

Bottleneck 201

Chapter 201: Annihilation of Feng Sanyou,

Sect Shocking Change

At this moment, only one person in the world knew what he had done before, and all the others who accompanied him had perished.

He had underestimated the Guardian Demon Ape King and the number of spirit stones underground.

It was not just a few hundred mid-grade spirit stones, but nearly a thousand.

At that time, Chu Xun and Mu Yunhai, being the weakest alchemists, underestimated the Ape King and perished first.

This battle was extremely difficult. After more than an hour of hard fighting, Ye Shuo finally displayed his divine power and used his life-taking sword technique to behead the Ape King.

However, no one expected that the Ape King could self-destruct at the moment of its fall, and in an instant, all the others died on the spot except for Feng Sanyou, the Array Master controlling the formation, and Ye Shuo who lost his battle strength after the final blow.

The Array Masters face turned pale as gold paper because of the Ape Kings final blow and the backlash of the formation. He lay on one side, barely conscious and hardly able to move.

In the end, the only one left intact was Feng Sanyou, who was not good at fighting, because he had been hiding in the back the whole time.

Daoist friend, how are you?

Im fine, I wont die.

Lets see what weve gained from this trip.

At this moment, Feng Sanyou and the others didnt feel too sad about the deaths of their companions because they saw the pit next to the karst cave filled with Fruit Wine, the same as they drank before.

We hit the jackpot!

With joyful expressions, Ye Shuo and the Array Master struggled to sit up and recover their strength by circulating their energy while Feng Sanyou went down to collect the spirit stones.

They werent worried about Feng Sanyou doing something untoward because they all took the Heavenly Dao oath before setting off that they wouldnt attack each other before splitting the gains. So they completely relaxed and immersed themselves in recovery during their meditation.

After Feng Sanyou returned from the underground, his expression was a bit strange. He glanced at Ye Shuo and the Array Master who had closed their eyes and hesitated.

In the end, he steeled his heart and made a decision. He collected the storage bags from the bodies of Chu Xun and the others and divided the Fruit Wine into three equal portions using three storage bags.

As for the spirit stones he obtained below, he took a deep breath and also divided them into three portions. However, these were not the few hundred mid-grade spirit stones he had estimated earlier but a thousand of them.

After dividing everything evenly, he took out a Fireball talisman and placed the Storage Bags in front of Ye Shuo and the Array Master.

I have fulfilled my promise by dividing the spoils of this trip, witnessed by Heaven and Earth.

The next moment, he formed a seal in his hand, and the Fireball Technique burst forth, instantly killing the Array Master and Ye Shuo, who were unconscious during their cultivation, without any notice.

They trusted the Heavenly Dao oath too much and never thought that Feng Sanyou would take advantage of the loophole in the oath and kill them all.

Now, Feng Sanyou calmed his excited emotions, collected all the belongings from everyone's bodies, and threw their corpses into the cave, including the Ape King's body. He collected its blood and inspected it to make sure there were no traces left before leaving.

At this moment, Feng Sanyou's only concern was Liang Sheng because he alone knew what he had done before.

He wasn't in such a hurry, but yesterday he accidentally met Liang Sheng at other stalls, and he was too nervous to know if Liang Sheng had seen him sell Chu Xun's pill refining furnace.

He didn't dare to gamble on Liang Sheng not seeing it, so today's events happened.

Liang Sheng seemed unaware at the moment, continuing to walk ahead, and the path became more and more remote. The trees in the forest became denser, and the light dimmer.

Just as Feng Sanyou was about to make his move, suddenly, Liang Sheng disappeared from his sight.

Where is he?

The next moment, Feng Sanyou's vision went dark, and he died instantly without even having time to react.

As he fell, the figure of Liang Sheng appeared behind him. Without hesitation, he quickly rummaged through Feng Sanyou's corpse and cleaned all his belongings in a short time.

Then, a fireball appeared at Liang Sheng's fingertips. With the fireball shooting out, Feng Sanyou disappeared from the world. Liang Sheng then left the scene casually.

Why did Feng Sanyou intend to kill him? He didnt hold any grudges against him, and his counterattack was just self-defense.

Sigh, people

Do not harbor ill intentions towards others.

Inside Dan Ding Sect Market.

Now Liang Sheng was in his cave mansion, looking at the six storage bags in front of him, and couldnt help feeling astonished.

No wonder Feng Sanyou wanted to kill him, Feng Sanyou turned out to be ruthless too. He killed Ye Shuo and the others; otherwise, why would their storage bags be in his possession?

If he had agreed to go with Feng Sanyou at that time, wouldnt Feng Sanyou have died in his hands that day?

Liang Sheng shook his head to cast this thought aside, and at this time, Ye Shuos three-patterned Artifact Sword appeared in his hand..

Chapter 202: Annihilation of Feng Sanyou,

Sect Shocking Change

Good sword!

At this moment, Liang Shengs weapon refining skill was already considered top-notch among loose cultivators. However, he had never refined a three-patterned magical weapon before.

It wasn't that his refining skills were insufficient, but rather that he lacked the corresponding materials. For a loose cultivator to obtain such materials, it would be extremely difficult.

Moreover, even if a loose cultivator possessed such materials, they would likely trade them with a sect in exchange for resources.

Thinking of this, Liang Sheng recalled the spirit stones in his possession. If he had the chance, he would need to hurry to refine a storage ring.

However, he didn't have much confidence in refining a storage ring yet. His refining skills needed further honing.

After all, spirit stones were rare, and he didn't want to ruin them with his own hands.

As for the more than a thousand jin of fruit wine in the storage bag, Liang Sheng could only smile helplessly. It was an unintentional benefit. Who would have thought that under such circumstances, he could still satisfy his own appetites?

This fruit wine had an effect comparable to high-quality Qi cultivation pills, but for Liang Sheng, breaking through to the Foundation Establishment Realm with countless True Yuan Pills, this fruit wine was merely for leisure.

However, when he saw more than a thousand mid-grade spirit stones inside the storage bag that were stained with both fire element and fruit wine aura, Liang Sheng finally understood why Feng Sanyou was so eager to make a move on him.

It could only be said that wealth moved people's hearts. No wonder Feng Sanyou would take such a risk. He not only injured Ye Shuo and the others but also didn't want to leak any information, hence the attempt to make a move on Liang Sheng.

Unfortunately, in the end, fate was playing tricks, and everything ended up being a bargain for Liang Sheng. Could this be considered having virtue?

Looking at these things, Liang Sheng thought for a moment and decided to recycle and remake everything he didn't need, including the three-patterned magical sword.

With his refining skills, refining a three-pattern magical weapon was no longer a challenge. The recycled and remade items would no longer have the previous aura. When they were taken out again, no one would associate them with Ye Shuo.

As for the storage bags

Liang Sheng had more than a dozen in his hands. It would be better to return some of them for refining and obtain void spirit powder. The powder could then be researched and combined to experiment with refining storage rings, preparing to increase his own success rate in the future.

As for the other pills, talismans, array techniques, and array flags in the storage bags, Liang Sheng set them aside for the time being. He would deal with them later when he had the chance to visit other markets.

For a short while, Liang Sheng estimated his own possessions, and even he couldn't help being somewhat startled.

With these things, even if he were to establish a cultivation family, he would have more than enough resources for ten of them.

He was simply too wealthy!

But all these were external possessions. If he could use them to exchange for the Golden Yuan Pill formula, he would be willing to trade all these resources for ingredients to refine Golden Yuan Pills.

At this time, Liang Sheng looked at the ceiling, took out a cup, filled it with fruit wine, and drank it in one gulp. It was refreshing and invigorating.

Ultimately, cultivation was a difficult path. The next day, Liang Sheng went to the market as usual to set up his stall, without any changes.

As for Feng Sanyous disappearance, no one knew about it for the time being. He rarely appeared in the market stalls before, so no one paid attention at this time.

It was originally thought that such life would continue peacefully, but not even a month later, the Dan Ding Sect Market suddenly announced its closure. No one was allowed to leave and all outsiders were prohibited from entering.

For a short time, those loose cultivators who were cultivating their spiritual fields outside were locked out and unable to return.

Meanwhile, the cultivators inside the market were not allowed to leave. This sudden turn of events caught everyone off guard.

Huang Yifan was even more anxious at this time. The day before, he had a whim and came to the market to find Liang Sheng for a drink and discussion.

As a result, his two brothers were still in the spiritual fields outside the market. With the Dan Ding Sect acting like this, it was clear that something had happened. He naturally worried about his brothers outside.

However, this time, no matter how the loose cultivators inquired, no one knew what had happened. Even the shops of the Three Sects and Six Orders had closed and stopped trading.

On the third day, the Dan Ding Sect suddenly sent people to the Foundation Establishment Realm cultivators, to be exact to announce that all secondary professional cultivators in the market, such as artifact refiners, talisman masters, and array masters, had the opportunity to become outer disciples or guest elders of the Dan Ding Sect.

Something big happened!

After hearing this news, everyone knew that something major had indeed occurred; it was just that they didn't know what it was.

Only this reason could prompt the Dan Ding Sect to urgently recruit cultivators with supplementary skills other than alchemists.

That day, early in the morning, Liang Sheng was invited to the Administration Office by someone from the Dan Ding Sects shop. When he arrived at the office, there were already quite a few people inside.

Liang Sheng recognized many of their faces, as they all made a name for themselves in the market with professions other than alchemy.

At this moment, the Administration Office was eerily quiet, and everyone's eyes showed unease. They did not understand why the Dan Ding Sect Market would arrange things this way.

Liang Sheng's face didn't look good either, as he didn't know what had happened. If it involved his own safety, he would not care if he exposed himself, but he would try to escape the market first.

Fortunately, it didn't take long for more and more people to be recruited to arrive. After a while, when no one else entered, with a bang, the door of the Administration Office closed tightly.

At this moment, the loose cultivation alchemists in the market were also very anxious. They all gathered not far away, pointing at the situation of the Administration Office and whispering.

No one could calm down now, and many people had stopped trading because no one knew what would happen next.

Even the shops of the Three Sects and Six Schools were no longer open, which meant that there might be no official sources for high-quality items, so they had to cherish what they had.

As for the Administration Office, at this moment, the people of Dan Ding Sect finally appeared. However, they did not explain what had happened, but directly announced that they had arranged various tests such as refining, talisman, and array techniques on the first and second floors. Those who passed them could join the Outer Sect of Dan Ding Sect.

They also said that if they wanted to know what had happened, once they became an outer disciple of Dan Ding Sect, they would naturally know what had happened.

Upon hearing this, although the loose cultivators were puzzled, they were also somewhat excited, after all, this was joining a sect.

Liang Sheng naturally couldn't stand out at this moment and pretended to be excited as well. He secretly observed that, including the original stationed Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivator, there were only three Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators in the Administration Office now.

He could escape!

Liang Sheng was slightly relieved. At this moment, the disciples of the Dan Ding Sect saw that everyone had calmed down and even had expressions of surprise, and they couldn't help but feel a bit satisfied.

This was the power of the sect. If it weren't for the accident, would these loose cultivators have such a chance to join the Dan Ding Sect?

However, the actions of the Dan Ding Sect were also forced. Perhaps even the leader of the Dan Ding Sect, or the leaders of the other Three Sects and Six Orders, had never expected that the Hua Tian Sect would be so crazy.

No, it should be said that both the Hua Tian Sect and the Upper Green Sect were mad. They had unknowingly done so many big things, pushing the situation to a point of no return.

Previously, all their actions were just endurance. Who knows if the other Three Sects and Six Orders would regret it at this time?

If it weren't for their fear of the Hua Tian Sect, secretly supporting the Upper Green Sect behind the scenes, perhaps the Hua Tian Sect would not have acted like this.

But the cultivators of the Dan Ding Sect asked themselves, if it weren't for the Dan Ding Sect's neutrality, they might have acted like the other sects, resorting to underhanded tactics just for survival.

However, this conflict was arguably the tensest event in tens of thousands of years among the Three Sects and Six Orders.

Even the neutral Dan Ding Sect had to make some preparations at this time, hoping that the situation would not deteriorate further. Otherwise, they didnt know what the outcome would be.

The three Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators no longer had any thoughts. They looked at the loose cultivators, who were taking the test one by one in the Administration Office, only to find that one person was standing motionless in the middle.

Huh?

The two Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators who had just been sent over couldnt help but feel puzzled. However, upon seeing who it was, Sun Qingrui, the Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivator stationed in the market, understood the situation.

Let him go to the refiner side first.

Sun Qingrui transmitted the message to the disciple of the Dan Ding Sect, and then explained Liang Shengs situation to the other two Foundation Establishment Cultivators. This loose cultivator is called Yang Sheng, a refiner and formation master extraordinaire. He was probably hesitating about which test to choose just now.

I see.

Under normal circumstances, as high and mighty Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators, they wouldnt spare a loose cultivator a second glance.

But now it was different.

This was the time to use people!

Chapter 203: Outer Disciples, Dan Ding Array

Dan Ding Market.

Liang Sheng was taken to the Refining Equipment Area for the assessment by a disciple of Dan Ding Sects Administration Office. Upon seeing the refining materials, he couldn't help but exclaim, worthy of a sect, truly rich and arrogant.

However, from this, it could also be seen that the situation this time was indeed special, otherwise, why would they be so accommodating to Loose Cultivators?

This time during Liang Sheng's refining assessment, he didn't overly hide his abilities. After all, he had previously made a name for himself here. If he deliberately hid his skills now, it would likely backfire.

However, he also couldn't use his full strength. He appeared cautious on the surface, yet calm and composed inside.

Two days later, after seeing one or two people complete their refining, Liang Sheng pretended to have successfully finished refining and raised his hand to signal.

One-Pattern Magical Instrument, top grade!

Someone immediately came to appraise the Magic Tool that Liang Sheng had refined. But before Liang Sheng could breathe a sigh of relief, he was taken to meet the Array Master,

At this time, Liang Sheng secretly glanced at where the Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators of the Dan Ding Sect were, as his situation was ordered from there.

Afterward, Liang Sheng didn't make any moves. Just like during the refining, he maintained the same level of skill, ranking in the front among Loose Cultivators in Array mastery.

When all the assessments were over, they were arranged to sit together, quietly waiting for the final results.

However, by this time, some Loose Cultivators had been let go, and many were left. Those who could stay were the ones who passed the skill assessments.

But they soon discovered that the results were not announced directly; instead, they were called one by one into a room for a private conversation.

Liang Sheng wasn't called up at the very beginning. Nevertheless, as he sat among the Loose Cultivators, his lowered head showed an unhappy expression.

It turned out that the few Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivators from the Dan Ding Sect were very confident, thinking that these Loose Cultivators couldn't hear what they were saying. But they didn't expect that amongst them was a Foundation Establishment Stage Cultivator who had reached the Qi-Training Seventh Realm.

Little did they know that the Hua Tian Sect's Market where he was originally situated had been razed to the ground.

Just five days ago, without any warning, the Hua Tian Sect completely blocked the passage between their Market and the Secular world, causing another conflict with the Upper Green Sect, leading to a direct battle.

Obviously, it was the sudden action of the Hua Tian Sect this time, but unsuspectedly, at this point, the Upper Green Sect was still unwilling to give up and was still scheming in the secular world.

As a result, the cultivators of the two sects were not just competing for people in the Secular world. They had actually started a full-scale war in the Secular world.

If the secular people saw the battle between the cultivators at that moment, not knowing the truth, they would probably think that the end of the world had come.

Of course, the Secular war had long since ended, with even the Great Zhou Capital City being reduced to ruins. As for the countless people who died in the secular world due to the aftermath of the cultivators battle, there was no way to know and no limit to the death toll.

The most terrifying thing was the Great Zhou Royal Bloodline. Apart from the Great Zhou Family being scattered across the Secular world, the royal bloodlines losses in the Capital were immense.

Although the Great Zhou Royal Bloodline was capable of Seeking Fortune and Avoiding Evil, when facing such a high-level war, even if they sensed danger, it would be useless.

Thats because, in the face of absolute strength, they could do nothing and could only be forced to become sacrifices in the battles between the two sects.

At this moment, Liang Sheng could even imagine the despair of the Great Zhou Royal Family and rhe secular commoners at rhe moment of death, utterly powerless.

Right after the war was over, Three Sects and Six Orders other sects hurriedly intervened, asking both sides to cease their attacks. Those who took action were directly arranged on both sides of the Market, preventing them from meeting and causing conflicts.

But the behavior of the Hua Tian Sect afterward was very violent. When Zhou Mo and rhe young members of rhe Zhou Family heard rhe news, they were stunned on the spot.

At first, they didnt have any radical reactions. However, rhe next day, they entered the secular world, gathering all the Zhou Family disciples scattered across the Great Zhou Mortal World, and transported all of them to rhe Cultivation World.

Then, these Zhou Family cultivators, led by the five major Foundation Establishment disciples, launched a direct attack on Upper Green Sect disciples who had previously participated in the Secular war and stayed in the Marker.

This time, all the Upper Green Sects Foundation Establishment Stage cultivators that had remained in the Market perished in the battle, allowing the Three Sects and Six Orders to witness the Zhou Familys strength.

As for the Golden Core Daoist of the Upper Green Sect, they were defeated and escaped while faced with the Spirit Tool in the hands of Hua Tian Sect's Golden Core Daoists, reportedly suffering terrible wounds that affected their foundation.

Under these circumstances, the Hua Tian Sect directly declared a complete falling out with the Upper Green Sect, and the alliance among the Three Sects and Six Orders was completely disrupted.

The other sects of the Three Sects and Six Orders somewhat regretted their actions at this moment. If they hadn't previously favored the Upper Green Sect, things might not have escalated to this point.

However, even if they had another chance, they would have made the same choice, as the development of Hua Tian Sect in the past two hundred years had been simply too terrifying.

This time, other sects tried to mediate between Hua Tian Sect and Upper Green Sect, knowing that it would be difficult. However, they weren't even given a chance to enter the Hua Tian Sect.

Seemingly, Hua Tian Sect was determined to seek justice from the Upper Green Sect, even driving the other sects' shops out of the Market.

However, this could also be understood. After all, in less than two hundred years, five out of thirty of Great Zhou Family members had achieved Foundation Establishment, which signified that what the Upper Green Sect had done could undermine the rising root of Hua Tian Sect. As a result of this provocation, the current outcome was not surprising.

Chapter 204: Outer Sect Disciple, Dan Ding Array

Hua Tian Sect was actually quite helpless. Previously, they thought that the Shang Qing Sect had already restrained themselves due to stealing sect members. Unexpectedly, the other sects secretly let loose and sneaked through their sect area.

This sudden outbreak caused almost all the sects of the Three Sects and Six Orders to be involved. For a short while, the entire area of the Three Sects and Six Orders fell into chaos.

In order to express their stance, Hua Tian Sect withdrew from all markets outside their own area, leaving only the Dan Ding Sects markets unchanged.

Within a short time, all the markets had turned into exclusive markets for each sect, which forced the Dan Ding Sect to make this move.

In fact, the Dan Ding Sect encountered such a situation for the first time. They didnt lack alchemists, but they lacked other auxiliary cultivation professions.

During peaceful times, they could manage. But now, they could only plan ahead to not let the Dan Ding Sect be drawn into the chaos. They just wanted to cultivate neutrally and steadily.

However, the other sects of the Three Sects and Six Orders didnt think the same way. They almost simultaneously visited the Dan Ding Sect as the situation became increasingly tense.

This time, the Dan Ding Sect remained fair and just by giving equal share of spiritual pills to all parties and then decided to lock down the mountain gate as soon as possible.

After learning about this situation, Liang Shengs face naturally didnt look good at the moment. He just wanted to live peacefully, but now there was nowhere for him to find such peace.

If he hadnt accidentally come into the Cultivation World, he might have died in the chaos of Great Zhou Capitals secular world, even if he had countless lifespans.

This thought even tightened Liang Shengs heart; indeed, he had been somewhat slack in seeking the Dao Protection method lately, which was still his most pressing task.

Of course, now that he understood the situation, he didnt intend to escape the Dan Ding Sect. Leaving suddenly would only make him appear more suspicious.

Moreover, where could he flee within the territory of the Three Sects and Six Orders? And where could be safer compared to the Dan Ding Sect?

As long as he could handle it properly, he might even have a chance to obtain the Golden Yuan Pill formula if he joined the Dan Ding Sect this time.

After obtaining the pill formula, if there was any movement, he could choose the opportunity to escape. As long as it wasn't a golden core, he should be safe if he fled to remote places and developed cautiously.

Of course, if it really came to a dangerous point, he couldn't care about the Golden Yuan Pill formula any longer; his life comes first.

He didn't regret coming to the Dan Ding Market, because if he had stayed in Hua Tian Sect's market, he would have been trapped in the whirlpool, which would have been truly difficult to cope with.

Soon it was Liang Sheng's turn to go into the room alone. Since he was already mentally prepared, his performance now was extremely reasonable.

Facing Foundation Establishment Stage cultivator Wu Yong, who shared news of the great battle between Hua Tian Sect and Shang Qing Sect, Liang Sheng's face turned pale on the spot as if he was extremely shocked.

Then, in the face of Dan Ding Sect's invitation, he chose to join the outer sect without hesitation. Furthermore, due to his prowess in both Array and Artifact Refining, even though he was only at the Qi Refining Seventh Level, the Dan Ding Sect was even willing to give him the status of Guest Elder.

Liang Sheng chose to refuse this. Wu Yong couldn't help but be surprised, but Liang Sheng's next words made him come to his senses and admired Liang Sheng for his great ambition.

Senior, I would rather be an outer sect disciple because I also aspire to one day become an inner sect disciple of the Dan Ding Sect.

Becoming an inner sect disciple for someone like Liang Sheng, a loose cultivator who had joined the sect halfway, was not like other disciples who had been trained by the Dan Ding Sect since a young age. The only way for him to become an inner sect disciple was to succeed in reaching the Foundation Establishment Stage.

Sure enough, this person who excels in both artifact refining and array formation seems to be quite proud. Since that was the case, Wu Yong couldnt refuse him.

Wu Yong didnt hesitate and nodded his head directly. In these eventful times, as long as a person had talent and didnt make excessive demands, they would be accepted.

Then the whole day passed, and almost all the loose cultivators had agreed to become outer sect disciples of the Dan Ding Sect.

Afterward, the Dan Ding Sect was very humane, telling them that they had one day to prepare to handle the affairs of the market.

However, they should not disclose todays events or tell others the truth about the incidents between Hua Tian Sect and Shang Qing Sect. The next day, they would follow Wu Yong and others from the Dan Ding Sect to return to the sect.

The Dan Ding Sect actually didnt have any malicious intentions to mingle with the other sects. What they did now was just for self-preservation.

Moreover, the upper management of the Dan Ding Sect had already made a decision. In order to demonstrate their neutrality, after making necessary preparations, the Dan Ding Sect would close their mountain gate.

Unless it really reached the point where everything was beyond redemption, the Dan Ding Sect would never get involved in such chaos.

Liang Sheng followed the crowd out of the administration office, feeling somewhat lost in his heart, but he couldnt leave now.

As he couldn't escape the area of the Three Sects and Six Orders for the time being, this was still the safest place.

Furthermore, due to his dual talent in Array and Artifact Refining, Wu Yong had actually revealed more information, expressing the attitude of the Dan Ding Sect this time.

Safety first!

The Dan Ding Sect's idea, at least, was consistent with Liang Sheng's. Under such complex circumstances, leaving with the Dan Ding Sect might be the best solution.

In fact, Liang Sheng didn't have much to deal with in the market. But before leaving, he invited Huang Yifan over for a farewell drink..

Chapter 205: Outer Sect Disciple, Dan Ding Array

Liang Sheng could not tell him the truth, but he hinted at the danger in the market. Huang Yifan understood after hearing it, and became more nervous in his heart.

However, he also breathed a sigh of relief, because after tomorrow, he could join his brothers.

"Fellow Daoist Yang, thank you for the reminder, I will be careful about my safety."

"All? Brother Huang, I didn't say anything, I just had a drink with you."

At this moment, Liang Sheng did not say anything more. He could not predict the safety of Huang Yifan afterward, and he only hoped that the other party could safely survive this crisis.

Afterwards, Liang Sheng organized his belongings, ensuring that even in the event of an accident, he would not die instantly.

Previously, he had planned to refine a Storage Ring, but now it seemed that he had temporarily lost this opportunity.

Early the next day, Liang Sheng arrived at the Administration Office. Together with other loose cultivators, they followed Wu Yong and his group, leaving the market and heading towards the Dan Ding Sect.

Once they left, the Dan Ding Sect market was open to the public immediately, and Huang Yifan naturally went to meet his two brothers.

Then they promptly gathered all the spiritual grass in the spiritual field, and the three brothers prepared to leave with the Alchemist, whose time was running out.

Unexpectedly, the Alchemist did not want to leave, "My lifespan is not much, I might as well stay here. Since your friend just hinted at it, I'll wait here and see.

If there is no danger later, you can come back, and I can still turn these spiritual fields over to you."

Next, no matter how much Huang Yifan persuaded, it was useless. Seeing this situation, the three brothers had no choice but to leave with tears in their eyes, hiding deep in the mountains and forests.

It can only be said that sometimes people's feelings do not depend on the length of time. At this moment, many people made the same choice as Huang Yifan, secretly leaving the Dan Ding Sect market.

However, many people did not know the truth, still staying in the market, and still envious of those selected by the Dan Ding Sect.

Perhaps if they stayed, next time they would have the opportunity to become the Outer Sect Disciple of the Dan Ding Sect?

Dan Ding Sect.

At this moment, Liang Sheng stood before the Mountain Gate, along with the other Loose Cultivators, who were all dumbfounded. Many of them couldn't help but take a deep breath.

Isn't this a fairyland on earth?

There is an immense amount of spiritual energy here. Almost every corner is permeated with intoxicating spiritual energy, and all the loose cultivators are surrounded by a rich Spiritual Energy in their hearts.

They even had a miraculous feeling, as if their whole soul was being cleansed, tranquil and calm.

But what was even more shocking were the vast and majestic fairyland features within the Dan Ding Sect. Standing outside the Sect, the Loose Cultivators could already see the ancient buildings on each peak, and the towering old trees hidden in the clouds, forming a beautiful painting that made people's eyes brighten.

As they officially entered the Sect, they saw an even more amazing sight. Between each peak, there was a purple haze, similar to the vapor of the east. After countless years of refining, they appeared ancient and elegant.

Every mountain peak and every cave mansion emanated a rich Spiritual Energy. Some indecipherable Cultivators, dressed in Sect Attire, were touring around, attracting the envious glances of the Loose Cultivators.

As they stepped into the Sect Mountain Peaks and moved forward step by step, the hustle and bustle within their hearts disappeared, leaving only the tranquil feeling that made them feel peaceful and at ease.

Here, you can directly feel the Spiritual Energy surrounding your body and truly feel that every corner is filled with Spiritual Energy.

At this moment, Liang Sheng could only sigh. He finally understood why all the Loose Cultivators wanted to join the Sect one day.

Because here, people with the same qualifications can produce completely different results. The situation here is not on the same starting line.

At this moment, Wu Yong was not in a hurry to travel. He led them to experience the majestic momentum of the Dan Ding Sect, which was conducive to managing them better.

Unconsciously, Wu Yong led them to the location of the Outer Sect. Compared to Main Peak, this place may seem shabby, but compared to the Market, it was much stronger.

What was most surprising was that this Outer Sect mountain peak seemed to have been cut off directly by someone, like a sword had shaved off the top, as if it was a city.

Inside it was bustling with people coming and going, each person's footsteps hurried, but their faces were positive, and their eyes were high.

Everyone felt they had hope, unlike the Loose Cultivators in the Market, who ultimately lacked this positive mentality.

Loose Cultivators standing next to Liang Sheng, looking at the people inside, became even more excited. This was the state of mind a cultivator should have, and the Sect was the harbor of the Loose Cultivators.

However, the Loose Cultivators were nothing compared to the Outer Sect disciples. They also had their strengths, which was perseverance.

They were not flowers in a greenhouse. How many of them who had become Outer Sect disciples of the Dan Ding Sect, were not fierce and persistent in seizing opportunities?

Otherwise, in the harsh environment of the Market, how could they have managed to improve their realm, and step by step, walk to where they are now?

The Outer Sect disciples of the Dan Ding Sect glanced at Liang Sheng and the others from a distance, showing no surprise, as they seemed to have known their background already.

Before long, they arrived at the city gate. At this moment, a Foundation Establishment Stage cultivator was standing there, seemingly welcoming them.

At this time, Wu Yong saw him and couldn't help but smile, "Senior Brother Chen Xiang, I've brought them here."

After finishing speaking, he turned his head and introduced the Loose Cultivators, "This is the manager of the Outer Sect, Senior Brother Chen Xiang, you can respectfully call him Master's Brother. From now on, you must follow Senior Brother Chen Xiang's arrangements.."

Chapter 206: Outer Sect Disciple, Dan Ding Array

"Greetings, Uncle Master Chen Xiang.¹¹

At this moment, Liang Sheng looked at Chen Xiang with a beaming smile, but for some reason, his thoughts suddenly scattered. If he wanted to escape in the future and face Chen Xiang's move, how would he escape?

However, Liang Sheng had a faint idea in his heart that maybe the Dan Ding Sect would lead him to the true path of immortality.

Previously in the market, he had been limited by his horizons and had survived in a meager way. That didn't mean he didn't get involved with sects. With the Attribute Panel Concealment, wouldn't he be able to live a meager life within the sect?

It's just that different perspectives lead to different actions!

At this moment, he was not worried about joining the Dan Ding Sect as a sect disciple. He had previously obtained the materials for the Soul Lifeplates of Inner Sect disciples and knew how to refine them.

It was precisely because of this that he understood the principle of the Soul Lifeplate. Under the concealment property of his Attribute Panel, as long as he completely concealed his qi, the Soul Lifeplate couldn't connect to the same qi between heaven and earth, and it would naturally shatter.

This was the power of the Soul Lifeplate, which could tell the life and death of its master. Apart from Liang Sheng, who else could fully conceal their qi between heaven and earth?

Only a dead person could.

Dan Ding Sect, Outer Sect Mountain.

At this moment, Chen Xiang nodded with a smile on his face. The sect had already clearly explained the situation of these loose cultivators, so he naturally wouldn't act recklessly.

"If there are any problems with your life in the future, you can come directly to me, and I will deal with them in time. You don't need to worry about anything.

Since the sect has taken you in, it must have its intentions. As for your tasks, there is no need to worry. Today, I will arrange your Cave Mansions first."

"Later, when I call your names, you should each stand in a place, and I will indicate who the last person is."

Liang Sheng and the others obediently lined up according to Chen Xiang's instructions, and Liang Sheng found that he was surrounded by Artifact Refiners.

The Array Masters stood together, and the Talisman masters were likewise gathered together. It could be said that each auxiliary profession was grouped together.

They then followed a sect disciple appointed by Chen Xiang, received their sect attire, and arranged their Cave Mansions.

Although it was called a Cave Mansion, it was actually just a simple small mansion, but everyone was extremely excited about it.

Moreover, they didn't know if it was preferential treatment, but their Cave Mansion locations were closer to the central area than the original Outer Sect disciples'.

With such a dense spiritual energy in the Cave Mansion, what more could they ask for? They could save at least one bottle of Qi Refining Pills a month by cultivating here.

It felt amazing!

Was this the treatment for sect disciples? And this was just the Outer Sect area. What would the environment be like for ordinary disciples, or even Inner Sect disciples?

When Liang Sheng settled into his arranged Cave Mansion, he looked at the unfamiliar scenery of the Pili Cauldron Sect outside and had a faint new understanding in his heart.

Hopefully, everything would be fine from now on. Maybe he had taken the wrong path from the beginning, but there was no choice, his vision was too small, and his actions were ultimately petty.

For example, when he first entered the Cultivation World, Liang Sheng dared to manipulate an empire between his palms because he stood at the peak of the secular world and saw the whole world.

The turmoil of the Three Sects and Six Orders was indeed a little unexpected, but after joining the Pill Cauldron Sect, Liang Sheng was actually less worried.

After all, this was the sect with the fewest disciples, yet even so, would the other Three Sects and Six Orders really want to both suffer losses in the face of self-protecting Dan Ding Sect?

Perhaps even Hua Tian Sect just wanted to take the opportunity to isolate the alliance of the Three Sects and Six Orders, as they had already started gradually moving ahead.

The Great Zhou Bloodline was truly incredible. Now, Liang Sheng had reasons to suspect that the sect which had kidnapped the Great Zhou Bloodline might not only be Upper Green Sect, and other sects might have secretly done the same.

As he sorted his thoughts, the path became clearer. He could only say that the sects passed down for tens of thousands of years were not simple. He was only over 500 years old, how could he be as resourceful as them?

However, with this understanding, Liang Sheng felt some relief. He had an instant plan of how to survive in the Pill Cauldron Sect from now on.

Out of nowhere, bad luck could turn into a blessing. The higher one's perch, the farther one could see. Previously, in the market, Liang Sheng was simply petty. After figuring this out, Liang Sheng went to sleep peacefully,

Nothing happened overnight, and the Dan Ding Sect's actions over the next few days validated his thoughts, making Liang Sheng even more at ease.

Only after gathering the next day did these loose cultivators, who had become Outer Sect Disciples of Pill Cauldron Sect, find out what their tasks were.

Their task was to refine Array Flags one by one, with specifications already planned, not allowing any deviation, and without requiring any spiritual power input.

Wasn't this just like assembly line work in a previous life, making standard parts according to specifications? It seemed that the Pill Cauldron Sect wanted to set up a massive array, which could be seen from their standard Array Flag magical weapons.

Liang Sheng was actually a bit excited about this since the Pill Cauldron Sect's actions showed that they really wanted safety first.

Excellent!

From then on, Liang Sheng's life became extremely regular. As long as they finished their tasks during the task times, they could return to the Cave Mansion to cultivate at other times, unconstrained by anyone, and they even had a certain number of Qi Refining Pills as a quota.

This made the loose cultivators more excited, and they could not help but praise that the Pill Cauldron Sect was indeed extraordinary, with an unlimited supply of elixirs and a generous behavior.

Two months later, when the others had completed their task quota, they all received new refining tasks, except for Liang Sheng who had no new tasks..

Chapter 207: Outer Sect Disciple, Dan Ding Array

Liang Sheng originally thought that he would continue to refine Array Flags, but he didn't expect this situation to happen, so he couldn't help but worry.

He secretly increased his vigilance, but the following situation made him relax. It turned out that he had been arranged to work with the Array Masters this time.

It was precisely because of this that Liang Sheng finally knew the real purpose of the magical weapons and Array Flags they had refined before.

He needed to follow a specific spiritual power method to find the correct array positions for the Array Flags. Of course, they were just a part of the array arrangement, and the real host of the entire array was a Golden Core Daoist.

This was the first time Liang Sheng truly faced a Golden Core Daoist, and for the first time, he felt the sense of powerlessness. Foundation Establishment was nothing more than an ant in front of a Golden Core.

Golden Core Daoists were indeed incredibly powerful. Once Foundation Establishment was achieved, the lifespan would increase by 500 years, and after breaking through the Golden Core Realm, it would directly increase by 1,000 years.

That is to say, if someone has terrifying talents, their total lifespan after the Golden Core Realm might directly reach 1,700 years.

However, Liang Sheng didnt dwell on it. As long as he was cautious and careful, it didnt matter if he couldnt win against his opponent, and it didnt matter if his cultivation was slow. It was only 1,500 years, and he could withstand the death of ten Golden Core Daoists in a row without a problem.

Of course, Liang Sheng had another idea at this time. If he used the Nail-Head Seven Arrows Technique, even if the difference in realm was too big, how many years of his lifespan would he have to consume to curse a Golden Core Daoist to death?

But now its fine; he doesnt have to worry about all that. However, he wasnt relaxed in his heart either. Actually, the cautiousness of the Dan Ding Sect was quite good.

Now he knew that the Dan Ding Sect was extremely decisive this time. The mountain peak that Dan Ding Sect previously granted to the alchemists of the Three Sects and Six Orders had already been evacuated, and they sent them back to their mountain gates personally.

The Dan Ding Sect had one principle now, which was that no matter how the others were making a fuss, they only held on to their own territory and didnt get involved in anything.

Do as you like, but dont force them. Even a cornered rabbit might bite!

After more than a month, Liang Sheng and the other Loose Cultivators performed very well, and the Dan Ding Sects supervision of them was not as frequent as before.

At this time, Liang Sheng finally realized why the Dan Ding Sect, famous for refining pills, also had a Golden Core Realm Array Master.

And the Golden Core Realm Artifact Refiner, who was in charge of refining equipment, was actually comparable to the Refining Equipment Peak Elder of the Hua Tian Sect. These loose cultivators they were responsible for were really just corners.

These two Golden Core Daoists were actually Guest Elders that the Dan Ding Sect had invited from the Immortal City with great sincerity, and their treatment was even better than that of ordinary peak masters.

Immortal City?

Liang Sheng secretly stored this term in his mind. It turned out that the Three Sects and Six Orders were not really the central area of the Cultivation World and were only a peripheral area.

The Cultivation World was even larger than Liang Sheng had guessed. Such a magnificent world made Liang Sheng yearn for it even more in his heart.

The lifespan will always increase, the world is so big, I want to live well and see how many so-called Immortal Path laws I can outlast.

However, this matter was too far away from Liang Sheng at the moment. Now he just wanted to stay in the outer sect of the Dan Ding Sect and complete the tasks assigned by the higher-ups.

In the Dan Ding Sect, the Golden Yuan Pill Formula was not a problem, and even the Golden Yuan Pill might be possible. After all, time was the greatest weapon, turning any impossibility into possibility!

In fact, this period of time was not all bad news. There was also good news because the Dan Ding Sects outer sect was a mixture of fish and dragons.

There were countless descendants of the sect cultivators left behind, so as long as he arranged reasonably, he could still fish in troubled waters. Who let the outer sect disciples have no real-name registration?

Soul Lifeplates were something that Foundation Establishment Stage disciples had. Ordinary Qi Refining Disciples didn't have them at all; they were just independently registered in each peak.

As for the outer sect disciples, they were just ordinary people living within the sect who could see the edge of the cultivation world. However, compared to Loose Cultivators, they were naturally superior.

Afterward, Liang Sheng's life in the Dan Ding Sect continued like this for a year, but the Dan Ding Sect's great array was not yet completed. It shows how determined the Dan Ding Sect was in protecting their mountain gate this time.

As for the situation of the other Three Sects and Six Orders, it remained the same as before. Although there was no further deterioration, the alliance between the Three Sects and Six Orders was on the verge of collapse.

The market around the Three Cults and Six Sects had slowly become the private property of each sect. Loose cultivators' lives were becoming more difficult. After all, the pricing power was now entirely determined by one sect. How could the Loose Cultivators be comfortable?

At this time, Liang Sheng had gradually become accustomed to life in the Dan Ding Sect, and his superficial realm had also broken through to the Eighth Layer of Qi Cultivation Realm. In comparison to other Loose Cultivators, his progress was not eye-catching.

Loose Cultivators' talents were not necessarily bad; it could only be said that their previous circumstances were not good, so the two words, fortune and blessings, were so touching to the cultivators.

Fellow Daoist Yang, why are you here to refine weapons again? Has the Array Master side used up the Array Flags we just made?

At this moment, someone saw Liang Sheng walking to where the refining workshop was located and couldn't help but complain. Every time Liang Sheng was called back, it meant one thing: that the Array Flags they had previously refined had been arranged.

This also meant that their next round of overtime work in refining weapons had started again, and the Array Masters' side could relax a bit.

On the other hand, if Liang Sheng was reassigned to the Array Masters' side, it would mean that the Array Masters would be busy again..

Chapter 208: Outer Sect Disciple, Dan Ding Array

Liang Sheng just laughed at this and didn't say anything. The others were actually just complaining. After all, the Dan Ding Sect wouldn't treat them harshly.

The more work they did, the more Qi Refining Pills they were given. Perhaps other sects couldn't do this, but who can blame the Dan Ding Sect for having so many alchemists?

Moreover, within the Dan Ding Sect, there aren't just these immortal mountain peaks. There are also vast spiritual fields, the Back Mountain Hunting Grounds, where many outer sect disciples serve in the spiritual fields and search for opportunities in the hunting grounds.

Based on the foundation of the Dan Ding Sect over these years, Liang Sheng guessed that it was probably richer than he had imagined.

If it weren't for other reasons, the fact that the Array Master and Artifact Refiner of the Golden Core Realm were willing to be Guest Elders would reveal the depth of the Dan Ding Sect's foundation, that they could afford such a high price to invite them over.

After another peaceful day of refining weapons, when Liang Sheng returned to his cave dwelling, a female cultivator beside him stopped him.

Fellow Daoist Yang, I just prepared some spiritual food. Would you like to share it? Da Bao, go invite your Uncle Yang over.

Upon hearing this, Liang Sheng immediately felt awkward and quickly declined, saying that he had already used spiritual food before, and then hurriedly ran into the cave mansion, leaving behind a resentful gaze outside the door.

Among the outer sect disciples of the Pill Cauldron Sect, there were as many female cultivators as male cultivators. For example, the one who just greeted him was a widow, Chen Yun, who had just lost her Daoist partner.

Chen Yuns Taoist partner used to gather resources in the hunting grounds of the Dan Ding Sects Back Mountain. Last year, he was accidentally ambushed and killed by demonic beasts, leaving her alone with their child.

Perhaps due to the harmonious and peaceful cultivation environment of the Dan Ding Sect, there are many dual cultivation partners among the outer disciples.

Previously, Chen Yun didnt pay much attention to Liang Sheng and was just acquainted with him. However, after her partners death, her outer disciples share alone couldnt support her son.

After all, they are cultivators, and naturally, they know how important it is to lay a foundation during childhood. Why do so many Daoist couples exist among the outer disciples? Because they feel that their path is already cut off and they want to cultivate the next generation. If their children successfully enter the sect as ordinary disciples, they can still support their parents.

As a Loose Cultivation Outer Sect Disciple with extraordinary skills in both refining weapons and formation, Liang Sheng obtained far more Qi Refining Pills than other disciples.

It was also because the Qi Refining Pills were useless to Liang Sheng. Once, when he saw Chen Yun carrying Little Bao and asking to borrow Qi Refining Pills from their neighbors, he remembered that Chen Yuns partner had helped him once when he first arrived, so he lent a hand.

Liang Sheng didnt care at the time and directly gave a bottle of Qi Refining Pills. This was not a big deal, but he didnt know why Chen Yun began to think about him afterward.

So initially, he wondered why he had such good intentions. Now he had no intention of accepting the widows advances. The thought of having an extra child and two more burdens by his side made him shiver.

If it werent for the current management of the Dan Ding Sect, which didnt allow them to move their cave mansions at will, Liang Sheng would have moved away long ago.

Lately, during his spare time, Liang Sheng would sit in his cave dwelling and watch the beautiful scenery of the Pill Cauldron Sect. However, after Chen Yun noticed him, she would appear in his sight, flirting and acting seductively.

The figures of female cultivators were naturally good, and they would not have any excess flesh after cultivation. With a bitter smile in his heart, Liang Sheng didn't dare to provoke her. After realizing that Chen Yun was deliberately tempting him, he no longer dared to admire the stars and the moon.

He naturally understood Chen Yun's thoughts. It was a bit far-fetched to say that she had taken a fancy to himself, especially since they were merely acquaintances before.

Perhaps it was because of the Qi Refining Pills last time, she thought that he was kind-hearted with a good income and wanted him to play daddy.

So Liang Sheng, when facing Chen Yun later, would naturally avoid her like the plague, as if she were a flood or a beast. If he dared to provoke such a woman, he would probably never get rid of her in the future.

But aside from this annoyance, Liang Sheng strangely didn't feel the same pressure he had in the market before. His plans began to change as time went on.

However, these ideas still needed careful consideration. This was the Pill Cauldron Sect, with countless cultivators and great power, so no matter how careful he was, it wouldn't be too much.

Under such circumstances, time passed day by day. One day, he and other loose cultivators finally received a notice, saying that they no longer needed to refine magical weapons and deploy arrays.

Because, the Protective Array that the Pill Cauldron Sect had been working on is finally about to be completed!

Chapter 209: Puppet Plan, Young Yang Cheng, Top-notch Talent

Dan Ding Sect.

What is the Sects Great Array?

Now Liang Sheng finally saw what a sects heritage was; only a sect could have such a large-scale project, building such a majestic array.

Previously, Liang Sheng felt very wealthy, but at this moment, he couldnt help but feel a little embarrassed. How dare he claim to be rich?

At this moment, Liang Sheng and other cultivators stood on the scene, with no reaction for a while, their eyes tightly staring at the situation outside of the heaven.

At the periphery of the sect, points of starlight appeared, impossible to see the end of; then, as the faint light shimmered, these starlights condensed like constellations, instantly forming the Complete Heavenly Array.

The entire starlight seemed to spill down from outer space, and the spiritual energy under the faint light became more active. A beam of light soaring to the sky appeared above the main peak of Dan Ding Sect. The previously endless starlight instantly connected with silk threads of light. In an instant, the sky was as bright as day, leaving only the dazzling light piercing the soul.

However, this flash of light was just a fleeting moment, and then everyone felt their bodies heavy, and without waiting for Liang Sheng to react, the people around him were already kneeling down, crushed by the pressure.

Liang Sheng reacted quickly at this time, and quickly stopped resisting the pressure. He also pretended to kneel on the ground weakly, raising his head and looking at the faint light in the sky.

He knew that the protective array of Dan Ding Sect had been successfully activated, and it was in harmony with the original protective array, both inside and outside.

Such a superb array, Liang Shengs eyes couldnt help but shine. He saw much more than the other outer sect disciples. At this moment, all the light in the sky disappeared directly, as if nothing had ever existed.

However, just now, although the one conducting the array was that Golden Core Array Master, the person who finally input the power to merge the old and new protective arrays was an unseen great power.

That power was far stronger than a Golden Core Daoist. Could it be that a Nascent Soul Great Power had taken action at the last moment?

No one could give Liang Sheng an answer, but at this moment, his expression was the same as that of other outer sect disciples: a strong sense of security.

Everyone knew that anyone who wanted to break into the Dan Ding Sect at this time would undoubtedly pay a heavy price. No one knew better than Liang Sheng and other Loose Cultivation Disciples how comprehensive this protective array was.

Although they were only responsible for the details, they had completely followed the standard production of magical weapons without any error.

At this time, these Loose Cultivation Disciples who had already become outer sect disciples felt a mix of excitement and helplessness. The great array had been completed, and they would no longer have any additional refining weapon subsidies.

From now on, they would have to be like other outer sect disciples, although they have a sects quota, their income would be far from what it is now and just barely enough for them.

The provisions for outer sect disciples of the Dan Ding Sect would undergo strict calculations to ensure they wouldnt live too comfortably.

Furthermore, the outer sect disciples were a mixed group, and even the Dan Ding Sect itself didnt know exactly how many people there were.

They would issue quotas based on the approximate number of people provided by the outer sect manager each month, generally without any significant problems.

Because during the first three days of the month, the outer sect disciples would need to register anonymously at the Foreign Affairs Hall. As long as they passed the Jade Gate Pillar outside the hall, they would be considered successfully registered.

So if you were too busy to go to register, you couldn't blame anyone but yourself. However, they were just outer sect disciples after all, and missing the quota for a month would not affect their cultivation since every outer sect disciple surely had some savings.

In the following days, the Loose Cultivation Disciples who had no mission finally began to truly integrate into the life of the outer sect. In addition to the outer sects fixed quotas, they could also receive tasks and get corresponding rewards.

Of course, if they felt strong enough, they could also apply to enter the Back Mountain Hunting Grounds and look for their opportunities.

So generally, middle and lower-ranking outer sect disciples would accept tasks, such as irrigating spiritual fields or taking on missions for sect disciples, elders, etc. If there was no danger in the mission, they would compete for it.

As for the experienced outer sect disciples, they would accept relatively more dangerous assignments, or they would team up and enter the back mountain hunting grounds, exploring and collecting spiritual herbs and demon beast materials, all of which could be sold at a price.

After all, the Dan Ding Sect was where alchemists resided, so there was no worry about selling spirit herbs and monster materials. However, Liang Sheng was not so naive to follow the mainstream path immediately but chose to carefully observe the outer sect situation.

Previously, since the sect had conscripted them for work, they had not had much time to experience the real life of the outer sect.

He was not in a hurry at this time because he was richer than the average Foundation Establishment Stage cultivators. It was better to think about his safety and investigate the outer sect situation first.

However, during Liang Sheng's relatively easy-going period, people from the other sects within the Three Sects and Six Orders appeared one after another to visit the Dan Ding Sect.

After all, the Dan Ding Sect had suddenly added a new protective array, so they had to come and see for themselves what was happening.

Back then, several days could be seen with the lights flashing in the Dan Ding Sect. Liang Sheng couldn't see the specific situation, but he could confirm that the visitors were at least in the Golden Core Realm.

The Dan Ding Sect treated them all equally, not letting these eight sects harbor resentment against each other. The people from the other sects did not have any conflicts in the Dan Ding Sect, and everything was peaceful.

A tacit understanding also formed among the Three Sects and Six Orders, tacitly accepting the Dan Ding Sect's approach. Later, some gossips spread that the Three Sects and Six Orders had already become a thing in name only..

Chapter 210: Puppet Plan, Young Yang Cheng, Top-notch Talent

Because of this situation, the outside world became more chaotic, and the loose cultivators in the market faced more difficulties. The number of mid-market ambushes and killings doubled compared to before.

Other sects came to visit Dan Ding Sect in such a hurry to test their attitude. After Dan Ding Sect declared their continued provision of elixirs and maintaining neutrality, other sects breathed a sigh of relief.

The most talked-about and miserable situation was that of the Upper Green Sect, as they were being pressured by the Hua Tian Sect during this period.

Loose cultivators in the Upper Green Sect's market were fleeing in droves, as most Golden Core cultivators in the Hua Tian Sect now possessed spirit tools, their battle strength soaring.

The Upper Green Sect didn't want to engage in a do-or-die battle with the Hua Tian Sect right now, so they could only endure and swallow their pride.

So, what was the point of all this?

This was the sentiment of most cultivators, but everyone also knew that if they were in the position of the Upper Green Sect, they would probably do the same.

After all, who could tolerate their allies becoming stronger day by day while doing nothing? Were they simply waiting for death?

The law of the jungle was something everyone understood; a previously balanced situation would develop problems when someone suddenly became stronger.

But even so, although the Hua Tian Sect was much stronger, they did not dare to engage in a total death match with the Upper Green Sect.

That's because they would likely win a costly victory, and then what would they do? There were other sects around them as well.

For a short while, a new balance appeared between the Three Sects and Six Orders. This situation caused the other sects to treat the Dan Ding Sect more courteously, and the Dan Ding Sect was very peaceful.

Liang Sheng's Cave Mansion.

Fellow Daoist Yang, my Little Bao needs many spirit stones for his foundation laying these days. But I have collected some together, and I still need ten low-grade spirit stones. I wonder if you are willing to lend me the spirit stones first. I will pay you back slowly when I go on missions afterwards.

At this moment, Chen Yun was standing at the entrance of Liang Sheng's residence. Other outer sect disciples glanced at Liang Sheng unintentionally, but they didn't have any opinions, as Chen Yun had also tried to borrow spirit stones from them as well.

However, when Chen Yun tried to borrow from them, she only asked for three or two low-grade spirit stones. But now, she asked for ten, which indicated that Chen Yun had a talent for reading people.

Liang Sheng couldnt refuse the loan at this point. After all, he still had some cause and effect with Chen Yun and her fallen Daoist partner, but he couldnt directly loan her ten stones either.

On the surface, he was a dual cultivator of refining weapons and arrays, with huge daily expenses. How could he lend so many spirit stones without reason?

Daoist Chen, Im sorry, but I can only lend you five low-grade spirit stones at most

Before Liang Sheng finished speaking, Chen Yun nodded repeatedly, interrupting him as if she was afraid he would change his mind, Thank you, Fellow Daoist Yang.

Liang Sheng immediately understood that Chen Yun might just want to borrow a few spirit stones and didnt care about the amount. The ten stones were merely a figure to ensure she wouldnt walk away empty-handed.

Indeed, those who borrowed money always seemed to be more calculating.

Liang Sheng then lent the spirit stones to Chen Yun, who cheerfully left. Before leaving, she gave Liang Sheng a flirtatious glance, causing him to quickly lower his head.

Then, Liang Sheng watched Chen Yuns departing figure, thinking that if he wasnt about to leave the place, he wouldnt have agreed so readily.

Liang Sheng wasnt acting on a whim, but decided to move after investigating the outer sects arrangement of Cave Mansions.

During this period, he occasionally visited Chen Xiang, the outer sect manager, to give him some Fruit Wine, as well as a full set of Gathering Spirit Array techniques. This had ingratiated him with Chen Xiang.

Liang Sheng didnt directly make a request but continued to visit and give gifts periodically. His efforts paid off when Chen Xiang finally asked if there was anything he needed help with.

So, Liang Sheng had actually already chosen a new Cave Mansion location and was preparing to move. After all, there were too many acquaintances in his current location, which made it difficult for him to carry out his affairs.

Although it was safe in the outer sect of the Dan Ding Sect, Liang Sheng couldnt do nothing. He still needed to make many preparations for his future cultivation.

Therefore, moving to a more unfamiliar location was a necessary move, making it easier for him to act.

Yesterday, Chen Xiang had already found a new Cave Mansion according to Liang Shengs request. He secured the place in no time by using some spirit stones.

As Liang Sheng watched Chen Yuns retreating figure, he closed the cave gate and headed towards the managers office.

There were no accidents during this move. The moment Liang Sheng handed in the jade slip of his original Cave Mansion, he received the jade slip for the new one.

The new Cave Mansion was on the east side of the outer door and nearly a hundred miles away from the original one. Liang Sheng was very satisfied with the new environment, as there were no familiar faces here.

The cultivator who previously lived in this Cave Mansion only stopped and nodded slightly to Liang Sheng as a greeting when he saw the new neighbor before hurrying away on his own business.

After showing his face, Liang Sheng immediately entered the Cave Mansion and began setting up Concealment Arrays and Gathering Spirit Arrays. Only after setting up ten layers of arrays did he relax.

Without using his Attribute Panel, his Foundation Establishment Stage senses couldnt see through the changes inside the Cave Mansion.

He even added an Illusion Array Technique so that casual observers would see only the normal scene without any problems, without close examination..