

Chapter 337 James's Call

Marcus said coldly, “Do you think the Foster family is just for decoration? Although I don't want to interfere with your brother's matters, don't forget that Spencer represents the face of the Foster Family.”

It was true that Ryan was powerful. But if he wanted to fight with them head on, the Foster family would not back up.

After saying that, Marcus returned to his room. He didn't know where Spencer was, but he knew that it wouldn't take long for Spencer to show himself.

James sat on the sofa and fell into a deep thought. He knew that his brother and Ryan did not get along with each other. It was still fine if they compete with each other in business but Spencer took away Ryan Monor’s wife. Wasn’t it just looking for trouble?

James knew his brother better than anyone. Even if Spencer pretended to be a hooligan, he was an upright and decent man. He would never use women to achieve his goals.

He could not understand Spencer’s motives. Now that Ryan Monor had come to their door, this matter would not be solved that easily.

James felt helpless. He could only return to his room and call Spencer.

On the other side, Spencer was playing with the twins.

He remembered when he visited Ryan’s house last time, Ryan showed off his daughter to him. At that time, when he carried this little girl, Ryan told him that his daughter was allergic to him.

Spencer couldn’t forget that thing. Now he finally got a chance to play with Ryan’s children.

He had to admit that Ryan’s children were really pretty. They looked very much like Ryan.

Spencer made funny faces and the twins’ little giggles filled the whole living room.

Even Paul could not help but smile as well. He had never seen their Young Master so carefree before.

Only Elena remained expressionless. She was not in the mood to care about these things.

Suddenly Spencer’s phone rang, breaking the harmony of the atmosphere. He looked at his phone and seeing the caller id, Spencer’s expression turned serious.

He put down the twins and went outside to answer the phone.

"What is it?" After Spencer picked up the phone, his tone was impatient.

"Brother, you should come back quickly. Dad already knows about your matter." James's tone was very soft, afraid that Marcus would hear him.

Spencer frowned. "How did he know?"

He had already warned Paul that if this matter was spread out, his life would be gone. Paul would definitely not expose this matter. How did Marcus know about it then?

“It was Leonardo Reynolds. He came to our house today with his men to ask about your whereabouts. He has warned us not to interfere in this matter.” James said everything that happened today.

“Ryan Monor.” Spencer's tone was cold. Ryan knew that he and his father did not get along, that’s why he went to find his father.

“Brother, you need to solve this matter as soon as possible. You know Dad very well. Although he will protect you for the sake of Foster family's reputation, you will be punished according to the family’s law when you come back.” James was a little worried. The laws of the Foster Family weren’t something to be trifled with.

"Got it." Spencer was not worried at all. Even if he was punished, he would not regret it.

“Brother, you should think about how to send that woman back. Dad is furious here. He said that he would not let that woman go, if you bring her home.”

James really couldn’t understand. Out of all woman in this world, his brother had to choose Leonardo Reynolds’s woman? Why would his brother be interested in a married woman?

“Heh.” Spencer chuckled when he heard his brother’s words. “Do you think I am willing to take her home? I'd rather not go back to a filthy place like the Foster family than sending her back."

Even since he was young, he had always received strict training. His father was an emotionless and heartless man. He treated him as a tool for family’s future, rather than his son.

Every day, Spencer was looking forward to becoming an adult, because the rules of the Foster family were that parents would not interfere with their children's matters after they became an adult.

Now that he had finally achieved success, he did not expect that he would still be threatened by his family.

James fell silent when he heard Spencer’s words. He knew that it was very difficult for his big brother. As the eldest son of Foster family, there were many things that he couldn't have his own thoughts on. Even if it was his marriage, he couldn't make the decision himself. It was really pitiful.

"Brother, you'd better hide it well. I'm here in the Foster family. I'll help you keep an eye on the situation." James loved Spencer more than his father. He had been well taken care of by Spencer since he was young, because Spencer had told him that he didn't want his younger brother to suffer the pain he had went through.

"No need. Don't worry about the family matters, I will return to Western Europe immediately."

"What?" James was shocked. "Brother, aren't you seeking death by coming back now?"

Right now, the situation was at the top of the storm. As long as Spencer showed up, Leonardo Reynolds would definitely come to Foster family to force him. At that time, his father would be even angrier.

“If I don’t go back and die, you will be the one to die. I cannot let Ryan come after you. Alright, I still have matters to attend to. I will go back tomorrow." Without waiting for James to speak, Spencer quickly hung up the phone.

James could not help but feel anxious when he heard the busy tone on the phone. Why was his big brother so stubborn?

Spencer held his phone and was lost in thought. He didn’t care about the Foster family, nor did he care about his father. But he could not leave his brother alone.

He knew Ryan. If he did not show up by tomorrow, with Ryan’s character, he would definitely take away James to force himself show up. He couldn’t let that happen.

Spencer sighed and turned around, when he saw Elena standing behind him. She was staring at him silently. She must have heard his conversation with James.

Elena looked at Spencer for two seconds. She lowered her head and said softly, “I am sorry. I dragged you in this fuss.”

Originally, this matter had nothing to do with Spencer. She was the one who asked for his help. Now, he was suffering because of her.

She felt guilty.

Spencer came in front of her and said seriously, “You don’t need to be sorry. I have promised you and it’s my responsibility to protect you. No matter what Ryan do, it doesn’t matter.”

“But your family. . .”

“The matter of my family is quite complicated. I cannot explain it clearly. I will go back to Western Europe. Remember, no matter what happens, as long as I don’t return, do not leave this place. Understand?”

Now, he did not know what Ryan would do. Ryan could go to any extent to get Elena back. Spencer did not care about himself, but he was worried about Elena.

Spencer only felt relieved when he saw Elena nod.
