Chapter 801 Smelting Synthesis

"It is the Special Ability of this Divine Smithy." Ignis smiled. "A power only father possessed, which will make you stronger than any other Blacksmith of Arcadia!"

"What is it about?" I wondered.

"Well, each Blessing will not only give you a contract with my siblings, but you will also acquire their power. My power is Smelting Synthesis, tied to the Divine Blessing of my father." Ignis explained. "And this power, pretty much, allows you to convert any equipment into a special ingot."

"Wait, can't we do that already by just smelting them normally?" Mark wondered, not trying to act rude.

"Yeah?" I wondered. "What's so special about this?"

"Of course it is special!" The Spirit said angrily. "It is completely different than when you simply smelt a piece of equipment for their metal. All their abilities, stats, and runes disappear once you do that, right? Well, it is the opposite with Smelting Synthesis."

"You mean...?!" Acorn asked. "I see! So that's why it has the word Synthesis on it, like with Alchemy, you can transform one thing into another instead of simply extracting their metals like normal smelting!"

"Is that so?" I wondered.

"Right on the mark, little squirrel!"

Ignis quickly turned into the Divine Flames as he moved back to the furnace, which flared with golden and divine fire.

"Now, Planta, why don't you try it? You can also check the Blessing's description to get a full-on explanation of its limits and functions."

"A-Alright!"

I quickly decided to check the blessing description as I took out a piece of equipment I wasn't going to use anyways.

[Divine Hephaestus' Blessing: Smelting Synthesis]

One of the Four Divine Blessings of Hephaestus, tied to Ignis, his third son.

Grants a Unique Ability to the wielder of the Blessing that no other blacksmith could ever replicate.

By using the Divine Forging Flames of Ignis and channeling your Spirit Energy, Mana, and Divinity, you can smelt pieces of equipment into Unique Ingots.

These Ingots will possess up to 50% of that piece of equipment's Stats, and a minimum of one of its abilities at random, with a chance for all abilities to be inherited into the Ingot.

This Ingot can then be used to both create a new piece of equipment inheriting the previous equipment stats and abilities or enhance another pre-existing piece of equipment.

A piece of equipment can only have a maximum of 4 Abilities, excluding their Soul Weapon Ability. However, stacked abilities can be merged together into stronger, and Unique Abilities.

Chances for Ingots inheriting the maximum amount of Stats and Abilities possible depends on both 50% of DEX and LUK Stat, meaning that 50 of DEX and 50 of LUK is 1% chance for the maximum amount of benefits to be inherited.

This Chance is not affected by external buffs or invisible boosts, nor equipment stats either.

Current Chance for Maximum Inheritance: 54%

Oh, it was much more amazing than I imagined! It can inherit stats too?! So this means I could make utterly bloated equipment with a trillion stats and many overpowered abilities.

I am already quite a broken Player by itself, but against the even more overwhelming broken foes I need to beat, such as Level 400 Archwizard and even a Demon King, I guess I'll need as much overwhelming power as I can.

And so, my first sacrifice to convert into an ingot is this skull mask!

It was named [Spooky Skull Mask (B Grade)]! It was one of the two items I got out of the treasure chest rewards that were equipment.

The other was the [Necrotic Black Mantle (B Grade)], a mantle that increases Evasion, Movement Speed, and Stealth Ability Effects by a bit.

Meanwhile, the Mask seems to enhance Magic Power and grants Resistance to Curses and Darkness Magic by a little bit. All neatly packed with a weird ability that enhances my "Death Attribute Magic Power" based in how many foes I defeat; it is a temporary buff though.

I haven't used them both because I really didn't need them that much, the mask in specific was too weird and covered my entire face, making me look like some edgy character.

And the mantle was... Okay? I already had a Stealth Cape which granted me full invisibility as long as I didn't attack, which I've used in Earth a couple of times.

Though, the needing for stealth hasn't risen yet, when we try to infiltrate the Magician Guild, we'll need it, so I suppose that's where I could use the ingot made from this mantle, and maybe the stealth cape too...

Anyways, for now!

"Take this one."

I threw the skull-shaped mask to Ignis, who caught it on his blazing jaws and devoured it.

I felt my Mana and Spiritual Energy being drained by several thousands from my body, it was quite exhausting, but thanks to my other Skills, I regenerated quite quickly.

"Then I'll convert this one...!"

FLUOSH!

The mask quickly melted into a white and black metal, ultimately mixing together into a beautiful ingot- no, two ingots?! I thought you can only get one!

Ding!

[You've transformed the [Spooky Skull Mask (B Grade)] into the [Abyssal Necrotic Bone Ingot (B++ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

"Ooh?! I got the best result right away!"

"Catch them!"

I got a bite excited, as I tried to catch the ingots with my hands, I felt like they were burning... Thankfully, the effect of the gloves Ambil gifted to me activated and I became immune to burns.

"A-Amazing, it is that simple?!" Mark asked.

"With this... the possibilities of what we can make are endless!" Said Ambil. "A completely miraculous power befitting of the legacy of a god, that's for sure!"

"Indeed..." I said in surprise. "Oh right, there was a Trial, isn't it?"

"Indeed." Ignis nodded, waving his hand. "The Trial that will allow you to access the Ancient Valley is one of endurance and perseverance, more than anything!"

FLAAASH!

Suddenly, a new System Window emerged, made out of Ignis own flames!

Chapter 802 A New Trial And A Big Challenge

FLUOOSH!

The flames turned into a red-colored system window, something that I've never seen happen before. It felt as if the System was cooperating with Ignis in a much deeper level.

Ding!

[The Trial of the First Divine Hephaestus Forge has been created!]

[To open the Gates leading to the Ancient Valley, you must first prove your worthiness as the successor of Hephaestus.]

[Show the God of Blacksmiths what you've learned, alongside your own perseverance, dignity, craftsmanship, and dexterity.]

[Craft Equipment of the Unique+ Rank and B+ Grade at minimum]: [0/1000]

[Craft Equipment of the Mythic Rank and A+ Grade at minimum]: [0/5]

[Craft Equipment of the Legendary Rank and S Grade at minimum]: [0/1]

[Once you complete all Trials, you will be granted access to the Ancient Valley, and additional Rewards.]

[Rewards]: [EXP] [Gold] [Valuable Items] [Key Items] [Access to the Ancient Valley]

[Time Limit]: [30 Days]

[Failure]: [Lose your Title as Hephaestus Successor]

"I only have 30 Days?!" I was shocked. "W-Wait, I need to make a Legendary Rank equipment too?! W-What...?!"

"That's how it is. My master had originally thought about making it 7 days limit, but he went easy on you." Laughed Ignis. "You can accept this and begin, or wait until you feel ready... Once the 30 days passes and you fail, you won't be able to progress the inheritance anymore."

"Hey that's super rude and ruthless! What the hell dude?!" Rita asked angrily. "Do you really expect her to do all of that in just a month?!"

"Even for my disciple, asking her to make a thousand Unique+ Rank Items and then five Mythic Ranks, and one Legendary Rank..." Ambil was nervous. "I am not sure I could even do the same either!"

"This is ridiculous... Planta, we should wait until you grow stronger and gather more materials I think." Said Brisingra. "No need to hurry."

"...You're really underestimating her. She might have acted a bit surprised but." Mark smiled, pointing at me. "Look how pumped up she is."

"Okay, let's do it!" I nodded, feeling excited about such a challenge.

"Wait, what?!" Acorn cried. "L-Lady Planta, are you sure?!"

"Yes." I nodded. "I do have enough materials, more than enough with Ambil's reserves we refilled just recently. Also I've already crafted a lot of Ultra Rare Rank equipment, and more than five hundred of them. If I use better materials and more Spirit Power... And the might of the Divine Forging Flame, I think I can handle it! The hardest challenge will be the Legendary one, but even then, I am confident I can do this... in around a week or less."

"Around a week or less?!"

Everyone reacted in utter disbelief over my endless confidence, only Mark smiled while nodding, he seemed to have already predicted my response.

"Hoh, how bold of you! I like you more and more, my new master." Laughed Ignis. "Very well, if you can do this in a week or less, the rewards you will get will be multiplied by three!"

"You better not go back on your words, Ignis." I giggled.

"Of course not, the System seems to want to cooperate on your growth as well!" Ignis laughed.

Ding!

[Ignis has challenged you to complete the trial within 7 Days.]

[If you complete it within 7 Days, you will receive three times the rewards.]

[However, if you can't complete it within the 7 Days, you will receive the failure penalty.]

[Accept Challenge?]

"Yes."

Without even doubting it, I accepted it right away.

Ding!

[You have accepted the challenge, within 7 days, please complete the Trial's requirements.]

[You may use the assistance of your allies to make the process faster, but it must be you who finishes the equipment to count as within the trial's requirements.]

"I see, so I can also ask for you guys help." I smiled. "Then I suppose I can leave to you some things, such as smelting the ores into ingots, and make refining some of the metals?"

"Please, leave it to us." Said Nieve. "I shall employ my frost magic to cool down any metal you need!"

"I-I guess there's no helping it..." Acorn sighed. "Hahh... Lady Planta, you're working us to the bone, aren't you?"

"It's not like I'll ask you to do much, and if you don't really want to help, you don't need to." I smiled. "So don't worry."

"Eh? Ah! N-No! I didn't mean it like that! I'll help! I'll help!" Acorn suddenly panicked when he thought I didn't need him.

"Well fine I'll help in something or two." Shrugged Rita.

"Leave it to me! I can also produce some ores out of my body with magic, can that help?" Lily offered her help.

"I'll give it my all too!" Mark said. "Let's do this, Elayne."

"Sure!" I nodded.

"Hmph, such nice and reliable friends..." Ignis sighed, he sounded slightly jealous. "You're really lucky, Planta. Make sure to never disappoint them nor betray them, these people are very rare to find."

"Huh?" I looked back at him. "What do you mean? Were you betrayed before?"

"I-I... No, never mind what I said. I am just a Divine Forging Flame Spirit, nothing more." Ignis seemed to be hiding something.

However, I couldn't just force him to speak, so I let him be for the time being...

"Hey, do you have some history with this guy? Spill the beans already." I asked the Great Spirit.

"T-There's no such thing!" The Great Spirit complained. "..."

"Huh... You Spirits are sure secretive sometimes..." I sighed. "I'm glad at least you guys are transparent and honest with me." I looked at the Dragon Spirits which I just summoned.

"Well, it's not like we have much to hide, we had simple lives." The Viper Drake Queen shrugged.

"I remember having more memories before, but they somewhat dissipated as I became a Spirit..." Sighed the Red Dragon Queen.

"I guess it is part of what we've become now." The Blue Dragon King said, hugging her. "Though, to be able to live on as powerful Spirits is not bad, especially when our children's eggs are waiting back home."

"Yeah... if they can be kept safe there, then we would gladly help as well, Master." Said the Cave Drake King.

"Oh, don't worry! Titania is taking good care of the eggs." I smiled. "Now... How about you help me out in this forging business? I have a few ideas I want to try!"

Chapter 803 Working Hard

Now that everything was finally explained and done, we watched the time we had right now. It was already getting darker in here, seems like Arcadia does gets darker earlier than in Earth. It would soon be around six pm.

There were several things we had to do now, but the more the merrier, honestly. Because they will all become an opportunity for all of us to become stronger and also find clues about the Cultists.

First of all, the whole Trial I need to complete, which I'll have to do with my friends help. I also want to smelt synthesis a lot of equipment so I can get even stronger ones. I think making a Legendary Rank equipment shouldn't be hard if I stack a lot of these ingots.

I plan on getting the King's request to arm up his knights by doing this too, so we'll be killing two birds with one stone. Also this weekend is the craftsmanship competition, but I just have to wait until that begins.

Moving on, there's the quests where we have to explore the three areas where we sensed the origin of the demonic book, one of them was beneath the kingdom's walls, in the noble district, and another in the mining dungeon at the outskirts.

Then, we must also register in the Magician Guild and investigate if they are truly cooperating with the Cult or not.

In between all of that, I also want to revisit the Druid Guild and ask the Guild Master about the Verdant Green Domain... And let's not forget there's a little angel living in my house now!

So, in between all these new responsibilities, there's a lot to do!

However, I somehow am really looking forward to doing it. Have I changed or somehow become less lazy over time?

I just really like having a lot to do...

Nonetheless, my plan for today was crafting at least two hundred pieces of equipment and play around the Smelting Synthesis Abilities.

I also want to upgrade my Gaia's All Purpose Tool, which has the ability to absorb Materials and improve, so I might feed it a few ingots.

CLANK! CLANK! CLANK!

And already, I could hear Ambil using the new hammers provided here, he was already beginning to shape some of the metals for me to finish off.

Meanwhile, I could see Rita, Lily, and Nieve cooperating on helping them handle materials, refine them, clean them, or even create them. Lily was able to produce low-quality metals out of her body by using Mana, although they were low-quality, they came loaded with spirit energy.

Brisingra and Mark were the second in command after Ambil, also doing a similar job to him, they had already prepared dozens of pieces of metal for me. We decided to go for what the King has requested first, swords and spears.

At the side, Nieve was helping at cooling down the metal sticks they forged using Blazing Bronze, Black Iron, and Spirit Copper, the last one produced by Lily.

Acorn was using his Alchemy in combination with his newly acquired Blacksmithing Skill to combine the pile of spirit crystals and other monster materials I had left behind, this way, we can improve the quality of the mass-produced products quickly.

And lastly, I wasn't just looking at them work, I was constantly hammering the products they handled to me while being at the side of the blazing divine forging flames.

CLANK! CLANK! CLANK!

I was refining the fiftieth sword I had made already, which was looking slightly rough, but I swiftly imbued it with both a few Lesser Spirits, which kept popping out of my body as I wished, and also with the Draconic Spirit Essence of my Dragon Spirits.

FLUOOOSH!

The weapon was then polished with my magic power and my Alchemy Skills, as I shapeshifted the steel and then hardened it in a split of a second...

Ding!

[You have successfully created [Blazing Dragon Spirit Steel Sword (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x1!]

[You gained +225 Skill Proficiency.]

[You gained +1.000.000 EXP.]

"And done! This is the number fifty!" I celebrated, throwing the weapon away into the pile behind me.
"Phew! I guess we got to take a break now, right me?"

"Yep, I think so too!" Another me nodded, she was right besides me and was just exactly me, she had her own pile of swords, another fifty too.

FLASH!

She swiftly merged back into my body...

Indeed, I can make clones!

And this was a power I had for a while, it is named [Yggdrasil's Avatar], and it is part of my Heart of the Forest once it evolved into an Yggdryad.

To sum it up, that tree over there is actually my real body. Meanwhile, the rest are Avatars, even the one I've been using all this time is an Avatar, an extension of my true body.

However, I am still penalized like a Player when they die if my Avatars die too. However, I can set my "main avatar" as the one that gets penalized, which inherits all my stats.

The other "sub avatars" only get at most 20% of my stats but can use up to five of my skills. I haven't used them because it takes a bit of effort to concentrate in using two bodies.

After all, they don't have minds of their own, it is all my own mind, which I divide to control these bodies.

My limit is just two Avatars for now, more than that and I get a very strong headache, so it can't be helped!

Nonetheless, a hundred swords are not bad at all for having worked for about two hours.

"At first, I couldn't believe my father had given a Dryad like you his legacy..." Ignis was amazed while talking amidst the forge flames. "But now, I can see why he chose you... To think you would finish a hundred Unique+ Rank swords in just two hours... Planta, you sure are a monster!"

"Hahaha, you're exaggerating...! Anyways, everyone! Time for a break! Let's eat something!" I called everyone to take a break.

Chapter 804 The Results Of Hard Work

At the end, these were all the results of my crafting so far...

Ding!

[You have successfully created [Blazing Dragon Spirit Steel Sword (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x100!]

[You gained +22500 Skill Proficiency.]

[You gained +100.000.000 EXP.]

[Level Up!]

[Your Level has increased from level 173 to Level 174/180!]

[All your Stats have increased. You Earned Bonus Stat Points and Skill Points.]

[The [Divine Forging Flame Spirit Furnace: Lv1] Skill has Leveled Up!]

[Your Divine Forging Flame Spirits have been strengthened greatly.]

I ended forging one hundred almost identical swords, all imbued with the fire and light element. The reason? Well, we'll be fighting all sorts of evil miasmic and undead critters that the cult controls.

So naturally, the knights and soldiers need special weapons that can combat them! Of course, without the help of my friends making all the steps much more simpler, I wouldn't had been able to reach this far in just two hours.

Ding!

[You have progressed in your Trial!]

[Craft Equipment of the Unique+ Rank and B+ Grade at minimum]: [0/1000] -> [100/1000]

"One tenth done!"

As I saw that status window pop up, we moved upstairs where we decided to have a meal with Ambil and my friends.

Because everyone was quite exhausted and hungry, we decided to eat what I had already packaged inside of my Inventory.

This included leftovers from today's lunch, so Ambil got to eat Earth's food again, marveling at the taste of my preparations.

I also ordered some pizza and garlic bread sticks, which I also brought out of my Inventory, and even some donuts and ice cream.

He was shocked by the weird packages the food came on, wondering where I bought these... I just told him that's the stuff we got in our world.

After all, NPC are aware we live in another world, so it was believable enough.

"I just can't get enough of this pizza though! What with this crust?! It has cheese in it! And this carbonated, sweet juice! It is so refreshing with enough ice cubes!" Ambil was devouring the food. "And don't let me get started with the garlic bread sticks, this tomato sauce they included, it goes so well with it!"

"Hahaha, you sure are enjoying everything, old man." Rita laughed as she ate some noodles with crispy veggies and meat cooked in a Chinese style.

I made these out of leftovers, adding some veggies from my farm back in the Forest of Beginnings, soy sauce from the farm too, produced using the soybeans I grew there, and also some seasoning of Earth.

"These noodles are so good, Lady Planta! I like the pizza too, but the veggies are nice." Acorn was happily devouring the noodles.

"This soy sauce you produced is delightful..." Nieve smiled gently.

"Indeed it is!" Said Brisingra. "And if it comes accompanied with this "coke" or whatever it is called, it's even more tasty!"

They ended being surprisingly delicious fried noodles, like nothing I ever thought before... Mixing both this world's ingredients and Earth's ones is always marveling and interesting.

And I racked some easy EXP out of it, although not enough for another Level, sadly.

"I like the ice cream!" Said the Red Dragon Queen.

"I never thought we could eat as Spirits, but here we are, eating like pigs.." The Viper Drake Queen laughed as she had eaten half a pizza already.

"Human food is sure something different!" The Cave Drake King said, eating ice cream with cookies and cream flavor.

"Hmm! I can't get enough of it!" The Blue Dragon King was losing it.

"Oi, old man, give me some of that, don't eat it all!" Ignis said angrily, grabbing some of the garlic bread sticks from Ambil.

"Old man?! You're like hundreds of years older than me!" Ambil said angrily. "Stop eating everything!"

"I'm hungry! I haven't eaten since a while now... I never thought I could still eat actually...!" Ignis said, eating as much as he could.

"You guys... Can't you eat more calmly?" Mark sighed. "We can eat dinner at home in more peace I guess..."

"Yeah, don't worry." I smiled. "I brought all this food so I can cheat my diet in here. After all it doesn't affect our weight in Earth, and these bodies never get overweight either!"

"I guess it is nice how we can eat anything we want, hahaha." Mark laughed.

"It is heaven! I'm going to keep eating like a pig!" Rita was devouring it all.

"Hey, don't eat those noodles, they're mine!" Lily protested.

They were sure making a fuss...

Anyways, I'm still six levels off from reaching max level!

I have not gotten any Evolution Requirements yet, so they must be hidden like the Yggdragon until I get my hands into the proper materials for it.

Worst case scenario, if I reach max level, I might end up delaying my Rank Up so I can see if I can find a proper and powerful evolution to take.

Though, I am beginning to have some ideas of what it could be my next evolution, based in what the Druid Guild Master revealed to me about the Yggdragon's Seven Divinity Fragments.

Each Demon King had a Divinity Fragment of the Yggdragon which was what sealed them. Then, they absorbed such power and corrupted it, turning it into their strength.

So, I need to somehow find what these Divinity Fragments are and take them back to boost my evolution further... but I have zero idea where these might be.

I'm sure Thanatos has his one inside of his body... but what about the previous three? I do remember absorbing all the powers of the Demon King of Miasma.

Was that what provoked my evolution into an Yggdryad, aside from Yggdrasil's child branch?

Then if I absorbed a Divinity Fragment there, where can I find the other two belonging to the first and second Demon Kings?

They were already defeated after all...

Well, it is not like obligatory for me to need these to evolve but, it is worth looking for.

For now, I am also thinking about someone that should be waking up soon enough... Someone that might have been the main culprit of this whole cult incident.

Chapter 805 Rising Popularity

After having taken a break and eaten, we heard a bit of a commotion outside the Smithy, finding out there were dozens of adventurers outside, hitting the invisible Divine Ward barrier trying to call for us.

"Is someone there?!"

"Why is there this damn barrier?"

"I can't break it no matter what I try! Is there a Barrier Master here?"

"Who would play such a lame class anyways?"

"Hey, Planta was also playing a lame class and look how amazing she is for a newbie player!"

"Shut up she's an exception!"

I quickly walked outside to check on what was happening, as I greeted the people coming in. I felt a bit nervous they had all come here just to buy stuff.

"Sorry everyone, we're closed for now." I said.

"It's Planta!"

"What, you're closed?!"

"But I came here all the way from a town at the end of the continent!"

"This can't be... no way..."

"There are so many of my friends bragging about having some of your equipment..."

"Are you sure you're not selling anything?!"

I haven't checked the forums or the community of BNLO lately, but apparently, it looks like my equipment has made some sort of huge furor among all Players, especially those below Level 150 that still need some good equipment because they aren't high level enough to do the Weekly Bosses that drop the best materials for the best equipment.

Well, "best" equipment according to the meta, which are several sets of equipment made using unique materials dropped from these Weekly Bosses, starting at Level 150 and onwards, this equipment set become much stronger.

But anybody below it is scrapping by and struggling with whatever they can find or buy, and because equipment is still incredibly rare as it only drops rarely inside dungeons and no monsters out there drop them, people have to rely on craftsman NPC and Players to get them.

"I'm sorry, I have been commissioned by the King so I can't really sell anything I've made!" I apologized to them. "I hope you can wait a week or two. I'll start selling again by then!"

"R-Really?"

"She was commissioned by the King of the Luminous Kingdom?!"

"Did you hear that? Quickly post it in the forums!"

"I'm doing that right now!"

"Wow, isn't this the first time a Player get this close with such a high-level NPC?!"

"S-She said in a week or two, it is not THAT long, right?"

"I guess I'll be staying in the city for a while, huh?"

"Thank you for clarifying, Planta!"

"We love you!"

"We're your fans!"

"Planta, you're so pretty! Can I take a picture with you? A selfie?"

"Planta, planta! Planta!!!"

There were a lot of fans as well mixed between them... both males and females, although mostly males. I suppose they are fan of other things from me rather than just... who I am.

"Sorry, can't do for now~"

As I walked back to the Smithy while keeping the Divine Ward up, which was very useful, I suddenly heard someone I had once interacted with.

"Planta! Remember us? Can we get through?"

It was a man wearing sunglasses and a black suit, carrying a huge sword behind him, he had pointy, black hair, and seemed to be much higher level than the rest in here.

"It's me! From Arcadia News! We meet at the beginning of the month back in Nexus City." He said.
"Have you thought about our offer? It still on! If you want to join us, we'll guarantee the best for you!"

There is already a tournament incoming! Many Players from all around the world will be participating, it is a big event even backed by several companies, so if you could become our representative, we would be more than happy to give you as many benefits as we can!"

Oh, it was that man!

So even after the whole First Contact and people awakening powers, while monsters are beginning to appear in the wilderness, BNLO is still as worldwide famous as it was before.

In fact, it seems that its popularity has begun to rise as reality has become increasingly more dangerous, people want to escape from reality and become someone strong more than ever...

News about BNLO is always on TV nowadays, this is how I've seen many of my videos too, and how even people that don't even play videogames back at my original job recognized the name "Planta" when I revealed it.

Profiting off the game has become more popular with the rising value of its products, and how the Gold can be easily exchanged for IRL money through the company itself too...

I originally believed it was some sort of pyramid scheme or scam with these other NFT games that came the last years, but it was all legit... you can really earn money out of playing a game, and a sizable amount if you pick a good class and rush through content until you can begin grinding Bosses.

Even governments from other countries have already begun to interact with the game and its mechanics to an extent, especially countries such as Korea and Japan, who depend so much on their industries and companies to hold their economy.

However, I've already made my decision some time ago...

"Sorry, but I won't be joining you." I smiled. "I'll be going to the tournament though! With all my friends, we'll go the tournament and win! So look forward to seeing us, everyone!"

"Ooh?! She's coming to the tournament?!"

"Wait, without any backers or companies behind her promoting her?!"

"She does have a guild but its small..."

"Wow, we'll cheer for you, Planta!"

"You're the best and cutest milf player!"

"Milf player?! What sort of names is people giving me..." I sighed. "A-Anyways! I'm going back, please don't... annoy me? Please, we're busy."

I walked back to the smithy feeling embarrassed, although I heard the threatening voice of the Arcadia News representative, he was really angry over my carefree rejection of their offer.

"You will regret this, Planta! You will NEVER have an opportunity like THIS in your WHOLE life!!!"

"Yeah, yeah..."

I just ignored him. I didn't care about any big company backing me.

They pretend to care, but they only want to profit off me.

They can go screw themselves!

Chapter 806 Trial Progression

Author's Note: My new novel is out, check "The Protagonist's Sister Is Actually the Strongest" by clicking on my profile!

After that awkward interaction, I moved back to the smithy to talk with everyone else about what happened. They had several opinions, but none seemed to really care about these players... I guess I was the only foolish enough to attempt to earn their forgiveness by telling them I'll begin selling later.

"You don't really need to feel forced to do that, you know?" Sighed Mark. "So don't worry. You're no provider for them."

"I-I guess you're right." I nodded. "Well, still, it makes a lot of Gold, so I might begin selling my products in the auction if anything. I could profit more out of that."

"That's right." Rita nodded. "Because there's no way in hell I'm not doing that! I'll profit and get a bunch of money!"

"I also want to earn some myself!" Said Lily. "Selling products on the Earth Auction might not be enough..."

"I-I guess items that are too high quality can't be transported after all." I sighed. "Hey, Jenny, are you done eating?"

"Hmm?! Ah! Y-Yes!" Jenny nodded, she was still eating food as we spoke. "Man, you overworked me to death there though! Ah, are we going back again?!"

She helped as she could, using her unique body and abilities to mold metals inside of her, melt them, and even shape them amazingly.

Slimes are really compatible with crafting because of what they can do inside of their bodies and how they can shape and influence items they eat inside their bellies.

So she's quite definitely an important member of our crafting team!

"Alright! I'm ready, let's go for another round." Ambil said with energy filling his body. "Let's go! Let's not waste any time! I want to make at least another one hundred- no, let's make two hundred more!"

"You're that pumped up?!" I asked.

"Well, I think we can do it, we've taken a handle of our abilities." Acorn said. "Also, the Divine Flames Ember we can wield is sure useful!"

"I think I could push myself some more as long as you can help with the two Avatars." Mark said.

"Alright then! You Dragon Spirits are also helping." I said. "More than enchanting, I also need you to forge and smelt some items, can you?"

"I think I can! I've observed you enough! Dear, let's help them!" The Red Dragon Queen was enthusiastic.

"Ugh, there's no helping it..." The Blue Dragon shrugged. "If my cute little wife is all pumped up, I have to do my best too! Maybe my black flames can increase the items quality too?"

"We can try!" I nodded.

"Hmmm... Hey Lily, let me help you with the ore production, I saw you were also running out already." Said the Cave Drake King.

"S-Sure?" Lily nodded, although still quite confused.

"I might as well help too..." The Viper Drake Queen sighed. "I suppose I could employ these various, dexterous hands!"

"I'll also try to up my game." I nodded, dividing myself with another Avatar and then growing several arms out of my backs. "I'll try to push myself to my limits!"

Like that, we moved downstairs and back into the smithy.

We moved rapidly, assessing our materials and everything we had, as we worked intensively for one hour and forty minutes.

We meet the mark faster than we expected thanks to our cooperation and abilities, which seemed to improve greatly as we did them over and over again.

Thanks to the blessing Ignis gave to everyone, their blacksmithing abilities became really good. Even those that were quite mediocre became good, and those that were good became excellent.

And those that were already excellent like Ambil, became masterful.

"W-We did it... Three hundred in a single day!" Mark celebrated, dropping on the floor. "Ugh..."

"Hahaha, you guys are quite tired! I'm not that tired." Jenny smiled, her slimy body made it hard for her to become exhausted or suffer pain.

"Hahh... I need a long nap now." Acorn yawned.

"Ugh, I'm having a headache..." Brisingra complained.

"My back hurts so much despite all my stats!" Rita complained. "Elayne! You owe me a few drinks now!"

"Yes, yes, I'll invite you to somewhere nice." I smiled. "Thank you for helping out, everyone!"

"Oof... Certainly, we've overexerted ourselves." Ambil gasped. "Even though I wasn't the one that finished them off, seeing how you are the only one that would be able to add enough quality to an item to transform it into Unique+ Grade in a mass-production manner... Aren't you tired?"

"Well, thanks to this magician ring I got, I regain Satiation with every 1000 MP I use, so I was able to keep myself with more energy like this." I smiled. "Though, it is indeed quite exhausting anyways..."

I waved my hands, conjuring some of my newest Spells of the Green Magic Skill and healing their exhaustion and body pain, relieving them from their stress...

Meanwhile, I looked at the System message that popped up.

Ding!

[You have successfully created [Black Flame Dragon Spirit Steel Sword (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x50 [Venomous Frost Dragon Spirit Steel Spear (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x50 [Holy Flame Dragon Spirit Steel Spear (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x50 [Blazing Flame Dragon Spirit Steel Spear (Unique+ Rank/B+++ Grade)] x50!]

[You gained +25000 Skill Proficiency.]

[You gained +105.000.000 EXP.]

[Level Up!]

[Your Level has increased from level 174 to Level 175/180!]

[All your Stats have increased. You Earned Bonus Stat Points and Skill Points.]

I ended gaining another level out of that, but I noticed the bonus EXP I got decreased... I asked Ignis about it as we all rested.

"Ah, yeah, the more you make something of a single item, the less bonus proficiency and exp you'll gain, until it goes all the way down to 1." Laughed Ignis. "You'll need to create new items to gain more EXP and Proficiency! This is part of my father's legacy as well, to not make you slack off and do the same thing over and over again!"

"I-I see..." I felt slightly shocked there was such a penalty. "I guess Hephaestus really didn't want someone that would abuse his powers, huh? I guess there's no helping it!"

Ding!

[You have progressed in your Trial!]

[Craft Equipment of the Unique+ Rank and B+ Grade at minimum]: [100/1000] -> [300/1000]

"We're already one third done with this...!"

Chapter 807 Opening Some Treasure Chests

Ding!

[You have progressed in your Trial!]

[Craft Equipment of the Unique+ Rank and B+ Grade at minimum]: [100/1000] -> [300/1000]

With the Trial finally done, it was about to be eight pm, so we decided to stop for today. Tomorrow I'll advance even more, but for now, we needed to rest.

I wanted to check and make some more Ingots though, so while everyone was packing things and moving upstairs, I took a glance in my inventory to see what else I could use.

And as I watched my messy Inventory, I noticed how I had tons of amazing materials that I still haven't used completely.

Aside from that, there were tons and tons of rewards, potential cubes, enhancement scrolls, and many potions and elixirs.

However, what could give me a lot of equipment were these items, the treasure chests and prize items I haven't opened for over a month since I received them... This was the whole list.

[Guild Victory Prize (S Grade)] x1

[Legendary Armor Piece Treasure Chest (S Grade)] x1

[Legendary World Boss Themed Equipment Treasure Chest (S Grade)] x3

[Legendary Evil Dragon Fafnir Themed Treasure Chest (S Grade)] x1

[Failed Copy Of The Origin of Darkness Themed Treasure Chest (SS Grade)] x1

[Abandoned Failure of the Laboratory of Madness Themed Treasure Chest (SS Grade)] x1

They weren't as many as I had originally imagined, but they were still an insane amount of prizes I had yet to open.

I also had thousands of high-quality materials from all the foes we've defeated, so I could mass produce some equipment out of them and then turn them into ingots.

That too would be a good strategy, I believe. Because it would be a bit too overwhelming to open all of them at once, I decided to open the first two to see what I get.

If its end up being something I don't want or need that much, I'll turn them into ingots. If they're useful I'll just equip them.

I took both treasure chests out of my inventory, Ignis was looking at what I was doing in silence.

"Open."

Both opened at the same time by my command, the treasure chests slowly opened themselves, creaking, and letting out a bright glow as they did.

FLAASH! FLAASH!

The Guild Victory Prize had many rewards instead of a single piece of equipment or item, while the second treasure chest offered me a beautiful golden chest armor piece, finely decorated with trees, plants, and animals, and imbued with green jewels.

Ding!

[You've opened the [Guild Victory Prize (S Grade)] x1!]

[You acquired the following rewards: [1.000.000.000 Gold] [+1.000.000 Guild Contribution] [Guild Wars Victorious Warrior Helmet (S Grade)] x1 [Guild Wars Victorious Warrior Boots (S Grade)] x1 [Guild Wars Victorious Warrior Ring (S Grade)] x1!]

[You've opened the [Legendary Armor Piece Treasure Chest (S Grade)] x1!]

[You acquired the following rewards: [Gaia's Yggdrasil Valkyrie Orichalcum Torso Armor (S Grade)] x1!]

[Gaia's Blessing] has been activated, the [Gaia's Yggdrasil Valkyrie Orichalcum Torso Armor (S Grade)] Bonus Stats and Durability has increased greatly.]

"Awesome! So many things... The Guild Victory Prize gave that many things?! Now I see why they love doing Guild Wars, you get so many rewards!" I said, analyzing the items.

"Indeed they do." Mark nodded, walking to my side. "Looks like you finally opened the prize you got! As the Guild Master, you get the best one out of them. I got one too, but it was only A Grade."

"O-Oh... Did you get anything valuable out of it?" I wondered.

"I got some contribution, gold, and a bracelet and gloves." Said Mark. "I think the Guild Victory Prizes give a unique set of equipment that can only be dropped there. If you gather the whole set, you get tons of bonuses on guild wars. But even wearing one piece of equipment gives you some bonuses. But outside of guild wars, they're not that useful."

"Is that so?" I wondered, looking at the pieces of equipment.

"They are quite fine, yeah, but compared Gaia's armor, they are not much outside of guild wars..."

Indeed, Gaia's Armor Stats were even higher...

Chapter 808 Gaia's Armor

The Gaia's Armor had much better Stats...

Ding!

[Gaia's Blessing] has been activated, the [Gaia's Yggdrasil Valkyrie Orichalcum Torso Armor (S Grade)] Bonus Stats and Durability has increased greatly.]

[Otherworldly Title [Guardian Angel] has been activated, further enhancing the effects of the [Gaia's Yggdrasil Valkyrie Orichalcum Torso Armor (S Grade)] due to its compatibility.]

[Item Abilities]

[Gaia's Blessing]: This armor was made by Gaia herself, containing her Divine Power in the form of her Blessing. Item Durability is increased by +100.000, DEF by +5.000, and all Stats by +500. Item can Evolve once enough Materials are absorbed. Special Abilities can emerge depending in the Materials it absorbs, and Durability can be restored this way. Additionally, all Protection Skills and Spells Defensive Power is increased by +100%.

[Valkyrie's Armor]: A Piece of Armor forged by using Orichalcum, a precious Divine Metal of incredible durability specially made for the Valkyries, guardians of Heaven. Once equipped, All Weapon Skills Effects increase by +50%, Damage Taken is Reduced by -30%, and Natural Regeneration Quantity and Regeneration Speed of HP and MP increases by +100%. Additionally, this Armor can be equipped over any other existing armor and stack on their effects.

[Guardian of Heaven]: This Item is connected with the power of Heaven and the Holy Spirits. Whenever it takes Physical or Magical Damage, part of the Damage is absorbed as Holy Light Essence, which can be used to conjure [Valkyrie's Wings] to soar across the skies with ease and defend against attacks, [Heaven's Armory] to temporarily summon Divine Weapons as projectile attacks, and [Valkyrie's Descent], to make a Valkyrie descend into your body and enhance all your capabilities, temporarily changing your appearance and increase All Stats, Holy Light Power, and Weapon Skill Power by up to +500%. Holy Light Essence: 0/10000

[Item Description]

A Wonderful and beautiful Armor which have been forged by Gaia herself using her Divine Spirit Wood, the Feathers of Valkyries, and the Divine Orichalcum, the metal that the Gods themselves can create through their harnessed Divine Power

A special Divine Armor that can protect the wearer from most damage, while enhancing all their abilities in combat like the brave Valkyries and allowing them to harness Holy Light Essence to unleash Unique Abilities to overwhelm their foes.

It has been surprisingly further enhanced thanks to the Otherworldly Title [Guardian Angel], giving the Armor extra stats and effects.

The Ultimate Armor for my Chosen Hero, Planta.

It was an insane piece of equipment... Not only it granted a lot of amazing bonus stats, but it even gave me Authority and Soul Stats, which were very rare Stats!

With more Authority, all of my subjects become stronger, and with more Soul Stat, my soul grows stronger... It was an insane piece of equipment without a single doubt.

And not to mention all the wacky abilities it has! Holy Light Essence gathering, and then those three powerful abilities.

The wings, then the weapons, and even a descent Skill?!

I feel like Gaia is spoiling me too much...

"Gaia is spoiling you too much." Said Mark, crossing his arms. "I did get some legendary equipment too, but this is in another level entirely!"

"I know right?" I laughed a bit. "She's really... gone crazy on this. There's no way I'm turning this one into an ingot I guess. Also I can even equip it over my other armor?"

"The Frost Fairy Knight Armor you're wearing?" Wondered Mark. "Well you turned it invisible so I can't see it..."

"Yep that one." I nodded. "It's a pity it is such a strong armor, I can't bring it back to Earth... Oh well, I guess that's the intention."

"Yeah, but you could try turning the guild equipment into ingots?" Wondered Mark. "Like that, you might be able to enhance your armor and weapon with the power to grow stronger in guild wars, completely braking the balance even further."

"T-That's crazy but I like that idea!" I said. "However, it would benefit us very little right now, and I am not in the mood of going into guild wars... for now."

"Do you have any other equipment then?" Wondered Mark. "Oh, I could give you some of my junk items too."

"Eh? Are you sure? I could always just use equipment I've just made too... Though their abilities are very basic, they should be able to enchant the Gaia's-All-Purpose Tool quite well." I answered.

"Still, here are some junk equipment I don't need." Mark said, giving me five pieces of equipment he has gotten and discarded.

"W-Well, thank you very much!" I gave him a big kiss. "I'll use them well."

I quickly took a glance at the five items, Mark was left happy with just a "thank you kiss", he was such a sweet man.

There was a pair of red colored boots, a black sword, a bronze helmet imbued with a green jewel, red and orange colored shoulder pads with flame decorations, and a brown axe.

[Fire Walking Boots (D+ Grade)] granted the ability to walk on fire without taking damage, and also enhanced their speed by walking on fire. I couldn't equip them because they were for Warrior Classes.

[Moonless Sword (C+ Grade)] was a rather beautiful sword imbued with the power of shadows and the night. While fighting in darkness or night, it enhanced its Attack Power and Attack Speed. It also deals Magic Damage.

[Sylphid Helmet (C+ Grade)] was a helmet exclusive for Archers, that enhanced their movement speed by imbuing their bodies with Spiritual Winds, it also enhanced aim.

[Blazing Lion Shoulder Pads (B- Grade)] a pair of shoulder pads that could enhance firepower and also increased defense against it. Seemed to be part of a larger set.

[Atlas Axe (B Grade)] was a huge brown axe, larger than my own body, which was exclusive for warriors and berserk-type attackers. It held the ability to release small tremors with each blow, and summon rock spikes from the ground...

"Now, time to turn them into ingots!"

Chapter 809 Making An Overpowered New Weapon

"Are you sure about this, dear?" I asked Mark again. "This Axe looks pretty good, wouldn't you like wielding it?"

"I have the sword from that guy that invaded our territory." Said Mark. "Don't really need any more than that, don't worry about it honey." He gave me a kiss in my cheeks. "Use it and get stronger."

"Hehe, thank you." I gave him another kiss. "I'll reward you once we log-off, how about it~?"

"That wasn't the reward I was expecting, but I'll gladly take it." He caressed my hair as he kissed my nose.

"AHEM!"

The Divine Flames watching us act all lovey-dovey was growing slightly jealous, as he glared at us with a rather annoyed expression.

"So are we working or nah?"

"Okay, okay!"

I quickly grabbed the items and poured them inside the flames, imbuing my powers and slowly turning them all into ingots of different shapes and sizes.

Ding!

[You've transformed the [Fire Walking Boots (D+ Grade)] into the [Fire Walking Ingot (C+ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

[You've transformed the [Moonless Sword (C+ Grade)] into the [Moonless Shadow Ingot (B+ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

[You've transformed the [Sylphid Helmet (C+ Grade)] into the [Sylphid Spirit Ingot (B+ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

[You've transformed the [Blazing Lion Shoulder Pads (B- Grade)] into the [Blazing Lion Ingot (A+ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

[You've transformed the [Atlas Axe (B Grade)] into the [Atlas Earth Ingot (A+ Grade)] x2!]

[Success! Both Ingots have inherited 50% of the original equipment stats and all their abilities!]

"All of them were Success?" I wondered, glancing at the results. "Not even a single failure where they inherited less?!"

"Well, your Luck and Dex are very high, what did you expect?" Ignis laughed. "Now, what are you going to do with those ingots?"

"I'll try enhancing my Gaia-All-Purpose Tool first...!" I said. "Let's see..."

My current ingots were:

[Abyssal Necrotic Bone Ingot (B++ Grade)] x2

[Fire Walking Ingot (C+ Grade)] x2

[Moonless Shadow Ingot (B+ Grade)] x2

[Sylphid Spirit Ingot (B+ Grade)] x2

[Blazing Lion Ingot (A+ Grade)] x2

[Atlas Earth Ingot (A+ Grade)] x2

According to Ignis, only three Additional Abilities can be added into an already existing item. However, Gaia-All-Purpose-Tool is special.

Due to its Gaia's Blessing, it can naturally grow stronger by absorbing materials and also absorb the power of weapons sometimes.

This is a low % chance of succeeding though, but with the Ingots, it might be possible to trigger this power easily...

Meaning that the Weapon doesn't have as many limits as other items due to its special composition!

"Alright, it's time for this shovel to finally get stronger." I smiled, caressing the shapeshifting weapon. "Let's begin with Atlas Earth Ingot first! [Smelting Synthesis]!"

FLAAASH!

The ingot quickly turned into liquid metal, of golden and brown color, and encompassed the entire shovel, fusing with it.

The shovel, in response, also absorbed the material itself and its components through its natural ability.

An amazing synergy was formed.

Ding!

[The [Atlas Earth Ingot (A+ Grade)] x1 has been successfully synthesized into the [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] Weapon!]

[The [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] Special Ability has been activated; absorption of the Ingot has been completed.]

The [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] Grade has increased from C Grade to C+ Grade!]

[The [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] has gained +2.000 ATK, +1.000 STR, +1.000 VIT, +300 DEX, and +300 AGI]

[The Weapon has developed a new Ability: [Atlas Might]!]

FLUOSH!

The shovel gained a brown luster to it, and it grew in size and volume, seemingly having become even stronger... And the bonus stats also increased more than I imagined!

"It worked!" I said. "Now...!"

I held the shovel, as it suddenly channeled my Mana and changed its form into something it couldn't become naturally, without me imbuing it with Spirits and changing its shape.

FLAAASH!

It turned into a giant golden axe!

[The [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] has activated the [Atlas' Might] Ability, it has temporarily become a [Battle Axe]!]

[In this form, the weapon's Attack Power increases by +50% but decreases Attack Speed by -20%]

"This is wonderful!" I said happily. "But we are not even done yet!"

"Indeed... Can you use the same ingot on it?" Wondered Mark.

"I think I could, do the stats and abilities stack?" I asked Ignis.

"They can, but the bonus stats are decreased." Said Ignis. "I would recommend you save the other ingot to make a new weapon, you need to make Mythical and Legendary Items after all!"

"You're right, I won't waste the second ingot." I nodded. "I'll just use the others!"

Like that, I continued adding the ingots into the weapon and enhancing its stats while granting it new abilities.

Once the abilities reached the maximum of three, they started to merge together randomly, transforming the already existing abilities into stronger ones.

Ding!

[The [Abyssal Necrotic Bone Ingot (B++ Grade)] x1 has been successfully synthesized into the [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] Weapon!]

[The Weapon has developed a new Ability: [Blazing Lion's Roar]!]

[Due to reaching the maximum amount of Abilities available, the [Blazing Lion's Roar] Ability has been randomly fused into one of the Weapons' other Abilities.]

The shovel by itself had completely changed after the last ingot, it was overflowing with so much power it was now truly emanating the power of a Legendary Weapon!

It had gained several colorful engravements across the golden body, with many decorations on the handle, the shovel itself had also gained the decoration of a roaring lion on top of it...

Was this even a shovel anymore?!

Just what have I brought upon this world?

Chapter 810 Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool 2.0

I took a glance at the absolute monster I had created...

[Your [Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool] has Ranked Up Six Times from C Rank to A Rank!]

[ATK and DEF have increased by +500 and +250 respectively, and all other Stats by +100 with each Rank Up!]

[Durability has increased by +10k with each Rank Up!]

[Existing Ability Effects have been upgraded further.]

[The Weapon has been engraved with 3/3 new Additional Abilities: [Atlas Might] [Accursed Stigma Ward] and [Fire Walker]!]

[The [Moonless Night] [Sylphid Winds] and [Blazing Lion Roar] Abilities have been randomly merged with the pre-existing engraved Abilities to create even stronger Abilities.]

[The [Accursed Stigma Ward] Ability has been merged with the [Moonless Night] Ability.]

[The Special Ability: [Selene's Moonlight Ward] has been created.]

[The [Fire Walker] Ability has been merged with the [Sylphid Winds] Ability.]

[The Special Ability: [Rudra's Blazing Winds] has been created.]

[The [Atlas Might] Ability has been merged with the [Blazing Lion Roar] Ability.]

[The Special Ability: [First Labor: Nemean Lion's Might] has been created.]

The system notifications never stopped coming, the abilities that ended being born from the combination were absurd in name too!

They all took upon the name of either a God or a Mythological being, such as the Nemean Lion, one of the First Labors of Hercules?!

How come Atlas Might and Blazing Lion Roar become something like that?

Nonetheless, it was an amazing weapon now... In fact, it now surpassed Gram in Stats alone.

[Gaia's All Purpose Creation Tool]

[Item Type]: [One-Handed Weapon]

[Item Rank]: [Legendary]

[Item Quality]: [A]

[Item Requirement]: [Race: Dryad] [Job Class: Farmer]

[Item Durability]: [162.500/162.500]

[ATK]: [+10.250] [DEF]: [+5.000] [HP]: [+3.650] [MP]: [+3.200] [STR]: [+3.070] [VIT]: [+3.470] [DEX]: [+3.170] [AGI]: [+3.170] [INT]: [+2.320] [WIS]: [+2.320] [LUC]: [+850] [CHM]: [+600] [AUT]: [+600] [SOUL]: [+600]

[Item Abilities]

[Gaia's Blessing]: This weapon was crafted by Gaia herself, containing her Divine Power in the form of her Blessing. Item Durability is increased by +100.000, ATK by +1.500, and all Stats by +100. Item can Evolve once enough Materials are absorbed. Special Abilities can emerge depending in the items the Weapon absorbs, and Durability can be restored this way. Additionally, all Skills and Magic Effects and Damage are increased by +160%.

[All Purpose Tool]: This weapon can shapeshift in any form the user desires, as long as that form is a Tool for Farming, Mining, Fishing, and other Production-related Job Classes. Depending in the weapon type, different weapon-type skills can be used freely without restrictions. Enhances these Job Classes Skill Effects by +60%.

[Spirit Connection]: This Item is connected with the power of the Spirits of the World. It is possible to freely imbue Spirits into the weapon and enhance its powers, stats, and elemental damage temporarily. While Spirits are imbued into the weapon, Skill and Spell Damage increase accordingly to the power of the Spirits +175%.

[Additional Abilities]

[Selene's Moonlight Ward]: Passively conjures a ward upon the wielder of the weapon, blessed by Selene the Goddess of Moonlight. Grants immunity to most Curses and Status Effects, those that are imbued with Demonic or Divine Powers, have their effects reduced by -50% and up to -90% while being below the moonlight or at night. While being below the Moonlight or at night, Increases All Stats by +100%, decreases Damage Taken by -50%, and grants the ability to conjure Moonlight Magic.

[Rudra's Blazing Winds]: You can now conjure and manipulate the blazing winds of Rudra, giving you the ability to become immune to any flames you touch with your feet, while also using such winds to fly into the skies. The Blazing Winds can be used to attack and conjure different Spells. And by imbuing them into your eyes, your Aim, Concentration, Focus, and Movement Speed increases by +200%.

[First Labor: Nemean Lion's Might]: You've inherited the first labor of the Ancient Hero, Hercules. Summon the power of the mighty Nemean Lion into your weapon, transforming it into a giant lion head-shaped club to smash your foes to smithereens. By activating this Ability, the Weapon's Attack Power and Attack Speed increases by +200%, while the [Claws of the Nemean Lion] randomly attack any nearby foe, dealing up to +300% Damage that ignores 50% of their Defenses. By sacrificing 50% of your HP and unleashing all of your weapon's power, you can release [Nemean Lion's Rampage] to deal up to +1500% Damage that ignores 100% of a foe's Defenses. However, you cannot use the First Labor for 24 Hours after that.

This was ridiculous... The existing abilities were boosted greatly as well, but above all, these three super broken abilities were making me not believe what I was seeing with my own eyes.

"T-This is crazy, and its only two abilities merged together! What if I add more and more? How overpowered will these abilities become?" I wondered.

"A lot..." Ignis said. "However, there's a limit of how strong they can become, which is based in the Hephaestus Blessings you possess! But can you see it now? The power of my father and master's blessings?"

"It is amazing!" I said happily. "Now, let's be awesome for a bit... [First Labor: Nemean Lion's Might]!"

FLUOOOSH!

The giant shovel suddenly transformed, becoming a massive golden and crimson colored metallic club, with the tip resembling the huge head of a roaring and mighty lion.

"Woah..." Mark was in awe as he saw the hue club, which I was lifting barely.

"It is really heavy! Good thing my Strength Stat has developed a lot..." I said, moving the club around.
"Let's see... HYAH!"

I swung the club into the empty air to try it, powerful shockwaves of force were released with each attack, as the energy of the weapon released giant lion claws.

"ROOOAR!"

The mighty roar of a lion released, the claws hit the floor and made the entire temple tremble.

CLAASH! CLAASH! BAAAMM!!

RUMBLE!

"O-Oi! Stop messing around with that, you're going to destroy the Smithy at this point!" Ignis panicked a lot.

"Hahah, my bad. Sorry about that~" I giggled. "But this... It's really awesome!"
