

Chapter 376 Let's Have A Head-on Battle

“They are your people. You should know that. Why are you asking me?” Adams chuckled. He was clearly enjoying the situation.

“Don’t play dumb with me. I know you have kidnapped by wife and son! I’ve already found the ship by which they were taken over. That ship belonged to you!” Ryan could barely keep his calm now. Adams was clearly challenging his bottom line.

Contrary to Ryan’s anger, Adams was very calm. He smiled devilishly. “Don’t be angry. You are so famous in Western Europe yet nobody knew that you’re married and even have kids. I was just curious what the woman that can make the great Leonardo Reynolds head over the hills looks like.”

Adams paused and a long sigh was heard from his side. “I must say that your wife is really beautiful. But I’m just not sure if she could remain like this for long.”

Ryan’s jaw clenched when he heard the obvious threat in Adams words.

Adams was threatening him!

Spencer was standing next to Ryan and heard Adams's arrogant words. Before Ryan could say anything, he grabbed the phone and put it on the speaker.

“Since you have a grudge with Leonardo, why did you blow up the island? The people on the island were innocent, but died an unfair death because of you!” Spencer’s face was full of anger. He shouted at the phone.

"Don't misunderstand me. I didn't blow up the island. I just informed the royal family that there are some people who had taken over the royal family’s property illicitly. That’s why they showed up at the island.”

“But I didn't expect them to use such a violent method to solve the problem. They really don't have any humanity at all." Adams's tone was extremely innocent. It was as if this matter had nothing to do with him.

"You. . . You crazy man. . . Aren't you afraid of retribution?" Spencer was trembling with anger.

The island could be taken away by the royal family, but the people on the island died innocent deaths.

It was totally unacceptable.

“Since I didn’t do anything wrong, why should I care about retribution?” Adams said shamelessly.

“Speaking of which, Leonardo, I was afraid that you’ll be alone so I left one of your children in the island. Wait. You just said the royal family destroyed the island. It can’t be that your child also blew up in that explosion, right?”

Adams’s tone was extremely leisurely as if he was taking about weather rather than a life and death of a child.

When the few men present in the conference room heard Adams’s words, they all sucked a cold breath of disbelief. How could a person be so shameless?

Spencer’s mouth was wide-apart. Today he truly understood why people call Adams a lunatic. Ryan’s children were only six months old. They couldn’t even see or hear properly. Yet Adams used them to take revenge against Ryan.

It was also now that they understood why Adams took only one child and left another one in the island.

Adams had already informed the royal family and knew the royal family would destroy the island. Before the royal family took action, he had already taken Elena and Ryan’s son away, leaving Ryan’s daughter behind, so that when the royal family destroy the place the child would also die in that explosion.

Even if Ryan found out Elena and his son afterwards, he would always blame himself for his daughter’s death. He would spend the rest of his life in regret and agony.

This move could be considered very ruthless.

Remembering the cute and lovely face of Rayna, Spencer felt goosebumps appear in his arms. It was fortunate that the servant found Rayna and took her out just before the explosion. Or else. . .

Spencer turned to look at Ryan.

Only Ryan’s face remained expressionless. His expression was inscrutable and no one could tell what he was thinking.

There was a moment of silence as nobody took the initiative to talk. After a while, the man finally spoke.

“List your conditions.” Ryan’s face was extremely cold. Now that Elena and Ian were in Adams’s hands, he had no time to waste with this man.

Since Adams had taken so much trouble to abduct Elena and the child, he would not let go of this opportunity to press Ryan.

So Ryan would rather take the initiative first.

Ryan had to ensure the safety of Elena and his son first before dealing with Adams.

A chuckle was heard from the other end of the phone following by a sneer. “If you were so obedient before, would your wife and child leave your side?”

Ryan remained impassive.

When he didn’t receive any reply, Adams spoke coldly. “Leonardo Reynolds, you always have been a pain in ass and destroyed a lot of my businesses before. Do you even know how much I’ve lost?”

“If you want money, I can give it to you right away.” Ryan interrupted with a voice was as dark as his face. “I’ll even double the amount you’ve lost. Let go my wife and child.”

Ryan didn't care if he went bankrupt as long as it meant saving Elena and Ian.

Nothing was more important or valuable than his wife and child.

Spencer couldn’t help looking at the man when he heard this. However, what he saw was an expressionless and cold face.

Ryan had destroyed a lot of Adams’s businesses over the years. If it were to measure in monetary terms, it would worth several hundreds of millions, if not billions.

Not to mention, Ryan was agreeing to give twice the amount.

Even Spencer, the president of a big conglomerate, wouldn’t dare to say such undaunted words. However, the man in front of him didn’t even blink when saying these words.

Now Spencer couldn’t figure out who was bolder between Ryan and Adams.

Silence filled at the other end in the aftermath of Ryan’s words. Just when Ryan thought Adams would waver, his loud laughter was heard from the phone. It was wild and maniacal, as if the person wasn’t in his stable mind.

“Who wants your money? Am I so poor that I need your charity now?” Adams said viciously. He didn't put Ryan in his eyes at all.

“What do you want then?” Contrary to Adams’s excitement, Ryan was rather calm. He was so calm that it surprised the people around him.

Adams also heard his calm voice. He sneered, “Let's have a head-on battle. If you win, I'll return your precious family to you, or else I'll have to hand them over to the royal family. What happens afterwards isn’t my responsibility.”

Spencer looked at Ryan, not knowing what to say. Adams was clearly setting a trap with no way out.

If Ryan didn’t agree to Adams’s condition, Adams would hand Elena and the child over to the royal family and they would be in danger.

But if Ryan agreed to Adams’s condition and went over to fight with him, it would be equivalent to cutting his own throat.

Ryan was Adams’s biggest enemy. Would he still let Ryan come out alive if Ryan went to his place?

It was like being caught between a devil and deep blue sea. Either way, there was only possible doom.

Xavier stood at the side with his heart almost in his mouth. This Adams was extremely twisted and crazy. His intention for calling Ryan over was definitely not solely for having a head-on combat.

Everyone was worried about the man but Ryan didn’t even think twice before agreeing to the condition. “I promise you, but you must ensure that my wife and child is safe and sound.”

"Ryan, are you crazy? This Adams is insidious and vicious. He is clearly setting a trap for you to step in!" Spencer quickly covered the phone speaker and spoke. His face was filled with disbelief as he looked at Ryan.

How could this man agree to Adams's request? If he really went, would he still be able to come back alive?

“My wife and child are in danger. What do you expect me to do? Even if I were to die, I’ve to endure my wife and child’s safely first.” Ryan looked at Spencer gloomily and shook off his hand which was covering the phone’s receiver.

He turned off the speaker before putting it beside his ear. “Adams Redmond, do you agree?”

“Of course. . .” Adams smiled in satisfaction. “Before you come, I naturally won't touch a single hair on their bodies. But again, if you choose not to have them, I will make a decision for you. Just push them into the sea to feed the fish."

Adams already knew that Elena had an important position in Ryan’s heart. So as long as he held into Ryan’s weakness, Ryan would do everything he say.

"If you dare touch them, I'll bury the entire Black Rock Gang alive." Ryan hung up the phone after saying it coldly.

Without waiting for anyone to speak, he immediately left the conference room. Elena and his son were in danger. He was in a hurry to save them.
