

Chapter 367 Deadlock Situation

Elena’s disappearance again took Ryan’s all rationality away. He rushed to the guards who were hired to guard Elena’s room and kicked them to the ground. “You bunch of idiots!”

Everyone was scared by Ryan’s appearance. Before they only heard that Leonardo Reynolds was very scary when he got angry but they got firsthand experience today.

Ryan was beating the security guards when Jackson pulled him back. “Ryan, calm down! We need to find Sister-in-law first!”

Jackson’s words made sense. Ryan let go of the security guard and turned to his employees.

Just one look and those people’s knees went soft. They were scared to death.

Jackson saw this and took the situation in his hands. He pulled Ryan back and began to interrogate the people who were arranged to take care of Elena.

Everyone knew Jackson’s identity. He was one of the directors of KING RYN Group and one of the core members of the board. He both had authority and power.

Jackson asked those people one by one, but no one knew about Elena. Neither did they know how she escaped.

Sandra was also present there. She regained consciousness a little while ago and found herself lying in the bathroom. Her coat and ID card was missing.

She remembered that it was Elena who attacked her. But now she was wondering if she should say it aloud.

“I wouldn’t let go any of you!” After not getting any clue, Ryan got even more furious.

This one sentence was like a thunderbolt that fell on Sandra’s head. With a pale face and shaky body, she came in front of the man. In the next second, she fell on her knees and burst into tears.

She didn’t dare to say the fact that Elena had attacked her because she was afraid that she’d be further punished. Instead, she said that Elena had locked her in the bathroom and took her coat and ID.

This was enough for Ryan. Without waiting for Sandra to finish, he turned around and rushed towards the CCTV room.

Ryan checked the CCTV footage that was recorded today one by one. If what Sandra said true, then Elena must be wearing a chef’s coat when she went out.

But KING’s headquarters was very big and there were many people in chef’s white coats coming and going. It was a little difficult to find out a single person out of all the possible people.

“Stop!” Something suddenly caught Ryan’s eyes.

The technician instantly paused the video.

“Rewind 10 seconds. Focus on the left side and zoom.” Ryan gave some instructions.

The technician did as he was told. A person wearing a white chef’s coat and a cap appeared on the screen.

“It’s her.” Ryan said with certainty.

Xavier looked at Ryan speechlessly. It was the staff change time. There were many people present who were wearing chef’s coat and cap. That person’s face could not be seen. How could Ryan be sure that it was Elena?

Xavier was confused but he didn’t dare to ask the man. However, Jackson dared.

“Look at her shoes. Everyone in the headquarters were required to wear formal shoes only but she’s wearing slippers.”

This time, everyone was speechless. His brain was working like a machine, even at a moment like this.

Ryan looked at the figure in the video and his hands clenched. So the obedience, the acceptance, the second chance, everything was a façade to lower his guard.

The moment he turned around, she ran away without a second thought.

“Spencer, it must be Spencer’s doing!” Ryan’s face was full of hatred. Finished speaking, he turned around and rushed out.

Before they could react, Ryan was already out of their sight. Jackson, Xavier and Michelle also rushed behind the man.

By the time they came downstairs, Ryan had already taken his car and went out.

Xavier was anxious. Ryan was too furious. He was afraid that Ryan would do something that he would regret later.

Jackson, Xavier and Michelle followed Ryan. Jackson was stressed too. He knew about the relationship between Ryan and Spencer, these two enemies. If Spencer helped Elena escape, then...

Jackson was afraid to think any further.

Xavier drove the car as fast as he could, but he still couldn’t catch up with Ryan’s car.

There was a half-an-hour drive between the Foster family mansion and KING headquarters, but Ryan only took ten minutes to get there. This could show his anger at this moment.

The car stopped in front of the door of the Foster family mansion and Ryan got out. His whole body was emitting a dangerous and bloodthirsty aura as he kicked open the iron gate of Foster family.

Some servants came forward to stop the man. However, who could stop Ryan at this moment?

Whoever came over was beaten badly by the man. He didn’t care if they would die. Like a psychopath, he continued to beat whoever he came in his way.

Those who were beaten were already unconscious and others did not dare to come forward. They took out their guns and pointed at the man, ready to shoot him at any moment.

Xavier and Jackson had arrived by this time. They didn’t come alone but brought a group of bodyguards with them.

When Ryan’s bodyguards saw the opponent people pointing their guns at their boss, they also took out their guns and pointed at those people.

The situation was in a deadlock. Both groups were pointing their weapons at each other and ready to fire any time.

Ryan did not care about anything now. He just wanted to find his wife.

Ignoring the guns that were pointing at his head, he kicked open the Foster family’s door. “Spencer Foster!”

Spencer and James were sitting in the hall when they heard the commotion outside. James almost spit out his tea when he heard Ryan’s angry roar.

Spencer furrowed his brows. He had anticipated Ryan’s arrival but not so soon.

Fortunately, Elena would have already reached her destined place and reunite with her children.

Spencer and James immediately stood up. Ryan had already come inside the mansion.

Seeing Ryan’s angry and fierce face, James was first to speak, “Ryan, what are you going crazy for again? She has already gone back with you. Why did you come here again?”

Ryan did not even glance at James. With his eyes set on Spencer, he put his hand under his coat and took out his revolver. He pointed it at Spencer’s forehead. “Where is Elena?”

Spencer’s face was cold. He said irritably, “Ryan, what’s wrong with you? Elena went with you that day. She should be with you. Why are you looking for me again?”

“Look. I won’t repeat it again.” Ryan’s face was terrifying. He kept Spencer on the gunpoint and asked, “Where is my wife?”

“She is your wife not mine! How would I know where she is?” Spencer’s attitude was same as before.

“You don’t know? Who are you lying to? Elena has no friends and family here. She doesn’t know anyone. Other than you, there is also someone who can help her escape?”

No matter how smart Elena was, she could not avoid so many people’s eyes. There must be someone who had instructed her thoroughly and that person must know about the KING headquarters very well.

When Elena left the headquarters, she did not take a taxi from there. Instead, she went to the next block.

Moreover, Elena did not have any money with her. She could not leave without Spencer’s help.

“How would I know who helped her? I can tell you that if I find Elena, I will take her away. You will not be able to find her for the rest of your life. But she’s not here.” Spencer shook his head.

Spencer knew that Ryan would not believe him, but other than denying, he had no other option.

“So you won’t admit.” It was a statement rather than a question.

Ryan didn’t say anything again. Instead, his index finger around his gun’s trigger tightened.

Jackson saw it and immediately came to Ryan’s side. He whispered in Ryan’s ear, “Ryan, don’t be impulsive! We still have many ways. Please calm down!”

Jackson understood Ryan’s feelings at this moment, but Spencer was the Young Master of Foster family. They could deal with people like Clarence clandestinely. However, this way could not be used on a powerful opponent like Spencer.

Ryan was unmoved. He still kept his eyes on Spencer. Jackson could not tell if he had even heard his words.

Ryan pulled the trigger in the next second.
