

Bottleneck 751

Chapter 751: Achieving Mastery in Martial Arts, Battling Demonic Beasts, Unleashing a Massacre!

Liang Sheng unexpectedly found the situation to be ever more absurd in his heart. Wasn't the Immortal Dynasty Grand Competition the highlight of the Human Clan? How could there be members of the foreign Demon Clan among the opponents of the pride disciples at this moment?

Could it be that Heaven and Earth had long ago let go of past grievances, hence incorporating the Demon Clan into this Immortal Dynasty Golden Era?

If the situation was indeed as he thought, he feared that the upcoming development would definitely not be simple. Even more peculiarly, Liang Sheng wondered if this could be considered another confrontation between the Human Clan and the Demon Clan since ancient times?

If so, where is "Zhou Shen" now? In this situation, would Heaven and Earth affirm him as part of the Human Clan, or the Demon Clan?

Thinking back on the results predicted by the Law of Cause and Effect, Liang Sheng felt slightly reassured. He didn't actually face any danger.

Because the cultivators in this trial world were always suppressed by Heaven and Earth, since Liang Sheng's Divine Ability of the Law of Cause and Effect was forcibly suppressed at this moment, he also couldn't guess what would happen next.

However, he now felt an abnormal-like strength within his body. Amidst a string of questions, he slowly calmed down.

Anyway, as long as he did not court death, he could remain undefeated. He could even observe the situation from a bystander's perspective and see how things would develop.

As the Demon Beast Army gradually appeared in everyone's sight, not only the Martial Arts Academy Disciples who alarmed earlier, but the Martial Arts School Masters on the city towers were also involuntarily frowning.

According to the letter from the Holy Land's scouts, it was supposed to be a small group of demon beasts attacking the city. Why were there so many demon beasts in reality?

Currently, there were thirty-eight newly promoted disciples of this year's Martial Arts Halls serving as the vanguards. Could they withstand this assault?

These Martial Arts School Masters possessed no confidence in their hearts. Yet, even though they were filled with unease, they decided to see how things would unfold.

Perhaps these disciples, whom the Holy Land had specifically ordered them to take care of, might bring them unexpected surprises.

However, the subsequent scene was unexpectedly not as they predicted, further confusing the Martial Arts School Masters.

Because the Demon Beast Army, two miles away, surprisingly halted their steps rather prematurely. They didn't blindly charge at the city gate, instead, they even sent out a vanguard camp to test the city's strength.

The number of demon beasts in the vanguard was neither too many nor too few, just enough to match the numbers of the thirty-eight newly promoted disciples of the Martial Arts Halls.

A fair fight?

Since when do demonic beasts follow such rules?

In previous demon beast attacks on human cities, when was there a time when they didn't charge directly at the city gates in a chaotic manor, demonstrating utmost savagery?

What on Earth was going on? The Martial Arts School Masters lost their previous confidence. They couldn't understand why the demon beasts were displaying bravery and strategy this time?

Could it be that the Demon Ancestral Land had really revived, and the demon beasts had obtained someone to command them again? For a short while, the situation became somewhat inexplicably different,

At this moment, the Martial Arts School Masters couldn't help but exchange looks with each other. However, they could only suppress their unease and quietly watched the disciples beneath the city gate.

No panic, extremely calm. The performance of these grown disciples was far better than they had imagined. And between their thoughts, the vanguards of the demon beasts finally arrived in front of them.

Kill!

The atmosphere was instantly filled with a murderous aura; a fierce battle was about to take place on the spot. These grown disciples surprisingly launched a proactive strike, each choosing their own opponents.

The demon beasts moved swiftly, and the disciples of the various Martial Arts Halls also used their own unique martial arts skills to initiate their fight.

Was this the combat quality expected of these new disciples after a year?

If it wasn't for the unique martial arts skills executed by the disciples of each Martial Arts Hall, their Masters would probably suspect whether these disciples had been feigning incompetence.

And the scene that followed left these Masters dumbfounded. This was because these disciples, unknown to everyone, made a massive leap in their martial arts skills.

They surprisingly became increasingly valiant in the course of the battle. If they were still mediocre before, their martial art techniques now were gradually approaching perfection.

Geniuses!

These are all geniuses!

At this moment, the Martial Arts School Masters could hardly resist the urge to send reinforcements. Their disciples were more outstanding than they had imagined.

If it wasn't for their mind still being rational, they would probably have launched themselves into the fight to ensure their disciples' safety. The reactions of these Martial Arts School Masters were seen by everyone, yet they merely smiled without a word.

Just then, someone finally managed to kill their demon beast opponent. The next moment, an invisible ray of light integrated into the pride disciple's body. In an instant, the disciple's Martial Arts Cultivation rose by a level.

No one atop the city tower could see this light, but the disciples near the city gate caught a glimpse of it in their peripheral vision, causing their hearts to thump uncontrollably.

Killing an opposing demon beast could award them with the opportunity to elevate their Martial Arts Cultivation directly?

In an instant, all the pride disciples' eyes were frighteningly bright, and they completely abandoned their previous intention of honing their martial arts skills.

Kill, kill, kill!

Chapter 752: Gifted Child's Strong Position, Demon Clan Vanguard Annihilated, Demon Clan Trap Enters Dangerous Situation

At the city gate.

Now, there is nothing other than the sound of fighting.

After experiencing some initial discomfort, the Heavenly Arrogant Monks are now showing their grandmaster style with each punch and kick.

On the city tower, the Martial Arts School Masters watch the battle at the gate, their eyes shining brightly, leaving the disciples beside them dumbfounded.

If they were put in the same situation as these adult disciples are now, could they perform so well?

The answer is sadly impossible.

And yet, it has only been one year, and they have performed so well, these people are simply martial arts geniuses!

But if they have such talent, why did they not start practicing martial arts when they were young and instead waited until adulthood to join the martial arts halls, isn't that a waste of the prime of their lives?

The confusion of these martial arts disciples was destined to have no answer, and the fighting at the city gate became even more intense.

At this time, after suffering heavy casualties, the demonic beasts wanted to escape back to their base, but the Heavenly Arrogant disciples simply wouldn't give them the chance.

With every move aimed directly at vital points, without worrying about their own safety, the demonic beasts were on the verge of collapse.

These human warriors are all crazy!

As more and more demonic beasts died, the number of Heavenly Arrogant disciples who received the starlight power increased, and after their cultivation levels increased, they became even more skilled.

Some Heavenly Arrogant disciples even began to encircle other demonic beasts. After all, if you can't kill your opponent's demonic beast in the first place, you can't blame other Heavenly Arrogant disciples for stealing it from you.

Talent Road itself is about competition, competing for opportunities, competing for fortune, everything is a competition.

If it weren't for the Martial Arts School Masters watching from the city tower at this moment, it would be possible for these Heavenly Arrogant disciples to start fighting amongst themselves after the fall of the demonic beasts.

In fact, they don't really care about the demonic beasts attacking the city in their hearts. In their view, this is just the trial space of Talent Road, and all they care about is themselves.

At this moment, Liang Sheng finally killed a Demonic Monster. His killing speed was not too fast, but it was just average.

After receiving the starlight power infusion from the slain demonic beast, Liang Sheng felt nothing. This little opportunity had only a negligible effect on his strength.

Hmm?

Looking at his body that had no reaction to the infused starlight, Liang Sheng couldn't help but feel speechless. It seemed that the so-called opportunity of starlight power was completely ineffective on him.

In fact, it's not that starlight power is ineffective; it's just that his strength is too horrifying.

The stronger one's strength, the more limited the improvement. If he were to show his true strength, all the demonic beasts in the distance would probably be nothing more than a slap in the face.

Even so, Liang Sheng was not too disappointed. He only put on a mediocre performance afterwards, appearing fierce on the surface, but in reality, he had completely restrained his power and was just slacking off.

Despite Liang Sheng's slacking, the battle at the gate quickly came to an end due to the relentless efforts of these Heavenly Arrogant disciples.

At this time, the Heavenly Arrogants, whose eyes had turned red under the stimulus of starlight power, would have long gone over to the other demonic beasts if not because they were too far away.

As the battle at the city gate came to an end, the city tower became silent. No one expected these adult disciples to perform so well.

At this point, the Martial Arts School Master made a decision in his heart that these adult disciples must be cultivated as Inner Chamber Disciples.

Their talents were too monstrous. If they didn't focus on cultivating them and other martial arts schools treated them like treasures...

The consequences were unimaginable.

At this point, the martial arts disciples also felt a crisis in their hearts. It had only been a year, and these adult disciples had already achieved the results of several years of their practice. If more time was given...

It seemed that they would have to work harder in their cultivation and never slack off. They had to consider whether they could be completely overtaken!

Under this mindset, the competition among the Martial Arts Academy Disciples formed unknowingly. However, the Pride Disciples, who caused all these, had no time to deal with it at the moment.

Their eyes were fixed on the Demon Beast Army two miles away, anxious in their hearts. Why haven't the demonic beasts attacked the city yet?

If you don't come, how can we progress?

A single ordinary demonic beast is worth several months of hard work, where is the enemy, it's clearly a wealth-bringing child.

Of course, Liang Sheng also pretended to be eager, staring intently at the Demon Beast Army in front of him, but he couldn't help sighing in his heart. Hu Fei really had skill.

In fact, the demonic beasts they had slain before were nothing more than bait released by Hu Fei, but the effect was indeed very good.

At this point, the Heavenly Arrogant Disciples had been successfully hooked. Perhaps even if they knew it was bait, they would still eat it.

After all, as long as it can improve cultivation, it is worth taking risks for them, no matter how dangerous.

How can you gain without taking some risks?

...

The Demon Beast Army.

At this moment, Hu Fei looked like a half-beastman, not fully transformed into a human like before, standing quietly beside a burly member of the Demon Clan.

Since the Floating Arena entered this trial world, the strength of his Demon Emperor Realm was suppressed to the lowest, and he couldn't even maintain his transformation.

As for the other Demon Sovereign Ancestors in Fang Yuan's sphere of influence, he did not detect any of them in his Demon Beast Tribe. They seemed to be randomly distributed among the various Demon Tribes.

It took a year, and through visits to other Demon Clans, he occasionally met other Demon Emperor Ancestors, who had successfully established themselves.

However, even if they met, they could not stay for long. For now, they only needed to hold their ground; a reunion was not urgent.

Chapter 753: Gifted Child's Strong Stance, Demon Clan's Vanguard Destroyed, Demon Clan's Trap Falls into Crisis

They should first figure out the situation in the current trial world for now, and Hu Fei successfully became the strategist of the Demon Beast Tribe he is in now, in just one year's time.

"Great King, looking at the performance of the Human Clan warriors, they should've taken the bait already."

In fact, the Demon Tribe Chieftain was already aware of the eagerness of the Human Clan without Hu Fei's explanation.

He couldn't help but sigh in admiration of Hu Fei's strategic success. If he had such a gifted strategist earlier, would he have suffered such great losses?

As for the Demonic Beasts that died at the hands of the Pride Disciples, they were just cannon fodder after all. Those low-bloodline Demons would never be able to transform successfully in their lives.

Dead is dead. Can they contribute and still ask for more?

"Hu Fei, you've done a good job this time. So according to the original plan, are we going to teach them a lesson now?"

Hearing this, Hu Fei shook his head with a smile.

“Great King, don’t be anxious. The opponents should also be ordinary martial artists. What we should do now is to lure the snake out of the hole instead of taking the initiative to attack. It’s better to do the whole play.”

The Demon Tribe Chieftain listened and thought about it before agreeing with Hu Fei’s suggestion, “Alright, let’s act according to your plan, but what if the Human Clan doesn’t bite?”

At this point, the Chieftain’s robust body trembled slightly. As his words came out, his voice unconsciously cooled down.

But Hu Fei remained neither humble nor arrogant, and responded with a smile.

“Great King, that situation will not happen because these Human Clan warriors simply can’t endure it. Humans are the greediest, and as long as we show weakness now, they won’t be able to retreat.”

The leader didn’t speak after hearing this, but Hu Fei knew that he had convinced him and then took the initiative to command all the tribal warriors of the Demon Clan.

“The Great King orders all the warriors to retreat ten miles!”

“Yes.”

Withdraw!

In an instant, without any hesitation, all the Demonic Beasts turned and retreated. As they retreated, Hu Fei glanced back at the gate.

For some reason, Hu Fei felt a hint of unease in his heart as he started to put his plan into action.

But when he carefully examined the source of the unease, he found nothing and shook his head, thinking that perhaps he was being too cautious and overthinking it.

Up on the city, the Martial Arts School Master saw the Demons suddenly retreat and couldn't help but look at each other. Was the Demon beast attack repelled so easily?

With this thought, they couldn't help but look at the disciples below the gate. Their performance earlier was indeed astonishing, considering that they had only been practicing martial arts for a year.

But the opposing Demonic Beasts didn't know this, so their performance among the old disciples was average; not intimidating enough to scare off the beast group.

So why did the Demonic Beasts retreat so decisively this time?

Something's not right!

When the Martial Arts School Masters saw that the Demons stopped retreating after ten miles and started setting up camp, they couldn't help but have a change of expression.

It seemed that the Demonic Beasts only temporarily stopped attacking the city, and the fact that they set up camp meant that they intended to fight a long battle, and their real test might be coming up next.

If that's the case...

Then the Martial Arts School Masters decided to temporarily withdraw their troops and not engage in battle, while they recuperate. However, what they did not expect was that the young disciples they had brought in earlier were unwilling to back down at this point.

These disciples wanted to counterattack the Demonic Beasts. Looking at their high morale and recalling their earlier performance, the Martial Arts School Masters couldn't help but hesitate.

Moreover, their breakthroughs in front of the gate had shown that they were top martial arts talents, making the masters already start to cherish them as students.

After thinking about it, the Martial Arts School Masters exchanged glances and came to a conclusion, finally agreeing to their request.

However, they couldn't allow these new disciples to go out and fight without support, and they couldn't empty out the entire city either. So the majority of the disciples from the thirty-eight Martial Arts Halls stayed in the city, while a small portion of older disciples joined the Vanguard Assault Camp.

After the old disciples were integrated with the Pride Disciples this time, they didn't say much. The performance of these newly arrived grown disciples had been too impressive, causing them to feel a sense of crisis.

So they had to perform even better this time and not disappoint the School Masters, as only the most capable will rise in the world of martial arts.

If they didn't display their value now, they wouldn't have to think about getting more martial arts resources in the future. It would definitely be a reduced allocation.

Furthermore, with the ten Martial Arts School Masters guarding the Central Army, even if they weren't victorious, they could do their best to retreat safely to the city walls.

As for the possibility of dying at the hands of the Demonic Beasts due to their lack of strength, they didn't worry too much. Which martial arts practitioner didn't have such mental preparation?

Fighting with Demonic Beasts inherently offered no guarantees, and accidents could happen at any time. But if they were to die fighting the Demonic Beasts, their families and the people of the city would be taken care of. Otherwise, who else would put their lives on the line to protect the safety of the city in the future?

Seeing the high morale of the disciples, the ten selected Martial Arts School Masters no longer hesitated and immediately led a mixed force of over a thousand old and new disciples, moving aggressively towards the Demonic Beasts' camp.

On the contrary, it made sense to think about it. After all, they couldn't let the Demonic Beasts come and go so comfortably, completely disregarding them, who practiced martial arts.

In addition, how strong could these Demonic Beasts, scared away by novice disciples, be?

Chapter 754: Gifted Child's Strong Position, Demon Clan Vanguard Annihilated, Demon Clan Trap Enters Dangerous Situation

At this moment, Hu Fei and the other members of the Demon Clan had already retreated twelve miles away. They squinted their eyes as they saw the humans charging towards them with great momentum.

Old and new grievances between the two races would be settled today as they collected their first interest payment.

Hu Fei recognized some Heavenly Arrogant Monks in the crowd. However, this world was too friendly to the Demon Clan. Even though their cultivation level was suppressed, how could the humans possibly compete with them based on brute physical strength alone?

Of course, he also had to admit that the growth of the human race was astonishing. Within just one year, they had achieved martial accomplishments and gained preliminary battle strength.

Furthermore, the strength of the Martial Arts School Master in the city was comparable to that of the powerful Demon Clan members. Therefore, he should be cautious. This situation was expected. Otherwise, how could a human city exist?

But now, the situation was different. After all, this place was much better than the Immortal Dynasty World. In the Immortal Dynasty Time, the Human Clan was the Heavenly Earth Protagonist, and the Demon Clan was heavily suppressed by them. However, here, the situation had somewhat reversed.

Seeing that the Martial Arts School Master was leading the humans closer to their campsite, Hu Fei immediately reported to the Demon Tribe Chieftain.

“Great King, the humans have really taken the bait!”

The Demon Tribe Chieftain naturally saw the reaction of the human race and felt overjoyed in his heart. His trust in Hu Fei grew inadvertently stronger.

“Hu Fei, then I’ll be watching your performance next.”

Hu Fei had already rehearsed countless battles in his mind. Seeing the humans charging furiously now, he ordered a part of the Demon Clan to Conceal their strength. They mustn’t expose themselves at the beginning and could only act upon his command.

In addition to this, he also began to set up a camp with the Demonic Beasts, readying them to fight against the Martial Arts Academy Disciples. As a result, the entire Demon Beast Army appeared chaotic at this time.

After seeing the mess that the Demon Clan was in, the old Disciples from the Human Race Martial Hall couldn’t help but feel relieved.

They indeed were a motley crew, no wonder they could be slaughtered so easily by their junior brothers. How dare these Demons attack human cities with such meager strength?

If that was the case, let them slaughter the Demons today!

At this thought, the old Disciples of the Martial Hall couldn’t help but get excited. They were chosen to study martial arts from an early age, so naturally, they were not ordinary people.

Slaughtering Demons was the greatest honor for any martial artist. Watching the Martial Arts Academy Disciples charge forward relentlessly, Liang Sheng, who was mixed among them, couldn’t help but shake his head.

They had underestimated the Demon Clan. However, at this moment, Liang Sheng didn't remind them. Since these people had nothing to do with him, he wouldn't meddle in their affairs.

All he needed to do now was to ensure his own safety and not stand out. As long as he didn't drag anyone down, that would be enough.

As time ticked away while both sides approached each other, a fierce battle between the Martial Arts Academy Disciples and the Demon Beast Army seemed imminent.

Under such an atmosphere, some old Disciples of the Martial Hall couldn't restrain themselves any longer and rushed to the front lines. They didn't want to be overshadowed by the newly promoted Disciples.

Pride Disciples, however, did not try to stop them, nor did they show any intention of responding to the challenges deliberately expressed by the old Disciples.

Even now, they remained calm and unhurried. Indeed, they didn't take the Demon Clan seriously, but they were also not overly careless.

Because capsizing in the gutter would be the ultimate disgrace, since the Demonic Beasts could not run away, there was no need to hurry.

During their cultivation journey, the Heavenly Arrogant also needed to exercise due caution. That was their guarantee to get to where they were today. With the imminent close combat, the battlefield quickly spiraled into chaos.

In an instant, the entire battlefield became a meat grinder. Both the Human and Demon Clans had only one thought.

Kill, kill, kill!

Meanwhile, the Martial Arts School Masters who were protecting their Disciples didn't prepare to join the fight. Most of their attention was focused on the vicinity of the Demon's Central Army.

While the Martial Arts Academy Disciples were responsible for fighting ordinary Demonic Beasts, they had to ensure that no powerful Demons attacked the Disciples.

If such a situation did happen, there would only be one reason: their defense completely collapsed, and they were unable to save their students.

Just then, a sudden scream rang out, followed by several Martial Arts Academy Disciples instantly reduced to a bloody pulp.

Not good!

They had fallen into a trap!

Chapter 755: Bloody Battle, Martial Arts School Master Falls, Liang Sheng Probes the Heavenly Secrets!

Demon Camp.

Upon clashing with the demonic beasts, the old disciples of the Martial Arts School quickly identified that the strength of these beasts is only average. If not outnumbered, they had the upper hand.

However, while they were relieved, they also felt puzzled. How could demonic beasts with such low skills dare to invade the city?

As they saw the new disciples also engaging in combat with beasts, they put aside their concerns, deciding to show their combat skills to the School Master first.

After all, the foundation of the Martial Arts School relied on these old disciples. The new disciples might be talented in martial arts, but growth ultimately takes time.

Liang Sheng was also fighting the beasts at this moment. He noticed his opponent concealing its real strength but didn't say anything. All while fighting, he observed the surroundings and realized that the Martial Arts Academy disciples were gradually being surrounded by the Demon Clan.

It seemed that unless there was an unexpected turn, the disciples would soon suffer a great loss. Many of them were still unaware that they had been surrounded, due to the careful positioning of the Demon Clan.

All one could say was that Hu Fei's strategy was effective. Not even the Martial Arts School Master showed any signs of reacting.

They were stationed at the rear, to maintain order. All they saw were the disciples fiercely fighting the Demon Clan, oblivious to the looming catastrophe.

Liang Sheng had already made up his mind. He didn't make too much of a show, but fought while retreating, subtly reaching the edge of encirclement, ready to escape at any time and act according to the situation.

A significant amount of time, equivalent to the burning of one stick of incense, passed in the blink of an eye during the combat. Yet, the demonic beasts, under Hu Fei's command, did not immediately unleash their fangs, rather continued to conceal their true power while fighting the disciples.

The calmer the Demon Clan seemed, the more certain Liang Sheng was of an impending danger. He realized how ambitious the enemy is.

However, this didn't concern Liang Sheng. The ones suffering were primarily the old disciples. The so-called Pride disciples may seem arrogant and underestimate the Demon Clan, but they were extremely cautious in their hearts.

Those who are cautious usually don't suffer great losses in such situations. Even though they did not have Liang Sheng's strategic abilities, their many years of training gave them an instinctive sense of danger.

Unconsciously, they lured the opponents towards the School Master. The closer they were to the School Master, the safer they felt in their hearts.

Once they felt slightly safe, they launched their attacks in a less cautious and more aggressive manner.

However, at this moment, a scream was heard. An old disciple of the Martial Arts School was caught off guard and killed on the spot by the Demon Clan.

Normally, this wouldn't be significant. After all, the death of the warriors on the battlefield was commonplace. How could humans slay monsters, but monsters not kill humans?

However, when a beam of invisible starlight entered the body of the beast, the Pride Disciples squinted their eyes, their clarity flickered with a trace of caution.

So it turned out that the Demon Clan can also kill their opponents to gain opportunities, not just a privilege limited to them, the Pride Disciples.

Although they were somewhat baffled and wanted to explore the reasons, the fierce battle left them with no room for contemplation.

The beasts, ordered by Hu Fei to hide their true strength, were finally in place, Hu Fei, therefore, no longer needed to hide his intentions.

The encirclement of the beasts was instantly formed.

For a short while, the screams of the Human Clan's warriors echoed one after another. It was only when the beasts stopped concealing their power that the cruel battle truly began.

The beasts stopped pretending and suddenly broke out, catching all the disciples of the Martial Arts School off guard, leading to heavy casualties.

Of course, some disciples had also successfully killed the beasts, but it seemed like the beasts were gaining the upper hand.

"Don't panic, calm down. As warriors, how can you lose your composure? Even if you can't defeat the Demon Clan, the city gate is right behind you. If anything goes wrong, reinforcements will arrive soon. Why panic now?"

One School Master, after seeing the situation, couldn't help frowning. The performance of the disciples was somewhat poor, prompting him to step in and boost their morale.

After the loud rebuke of the School Master, the disciples gradually calmed down.

Only by killing the beasts first could they truly ensure their safety. They suffered a big loss because they were careless at first. Once they regained their composure, they focused on defense instead of attacking mindlessly.

For a short while, the defensive disciples gradually stabilized the situation. However, Hu Fei, who was watching from afar, showed no change of expression.

His real trump card had not yet been played.

The beasts that had been hiding their strength and laying in ambush previously, could now appear and give the Human Warriors a surprise.

However, to prevent the School Masters from disrupting his plan, he needed someone to distract them.

With this in mind, he turned around, bowed respectfully, and said

"Great King, it's time to trouble you to make a move. We need to win this battle quickly before the Human Clan reinforcements arrive. Once we reap the fruits of this battle, we must also temporarily avoid a major battle."

"Okay!"

The Demon Tribe Chieftain nodded at Hu Fei's suggestion. He could see that the Demon Tribe had the upper hand and couldn't help being overjoyed.

Upon returning this time, he would show the others who used to call him a reckless warrior, his true worth.

Chapter 756: Fierce Battle, Martial Arts School Master Falls, Liang Sheng Explores Fate!

Thinking about the upcoming triumph, he couldn't help but laugh out loud, "All warriors, follow this Great King into battle!"

"Kill!"

The Martial Arts School Masters had initially focused all their attention on the safety of their disciples. Seeing that the situation had stabilized, they slowly began to relax.

But at this moment, the Demon Tribe Chieftains suddenly led their elites to attack, and their faces changed, realizing that something was wrong.

This time, the demon beasts' attack on the city was strange from start to finish. In the past, the Demon Tribe Leaders would not take action until the decisive battle – when there was no clear winner between the Martial Arts Academy Disciples and the demon beasts.

However, this time, the Demonic Tribe Leaders took the initiative to attack before the outcome was determined, which was truly baffling.

But the Martial Arts School Masters had no time to think too much, as they had to respond hastily. They couldn't allow the Demons to be so arrogant.

As soon as both sides engaged, the entire battlefield was divided into two parts. In one part, the Demon Beast Leaders led their elites to surround and attack the Martial Arts School Masters, and the momentum was enormous, but the outcome was still unclear for a short while.

The other part of the battlefield was still the usual scene of ordinary demon beasts surrounding the Martial Arts disciples. At this moment, both sides were evenly matched, with casualties on both sides.

At this time, Liang Sheng quietly killed an opposing demon beast and absorbed another stream of starlight into his body, not paying too much attention.

It was just a trivial matter, tasteless, but a waste to discard.

As the battle grew more intense, even though the gifted disciples could use the demon beasts' casualties to supplement their own battle strength, there were still those who were injured.

Fortunately, they had no immediate threat to their lives. On the other hand, the performance of the old disciples was not as good as theirs, and dozens had already perished.

After all, with their mindset, how could the old disciples compare with these Refinement Void Dao Monarch talents who had cultivated for tens of thousands of years?

Of course, not only were there great losses on the Human side, but the casualties on the demon beasts' side were equally heavy.

However, Liang Sheng quietly glanced at the city tower and couldn't help but sigh in helplessness. Human Warriors had underestimated the Demon Clan, who still had hidden strength on their side.

As expected, just as Liang Sheng had this thought, Hu Fei, far away, once again commanded, and the battlefield changed formation again.

Originally, the Martial Arts Academy Disciples fighting against the demon beasts suddenly found other demon beasts appearing by their sides. Their opponents' first strike was already a thunderous blow.

Death!

Afterward, they saw invisible starlights entering the demon beasts' bodies. However, some demon beasts that killed their enemies didn't receive this heaven and earth gift.

Soon, these gifted disciples understood what was happening. The demon beasts that obtained the starlight opportunity were from their Immortal Dynasty Competition's Beast Swamp.

Unexpectedly, these demon beasts had also obtained the chance to participate in the Immortal Dynasty Competition. Heaven and Earth seemed to treat both the Human Clan and Demon Clan participating in the Immortal Dynasty Competition equally.

That is to say, the Demon Clan might have been recognized by Heaven and Earth again, so they were qualified to set foot on the Talent Road?

The emergence of this thought startled them. If that was the case, their top priority now was to kill these Beast Swamp Demon Clan members.

Even though internal conflicts existed among the Human Clan, the Demon Clan was their mortal enemy. They couldn't possibly let the opportunities fall into their hands.

With this in mind, the Pride Disciples sped up their attacks. Through exchanged glances, they unexpectedly gathered together in one place at the same time.

Feeling that their combined strength was not weak, they began to move toward the demon beasts that had absorbed starlight in an organized manner.

They decided to kill these demonic beasts first and leave the local demon beasts for later. After all, they could kill those later, not in a hurry for the time being. The Beast Swamp Demonic Beasts were their biggest concern.

At this time, Liang Sheng naturally followed behind them, as he also wanted to see if the Demon Clan would bring any more surprises.

On the battlefield, as the Pride Disciples began fighting against the Beast Swamp Demonic Beasts, their expressions changed dramatically in a short time. This was because the Beasts Swamp Demonic Beasts actually seemed to be stronger than them.

This guess was actually true—the Demon Clan’s physical bodies were naturally stronger than the Human Clan, and in this Trial World, this advantage was amplified even more.

What was the cultivation of Martial Artists if not the tempering of their physical bodies and enhancement of their physical strength?

Under the suppression of the Beast Swamp Demonic Beasts, the Pride Disciples quickly made up their minds that they must cooperate and fight together, or else they would be throwing their lives away in a one-on-one battle.

With just a few exchanged glances, they formed a tacit understanding and even distributed their respective tasks.

Some were responsible for attacking the upper body, some were responsible for interfering with the enemy’s attention, and some were devoted to attacking the lower body’s weak points. For a short while, even though the Beast Swamp Demon Clan possessed great strength, they couldn’t help but panic when faced with the sincere cooperation of the Pride Disciples.

As the battle situation in certain areas changed, Liang Sheng did not participate but instead pretended to be evenly matched against the opposing Demon Clan at his side.

At this moment, the overall situation on the battlefield still put the Martial Arts Disciples at a disadvantage, but they gradually managed to stand their ground and did not flee in defeat.

According to past situations, if the Demon Clan’s progress was not made in the time it took for one stick of incense to burn, they would definitely retreat.

This was because the Martial Arts School Masters at the city tower wouldn’t turn a blind eye to the situation. They were actually waiting for a signal as well.

So, at this time, the fighting Martial Arts Disciples would not receive reinforcements, and they hadn’t shown any signs of defeat. As martial artists, how could they easily give up?

Therefore, at this moment, killing intent still filled the battlefield, and facing the ferocious demon beasts attacks, not a single person retreated.

Chapter 757: Fierce Battle, Martial Arts School Master Falls, Liang Sheng Explores Fate!

Even due to the bloody and stimulating atmosphere, the Martial Arts Academy Disciples who make their moves have become extremely ruthless, where it is either you die or I perish.

Kill! Kill! Kill!

Just when the battlefield became even more intense, the situation suddenly changed again. It was not the martial arts disciples that had a problem, but there was a turning point on the side of the Martial Arts School Masters.

At this time, the Demon Tribe Chieftain roared loudly, "Die for me!"

One of the Martial Arts School Masters was caught off guard by the Demon Tribe Chieftain, who grabbed his legs and instantly tore the man into two halves, creating an extremely brutal scene.

"School Master!"

"Master!"

For a short while, the disciples of that Martial Arts School Master saw this situation and couldn't help being furious. But they became distracted, and other demon beasts took the opportunity. The Demon Clan was even more ruthless in their attacks.

Subsequently, more than a dozen disciples instantly lost their lives, and the remaining nine Martial Arts School Masters saw their morale plummet. Knowing that continuing the battle would lead to more significant losses, they finally had the idea of retreating in their hearts.

Moreover, the Demon Beast Leader, along with its elite forces, indeed held the upper hand in resisting the several Martial Arts School Masters. With this thought, the foremost Martial Arts School Master finally spoke up.

“Retreat!”

“Various disciples gather and break out immediately!”

As soon as his words fell, one of the Martial Arts School Masters revealed his bulging veins all over his body, and then directly unleashed a powerful punch. Not even the demon elite dared to test its edge and quickly retreated.

The other Martial Arts School Masters also cooperated fully, repelling their opponents with all their strength. They then quickly returned to the rear of the martial arts disciples, disregarding their reputation for bullying the weak. They broke the encirclement of demon beasts and led the disciples in their breakout.

The Martial Arts School Masters were already prepared for being intercepted, but they thought the breakout would be a fierce battle. But they didn’t expect the demon beasts to not attack at this time, instead taking a proactive defense.

Seeing this scene, the hearts of the Martial Arts School Masters could not help but sink.

These demon beasts were indeed too calm, not giving the Human Warriors any chance. And such enemies made people even more fearful.

But now they couldn’t manage that much anymore. All they could do now was to bring the disciples back to the city tower safely first.

So they didn’t waste any more time, and the strength of the Martial Arts School Masters exploded completely, leading the Martial Arts Academy Disciples to retreat.

At this time, Liang Sheng saw this situation from behind, his eyes shining brightly. The strength of the Martial Arts School Masters, in fact, varied greatly. The strongest had just touched the Golden Core Threshold, while the weakest only had the strength equivalent to the Foundation Establishment Late Stage.

Of course, for a martial artist to reach such a realm proves that this Trial world is extraordinary.

At this point, Liang Sheng took advantage of everyone's inattention, concealed himself and his Qi, and quietly left the entire team.

He now needed to go to where the demon beasts were. He had already roughly figured out the situation in the Martial Arts City, and if he wanted to find the truth of this world, he had to see what was going on with the Demon Clan.

No one noticed Liang Sheng's actions. On the other side, once Hong Jingang and the other Martial Arts School Masters safely brought the remaining Martial Arts disciples back to the city gate, everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

Twelve miles away, the battlefield became quiet once again. The demon beasts, as if nothing had happened, were still clearly divided into groups, setting up camp.

At this time, the other Martial Arts School Masters, seeing the return of the nine leaders, felt extremely depressed because they didn't know who would be the next to fall.

However, they soon recovered their spirits and did not grieve for long. After all, martial artists have been prepared for such situations from the start.

What they cared more about now was the Demon Clan's performance in this battle, which was brave and resourceful, completely different from the previous demon beast attacks on the city.

But now was not the time to discuss these matters, as the disciples had suffered heavy losses. The Martial Arts School Masters could not show any signs of weakness.

They immediately arranged for the Martial Arts Academy Disciples to heal the wounded and count the casualties. After that, they gathered in a tent outside the city.

From the city tower, they could see the overall situation twelve miles away, but they needed the nine leaders to provide the details of the various incidents.

As for what was happening on the city tower, Liang Sheng didn't care. At this time, he had already concealed himself and was quietly infiltrating the demon beasts' camp.

What the Heavenly Dao intended to do would probably be answered soon.

Chapter 758: Liang Sheng Stands Aloof, Hu Fei's Soul Control Plot for the Demon Clan

Outside the city gate.

At this moment, the leader of the Demon Beast Tribe, Alba, was filled with pride and satisfaction. When he returned with his elite subordinates, he saw Hu Fei coming to greet him. He couldn't help but laugh, as he patted Hu Fei on the shoulder, showing how satisfied he was with him.

It was no wonder that he would have such a reaction. Alba had never had such an invigorating experience before. Starting today, he would probably be able to shed his reputation for being brave but reckless.

After all these years, among the Demon Tribes, who else could have made the Human Clan suffer so much, while having them utterly helpless and played around like today?

No one!

Only Alba!

Thinking of this, his gaze towards Hu Fei became even more satisfied. After all, today's results were entirely due to Hu Fei's excellent planning.

Alba knew how powerful the human city's defenses were. Every time they invaded the Human city, even if they gained something, it would always be at a heavy loss.

“Let’s go. The Chief’s Camp will be in charge of guard duty tonight. Let our warriors have a good time.”

Saying this, Alba directly took Hu Fei’s hand and entered the Central Army Camp, making the expressions of all the elite subordinates change and their pupils shrink.

It seemed that from now on, they would have to be even more polite to Hu Fei, the new strategist who had joined the tribe. After all, as long as he didn’t make any big mistakes, Alba’s trust in him would be his best amulet.

However, Hu Fei didn’t become conceited because of this. Instead, he still maintained a modest and low-key expression, which made others feel better about him.

After all, those who could accomplish great feats without being arrogant, but rather becoming more humble and courteous, were always more pleasant to be around.

Hu Fei was very clear about his current situation – he was like a rootless duckweed and could only rely on Alba to achieve his goals.

When he entered the tent, he subtly hinted with the corner of his eye to the Demonic Beasts who had followed him from the outside world into the tribe.

Earlier on, during the great battle, he had already noticed the invisible starlight entering their bodies. It was clear that Alba and the other native demonic beasts could not see the invisible starlight.

Therefore, according to Hu Fei’s guess, this starlight was definitely not a simple thing, it might cause astonishing changes to the demonic beasts.

The Beast Swamp Demonic Beasts who received Hu Fei’s hint also quietly retreated to the back, carefully moving without drawing any attention.

However, all their movements were observed by one person – Liang Sheng, who had secretly hidden and lurked here.

He now wanted to figure out the truth about this trial world. Previously, he had been able to lurk in the Martial Arts Halls for a year learning martial arts, thinking that the Martial Arts Halls could provide him with the answers.

But he found out that the Martial Arts Halls were just a small part of this trial world, and he would never see the truth if he stayed there forever.

So now he had to step out of the chessboard created by Heaven and Earth, and only by standing outside the game could he see the situation of the entire world clearly.

Only then would he have the chance to touch the truth, and he didn't feel any regret about the past year.

This was because his inner strength was so strong that the so-called starlight was of no real help to him; it was just a chicken rib.

He had been hiding nearby earlier and naturally saw Hu Fei's signal, so he secretly followed the few Demonic Beasts and soon entered behind them, watching as they found a secluded spot to lay down and cultivate.

This was the natural way for Demonic Beasts to cultivate. Immediately following, Liang Sheng felt the Qi and Blood within the Demonic Beasts soaring, and he couldn't help but stroke his own chin.

It seemed that the Demon Tribe didn't have the same ability as the gifted children of the Human Clan. When the starlight entered their bodies, they didn't immediately breakthrough their cultivation realm, but instead needed to digest and cultivate afterwards to achieve an increase in cultivation level.

While this might seem like just a difference in timing, the actual difference was huge since the Human Clan could continuously grow stronger without any gaps.

At this time, when Liang Sheng saw that there was no other situation among the Demonic Beasts, he quietly left the area and slowly moved to the outside of the main camp of the Demon Tribe.

At this moment, he was already cultivating the Primordial Immortal Sutra within his body, and the situation inside the tent was clear to him under the probe of his Divine Sense.

Alba even had Hu Fei sit down beside him, showing how much he valued him. The other Demonic Beasts didn't find this strange.

After all, when had the Demon Tribe ever made the Human Clan suffer such a loss? It was only natural for them to have this preferential treatment.

Alba and the other Demonic Beasts were drinking their Victory Celebration Wine from midnight until the sun rose. Having high cultivation levels, they didn't feel any fatigue. Instead, their spirits became even more vigorous with their cheerful mood.

However, at this moment, Hu Fei wasn't blinded by the victory. On the contrary, he became more sober in this atmosphere.

Taking advantage of Alba's happiness, he even proposed that all the Demonic Beasts of the Demon Tribe should remain in the camp and not move in secret.

They needed to wait for the Human Clan to make their move, acting calmly and breaking the enemy's moves one by one. Alba, of course, would not object.

As long as Hu Fei didn't let the Human Clan take advantage, Alba was prepared to listen to all his advice until Hu Fei made an error in judgment.

While the Demon Tribe was celebrating outside the city, the people of the city woke up at sunrise and soon noticed the commotion at the West City Gate.

It did not take long for the commoners and soldiers to understand what had happened last night – the Demon Beast Tribe had invaded the city.

Chapter 759: Liang Sheng is calmly out of the game, Hu Fei's Soul Controlling targets the Demon Clan

They quickly spread the news throughout the city, and soon people began to bring food to the city gate, a habit that had persisted for many years.

Apart from rewarding the martial arts academy disciples with food, the people also had another purpose in their hearts: to find out the situation of last night's battle.

In fact, the people were not too worried, because over the years, the martial arts academy disciples had been defending the city, and the demonic beasts had invaded it countless times, yet it remained as stable as Mount Tai and unshakable.

What's more, this time it was only a part of the demonic beasts who had decided on their own to attack the city. If the Demon Beast Army were to invade the city in full force, that would be the real test.

By that time, all the martial arts academies in the city would probably take action, because only their sincere cooperation could repel the Demon Beast Army and ensure the city's safety.

But their state of mind, which was not tense at first, soon changed, and they felt a little uneasy because they had received bad news.

Unexpectedly, the human martial arts academy suffered heavy losses last night, even losing a school master, a piece of news that was naturally unexpected by everyone.

When they saw the mostly depressed martial arts academy disciples on the city tower at this time, the people began to lower their voices unconsciously while expressing condolences.

It seemed that the situation was indeed a bit different this time. However, when their mood was getting lower and lower, they were still comforting themselves.

After all, the school masters hadn't asked other martial arts academies in the city for help last night, which showed that the situation hadn't gone that bad yet.

After expressing their condolences, the people didn't leave, but stood by to wait for a definite reply.

It was only when Hong Jingang and other school masters appeared in person to express their gratitude for the people's support that the people regained some confidence, as these nine school masters appeared calm and unruffled.

After appeasing the people, the school masters looked at each other and decided to temporarily refrain from acting according to their earlier deliberations.

They wanted to know what other actions the demon beast tribe, which had shown such astonishing performance last night, would have in the future.

However, this time, no one dared to be careless. The fallen academy master from before served as a sword hanging over their heads, reminding them of the price they would pay for their negligence.

...

At the Demon Tribe Camp.

At this moment, seeing no movements at the Human Clan city gate after daybreak, Alba couldn't help but leave Hu Fei behind, and the two of them had a private conversation.

"Hu Fei, what should we do next? Continue to attack the human city or hold our forces?"

"Great King, it would be best for us to hold our forces and wait for the Human Clan to make a move, as the advantage is in our hands.

No matter what, this is the Human Clan's territory, and we would be courting disaster if we make the slightest mistake."

This answer did not satisfy Alba, as last night's gains had been quite plentiful, and now suddenly holding back their forces would seem like showing weakness to the humans.

However, Hu Fei's next words brightened Alba's eyes and he couldn't help but pat Hu Fei's shoulder again.

"Good, it's indeed my fortune to have you as my advisor. Everything will be done as per your plan."

With that said, Alba took out a jade tag and handed it to Hu Fei, "As long as you command with this, all the demons of my tribe will follow your arrangements, and you can do as you please."

"Thank you for trusting me, my lord. I will do my best to serve you. Now I will go and arrange the next steps."

"Go."

After Hu Fei left, Alba couldn't help but be excited for a while and grinned, then laughed heartily.

Soon, all the Demon Clan will know my name. Where am I, Alba, brave and unwise!?

Hu Fei's suggestion was simple: It's impossible to invade the Human Clan city with just one tribe.

Even if they tried to plunder the city, there wouldn't be much gain. Since that's the case, why not have more helpers?

Alba was tempted by Hu Fei's suggestion because what he cared about most was his reputation within the Demon Clan.

Therefore, Hu Fei's suggestion hit the nail on the head. When they sent scouts back to other demon tribes, it was to gain allies and spread the word about Alba's heroic killing of the school master. It was a win-win situation.

To spread his valor, of course, he must do so in a grand way. Otherwise, how would other tribes know Alba's might?

And how would they lure other tribes to join the attack on the city together?

Hu Fei caught Alba's thoughts perfectly, so he arranged the situation accordingly.

After Hu Fei arranged everything, he returned to his tent and didn't even glance at the direction of the Human Clan city.

In his heart, he wasn't worried at all that the Human Clan city would take the initiative to attack their camp in the near future.

Because for the Human Clan, they would not act rashly when they didn't know if there were any other demon reinforcements behind their camp.

Especially since they had just suffered a great loss last night, with the cautious nature of the Human Clan, they would be even less likely to attack rashly.

Moreover, after seeing that the Demon Clan could also gain starlight, the Immortal Dynasty's Chosen would be even more cautious.

Chapter 760: Liang Sheng Stands Aloof, Hu Fei's Soul Control Plot for the Demon Clan

So in a short time, he wasn't worried about the Human Clan daring to attack rashly. The other party must be afraid of falling into an ambush. Since this was the case, he was as stable as Mount Tai now.

When he returned to his tent and looked up at the sky, he felt the Heavenly Secrets at this moment and couldn't help but curve the corners of his mouth.

Soon!

The future he saw was getting closer and closer, and of course, he was happy because the Heavenly Secrets favored him this time.

In fact, during the previous battle, the Demonic Beasts who received the starlight were not the ones with the most significant opportunities, but Hu Fei.

As his intention moved, he saw a dazzling starlight flashing in his body, followed by a massive surge of energy, which crazily circulated inside his body and entered his meridians.

However, Hu Fei wasn't panicked at all, because he could feel that under this energy, his strength was also growing rapidly.

About half an hour later, Hu Fei stopped his Cultivation, felt the energy in his body return to calm, and waved his hand gently.

Then, an explosive force was seen causing signs of space annihilating, which Hu Fei then dissolved, and the energy dispersed in mid-air.

So strong!

Hu Fei couldn't help but feel surging in his heart, clenching his fist, and somewhat incredulous that he might be evenly matched against Alba.

Now Hu Fei, relying solely on his physical strength, is comparable to a Golden Core Realm expert.

And this is just Hu Fei's current physical strength. They are in the Trial world where their previous Cultivation level was suppressed by Heaven and Earth.

With just his physical power, how strong would he be when all his strength is restored? What would the situation be like?

Thinking about this, Hu Fei couldn't help but look forward to how strong he would be after the heavenly shackles on him dissipated.

Perhaps he would be more than twice as powerful as before.

Thinking of this, he tried hard to suppress the laughter in his heart because it wasn't the moment of great success yet, and he still needed to assist Alba properly.

He doesn't need to show off his strength right now. What he needs to do now is to support Alba well from behind.

Moreover, their plan against the Human Clan is just getting started. The battle last night was just an appetizer.

He believes that soon other tribes will respond and come to join them, because the scouts he sent out were not fighting alone after meeting with their tribal leaders.

They also had the help of the Beast Swamp Demon Emperor Ancestor from before, and they were scattered among their tribes, seemingly unable to keep warm, but actually sharing information.

They could even secretly support each other. Based on this, Hu Fei's plan would have a higher chance of success, and Hu Fei had other backup plans as well.

Furthermore, a single Alba couldn't conquer a city, so even if other Demon Tribes didn't come to support him, the Demon Tribes in other cities could also pretend to attack.

Hu Fei's plan now is simple – he doesn't want the Human Clan in the city to live too comfortably.

Outside the Immortal Dynasty's Chosen have terrifying talents. Hu Fei and the Demon Clan have already witnessed this, so now he can't confront the Immortal Dynasty's Chosen directly, so he creates some trouble.

He can't stop progressing, otherwise, he'll be giving time for the Chosen to grow. At this time, the Demon Clan is still at an advantage because of their natural superiority.

The Human Clan's physical strength is weaker than the Demon Clan's from the start, but as time passes, the gap between the two sides will get smaller and smaller.

These thoughts were just fleeting in Hu Fei's mind; there is still a long time to come, and he can't become fat in one bite, so he needs to plan carefully.

It's just unknown when the first reinforcement tribe will arrive, and at this moment, Hu Fei suddenly felt a little tired.

He didn't pay much attention to this, because even though it seemed like he had been working for only a day, he had been planning for this outcome for a whole year.

When he was planning, he had considered all possible situations, so it wasn't surprising that things went so smoothly last night.

Feeling a little tired while relaxing, Hu Fei thought it was natural, and just as he closed his eyes, someone quietly appeared beside him.

No Demonic Beast outside the tent noticed anyone entering Hu Fei's tent; who could it be besides Liang Sheng?

Because all the Chosen Demons from outside the Immortal Dynasty had their Cultivation suppressed by Heaven and Earth, even though the Primordial Immortal Sutra could still run, Liang Sheng's Divine Sense strength was also suppressed to the lowest point.

He just exhausted his strength to motivate the idea deep in Hu Fei's Sea of Consciousness, but unlike before, he couldn't control Hu Fei directly.

Now all he could do was make Hu Fei fall into a deep sleep, then slowly invade his Sea of Consciousness and find out Hu Fei's real purpose.

The means he used was naturally the Soul Control Technique that didn't rely much on Spiritual power. Thinking of this, Liang Sheng had no more hesitation.

Soul Control!
