

Chapter 328 Big Trouble

On the other side.

Ryan almost ran into a few men as he flew his car over to the villa. As soon as the car stopped, he rushed inside like a madman.

Xavier was already inside, asking the maids various question. The maids all stood in a line and were trembling in fear.

Hearing the door being kicked open, the maids shuddered, few almost fell on the ground. Because they knew that no matter how calm and collected Ryan Monor was, once he got angry, he was utterly terrifying and scary.

Even Xavier, who had been with Ryan all these years, trembled when he saw the man coming inside aggressively.

Ryan looked at the maids and went in front of the maid who took care of the twins. His tall figure almost covered the tiny maid. There was a pit of fire burning in his eyes and his voice was bone-piercingly cold as he asked. “Where are my daughter and son?”

The maid shivered. “Sir... I... I...” She could not even finish a word.

“I asked you something!” Ryan roared violently.

The maid was so scared that she fell onto the ground. She directly broke into tears. “Sir, I don’t know. . . After I coaxed them to sleep, I came to prepare their food. When I went back, there was no one in the room. The twins were missing. . . I don’t know anything else. I don’t know where are they. Please believe me. . .” The maid began to cry after she finished speaking.

Ryan glanced at the other maids. The other maids quickly shook their heads in fear and kept repeating that they did not know anything.

Ryan sneered and turned to look at Xavier.

Xavier felt a chill on his back. He was too a little scared, but his years of training let him keep his composure. “I have already checked the whole villa. They are not here. The surveillance video has been destroyed and there is no trace of it.”

The more Xavier spoke, the softer his voice became. In the end, it was almost inaudible.

It hadn’t been a few days since Mrs. Monor’s accident happened. And now the twins went missing.

Now, only God could save them from Mr. Monor’s rage.

“As expected,” Ryan sneered and his voice was bone-chillingly cold. He did not waste his time asking the maids anymore as he turned around and went upstairs to his study.

Xavier was somewhat confused with the man’s reaction. The twins were missing, but Mr. Monor’s reaction was somewhat calm.

This caused Xavier to follow behind Ryan to his study. Xavier saw Ryan standing behind his desk and taking out an iPad from his drawer. Ryan tapped something on the iPad and the footage of the villa appeared on the big LED TV installed in the study.

Xavier was shocked when he saw the villa’s footage. The CCTV footage was already destroyed. How did Mr. Monor find it out then?

Ryan looked at Xavier astonished face and narrowed his eyes coldly. He had learned his lesson last time. He did not believe in the surveillance cameras anymore as it could be easily destroyed. Therefore, without anyone knowing, he installed many pinhole cameras in the entire villa which only he could assess.

Ryan played the footage and two big and muscular men, in full black cloths and masks on, appeared on the screen. They knocked down the bodyguard standing on the back door of the villa and sneaked through it. They then skilfully climbed to the second floor, without anyone’s notice and hid in a corner. When the maid walked out of the nursery, they sneaked in, took the twins and went out through the back door again.

Ryan gritted his teeth and zoomed on the back of the car by which the two men came, hoping to find the number plate. However, he saw that the car did not have any license number.

Or, the kidnappers must be afraid that he would find out that’s why they took out the license plate.

Ryan turned to Xavier, his whole body was emitting a biting cold aura. “Find these men as soon as possible!”

“Yes, Mr. Monor.” Xavier nodded and ran out of the study.

In the hospital.

Elena was silent for a long time. She looked out of the window with her pair of eyes that contained tons of sadness and agony.

Finally, she made up her mind and gently patted Mrs Baker's shoulder, "Mrs Baker?"

Mrs Baker shivered and looked up, "En? What is the matter? Is there something wrong?"

Elena smiled and shook her head. "No, I am a little hungry. Can you buy me something to eat?"

Mrs Baker's face revealed a trace of joy when she heard it, “What do you want to eat? I will go buy it right away.”

Elena said softly. “Anything.”

"Okay, okay, okay. I will go and bring something you like.”

It was a good thing that she wanted to eat. If she wanted to eat something, it meant that her wound was slowly healing. This way, she would recover soon.

Seeing Mrs. Baker hurriedly running out, Elena’s eyes turned red. Tears flowed out of her eyes and fell on the white blanket. "Sorry. . . "

When Mrs Baker went out, she did not forget to instruct the two bodyguards outside. “I am going out for a while. Mrs. Monor is inside. Take care of her properly.”

Seeing the bodyguards nod, she went out with ease.

Just as Mrs Baker walked away, the masked nurse, that previously went inside Elena’s ward, appeared in front of the bodyguards. “There are some test reports of Mrs. Monor that the doctor wants to check. Can you go to the test department to fetch them?”

Due to safety reasons, Ryan had instructed the hospital staff to let the bodyguards fetch Elena’s medical reports if he was absent. He was afraid that Elena’s reports might be swapped.

One of the bodyguards nodded and went to the test department, while the other stood in front of the ward.

Elena waited for a few moments before calling the other bodyguard over.

“Yes, Mrs. Monor.”

Elena looked at the bodyguard. He was familiar. He was one of the bodyguards that used to guard the villa.

“I want to eat the chicken porridge from Hotel Hilton. Can you bring it for me?” She slowly said.

“Sure, Madam. After Mrs. Baker comes, I will bring it.”

“I want to eat it now.” Elena was expressionless.

“But, Mrs. Monor. . .” The bodyguard was a little troubled. Mr. Monor had instructed them to guard Mrs. Monor properly. Since Mrs. Baker was not here, how could he leave Mrs. Monor alone?

Elena looked at the bodyguard and suddenly smiled. “Your Mr. Monor is going to divorce me, so you don’t feel the need to obey my orders, right? Fine. I understand. You can leave.”

Elena turned to look out of the window after saying that. She seemed to not care about the bodyguard’s answer anything.

The bodyguard did not dare to offend her. If Mr. Monor knew he did not listen to Mrs. Monor’s orders, no one knew how he would end up in the end.

The bodyguard had no option but to nod his head vigorously and obediently saying, “I will bring it right away, Mrs. Monor!”

After saying that, he ran out of the ward.

Elena looked at his back and her face turned cold.
