interfere for now."

Moreover, compared to Violet, there seemed to be a man waiting for him to deal with.

That was Bridge. This man threw covetous stares at Lottie several times. Although he had hidden it very well, he couldn't hide it from Ralph.

Ralph pinched his fingers and contacted Sean.

"Haven't we found Rose yet?"

Lincoln and Rose disappeared one after another, giving Ralph a bad feeling.

He always felt that someone had asked Violet to change her team behind the scenes.

Could it be Lincoln and Rose?

Sean's voice was calm as he said, "Rose is hiding very well, so we have no choice but to make other plans. After took the cue and went to the trust town, we've already found out where Sherry is and are about to bring her back." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 488 What a Vicious Plan

The distance between Trust Town and Rexwell was not far.

Sherry was quickly brought to Ralph by Sean.

She was indeed very beautiful. Even after so many years, she still looked very young. Perhaps it was because Ank had given Sherry a lot of money that she was still able to take care of herself in a small place like Trust Town.

After the mistress of Ank, Sherry's character seemed to have completely changed. She was not as high-profile and arrogant as she was when she was young; instead, she became gentle and soft.

This was what Ank liked and wanted most.

She was as weak as a bird and would not resist any of his decisions. She was gentle and obedient, which could satisfy his lust to conquest and masculinity.

Ralph walked slowly toward her with an unusually cold expression.

Sherry looked at this tall and handsome man in front of her and swallowed her saliva in fear.

According to her relationship with Ank, she was Ank's wife and Ralph's another sister-in-law.

But she did not dare to be arrogant because of her identity. She deliberately pretended to be innocent, trying to make the man in front of her softhearted.

"Mr. Chapman." She said, "I'm just a poor person. I don't know why you let someone deal with me like this."

However, Ralph did not fall for her.

Except for Lottie, no woman would receive preferential treatment from him.

He said, "You really know me."

Sherry trembled a little as she softly said: "Mr. Chapman is so famous, how could I not know you?"

"Besides, that press conference of yours almost completely destroyed the rest of my and Rose's lives. It is natural that I know you."

Sherry instinctively felt fear under Ralph's gaze, but she couldn't suppress the anger in her heart.

If Ralph had not ruined her plan, she would have lived a good life and would not be so humble in front of him.

Ralph merely glanced indifferently at Sherry.

"You should understand what I mean."

Sherry gritted her teeth without saying a word.

"Where did you hide Rose and Lincoln?"

Sherry looked away: "I don't know what you're talking about."

"Really?" Ralph smiled meaningfully and said, "It doesn't matter if you don't say it. Anyway, I will know."

"

Sherry only felt very scared. She had done such a secret and even came out to attract Ralph's attention. How did he know this?

Ralph glanced at Sean, raised his chin and said, "Hand her over to Edward."

"Didn't he lose an experimental subject before? Just in time, this one shouldn't be able to run, so tell him to take her as a substitute."

"It's my compensation for him." Ralph thought for a moment and suddenly added, "By the way, in order to prevent her from running away like Lincoln, remember to remind Edward to break her limbs."

Sherry widened her eyes in horror. Ralph's ruthless words made her shiver.

Although she didn't grow up in a rich family, with her face, except two fail experiences in love, Sherry had an easy life before.

Even if she was expelled from school, or even stripped naked by the rich man's wife, her body had not suffered any injuries. She could not imagine what kind of torture it would be if her limbs were broken.

Sherry started to tremble uncontrollably.

She began to struggle. "No! You can't do this to me! It's illegal!"

Ralph sneered.

"Isn't it illegal for you to drug Ank?"

"Isn't it illegal for you to secretly transfer the property of the Chapman Family as Ank's mistress?"

"Isn't it illegal for you to join hands with Lincoln and plot against Mrs. Ross, and want to take over the property of the Chapman Family?"

Sherry immediately shut her mouth.

She did not expect Ralph to know everything. He had even discovered her, the mastermind behind all of these things!

Ralph looked down at Sherry with a mocking expression.

"Take her away."

Sean: "Yes."

Sean was obviously also shocked, but he did not show his emotions.

However, after being shock, he immediately executed Ralph's orders-

Sean dragged Sherry away and handed her over to Edward.

As soon as they left, the three children surrounded Ralph.

Stella immediately asked, "Daddy, could this Sherry be..."

When Ralph faced the child, he looked much gentler. He nodded gently.

"She should be one of the masterminds behind the scenes."

Stella's eyes widened. "One of them?"

Ralph looked very serious.

"You all know Sherry's past, so you should know what kind of person she is. She is greedy and selfish, and she has her own purpose in doing things."

"This kind of woman is easily in cahoots with Lincoln. Therefore, when Lincoln used Rose to distract our attention, how could Sherry have an idea about it?"

Sherry's worldly, she should have been able to see through Lincoln's intentions as soon as he found them.

That was why she had agreed to let Rose and Lincoln work together and come up with a series of detailed plans behind the scenes. She wanted to mess things up and achieve their goals.

She had planned to make Lancy make a scene in the hospital first, so that Lancy would estrange with Kayden and his mother, and at the same time, Natalia would have a grudge against Kayden. Then, she asked Rose to replace Kayden to donate her kidney. Of course, Rose wouldn't really donate it. All she had to do was stall for time until Lancy came to stir up trouble. And they'll wait and see Mrs. Ross had something wrong and die on the way of rescuing.

..

In this way, Natalia would never be with the son of the enemy who killed her mother. She and Kayden would never be together, and Natalia would turn into Lincoln's arms.

After Kayden lost his beloved, he would be seriously injured. He would hate his weakness and Lancy's arrogance. However, because Lancy was his mother, he would not really do anything to her. He would only distance himself from her silently and quit from the management of the Chapman Group forever to avenge Lancy.

Lancy was estranged from her own son, and there was no one in the Chapman family to back her up. It would be easy to deal with her.

As long as Sherry persuaded Ank to completely abandon Lancy, and then announced Rose's background to the public, Sherry and Rose would be able to return to the Chapman family.

In the end, together with the videos Rose sent online, they would frame Ralph and Lottie, forcing them to give up the Chapman Group completely. Everything about the Chapman family would fall into the hands of Sherry and her daughter.

"What a vicious plan." Fabian was stunned.

Only then did Stella feel afraid. "Fortunately, Daddy and Mommy didn't let their scheme succeed. Otherwise, Brother Kayden would be so pitiful."

However, Elijah frowned and looked at his tall father.

"Why do you say that Sherry is one of the masterminds behind all this?"

Other than her, was there anyone else hiding and not showing up? .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 489 You Have to Change Your Identity and Face

"To Sherry and her daughter, the Chapman Group is already the best spoils of war for them."

"But it's not for Lincoln." Ralph said slowly.

Lincoln was a very ambitious person, and he was much greedier than everyone had imagined.

In addition to Natalia, he also seemed to aim at Ralph. His purpose was not only the Chapman Group, but also all the property under Ralph's name.

After Jenna Kennedy's death, Lincoln had lost a lot of help. Ralph did not believe that he could still have such a big plan if there was nobody to back him up.

"So, Lincoln is not a chess player. He is just a chess piece."

After listening to Ralph's explanation, Elijah said with certainty.

Ralph could not help rubbing his little head. This little guy spoke too mature.

Fabian also understood and was very anxious.

"What should we do? Do we have to find out who is behind all this now?"

Lincoln and Rose were already tough enough to deal with. What should they do with a few more backers behind the scenes?

Stella began to complain.

"Daddy, you and Mommy have so many enemies."

Ralph found it funny.

"We have many enemies because we have too many treasures on us. It's easy for bad people to covet them."

"Then what should we do?"

Ralph said softly but firmly in the face of the three children.

"There is only one way. Become stronger."

In the face of absolute strength, any devil could not withstand a single blow.

Elijah showed a thoughtful expression. Stella and Fabian looked at each other and ignited their fighting spirit at the same time.

For the sake of Daddy and Mommy, and for the sake of a better life, they had to become stronger as well!

Fabian: "Daddy, what can we do for you now?"

Ralph said with a smile, "You stay here and watch over Mommy. Leave the rest to me for the time being."

After all, someone would be more anxious than him in this situation.

In a small bungalow outside the suburbs of Rexwell.

Rose had just taken the antipyretics and her temperature hadn't decreased so quickly, so she wasn't in good spirits either.

"My mother had been taken away by Ralph's men."

"Didn't you promise me that you would protect her?"

"What should we do now?"

Rose glared fiercely at the man in front of her. Due to the high temperature, her lips had peeled off and she looked very haggard. Without makeup, she looked like an ordinary college student.

Not as bright as she looked in the camera.

The man sitting opposite her was wrapping his ankle with bandages. He had been injured here by someone that his ankle had been deliberately dislocated. Before he could recover, he ran for a long distance, which made the injury on his ankle worse.

Although the bones had been reset, the doctor said that he must took good care of it, otherwise it might habitually fracture in the future, which led to a crippled foot.

All of this was because of Ralph.

The man looked gloomy. He still put on a smile, not a gentle one, but a very vicious one.

"Lincoln! Did you hear what I said?"

When Rose saw that he had been ignoring her, she flared up.

If Lincoln hadn't come and ask her for cooperation, Rose wouldn't have ended up in this state today.

She could have followed her plan, graduated from the School of the Film Academy, and then entered the entertainment as a capable new hand.

In that case, she might become a small star and succeed in the entertainment.

She was not like what she was now. Now she had become a poor person who was mocked by tens of thousands of people and could not even protect her mother.

Lincoln finally came to his senses in her roar.

"Why are you so loud? I can hear you."

"I thought you were deaf."

Rose sneered.

Lincoln shrugged and said, "Since your mother has fallen into Ralph's hands, I'm afraid she will be in great danger. I advise you to give up saving her."

Rose was shocked. "What are you talking about? What right do you have to make me give up saving my mother?"

"Weren't you dissatisfied with your mother before? You had said that she always trapped you and would hinder your future. And you even exposed your identity as the illegitimate daughter without telling us."

"Don't you think it's too hypocritical to show your mother-daughter love now?"

Speaking of which, Rose couldn't blame anyone else but herself because it was her action which made Sherry be exposed, and take away by Ralph's men finally.

If it weren't for the fact that Rose didn't listen to her mother's arrangements and was unwilling to go back to the Trust City after witnessing the luxury entertainment. If Rose hadn't fallen in love with Ralph, their trap wouldn't have failed.

"Although she has difference opinions with me, she is my mother after all. I can't leave her alone!"

Tears welled up in Rose's eyes as her chest heaved. She threatened without much confidence.

"An orphan like you who has never had a mother will never understand my feelings! Lincoln, if you don't help me save her, I would never do anything for you!"

Lincoln had been smiling just now, but after listening to Rose's words, he put on a saturnine face.

He dashed in front of her and grabbed her by the neck with one hand.

Rose quickly grabbed his hand, but her strength was nothing to Lincoln.

Her neck hurt so much that she couldn't even breathe. Soon, her face turned red because of lack of oxygen.

"Let... let go of me."

She squeezed out a few words from her throat and waved her hands in the air, kicking Lincoln's body weakly.

At that moment, Rose was terrified.

Lincoln looked polite, but he was actually a devil.

Once she angered him, she could not bear the consequences.

Lincoln was very angry. He hated being called an orphan the most in his life and never mentioning his identity.

If Rose wasn't still useful to him, she would become another corpse laying in the bungalow today.

After a long while, Lincoln let go of her and threw her onto the sofa next to her.

"Cough cough.

.."

Rose held her neck and coughed in pain. She didn't forget to crawl further away, afraid that Lincoln would attack her again.

Lincoln sneered and did not stop her.

"Remember your identity. You have no right to refuse my ask."

Rose trembled, but she didn't respond.

"I'll find an opportunity to bring your mother out. As for you, I have other arrangements."

Looking at Lincoln's murderous gaze, Rose couldn't say a single word to protest. She regretted her decision, but she had no other choice. She could only nod her head with hatred.

"I see." She said in a hoarse voice.

Lincoln finally showed a satisfied smile and picked up the bandage on the table again.

"You love Ralph, don't you?" He said slowly, "I can help you achieve your wish to be with him."

"But the premise is... you have to change your identity and face." .

Spoiled By My Bossy CEO Husband - Chapter 490 I Can Deal with It for You

In the Star-Moon Manor.

Lottie and her two teammates had been busy the whole day, but they had only adapted the song and the dance roughly before rehearsed several times together.

"It won't work." Natalia was covered in sweat, panting and drinking water.

At the same time, she said to Lottie, "The version we've adapted now is too worse from the one before."

Jessica was also drinking water, and she echoed, "Yes, although it's much better than the original one, I always feel it is somewhat strange."

Lottie knew what was strange about it.

After all, she hadn't had classically trained. Although she had some talent for the creation of the song, she was actually not good at it.

She could only rely on her intuition to decide the direction of the adaptation. However, she could not adapt it into one what most people liked, that was, some turning points were not smooth.

The whole song sounded a little weird.

"Let's adapt it a little more. Find out what you think is wrong, and then we can make it better."

Lottie was also very helpless. However, with the three of them, there was really no way to make a perfect adaptation.

Natalia sat on the floor and rested for a while before finally pinching the bottle of mineral water.

"How about... we talk to Violet?"

If it wasn't appropriate for Lottie to go, then let her have a try.

What if Violet could change her mind?

Natalia looked at Lottie and asked for her opinion.

Lottie smiled wryly. "It was not for my dignity that I didn't want you to talk to her."

"It's because it's useless."

Violet would not easily change her mind unless...

Just as she was thinking about the last possibility, someone knocked on the door of their rehearsal room.

Lorry crossed her arms around her chest, leaned against the door, and greeted everyone with a smile.

"Hey, beauties, do you need my help?"

The moment she saw Lorry, Natalia suddenly had an idea.

If she remembered correctly, Lorry came from another variety show before she turned to be an actor. She seemed to have graduated from a music school and was very good at music. She should be able to help.

"Miss Lorry!" Natalia welcomed her warmly.

Lorry couldn't help taking two steps back with an embarrassed smile on her face.

"Ms. Ross, I can't stand your sudden enthusiasm."

Natalia ignored her words.

She grabbed her and went to the camera. She showed Lorry the video of their rehearsal and asked her to help them adapt the abrupt part of the song.

When Jessica heard that Lorry could help and would not break the rules of the program group, she was also relieved. She hurriedly went over to watch and occasionally raised some opinions.

After watching the video, Lorry sat down beside the piano and tried to play the adapted song. Then she helped to adapt several details.

Natalia was very excited. She crazily praised her, which made Lorry very happy.

Not only was Natalia happy, she didn't forget to wave at Lottie.

"Lottie, we're saved!"

Lottie smiled a little, but she wasn't as optimistic as Natalia had thought.

She just nodded to them and said, "You guys continue. However, you haven't had dinner yet. I'll go to the canteen to buy something to eat."

After being reminded by her, Jessica and Natalia felt that they were indeed hungry.

"Then buy something to eat and come back early."

"Don't worry."

Lottie waved at Natalia and the others before walked out.

At this time, the canteen was almost empty.

The cameraman followed her with due diligence. He saw that she had bought a few buckets of instant noodles, as well as some small snacks like ham sausage.

"I'm going to buy some little things for ladies. Could you please stop shooting?"

Lottie handed him a bucket of instant noodles she had bought and gently discussed it with him.

The cameraman was a little hesitated.

"I promise that I won't do anything against the rules of the show. I don't have any communication tools that can be used to contact the outside world. You can search if you don't believe me.

"

Lottie rummaged through her pockets, indicating that she didn't bring her phone at all.

Only then did the cameraman agree. He put away the machine, took the bucket of instant noodles from Lottie, and went to eat dinner.

Lottie went to the temporary sales department of the program group and bought some sanitary towels and other things. Only then did she carry the things back.

There are cameras in most places of the manor, but Lottie avoided them and went to some remote corners.

About ten minutes after she was wandering around, someone stopped her from behind.

"Lottie." Bridge said with a smile.

Lottie turned around without surprise, with a very cold expression.

"Mr. Joshua."

"Why are you here alone?"

"The castle is too big. I'm lost," she said, blinking her eyes.

Bridge smiled in understanding and said softly, "Indeed, it's not just the castle. The whole manor is very big."

"Then could Mr. Joshua take me back? I still have to go back to rehearse. I've got to rush."

"Of course, come with me."

Bridge smiled even more happily. He didn't expect the opportunity to get her so quickly.

As if she hadn't noticed her situation at all, Lottie even smiled.

Although it was fleeting, she did smile for a few seconds. "Thank you, Mr.

Joshua."

Her smile made Bridge's breathing quicken, and he even swallowed his saliva.

He felt his body tremble slightly, because he was too excited.

"Come here."

Suppressing his strong desire, Bridge led Lottie to a remote place without any cameras, but he looked very gentle.

Lottie didn't say anything but followed Bridge.

Bridge narrowed his eyes and smiled. He took the initiative to approach Lottie and sniffed her smell secretly as he chatted with her.

"I heard that Violet changed her team temporarily. Is your team in trouble?"

Lottie turned to look at Bridge.

"Yes."

Bridge had long anticipated Lottie's indifference and didn't mind her vigilance towards him. He suddenly leaned over and touched her hand.

"Have you ever thought of asking someone for help?"

Lottie stopped in her tracks and hit his hand away.

"What do you mean?"

Bridge was amused by her angry expression. He stared into her eyes happily and said, "Didn't I tell you? If you have any problems, come find me."

Lottie frowned and didn't say anything.

Bridge moved closer and said, "I'm the champion of the last variety show. If you encounter any trouble now, I can solve it for you."

"Whether it's adaptation of songs, dance, or... I can help you call Violet back."

Lottie clenched her fists and said in a calm voice, "It was you who forced Violet to change her team."