

Chapter 332 An Isolated Island

Previously he was too angry to think about anything. Now that he had calmed down, he began to analyse the situation properly.

In her condition, it was impossible for Elena to bring out the twins and Eleanor herself. Let alone bringing others out, she could not even walk without someone’s help.

Therefore, there must be someone who had helped Elena escape.

There were not many people in Elena’s social circle. Even if there was, those people would not dare to offend him.

There were only a few people in the Hai City who dared to offend him.

Roman wanted to deal with him, but he would not be stupid enough to use Elena after the previous incident.

Other than Roman, there were only two people left who hated him enough to offend him.

After the meeting in his office, William must want to take revenge on him.

William was not like Roman. He had both power and money and taking Elena away was quite easy for him.

But William had left the Hai City immediately after their meeting and did not know the situation here. Moreover, William did not know about Elena’s mother. So, it was impossible for him to take Eleanor out.

Therefore, William could not be the one who took Elena away.

Then there was only one person left who both had the motive take Elena away and power to offend him without caring about consequences. That person was Spencer Foster.

He and Spencer had always been rivals. Spencer would want to snatch anything that matter to Ryan.

Normally when Spencer created problems in business, Ryan would turn blind eye to it. Even when he found that Spencer was helping Roman to go against him, Ryan did not care too much about it.

But he had never thought that Spencer would put his eyes on Elena.

Thinking of this, Ryan could not help but curse himself. He should have doubted on Spencer from the moment Spencer appeared in the hospital that day.

Spencer must have thought this as a golden opportunity to attack him. If he took Elena and the twins away, he would have Ryan’s weak nerve in his hands.

So many things happened during this period of time that he totally forgot about Spencer being in Hai City. That’s why he made such a mistake.

If he had been a little vigilant, Spencer would not have been able to take Elena away so easily.

Ryan gritted his teeth in hatred when he thought about this.

Even if he had to dig ten meters underground, he would definitely find Elena!

The plane landed on a small island near Europe. The scenery here was beautiful. There was greenery everywhere and the air was remarkably fresh. The blue sea and blue sky were like a paradise.

Elena only took a glance at the small island. She did not reveal a surprised expression because she was not in the mood to appreciate the beauty of this place.

Spencer took her to a manor.

Elena looked at the grand European manor in front of her and was a little stunned. She did not expect such a manor in this small island.

Spencer took the lead and explained, “I bought this island a few years ago and build this mansion. Sometimes, I come here to relief stress. Most of the time it was empty. But the main thing is that no one knew about this place.”

Elena looked around her carefully. Wherever her eyes reached, it was only blue sea. There was not a single trace of land out there.

It could be a good hiding spot.

As soon as they stepped into the manor, a few servants appeared and bowed to them respectfully. Then the servants took the initiative to push the baby cot and help Elena in.

Elena looked around the big house. It was quite luxurious and extravagant. Every corner was filled with expensive decor.

Ryan’s mansion in the Western Europe was also quite luxurious, but Ryan was a low-key person. He did not like to show off too much, that’s why the things he used were all low-key but best.

Spencer seemed to have the opposite taste of that of Ryan.

Spencer took Elena to the master bedroom in the second floor. The servants had already cleaned the room clean and spotless, waiting for the owner to move in.

“You can stay here for now. I have arranged everything that I can think of you may need. If you need anything, just let the servants know.” Spencer stood at the door and said, “Have a good rest. We will go out after the limelight is over.”

After Spencer left, Elena closed the door and walked to the floor-to-ceiling window. The view outside was really beautiful.

This was an isolated island, with the ocean around. Normally, no one would even know that there were people living in this island.

Even if Ryan was powerful, he might not have thought that she would come to such a desolate place.

Elena felt a wave of pain in her heart when she thought of Ryan.

She turned around and went towards the twins’ baby cot. Seeing both of them were sleeping peacefully, she heaved a sigh of relief and began to inspect the room.

It was a standard master bedroom, with a big cloakroom inside. Elena went to the cloakroom and saw rows of clothes hanging according to her size with tags on. There were even varieties of shoes and bags, arranged perfectly in rows.

There was a small cupboard beside and baby clothes were hanging inside it.

Elena went towards the small cupboard and pulled the drawers open. Diapers, baby shoes, gloves, caps, toys and some accessories were placed there accordingly.

She did not bring anything for the twins when she came here. It was a good thing that Spencer had prepared everything beforehand, otherwise she would be in a difficult position.

Seeing these careful and attentive preparations, a sore feeling rose in Elena’s heart. She could not help but recall the time when she was pregnant with the twins.

Back then, Ryan also prepared everything for the babies like this. He was so excited that he used to run into the mall every other day and bring a lot of stuff of her and babies.

Ryan bought so many things that they had to prepare a separate room, just to store those things.

At that time, seeing Ryan running around the house while holding either toys or baby cloths and decorating the nursery, Elena thought herself to be the luckiest woman in this world.

But now. . . Elena touched her lower abdomen gently. The pain there woke her up from her illusion.

She went into the bathroom.

It had been a long journey. She needed to take a bath and reenergize herself.

Elena took off her clothes and turned on the shower. Cold water splashed on her body, waking her up from daze instantly.

She closed her eyes and the scenes of the past flashed in her mind.

Her marriage with Ryan, the peaceful days she spent with him, her being pregnant with the twins, Ryan taking care of her during her pregnancy, the twins’ birth. . . everything flashed in her mind like a movie.

Elena smiled when she remembered the small fights she used to have with Ryan and how the fights used to end when Ryan pinned her onto the bed.

Then the scene changed and the scene of Ryan’s office appeared in her mind, following by her accident.

Elena opened her eyes and tears along with the water fall down from her face. Finally, she could not hold on anymore and slid to the ground powerlessly.

She covered her mouth and began to cry under the shower.
