

Chapter 347 Disgust

Elena dodged and did not take the bowl he handed.

Ryan’s hand, which was in the middle of the air and handing the bowl to Elena, froze. After a moment of daze, he quickly adjusted his emotions and said, “Elena, stop messing around. I know you are angry with me but don’t vent your anger on yourself. Can you eat something first?”

Seeing her pale and bloodless face, his heart ached.

Elena looked at Ryan and frowned, "Ryan, what do you want?"

"I want you to eat something first." He said calmly and began to stir the porridge with a spoon. The porridge was too hot. He was afraid that Elena would burn her mouth when she ate later.

The more he behaved like this, the more worried Elena got. She frowned even more. “Ryan, stop it! Please tell me what do you want!”

Ryan’s actions paused and he turned to look at her. His face was expressionless, “I just want you to stay by my side." After saying that, he scooped a spoonful of porridge and blew it. He handed it to Elena’s lips, “Have a taste.”

Elena turned her face to the side and dodged the spoon that he was bringing to her mouth, as if it was some deadly weapon. She could not take it anymore. She got off the bed and took some steps back to the side, widening the distance between them.

She looked at him, petrified, “Ryan, do you think it’s meaningful for you to be like this? Didn’t I say that it’s good for us to peacefully separate?”

She really could not understand this man’s actions. He first locked her up in a room, depriving her freedom and now he was behaving as if he cared for her too much.

If he really cared for her, would she end up in this state?

The word “separate” triggered Ryan. His hand suddenly clenched around the bowl of porridge and his knuckled turned white, showing the force he was putting that moment.

CLACK! Unable to withstand the pressure, the bowl cracked in the next second and broke into many pieces. The porridge along with the remains of the bowl flowed from the man’s hand and fell onto the ground.

Elena was frightened by the sudden sound of the bowl breaking, yet she was more frightened by the man who broke the bowl.

Ryan stood up from the bed. With a dark face, he approached Elena step by step, “Separate?”

Elena involuntarily trembled. Ryan looked so gloomy that she could not help but be scared.

Elena took a deep breath and forced herself to calm down. She could not be flustered or else it would be a disadvantage for her.

She looked at Ryan and calmly tried to reason with him. “Yes. We should separate. It’s the best for us.”

Seeing that she still insisted on separating from him, Ryan got even angrier. He said as he approached her step by step. “Who are you to decide what is best for us?”

With each step Ryan took, Elena took two steps back. She moved her mouth but upon seeing Ryan’s expressionless face, her words stuck in her throat. She could not say anything for a long time.

Finally, her back hit the wall. Feeling the cold sensation behind her, she realized that she had no way to retreat now.

Ryan towered her up. His whole body was emitting a biting cold aura. With a dark face, he raised her chin and made her look at his face. His voice was cold to the bones, “Did you forget what I told you yesterday? I will never let you go.”

Elena’s pupils contracted violently when she heard this. She could not help but shiver. With his tone, he did not seem to be joking.

Elena’s mind was working rapidly. She racked her minds and suddenly thought of something. She said, somewhat flustered, “What about Amber then? If you don’t let me go, what will happen to her? Now when everyone know that she is carrying your child, are you willing to let be called as mistress?”

She could only gamble on this point now. As much as she hated to take that woman’s name, she really couldn’t think of anything else, other than using Amber’s excuse.

Elena hoped that Amber to have a special position in Ryan’s heart. As long as she mentioned Amber, he might let her go.

Ryan was so angry that he laughed. His jaw clenched and he said through gritted teeth. “Elena, should I thank you for caring about your husband and another woman so much?”

Elena could not understand the meaning of his words. But what she knew was that as long as Amber was mentioned, there might be a room for negotiation.

“Ryan, I know you love her. She is your childhood friend and it’s inevitable that you two developed feeling for each other. I have no problem with whoever you love. But please let me go. Let’s just part away in peace.” Elena’s voice had a trace of begging.

As long as she could leave his side, she did not care about anything else.

Yes, once she loved him. But now the only thing she wanted from him was her freedom.

“Part away in peace? Impossible!” Ryan was so enraged that he almost lost his mind.

He was furious with the fact that she wanted to leave him so badly. He was even more furious at her words when she said she did not care whoever he loved.

She wanted to leave him?

Sure. Over his dead body!

Because as long as he was breathing, he would never allow that!

Elena’s originally pale face got even paler when she heard his words. She knew it very well that if Ryan didn’t let her go, there was no way she could leave this place.

It was not Hai City, but KING headquarters, a place where even a fly couldn’t enter without permission.

Her change in mood was all seen by the man standing in front of her. Her fear, her worries, her panic was all written in her face. He knew her to well to know what was going inside her head at this moment.

Ryan felt as if someone had dug out his heart by a dagger. The pain was agonizing and torturous. He couldn’t believe that the woman who had once loved him so much was begging to leave him now.

Had he hurt her that much?

As soon as this question was asked, a voice inside him agreed. Yes, he had indeed hurt her, hurt her very very much.

Should he let her go then?

However, this time the answer was not affirmative.

No! He couldn’t let her go!

No matter what he could never let her go!

The pain in his heart gradually turned into madness and obsession. The haze in his eyes turned to anger.

Ryan pushed Elene against the wall and wrapped his arms around her waist.

Elena was not prepared for this sudden attack. After a momentary shock, she began to struggle, “Let me go! Ryan, let me go!”

Ryan didn’t say anything. Instead, his hands began to move around her petite figure.

Elena was wearing a set of lose cotton pajamas. It was very easy for him to reach beneath her dress.

Soon, Elena felt the man’s hand wondering inside her shirt. The warmth of his palm made her shudder.

She was so familiar with these big and rough hands. These hands had held her, touched her and wiped her tears countless of times. She had held these hands and walked miles. There were many memories associated with these hands.

Elena was in a trance for a moment.

However, the next moment she remembered that these same pair of hands had touched another woman!

He was touching her with the same hands that he had touched Amber with!

The mere thought of this made Elena sicken. For the first time in her life, she felt disgusted with Ryan’s touch.

Elena struggled to get out of Ryan’s embrace. She did not want this man to touch her.

Feeling Elena’s intense resistance, Ryan got gloomier. He reached out his free hand and held her hands above her head, pinning her to the wall. This way she was totally imprisoned in his arms and had no room to struggle anymore. He lowered his head and wanted to kiss her lips.

Elena turned her head to the side to dodge his kiss. As a result, the kiss fell on her neck.

The intense vexation and exasperation, he was feeling these few days, were gone the moment his lips touched her soft and tender neck. Ryan trembled and a layer of haze covered his dark eyes. He began to kiss her neck and collarbone.

If Elena had any remaining feeling for Ryan, it was gone at this moment. Her love had completely turned to hatred and disgust.

“Ryan Monor, aren’t you ashamed? You have a woman outside who is pregnant with your child. Yet you are doing this with me! How come I never realized you are such a shameless person before?” Her eyes turned red at the end of her words.

First, he cheated on her and had an affair with Amber. Now, he was even cheating on Amber?!

Where was his morals and principles?

He could be shameless but she wasn’t!

She could not do this with a man who had already betrayed her once and was even betraying another woman now.

Ryan raised his head from her neck and looked at her eyes. His eyes were so dark and cold that he didn’t look like a living person. There were intense and complicated emotions in his eyes that Elena couldn’t understand.

“Shameless?” His thin lips parted. His voice was very soft yet very weird. “You haven’t seen my shamelessness yet.”

With that he pushed Elena onto the bed with great strength.