

Chapter 303 Hide From Him

Spencer was shocked and quickly hugged Elena in his arms. "Elena, what happened to you?"

She was alright just a moment before, what happened suddenly?

Elena's face was pale and bloodless. She lay motionless in his arms and did not respond.

Spencer saw this and quickly called his assistant. Then he took Elena to the hospital.

After sending her into the emergency treatment, Spencer waited outside anxiously.

He couldn't understand, why she fainted all of sudden.

Was it because she was to agitated?

It could be possible.

Spencer's assistant, who was standing at the side, could not help but took a few more glances at Spencer. He had never seen Spencer being so anxious for anyone before.

And the person inside was Ryan Monor's wife.

And who was Ryan Monor? He was Spencer's sworn enemy!

Spencer being so anxious for his enemy's wife. . .

No matter how the assistant thought about it, he still felt it's exciting.

But he did not dare to show it on his face. After all, he knew better than anymore about Spencer's temper.

After waiting for more than half an hour, the door finally opened.

The doctor looked around and noticed Spencer. "What is your relationship with the patient?"

"She is my friend." Spencer quickly asked, "Doctor, how is she?"

Seeing his anxious expression, the doctor smiled gently, "Don't worry. She is pregnant. Maybe she fainted because she was too emotional."

"You should inform her husband and family. She should take a good rest."

After that the doctor went away.

Spencer stood in front of the hospital ward for two seconds, before pushing the door and going inside.

Inside the ward, Elena was sitting on the hospital bed quietly. When the doctor checked her, Elena had woken up.

Her face which was still a little pale, was now filling with complicated emotions.

Seeing this, Spencer frowned. He sat beside the sickbed and said gently. "You are pregnant?"

Elena gently stroked her stomach. It was unexpected for her too.

The twins were not even half a year old. She did not expect that she would be pregnant again.

"This is a good thing. Congratulations." Spencer quickly calmed down himself and tried to persuade her. "Let Ryan come and pick you up."

As he spoke, he took out his phone, wanting to give Ryan a call.

"No need." Elena quickly rejected him.

Spencer realized her intension. He could not help but be shocked. "You don't want to tell him?"

Elena lowered her head and did not answer his question.

If she found out she was pregnant a day or two earlier, she would have jumped out of the bed and rushed to find Ryan to tell him about it.

But after what had happened today, she was not ready to tell Ryan about it.

Although Spencer understood Elena's feelings, he could not allow her to hide it from Ryan.

Spencer could not help but persuade her. "Ryan is the father of the child. He has the right to know. Your emotions are unstable now. If you are not careful, you will regret it."

"I'll think about it." Elena put the test sheet into Spencer's hands. "Help me throw it away."

She intended to have a better relationship with Ryan before talking about this matter.

Spencer clenched the test sheet in his hand and still wanted to say something. But in the end, he just sighed and said, "No matter what you do, remember one thing. As a friend, I will always support you. If you need any help, just contact me at any time."

As an outsider Spencer possibly couldn't enter in the relationship between husband and wife. At most, he could only advise Elena.

But there was one thing he could do. That was to support Elena whatever she decided.

Spencer had a sincere expression on his face when he said that. And Elena's eyes turned red again.

Spencer and Ryan might be enemies, but Spencer had never done anything out of line in front of her. On the contrary, he even comforted her and supported her, when she was in her weakest time.

Just this point made Elena accept him as her friend.

"Thank you for your help today." Elena was really grateful to Spencer.

"Don't mention it." Spencer waved his hand and said, "Let's go back. Someone must have turned the whole city upside down by now."

And they did not need to ask to know who this "someone" was.

Elena nodded and got off from the bed, went out with Spencer.

When Elena and Spencer walked to the door of the hospital, they happened to bump into Ryan who rushed over.

Ryan, who always had a dignified and powerful appearance, now was in a sorry state. His expensive suit was creased, his well maintained hair was now messy and that handsome face of his was now full of anxiety and worry.

Seeing the man like this, Spencer raised his brows. It's really rare to see Ryan like this.

Elena stopped in her tracks. Ryan immediately went forward and hugged Elena.

"Sorry." His voice was hoarse.

Only he knew how worried he was just now. For a moment, he really thought that Elena had left him.

Elena's eyes turned slightly red. She could clearly feel Ryan's body trembling.

"I promise you that I will never let that woman touch me in the future. Such a thing will never happen again." Ryan also did not expect that Amber would jump into his arms at that time but was coincidentally seen by Elena.

It was truly unexpected.

"A man's promise is the least valuable." Spencer's voice was heard from the side at this moment. His voice was filled with ridicule and mockery.

Ryan looked up and his face suddenly turned cold.

Just now he was in a hurry to find Elena. As soon as he saw her, he only focused on her, as the result he did not notice Spencer's presence.
