

Brand New 991

Chapter 991: A Bizarre Power

Aside from the enhanced and improved version of all its original effects, the evolved Colony Mind also had an amazing enhancement to my Soul.

And as if that wasn't enough, also Telepathy and Telekinesis, things I never thought I could get out of one of Terra's Skills at all.

{Telepathy}: You can connect your Mind Waves with the Mind of another target and directly speak inside their minds. Targets must be willing to let you speak inside their minds for the process to be secure. When using this on a foe, it might be possible to attack their Minds instead, though the power of such an Attack will be based on the Skill Level and the Power of your Soul.

{Telekinesis}: By spending Mana, you can wield Psychic Powers and manipulate objects with an invisible Mind Force. The Power, Dexterity, and Ability of the Psychic Mind Force is based on the Skill Level, Mana used, and the Power of the Soul. Invisible barriers of this Mind Force and other forms can also be created using it.

Does this mean that Terra can wield Psychic Powers? I haven't seen her using them yet.

Maybe she'll have to Evolve the Skill first, something she hasn't done yet unfortunately.

With this I have the power to talk to minds, transfer information sneakily, and even attack other minds, though that feels a bit risky because they might be able to attack it back too.

And then there's good ol' Telekinesis, you can never go wrong with this one. It'll surely help a bunch; I've always wanted something like this!

Divine Beast Skills are directly connected to the Soul through the bond I have with my Divine Beast Familiars, so I think I might be able to use these powers in the real world.

Sounds really crazy, although I can't read minds with Telepathy though, only transfer thoughts and information and hear the voice of other people if they share it to me.

Or... well, attack their minds. Maybe if I do that I can read their thoughts? Though I don't plan on doing something so creepy to anybody that isn't a really horrible and bad person that deserves it.

Hmm, anyways, the other Evolved Skill...

[Space-Warping Eldritch Spirit Body: Lv1/200 (Divine Beast Skill) (Evolved I)]

The Evolution of the [Space-Traversing Eldritch Body] Divine Beast Skill Inherited from your {Divine Beast Familiar}: [Mimy]. This Skill cannot be leveled up through Skill Points and can only Level Up through constant usage of the Skill.

A Skill inherited from a monstrous Eldritch entity capable of partially trespassing through the boundaries of space itself. By activating this Skill, your body transforms, taking into consideration all your Skills, Titles, Stats, and other feats, you become an Eldritch Spirit, an Abyssal embodiment of your very being.

Once transformed, your Stats increase by +1100%, with an additional 9% with each Skill Level, but you constantly use Mana and Spiritual Essence, with a Duration of 10 Minutes and a Cooldown of 12 Hours.

When transformed into your Eldritch Spirit Form, you can shapeshift your body without restraints and with utmost ease, and you can partially trespass physical and spatial boundaries through the constant usage of energies. Even without transforming, you can now also use these abilities without problems.

Additionally, you can produce Abyssal Outer Essence, which can be used to activate a variety of Abilities that be unlocked ever 50 Levels.

Accumulated Abyssal Outer Essence: 935.740/2.000.000

Available Eldritch Abilities:

[Aberrant Eldritch Existence]: Unleash true terror on your foes, your existence cannot be comprehended, and their minds will become insane. Decreases all Intimidated Foe Stats by -50% for 10 Minutes, with a chance to inflict [Paralysis], [Horror], [Soul Damage], and [Agony] for 1 Minute. Cost: 10.000 Abyssal Outer Essence.

[Void Channel]: Channel your Abyssal Outer Essence to summon the power of the mysterious and rare element of the Void, which you can permeate your body with and gain its properties to both trespass physical matter and negate it. Defensive and Damage Power of this Ability increases based on Skill Level, your Bond Level with your Familiar [Mimy], and Abyssal Outer Essence used.

[???: Yet to be unlocked.

When fighting alongside Mimy, Skill EXP earned increases by x10.

This one was not bad at all either. Rather similar than before, but the bonus stats are even higher now. +1100%, huh? That's a lot! I haven't completely tried this transformation before though, mostly because it costs a lot of energy and lasts very little time, but I might as well give it a try once we fight those monsters we're about to confront.

And the new Ability [Void Channel] does sounds enticing to use. This Void Element sounds strong, but it requires its own special energy to summon, similar to Rita with her Malice. And this essence accumulates alone over time, mostly when I am transformed or using this Skill's other abilities.

Now, what else? We're getting close.

Ah, right, I did have some Skill Books, right? I wonder if I can use them to evolve one Skill like it has happened before.

I quickly took out the Skill Books I had inside my inventory, checking them one by one.

And then, it happened.

Two of them opened, flashing with bright light.

Ding!

[The [Skill Book: Iron Body (B Grade)] and [Skill Book: Enhanced Five Senses (B Grade)] have reacted to the [Robust Body: Lv10 (Max Level)] Skill!]

[Do you wish to use both Skill Books to Evolve the [Robust Body: Lv10 (Max Level)] Skill?]

[Once used, the Skill Books will disappear.]

[Yes] [No]

So that can be done! Right, the Robust Body Skill! A rather old Skill I haven't used all that much. It might have great potential. I remember it enhanced my physical strength and vitality; I think.

Okay, let's use these two Skill Books to evolve it then!

Even if it won't affect my real body back on Earth, getting my Avatar stronger is all what matters right now.

I pressed the [Yes] button and the Skill Evolution immediately began.

Both Skill Books opened their pages and then disappeared into particles of light, fusing into my body.

And then, the Skill evolved.

FLASH!

Chapter 992: Reinforced Body

Ding!

[The [Skill Book: Iron Body (B Grade)] and [Skill Book: Enhanced Five Senses (B Grade)] have reacted to the [Robust Body: Lv10 (Max Level)] Skill!]

[Do you wish to use both Skill Books to Evolve the [Robust Body: Lv10 (Max Level)] Skill?]

[Once used, the Skill Books will disappear.]

[Yes] [No]

After I pressed the "yes" button, all the things came together. The skill books opened their pages, imbuing their runes and magic powers into my body, and fusing them into my old Skill.

I could see the Skill, which was a rather old one, slowly growing larger and larger, its powers rapidly expanded across my entire physical body- no, all my bodies, the tree and the avatars, everything!

FLASH!

"Woah!"

I felt slightly overwhelmed as I felt my wooden body strengthen and gain "muscle" or more like the wood itself became more flexible and stronger, gaining a more elastic-like composition, while remaining with its basic functions.

Ding!

[Congratulations! The [Robust Body: Lv10] Skill has successfully evolved into the [Yggdrasil's Sentinel Body: Lv10/30 (Evolved Skill)]!

This was the Robust Body before:

[Robust Body: Lv10 (Max Level)]

As a Farmer your body has to exercise in the fields and constantly move to maintain your Farm at all times, due to this, your body naturally grows stronger and capable of harboring larger quantities of Stamina. HP, STR, and VIT are increased by +50%, and your Satiation Meter depletes at half the speed. This effects doubles upon being surrounded by [Nature] Tiles of any kind.

Additionally, grants the Active Effect of activating [Body Reinforcement] by spending MP, which can enhance Max HP and VIT Stats temporarily as high as +100% based in how much MP is spent, and Satiation depletes at half the speed.

Enhances Maximum Satiation by +50

And now, this is its evolved form...

[Yggdrasil's Sentinel Body: Lv10/30 (Evolved Skill)]

The Evolved form of the [Robust Body] Skill.

As a Sentinel of Yggdrasil, your body has grown naturally more power. Despite being composed of wood, your wooden body has gained muscle-like properties, becoming more flexible, stronger, and also capable of moving and shaping itself with much more strength, while also being able to accumulate more force within.

Because of this, your body naturally grows stronger and capable of harboring larger quantities of Stamina. Your body is constantly permeated by a powerful aura that increases HP, STR, and VIT by +200% (invisible buff), and your Satiation Meter depletes at 40% its original speed. This effects doubles upon being surrounded by [Nature] and [Spirit] Tiles of any kind.

Additionally, grants the Ability of Activating the {Yggdrasil's Sentinel Reinforced Body} by spending MP and Spiritual Energy, temporarily increasing your Maximum HP, STR, and VIT up to +400% based on how many energies are spent, and Satiation depletes at half the speed. But constantly consumes MP and Spirit Energy.

While using this Ability, while fighting alongside or with Plants and Spirits related with Yggdrasil, or using magic related with Yggdrasil, MP, INT, and WIS increase by an additional +100%.

Enhances Maximum Satiation by +500

[You gained +450 Satiation!]

[Satiation]: [450/450] -> [900/900]

What the hell! This Skill is insane! It was amazing! I can't believe how great it is!

Even more, the Satiation boost, it just gave me a whole 450 Satiation out of nowhere?!

Usually you start with 100 Satiation, and it's a stat that can't increase by any normal ways. There's no equipment that increases it and you can't increase it by leveling or using stat points.

It can only increase through these special skills you can find, and more than often, usually people can only manage to increase it at most 200 or 300.

But I now have 900 Satiation, I have nine times the normal satiation of an average Player, which means I can do a lot, a lot more before even getting tired.

Ahh, I feel so refreshed now, like I just gained a lot of reserves of energy. I think it is because the maximum satiation I gained was refilled automatically.

With this new evolved Skill, I get a passive boost to my physical stats of 200% at all times. And if I stack that on top of the temporary buff I can cast, that would be +600% bonus.

I could confidently say I am no longer a "Frail" Dryad, even if I am made of wood, it'll take a while before they can tear me down!

Also the little additional effect of gaining magic-related stats when using Yggdrasil-related magic or fighting alongside plants and stuff is also pretty nice.

Overall, a very simple yet effective new Skill.

Talking about Skill Books, I still had three more to go. There was the [Skill Book: Basic Swordsmanship (B Grade)] and the [Skill Book: Paladin Techniques (A Grade)], and lastly the [Skill Book: Runic Inscription Arts (A Grade)].

It's not like I got a lot of Skill Slots left though, but I think I might be able to do something with the swordsmanship and paladin skill books.

Maybe, just maybe if I take them out and open them like this...

Ding!

[The [Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv5] Skill has reacted to the [Skill Book: Basic Swordsmanship (B Grade)] and [Skill Book: Paladin Techniques (A Grade)] Skill Books!]

[The Skill is capable of absorbing the Skill Books to gain additional Skill Experience, do you wish to absorb them into the Skill?]

[Yes] [No]

Oh, I guess that's pretty good. Having more swordsmanship techniques would be useless when I got the Heroic Legendary Sword Arts anyways, alright, let's do that instead!

FLASH!

The two books opened, their pages flickering, runes and letters glowing brightly from their pages as they flew towards me, fusing with the Heroic Legendary Sword Arts Skill, and making it stronger.

As the Skill Books disappeared into particles of light, the Skill I've been using all this time gained a lot of Skill Experience Points.

[Congratulations! The [Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv5] Skill has successfully absorbed the [Skill Book: Basic Swordsmanship (B Grade)] and the [Skill Book: Paladin Techniques (A Grade)] Skill Books!]

[The [Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv5] has gained 2 Levels and has inherited several new Techniques from the Skill Books themselves.]

Chapter 993: Skill Fusion

The Heroic Legendary Sword Arts Skill was upgraded, gaining two new levels. It didn't evolve or something yet, it had yet to reach max Level.

[Congratulations! The [Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv5] Skill has successfully absorbed the [Skill Book: Basic Swordsmanship (B Grade)] and the [Skill Book: Paladin Techniques (A Grade)] Skill Books!]

[The [Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv5] has gained 2 Levels and has inherited several new Techniques from the Skill Books themselves.]

[Heroic Legendary Sword Arts: Lv7]

A Unique Skill that every Hero that has slain a Demon King before had. It grants the ability to gain a Legendary, Divine, or Mythic Sword's Trust, easily becoming their wielders naturally. These mystical arts can bring forth the true strength of the Sword being wielded, and naturally allow the user to learn the intricacies of sword-wielding.

Additionally, grants the ability to unleash the power of the {Heroic Sword Aura}, which while wielding a Sword, increases All Stats by +210%, Damage Dealt Increase by +95%, and Damage Taken Decreases by -75% for 35 Minutes. Can be Activated Thrice a Day.

New Arts will be unlocked with each Skill Level. This Skill cannot Level Up through Skill Points and will only gain Skill Proficiency through repeated usage of swords and sword arts.

Available Sword Arts:

Level 1: [Divine Sword Slash] [Heroic Parry] [Exorcizing Holy Blade]

Level 2: [Heroic Swordsmanship's Footwork] [Holy Ascent] [Paladin's Reinforcement]

Level 3: [Demon Killing Blade] [Celestial Slash] [Armor of Holy Light]

Level 4: [Holy Blade Dance] [Consecutive Dashing Strikes] [Howl of the Mighty]

Level 5: [Strong Holy Blow] [Divine Execution]

Level 6: [Star Fall] [Light Arrows]

Level 7: [Holy Pinnacle] [Divine Spear]

However, it gained a lot. Its basic buff became even better, with a boost to all stats, damage, and damage reduction. And the new techniques all looked even stronger than the previous ones. Star Fall, Light Arrows, Holy Pinnacle, Divine Spear. They had rather simple names, but they probably held a lot of power. I'll be using them pretty soon.

Lastly, the new techniques inherited from the skill books themselves were Paladin's Reinforcement, Armor of Holy Light, and Howl of the Mighty. I think the first one is a boost to physical strength, the second an armor of light to protect from some magic and physical damage, and then last one is an "aggro" skill, which brings the attention of foes towards myself.

Overall, they all got their uses, so I am satisfied with that!

Now, onto the last thing I need to do before we get there, the Skill Fusion itself. I've already thought about which Skills I'll be fusing.

Aside from the Divine Beast Skills, I'll pick two other Skills I have, and see what I get. It can't be worse than their original counterparts, at the very least.

So let's do it!

I entered the Skill Forge and quickly placed all the Skills I wanted to combine together. They floated like spheres of essence and power. The rainbow flames of the skill forge burned them, as I smashed them together with the hammer, also available in that strange pocket dimension.

CLANK! CLANK! CLANK!

FLUOSH!

CLANK! CLANK!

FLUOSH!

CLANK!

As always, it was all about doing the rhythm game properly. After having done it more than a couple of times, I've grown accustomed to the movements and also all the patterns. The skills came together beautifully, becoming a much larger sphere that shone with green, gold, blue, yellow, and red color.

FLAAASH!

Ding!

[You have exchanged 300 Skill Points.]

[Congratulations! You have successfully combined the Skills: [Draconification: Lv4] [Divine Lightning Horn: Lv100/100 (Divine Beast Skill)] [Black Vines of Steel: Lv100/100 (Divine Beast Skill)], and [Freezing Touch: Lv-- (Divine Dish Skill)]!]

[You have created the Fusion Skill: [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen Of The Three Colored Crown Transformation: Lv1/40 (Fused Skill)]!]

[Super Success!]

[The Fused Skill has gained a Bonus of 15 Levels!]

Yeah, I merged those Skills together.

And the resulting Skill's name was, as I expected, rather crazy.

However, I kept myself calm as I looked at the Skill's lengthy description.

First of all though, it seems it didn't count as a Divine Beast Skill anymore, unfortunately.

Or fortunately? We'll have to see.

[Heavenly Yggdragon Queen Of The Three Colored Crown Transformation: Lv15/40 (Fused Skill)]

A Fusion Skill made by the combination of the [Draconification], [Divine Lightning Horn (Divine Beast Skill)], [Black Vines of Steel (Divine Beast Skill)], and [Freezing Touch (Divine Dish Skill)] Skills.

You have reached a deeper understanding and manipulation of your powers as the Yggdragon. Through the combination of your abilities and magic powers, channel the draconic might within it to partially transform your body into one of the many forms the Yggdragon could take, become the Queen of the Three Colored Crown. When transformed, Mana and Spiritual Energy is drained constantly.

Channel your powers and transform, your body and shape will take upon the appearance of the Queen of the Three Colored Crown, giving you access to the Abilities: [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Scale Armor], [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Divine Claws], [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Holy Spear Tail], [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Mystical Eyes], [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Thunder Horns] and [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Vines Of Orichalcum].

Once you undergo transformation, All Stats, Physical Attack Power, and Magic Attack Power, increase by +600%. Your Physical and Magical Defense will also increase based on 950% of your VIT Stat. And the power of your {Divine Heavenly Yggdragon Queen's Three Colored Flames} will grow in power by +1000%.

When you transform, a crown made of the crystallization of your magic, spirit, and divine powers will materialize above your head. You can freely switch the crown's color from Green, Blue, and Yellow, each color possessing their own special effects and abilities.

{Green Crown Of Nature}: Summon the Wrath of Nature at will, controlling Divine Yggdrasil Spears, Divine Stone Fists, and Divine Leaf Blades to deal close and long-distance damage to your foes, dealing Damage equal to 900% of your WIS Stat. You can drain 30% of the damage dealt as HP.

{Yellow Crown of Thunder}: Unleash Lightning Bolt Attacks from a long distance to your foes, dealing Damage equal to 900% of your INT Stat. These Lightning Bolt Attacks can ignore 60% of the foe's Elemental Defenses and Magical Defenses, and pierce through Physical Armor.

{Blue Crown of Frost}: Channel the Coldness of Frost, summoning Winter Dragon's Storm, Skadi's Frost Hammer, and Frozen Claws of Niflheim to deal close and long-distance damage to your foes, dealing Damage equal to 900% of your STR Stat. You can drain 10% of the damage dealt as MP.

It is also possible to combine all colors together into a single and powerful effect by spending a large quantity of Mana and Spirit Energy, which will further amplify all combined effects by +650% for 25 Minutes. Cooldown: 10 Hours.

Additionally, new Draconic Techniques will be unlocked every 10 Levels.

Level 10: [Divine Three-Colored Orichalcum Scales] [Heavenly Yggdragon's Almighty Divine Aura]
[Explosive Elemental Claws] [Fierce Draconic Eyes Of Magic Disruption]

Level 20: ???

Oh, this is incredible.

And it retains all the effects of the previous Skills, but combined into something even greater, even better.

And the best is that its energy cost is still rather low compared to everything else, just like Draconification was!

I've gotten myself a new "base form", it seems.

And just in time, as we were already reaching our destination.

The Last Scenario was about to begin.

Chapter 994: Entering The Fourth And Last Scenario

We were flying above the skies, as we finally arrived where we were going to this entire time. The necklace of Yggdrasil shone brightly as it channeled her powers again. I started to get ready to expand my domain and terrain the moment we went down so we could land properly without getting swallowed by the endless miasmic tentacles patrolling everywhere.

"Is that...?!" Rita wondered.

"A-A hole... in the ground?" Lily asked.

Indeed, the thing we saw once we arrived was nothing but a tremendously deep, black hole in the continent's crust. It was tremendously deep though, as we couldn't even detect what was below it.

Surrounding this hole of several kilometers, there were several black and red altars made of the black, red, and purple crystals, most likely Demonite, the demonic ore created from miasma, nether, and demonic energy crystalized together.

There were cultists, many of them. At least over a hundred of them all gathered around the hole. The altars were shining brightly, releasing their malefic energies and connecting with one another, creating some sort of magic circle, and not a normal one, a demonic one.

A pentagram, it showed several demonic runes within itself, and it was slowly spinning. Demonic energies rushed down into the hole, beginning to slowly make the entire continent tremble.

The presence of something was being summoned from the depths of the world.

"Is this hole... Does it lead to hell or something?!" Asked Brisingra.

"I-It might be that..." Nodded Mercedes. "It isn't as if its rare to find special areas, places that connect to different Realms or Planes. Hell is certainly a plane that shouldn't exist beneath our ground so simply. But it might be possible to access to it through a hole like this, if it's connected to them."

"Then what do we do? We go?" Johanna asked, cracking her knuckles. "Let's get this done with already, Planta!"

"Yeah mom!" Elena said. "Let's stop them from summoning whatever the hell they're doing."

Elena became much more open and slightly different inside of BNLO than outside, like her whole personality became braver and more valiant.

"We are ready at any moment!" Roared General Crimson roared, he had come all the way here with his troops. They were willing to sacrifice themselves to be of some help on protecting the future of Cloudia. "Lady Planta, give the signal and my men will give their lives for you and to protect Cloudia from evil!"

I looked at everyone else, they were all ready. Their skills were being activated and so their magic spells. Everyone was overflowing with their own magical auras, their stats rising, preparing for the imminent battle.

The cultists were soon going to find out we were above. In fact, it was surprising they hadn't realized our presence within these few seconds we've arrived over here.

So let's use the element of surprise for our advantage.

"Alright, let's do this! Everyone, behind me!"

As I roared, I leaped down from the skies above. Everyone quickly rushed down with me, separated by only a few dozens of meters. Nobody panicked when I jumped off, they knew the extent of my abilities anyways.

And then it appeared...

Ding!

[All requirements have been met! You have triggered the last scenario of the Divine Dungeon.]

[Scenario 4/4 has begun: {Defeat the two Divine Beasts guarding the Ancient Ruins and Escape with Mercedes!}]

[This is it. You've reached the end of the road. The last battle, where everything will be decided. You against over two hundred cultists, the entire continent of the Demon King, and whatever they're trying to summon.]

[Stop the summoning and change the future, save Cloudia and the rest of the world. These are the fragments of regret of the dead gods. Their last wish, their last will.]

[Please, save the past!]

[Scenario Requirements]: [Defeat the Cultists: 0/227] [Stop the Summoning: 0/1] [Protect Mercedes]

[Failure Conditions]: [Cloudia is Destroyed: 0/1] [Mercedes Dies: 0/1]

Not only do we have to fight against everything and stop the summoning, but we also need to protect Mercedes life. She's the last remaining "researcher" and probably holds the key on stopping the summoning altogether.

This is it!

"Let's do this. Great Spirit, Yggdrasil, Titania, Verdant! Please, give me your power!"

FLAAASH!

I channeled the power of all four of these deities, their divine power rushing across my body. I heard their voices cheering for me as my body transformed. I immediately activated my newest Fusion Skill.

"Let's get this done with, partner!" The Great Spirit said.

"I'll give you all the strength I have, Planta! Please, save this past, even if it's a recreation, even if it might be fake...!" Titania cried.

"You have my strength, child of the future." Yggdrasil spoke.

"I've heard your voice, Planta. Whatever you're doing, I'll grant you my Realm's power." Verdant answered my call as well.

My body transformed, as I gained draconic features while remaining mostly humanoid. My size grew up to ten meters, my body gained even stronger muscles, covered now with a metallic armor of scales of blue, yellow, green, and red color. I gained two more pairs of arms, each hand with sharp, metallic and colorful claws.

Giant wings spread out of my back, my tail grew longer and thicker, with a sharp spear-like tip. I gained a second pair of rainbow-colored eyes above my forehead. My horns grew longer and moved upwards, resembling spikes.

And a halo-like crown made of my crystalized powers appeared above my head, shining brightly with three different colors, which interchanged constantly.

At the same time, I opened the portal to my Field Dimension, a hundred Spirits surged from within, fusing with my Gaia's All-Purpose-Tool as I transformed the weapon into a giant golden shovel with many rainbow-colored crystals embedded into it.

It shone with divine spiritual radiance, and it was over fifty meters big, larger than my own body, yet I could control it with a mere thought using my Telekinesis.

The cultists noticed what was coming too late, their minds too concentrated on their incantation.

"W-What is that?!"

A gigantic shovel descended from the skies, slamming down and destroying three out of ten altars in a matter of seconds, the entire ground was turned upside down by the massive shovel, as an explosion of spiritual energies followed.

BOOOMMM!!!

Chapter 995: The War To Save The Past Has Begun

I attacked with everything I had. The shovel I created quickly descended into the realm, clashing against the triple-layered barrier they had set up in advance and destroying it in an instant.

BOOOMMM!!!

What followed was a huge explosion of rainbow lights as the ground itself was lifted up through the shovel's sheer might. Thanks to all the buffs I received, that enhanced my stats by several times over, I was able to easily lift the entire gigantic shovel with ease.

The light spread through the battlefield, at least taking down a few dozen of the cultists that were unable to defend or escape in time. The ground I lifted buried them and then the explosions of spiritual light and flames burned them, making sure they couldn't come back.

"W-What...?!"

"We're being attacked!"

"A giant... shovel?!"

"What's the meaning of this!"

The cultists ranged from divine dragons, ancient elves, majin, and inhabitants of the eastern continent that came all the way here, most of them resembled beast people. Perhaps that's where the beast people originated from.

The rest of my party already appeared from the skies. Their magic attacks immediately descending upon the cultists, rains of elemental attacks began to bombard everything. The altars, one after another started to gain cracks, two more fell after just a couple of seconds.

[You have activated the [Divine Draconic Spirit Harvest Field] Skill! 100 Tiles have automatically been taken over!]

[The Skills [Yggdrasil's Spiritual Farm Terrain Authority], [Yggdragon's Nature Spirit Gardener], and many others have activated their effects, further synergizing with it! The Tiles you're taking over are rapidly spreading and multiplying.]

[You have created 323 [Divine Spiritual Forest Terrain] Tiles!]

[You have created 116 [Divine Yggdrasil's Spirit Farm Terrain] Tiles!]

[You have created 201 [Divine Yggdrasil's Spirit Farm Terrain] Tiles!]

I didn't waste my time either, expanding my Domains, Terrains, and Fields all at once. I started summoning seeds and combining them together. As a wave of green and spiritual essence washed over the dark miasmic swamps of the demon king continent and took over it all, dozens of Draconic Beasts were being created.

Ding!

[You have fused 100 Spirit Dragon Seeds!]

[You have summoned the [Divine Elemental Spiritual Draconic Beast: Holy Light Hydra]!]

[You have fused 100 Spirit Dragon Seeds!]

[You have summoned the [Divine Elemental Spiritual Draconic Beast: Heaven's Serpent]!]

[You have fused 100 Spirit Dragon Seeds!]

[You have summoned the [Divine Elemental Spiritual Draconic Beast: Holy Wind's Wyvern King]!]

[You have fused 100 Spirit Dragon Seeds!]

[You have summoned the [Divine Elemental Spiritual Draconic Beast: Light Dragon]!]

[You have fused 100 Spirit Dragon Seeds!]

[...]

Dozens after dozens of Draconic Beasts materialized out of thin air, their summoning time lasting a while. And each one was very strong, their stats based on 50% of my own stats and an additional +1% with each Tile taken over past the starting 100.

So, yeah, their stats were grossly high, just like mine.

"ROOOAAARR!"

The giant Light Dragon stepped forwards, being of over forty meters, it simply landed over the cultists and started massacring everything with its gigantic claws, while releasing beams from its mouth, its own dragon breath, coming out as beams of pure white and golden light.

The other dragons followed it, as it seemed to be the strongest. Bombarding and blasting everything with their light elemental attacks. I had just realized how overpowered I've become once more.

"Familiars, don't slack off either, everyone attack!"

I commanded all my Familiars, who rushed into battle by my side. However, the benefit of surprising them was completely gone by now. The cultists having already used their techniques, spells, abilities, relics, and powers, starting to fight back.

"How dare you destroy the altars, you bastards!"

"Don't let them destroy the rest!"

"Quickly, transform!"

The cultists started stabbing themselves on their chest with cursed, black colored knives, as they injected themselves with the Demonic Souls of Demons, their bodies instantly mutating and transforming into demonic monstrosities, all of them between Level 320 to Level 360!

And there were over 150 of them!

It was like fighting with the bosses we've been fighting so far, but over a hundred. I can tell this dungeon was even harder than it was stipulated previously!

"They're using the same knives that Cecilia used to turn her brother into a Demonic Beast...!" Brisingra cried.

"Indeed..." Mercedes sighed.

Mother and daughter were right behind me, fighting against a wave of Miasmic Monsters the cultists summoned from the deep hole itself. The wave was enormous, composed of over three hundred Level 250 and above Miasmic Monsters.

Their shapes and forms were nonsensical and without a true form, and they could easily shapeshift and turn into different forms and shapes. My Draconic Beasts were taking care of them as I produced more and more, but their numbers kept increasing.

Naturally, a lot of them slipped past my Familiars and Summons, so those that weren't as powerful and stayed behind me started taking care of that.

Brisingra and her mother weren't weak per say, but one of the objectives is to not let Mercedes die, so we'll have to keep her well protected.

"You filthy god fanatics, get away from our precious home!"

A trio of Demonic Cultists leaped towards me. All of them Level 330. Their bodies varied in shape and form, there was not a single one of them that looked different at all. They were strong, but it's not like I was weak myself either.

"DIE!"

The first one lunged its entire thirty-meter-tall body towards me. Its body resembling a chimeric fusion between a werewolf, a black divine dragon, and a squid. It attempted to slam me down with its entire body.

A terrible choice.

"You think I can't lift the shovel when it's down?"

I quickly grabbed the whole shovel and lifted it up within a split second. His eyes widened as the titanic weapon slammed his entire body into the ground, his entire body splattering into the floor into pieces.

"Uaarrggh!"

CRAAASH!

As it slowly began to attempt to regenerate its body, I turned my crown into the yellow color and zapped it into ashes with a powerful rain of lightning bolts.

BOOOM!

At the same time, the other two cultists reached my left and right.

"BASTARD!"

"WE'LL KILL YOU!"

However, their bodies slowed down as they began to freeze.

My crown changed into the color blue.

Chapter 996: Against Hundreds Of Cultists

After crushing the cultist that rushed towards me directly, it slowly began to attempt to regenerate its body even as it was splattered over the floor.

I've grown rather used to this ruthlessness, I used to be much softer now. But to protect those I love; I can't allow myself to be soft.

I turned my crown into the yellow color and zapped the demonic cultist into ashes with a powerful rain of lightning bolts, before it could fully regenerate and bring even more trouble.

BOOOM!

At the same time, the other two cultists reached my left and right. Their furious roars reverberating loudly. They were clearly very angry I killed one of them so quickly. I don't know if they felt bad for them, but just angry in general.

"BASTARD!"

"WE'LL KILL YOU!"

However, their bodies slowed down as they began to freeze. The left one, with a body completely covered by a thin armor of black and purple crystals, with six sharp arms and legs, looked at me in disbelief. It was the same for the one at the right, looking like a huge black lion beast man of over twenty meters, with bulging muscles and sharp Demonite spikes growing over his body.

"W-What happened?!"

"I can't move- ARGH!"

My crown changed into the color blue. I activated its freezing powers, quickly stopping them from getting closer to me. An Aura of Spiritual Ice Energy constantly rushing out of my body. My scales shone brightly as they reflected the light of the sun, as they saw countless vines surge from my body, made of golden orichalcum.

As my vines were about to trap them, the two managed to break through the frost covering their bodies, their giant arms and claws reaching me. Only for them to be swiped away by a large mass of these golden, metallic vines.

CLAAASH!

"Ugh?!"

"Argh!"

They weren't normal vines either. They were not just an inherited skill from Loki anymore. They had evolved once the skill was fused together with others, becoming an extension of my body more than ever before.

The moment they were struck by the whips made out of amassed vines, their bodies started to slowly freeze, while holy golden, blue, and green flames started spreading across the ice formed over their bodies.

"M-My demonic powers...! They're weakening! What happened?!"

"This ice... It is producing flames too?!"

I didn't have any time to waste with them, my crown changing into its green color, as it instantly conjured a dozen projectiles of wood and nature, piercing their bodies constantly, and then detonating into more golden and green flames of Nature and Life, the Yggdragon's strongest fire.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

"Gruuuagghh!"

"Aaarrgghh!"

Their bodies started exploding into pieces. As they attempted to regenerate and fight back. Black, Demonic, and Nether Magic conjured against me, which Brisingra easily blocked with her barriers.

"You've already outlived your life expectancy, begone."

With a voice filled with authority, I sentenced them to their demises. My crown changed to yellow color, as I charged it with Mana, releasing a rain of lightning bolts that quickly vaporized them.

Zap... ZAP!

BOOOM!

After taking care of three of them in less than one minute, I looked in front, the incoming army of Miasmatic Monsters was rising in numbers. There were now Demonic Monsters and Undead Monsters appearing as well.

They were going all out. I noticed several cultists conjuring their magic, channeling it with the Avatars. The coming of these monsters wasn't just because they were desperate. No, it was the beginning of their actual summoning.

We had to hurry.

"So? Who's next?"

I glared down at the cultists, their monstrous bodies still shocked after seeing three of their members killed without much effort at all.

"How is she so strong?!"

"What... What is she?!"

"Is she an Avatar of a God?"

"No, that wouldn't make sense either! They're not that strong as to fight three of us at the same time!"

"Shit, she's coming!"

As they panicked, I grew closer. My army of Spirit Draconic Beasts clashed against them and their summoned Monsters. I lifted the gigantic shovel and then started striking their armies constantly, like a weapon from the skies, judgement descended.

BAAM! BAAM! BAAM!

Hundreds of Monsters died on the spot, with more coming right after them. They were seriously never-ending. And my shovel wasn't going to last forever either, the spirits that composed it were already slowly fading away.

"Attack the weapon, it is slowly weakening down!"

"Hit that shovel with everything you have!"

"Stop her!"

A dozen Demonic Cultists jumped on me, attacking both me and the shovel. Their attacks slowly started to spread cracks across the shovel. I quickly decided to let them distract themselves with that, while I started growing my body.

From ten meters I quickly went to thirty, as I gained more "muscle mass" and stronger armored defenses. I wielded Gram with one of my many arms, and the rest wielded weapons I created on the spot, combining Yggdrasil wood with my own scales and dragon and elemental spirits together.

Swords, spears, axes, hammers, and gauntlets, I received the incoming demonic cultists, each one Level 320 with an endless barrage of explosive attacks.

Piercing blows, hacking slashes, whopping chops, crushing blows, and slashing attacks pierced through their armors and scales, as I kicked, bit, and tore through their numbers with sheer might.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

BAAAM!

"Uuaaggh!"

"S-She's too strong!"

"How come we can't even hurt her?!"

"If you distract yourself panicking, you won't even survive a minute against me!" I roared, extending my long tail and piercing the head of one of them, an ancient elf that had suddenly become an Arachne-like monstrosity.

"Aaarrggh!"

His head exploded into pieces, as my attack released an hyper charged lightning attack after loading my body with the thunder of my yellow crown.

BOOOM!

"Who's next?!"

As I roared, I kept moving forwards. I looked around my surroundings while crushing the monstrosities approaching, noticing my party assembled into two large groups.

The first one was being led by my daughter, composed of her own party and Angelina's party. The second party was led by Mark and was composed of all my friends and the NPC we brought along.

Slowly yet steadily, we started pushing the Monster and the Cultists to the edge of the pit.

RUMBLE!

However, something was already beginning to manifest.

Chapter 997: Don't Stop Fighting

Our entire army continued moving relentlessly. The Cultists, even with their near endless amount of Miasmatic, Undead, and Demonic Monsters, were barely holding on. Their eyes widening as they saw their own members being massacred by our strongest members, while the rest, right behind them, ganged on the other cultists until their health points were reduced to zero.

Our advance was relentless, in less than five minutes, half the cultists were gone.

I kept moving forwards, my entire body overflowing with the many auras, buffs, and skill effects I could activate at once. My Spirit Draconic Beasts charged and attacked. Whenever one died, two more occupied their place.

The expanding domain and terrain created a powerful synergy, Mana and Spiritual Energy constantly cycling across all of us, both buffing our stats through the effects of my other Skills and replenishing our energies rapidly.

My Mana and Spirit Energy were constantly being emptied as I summoned more of these dragons, requiring a hundred seeds each, it wasn't cheap at all. But thanks to the effects of my Skills, my Mana came back rapidly. Even more when I was using my Blue Crown to conjure its Ice Spells and recover 10% of the damage dealt as MP!

"There she is! She can't be so strong after fighting so much!"

"Kill her, quickly!"

"Absorb the Demonite Crystals!"

A group of dozen more Cultists attacked me the moment they saw me approaching their Altar. We've already destroyed half of them, and we had to hurry. The "presence" I felt just before was slowly becoming more and more "physical", a looming shadow slowly started to form above the pit.

I saw them grab large fragments of Demonite, super concentrated with all the three evil elements together, and swallowing them. Their already monstrous bodies became ten times as large, but their minds... it seemed they lost their sense of self.

"RAAAARRRGH!"

The dozen cultists roared monstrosly, rushing towards me. Their bodies growing countless tentacles as they started piercing the bodies of the monsters summoned by the pit, absorbing them to gain even more power.

"To think you would go so far for the Demon Kings..." I sighed, as I started moving faster and faster, clashing against them. "I've seen his memories, and I also pity him, but I simply can't let him just lay waste over the entire world because of that!"

"GRUUOOHHH!"

Three of them reached me, their bodies so disfigured there was little to distinct them from one another anymore. Each one of them resembling masses of sharp crystal spikes, black and red tentacles, and eyes across their bodies.

They opened their jaws, gathering energies and firing three beams of demonic energy against me. This energy was powerful enough to easily melt my own body and make it wither, and it could even hurt the soul itself.

Although I had a lot of stats and defensive power, I decided to not just take that head on. Transforming all my weapons into swords, including the shovel that had already broken and gone back to its original form, I unleashed a barrage of Heroic Legendary Sword Arts, blocking their beams.

"{Divine Sword Slash}!"

SLAAASH!

A single slash of light was unleashed from all six of my swords, a tremendous wave impacted one of the beams, destroying it and then reaching the cultist behind, slicing it into countless pieces.

"{Holy Ascent}!"

I swung the swords upwards afterwards, deflecting both beams coming from my left and right. The ascending blow unleashed a wave of holy light, which hit the origin of both beams, throwing them away.

BOOOM!

While energizing my body with my Lightning to move faster and channeling a powerful Veil of Divine Wind made of Wind Spirits for even more speed, I appeared above the cultist to the left, my swords looming from above.

"{Consecutive Dashing Strikes}!"

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

A barrage of a dozen strikes struck down the cultist's monstrous body. Each piercing attack leaving a hole through its flesh, golden flames spread through its body, as it exploded into pieces, vaporized completely.

"The next one!"

I quickly rushed towards the third, who was rushing towards Brisingra. The girl conjured her layered barriers, resisting the incessant blows from the cultist. Her mother behind her used her time magic to slow him down.

"Sorry for being late!"

As I appeared behind the cultist, the monster quickly shifted its entire body towards me. A dozen tentacles attacked me. Hitting my multi-layered scale armor constantly. A few cracks appeared through it, but it was unable to pierce through them.

"{Strong Holy Blow}!"

My swords shone with divine light, with all six of them, I hit the monster's head directly, the combined power of all weapons together resembled a huge golden hammer smashing it down, coming from the heavens themselves.

BAAAM!

The monster's entire body was flattened into the ground, blood and innards splattering out. The holy light burned its flesh, stopping it from regenerating.

"Amazing! You're so cool, Lady Planta!" Brisingra was cheering for me.

"Brisingra, keep your mother well protected! And everyone else around here if you can!" I told her, before leaping the empty air and reaching the skies.

Using my wings, I flew towards the Altar, the other cultists were attacked by all my Spirit Draconic Beasts and Mark and my friends. Mark was making sure they didn't move an inch, his giant, metallic body easily crushed and burned through them.

He was already a deadly fighter, but now that he could both become made of metal, and also covered in flames, he became an almost invincible sentinel.

His enormous, blazing sword cut through them, and his foot and fists crushed anybody fool enough to get closer..

"RAAAH!"

CRASH!

With a sharp kick, I shattered the Altar in front of me into pieces. With only four left, the summoning began to destabilize. The shadow looming above us was becoming weaker and unable to properly form itself.

"Keep going! We can do this, everyone! Keep fighting!"

As I roared, my Domain and Terrain extended even further. More and more spirits appeared, buffing everyone's bodies, armor, and weapons with holy light spirits.

The cultists were being pushed more and more.

We can do this!

RUMBLE!

Yet...

"RAAAHHH!!!"

The furious roar of the Demon King reverberated across the entire landscape.

His looming shadow started to move, covered on black, crimson and blue flames.

Chapter 998: Elena's Might

"Hurry, we have to quickly destroy the altars!"

As Elayne said, the altar she attacked crumbled down into pieces. Everyone else kept charging forwards. The Cultists panicked as the Altars were being destroyed.

The looming shadow above them, which had been growing weaker, was now growing restless. Both the cultists and Elayne's party could feel it.

The monstrous being within the depths of the world was trying to manifest himself. Demonic Flames, Miasmic Flames, and Phantasmal Flames all emerged from the pit.

The looming shadow slowly began to take upon a partially formed appearance, it was already trying to manifest itself, even if weakened!

"OOOHHHH!"

As it groaned in a furious and monstrous, primal rage, the ground kept trembling. The flames spread everywhere, as the ground kept shaking rapidly. The monster was trying to manifest itself!

An enormous, over three-hundred-meter large hand made of flames slowly descended towards Elayne and her party. She detected the being was still ethereal, but it was rapidly manifesting itself.

"Dammit!"

Elayne gathered her energies, as she combined her spiritual powers and magic together, forming a gigantic blade of light out of her Celestial Energy and her own barrier, which she shaped in such a form through the Divine Protection of Titania's special effect.

CLAAASH!

The blade resisted the enormous hand, as she gritted her teeth, quickly beginning to push forwards. The two titans were holding against one another!

However, Elayne quickly realized something.

"I can't kill it?!"

Despite her sword dealing tremendous damage, the flames never ended coming. What she was fighting was merely a part of his power, not even his soul nor his body.

"Everyone, destroy the altars, before it is too late! Quickly!"

As she commanded, everyone started moving even faster. Her Domain and Terrain continued expanding rapidly as Elayne kept using her energies endlessly. Even her Ki, which she had been cultivating over time, was now flowing across her body faster than before.

Elena led her party, slashing the Cultists with her double katana techniques. Slashing waves of void and darkness came from her blades, cutting through her foes one after another.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

"These bastards...! Move away already!"

"Stop her at all costs!"

"She's the strongest, kill her!"

"Not a single step!"

Five cultists rushed in front of her, their bodies mutating as they absorbed large quantities of Demonite, attacking Elena with a myriad of attacks. Her giant Susanoo Manifestation Aura clashed against them and protected her from most of their basic attacks.

But because they were so huge, and five at that, she was having difficulties breaking through. And time was tickling! Her mother was fighting an unfathomable being all on her own, and those damned Altars were the only way to stop it.

"Bastards, why don't you mess with someone your size?!"

"Fire at will!"

Suddenly, the voices of two of Elena's friends echoed from above, as they finally caught up with her. Elisa and Anna appeared. Anna's summons unleashed their attacks, a gigantic phoenix unleashed a bombardment of explosive flame attacks. A massive green wolf released a storm of emerald winds. And a gigantic stone golem descended, smashing the head of one of the apostles.

At the same time, Elisa transformed. Channeling her draconic powers to her fullest extent, she unleashed her newest Fusion Skill, becoming a thirty-meter-big golden dragon, rushing down and using her sheer physical might to push down two more cultists.

"Now!"

"Go!"

As they roared, Elena smiled. Boosting her strength and agility using her skills and auras, she pushed through the swarm of monsters in between the cultists, swinging her two katanas against the incoming arms the other cultists that were not affected sent at her.

However...

"MOVE!"

With a furious roar, she activated her Magic Circle Spell {Blue Oni's Wrath}, suddenly gaining a further boost to all her physical strength even with her already powerful Avatar.

Then, she activated {Lesser Sword Ki Aura}, and unleashed her powerful Phantasmal Aura, now transformed into a dozen giant and sharp swords.

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

As she did that, she spun in midair, cutting through the arms of the cultists and shredding them into pieces. Next, her own katanas released waves of phantasmal and darkness energies.

"{Soul Eating Blade}"

The Darkness and Phantom Auras transformed into aberrant and furious oni, opening their giant jaws and beginning to bite and gnaw at the cultists, digging through their flesh and beginning to devour their souls.

"Uuaaggh!"

"Graarrgh!"

While screaming in agony and having their souls slowly eaten, Elena reached the Altar at long last, her body quickly gaining a set of red tattoos across her body resembling flames. This was yet another of her spells, {Red Oni's Physical Enhancement Red Tattoos}. All her skills were already activated anyways, yet she needed even more power than that!

"{Abyssal Void Blade Fourth Form}: {Thousand-fold Void Blade}!"

SLASH! SLASH! SLASH! SLASH!

Elena's two katanas unleashed just two attacks, yet once they hit the barriers of the Altar, the barrier and the altar were all cut a thousand times in a split second, exploding into pieces of stone and collapsing completely.

RUMBLE!

The Demon King's manifestation started growing weaker, yet his blazing rage only became grander! His giant hand was finally cut through by Elayne's enormous golden sword, an explosion of light reaching the giant of flames.

BOOOM!

For a moment, everyone saw how it was now missing half of its body... Only for the flames to quickly take over and regenerate the wounds instantly. Nobody saw an HP Bar either, this thing wasn't alive or anything, it was simple a mass of pure power.

"RAAAAH!"

With a furious roar, it grew several more hands, which started aimlessly hitting the ground surrounding the pit, setting everything ablaze. Elayne's Domain and Terrain were slowly being eaten away, only for the powers of the Great Spirit, Yggdrasil, and Titania to boost her strength enough to fight back.

"Our lord's wrath knows no bounds!"

"You will be punished for the terrible sins you've dared commit against him!"

"He had been wronged by the gods, betrayed! And he will have his revenge!"

The cultists kept screaming delusional words, clashing against Elayne's party.

With three more altars to go, things were only getting more desperate.

Chapter 999: Confronting The Demon King Of The End's Shadow

"{Divine Yggdryad Avatar}!"

Elayne activated her Heart of the Forest's Abilities, creating her Avatars once more. This time she created all four of them at once, with her evolved Skill [Myriad Minds], she was not only able to easily control them, but she spread them across the entire battlefield to stop the Demon King's manifestation.

Each of her Avatars quickly absorbed their surroundings Nature, Spirits, and more, becoming giant Dragons of their own. Each one with their own colors and supplementary elements. But all of them possessing Nature, Life, and Light as their main elements.

At the same time, Elayne transformed, seeing how her Domain was being burned, even after spreading her Avatars, she knew it wouldn't be enough.

She needed the effects of her special form!

"You guys are ready?" She asked.

"We're on!"

"Let's do this!"

"I think I've rested enough."

"Yeah."

The Divine Dragon Spirits, belonging to the Souls of the powerful Dragon Kings she and her friends had defeated in the Dwarf Mountain roared in unison, their Spiritual Souls existing within her own Draconic Heart.

With them and the power of the Dragon Spirits and Elemental Spirits she constantly summoned, Elayne transformed, absorbing them and activating Spells from her Magic Circle to further supplement her form.

FLAAASH!

Even the Demon King was surprised, his giant blazing eyes shocked to see the enormous new form that appeared. Although he had been roaring and groaning this entire time, he grew oddly calm the moment Elayne transformed.

Ding!

[You have activated several skills, spells, and abilities and combined them together alongside Hundreds of Dragon Spirits, Holy Light Spirits, and your contracted Divine Dragon Spirits!]

[Because of the effect of your current transformation using the [Heavenly Yggdragon Queen Of The Three Colored Crown Transformation] Skill, further improving your transformation.]

[You have temporarily transformed into the {Heavenly Three-Headed Holy Yggdragon Goddess Queen of the Five Colored Crown} form!]

[All your Stats have further increased by +700%, all of your Spirit and Dragon-type Skills and Spells Power has increased by +400%, your HP and MP Regeneration Speed has increased by +1200%, and you have gained the ability to activate the Divine Skills: {Holy Yggdragon Domain}, {Divine Dragon Spirit Army}, and {Celestial Draconic Weapon Creation}!]

[Duration: 15 Minutes.]

Her form was slightly different. She had gained both the appearance of this transformation and also of her recent fusion skill, all three of her draconic heads gaining a crown that showcased five different colors each.

It seemed that in this new combined form, the crowns had all colors at once, containing all of their elemental power ready to be used!

There weren't new Divine Skills, and they didn't upgrade either, but that didn't matter so much, the stats were even higher, and Elayne at her Level 180, was now matching a being that was much beyond that.

With her Main Body, she clashed against two hands at once, her body growing larger and larger and quickly surpassing three hundred meters, while the other Avatars remained at one hundred meters, only taking the form of her Heavenly Yggdragon Queen Of The Three Colored Crown Transformation] Skill.

CLAAASH!

The blazing arms started burning through her entire body, but her sheer combination and fusion of auras, skills, spells, and domain and terrain effects constantly healed her from the terrible damage.

"RAAAAARRH!"

With a mighty draconic roar, Elayne's draconic jaws opened wide, releasing three multi-colored beams against her foe at once. The explosions started to slowly make the Demon King's arms fall apart, taking a while to fully regenerate again.

"YOUUU...!"

And then it spoke. Elayne felt a monstrous demonic soul staring right into her own soul. It was the voice of the Demon King, and not just anybody. The one she had been speculating lived in the depths of hell.

The Demon King of the End!

"The Yggdragon...! IT'S YOU! I'LL KILL YOU!"

With a furious roar, as his arms slowly started to regenerate back, he opened his blazing maws, releasing a massive blast of demonic, phantasmal, and miasmic flames against Elayne's face.

BOOOM!

An attack like that easily pierced through most of her defenses, but Elayne remained almost completely unscathed. The Demon King's eyes widened.

What sort of trick was this?

How was she okay after taking his strongest attack in this form?!

And the answer was simple...

Ding!

[An Aura of {Holy Yggdragon's Domain} has spread everywhere, your Domain and Terrain has gained the {Immunity} status, becoming incapable of being destroyed as long as your transformation remains.]

[Duration: 15 Minutes.]

[The [Yggdragon's Nature Spirit Gardener] Skill has been activated, you have absorbed the Nature, Plants, and Earth of your Domain into your body to further make your abilities grow!]

[Because of having fused with your Terrain, you have gained the Status: {Partial Immunity: Decreases all Damage by 90%!}]

Although she couldn't take complete immunity like her Domain had acquired for these fifteen desperate minutes, she obtained a ninety percent of decreased damage.

That, coupled with her equipment almost made her increase it by 100%. However, it seemed utterly impossible for her to obtain 100% Damage Immunity, as the power of the Demon King could bypass a part of her defenses as well.

Therefore, although she could decrease his damage dealt, because he could also ignore a part of such defenses, they were constantly trying to see who could damage the other most and who could ignore more damage.

Naturally, this still made her incredibly tough, nonetheless!

"Damage Reduction?!" The Demon King of the End groaned. "Ridiculous! You are not invincible, you're nothing but a husk!"

With an angered and furious roar, the Demon King started attacking Elayne with a myriad punching attack, six giant blazing fists descending over her body constantly.

Elayne didn't stand there taking the damage, attacking back using her weapons, which now gained rainbow crystal composition thanks to another Divine Skill she was using.

Ding!

[You have activated the Divine Skill: {Celestial Draconic Weapon Creation}! Your Spirit and Yggdrasil Wood Weapons have temporarily transformed into {Divine Dragon Blades}, gaining +300% More Attack Power and Durability!]

[Duration: 14 Minutes.]

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

Countless explosions reverberated across the skies as the two titans clashed against one another.

However, who would come out on top?

Chapter 1000: Mark's Blazing Power

Mark saw Elayne's gigantic and majestic form clash against the manifesting Demon King of the End, his eyes widening as he saw his beloved fighting without end. Her powers were many, and she was immensely strong, yet against the Demon King of the End, it seemed like both were evenly matched, with the Demon King slowly beginning to overwhelm her again.

"I have to hurry!"

His body kept growing larger as he started combining with more and more Beast Totem Spirits. His wooden body slowly started to become completely black, gaining a metallic color as his biological composition changed entirely.

His appearance now resembling a combination of a blazing golem and a mecha. His giant, blazing phoenix wings spreading out over his back, completely made of this black metallic wood and covered on crimson spirit flames.

A dragon head-shaped helmet decorated his head, resembling more like the skull of a dragon made of the same black metallic wood that made the rest of his body.

This was Mark's strongest ability, his Divine Skill created from the fusion of three different Skills.

"Stop him!"

"Stop him at all costs!"

"F-Fuse! Use the Demonic Fusion Ritual... NOW!"

Suddenly, Mark's blazing rampage was interrupted as a five Cultists stopped his path. Their bodies flaring with demonic flames, and then melding together in an instant. The Demonic Souls possessing their bodies suddenly combining together.

"What...?!"

Mark stepped back in shock as the Demonic Beast Fusion emerged, a chimera of all five of the cultists combined together. With the heads of many beasts such as crows, lions, rhinos, elephants, goats, and reptiles, with tentacles, dozens of arms, and many eyes across their body.

"GRUOOHHH!"

The monster roared furiously, exuding an overwhelming demonic aura. It charged towards Mark, having matched his size of a hundred meters with ease, and swinging its enormous arms after covering them on metallic black scales and Demonite crystals.

BAAM! BAAM! BAAM!

Mark was slowly being pushed back, his enormous body erupting with flames as each blow slightly bended his metallic body. He grew furious, quickly stepping forwards instead. His second pair of arms quickly blocking some of the incoming blows, as he unleashed the power of his magic while preparing his sword to attack.

"Don't think I am just some defenseless giant!" He roared. "{Divine Blazing Spirit Totem Magic}: {Erupting Volcanic Draconic Stakes}!"

Suddenly the Totem Spirits carved through his body flared with spiritual energies and mana, combining into enormous blazing stakes in the form of giant dragons, emerging from the ground itself.

Mark was able to conjure his wood and fire magic before, but with this transformation, any wood magic he conjured became of this deep black metal instead.

Therefore, what would have been wooden stakes became giant metallic spears surging from the ground and from above.

CLASH! CLASH! CLASH!

"Uuaarrgh!"

The chimeric demonic beast agonized as the stakes pierced its body and burned its very interior. The flesh kept trying to regenerate back though, attacking Mark by growing dozens of long tentacles with metallic tips.

Mark blocked the blows with his mighty body, even as he was being slightly performed, it wasn't as much damage as he would take normally. He kicked the monster in the stomach and swiftly pushed it down with all his might.

And then he conjured even more magic.

"{Divine Blazing Spirit Totem Magic}: {Sealing Blazing Spirit Monoliths} {Totem Spirit's Multi-Elemental Chains}!"

Suddenly, his magic spread out through his own Blazing Domain, as the Totems grew out of the ground itself. Enormous metallic carved with beast-shaped forms. Their eyes flaring with bright red blazing flames, a large magic circle was conjured.

The Monoliths released waves of flames constantly, clashing against the chimeric aberration. At the same time, rainbow-colored chains surged, made up of many elements at once, encompassed of the spiritual energy of the spirits Elayne had been summoning and allowing him to control to supplement his magic.

FLAAASH!

The chains wrapped around the monster's entire body, sealing its movements and burning its body constantly, disintegrating anything demonic within it, which, well, was all of it!

"Uuaarrggh!"

As the monster groaned in agony, it started to conjure magic. Dozens after dozens of pentagrams were conjured, Mark swung his sword as he blocked the incoming beams of demonic light, explosions covering his entire body as he made his way towards the sealed creature.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

"You damn...!"

As he gritted his teeth, he quickly pushed his massive sword downwards. It was actually a rather small weapon, but through his powers, much like Elayne, he was able to combine it with the wood of his own body and his totem spirits, creating an utterly massive blade.

Now that he could turn his wood into metal, the blade became even more lethal, like a titanic, almost seventy-meter-big hunk of pure steel, it rushed down and pierced the monster's chest, Mark ran through the entire body until he sliced apart the over hundred-meter-tall demonic monstrosity, splitting it in half and then blowing both of its body parts, holy spiritual flames, which shone with golden light, consuming it entirely.

BOOOM!

"Thanks to Elayne's Holy Spirits and Holy Dragon Spirits, I was able to easily burn through even those demons that are so resistant to fire!" Mark thought, quickly rushing towards the altar.

Because Elayne had imbued into his body, armor, and weapon with her holy light spirits and holy dragon spirits, Mark was able to transform the secondary element of his fire, turning it into Holy Phoenix Flames and Holy Dragon Flames, making them even deadlier.

"RAAAH!"

With a mighty roar, he swung his sword again, this time against the Altar in front of him. The giant monolith of black stone tried to resist with a triple-layered barrier, but Mark kept pushing more and more, his titanic strength overcoming the barriers and then, cutting the altar apart with a single, powerful swing.

CRASH!

The massive monolith crumbled down into pieces, as Mark quickly greeted an incoming wave of a hundred Monsters from the pit with his holy flames, bombarding them.

Two more Altars to go.
