

Chapter 345 Lock Her Up

Elena was unusually calm. In these few days, she had made herself understood the fact that she and Ryan had been separated forever.

This was the best solution she could think now.

Ryan’s expression darkened. He grabbed Elena’s shoulders aggressively. “No! You can’t leave me! I won’t let you go, ever!”

Finally, Elena’s patience reached to its limits. She struggled to get out of Ryan’s arms.

“Ryan, let go of me! Isn’t this what you wanted? I understand that you love Amber. Don’t worry, I will never come into your life anymore. You can stay with Amber peacefully. I beg you, please let me go, okay?” Elena pleaded at the end of her sentence.

She did not care about anything now. She just wanted to go as far away as possible from Ryan.

“No! You are my wife. Why should I let you go? Have you forgotten what you said to me back then? You said you wanted to go through every hardship with me. You said you would never abandon me. Have you forgotten?” Ryan’s breath quickened. Even his voice was somewhat trembling. He had never thought that one day Elena would beg him to let go of her.

Elena lowered her head and tears welled up in her eyes. She had indeed said that she would protect Ryan and that she would never abandon him.

However, it was not that she wanted to go back on her words, but that it was Ryan who had broken his promise on the first place.

Elena asked tiredly. “What do you want, Ryan?”

She was really tired now. She could not take it anymore.

“I want you.” Ryan’s voice was hoarse. He could feel her fatigue. He pressed his forehead against her and said softly, “I want you by my side.”

Elena closed her eyes and took a deep breath. She gathered all her strength and pushed Ryan away with all her might.

She thundered. “Ryan, stop it! Our marriage was actually a mistake. I married you on behalf of Amara just to pay my mother’s medical bills! And now by choosing Amber, you have proved that our marriage was indeed a mistake. Why don’t we just separate then? Even if the two of us get divorced, you won’t be at a disadvantage!”

Tears welled up in Elena’s eyes but she did not let them flow. She could not understand his actions.

He was the one who brought another woman in their lives. He was the one who got another woman pregnant. He was the one who broke their relationship.

Now that she wanted to leave, he was not agreeing. What did this man want?

“No, I will not give up on you.” Ryan’s face turned dark. He looked at Elena coldly, “Elena Lewis, I will never let you go.”

Elena was frightened by Ryan’s expression. She could not help but take two steps back in fear. Ryan was too terrifying now. She had never seen him being so cold before.

Ryan saw her reaction and his expression turned even colder. He shouted outside. “Xavier.”

Xavier heard the voice and ran into the office immediately. He was afraid that something bad would happen inside.

“Mr. Monor!”

“Lock the lady up. She shouldn’t be able to leave. And if anything happens to the lady, all of you won’t have your heads to look at her.”

“Mr. Monor?” Xavier looked at Ryan in disbelief. He could not believe the man’s words.

“Didn’t you hear what I said? Hurry up.” Ryan’s expression turned even colder.

Elena also had a look of disbelief on her face. Her eyes widened in incredulity, “Ryan, are you crazy?”

“Yes, I am crazy. I am a madman, Elena. I have been crazy since the moment I met you. Elena Lewis, since you have intruded into my world, don’t even think about escaping. I will never allow that.” Ryan’s eyes flashed with craziness. This was a look of maddening love and obsession.

Elena shook her head rapidly. Her whole body was trembling. She could not believe that Ryan wanted to lock her up.

Xavier stood there, not knowing what to do. He originally thought that Ryan and Elena would solve the misunderstanding after they met. However, now the situation had even worsened.

Ryan actually wanted to lock Elena up!

Ryan looked at Xavier with piercing eyes, “Take her away.”

Since Ryan said it again, Xavier had no choice but to do as he was told.

“Ryan, you madman! You can’t do this! Xavier, let me go!” Elena shouts echoed outside the office room, finally despairing at the corridor.

After Elena left, Ryan closed his eyes and fell on the chair dejectedly.

He put his hand on his head and was lost in thoughts.

Just now he had seen the determination in her eyes when she told him to let her go.

She wanted to leave him. She was ready to leave him.

He did not know how he could keep Elena. This was the only result he could think of.

Ryan knew that this would make Elena hate him even more. Even so, he did not want Elena to leave his sight.

He was afraid that once he let go, she would never come to his side again.

She would abandon him, just like his mother. . .

Michelle saw Elena being taken away and quickly walked in. When he saw Ryan sitting on the chair dispiritedly, he quickly tried to persuade him, “Sir, you clearly have a better way to solve this problem. Why did you choose the wrong way?”

Forcefully locking up someone, no matter who the person was, he would definitely hate Ryan for doing this, not to mention Elena, who was already heartbroken because of him.

Ryan leaned on the chair. With his eyes closed, he said tiredly, “I know. Even if she hates me, I don’t want her to leave me again.”

He had thought himself to be very strong. He had thought he did not care about anyone’s feelings in this world. However, the moment Elena left, he realized the Elena was his god. She was his heart, his soul, the greatest thing he had ever gotten.

If she left, the only ray of sunshine in his world would disappear.

If she left, he would again go into that previous darkness. That suffocated, bone-chilling darkness.

Michelle sighed when he heard Ryan’s words. “Sir, I know that you love Madam very much and I also hope that Madam can stay by your side forever. But feelings cannot be forced. But the more you force Madam to stay, the further you push her away.”

If Ryan had chosen another way to solve the problem, perhaps the two of them would have reconciled by this time.

One of them did not want to explain, and the other did not want to hear about it. This was the fundamental problem of the matter.