Chapter 1581 A Little Fun (R18)

Elayne had gone through quite a lot of stress, and she needed some time to unwind, staying in this small spring for a couple of hours to wash themselves and swim around, admiring the beauty of the Dream Spirit Forest was part of it, but also, she managed to find a nice little spot in here, where she and Mark were able to sneak away into.

While everyone was at the other side, they came to this hidden side, behind the large rock in the middle of the spring, connected to some cliff above that brought the waters through a large river.

This place seemed well hidden, with a small cave as well, it seemed to be empty, or well, there were some tiny dream spirits living there, some were mushroom shaped, others resembled little lights, they let out cute sounds and floated around, quickly flying away, some stayed but didn't do anything other than stare mindlessly or float away once they got bored.

"Ah, this place is really perfect..." Mark smiled, looking around. "Though, there's an awful lot of spirits... I-Is it fine if they stare? You don't think they'll get scared?"

"Don't worry about them, they probably don't even know what we're doing either way," Elayne smiled cutely, as she moved towards the shore near the cave, resting her arms while staring at Mark with enamored eyes. "Come~"

"Y-Yeah..." Mark nodded, walking towards her, as he stared at her beautiful, plump body.

Despite having become stronger over time and gaining more muscles, Elayne's plump mommy body never truly went away, if anything, it has only become sexier and even curvier, as if she had aged backwards these last months, becoming younger and even more beautiful, while retaining that "motherliness" that made Mark crazy for her.

Yes, it wasn't an understatement to say Mark was into milfs, and Elayne had stolen his heart since the moment they met, it was like a dream come true for him to even start a relationship with her, let alone marrying her, they were even going to have a child now...

It was all like living in a dream to him, even though they've also faced many difficulties, there hasn't even been a single day with her that didn't feel like living inside a dream...

"You're so beautiful, Elayne."

He caressed her face, as she smiled, blushing. Their faces approached each other slowly, as they started kissing passionately.

Mark quickly grabbed her hips, and then slowly moved his hands towards her wide hips and plump cheeks, grasping them tightly, squeezing them, they were so big, he loved touching her down there.

"Hmm~"

Her soft, warm lips were irresistible, and as they were big too, he couldn't stop kissing her. Elayne's little tongue was sweet, and every kiss was usually a French kiss too, their tongues intertwined constantly, sucking each other's tongues and saliva lasciviously...

"Aaah~"

Elayne moaned, as she pulled out her tongue, and Mark's tongue greeted her, moving and licking each other, they acted like a pair of teens rather than adults, as if they were still discovering what sex and kissing was, even though both of them already had quite a lot of experience. It wasn't awkward, but rather, their eagerness for doing lewd things others might find embarrassing.

"You're so beautiful... I love you..."

Mark began kissing her neck, and then her shoulders, while Elayne giggled, kissing his neck as well, while her hands touched his nipples, tightly, pulling them a bit, she had already accustomed Mark into these things, which before were never considered by him.

"Aahh~"

Mark let out a cute moan, as Elayne started sucking his nipples, biting them, slurping them and then pulling them happily, she looked like a baby sucking her mama, something that made Mark felt embarrassed and overwhelmed, these were sensations and things he never imagined he would experience with her.

"Y-You sure like sucking my nipples... Ngh..."

"Hmm~ Yes, they make you even harder down here, fufu... And well, I love them. I would suck them all day if I could~"

"D-Damn it... saying that out of nowhere...."

"Hmm~ Slurp~"

Elayne continued sucking them, squeezing Mark's large, muscular chest, they were really big due to his incredibly beautiful and toned muscular body, after growing so strong, having a toned, Adonis body was but expected.

And Elayne, naturally, loved it, she continued enjoying it happily, sucking and kissing his nipples, then his lips again, sucking his tongue and his sweet saliva, and then going to his neck again, chest, stomach... and...

"Aaah...! I-It's really hard..."

"I can tell~ I guess I've teased my cute husband enough, hm~?"

"C-Can you...?"

"What? You have to tell me what you want..."

As Elayne continued teasing him, she began grasping his cock beneath his underwear tightly, moving her hand up and down.

"Ooh... Haaa~"

Mark gasped for air.

"P-Please, could you suck it?"

"Alright~"

Elayne kissed his lips again, as Mark saw her adorable face move towards his cock, she quickly pulled his underwear down, revealing a really erect cock, strong and manly.

"O-Oh my, it's bigger than other times..."

Elayne felt surprised, blushing a bit in embarrassment. She acted like usual, but she also knew deep down she made him this way.

"Okay... Let's see~ Hmm~!"

Mark became breathing heavily as he felt Elayne's little warm tongue beginning to lick and slurp his cock, she was so warm, it was incredible.

The salty flavor of his hot cock made Elayne rather joyous as well, as she began sucking and slurping Mark's cock without wasting any precious seconds.

"Oooh! F-Fuck...! AAAH~!"

Mark looked at Elayne while caressing her face, as she looked back at him with her lascivious, sexy face, he could hardly hold back while she sucked his cock so eagerly.

Her beautiful face, plump body, long hair, green eyes, she was too perfect, he couldn't hold back at all, actually.

"I-I'm cumming...!"

Elayne opened her mouth wide, as she grabbed Mark's cock and placed it over her open mouth, his hot, steamy cum quickly entered her mouth and fell over her face too, making the scene even hotter and sexier.

"D-Damn...! Aahh... T-That was amazing..."

As Mark sighed in relief, he saw Elayne clean her face with the water while whatever entered her mouth was already swallowed.

She always swallowed cum, and it made him wonder if that's something her previous husband taught her, or it was something she liked doing...

He read online that most girls didn't like swallowing it after all, so it made him a bit curious.

Nonetheless, he noticed Elayne was leaking out down there, as she sat over the rocks, spreading her legs open while beginning to take out her underwear, revealing her bushy pussy.

"Now's my turn, alright? Want to suck down there too~?" Elayne asked. "Ah right, you can also grab and suck mommy's breasts, your favorite, heheh~"

She quickly took off her bra, revealing her enormous, bouncy breasts, Mark almost went crazy!

"Please..."

"Come, dear... I'm all yours~"

Chapter 1582 Passion In The Dreamy Lake (R18)

-----

"Elayne!"

Mark couldn't hold back, running towards his beloved, kissing her passionately as his hands touched her large breasts, they were so big not even his entire hand could fit them.

He squeezed them tightly, and then started sucking them both, moving from one and the other constantly.

"Aaaah~ Oooh~ Sucking so fast like that!"

Elayne moaned adorably as she was being consumed by Mark's masculine lust, his large hands grasped her ass tightly, while he sucked her breasts without end.

"Sorry, but I can't stop now...!"

As he continued sucking, suddenly, he felt something coming from her breasts, a mildly sweet liquid.

"Milk...?"

He was surprised, as he began sucking some more, realizing a bit of white milk was coming.

"Uuuh~ Aaahh~! W-Wait! T-This is... Ah! I'm leaking milk already? Wow, but it's still so soon! Is it because I'm pregnant...?"

"Ahh, it's so sweet... Can I...?"

"I-I mean, if you're already doing it- Aaah~!"

Elayne moaned as she saw Mark beginning to suck milk out of her breasts, while his hard cock was rubbing in the middle of her thighs.

The sensation of being overwhelmed by a man with great lust was immense, even more when he was so huge and strong!

"Hmmm~ Ooooggh~!"

She moaned a bit loudly, covering her mouth to not be heard, as Mark continued sucking, drinking her milk.

"G-Geez, you're like a baby... Aaah~!"

The pleasuring sensations in her breasts continued growing, the more he sucked, the more milk came out, making Mark go absolutely crazy.

"I'm sorry, this is so hot, I can't really stop now...! Can we do it like this?"

"Ahh... O-Okay..."

Elayne, already feeling all dizzy, nodded without thinking about it too much, noticing Mark raised one of her legs, no, both of them, placing them on his shoulders while she sat over the stone.

"Like... this! Ooohh!"

Mark moaned, as his cock began to quickly enter through Elayne's pussy, which was warm, fuzzy, and puffy, welcoming him happily, as her muscles tightened by her will, making the entrance tighter for him.

"Fuck!"

"Hmmm~! Oooohhh~!"

Elayne moaned, as she couldn't contain her orgasm, Mark quickly began kissing her so she wouldn't make too loud of a noise, while he started pushing forward, thrusting hard from the get-go.

"Hmm~ Mooch...!"

Their tongues and lips continued intertwining without end, the two of them lasciviously sucked each other's mouths like their life depended on it.

At the same time, Mark started fucking her harder and harder!

"I love it...! Oohh!"

"Aaahh!"

Plap! Plap! Plap! Plap!

The two lovebirds continued having kinky sex in the spring, hidden behind rocks while their family played and laughed at the water, unaware of the lewd things they were doing here...

"Unnnnggh... Hmm~ Mark...! I-I love you...!"

Elayne continued moaning adorably, blushing cutely, her big, bright eyes were so lovely, Mark couldn't stop kissing her, embracing her with his big arms.

"I love you too... S-So much...! Aahh! You're the most precious thing in my life...!"

"M-Mark...!"

Elayne felt overwhelmed by his love, so happy, combined with the pleasure, turned into a blissful moment, Mark's fat cock entering in and out of her pussy felt incredible, she was constantly being stretched open, ravaged by his manly lust, his warm rod was boiling hot, and the more he inserted it, the more loose she felt deep, being overtaken by his thrusts, each one giving her a small little orgasm.

Plap! Plap! Plap! Plap!

"Aaaayy...! Ay!" She started moaning cutely, even cuter than before, Mark embraced her in an hug, and then kissed her neck, caressing her air.

Then, he moved his arms towards her large, plump butt, lifting her up as he walked towards the cave, moving deeper into the darkness, only illuminated by glowing mushrooms and tiny spirits floating in the air.

This felt like nothing they ever done before, sex in the wild felt incredible! It was as if they were a pair of engaged members of a tribe, sneaking out of their little village to have sex before marriage.

"I'll go a bit more intense...!" Mark said, as he spread out Elayne's legs.

"Yes...! Please!" Elayne nodded.

Her legs wrapped around his waist, as Mark started kissing her, without letting her tongue go away for a single second while constantly thrusting deeper and deeper.

PLAP! PLAP! PLAP! PLAP!

Elayne felt overwhelmed by the pleasure, each thrust was so strong, like a piston strike that tried to pierce through her body!

"Ooooh! Aaaahhh~! Mark~!"

She couldn't help but moan, barely managing to make a deafening barrier with the help of some wandering wind spirits.

"Elayne! Aaaahh! So good! F-Fuck! I'm cumming!"

Mark gritted his teeth, biting his lips as he saw Elayne's face full of pleasure, and started kissing her again, cumming buckets inside of her.

PLAP!

"Nnnggh...!"

"Ooohh..."

Elayne felt something very warm filling her up, as her eyes almost rolled, she barely kept herself consciousness, the stronger they got, the more pleasurable and intense their sex became...

"Hmm~ Ahh, you came so much, dear..."

Elayne smiled lasciviously, as Mark slowly pulled out his cock from her pussy, which seemed like it didn't even want to let go of him.

And then, a big stream of hot, steamy cum came out, Elayne started letting it all out...

"Haah... I came so much... Damn, I think I might be drained..."

As he rested by her side, the two hugged each other, kissing while giggling.

"Heheh... I can't believe we did this..." Elayne giggled adorably.

"Yeah... It was a new experience..." Mark nodded.

"Wait... our underwear..." Elayne muttered. "Ah! We left it in the water?! W-We have to fetch it, or they might find it!"

"You're right!" Mark panicked.

As the two ran back to find their underwear, Gabriel curiously grabbed a bra he saw floating over the water.

"Wow! Heheh!"

He grabbed it, placing it over his eyes, he didn't even know what it was.

"G-Gabriel! What are you wearing over there? Give that back!"

Elayne began chasing him around as the two swam around the spring...

Chapter 1583 Almost Caught

-----

After Elayne and Mark had their fun in the small cave they found inside the spring, they sighed in relief, feeling refreshed and relieved of their stress.

However... they quickly came to a grim realization, in their passionate act of love, they ended leaving behind their underwear in the water, leaving the two stark naked.

"Wait... our underwear..." Elayne muttered. "Ah! We left it in the water?! W-We have to fetch it, or they might find it! And then they'll start guessing weird things..."

"You're right!" Mark panicked. "Let's go!"

As the two ran back to find their underwear, Gabriel curiously grabbed a bra he saw floating over the water. His innocent eyes didn't know the origin of this floating bra at all.

"Wow! Heheh!"

He grabbed it, placing it over his eyes, he didn't even know what it was. He thought it was something for the eyes because of its shape, but he couldn't really see anything with it either.

"Hmm, smells like big sis?" He wondered, noticing a familiar smell. "So weird! Are these goggles of some kind? Hmm..."

As he played around, he was just barely close to the rest of the group, if they were to ever see him with that, they would quickly guess what Elayne was doing!

"G-Gabriel! What are you wearing over there? Give that back!"

Elayne began chasing him around as the two swam around the spring, Gabriel giggled playfully, thinking that his big sis was finally playing around some more and not being serious all the time.

"Hehehe! You can't catch meeee!"

Gabriel played adorably, but to Elayne these were serious business! She ended using her Aura, extending it into a hand and then...

"{Yggdragon's Claw}!"

Catching Gabriel with it!

"Eeeh?! Not fair! Not fair big sis! Why are you using your powers! Not fairrrr!"

Gabriel tried to fight back with his abilities, but it was utterly futile, Elayne was just much stronger than he was, easily overwhelming the little angel and helping her secure her bra...

Making sure nobody saw her, although they heard the ruckus, Elayne put the bra back while Mark came back to her with the rest of the clothes.

"Phew, I almost had a heart attack..." Elayne sighed.

"Wait... couldn't we just have gotten clothes from your inventory?" Mark asked.

"I-I guess I had some? But that wouldn't stop Gabriel from walking around my bra!" Elayne said.

"Right..." Mark nodded. "Well, Gabriel, don't grab those things, okay?"

"Hmph! What's wrong with that? It was just some clothing piece..." Gabriel sighed, crossing his arms as the Yggdragon claw had yet to let him go, he was acting all grumpy.

"It was not, Gabriel, it was my bra, women use it to cover their... chest, okay?" Elayne said. "So don't do it again, and please... don't talk about it, okay?"

"Hmm..." As Elayne let go of him, she sighed, quickly manifesting a fruit from her hand, growing it out from a little branch that popped out of her hand.

This fruit had concentrated on Celestial Energy, she had thought about making these in custom ways but hadn't tried it until now.

The fruit, resembling a little apple, had turned gold out of nowhere!

"Oh wow, what's that?!" Gabriel looked at the fruit with interest.

"Here," Elayne said, giving it to him. "It's a tasty fruit full of celestial energy, it should help you get stronger, I think... it left me a bit tired though, so I can't make more for now."

"Oh wow! Thank you, big sis!" Gabriel began eating it. "Hmm, so sweet and juicy!"

"Well, I'm glad you like them," Elayne giggled. "I'm sorry for treating you a bit harshly, you know I love you as your big sis, right? I just want the best for you."

Elayne caressed his little head, and his lovely golden locks, he was a very angelic-looking angel.

"Yeah... sorry big sis, I was the one that was mean..." Gabriel nodded, his mood improving after he ate the fruit. "I'll keep it a secret!"

Then, he hugged her cutely, as Elayne felt overwhelmed by his adorableness, rubbing her face over his little head while kissing it, and then patting it.

"Heheh, you're too cute, Gabriel!" She said. "Like the son I never had..."

"Son? I am only the son of our Heavenly Father, big sis!" Giggled Gabriel. "All angels are! You too!"

"M-Me too? I am fairly sure I was born human and given the halo later though..." Elayne said.

"It doesn't matter, all life is his creation, we are all his children," Gabriel smiled.

"All life? But I am fairly sure that life existed before the Realm of Heaven appeared, right?" Elayne asked.

"Hmm? Maybe?" Wondered Gabriel. "Huh, I don't know... Isn't heaven a Plane? Planes are different than just Realms... Although there are many Realms in the Plane of Heaven, each one could be said to be a Divine Realm or a Heavenly Realm... People get it confused all the time, did you know?"

"Wait, so it's kind of like Hell where it existed before everything, and they're Planes...?" Mark wondered.
"Well, that's really intriguing..."

Planes.

Unlike Realms, Planes divided the entirety of the "World" and all "Realms" into its entirety.

You could say they are layers within a dimension, or dimension of their own.

Their study isn't as clear as with Realms, and even the most prestigious Magus families out there, or even the Vatican, wouldn't be able to easily respond to most questions about them.

But it is well known that Planes are usually divided into three layers, forming a whole "sandwich".

The first Layer was the Heaven Plane, where the Divine exists, an elevated dimension where only those with great spirit and divine power can exist, they're usually prohibited from descending but can interact with the planes beneath. It is within this Plane where Realms of great spiritualism, fairy tales, legends, and myths exist.

Realms such as Avalon, Ennead, Olympus, and many more, where Divine Beings or High Spiritual Beings reside are usually within the Heaven Plane, or Heavenly Plane. It is also often referred as "Divine Plane" by some people, both terms apply.

Whether the laws of physics apply or not is a mystery, most people aren't even sure if they do, in some it might work, in others not.

Chapter 1584 Planes And So On

Then there was the Mortal Plane, where the world as everyone know it exists, the entirety of earth. It is also often referred as the "Physical Plane" where the laws of physics as we know them apply completely. Both the Physical Plane and the Mortal Plane are interchangeable terms and everyone most of the time use both to refer to the same thing.

In this Plane is where humanity was born, interactions with the other two Planes, the Realms, and more is what creates "Mystery" and "Magic" as everyone knows it. Mana leaks naturally from these two Planes and their Realms, through what some might refer as the Fourth Layer, which encompasses all others the "Mana Fog Layer" where Mana flows freely across dimensions.

From what Elayne has learned, in the past the Planes were much more connected, and the Physical Plane tended to have many more interactions with the other two Planes and their developing Realms. To the point it felt like all three Planes were almost the same world.

But over time, as humanity advanced, and they began pushing back magic and mystery, and deeming it a "taboo" to protect themselves from the "unknown", these Planes gained a greater separation. Perhaps by the will of the Gods, Divinities created by Human belief and faith, or other things entirely, who knows.

The fact remained, as the world itself continued becoming drier of mana, and mystery became much rarer. 99% of the population had no idea magic existed, they had no idea of magus families, monsters, or realms at all. And like this, the great Magus Families kept the world at peace and balance, even if the normal people fought each other in wars, most of this was of no consequence to Magus Families, who lived outside of all of this, some even timeless.

That is, until the First Contact happened, and the Physical or Mortal Plane came into contact with another world entirely, outside of Earth, the other Realms, and the Planes, a world that even now, the Magus Families are still investigating, an "alien world" that filled the Mortal Plane with so much Mana that it could be said it is almost as comparable as the other two!

Elayne knew that some speculate that a second "Age of the Gods" was coming, the last that ended over eight hundred years ago... Or well, she didn't quite know this, it was information she gained from devouring the soul of Nakuna, providing her with a lot of knowledge.

And lastly, without further delay, the third Layer, it was the "Hell Layer", the "Underworld Layer" or sometimes even referred as "The After Life" and such. This was the lowest of the three Planes, the closest to the void of darkness. This is where Hell existed, where Demons came from, and where various Underworld Realms also existed, where many souls went to rest, or where they were brought to reincarnate and move back to the Mortal Plane as new lives.

Although the war between Heaven and Hell has been as old as time immemorial, before the First Contact, their battles were at a much lesser scale within the Mortal Plane, to the point there was relative peace with this big wall known as the Physical Plane stopping them from directly engaging.

However, like in the Age of the Gods and Ancient Times, as the Physical or Mortal Plane is filled with more Mana, the "wall" between Planes is loosened, and the laws of physics are warped, allowing the beings from such Realms and Planes to step into the Physical/Mortal Plane, the "battlefield" where Heaven and Hell battle for supremacy of the entire World.

And this "battlefield" was becoming larger with each day, as the Mana spread through the globe, as "Gates" or "Dungeons" appeared, and as otherworldly monsters emerged and brought more Mana to this world, the power that the Heaven and the Hell Plane could exert into the Mortal Plane increased rapidly.

The Demons were going crazy, and the Black Hand saw a great opportunity to grow stronger, steal resources, and destroy the annoying Magus Family Alliances across the world...

This was perhaps one of the reasons why Elayne meet Gabriel and Demons in the Physical Plane so openly, something impossible before the First Contact... It wasn't that these things started only happening to her, but in general, they became much more common recently!

Elayne continued chatting with Mark and Gabriel about these things, explaining to them the great knowledge she had learned from Nakuna's memories.

"A-Are you sure you're okay though? This knowledge is amazing, yeah, but his personality is not...?" Mark naturally became worried.

"Ah, don't worry, he's not like alive inside of me, his personality is gone, all his memories were stored inside my soul like some sort of library of knowledge," Elayne explained. "I can imagine the library inside of me... quite easily, and whenever I want to know information, one of the books automatically reads everything for me... there's another part of the library for Nakuna's personal life and his personal memories, but for now I ignored that one, although it would only feel like I'm reading his biography rather than feel like he was possessing me or something."

"Whew, that's a relief then," Mark nodded, smiling. "Anyway, it's really amazing that you know this much... I think I can finally see things clearer... And wait, the Dream Realm is also just a Realm?"

"It's technically part of the Fourth Layer, it occupies the same space as the Mana Fog, they're two different things but occupy the same space," Elayne explained. "This might be the reason why the Dream Realm/Plane is so useful; it connects all three Planes and possibly all of the Realms. You could imagine it as a big hub area in a video game that connects you to every other stage."

"Oh yeah, it sounds amazing, so investing into adapting and being able to survive here was the wise choice then!" Mark nodded happily. "Alright then, shall we go eat something though? I'm kind of starving myself."

"Sure!" Elayne nodded. "Let's cook some of those Dream Spirit Beasts we hunted recently!"

Chapter 1585 Cooking A Dreamy Buffet

After an interesting talk about the structure of the world and its many mysteries, Elayne, Mark, and Gabriel joined up with everyone else, deciding to make a nice barbeque for dinner. They had eaten lunch earlier, yes, but it has been like almost four hours since then, so it was totally justified to eat something as "dinner" as Elayne wanted to justify it.

In truth, their bodies had grown very powerful and also required an equally large quantity of nutrients and calories, eating the same way humans did wasn't as sustainable anymore, as they would usually feel hungry pretty quickly.

In reality, they had to eat at least three to four times the original quantity of food they ate before to keep their strong bodies with great health. And that's considering the food had to be specially infused with magical properties!

That was, naturally, not something everyone wanted to get used to, the women in specific, always worried about their figure, would still reject that and try to eat normally... but it wouldn't really work to their favor, and Elayne started to realize she had to eat like a piggy from now on, both in BNLO and in reality.

"Alright so, let's make a barbeque!"

Elayne glanced at the carcasses of the many Dream Spirit Beasts they had hunted along the way, specifically the giant lion-shaped ones, and she decided to rapidly butcher it.

She didn't want to cover herself with its blood, so she used the inventory ability to butcher and dismantle monster bodies, which was the very same Players had in BNLO.

Like that, after a few clicks, she was able to bring out large amounts of the monsters' meat, which was of a bright pink color, with purple dots here and there.

Their bones were pure white, and their cartilages purple colored... The meat also had a weird, funny smell, like a combination of something sweet and slightly citric, like fruits.

"Wow, the meat smells really interesting..." Mark said. "Can we really cook and eat this?"

"I think so? It shouldn't really do anything bad to us," Elayne nodded. "Right Morpheus?"

"Yes, if its cooked using Cooking Magic or your Gourmet Spirits, there shouldn't be any issue with anybody here," Morpheus said. "After all, you're all very strong already, anything that might be toxic for normal humans is mostly because they have not adapted to Mana and absorbed it into their bodies. Your Magic Circles and Physiques now can help you adapt to any energy just fine."

"Well, that's a relief then," Elayne sighed. "Alright, I guess we can go for something simpler. Using Fire Spirit and maybe your Phoenix Flames to roast this meat, normal fire... I don't think we can even bring that in this Realm."

"Actually, I would recommend cooking this meat using Nightmare or Dream Flames, or perhaps a great balance between the two could bring out all the flavors and nutritious energies," Morpheus said. "I could help by conjuring them, master."

"Ah, but Phoenix Flames are really good too..." Mark muttered. "Are they really not needed?"

"Hmm, you could probably help by adding your own wood to burn these flames," Morpheus said. "But no, they're not necessary."

"A-Ah, okay then... I don't know why it feels like I was looked down on," Mark sighed.

"Morpheus don't be disrespectful..." Elayne said.

"M-My apologies, I was simply answering his question..." Morpheus muttered.

"Hm, alright then, let's start," Elayne nodded.

Like that, with Lily's help, they were able to build a large area surrounded by rocks where the Nightmare and Dream Flames were conjured, burning the Phoenix Wood Mark created.

The result created a blazing inferno of purple, pink, and black fire that constantly spiraled around the designated area.

Mark's wood burned nicely, creating a smoky smell, the dream and nightmare flames were also aromatic, having a smell similar to aromatic flowers or herbs, strangely enough.

"Alright..."

Elayne placed the large chunks of meat on top of the large grill she created using her metallic scales and Mark's wood metal, strong enough to resist this fire easily.

She didn't just add the meat, but the large legs were also placed over the grill, while her Gourmet Spirits, especially her three-headed Gourmet Dragon Spirit, Gordon, helped out the most with his expert techniques and magical abilities.

He also seasoned the meat using both magic and normal seasonings, alongside spirit fruit extracts, spirit herbs, and more, creating a unique aroma as the food was being cooked.

These giant lions were massive, a single one had hundreds of kilograms worth of meat, more than enough to feed everyone without problems.

Elayne also took around a third of the meat and began mincing it into fine, soft minced meat, which she turned into burgers, adding some other ingredients into it, such as some veggies and more seasoning, and then grilling them with a cheese slice on top of them.

The smell of this peculiar meat was very enticing, bringing everyone around the barbeque while they prepared the table.

"Hmm, smells so good! Ah, Gordon, how are the side dishes going?" Elayne wondered. "Is everything going alright?"

"Yes, master, you don't have to worry."

"We're making the white rice you requested, and we've also added various spirit seeds which have boiled nicely, giving it an unique, colorful appearance."

"We also discovered a large amount of tubers unique to this area, and after checking them with Morpheus, we've cut them down and begun to fry them, we believe they might taste like sweet potatoes."

"Oooh... Nice!"

Elayne nodded, smelling the "Dream French Fries" being nicely cooked, they were also making a sweet, sour, and spicy sauce using the juice of fruits found here, and of slightly hot red colored herbs found here, which had a spicy flavor, usually so herbivores don't eat them.

"Everything is going nicely, I can't wait... I'm starving."

As Elayne patted her belly, waiting for the food to get ready, she noticed something, a small rumbling sound that continued becoming louder.

RUMBLE!

"W-What is that?!"

Chapter 1586 Automatic Hunting

-----

RUMBLE!

"W-What is that?!"

Elayne looked outside of the perimeter where they were, noticing dozens of her spiritual guardians battle some Dream Spirit beasts that had appeared.

Apparently, the smell of the meat must have attracted some of the predators, which were a pack of around fifteen giant, six-meter-tall, purple-colored wolves.

These wolves were encompassed by shadow auras resembling crimson eyes, and their own faces were actually eyeless, blind.

Her Spirit Guardians of Summer and Spring were fighting them relentlessly, unleashing beams of light, punching them, and creating barriers of light to stop them from advancing.

BOOOM! CLAAASH! RUMBLE!

The battle, nonetheless, was rather intense, these strange wolves were very eager to go grab a bite, and seemed to have been starving this entire time or something.

Elayne quickly summoned her phone into her hands, and used it inspect feature, or as she dubbed it, a "pokedex".

[Hundred-Eyed Violent Nightmare Wolf]

Classification: Dream Spirit Beast, Nightmare Spirit Beast, Wolf.

Danger Level: A+

Information: A nasty predator that stalks the woods of the Dream Spirit Forest in packs of up to thirty, they wander looking for prey, which they rapidly dispatch by ganging on their foes. They're known for targeting monsters much larger than them without issues and are smart enough to create strategies against their prey. Their one hundred eyes in their Nightmare Shadows help them see the world around them from every direction, making them the perfect predators.

-----

"Oh wow those are deadly..." Elayne said.

"Should we go take care of them?" Mark wondered, taking out his blazing blade.

"Nah, my Guardians share my own avatar's stats too, so they should be able to take care of them eventually," Elayne nodded. "Also the Domain I created should protect us either way, so they can't really get here."

"A-Are you sure?" Rita wondered. "Maybe we should just go..."

"I'll bring my Familiars there, if they want their meal they should earn it," Elayne nodded. "Alright Silver, Goldie, Belle! Go take care of the annoying wolves!"

"MEEEEEEEEHE!"

Belle was the first to leap into the skies, dashing through the empty air with lightning in her hooves, she landed in the middle of the battle, tackling one of the wolves with her golden horns.

BOOOM!

An explosion of lightning erupted from her strike, sending the wolf flying away and impacting on a nearby tree, destroying it in the process.

"Gryaaarrr!"

The wolf let out a painful yelp, as the rest of the wolves glared at Belle with great fury, roaring and showing their sharp teeth at her.

"ROOAARR!"

And then they roared at the same time, their Nightmare Shadow Auras emerging furiously, as countless beams of red light were fired at her!

However, Belle generated a shield of golden lightning, reflecting the beams back at them, bombarding them with electrified explosions.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

As this happened, she took a step forward, moving at lightning speed and appearing behind another wolf, hitting it with her mighty headbutt, and blowing it up into pieces by releasing so much lightning the entire wolf exploded.

BOOOM!

The rest of the wolves, furious, attacked her by leaping over her, moving as fast as possible, their giant claws overflowing with nightmare power to slash her!

And yet, Belle rapidly evaded the blows, zigzagging around them while moving at lightning speed, while her horn released thunderbolts everywhere around her.

CRASH! CRASH! CRASH!

Each thunderbolt that hit these wolves released a loud crashing sound, electrifying and burning their bodies.

They were very tough, however, managing to survive the lightning even though they took a lot of damage, attacking Belle by swinging their claws.

And yet...

"MEEEEEEEE!"

With a loud roar, Belle's entire body turned gold, as electricity came out of every inch of her body, her golden horns glowing the brightest.

BOOOOMMM!!!

A massive explosion of golden thunder erupted in the forest, shaking the surroundings, and leaving behind a small crater... where only Belle stood.

"..."

She looked around, noticing at least ten wolves were dead, the other five, wounded and terrified of her power, started to back off slowly, until they started running.

"Don't let them run! They might bring back more of their members."

With Elayne's command, Belle quickly reacted, releasing a thunder shock from where she stood, paralyzing the wolves in place for a couple seconds!

CRAAASH!

As that happened, Silver and Goldie, who were much slower than Belle's lightning speed, reached the wolves. Silver roared, opening their jaws and biting through the wolves' bodies, tearing them apart! Goldie, who didn't fight like that, dispatched the rest with sunlight beams, finishing the battle quickly.

"Well, we're done here, master! Can I go back to the spring waters? I didn't even finish washing myself! It was very refreshing as well..." Goldie complained.

"Fine, Goldie, you can return," Elayne nodded. "Spirit Guardians, bring me the corpses please."

As the food was almost ready, Elayne walked towards the forest while wearing a bikini this time, which she had stashed inside of her inventory.

There, she touched the corpses her spirits brought and stored them inside of her inventory, deciding to butcher the ones that didn't get torn to shreds.

"Hmm, this meat is very purple... And it has a liquor-like smell too, how weird."

As Elayne analyzed the raw wolf steak, which was much tender than she imagined, she called Morpheus to assess it for her.

"Morpheus! What about this meat?"

"That meat is... well, it seems more poisonous than the one you're cooking. The purple color it has must be nightmare miasma inside of the meat," Morpheus explained. "This was a monster more aligned to nightmare than pure dreams."

"So it's not edible?" Elayne looked disappointed.

"No, no, I think it should be edible either way, but it might have a more... well, a strong flavor and smell," said Morpheus. "To make sure it isn't as bad, let me clean the meat for you."

"Clean?" Elayne was confused, as Morpheus swung his scythe-like body, extracting the nightmare miasma from the meat, and giving it a much lighter purple color.

"There! That should make it edible."

Chapter 1587 Enjoying Something Different

-----

"Alright, thanks Morpheus! Let's cook this unprecedented gift from this forest then, hehe..." Elayne giggled, walking back to the barbeque and placing the meat on the grill, where Gordon seasoned it for her.

"What do you think? Is it good for cooking or eating?" Elayne wondered, as the three-headed dragon spirit started cooking the meat, and he even cut it into chunks and added it to a stew he was preparing with the lion's meat.

"Yes, it does seem very unique!"

"It has an interesting taste, slightly sweet but also savory."

"Spicy too, with hints of wine... How amusing! Food from this Realm doesn't stop impressing us!"

"Well, I can't wait to try it then!" Elayne nodded with a smile, walking to the table to prepare the last things, she even brought out a bottle of wine to drink with her friends. "Here, I brought this! Let's celebrate our victory against the Black Hand and Nakuna earlier a bit better now."

"Yaaay! You're finally getting better at this, Elayne!" Rita celebrated. "Now this is what I'm talking about!"

"Oh my, would it be fine with drinking alcohol when you're pregnant?" Lily wondered. "I'm worried..."

"Ah... Well, I don't think it'll affect me?" Elayne wondered.

"Of course not! You're already so strong anyway. Also I am fairly sure you've been cursed and poisoned earlier by that Nakuna and the Nightmareborns and nothing bad happened, your immune system can just brush off actual alcohol with ease, the child will be fine too," suddenly, Gardenia woke up and started chatting.

"I see! Then I'll have a cup or two!" Elayne smiled, relieved.

"I suppose it is only bad for normal people, but... we aren't normal at all to begin with," Mark nodded. "In fact, aren't you technically like a dragon now, Elayne?"

"I think so dear... Well, kind of, also an angel... Wait, I guess it really doesn't matter anymore, huh?" Elayne rubbed her chin.

"Can I drink wine too?" Asked Gabriel. "I am thirsty as well! I think... I think I remember that we used to drink red wine back in Heaven...! It was tasty and flavorful, made using the Grapes from Eden!"

"Is that so?" Elayne wondered. "Now that's interesting... But you're a child, Gabriel, how could I ever let you drink wine? That's wrong."

"I am not a child! I am thousands of years old I think..." Gabriel sighed. "I'll be fine!"

"Yeah but you still look like a baby boy, and you still act like a baby boy so that'll make me feel bad..." Elayne sighed.

"Hmm..." Gabriel sighed again, getting grumpy once more. "I don't like it when you call me a baby! I'm not a baby..."

"Okay you're not a baby but you're growing up," Elayne said. "Come on, I'll give you grape juice, it's the same as wine but without weir taste."

"Hmmm, okay!" Gabriel changed his mood quickly.

Like that, their meal finally began once everything was served on the plate... the new meat was certainly unusual, and their colors were also not normal for most here.

However, the smells they had were very unique and rather enticing, so Elayne and Mark were the first to give it a go.

"Hmm...!"

She took a bite off a burger first, the meat had a wonderful flavor and texture, similar to red meat, but with a stronger aftertaste and sweeter juices, it also had touches of fruit and herbal tastes.

Then she moved to the meat stew, tasting the meat without being minced into a burger, the taste was stronger and chewier, but nice and delicious, the wolf meat was actually much different than the lion's meat too.

"Oh, hmm! It is really good."

She found it had a spicier flavor, with a strong liquor flavor to it, and also a strong savory meaty flavor, all combined nicely into a juicy and chewy piece of meat.

Combining both meats in her mouth allowed her to taste both at the same time, they strangely complemented each other.

"So good! Everyone don't be afraid, it's amazing, right Mark?"

"Yeah!"

Mark had already eaten a whole steak already, the French fries that Gordon made using the tubers found here were also deliciously crunchy, sweet, and savory with the sea salt on top of them.

The rice too, was unique... it was simple white rice, but decorated with many spirit seeds which were boiled until they became as soft as rice but were much larger.

They came in all colors, red, yellow, green, purple, pink, black, blue, and more, adorning the entire meal with many colors.

These seeds, produced by Elayne's Spirit Forest Terrain, were usually made to create spiritual flowers or spirits themselves.

But she also discovered they could simply be eaten on their own, tasting like a combination of pistachios, walnut, and hazelnut, and when boiled, these flavors intensified into a rice-like, chewy and very soft texture, with a hint of milkiness to it.

"Hmm..." Elena's eyes widened. "It's not bad..."

The girl said that, but she began eating like her life depended on it, everything was simply too delicious.

"The meat of lions and wolves... it's certainly a first for me...! Hmm! Oh?! T-This is...! An unexpected delicacy!"

Elisa was also rather joyful as she ate the meat, discovering new experiences as a sheltered girl always amusing her.

"I always knew it would be tasty, everything mom cooks is delicious."

Monica smiled cutely as she glanced at Elayne, even calling her "mom" without realizing, which melted Elayne's heart.

Elena did notice that, glaring at Monica for a second, but without saying anything else after that, it seemed she didn't really mind it at all.

"I love the burgers the most~"

Anna was already eating her second burger while drinking soda that Elayne brought along with her inventory.

"Hmm! This is a feast! And with the wine and all of that, it's even nicer! Cheers!"

Rita happily drank her cup of wine while eating the food, she was already in her fourth steak, and she had already eaten two burgers and a bowl of rice with meat stew.

Chapter 1588: Preparing To Take A Rest

-----

"Hmm! This is a feast! And with the wine and all of that, it's even nicer! Cheers!"

Rita happily drank her cup of wine while eating the food, she was already in her fourth steak, and she had already eaten two burgers and a bowl of rice with meat stew.

"Oh wow! I didn't expect this type of flavor! The hell?! This is better than any meat I've eaten before!"

Jenny was amazed by the strong, refined taste of the meat, and also of the preparations used to cook it into many forms and shapes. Her favorite so far were the steaks and the meat stew.

"I-It's really good! Especially this stew and the rice, they go together so nicely, this rice... these colorful seeds I mean, what are they? They're delicious."

Lily ate while happily chatting.

"Ah, those are spirit seeds!" Elayne said. "Remember the seeds I create with my terrain? Well, Gordon had cooked them once and he let me taste them, and we realized they could be an amazing food as well, I can make them easily as well, so it's a nicely available resource."

"Ooh! That's so interesting! But aren't spirits born from them? I-Is it not like eating their eggs?" Lily wondered, worried.

"Not at all, spirits aren't inside the seeds, they emerge once the seed fully mature into a spirit flower or something similar," gardenia explained. "But yeah, it does have a lot of nutrients and spirit energy concentrated there, enough to create a spirit, but if you cook the seeds and eat them, you get all of those nutrients and energy, it's a highly nutritional food! I can't believe I never thought about that."

"Well, I'm sure not everyone can just create these seeds as easily as Elayne can..." Mark laughed a bit. "She's the one that made it even a thing to consider. I suppose if they're truly rare, people would rather keep them than eating them."

"Ah well, you praise me too much, it's nothing that important anyway," Elayne giggled with humbleness. "Anyway, how is it, Gabriel? Katherine?"

"This is the first time I eat meat from a dream beast..." Katherine muttered. "I-It's really good! I don't know why... We usually dislike meat. Even the meat of spirit beasts isn't that good, but somehow this one is really... it just hits different. Maybe the concentration of spiritual energies and dream power is much higher and it just more delicious. I especially like the wolves' meat! It's really good! And these boiled spirit seeds are fantastic."

The little fairy was already finishing her bowl of stew and rice, and was midway through the burger she was given, she was also enjoying the sweet cola-flavored soda.

"It's good! I want more!" Gabriel said. "Can I have more burger?"

"Of course!" Elayne nodded, quickly serving the boy. "There you go."

"Thanks! Nam, nam!" Gabriel happily ate the burger, Elayne noticed his wings looked fluffier and longer now, they looked healthier and much more recovered than before.

Over time, the boy was slowly regaining his true strength, although his age didn't seem to advance at all, as he was stuck looking the same she found him for the first time.

She had heard he was already one of the oldest Angels, and someone very powerful too, she assumed he would be an adult, but it seemed that the damage he received ended up weakening him to the point even though his own body de-aged, and so did his mind, with lost memories to add to the mix.

Their meal continued for over an hour, where they chatted, ate, and enjoyed the time they had together, while deciding to relax and kick back.

Once the night arrived, something that seemed to be an actual phenomenon of this forest, where the atmosphere turned dark and stars could be seen, alongside a silver-colored moon, everyone began to think of either staying the night or just walking to the tree.

The tree wasn't that far from them now, and it was glowing mysteriously when it was dark, each of its white flowers and leaves shone so brightly they resembled silver, glistening below the moonlight.

"What's wrong with the tree over there? It's shining really bright..." Elena said. "Also is this really a night? I thought this Realm had no such concepts..."

"As I said before, I believe this forest must be connected with the Realm of Avalon, so while it is night over there, it's now night in here as well..." Katherine smiled, glancing around with a nostalgic smile. "Isn't it beautiful though? The stars, the silver moon, and... the forest and the trees?"

Everyone glanced from the shores of the spring, where Elayne had already created a series of cabins using her wood manipulation abilities, they were cozy inside, with beds she had purchased previously, and also beautiful wooden tables, chairs, and more.

They had a few small windows, which glass was made by Lily's abilities to control sand and crystalize it into glass. They were also illuminated using Spirit Lamps, made by placing several light spirits inside transparent flower buds.

"It is quite beautiful yes..." Elayne nodded. "I guess I wouldn't mind staying in here for the night. And what do you guys think?"

"I guess we could," Mark nodded. "It's nice, and kind of peaceful, the dream beasts are strong but not as annoying as Nightmareborns that never stop spawning. They're at the end more like just the normal monster or beasts we're used to deal with in BNLO."

"Yeah, let's stay," nodded Anna. "It's not like something we'll ever experience again, right Elena?"

"I agree..." Elena nodded, kissing Anna's cheek as she held her hand. "I want to cuddle with Anna while we look at the moon too..."

"E-Eh?" Anna blushed a little as Elena looked at her with enamored eyes. "E-Elena...!"

"What's wrong? We're girlfriends now, right? That's... what girlfriends do, right?" Elena asked, tilting her head. Her expressionless face changed a little, as she blushed cutely.

"I-I guess... Eheheh..." Anna giggled weirdly, overwhelmed with embarrassment.

Elayne nodded while looking at her daughter and her cute girlfriend, she already knew Anna's worth and valued her greatly, so she only found it cute when they interacted this way.

Chapter 1589 Trying To Make A New Spell

-----

"Sure! Let's stay! I already told my hubby I wasn't going to get back home for a day or two so it's alright~" Rita said. "Luckily his sister will be at home so she can help him with the kids, hehe. This is my vacation~! I'm planning to enjoy it."

"Hm! I agree!" Lily nodded. "It's a beautiful place to chat and drink beneath the moonlight with friends... We went through a lot, so we deserve a good rest."

"We can resume our journey tomorrow," Elayne nodded. "Though... I wonder if the tree glowing like that means something?"

"I think we could investigate..." Katherine said. "I'm worried... It might actually be something important. Perhaps the portal to Avalon only works at night..."

"That... would make some sense," Elayne nodded. "But we already made the cabins and all..."

"Hahah, I know, we should just stay and wait," nodded Katherine. "Though, I'm quite curious myself. I better not go on my own, I am well aware I am not strong enough to survive around here... Unlike in Avalon, where Fairies are usually not attacked by the spirit beasts, this place is completely alien to us in that regard., and I have yet to find a fairy. I suppose Dream Fairies don't exist."

"It still a pretty damn big place, the tree is enormous so that's why it seems close to us, but it still hundreds of kilometers that we would need to walk there," Gardenia said. "Better rest and recover energy and then we can see what we can do tomorrow."

"Right..." Elayne nodded. "Hmm, perhaps if I could do something like a Spirit Projection, going there while staying in here wouldn't be impossible... But there's my Spirit Tree Checkpoint Spell too."

"What does that one do?" Mark wondered. "Have you used it before?"

"Yes, in rare occasions, it allows me to create similar portals to the ones I can make in BNLO!" Elayne said. "But they disappear after a couple of minutes due to the high cost of Mana... but right now I haven't used them in many months, I think they might be much better now."

"Wait, so you could leave a portal there so we can teleport instantly?!" Rita asked. "Now that's convenient! But the thing is getting there without going there."

"Yeah... the whole trip there might take us another day..." Elayne nodded. "If we could fly... Wait, spirits when they fly aren't bothered by the bees, right?"

"N-No..." Katherine's eyes widened. "Wait... I see! Maybe if you could create something like a secondary spiritual body- Oh! Maybe an Out of Body Experience Spell could work. Do you have something like that?"

"I don't know... I do have many auras and can create spiritual beings but..." Elayne muttered. "I don't think so? Perhaps if I could combine effects and so on... I only have one Spell Slot left in my Magic Circle; I would rather save it for something more important."

"Right..." Katherine nodded. "But you can create combination spells, right? Let me help you make something then!"

"Hmm, alright," Elayne nodded. "Let's try."

With Katherine's help, Elayne started creating a new combination spell. First, she combined spells that had to do with spirits and aura.

However, as she began trying to combine their effects, she realized that there was a limit of the runes within a magic circle, even the largest magic circle she could conjure could only sustain around five hundred runes.

Each spell was between fifty runes as the weakest, to almost a hundred with the strongest spells, so she had to make sure the spell wouldn't overload, or she might end up receiving backlash from the magic circle destabilizing and exploding in her face.

"Hmm, this is more complicated than I imagined, an outright combination spell that could give you a secondary spiritual body doesn't seem possible..." Katherine sighed. "Even if I helped... Unless we make something similar using what we got."

"Oh, really?" Elayne wondered. "Hm, it's a pity... but what do you mean with something similar? I had been checking myself; there's some interesting spells but nothing as directly as what we need."

"I know..." Katherine analyzed the spells with her sharp eyes.

It was easy to analyze them now that Elayne had her phone to show how many spells she had right now, it even registered her combination spells so far too.

-----

-----

"Okay, what we can do would be... Summoning yourself."

"E-Eh? Come again?"

"Yeah, you heard me right, you're going to summon yourself, master!"

"...Huh?"

Elayne couldn't really understand what that even meant!

What does she mean with just "summoning herself"?

Was she going to summon her Avatar from BNLO?

She was fairly sure it was impossible no matter how hard she tried; her Avatar's power was simply too immense.

However...

Chapter 1590 Experimenting

-----

"What I mean is that you're going to create a Combination Spell that will allow you to summon your own Spiritual Aura, separated from your own body, which you will be able to control remotely." Katherine explained. "It isn't so hard, think about your own Aura Manifestations, specially of your Yggdragon Auras. The claws, jaws, all those things are part of something called Aura Manifestation and Materialization, incredibly advanced techniques or Spells."

"I see..." Elayne nodded. "Wait, I think I understand now. So you want me to summon my own aura into a separate form, right? Wait, let me try to do it without it first!"

"Ah, maybe you can do it?" Katherine wondered.

Elayne quickly summoned a giant draconic spiritual aura, resembling a smaller Yggdragon of round five meters of height, with feathered wings and a translucent, golden and white appearance.

"Nnnnggh...! Haaah!"

With a roar, she released her Aura, trying to separate it from her own body, or stretching it and let it fly away from her.

The dragon flew pretty far, at least five hundred meters, before fully disappearing...

"Okay, unless I super charge the attack with Mana and use a Weapon Technique or Spell, I guess I can't make it last long... Ugh, if I could use my Avatar from BNLO, it would be a piece of cake... Then again, I can also create clones there," Elayne sighed.

"I am really interested about this "Avatar" of yours from the other world, honestly, it sounds really interesting," Katherine said. "But yeah, it's not something easy to pull out, unfortunately."

"Then we'll go with your method, Katherine," Elayne said. "You can help me make this combination spell?"

"Yes, I should be able to add a bit of power into it," she nodded. "Let's begin."

The magic ring appeared and the two started adding, rearranging, and moving the runes around, shifting them into a form and arrangement that could give them what they needed.

Eventually, after an couple of minutes, when everyone else was enjoying the stars, chatting, and having a small snack before going to bed, they were done.

"I think it's done...!"

Combination Spells were different than registered Spells, it could be said they weren't even new Spells, but "a way to use and combine pre-existing spells into new forms", it wasn't the same as registering a whole new Spell but simply using the already existing ones in new ways.

Hence, Elayne didn't have to register or engrave anything in her own Internal Magic Circle and instead had to simply memorize the "formula" that brings her spells into this new combination spell, which was easy for her.

FLAAASH!

The spell was formed, with almost five hundred runes composing it, each rune was already registered inside of her own magic circle as well.

"Then let's do it!" Katherine nodded. "Let's try...!"

"Yes!" Elayne said.

Katherine infused her magic powers into the magic circle, as Elayne activated it.

"{Summon Angelic Yggdragon Aura Manifestation Spirit}!"

The spell had a simple name as well, as it simply would "summon" the very aura created by Elayne beforehand by combining her Angelic Powers with her Yggdragon Powers!

FLUOOOSH!

The effects were almost immediate, as Elayne's Aura Manifestation surged from her body, roaring mightily and then quickly turning into a mass of gold and white light.

Then, a magic circle appeared in front of her, above the floor, bringing forth her own Aura Manifestation through it, technically summoning her own aura.

Elayne felt her mind suddenly divided, the same way it would divide when she controlled multiple bodies in BNLO.

"D-Did it work?" Katherine looked at the spiritual being. "Are you there, Elayne?"

"Yes!" Elayne spoke through the floating draconic spirit with four pairs of wings. "I'm here!"

Her aura embodiment appearance had changed, becoming more feminine rather than just as a dragon, it now had wide hips, visible breasts covered with scales, and a smaller, more cute and feminine draconic head, with long blonde hair cascading from her head and her neck, and beautiful horns.

"Woah..."

Mark glanced from afar, swallowing saliva as he saw Elayne's beautiful female dragon form... Usually when she transformed into her Yggdragon forms, she wouldn't look any different than a male dragon, male and female dragons had no physical differences at all after all.

However, this spiritual embodiment form she had taken as her secondary "ethereal body" was different, as it also took elements from her own real human appearance, fusing them with the dragon.

"Your appearance is definitely different... I think this might be an aftereffect from infusing your mind into it and keeping it permanently... for as long as this remains," Katherine nodded while analyzing the summon. "This is pretty amazing though! You truly summoned yourself, Elayne! Well done."

"Yaaay!" Elayne said happily, her two bodies held hands and jumped to celebrate.

"Now we should test what it can do, and if it will ever disappear..." Katherine said. "We could do something about it, maybe?"

"I was planning on contracting it," Elayne said. "Even if it's my own Aura, can't I just contract it as a permanent spirit of mine? It's myself though, but this could help me out in a lot of ways."

"Contracting yourself, you say? That's actually genius, but how are you planning on doing that?" Katherine said. "Contracts come in many ways, most of the time they're created by the spirit, but your own spirit is yourself, so you have no idea."

"Actually, I happen to have a perfect skill for it!" Elayne said. "It's from the other world I was talking about; it is soul bound to me. The [Sacred Spirit Queen Of Divine Beasts], it is the Skill that has allowed me to contract Belle, Silver, Goldie, Blackie, Falco, and several other creatures, once contracted, they turn into Divine Beasts! Ah well, Belle is a Summoned Beast, I can summon Beasts too."

Elayne showed Katherine the information through her phone, the BNLO App allowing her to easily check Skills and Items, and even trade items with other players offline.
