Event Clarification

"I'm sorry." Ralph suddenly spoke up. Lottie was surprised and looked to Ralph: "What are you apologizing to me for?" "My brother he = "Ian is Ian and you are you." Lottie interrupted him anxiously, "You and he are different, I'm not going to take it out on you because of what he did, and you don't have to apologize for what he did." Ralph looks over at her a little surprised, and after a moment laughs out. Reaching out, he rubbed Lottie's hair. "I know, but I still want to apologize to you." "I didn't do a good job of putting you through all that." Lottie blushed and shook her head. In fact, Ralph has done a good job, protecting her as much as possible and giving so much for her in silence. On the contrary, she herself, and did nothing for him.

"Don't worry, no matter what, I won't let you suffer. That person who hacked you online," Ralph paused, his tone dangerous: "I will make him pay!" Lottie reached out and took Ralph's hand. "I trust you to protect me." "That's good." Ralph stroked her head again. The interaction between the two was sweet and loving, and Harleen saw it as soon as she turned around and was silent. The heart hated it, but still had to go up and give Lottie a bow with red eyes. Lottie is convinced that she is not moving to bend the nature, although the apology looks very sincere, but it just makes people feel uncomfortable. She can't say the other side is bad, after all, they are so serious to apologize.

Lottie sighed and reached out to help the man up. Q: "Still not ready to change agents?" Harleen bit her lip, the slap marks on her face were clear. When she didn't say anything, Lottie didn't know what to say. She admires Harleen for being affectionate, but it doesn't stop her from thinking the other person is stupid. But this is not to say with the other side, and do not want their sympathy flooded, who knows whether Harleen has another side or not? In short, she is a little uncomfortable with Harleen, and she doesn't get along as cordially as Jessica and Ye Huanhuan. Their friendship is not avowed, and she dragged Ralph to Conntheir backs as they left. Piracy is always piracy

The release of the video and the cursing around Lottie is gone, but it doesn't mean the incident is really over. After the crew released the video and statement, it took another three hours before they came out and spoke up. Javion made a video of the cast and crew coming out and having them explain their feelings about this Lottie in the hot seat incident. Javion was the first to say straight out, "Bullshit! The cast and crew are good actors, certain things that are not actors should not come and point fingers!" Then came the assistant director, who smiled and looked very good-tempered: "I think it's ridiculous, Lottie is basically shooting scenes in the crew all over again, including hanging and some difficult action scenes, those who say she has no acting skills will definitely be hit in the face later." Lighting technician: "Ms. Green is very good-tempered and smiles at everyone she meets. I think those people on the Internet are wrong and too paranoid." Makeup artist: "Ms. Green's own makeup artist, I haven't had much contact with her, but she's so good looking! It would be great to let me do her makeup sometime. Say she's a bully? Come on, she's so good looking, I'd be happy to be bullied! But I don't have that opportunity, and Ms. Green doesn't bully random people." Martial arts director: "Little Su is very good! Not at all delicate, no matter what the difficulty is on their own, the body is also good! Really good!" The group actor who was saved: "Ms. Green saved my life, and I went to thank her afterwards, and she didn't put up a fight, she was a very humble person. She is a very humble person. And she is also highly competent. It would be a blessing to the audience if there are more actors like her in the cast." The final appearance was made by screenwriter Rose. Rose's external personality is high and cold, and she only replied with two words, "Huh."

"Rose finished his position, there is a special mark after the video: "The crew staff deliberately went to ask Ms. Rose, this huh is not rushing Ms. Green, Ms. Rose said Ms. Green is her choice, not the turn of others to say three things." The clarification video, which is over three minutes long, features roughly two dozen crew members coming out to endorse Lottie, including all of the crew's trades, each of whom has nothing but praise for Lottie.

Most importantly, at the end of the video, it was specifically marked that all the interviews were from the heart and that no bribes were accepted or forced to lie for a living. This explanation has successfully gagged the hacks from other strange rumors. After the video was sent out, it was forwarded by a large number of fans, and those original insults and criticisms completely disappeared, leaving only compliments and sour words from some people. The matter was thought to end here, but unexpectedly, after half an hour, Ralph used his ins, released a video. rn, Ralph smiles faintly ling? Nancy smashed everything in the room that she could. That's all, and it's hard to get rid of her anger. Before Lottie was so many people black, Nancy still feel very relieved, but did not expect the boomerang finally hit himself, suddenly laugh is not laugh, but also feel doubly painful! Because of this, so many big names even came out to clarify! Lottie's good reputation in the entertainment industry! How can Nancy be happy about this! And this Jessica, if it wasn't for Lottie's good relationship with her, she wouldn't even be able to get out! Now you dare to laugh at yourself, it's a joke! The more Nancy thought about it, the angrier she became and took out her cell phone to call Merle. Merle did answer, but the tone of his voice was not very good. "What's your business again?" "Brother Mao, is this your sincerity?" Merle was angry enough with Nancy's questioning tone, and he got himself into a fishy mess in order to take it out on Nancy, and Ian's side he didn't know how to cope with it yet. Even if Ian took the blame, Merle felt he was being targeted by Ralph. Mr. Chapman is not a kind-hearted character and will definitely come after him afterwards! Just thinking about it makes Merle feel dark about the future. He didn't have the heart to deal with Nancy, he immediately cold voice: "What else do you want me to do? For your sake, I can't even protect myself, so I've done my best for you, right?" Nancy's heart "thumped". "Brother Mao, aren't you afraid

"What are you afraid of? I am still afraid of the hair line? If you have the ability to expose all you know, I'll see if you can still fall good then?" "For the sake of past love, I advise you to stop here. Otherwise really pissed off Ralph, you do not know how to die!"

Merle finished and simply left the phone. Nancy knew that Merle was playing for real this time and was afraid that she would never mind herself again. And Merle's words of advice to her made Nancy's heart go cold. She didn't know how terrible Ralph was, but now she had a choice? Lottie has been offended hard, a fight can still have a future, do nothing, she will really have nothing, but also by Ralph revenge. After thinking about the consequences, Nancy was completely ruthless! After thinking about it, she picked up her phone and called one of the people she had placed on the list. nt to meet with me be in the list of a big brother, more than, is a c tossed a lot of other businesses, in Rexwello gyoung girls, and because his wife died earl his ound that Nancy looked a bit like his dead nerous, Nancy can how quickly to emergtoo old and not very good-looking for himlet themis timeoked like she had to it to do so f

Absolutely no problem

Lottie has no knowledge of any of these things. Because he had to shoot the next day, Ralph didn't bully anyone too hard. It was over after only two sessions, and then the two leaned back and talked a lot, talking their hearts out, and what little separation there was disappeared clean. The next day, Lottie rushes off to the set to shoot a scene, while Ralph goes to Ian and asks him for the truth about yesterday's incident and the outcome. After talking to Lottie last night, Ralph was going to give Ian one last chance. If he persists and refuses to come to his senses, then Ralph will pretend that there is no such person and will not continue to deal with him in the future. He still doesn't have too much affection for Aiden, let alone Ian, the brother who came out of nowhere. If Ian couldn't remove his prejudice against Lottie, he wasn't happy to coax the other side. All are adults, do what they have to think through the consequences, Ian is not his son, he can control the moment, but also can control a lifetime? Besides, even Elijah and Fabian, he didn't care so much about it. Before Ralph left, he left his assistant and Edward behind, and made a point of urging Lottie: "Be careful and be safe." Lottie was picked up by him and kissed a few times, her face already red. Reaching out, he pushed the man away, "I know, be careful on your side too." She kind of see, Ian this person may have some kind of mental illness, such as paranoia or something else, see things very paranoid, she is also afraid that Ralph and the other party after the collapse of the past, Ian and then make the loss of reason to do. If it wasn't for the shooting today, she would have gone with Ralph. Ralph pinched her cheek and laughed, "Got it, don't worry about me, huh?" Lottie nods her head. The two said their fond farewell, causing Edward to roll his eyes. "Sleeping in the same nest at night, and in the morning still make it like a parting of life and death, do not be so mushy!"

Should say no, he is dying of acid! How come he doesn't have a date? Lottie's cheeks reddened quietly when she heard Edward's spit. "Let's go." The assistant nodded gently to Lottie, "Mrs. Chapman get in." Lottie played a role with a lot of martial arts scenes. If you want the picture to look good, you have to design the action carefully. Lottie took out his mastery and compared with the martial finger for half a day, which set all the movements. Javion watched from the side for half a day and saw that they had finished discussing it before he came forward to ask. "Ready to go?" Lottie smiled at him and gave him the "ok" sign. "When you're ready, then let's go." Lottie nodded, changed clothes and makeup, then took the prop whip and walked under the camera. Today's scene, considered the film's main scene, Anna "rebel" out of the master, in the mountain when encountered a wave of revenge. The people who are dealing with Anna think she stole the greatest treasure of the division, and each of them pretends to be righteous in order to get justice for her master, but the idea is to take the treasure. Anna just came out of the division, already with a wound, wretched and sad. As a result, they were surrounded by these "righteous" people, and they were desperate for the world, and they were fierce enough to kill everyone. At the time of her killing, her body was already at the end of its strength, someone attacked from behind, Anna almost died, but the Regent arrived in time to save her. Today's big show is this "battle of siege". Lottie standing under the camera, a red dress tattered, holding a whip in her hand still stained with the blood of fellow disciples, originally had been tied high ponytail, but now are cascading down, a few strands of hair raised by the wind, and fell back to her cheeks.

She lowered her eyes, her expression cold and sarcastic. In just one moment, Lottie was in the scene. Now, she is Anna. With the eyes of the room focused on her, Javion breathed lightly and waved at the crowd.

"The Twins' thirteenth first, the battle of the siege, Action!" As the camera pushes closer, Lottie's blood-stained face zooms in on the camera, the battle-damaged makeup is still stunningly beautiful. The head of the group was riding on a horse, with a beard on his chin, and his voice was as loud as a bell as he shouted to Lottie: "Anna, you killed your master first, and then killed your fellow disciples, you are already disloyal and unrighteous! Now you dare to steal the treasures of your master, you are really unacceptable to the world!" "If you know what you're doing, hand over your treasures quickly! You will be spared from death!" Lottie heard this and only a little mocking smile appeared on her lips. "Killing a teacher first and maiming a fellow disciple later?"oice, taking a few step people on this side, l even her fellow teachersl arts skills, although their side has a lote benefitnnoyed that Anna wurther, no one will beance at the head of the was flung in the direction of thf momentum, but actuthe head of the group actor was thrown by ta very mp actor was furious did not roll

What's up with that guy

The man was overjoyed and was taken down by the assistant director to change his clothes. Lottie, on the other hand, rests over here, and Javion gives her an apology for the delay. Lottie waved his hand and looked at the group actor who was led down for makeup, his eyebrows slightly wrinkled: "Temporary replacement, no problem, right?" "Who can talk about this sick thing, it's not an important role anyway, it should be fine." Lottie didn't say anything. Javion asked her, "What's wrong?" "Nothing, I always think that person just now looks a little familiar?" Javion was surprised, "You can look familiar with a full beard?" Lottie can not say, only that the other party's eyes seem a little familiar, but carefully to think and can not remember. Maybe it's just an illusion. Lottie didn't want to cause trouble for the crew or slow down the progress, so she didn't continue. Not long after, the man changed clothes out, beard changed, into a fairy look, but because of the small eyes, with his features, somehow a little lewd. Javion, however, feels better, the other side of the role, itself is a self-proclaimed righteous scumbag, look too righteous instead of beautiful. The man performed quite well, smoothly took Lottie's scene, some intimidation, was Lottie a whip to drag off the horse. He looked wretched, yet very good-natured, and after getting up from the ground, pointed at Lottie's nose and cursed. "Anna, don't give up your face! Do you really think we're afraid of you?" Lottie: "Cut the crap, fight if you want to, or get the hell out of my way!" She was hostile, but the hand holding the whip was trembling slightly. The group actor was angry enough, and after some coercion and bullying, he saw that Anna was not moved, so he encouraged people around him to deal with her.

Anna thought he was too noisy and decided to take him on. So they bullied their way up and made a move with each other. Here begins the martial arts action designed by Lottie and Wufei. Lottie swung out with a whip, the opponent blocked with his sword, Lottie continued to exert force, and in three strokes he disarmed his sword, and then a whip sent the man flying. Although it is said that the martial arts action to the real sword to fight up to look good, but in order to the safety of the actors, all weapons are props, like Lottie took the whip, the surface of the whip body looks like full of barbs, but in fact the barbs are made of sponge, painted with color to make the barbs look like, in fact, hit the body does not hurt. Imitation swords, are also made of foam boht would be wrong, so that the audience would sword without hurts her according to the designed moves, Lthe group actor is not open blade s mind and went up to f was a moment of afterglow in the interval and no have a closer talk with lanp while distracted realized that something was and gestured to Javion, w

"Ralph, Ralph!" "Don't fight, I'm fine!" "It's me, I'm Lottie." Lottie holds a furious Ralph, stopping him from swinging and dragging the man to the side. The others then had time to look at the beaten man, already dying and beaten unconscious. But no one will sympathize with him, but rather feel relieved to punch a few more, especially Javion, who did not think he had personally picked such a thing to act and gave him the opportunity to get close to Lottie. If something really happened to Lottie, it would be impossible to shoot this scene! The point is, Lottie is now out of the woods no less! If he doesn't find a way to appease, his future career will come to an end. Or the assistant director is afraid that this person really died here, will cause trouble for Ralph and the crew, greeted a few people to carry the group actor to the side, to see his condition, to confirm the moment can not die, before the person left aside regardless. Look at Ralph again, breathing heavily, very unstable emotions, immersed in a rage, his eyes scarlet, if not heard Lottie's voice, he will not be able to control his impulse to hurt people. "It's okay, Ralph, I'm really okay." Ralph stiffened, as if finally reacting, and let out his hostility, carefully holding Lottie's face, after seeing the wounds on her face, ruthlessness again filled his eyes. As he exploded, Lottie came over and gave him a kiss on the cheek. Ralph moved and his eyes went red. "Lottie, my baby." His hand trembled slightly as he asked softly, "Are you in pain?" Lottie grabbed his hand and shook her head gently. "It doesn't hurt, I really don't hurt." Ralph's tears came to his eyes, but they were not raging.

He also did not make any crying sound, the expression did not change much, so silent tears, brought Lottie's shock but not small. Mr. Chapman, how could he cry in front of so many people? Lottie was just about to say something, but Ralph picked her up and took a few steps into the shade, calling for Edward again. "Help her with her wounds." The tone is flat, but full of command. Edward also did not care about his tone, he knew that Ralph was now trying to restrain his anger, he usually liked to joke with Ralph, but at such times did not dare to touch Ralph's bad luck. her wound first, helped stop the bleeding onible when applying the medicine, but Lotaking, but in order to appease Ralph, hike this, he only fermined not to let er injury is not trivial, and in a short he saw Edward get up, he quickly askey is on your face, so it's best not to touom gettind that Lottie was unae scene was shot, Lott won't leave a scar, will it? "I'm not afraid because you will protect me." First said a good word to coax Ralph, and sure enough, the other side look much better. Lottie then continued, "But the crew really can't stop." "If it's fear of losing money, that's okay." Ralph was domineering: "I make so much money that I just leave it for you to lose." But Lottie is so well behaved that she doesn't spend money at all, and she even earns quite a bit on her own. Lottie was speechless: "What do I need your money for." Ralph's expression is not happy, anyway, his future money will be left to Lottie, as for the children and what not, big deal to share a tenth to Stella, Elijah and Fabian Those two boys should be able to earn their own. Lottie sensed Ralph's mood and reached out to pat him. "Let's not talk about the money, once the crew is down, there will definitely be wind outside, and it will also cause a lot of bad speculation, and if I am guided by people with a heart, I will really become a scourge." Hearing this, Ralph's expression changed and his eyes were full of disgust.

"Who dares to say that about you!" "You can still control your mouth when it's on someone else?" Lottie simply put Ralph in a hug and pouted, "If you really care for me, don't stop the group and don't let me be criticized for this kind of thing, okay?" In the past, Lottie would not have been so generous to bring this up, nor would she have been open and honest with Ralph about the conditions. But she and Ralph had spent so much time together that there was an understanding between the two. Ralph really loves her and does not care about this little capriciousness of hers. Sure enough, Ralph's heart softened when Lottie said that. "You, ah, just eat me up and don't give up.” Lottie laughed: "That's right, I'm the bully." She was quite proud, with a piece of gauze on her face, and when she smiled, it was as if she had a whole universe hidden under her eyes.

Ralph couldn't help her, so he promised that the crew would not stop and the others would continue filming, but Lottie couldn't continue filming until she recovered from her injury. Lottie knew that he felt sorry for her and nodded her head in agreement. Javion several people immediately relieved, but also Lottie to go to Mr. Chapman to lobby, replaced by other people can not make Mr. Chapman change his mind. Lottie actually thinks her injury is okay, is a little big cut, but also in the eyelid under the eye, almost hurt the eye, Ralph just overly nervous some. The doctor gave Lottie a bunch of wound medicine, saying that it would help remove the scars after application. Ralph and the doctor thanked him before taking Lottie away. "I said it was fine, you had to be so nervous." Lottie reached out and touched the gauze on her cheek and spoke helplessly. Ralph took her by the hand and looked serious: "It's about you, how can I not be nervous." Lottie was sweet at heart and suddenly wanted to be pampered, so she asked, "If the scar on my face really doesn't heal, will you dislike me?" "Where do you say that." Lottie: "If I were really disfigured, you wouldn't mind me?" "Of course not." Lottie raised an eyebrow and looked over at Ralph. Ralph, however, locked eyes with her firmly, his demeanor unchanged. Lottie even saw in his eyes how she looks today, her face was cleaned of blood and makeup, and at the moment she is only plain, with a piece of gauze taped to her left cheek, which just looks weird. This kind of look, really can not talk about beauty. But the way Ralph looked at himself did not change a bit, as he said, his love for her, will not be diminished by half. Lottie was finally satisfied, a smile on her lips, and said, "So am I." In the future, as long as Ralph still treats her like this, then no matter what Ralph becomes in the future, she will stay by his side and never change her mind. The two looked at each other and said nothing, but it was as if they had said a lot. And then with a silent smile, they held hands and went downstairs. However, when they reached the entrance of the hospital, they heard a clutter of footsteps, followed by a large group of people blocking the entrance of the hospital.

Countless reporters poured in front of them, holding up microphones and handing them over, almost shoving them into Lottie's mouth. Ralph looked aghast, pulled Lottie behind him, and called for his bodyguard. They came over to the hospital this time, originally low-key, only brought two or three bodyguards, even though the tall and powerful, but also difficult to stop so many people. What's more, these people are aggressive and not at all under control. "Ms. Green, aren't you supposed to be filming on the set? Why did you suddenly run to the hospital, are you pregnant?" "If you get pregnant, will you be able to continue filming 'The Twins' then? Will the cast be replaced?" able to run off to the hospital for a date with her to the hospital, are tied at Lottie, slamming into her earhard to hide the maliciousness of them all, or trying to put some stomp her into the ground too, but to her relief, word of her injury and of the panic, covered by the mask, the gauzes not half impressed with the uninvited, his face immediately came?" Ra and then came the sound of the reporter who was chastised by the entertainment industry and has to give the public the impression she is a member of the circle, must not escape the fate of being hounded by a movie chorus of the entertainment industry, she has to deal with that once, few questions too, it intimidates us, so baby her don't journalists who use their pens as weapons at Ralph and stepped down mask and smiled graciously and is worried to be given to the public. He could not stop them, and Lottit's cheek is red, then came around, grabbed their camera and tried to crowd in, teared up, took Lottie's hand and the car did the gas and whizzed in vain, sighing and Julie and didn't slow down, reached out and touched her cheek, and a tug on Ralph's coat: "Isn't it not good there has been constant talk about 'The Twins', the audience will become disgusted at stake, Lottie really doesn't want to be a star."

Getting Jeremy out of the way

"It's okay, it'll be fine." Ralph reassures Lottie, his own expression not so clear. Too much going on is consuming the audience's expectations and enthusiasm, and in the long run, it's really not good for The Twins. It's hard for the audience not to get the idea that the crew is good at hype but not at filming with heart. When the time comes to classify "The Twins" as a bad movie, it is only natural. Lottie still felt uneasy, and even with Ralph's reassurance, she was hardly at ease. The two communicated on the matter for a while and soon both fell silent. Once on the set, Lottie went to see Connie and Javion and told them about her experience in the hospital. Connie naturally jumped: "Why are these reporters so annoying! Don't stars have the right to privacy?" Javion, however, has a sad look on his face, and it is obvious that this succession of events in the crew has made him tired. But he couldn't blame Lottie, was she hurt because Lottie wanted to be? He had to reassure Lottie: "It's okay, it's not your fault, we'll talk about it later and see if we want to put out a statement." Connie also patted Lottie's shoulder and said, "That's right, Lottie you are the victim of the whole thing, no matter what it shouldn't be you who takes the blame." "But there is nothing but, you are tired all day and so frightened, now it is suitable to go back to rest." Connie pushed Lottie's shoulder and said comfortingly, "You go back and get a good night's sleep, go get better, and don't worry about anything else, leave it all to me, okay?" "All to you?" "Yeah! I'm your agent!" Connie patted her chest, and saw Lottie's distrustful gaze, she couldn't help but grit her teeth: "What's that look in your eyes, I can't handle this little thing?" Lottie tried to say something else, but Ralph took her hand. "Well, with things going like this, I see that the only way to stop all the untrue speculation from the outside world is to tell everyone the truth. Even if you don't believe Connie, you should believe me." "I can handle these, huh?" Lottie hesitated, but finally nodded her head. Connie grimaced, sisters in the end can not compare with their own men, she is enlightened! With the persuasion of the crowd, Lottie finally agreed to go back to rest. Ralph took her back to the hotel, only to actually meet Jeremy in the hotel hallway! Lottie frowned, looked unhappy, but in the end did not say anything. swept Jeremy a glance, but the latter as if y in the same stance, Ralph suddenly remembered rises above the tie, Ralph did watch her take her clothes and go wash movement on the job you were a moment and asked if she does not have the opportunity to do it, today in the middle of the night about Jeremy living next Find a chance you can, and get a reminder is an eyesore bitterly, "I'm just a doctor, you think I like the entertainment
