

Chapter 302 He Could Not Be Heartless

Elena lowered her head again.

She knew that Ryan would not be unfaithful in their relationship, but there seemed to be a knot in her heart which could not be untied no matter what.

Up until now, she did not think about these things, so she failed to feel anything.

But now that she thought about it, she seemed to be relied on Ryan way too much. Everything in her life was related to him, and he was involved in everything.

It did not seem to be too bad at first. But life is too unpredictable and she had experienced it many times before.

One day her parents were still around her, but as she opened her eyes the next day, her parents were gone. One day her grandfather loved her the most, but the next day he ruthlessly chased away from her home. One day she was still single, but the next day she married on behalf of her sister.

Just like that right now Ryan loved her and adored her, but if one day, he also wanted to leave her. . . What would she do?

Elena remained silent with countless question inside her head.

She did not want to admit but her heart was filled with unspeakable fear and anxiety.

Women are emotional beings by nature. They are motivated and activated by emotions. And she was no exception.

The more she thought about those things, the more terrifying her thoughts became. She simple could not stop her imaginations to run wild.

Seeing her silent, Spencer smiled knowingly and persuaded again, "Miss Elena, actually you already have an answer in your heart."

It was not a question but an affirmative answer.

Looking at her somewhat red and swollen face, Spencer’s pulled his corner of his lips and smiled bitterly.

He indeed had a good impression of Elena, and once wanted to win her heart. But he did not want to take advantage of her at this moment when she was weak and emotionally imbalanced.

Actually, he also could not understand why he took Ryan’s side today.

There was a crack in the relationship between Ryan and Elena. As a profiter he should have taken advantage of this situation to add fuel to the fire and make Ryan suffer more.

After all, he knew better than anyone how much Ryan loved Elena.

If he could use Elena against Ryan, it would be a fatal blow to Ryan.

This way, he could gain an upper hand.

But when he saw Elena being so sad and dejected, for some reason, he could not come up with his course of actions.

Because he also noticed Elena’s love for Ryan.

When a relationship breaks, it affects both parties. Not to mention, they had two small kids now.

Spencer indeed wanted to torment Ryan but he could not use Elena and their kids as a scapegoat in this process. He could not be that heartless.

"I . . ." Hearing Spencer’s words, Elena lowered her head. She said in a depressed manner, "I just don't know how to face Ryan and Amber."

Ryan was her husband. She could not pretend that nothing had happened.

“I can understand what you are worried about.” Spencer nodded his head and said, "Marriage is like the lake water. It cannot be peaceful forever. If you throw a stone, there will be layers of ripples, but after a while, it will be calm again. If you continue to hold onto this matter today, it will only make the misunderstanding between you and Ryan become bigger and bigger."

Marriage would not always go smoothly. A person's life would be very long, and there would always be many small episodes.

Elena did not know how to respond to Spencer's words.

Seeing that Elena was silent, Spencer opened his mouth again. "Ever since you and Ryan got married, did he have any intentions of cheating on you?"

Elena shook her head. From the moment they got married until now, Ryan had loved her and protected her thoroughly. He had never done anything out of line.

Spencer nodded again. “Have you ever thought with his power and scheming skills if he wanted to cheat on you, would you ever be able to find out?”

Even if Ryan was Elena’s husband, Spencer did not intend to use good words for Ryan. And he could not use any good words for Ryan either.

Elena shook her head. Spencer was right. With Ryan’s ability and power, if he really wanted to cheat of her, she might never know.

“Then have you ever felt Ryan is lying and deliberately hiding things from you?” Spencer asked again.

Elena shook her head again. Other than the matter of his leg injury, Ryan really did not hide anything from her.

"That's right. This time, it was obviously a misunderstanding.” Spencer said for sure.

Elena kept her mouth shut. However, her emotions were somewhat calming down.

“Although I don’t know who is the third party between you, but I am sure about one thing that Ryan would not do anything out of line. After all, all these years there were plenty of woman who wanted to climb Ryan or precisely Leonardo Reynolds’ bed. But I have never seen a woman around him. Ryan doesn’t even keep a female secretary by his side.”

Spencer said to this point and suddenly leaned over and said in a low voice, “If you did not marry Ryan back then, I would have suspected that there was some problem with his sexuality.”

After saying that, he even blinked, just like a hooligan.

Elena looked at Spencer for two seconds then suddenly smiled. She knew that he was joking with her.

Seeing her finally smile, Spencer heaved a sigh of relief. He also smiled.

“It's getting cold. I'll send you back." Spencer knew that Elena's emotions had already stabilized. She would definitely settle this matter with Ryan after she returned.

Elena did not reject him. However, before she stood up and took a step, she felt her vision turn black and she fell backwards.
